Securing Adele's assent to this and satisfied that Kirby was alive and that justice had yet to be meted out, young Randall, as was the custom in such matters, promptly set about informing his male relatives and friends. Among the latter was Judge Pleydell, a neighbor, whose plantation adjoined on the west that of the Randalls and to whose daughter, Ann, the boy was engaged. Tom's sole surviving relative was an elderly cousin, Aaron Randall, who, ignorant of the details connected with his uncle's death, had for over a year been detained by business interests in the north. To him Tom now urgently wrote, requesting that he come to the home of their mutual aunt in New Orleans, and the following morning the Pleydell and Randall families set out for the same destination. In the Crescent City there resided another gentleman, M. Anatole Veaudry, who, having for years sought an alliance with the Randall family through the medium of Adele, would naturally be expected to concur heartily in the plans for the annihilation of Cameo Kirby. Four to one were heavy odds, but the scapegrace gambler in his day had accepted greater.

In due time the Randalls and Pleydells arrived at the home of Mme. Davezac, but the weeks passed and as yet no information had been received tending to show that Kirby contemplated securing the property. In fact, Tom Randall, scouring the city for the gambler, positively learned that the latter and his partner, Bunce, had left. This was indeed the case, for Kirby's sole motive in coming to New Orleans had been the desire to run down a rumor to the effect that Jack Moreau had returned to his old haunts. The rumor proved authentic, but the colonel had already left for Baton Rouge, from which town he again headed for the Crescent City, Kirby and Bunce close upon his heels.

And then the inevitable happened, for one day in the streets of New Orleans Tom Randall came face to face with Moreau. On both sides the meeting was an affecting one, the astute colonel's momentary alarm turning to relief when, from the boy's effusive greeting, he ascertained the other's agreeable state of ignorance regarding the true facts of John Randall's suicide. Tom at once confided his intention of killing Cameo Kirby, and, delighted at securing such unexpected reenforcements, Moreau heartily concurred in the intention, offering his modest co-operation in the same worthy cause. On his part the boy was only too happy to accept the further services of so valuable a friend, and he promptly invited Moreau to Mme. Davezac's, an invitation that was as promptly accepted, it being quite characteristic of the estimable gentleman to accept the hospitality of those whom he had irretrievably wronged.

Learning from Moreau that Kirby was in the city and, in fact, had been seen only that morning at the Salle de Conde, young Randall hurriedly returned to his aunt's, determined to set on foot a plan that had been suggested by Judge Pleydell. That moldy villain, Colonel Moreau, promised to join the other the moment he had secured his portmanteau.

Meanwhile Aaron Randall, an elderly, precise gentleman, whose long sojourn in the north had served to somewhat cool his fiery southern nature, had promptly answered his cousin's urgent letter by shelving all business demands and hastening south. An old bachelor, his late uncle and he had been unusually close to each other through life, and he had lavished all his affection upon the other's children, Adele in particular being his especial favorite. Business cares had prohibited his attendance at John Randall's funeral, and, in fact, he had been kept in ignorance of the facts surrounding the other's suicide, Adele holding that it would cause needless worry and sorrow.

The unpleasant duty of explaining the tragedy devolved upon Judge Pleydell, and, even while Tom was renewing his acquaintance with Colonel Moreau, Aaron had arrived at the little house in the old French quarter of the town and Pleydell was recounting to him their plan of campaign against Kirby.

"We have all our plans arranged, sir," the old judge was now saying, while he paced the room in some excitement, "and I have taken affairs more or less into my own hands. Tom would have hunted out the villain and shot him on sight, but I venture to think my way is the best, for we must recognize the honor due Mr. Randall's memory, and that means making no resistance to Mr. Kirby's claim. The first thing to do is to send your cousins out to the plantation, and they will surrender the place to its claimant—slaves, land, everything. Then, sir, we send the ladies—Mme. Davezac, along with my daughter Ann and the little boy—over to my plantation, while we remain behind to deal with the gentleman. You understand? I don't think he'll live very long to enjoy the property, and this time I don't think he'll get well."

"We'll see to that," replied Aaron quietly. "There's you and Tom and I"—

THE Y.M.C.A. WORK.

Speaking of the Y.M.C.A. work, Col. Bryan referred to the fact that although the Y.M.C.A. work had begun in Great Britain, yet the United States had one half of the Y.M.C.A. members of the world, 400,000 out of 800,000. He felt grateful to know that some things of value might pass from one country to another without going through custom houses, and subject to ratification bills.

The most valuable thing in the world was an idea, because it might revolutionize an individual, a community, a nation or the world. Civilization was but the development of ideas, for truth had the power to propagate itself. Sometimes those outside the United States thought enormous sums were spent in presidential elections, but while the last one caused the expenditure of $2,000,000 by the two big parties, yet the Y.M.C.A. work cost $8,000,000, and this was every year, whereas a presidential expenditure came but once in fuor years. It would seem, therefore, that the ratio of Y.M.C.A. expenditure was the familiar one of 16 to 1. It was well that the balance was on the side of religion. This Y.M.C.A. had a great name, that bespoke its full force and purpose. A good title was a splendid thing. He thought when he chose his lecture title "The Prince of Peace," that he was getting a good one, but one printer had made it "The Prince of Pilsen," and in one case he knew of a farmer who had come twenty-five miles to hear him expound on "The Price of Peas."

Col. Bryan referred to the valuable assistance of the ladies, saying that men might brag about what they were between meals, but they soon found how little they really counted after all. The Lord had made man hungry three times a day, so that their vanity would keep within reasonable bounds. Col. Bryan dwelt on the necessity of more work among the men, who were either subject to more temptation or else less able to resist it than women. The young man passed through trying periods, dangerous periods, when latent instincts began to assert themselves. Here was where the Y.M.C.A. provided associations, an outlet for his new energy along right lines.

The distinguished speaker spoke with emphasis on the necessity of prevention work among the young men. A moral death was a thousand times more tragic than a death in the physical body, very much more pathetic. The hero died amid the plaudits of the multitude, and those left behind had the consolation of happy memories. But he who died a moral death was the cause of grey hairs and many tears. "Am I my brother's keeper" was a question that we could not get rid of. We were not doing our duty for Christians to-day were not offsetting the snares that beset the paths of the young by helpfulness of equal measure. If Christians were as industrious as the devil was busy wrecking lives, it would not be long before they would obtain the victory.

Col. Bryan dealt with the multiplication of power by co-operation and of the great benefit of the combined work of association. The work of the Y.M.C.A. was devoted not only to the perfection of the physical, the training of the mental but also the development of the spiritual side of man. It was a Christian impulse back of all, for the Christian impulse was the one great force for the good of the world.

COBOURG NINE WILL BE HERE FOR LEAGUE OPENER MAY 24th

Peterboro' Will be Represented by a Strong Team This Season.

The material for the Peterborough ball team in the Midland league is shaping up nicely and players are making a lively fight for a position on the lineup. At the practices held regularly for the past three weeks the attendance has been large and the railbirds who have been on the job have been given lots to talk about.

• • •

The league opener is billed for May 24th, when the Cobourg nine will be seen here in action. Down at the lakeshore town the fans can see nothing but a pennant and are boosting their team, which to say the least, is a likely looking outfit.

• • •

The officers and executive of the local club met last night and all were enthusiastic over the prospects for the season, which at this stage of the game are very bright indeed. The best of feeling prevails amongst the players and the management and with a continuance of the same, and the support of the fans, Peterborough should have a banner season in baseball.

• • •

It is likely that the opening league game here will see some interesting inaugural ceremonies. Probably a detachment of the 57th band will take part in a parade and give a short program at Riverside. No other athletic events are billed for the day, so that the local ball tossers should make a successful getaway.

• • •

The prices of admission have been fixed at twenty-five cents for gentlemen, fifteen cents for ladies, and an additional charge of ten cents for admittance to the grandstand for the gentlemen. Ladies will be admitted free. These are popular prices and at this distance the prospects for a high standard of baseball are of the best.

• • •

All four teams are strong. The Bowmanville club has the backing of the Goodyear Tire Company, and that means a whole lot. Henry Surphlis, who needs no introduction to the fans here, is holding the ribbons of the Port Hope nine, and as for Cobourg, when you see that burg take a back seat, when baseball is mentioned, there is nothing doing around the circuit.

• • •

The Peterborough team will be made up of the best material obtainable and the officers recognizing what is at stake, are anxious to do all in their power for the best interests of the club. It is up to the fans to give their support.

• • •

For the following Saturday, it is probable that a game will be arranged with the St. Michael's College nine of Toronto. "Mike" O'Brien is on the lineup.

COLDSPRINGS AND KNOX TIED

Church League Game Ended with a Score of 2-2

The Coldsprings eleven journeyed to the Knox grounds last night and played the Presbyterians to a tie in a fairly good exhibition of football.

The game was not very fast as the field was so small the players were bunched on nearly every play and combination work was out of the question.

At half-time the score stood one all, with both teams going hard.

SECOND HALF.

By the time the second half was started it was beginning to get dark and the referee could not see all the players, consequently some of his decisions were slightly disputed.

With but twelve minutes to play and the score still tied and the ball travelling from one goal line to the other the ball slid off Jubb's foot and into the Knox goal making the score 2—1 in favor of Coldsprings.

It looked for a while, as though there was to be no more scoring until a penalty was called on one of the Coldsprings boys and Pearson kicked the goal for Knox tieing the score once more.

The line-ups were as follows:

Knox.		Coldsprings.
	Goal
Watson		Taylor
	Backs
Shinner, Jubb		Hawthorne Odette
	Halves
Watson, Harding Knight		Mahood Kidd Dagnal

BASEBALL

The Lindsay Town Baseball League opens to-day at the Agricultural Park. Games will be played twice a week and will commence at 6.15 in the evening.

Brantford, Guelph and St. Thomas were the winners in the opening games of the Canadian Baseball League yesterday. Berlin had an attendance of 2000 Guelph, 1700 and St. Thomas 1200. At St. Thomas, manager Chaucer Elliott at first base gave Hamilton three runs by three errors but came back in the tenth and hit in the winning run.

Detroit has now the highest percentage of the three leagues at .933.

Chicago, May 17—Heavy batting, which has been the despair of pitchers since the opening of the 1911 baseball season, will be curtailed according to the statement of a representative of a baseball factory yesterday. It is said the supply of official balls for the clubs of the major and minor leagues will not be as lively as the ones now in use.

According to the factory representative, the present lively ball, which has produced 367 runs in three days in the major leagues, was due to a hint from the baseball powers that there was not enough batting to suit the fans. Now the tip has gone forth that the games are too long because of the great increase in batting.

It is not intended to revert to the old ball which produced so many few-hit contests and made many champion pitchers, but to strike a happy medium about on the middle ground between the old ball and the new.

BIG ATTRACTION FOR REX THEATRE

Johnnie Webb, Four Years of Age Weighs One Hundred and Sixty Pounds

The management of the Rex Theatre is to the front with a big special attraction for Friday and Saturday of this week. Handsome Johnnie Webb, America's Prize Baby, who is four years of age and weighs one hundred and sixty pounds, will be at the Rex, both afternoon and evening of the two days. Johnnie Webb has been exhibited in all the large cities of America and while the local management incurs heavy expense in bringing him to Peterborough, the engagement is only in keeping with the desire to give the patrons the best all the time. Everyone should see this attraction.

HELPFUL MEETINGS AT LEAGUES AND S. S. CONVENTION

Rev. S. W. Dean's Stirring Address on "Better Samaritanism"

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

"The Problem of the Cradle" and "What the Church Can Learn"

The 16th annual convention of the Peterborough District Epworth Leagues and Sunday schools was held in George street Methodist church yesterday afternoon and evening. The attendance was much larger than expected; the proceedings ran off smoothly, and although there was a slight change in the evening program caused by the inability of Rev. S. P. Rose, of Toronto, to be present, and whose place was taken by Dr. Crews, of Toronto, the convention, notwithstanding, proved a source of mutual helpfulness and encouragement to all the delegates who were able to attend.

The afternoon session was chiefly attended by the delegates and local leaguers, but the three addresses were well worthy of the attention of any representative audience which might have attended. Especially was this a fact in regard to the stirring and eloquent address by Rev. S. W. Dean, of Toronto, Superintendent of the Toronto and Fred. Victor Mission Society, who spoke for nearly an hour on the subject of "Better Samaritanism," a subject which position well qualifies him to deal with.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session opened with devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. C. H. Coon, who officiated in this service in place of the Rev. W. J. N. Cragg, of Lakefield. This was followed by the report of the district Sunday school secretary, Rev. W. P. Rogers, B.A., of Millbrook, who while handicapped by not having received reports from all of the district Sunday schools, yet summed up the efforts which have been made to stimulate and increase the efficiency of the Sunday schools in the district. His report was followed by the report of the district league secretary. According to the report given there are 44 preaching places in Peterborough District and 16 circuits and missions. Some circuits have no leagues organized, and the report contained a plea for the establishment of a league wherever such was the case. A nominating committee was next appointed to nominate officers for the next year.

PERSONAL WORK.

Rev. F. W. White, B.A., was then called upon for his address on the live subject of "Personal Work."

"Soul contact one with another to win souls to Christ was the keynote," he stated, "to successful personal work. To undertake this important work good personal equipment was necessary. A person must have a clear knowledge of Christ as their Saviour; secondly, they must be possessed of the belief that a soul out of Christ is lost; and, thirdly, they must have a working knowledge of the Bible. A soul saver must lead a pure life, as no one could successfully impart God's Word without being pure at heart personally."

REV. S. W. DEAN'S ADDRESS.

Rev. S. W. Dean was the succeeding speaker. Out of a vast and interesting amount of practical experience acquired by personal contact with those of whom he spoke, Rev. Mr. Dean was able to hold the attention of the audience without effort. "At no other period in the world's history," said the speaker in commencing, "have people been so much disposed to play the part of the Good Samaritan as they are ta present. The noted biblical character has become the patron saint of philanthropy. "But it is to be regretted," he continued, "that we are approaching the question of relieving distress in the wrong way. We are engaged in picking up people who ought never to have been down. Why, even in Toronto there are conditions existing which are an abomination and which should never be tolerated. Legislation should be secured to prevent these abuses, rather than by endeavoring to patch and plaster them over.

"In Toronto, for example, Canadian heathenism conditions are fully as serious and threatening as in any foreign country.

"The moral tone of some of the people in Canadian cities and towns is vastly more scandalous than they are in cities like Hong Kong, Tokio, and others. Why does this exist? Because the people harden themselves against any softening or refining influence. In some cities whole families are packed together in conditions that are unhealthy, immoral and openly dangerous. How can a child that grows up amid such be expected to have other than tendencies toward evil?

"In regard to the foreign population, the only way to get after them is to establish night schools, strive to get them interested in better living, and the first problem is conquered. The majority of Italians, for instance, can be reached and claimed for the Protestant religion, as the Church of Rome has done very little for them. The blood of Italians is good blood, and if it were to flow in the veins of Canadians for a generation it would strengthen the race. They are going to make a future for Canada. If we can go into raptures over people on the other side of the globe surely we must have an interest in these people who are daily landing on our own shores. The drink evil is a great curse to the foreign element. As long as license perpetuates the liquor trade, that is turning out its prolific brood of criminals and drunkards, we have no right to pray to God to save the drunkard. The time will surely come when our grandchildren will wonder why their parents and grandparents ever allowed the curse of strong drink to enjoy such unbridled license and sway as long as it did. Can any man or woman afford to go before their God with this thought upon their minds.

"The white slave traffic is another curse and impending source of destruction. In one year alone 400 women were apprehended in one city for immoral conduct. In one charitable home 600 girls are being cared for who have been led, or nearly led astray, by designing villains, and one-third of these girls are from the country. Somebody encouraged the latter to come to a friendless city, and it is a wonder that not more go astray. These are things which should make us blush with shame. The majority of these victims have been brought to their sad condition, because certain people have thought the question of enlightening the young too delicate for them. Ministers should speak out plainly and strongly upon this important subject. Hearts are breaking over the dreadful evil and its effects."

Mr. Dean's address was intently followed and very pointedly given. At its conclusion Rev. C. H. Coon moved a hearty vote of thanks to him, which was capably seconded by Rev. I Couch, and the latter paid a tribute to the good work which Rev. Mr. Dean is accomplishing. Rev. Mr. Dean replied very appropriately.

Mr. Middleton favored the audience with a solo, given in a most effective and pleasing voice. Prof. J. H. Renwick acted as accompanist.

PROBLEM OF THE CRADLE.

Rev. W. P. Rogers was called on for his address on "The Problem of the Cradle."

"No teacher," commenced Mr. Rogers, "can look into the faces of his or her class from time to time without wondering what is to become of the children in it. In every child there are possibilities for both good and evil, and there are three outstanding things which count in every child's life, namely, heredity, environment, and education. We all believe in such expressions as 'He's a chip off the old block,' and 'Like father, like son,' and we realize that the child is an epitome of the past. Every child binds up in himself the tendencies of his progenitors. When a boy gets to be 14, 15 and 16 years of age, we need to exercise care lest he go astray and drift away from the Sunday school, in fact, become alienated, and he is lost to the church. The reason for this is probably the fact that his father did exactly the same thing when he was 15, 16 or 17 years of age. One of the best ways to get the boy back again is to get the father back, and in doing this the adult Bible classes and brotherhoods are doing a splendid work.

Secondly, there is the law of adaptation to environment. We are more likely to be like those with whom we associate than those we are descended from.

"We hold within our grasp the solution to the environment of a child to whom heredity has been unkind, that the latter will be stronger than the first. A child is born with fewer ready-made habits than even the lower animals, but he adapts himself more readily to his surroundings. It should be our duty to see that the habits which he may acquire may be calculated to lead the child into the province of the kingdom of God.

"A Sunday school that has no organized cradle roll and home department is inadequately equipped.

EDUCATION NECESSARY.

"The third necessity is education. The home is not to-day doing its share in religious education. There was a time when family prayer was more in vogue than at present. The Roman Catholics speak of our schools as ungodly, and there is some truth in their contention. The teachers in the day schools have a splendid chance to instill the principles of religion into the children under their charge. The public school teachers have been handicapped in regard to their duties along that line, owing to popular misconceptions. It has been long considered that the sole business of the public school teacher was to educate the mind, and one of the tragedies of the past has been the attempt to educate the mind without the aid of religion.

"Education is of no value, that eliminates morals and religion. If the moral and religious life of a man is neglected you may have an educated man, but also an educated villain. If the schools persist in neglecting their opportunities, then the church must necessarily become a great religious educational institution.

"Teachers also in the Sunday schools must be competent to teach. While thousands of dollars are lavished upon the education of the public school teacher, practically nothing is given for the education of the former."

This concluded Rev. Mr. Rogers' address.

A beautiful solo by R. F. Downie was then given in a most feeling manner, and added largely to the pleasure and enjoyment of the session. It was followed by three papers on the best methods in the Missionary, Literary and Junior League department by Miss Mary Collins, Miss Pearl Burnham, of Millbrook and Miss Bertha Jackson, of Millbrook. The substance of these papers will be published later, as they contained many valuable hints for the betterment of the various departments dealt with.

This finished the afternoon session except for the nominating of the officers for the next year. This was done, and the adoption of the report of the committee was moved and carried at the evening session. The following will hold office in the District League for the next year—

NEW OFFICERS.

President—Rev. J. G. Brown, Peterborough.

1st Vice-President—J. J. Goodwin, Peterborough.

2nd Vice-President—Miss Aggie Davis, Peterborough.

5th Vice-President—Miss Jackson, Millbrook.

Treasurer—W. Smith-Kelly, Bridgenorth.

Secretary—Chester J. Frowde, Peterborough.

EVENING SESSION.

In the evening the attendance was exceptionally large. After an opening song service Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Charlotte Street Methodist church, led in prayer. Rev. I Couch occupied the chair. George Street church choir gave a selection, which was greatly appreciated and splendidly sung. After the report of the Nominating Committee Rev. Dr. Crews was called upon for his address. He was present in place of Rev. S. P. Rose, who was detained at Toronto through illness.

His subject was "What the Church can Learn from the Business World," and a more practical and easily understood address has seldom been delivered here.

WHAT THE CHURCH CAN LEARN.

"Concentration is perhaps the first thing the church can learn from the business world," he said. "The merchant has his settled place of business, so the Christian should have a settled place of worship. We can learn from the business world application. The spirit of intense application should be carried into our religious life. The Church has to a large extent failed in this feature. Its progress is slow when compared to the business world. Religion has been looked upon as something for Sunday alone. Laymen are too often mere spectators. They listen and criticise and do little else."

"Why does Church life flow in such feeble channels?

"Because the laymen do not put life into it.

"In the third place we can learn a lesson of punctuality from the business world. Church officers should be under the same obligation to be punctual as business officers. It takes a lot of snow or rain to keep us from our business, but very little moisture will afford a good excuse for our absence from church on a Sunday. Organization is another element of success to be gleaned from the business world. Co-operation and organization is as necessary in the Church as anywhere, and even more so.

"We can practice economy in

"I COULD NOT LIVE"

WITHOUT "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Writes The Treasurer Of Caledonia Township

FENAGHVALE, ONT., Jan. 29th, 1910.

For thirty-five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation.

No matter what remedy or physician I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure.

About two years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding "Fruit-a-tives" and I decided to give this fruit medicine a trial. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for "Fruit-a-tives", I am satisfied that I could not live." JAMES PROUDFOOT.

The liver controls the bowels by giving up enough bile to make the bowels move. The only possible way to cure constipation is to make the liver active and healthy and thus store up sufficient bile to move the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" acts directly on the liver—ensures an abundance of bile—and causes the bowels to move regularly and naturally. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WELCOME TO NOTED VISITOR

Mr. Bryan Had Trip Over Lift Lock This Afternoon

William Jennings Bryan, the famous American orator, arrived in the city this morning on the 8.10 train from Belleville, and was met at the station by Mr. J. R. Stratton, and conveyed by auto to Mr. Stratton's residence, whose guest he was until luncheon at the Y.M.C.A. One hundred of the leading business and professional men of the city were sent to welcome him.

After luncheon, accompanied by J. R. Stratton and Mayor Morrow, he was taken by auto to the end of the street car line, where they embarked on the Government boat "Bessie Butler," and were taken over the lift lock. To-night he will give his lecture in the Grand Opera House on the subject of "The Prince of Peace."

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY LISTS CLOSE FRIDAY NIGHT

Distribution of Premiums to be Made Saturday

The time has arrived when bedding plants may be placed outdoors with a reasonable degree of safety, and it has been decided to make the distribution of premiums to members of the Peterboro Horticultural Society on Saturday, May 20. Those intending to become members should do so promptly, as the several lists will be closed on Friday night, May 19, so as to get the complete list in shape and arrange for a prompt distribution of the premiums to the members.

All those paying their membership fee of $1.00 before Friday night will be entitled to their choice of a premium of twelve bedding plants, or twelve window box plants, or one Boston fern, these premiums to be distributed immediately. In addition, members will receive a distribution of bulbs in the fall, and a subscription to The Canadian Horticulturist, the horticultural magazine published in Peterboro.

The total value received, reckoning everything at retail prices is considerably more than $1.00, so that the money spent is an excellent investment as well as serving to help on the good work being done by the society.

Membership tickets may be secured at any of the following places up till Friday evening of this week only: the Examiner office; Review office, Times office, office of the Canadian Horticulturist, Simcoe Street, E.F. Mason & Co., 429 George Street; E.F. Mason & Co., corner Antrim and George Sts., F.R. Clark & Son, jewellers, 439 George Street; Wesley Bros., dyers and cleaners, 440 1-2 George Street; Jordan Bros., florists, 428 George St., W.J. Kent, druggist, 402 George St., E.L. Payne, druggist, 362 George St., Roland Denne, flour and feed store, 339 George St., Porter S. White, grocer, 336 George Street, Geo. A. Gillespie, dairy supply store, 140 Simcoe St., J.E. Lillico, grocer, corner Charlotte and Park Streets; Jackson Park Grocery, corner Park and McDonnel Streets; J.T. Braund, corner Smith and George Streets; W.C. Mead, West End Greenhouses, 547 Park Street, T.B. Maniece, grocer, 99 Hunter St. east; and Frank Wise, 21 Crescent St.

A large addition has already been made to the membership of the Horticultural Society, and a most successful year is assured. There are, however, still many who intend to become members, but who have not yet done so. The object of the Horticultural Society is a most worthy one, and it deserves the hearty support of every citizen of Peterboro, apart altogether from the excellent value it gives for the amount spent for the membership ticket.

Members of the society and all persons interested in the work it is doing and in the efforts being put forth for the beautifying and general improvement of our city, are urged to draw this matter to the attention of those who are likely to be interested, but who may not yet have secured their membership tickets. With the completion of our membership campaign, the season's work is just commencing. The success which will attend our efforts depends to a large extent on the support and co-operation of its individual memebers. All Peterboro expects you to do your share.

FRANK WISE
Secretary.

THE RED MILL, QUAINT DUTCH COMEDY, HERE VICTORIA DAY

Famous Musical Show Coming to Peterborough as a Holiday Attraction—Catchy Music and Picturesque Costumes — A Treat Promised.

The announcement that "The Red Mill" is to appear at the Grand Opera House here on Victoria Day will be received with pleasure, both by the children and grown-ups. It is a quaint comedy, full of odd sayings and songs with the scene laid in Holland, the land of picturesque costumes. "The Red Mill" was originally produced by Stone and Montgomery, who made themselves famous in "The Wizard of Oz." The company that is putting on the play here is first-class in every respect, and a first-class performance may be counted upon.

The company numbers some fifty people, including the sextette of "Dutch Kiddies" which the metropolis raved over, and which in no small way was one of the special features of this musical success. All of the song numbers, the quaint costumes and the dashing girls, together with the marvelous escape from the mill, will be reproduced faithfully.

There is some very catchy music in the opera, some of the songs being familiar to music lovers already. Here are a few of the moretaking: "Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me," "You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Go, While the Goin's Good," "The Streets of New York," "Because You're You," "The Isle of Our Dreams," and "I Want You to Marry Me."

There will be a matinee performance in the afternoon, as well as one in the evening.

CITY GETS $1500

As Half Yearly Share of Liquor License Receipts

City Treasurer Adams has received the city's half-yearly share from the receipts at the office of the Liquor License Inspector. The amount is $1,500, while the total returns of the Inspector are $4,095. 67. The license fees are payable from twelve hotels, thirty-two bartenders, one club and three shops. For this half year, one transfer of license was made. This costs $166.67. The Inspector has collected $465 in fines. Some others were imposed but are still unpaid, while other offenders went to jail, they not having the necessary money to hand into court.

John Beno, Italian, a South Lorrain miner, was stabbed by a compatriot, but will recover.

THEATRICAL

Miss Mabel Barrison, the well-known actress, who as Mabel Farrance was educated in Toronto and has done a liberal service in driving away the cares of theatre-goers in "The Blue Mouse" and other plays of the farce comedy order, is lying at the point of death in San Antonio, Texas, where she went to make a final fight against tuberculosis. Her husband, Joseph Howard, actor and song writer, has spent a fortune trying to save the life of Miss Barrison, and is now bankrupt in Chicago.

DR. YOUNG HAS ACCEPTED INVITATION TO TORONTO

Will Succeed Rev. Dr. Hicks at Broadway Tabernacle

Toronto, May 18.—Rev. Dr. W. R. Young, of Douglas church, Montreal, has accepted, subject to approval, of the Stationing Committee of the conference, the invitation of Broadway Tabernacle to succeed Rev. Dr. W. H. Hincks when the latter's term expires. Dr. Hincks has accepted the invitation to Trinity, this city.

Dr. Young is one of the foremost Methodist preachers in the Dominion. He has been President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and Chairman of the district for several years. For the past ten years he has been a member of the General Board of Missions, and last May he was international delegate from the Methodist church in Canada to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church south, which met at Asheville, N.C., when his address to the conference was spoken of in most enthusiastic terms by the local press. Mrs. Young is a daughter of the late Mr. John Black, of Newburg, Ontario.

As Dr. Young is coming to Toronto, it is necessary that a member of the Toronto Conference should go to Montreal, and Rev. Dr. J. A. Rankin, of Paul's church, Toronto, has been approached by a member of the congregation of Douglas church, Montreal, to ascertain whether he would consider an invitation.

Dr. Rankin has very many warm friends in Montreal, although he has never had charge of a church in that conference. He was born in North York, and entered the ministry in 1881 under the old Methodist Episcopalian church. When the Methodist churches in Canada entered into union in 1883 he was in the Toronto Conference, and he has remained with it ever since. Dr. Rankin was received into full connection and ordained in 1884, when he was stationed in King.

In 1886 Dr. Rankin went to Aurora, after which he spent two years in Unionville, followed by a term of three years at Bathurst street, Toronto. He then went to St. Paul's church, Brampton, and spent a similar period in charge there. In 1896 he came to Parkdale Methodist church, and since then has remained in Toronto, having had charge, successively, of Central church, Carlton street and St. Paul's.

In 1907 the degree of "doctor of divinity" was conferred upon him by Victoria College

HOUSE FAMINE

Not Enough of That Class Used by Workingmen

"There never has been such a scarcity of houses for workmen to rent in this city for a long time," was the remark of a leading real estate man to-day, in answer to a query put to him by a Review reporter.

"Nearly all the houses which are vacant at present, are either not for rent or are not suitable for workingmen. Especially is this a rather alarming feature in the southern section of the city, and in the neighborhood of the Canadian General Electric Company. The greatest scarcity seems to be in the ordinary laboring man's house which usually rent from $7 to $11 a month. With the industrial activity which is being manifested in the city requiring the services of moderated wage-receiving men, this condition is one to cause apprehension, unless remedied before long."

Mr. and Mrs. Renwick leave tomorrow for Peterborough.

COUPLE OF VAGS COMING THIS WAY

Lindsay Warder—Two men came up before Magistrate Jackson in the Police Court this morning. One was charged with begging, and stated that he had been working in a saw mill in Victoria Harbor but had his thumb cut off and was on his way to his home in Peterboro. He stated that he had not been begging but Acting Chief Shortt gave sufficient evidence to show that he was and when the Magistrate addressed the man stating that according to the law he was instructed to send such as he to the Central, he received the answer. "They won't take me at Central" they won't take me anywhere." He was remanded and will receive sentence later.

The other man was charged with being drunk and stated that he hailed from Kingston and had been trying to get work in town. He stated that he had plenty of money to take him to Peterboro so he was sent on to that city.

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

CAMPBELLFORD HAS A FACTORY PROPOSITION

Representative of English Company Visited the Town

The Campbellford Despatch says: Through the efforts of Mr. C. H. Harris, secretary of the Campbellford Board of Trade, who has been corresponding with this firm for several weeks. Mr. W.E. Jennings, managing director of the Company, came to Campbellford yesterday for the purpose of seeing if the town would be a suitable place to locate their Canadian factory and find out what better advantages we had than Peterboro, (this was soon settled) Brantford, Windsor and Toronto, all of which are anxious to get them.

Mr. Jennings, after meeting a few of our citizens, was escorted in an auto by Mayor Doxee, Councillor D.F. Robertson and Mr. C.H. Harris to Crow Bay where he gazed with wonder at our immense waterpower as it thundered through one of the most modern power houses in Canada, and was told how the plant supplied electrical energy to our many manufacturing industries and the streets and residences of the town lighted at prices lower than anywhere else, then after supplying the Seymour Power Company with 1,500 horsepower we still have 1,000 horsepower to offer manufacturers at a price which defies competition. He was then taken through many of the manufacturing concerns and to the big waterpower which is being developed at the paper and pulp mills. The great Trent Valley Canal which he has read so much about in England as being a big political ditch in which the election funds were dumped was then shown him and he was soon convinced that the millions of dollars being spent on the canal work at this point were not being wasted, but would mean an immense benefit to Campbellford as well as to the many other towns along its banks. The Seymour Power Company's powerhouse was also visited and he was astounded when told that electric power could be supplied from Campbellford to light every town in the Province, and then have enough left to supply every manufacturer who could find space in Campbellford to locate.

The company manufacture many lines of aluminum art goods and have a large business in Canada and the United States. They employ about one hundred hands and their annual turnover runs into thousands of dollars. Mr. Jennings has just opened a large warehouse in Montreal and, after deciding where to locate a factory, will return to England. He left Campbellford most favorably impressed and what he does not now know of our advantages no other town will tell him.

We doff our hat to Mr. Jennings and wish him the best of success while in Canada,—confident that Campbellford is the place for him.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE COUNCIL ENDORSED.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I have read of the action of the council concerning the "Industrial Commissioner," and I read the mayor's explanation of their act. Now, sir, as a ratepayer I realize that the council employed the commissioner for one year at a big salary as an experiment, and at the end of the year the employment was at an end, and they decided not to re-engage him—is not that the end of it?

Neither the commissioner nor anyone else has any say in the matter. No doubt the council carefully considered their action—they may have come to a wise conclusion or they may not, but has every ratepayer the right to contest their prerogative? I know that public opinion sustains the action of the council, but to me it is of the highest importance that the council be sustained when they deliberately come to a conclusion on facts perhaps more in their knowledge than it can possibly be in the knowledge of ordinary citizens upon whom there is no responsibility. The duties of the commissioner must be committed to some one, but it is generally thought that these duties can be effectively performed by some other person, at much less expense.

I am sir,

Your obedient servant,

MODERN SCHOLARSHIP.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The apostle Peter assures the people of God that "they have not followed the cunningly devised fables." Our modern apostles of the "New Theology" tell us that the people of God, all down the ages, have been following cunningly devised fabels or myths, and that these fables or myths have been so cunningly devised that our Lord and His apostles were deceived by them, for both by them, Christ and His apostles believed and taught that the early chapters of Genesis were real history, which chapters modern scholarship now pronounces myths or fables—see Jackson's studies on Old Testament.

St. Paul mentions Adam seven times directly, and many more times indirectly, in his epistles. Who ever heard a higher critic mention the name of Adam? Most, if not all of the destructive critics belong to the monkey brand of men, and deny that the human race sprang from one human. They teach and believe that their grandfather was an ape. Hence the reason that the early chapters of Genesis must be got rid of at any cost. Our Lord buttressed the early chapters of Genesis with his august authority. He said there was a flood. Paul and Peter mentions the flood four times in their epistles. It does not jar Prof. Jackson's intellectual conscience in the least to discredit even a partial flood. And these modern scholars who say they are removing the veil from the people's eyes call this higher criticism, forsooth. I will repeat here what I wrote to the editor of the Montreal Witness, that the real name for this so called higher criticism is the "Depths of Satan," and I'll stake my soul on the truth of that statement, so help me God. If any of our preachers think they are going to give any of this Jackson theology to God's people in this part of his moral vineyard, and teach it to our children without a red hot protest from the lovers of truth, they are mistaken.

church matters. A great deal of the Lord's money has been squandered. If it is true that the different churches are looked upon as so many roads to heaven, then let us have fewer roads, but let more people travel one road. There should be fewer denominations, and church union would be advantageous. Then we would cease wasting the Lord's money to a large extent.

"Enterprise is another lesson to learn. See the shrewd business man changing his methods and attractively advertising his store. Many a church has been fossilized because its members have been afraid to introduce anything new. The church should be enterprising and keep up to the times. People are so afraid of sensationalism in church, but even sensationalism would be preferable to stagnation in church work. Why do the moving picture houses get so many people? Because they are not afraid to use electric lights, etc., for making their place attractive. When was an electric sign ever seen in front of a church? Why don't we wake up and use electricity?

"We must find new ways of doing things. The old fashioned revival meeting does not accomplish what it formerly did. That day is past. No longer do the people come to them in multitudes. Perhaps there is some modern way of reaching them. We must introduce new enterprises into the Epworth League and Sunday schools and churches. Let us do personal work.

"Enthusiasm is the closing thing which we can learn from the business world. A man who has only one talent but who is earnest, will accomplish more than the man who may have ten talents, but who is not in earnest. What is needed is zeal in every department of church work.

The convention closed by the singing of a hymn, and the benediction.

The church pulpit was very prettily decorated for the occasion through the thoughtfulness of the officers of George street League.

A large number partook of the bounteous supper that had been prepared for the delegates down in the basement of the church, by the League of George street church. Everybody worked faithfully to make the convention a success and their efforts were rewarded.

SAYS TREATY IS WORTHLESS

Martin Burrell Would Have Asiatics Excluded.

Ottawa, May 19.—That Canada should abandon her efforts to develop a large trade with Japan and China, adhere to the new treaty between Great Britain and Japan, and restrict or prohibit Japanese immigration was the policy enunciated by Martin Burrell, of Yale-Cariboo, in the Commons yesterday, when Hon. W. S. Fielding moved the House into committee to consider the resolution extending for two years the existing trade agreement with Japan.

Mr. Burrell declared that Oriental trade was a chimera. During the last three years Canada exported less to Japan than during the preceding three years. It was expected at one time that Canadian wheat would find a large market in Janpan, but, owing to the heavy tariff maintained by Japan, Canada's exports of wheat to that country during the past three years was to the value of only $23,000. It would not be of any commercial advantage for Canada to adhere to the new treaty, Mr. Burrell said in conclusion, but because we could keep out oriental immigration and have the backing of the British navy.

Mr. Fielding, by way of reply, read the letter he addressed to the Japanese consul-general, setting forth the reasons of Canada's Ministers for desiring to continue the present arrangement for two years, as set forth in a Parliamentary return made public on Wednesday.

While admitting that trade with the Orient had not developed as rapidly as expected, he said Canada did not desire to be worse off in regard to Japan than other rations, and for that reason it was proposed to continue in the favored nation class. As to immigration he pointed out that our arrangement with Japan was not by treaty. The Japanese Government had faithfully lived up to its promise to restrict emigration to Canada, with the result that only 1,200 Japanese had come in during the last three years. Therefore it was the desire and the intention of the Government to maintain the present agreement governing immigration. If this were done there would be no possibility of further unpleasant incidents on the Pacific coast.

George H. Cowan (Vancouver), discussed the question of emigration from Japan. He argued that, under the arrangement entered into, the power to restrict the emigration from Japan to Canada was in the hands entirely of the Japanese Government. Canada had nothing to do with the matter. The vice of the treaty, he said, was that it gave a preference to Japanese immigrants over the immigrants from every other country. The arrangement was over and above the Immigration Act. Under the act there were restrictions on English, Scottish and Irish immigrants, but under the arrangement there was none on immigrants from Japan. He declared there was no necessity for the making of a treaty at all at this time.

"Why not," he asked, "exercise the power of a self-respecting nation and keep the restriction of our immigration in our own hands?"

The debate on Hon. G. P. Graham's amendments to the Railway Act was resumed in the Commons yesterday morning. It lasted all afternoon and into the evening. It was a fight on behalf of the farmer. The clause prescribing new conditions in regard to the killing of stock by railways, and which provides that railways are responsible for animals slaughtered, unless the farmer leaves his gates open, was strongly opposed by A. E. Lancaster, Arthur Meighen and other members of the Opposition, who argued that the striking out of the provision fixing onus of proof on the railways would leave the farmer in a worse position than he is to-day.

Mr. Lancaster said that it would be better to allow the law to stand as it is.

RECIPROCITY WOULD PLACE BRITAIN IN POSITION OF GREAT DIFFICULTY, SAYS HE

Lord Selborne in Discussion in House of Lords Points Out Dangers of Pact to the Cause of Empire.

London, May 19.—The Government was sharply criticized by the Earl of Selborne in the House of Lords last evening for what he termed "Their extraordinary supineness in failing to safeguard the interests of the United Kingdom in the American-Canadian reciprocity agreement." The earl referred to President Taft's "very remarkable speech," and declared that when Mr. Taft said the annexation talk was bosh all accepted the President's word; nevertheless the agreement formed a precedent capable of very large extensions. It was the first time in the history of the Empire that one part had obtained better terms from a foreign country, than had the United Kingdom, and the step between receiving and giving better terms, the earl continued, they might come to think that it was natural to give foreign countries better terms than they gave the United Keingdom or the other dominions of the Empire.

Ratification of the agreement, the earl said in concluson, would place this country in a position of extraordinary difficulty.

Baron Lucas, Parliamentary Under Secretary to the War Office, replying on behalf of the Government, declared that the Earl of Selborne greatly over-estimated the damage to the trade of the United Kingdom and the difficulties that might arise as a result of the reciprocity agreement. Canada was perfectly within her statutory rights, and the Government could not interefere. The United Kingdom, the baron said, could never offer Canada the same advantages as could the United States. Canada and the United States were complementary to one another in a degree to which Canada and Great Britain never could be. If Canada and the United States wanted a reciprocity agreement this country could not prevent it. Great Britain must give Canada a fair field for promoting her own prosperity in whatever way she thought best, and it was on these lines, Baron Lucas concluded, that the Government was watching the reciprocity negotiations now going on.

WOULD BE OPPOSED IN CANADA

Governor Charles S. Osborn, Governor of Michigan, appeared on Wednesday before the Finance Committee of the United States Senate and spoke in favor of reciprocity. Among other things he said;—

"The great consideration after all is that the United States is manufacturing in a large sense for the world, and that it needs raw material to compete with other countries. We must not give a blow in the face always to the very neighbor from whom we can obtain our raw material of certain kinds."

Senator Lodge called attention to the act recently passed by the New Brunswick Legislature prohibiting the export of wood to the United States, and said that practically every Province in Canada had passed a more or less restrictive act.

"And you will find them more restrictive if this agreement is turned down," commented Governor Osborn.

"The New Brunswick Legislature that passed this act also declared against reciprocity," Senator Lodge added.

"I can readily understand it," the Governor answered, "because we are getting the best of it. I think if I lived in Canada I would be opposed to it."

FARMERS' BANK BEGGARS

Toronto News.

Clearly it was the duty of Mr. Fielding to ascertain the financial status of the men who promoted the Farmers' Bank. He has declared that he had no means of knowing that false representations were made, But that surely is an evasion of the issue. Financial men in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa knew that the thing was shaky from the beginning. It was a matter of street and curb talk. Mr. Fielding could scarcely avoid hearing the rumors that were flying at the time. If he heard them and did not seek to learn the facts he is doubly culpable.

The Bank Act declares that no certificate shall be issued until it has been shown to the satisfaction of the Treasury Board, by affidavit or otherwise, that the requirements of the Act have been met. One of these requirements demands a bona fide subscription of $500,000 to the capital stock, half of which is to be paid to the Minister. The Act is clear, that the deposit is to be a part of the bona fide subscription. Mr. Fielding could have learned where the deposit money was secured, if not by affidavit, then "otherwise." No amount of dodging can avail the Minister. The responsibility for the existence of the Farmer's Bank rests upon him.

Hundreds of people who invested all that they could spare in the fair-looking stock of this rotten institution are to be robbed still further by the application of the double liability clause. Many of them will be stripped of all that they possess; farms, houses, implements and stock. Men well past the prime of life will be forced to begin anew. Scores of women will lose all they have.

It may be said that Mr. Fielding and the Treasury Board were not responsible for the kite flying finance of Mr. Travers after the bank obtained its certificate. But if their duty had been done no certificate ever would have been issued. It was the endorsation of the Government that established confidence in the institution and induced the farmers of Halton county, for instance, to invest in the stock. They stand face to face with ruin to-day because of the easy carelessness or the childish credulity of the Finance Minister of Canada. There is no escape for Mr. Fielding. He neglected his plain duty. No wonder he failed when he attempted to justify his position.

A curious analogy lies between the Farmers' Bank and the Quebec Bridge. When that great structure fell, carrying down to death some 80 men, it was discovered that the Government had been careless in passing the plans. Later still it was made plain that through carelessness at Ottawa the responsibility for failure had been evaded by the contractors. The Dominion treasury footed the bill for clearing away the debris. Such amazing methods of doing business on the contract plan could be found only in a public office where Ministers devote themselves to the practical study of politics, rather than to the duties provided for them by statute. Stupid incompetence laid the burden of the Quebec Bridge on the taxpayers of Canada.

In like manner the Farmers' Bank became a going concern through the carelessness or incompetence of the responsible Minister. Mr. Fielding's record in this case is a record of disgrace. The Treasury Board had the financial acumen of a kindergarten. It is not improbable that the ruined shareholders will call the Minister to the witness stand. If so, his attempt at self-defence will be shown in its true light.

STRATHCONA SENDS $10,000

High Commissioner in London Offers $10,000 to Y.M.C.A.

Brantford, May 19.—The Y.M.C.A. officers were surprised and elated over the receipt of a message yesterday from Lord Strathcona, stating that when Brantford has raised $90,000 for the new Y.M.C.A. building he would gladly contribute $10,000 more. The campaign closed last week and Brantford raised $117,000, but is likely the contribution will be accepted. Lord Strathcona has already donated $25,000 each to Winnipeg and Vancouver, $10,000 to Halifax and $5,000 to Guelph.

The announcement was made here yesterday of the resignation of J. H. Crocker, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in this city. Through the efforts of the international committee Mr. Crocker has been induced to take up work in Shanghai, China, and will leave next September. He has just closed a most successful two years in Brantford, having been formerly physical director at Toronto. He recently refused secretaryships at Montreal and Kansas City.

To be Used by Mayor and Corporation for City as Shall Seem Best.

Montreal, May 19.—"I will and bequeath all the moneys realized on my properties in France and Germany, England and America to the mayor and corporation of the City of Montreal, to be employed by them for such charitable or other purposes for the benefit of such inhabitants of the said City of Montreal as the mayor and corporation shall in their absolute discretion think fit."

Such are the terms of the last will and testament, dated Oct. 14, 1910, of Gustav Meurling, a typewritten copy of which will was received by Mayor Guerin yesterday from Messrs. Duncan and Gibson, lawyers, of 21 Leadenhall street, the English executors of the estate of the late Mr. Meurling, as far as his English properties are concerned.

In the accompanying letter the lawyers inform the mayor that the exact value of the deceased's estate in England amounts to $118,500.

"We have not yet received any particulars of the deceased's property in France, but we will let you know all details as soon as the particulars are to hand," add the lawyers.

Nothing is said of the properties in Germany and America beyond their bare mention in the deceased's will.

Meighen of Portage la Prairie, a youngster who has already distinguished himself as a Parliamentarian of a high order. It is probable that the party will be joined by one of the leading Quebec Conservative orators.

Besides those mentioned, Mr. Borden will be assisted in Manitoba by W. H. Sharpe, W. D. Staples, Glen Campbell, G. H. Bradbury, Dr. Schaffner and Alex. Haggart.

SENATE BARS FREE PULP

Reciprocity Bill to be Reported by Committee.

Washington, May 19.—The Senate will refuse to concede immediate free entrance from Canada pulp and paper from the unrestricted lands, as proposed by the amendment of the House of Representatives, and with this and a few other minor changes it looks as if the Senate Finance Committee would report the reciprocity bill next week. The amendment to the paper clause, which will make free trade in paper an event of the indefinite future, was proposed by Senator Root of New York yesterday, and at once caused a flutter in the committee. The manner in which it was received suggested that it had hearty support there, and subsequent inquiry from several Senators showed that it seems predestined to adoption. Paper manufacturers present also shared this confidence.

The effect of making an amendment to the bill is taken to mean, even by members of the committee opposed to reciprocity, that the bill as amended will be favorably reported. Senator Gallinger said as much yesterday afternoon, while Senator Smoot said in an interview that it was proposed to add this amendment and a few other slight ones, which, he said were necessary to make the bill conform to the agreement with the Canadian Ministers, and then report the bill, probably about a week from Saturday.

Special to the Review.

London, May 19.—Pintadeau, from the stables of King George, won the Fitzwilliam stakes at Doncaster today. The win was the first victory for the King, and was enthusiastically received.

Pessimistic of Settlement.

Winnipeg, May 19.—Dr. C. W. Gordon, chairman of the conciliation board looking into the coal miners' troubles has returned here and is pessimistic regarding a speedy settlement. He says that the board could have patched up a temporary agreement, but that had been done before and what was wanted was a settlement that would last some years. The enquiry would be resumed in three weeks, he said, and continued until the men went back to work.

Sent to Asylum.

Brockville, May 19.—William Albert Vandusen, the hermit, taken into custody after a stiff fight at his island home near Long Point, Township of Lansdowne, was given a hearing yesterday. Several witnesses were on hand, but on the evidence of two doctors, who made an examination, Vandusen was committed to the asylum.

Youth Charged With Arson Will be Tried in June.

Colborne, Ont., May 18.—Leslie Burk, the youth committed for trial on a charge of arson in connection with the recent costly fire in Colborne, was arraigned before Judge Benson at Cobourg, when he elected to be tried by a jury at the assizes which begin June 13th.

Application was made for bail and was granted, several citizens of Blenheim, the boy's home, depositing the $2,000 cash which was required.

Royal Society Proposes State-Owned Cable.

Ottawa, May 19.—Officers were elected at the concluding session of the Royal Society in the Carnegie Library yesterday afternoon and a number of resolutions passed; one, moved by Sir Sandford Fleming, advocated the all-red system of state-owned cable.

The new officers of the society are as follows: President, Dr. W. F. King; vice-president, Dr. W. D. Lesueur; honorary secretary, Duncan Campbell Scott; honorary treasurer, Lawrence M. Lambe.

A memorandum prepared by Sir Sandford Fleming, approving of an imperial system of state-owned cables on British territory and recommending an alternative route from Australia through the Indian Ocean, instead of depending on one line, was adopted and will be issued in the form of phamplets to be sent to every member of the Imperial Conference. In the report of the section on English literature was included a suggestion that the Minister of Mines be asked for permission to establish the library of the Royal Society in the new Victoria Museum. A motion for the establishment of a Canadian National Library was also moved and passed.

A resolution of regret was passed at the termination of office of Earl Grey, and another at the retirement from the Royal Society of John Reade of Montreal, a well-known newspaper man.

AUTOMOBILE IN A SOMERSAULT

Belleville Lady One of Party in the Car.

Special to the Review.

Belleville, May 19.—Mrs. L. Grant, of Montreal, and Mrs. A. A. Roberts, of Belleville, were painfully injured and five others were more or less hurt this morning when the automobile in which they were travelling in Sidney township turned a somersault into a ditch.

Investigation Falls Flat.

Kingston, May 19—The investigation into alleged irregularities on the part of the property committee of the Board of Education have come to a sudden halt. A special committee has been endeavoring to secure evidence, but so far none has been secured. The committee placed an advertisement in the press asking for information, but with no result. The entire affair is now looked upon as street gossip.

The investigation was brought on when Trustee Wallace alleged that he had been told that a member of the board had been offered $100 for his vote and influence for the purchase of certain property for a school site.

CONFERENCE TO SETTLE IT

Moroccan Troubles Thorny Question to Handle.

French Column Within Sixty Miles of Fez.

Madrid, May 19.—Statesmen here are talking of the necessity of another international conferenc to settle the Moroccan affair, which is becoming more disturbing and more confused each week. Diplomatic observers believe that Germany is using her influence to add to the international feeling regarding French action in Morocco.

The Spanish Ministers are not satisfied, it is understood, with what it seems the result is likely to secure.

Not Necessary, Says France.

Paris, May 19.—It was denied at the French Foreign Office yesterday that any thought existed there of the necessity arising for another Algeciras conference. The French plans in Morocco, it was stated, include nothing outside of the Algeciras engagement. Consequently all the suggestions concerning another international conference to consider the Moroccan situation were untimely and untrue.

Within Sixty Miles of Fez.

Tangier, Morocco, May 19.—Wireless telegraph messages received here yesterday from the French column to Fez for the purpose of relieving the besieged capital indicate that Col. Brulard, in command of the troops, bivouacked Wednesday night within about 60 miles of Fez.

Additional French forces form an intermittent chain behind Col. Brulard and within easy reach of El Knitro. Of the three principal French commands, Col Brulard has the advance position, Major Simon holds a force holding an intermediate post, while Col. Gouraud is keeping up communication with the French base.

Gen. Moinier, commander-in-chief of the French forces in Morocco, has joined the expedition and is personally directing the advance. It is understood that he alone knows the wishes of the French Cabinet Ministers as to what shall be done when the column reaches Fez. The actual date of its arrival at the southern capital is uncertain, since its progress is precautionary and also slow because of the summer heat. Immense trains of animals are accompanying the troops, the column including 2,000 camels and several thousand mules, largely brought from Algeria.

Moorish horsemen are always in sight observing the Frenc movements and slight skirmishes occur now and then between the tribesmen and the distant patrols.

BRITISH CONSUL REPORTED KILLED

Moorish Rebels Are Causing Trouble at Alsazar.

Special to the Review.

Tangier, May 19.—The report reached here to-day that the Moorish rebels had attacked the town of Alcazar and killed British Consul Carleton.

Springhill Strike Settled.

Montreal, May 19.—The Springhill coal strike, which has been on for 22 months, is practically at an end, the men making an unconditional surrender, accepting the cut rate as well as dropping the claim for recognition of the U.M.W.A. They ask, however, that there shall be no discrimination shown by the Dominion Coal Co., compared with those who have not been on strike.

Killed Wife and Self.

London, Ont., May 19.—Nathaniel Self, aged 45, shot and fatally wounded himself and wife at her home, 242 King street, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning because she refused to come back and live with him.

Robbed Freight Cars.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 19.—Chas. Hill and Frank Garner, were yesterday sentenced by Magistrate Fraser to six months imprisonment in the Central Prison, for robbing Michigan Central freight cars.

MISS CAMPBELL IS IN THE FINALS

To Meet Miss Hazlet for British Championship

Special to the Review.

Port Rush, Ireland, May 19.—Miss Dorothy Campbell, of Hamilton, Ont., holder of the Canadian and United States golf championship, defeated Mrs. Bourne in semi-final golf match to-day. Miss Campbell now enters the final for the British championship title, and will have as her opponent Miss Hazlet.

UNION LABEL

FOR THE TRUSTS

An examination of the judgment of the United States Supreme Court declaring in effect that trusts might be reasonable or unreasonable, and as such be good or bad, certainly justifies the jubilation with which "the interests" hail the pronunciamento. Sentiment on the matter swings to the dissenting view expressed by Justice Harlan, that the Supreme Court, being merely a court for the interpretation of existing law, had no right to write into the law any declaration that a trust might be reasonable—this being a usurpation of the legislation functions of Congress.

The question involved is one of deepest significance in the fight that is being carried on against the powerful aggregations of capital on behalf of the masses. President Taft, in his message to Congress a year ago, said "The public, and especially the business public, ought to rid themselves of the idea that such a distinction is practicable, or can be introduced into the statute. Certainly under the present anti-trust law no such distinction exists."

Of course the Supreme Court of the United States is the highest judicial authority of the land, but if the existing legislation says that no trust is legal that operates to restrain interstate commerce, then surely the Supreme Court is not constitutional in modifying that legislation to read "where, in the opinion of the courts, such operation is unreasonable."

The width of the loop-hole is alarming. It leaves the way for an appeal to the Supreme Court by the aggregations of capital in every case—to determine the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the trust, if proven to exist. It clogs the machinery of the law at every turn, and is in effect the greatest blow to the effort of Congress to control the operations of the giant corporations that has yet been delivered.

THE Y.M.C.A. WORK

The visit of Col. William Jennings Bryan should result in a great stimulus for the work of the Y.M.C.A. Col. Bryan in his speech yesterday at the luncheon did only justice to the noble work the Y.M.C.A. is doing. It is non-sectarian. It enters into the very life of the boys and young men, because it deals with them in a human, intimate way. It becomes a part and parcel of their lives, not preaching at them the doctrine of goodness from a lofty pulpit, or presenting wordy tracts on the benefit of virtue.

The Y.M.C.A. is a noble institution, worth a great deal of money to the citizens of every city, in developing not only the bodies, not only the minds, but also the spiritual side of the young, in a rational manner. The Y.M.C.A. is performing a function that nothing else can fill; it is possibly the great secular-religious agency for good, working among the boys and young men to-day, guiding them along paths that lead to honor and probity. The citizens of Peterborough who did not hear Col. Bryan speak of the work of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday missed an address of inspiration and encouragement in the work. Those who wish to do something to aid the progress of the manhood of the country towards a higher and a better plane can not do better than give their hearty sympathy and support to the Y.M.C.A.

President Turner said that the local institution was in need of money. That is the story of all institutions of this nature, which are dependent upon the broad sympathies and generous cheque-books of friends. The work that has been done in other cities in the way of raising thousands of dollars for the Y.M.C.A. ought to be an encouragement to believe that Peterborough will also nobly respond to this, the call of duty.

RIGHT OR WRONG?

A few days ago announcement was made by Hon. George P. Graham that the Dominion Government was guaranteeing bonds for the C.N.R. for the thousand mile stretch of railway between Montreal and Port Arthur, at the rate of $35,000 a mile. It is admitted by all that this method of assisting in railway financing is the most economical and safest method that can be pursued, being very much preferable to any form of bonusing. The Ontario Government did the same for the C.N.R. in some branch lines two or three years ago, and the Manitoba government has guaranteed bonds for construction in Manitoba. But it is noted that the Examiner which a few days ago thought the Dominion had executed a great stroke of policy in the latest guarantee fiercely execrated the Whitney government for precisely the same thing. If the Whitney government was wrong, as the Examiner stoutly asserted, why is the Dominion government right? Or, vice versa. Such contradictory attitudes as this simply indicate that blind partyism makes fools of men.

CHURCH AND STATE

Justice Riddell of Toronto says that no church had the legal right to dissolve any marriage; that it is the civil power that is supreme. And he says that Canadians need not worry. As far as we can see the worrying does not arise on that score at all. What is objected to—and we think with reason—is that the civil law of a province of Canada shall put into legal effect the decrees of a church, no matter what they may be, on the subject of marriage. It is the civil power, all right, which is supreme; but when that civil power is but a mirror for the rules and regulations of churches and denominations, there is something that needs to be remedied. Under the present condition of affairs in Quebec, grave injustice is done to a Protestant who contracts a marriage with a Roman Catholic, outside of the Roman Catholic church, for in the eyes of the Roman Catholic church that Roman Catholic is not legally married, and the civil law gives effect to this most unjust of sectarian rulings. What is needed in the province of Quebec is a law which shall remove from churches and denominations the power to have their rules and regulations made of legal effect. Rules and regulations for the guidance of members should not have any effect as regards the validity or invalidity of marriage, which should be fixed from a purely civil and state standpoint.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Investigated Charges.

Montreal, May 18.—During the regular meeting of the directors of the Canadian Cement Co., which was held here yesterday afternoon, the sensational charges recently made by Sir Sandford Fleming were brought up.

At the close of the meeting the secretary was authorized to make the following statement:

"With regard to the charges made by Sir Sandford Fleming, these are the same as he made last year. The meeting then had Sir Sandford's charges investigated by a committee of his own choosing, and also by two prominent counsels, one of whom was nominated by Sir Sandford Fleming himself. The result of these investigations showed that there was no justification for his charge and that Sir Sandford's position was untenable."

Will Insure Municipal Buildings.

Montreal, May 18.—Following the fire on Tuesday, which destroyed the civic waterworks shops, the Board of Control has decided to insure all municipal buildings in the city against fire. The value of the buildings, exclusive of land and furniture, owned by the city is entered in the city assessor's books at $3,827,535, of which $531,800 is put down as the value of the City Hall.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 18.—A fall in the barometer helped carry down the price of wheat to-day. The suggestion of wet weather was too strong to be resisted by dealers who had a handsome profit in sight. Accordingly, selling became somewhat general and the close was ⅜ to ⅝ lower than last night. Corn finished ⅛ to ½ down, oats ⅛ to ¼ off to ⅛ to ⅜ up, and provisions at a decline of 5c to 75c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ¼d to ⅜d higher than yesterday, on wheat and ⅜d higher on corn. Buda Pest wheat closed ½c higher; Hamburg unchanged to ⅛ lower; Antwerp, Berlin and Havre unchanged.

Blessing to the Farmer's Wife

In the family circle, the Bell Service is indispensable. It is a constant household companion. It shops for her when she is too busy to go to town. It brings her in close touch with the social life of the community. Loved ones far away may be reached, for the Bell field is almost limitless. It relieves the monotony of life. She cannot be lonesome with the Bell Service at her command. It is a constant source of pleasure and profit in the home circle.

Every Farmer needs Telephone Service in his business.

And Colonel Moreau," supplement the judge. "I understand he is a d shot. Then there is M. Veaudry, om you know. He has long been a tor of Miss Adele's, but since her her's death naturally she has been no frame of mind for courtship, and sequently poor Anatole is as bitter the subject of Kirby as she her- f."

Poor Cousin Adele!" murmured ron, wiping his eyes. "When I last v her she was such a happy, bright d girl. To think of her young life ng made a tragedy by this scoun- l! I'd cut off my right hand for t girl, Judge Pleydell. But this lonel Moreau, this defender of the nily—you speak of his co-operation. he, then, in town?"

I have heard so," said the other ietly, "and there is no doubt that will join us in our crusade against s scoundrel. He is not the man to get or condone such an unspeakably e action as he witnessed aboard the otwell that night. In fact, your isins hope to have the honor of tertaining Colonel Moreau, and Tom s gone out for the express purpose ascertaining his whereabouts, for I ard quite inadvertently that the gen- man was in town. I reckon Mr. rby is due to lose his life pretty ortly. He has made a lot of misery : us, sir, and it is high time he had ne himself."

CHAPTER V.

"THIS trouble has driven Tom pretty near crazy," went on the judge, "and I've put off his and my daughter Ann's wedding until we've settled Mr. Kirby, for the fact is I don't want her to take any chances of being a widow so young, sir."

"Do the ladies know what is going forward?"

"No, and I cannot impress that fact upon you too strongly, sir. They believe and are to be kept in the belief that if Colonel Moreau accepts our invitation, which no doubt he will do, we are all merely making a pleasure jaunt to the Randall plantation. We treat the whole affair in that light, sir—a visit in honor of Colonel Moreau, so that the family may make his acquaintance at last and show some measure of their gratitude to him for shooting down the despoiler of their father."

"Ah," she exclaimed suspiciously, "the gentlemen talk secrets already! M. Aaron," she added graciously, "you and I have not met for many years."

"A great loss to me," he gallantly replied, kissing her proffered hand. "A happy meeting, madame. The judge and I," he continued unblushingly, "were discussing plans for the probable entertainment of Colonel Moreau."

"Then you must not talk of gloomy subjects, as I saw you were doing," she replied. "No denials, please, for it is always when I see two heads together in this house it must be that they talk of their hatred for that poor Eugene Kirby."

"I should have warned you, sir," explained the latter, "that my dear old friend has retained her sentimentality with her youth." Considering that Mme. Davezac was past fifty-five, this was indeed a doubly remarkable performance.

"No, monsieur, never; but I knew his father, and I cannot make myself to feel about the son as do all these others. I know his reputation, M. Aaron. But just think—a boy who had no one to watch him, no one to care! He drifts with bad companions; he must live somehow. Oh, I could believe he became a gambler, but that one with such blood in him could do what you all believe he has done—it is impossible."

Well Played Game in Junior Series of Public School League

Coming from behind in their half of the fifth in a junior Public School League game with East City yesterday afternoon, the King Edwards sent five men across the home pan and won out with a score of 9-8 The game was played at the King Edward field, and the home rooters were jubilant, when with their team two tallies to the bad, Frost walked up to the plate and connected with a choice shoot from Anderson for a ticket to three bases. Eakins kept up the good work and drove in the husky young backstop with a nice double. Eakins went to third and scored when Taylor bunted. Again with Merton Frost and Doughty on the bags, Braund doubled, both men ahead of him counting, and he came in when Campbell's infield effort was juggled. East City were always dangerous for the remainder of the contest but could not do better than finish one behind. Both teams played good ball. Snappy infield work was the order of the day and this was featured by the steady shortstopping of Anderson for the winners and a pretty double play unassisted by Phillips, the East City second sacker.

The south end nine were more vigorous with the bat and particularly in the fifth, hit when the clouts were liable to do the most good. But the little fellows from across the stream were game all the time and never let up, Anderson twirling in splendid form throughout the seven innings. Faster fielding would have saved him on numerous occasions, as he had good control, and the consistent vocal work of the King Edward supporters failed to get him "up in the air" East City had a cushion working in their first time at bat but couldn't score. In their half the homsters were out in one two three order. In the second chapter, the visitors bagged three, Huycke was safe on an overpeg to first. He went around to third and tallied when Campbell threw wild to second. Another wild peg gave Thompson the freedom of the circuit and he counted on a drive by Phillips Hagerman's contribution sent Lipsett across.

King Edwards came back with two on some good batting and the assistance of some slips by the opposing infield.

Moffitt counted for East City in the third and King Edward went one better by taking a brace and ticing the score. In the fourth the visitors were retired one in order on swats to the pitcher and shortstop, and East City followed this up by a shutout, with the bases filled, the double play of Phillips killing a fine chance for runs.

East City sent four men home during the next three innings, but the King Edwards had the game safe when their fifth run was secured.

The teams were:

King Edwards—A Frost, p, Campbell, p, 1b; Eakins, 1b, p; Doughty, 2b; Anderson, s; Taylor, 3b; Manley, rf; Braund, cf; M. Frost, lf.

Umpire, Ben Taylor.

LOCAL LINE-UP FOR FIRST GAME ON THE HOLIDAY

The Regulars and Yannigans Practice To-morrow Afternoon

Over two dozen players were out to practice last night at Riverside, and work at the bat was the chief number of the program. Quinlan and Rahmal were serving them up.

Quinlan is twirling the opening game with Cobourg on the holiday. With Wylder on the receiving end, the battery department looks strong enough to go through the Midland League at a pretty fair gait.

Wettlaufer looks a likely looking gent for the difficult territory around short. He is quick and can do a hurling stunt to first, in a manner that is sure to take with the fans.

At the first corner, Mike O'Brien should do even better work this season, and if he can only get a few of those city league clouts of his, there will be something doing for score boy.

Wettlaufer—ss.
Rahmal—p.
Wylder—c.
O'Brien—1b.
Brydie—c.
Craig—rf.
Ahearn—2b.
O'Brien—cf.
Quinlan—p.
Shaw—lf.
Murphy—3b.

It is likely that Johnnie Rosevear, of Port Hope will be here to do the spieling act, and that means something towards the calibre of the game Always impartial and wise to all the tricks of the trade, Rosevear is justly popular with players and fans alike.

A practice game between the regulars and yannigans is called for Riverside Park to morrow afternoon at 2.30 o clock. The occasion will allow of the railbirds getting a line on the men who will endeavor to bring the honors this way.

The game scheduled in the Juvenile League for Saturday will be played on the oval at 4.30 o'clock when the Northern Lights and Thistles meet. The game which was to have been played last night was called off owing to some misunderstanding therefore the game Saturday will be the league opener. The kids look good in practice and should dish up some classy ball.

"Dubbie" Shea is working at second base for the Brantford Canadian League team. In Wednesday's game he had one hit and took care of five chances.

FIRST GAME IN INTER-CATHOLIC LEAGUE MAY 27

Constitution and Schedule—Three Teams to Fight for Honors

The executive of the Inter-Catholic Baseball League met Wednesday night and drafted the following constitution, which will govern the league during the coming season—

Present Midland League players will be barred.

Each team will be required to deposit $2, as a guarantee that it will finish the season.

All protests must be in writing, in the hands of the secretary of the league within twenty-four hours after the game.

Umpires shall be appointed by agreement of the two managers concerned, or by the president of the league.

All money coming from gates shall be taken charge of by the league and divided amongst the teams at the end of the season.

The boundaries to govern the teams shall be as follows—North of McDonnel street and East City shall constitute the East City team; South of McDonnel street to Sacred Heart boundary shall constitute the Central team, and members living in the Sacred Heart parish shall constitute the Sacred Heart team, each player being allowed to play on one team only.

A copy of the constitution will be sent to each manager.

The following schedule was drawn—

May 27—Sacred Heart vs Central.
June 3—Central vs East City.
June 10—East City vs Sacred Heart.
June 17—Central vs Sacred Heart.
June 24—East City vs Central.
Dominion Day—Sacred Heart vs East City.
July 8—Sacred Heart vs Central.
July 15—Central vs East City.
July 22—East City vs Sacred Heart.

It is proposed to have opening ceremonies at the first game, particulars of which will be published later.

EDMUNDS MUST GO TO WINNIPEG

Is Regarded as the best Player on the Hamilton Team

Says the Hamilton Spectator—Lee is greatly disappointed over the decision handed down by the National Commission in connection with Jerry Edmunds. The latter was regarded as the best player on the local team, and his loss will be felt. Lee intends to make an effort to purchase him from the Winnipeg Club, providing they will sell him at a reasonable figure. Edmunds was with Winnipeg last year, and was on the Winnipeg reserve list this spring. He did get his contract until April 4, just a month after it should have been forwarded to him, and as a result he considered himself a free agent. The Winnipeg Club, however, claimed that they forwarded the contract to Peterborough, and did not find out until April that Jerry was living in Toronto, although he wintered in Peterborough in 1910. The fact that the contract was sent to Edmunds' last known address before March 1 was enough to hold him, and on these grounds he was awarded to this old club. Manager Lee is of the opinion however, that he can purchase Edmunds' release, and will make an attempt to do so to-morrow.

Y.M.C.A. SPORT

A bicycle club will be organized in connection with the Boys Department. Each Saturday or holiday the club will have outings to Lakefield and other points.

Anyone wishing to become a member may do so by giving his name to Mr. F. Tait, Boys' Secretary.

The Y.M.C.A. football team will meet the Park Street A.C. team in a Church League game at Riverside Park on Saturday, and every man is requested to be on hand ready to play at 2 p.m. The "Y" team will be selected from the following—Fleming, Doris, Fitzgerald, Hampton, McPherson, Adams, Moore, Bowness, Flowers, Miller, Lane, Tarte, Ingram, Kerr, Canniff.

The local "Y" will likely be represented at Belleville on Victoria Day in the pentathlon contest, and also the several other events on the program. The pentathlon team will be selected from H. Wood, H. Hill, C. Bartlett, S. Canniff, W. Willis, H. Smith. There will be a workout on Monday evening at Riverside Park.

Commencing Friday, May 26, the first events in the Stratton Cup contest will be run off. The 100-dash and running high jump are billed for that date.

SOME DOPE ON WALTER JOHNSON

How He Splits per Game With That $7000 Salary

Assuming that Walter Johnson's new contract with the Washington American League club calls for $7,000 per year, and that he is expected to pitch forty games in return for this compensation, it was worth exactly $1 to him in his first game this season every time that he hurled the ball at a batsman or tossed it to a base. For each game he pitched he is entitled to wages on a scale of $175 per working day. And in his opening appearance he pitched 170 balls to batsmen, threw out three runners at first base, and tossed a couple of times to hold men on the bag. These latter bits of effort were really throwing money away as they only served to lessen Walter's average earnings per peg of sphere, without accomplishing anything.

It is probable that this is the only nine-inning game that Johnson will pitch this season is which rate of pay will not be more than $1 for each swing of his mighty arm. Not that the club is going to boost the figures again. But the number of balls pitched by Johnson was something abnormal, it very rarely happening that a pitcher has to serve the ball more than 140 times in a game, with the average probably somewhere in the vicinity of 125 pitches.

TO ASK COUNCIL FOR GRANT OF $200

To be Used in Sending Local Boy Scouts to the Coronation

It is the intention of a deputation of leading citizens interested in the Boy Scout movement to interview the City Council in a body and petition them for a grant of $200 toward sending two of the local Boy Scouts to the Coronation of King George. Four hundred dollars will be required altogether and if the Council grant the sum asked in the petition, the balance will have to be raised among the Boy Scouts themselves and by private subscriptions. Toronto City Council is doing the same in order that Canada may be well represented at the Coronation, and hold up her end as well as any of the colonies.

It is the intention of those in charge of the movement to select two scouts who will be a credit to the contingent of fifty Boy Scouts who will sail for the Coronation from Canada in June. Toronto is contributing eight of the fifty, and the various other places where there is an organization of scouts will each send representatives.

The boys who will be selected, must be bright, well bred, of good appearance and mannerly, as at the festivities at the Coronation they will very likely be the guests of distinguished people, and they must be able to conduct themselves fittingly and in an easy manner. They will also have to be well equipped with clothing, etc.

OBITUARY

The Late John Donovan

After an illness of a week John Donovan, passed away at his residence at the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel streets last night at 11.30 o'clock. The late Mr. Donovan was a well-known grocer of the city, he having been born here fifty-four years ago. He spent a number of years in New Orleans and in Jackson, Mich., but had resided in Peterborough continuously since 1883. He engaged in the grocery business in the store now occupied by J. E. Lillico, at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets, and conducted the business for seven years. Then he retired on account of ill-health, and later purchased the business of the late George Sanderson at the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel streets. He was a member of St. Peter's T.A.S.

Surviving are a wife, two brothers and one sister. The brothers are Messrs. James Donovan, of Toronto, and William Donovan, who resides in the Southern States. Mrs. Napoleon Trombley, of this city, is the sister.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the late residence, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

THE RED MILL A QUAINT COMEDY

Picturesque Costumes and Catchy Songs—One of the Most Successful of Musical Comedies

Those who see the new Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert comic opera "The Red Mill" which comes to the Grand Opera House on Victoria Day, will easily understand its great vogue at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, for one entire year. The absence of any suggestive situations, modest dressing, the pretty love story and the exquisite music, together with the picturesque and dainty costumes, the quaint scenery, and the good, wholesome humor, and moreover, the thorough exploitation by the perfect organization of some sixty people, are the basis of its solid foundation of success.

The tone of refinement which pervades this unusual musical play, the modest and picturesque costuming, the interesting and clever story of two American tourists who have gone broke on a travelling trip, and who, after many complicated situations, find themselves assisting in an escape from the old red mill, forms one of the most sensational stories ever given a musical setting. It is made doubly entertaining by the introduction of some of Victor Herbert's most tuneful music. Mr. Herbert has fitted Mr. Blossom's unique story and telling lyrics with melodies that will be hummed and sung and whistled for many years to come. Among the best musical numbers heard in "The Red Mill" are "Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me," "You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Go, While the Goin's Good," "The Streets of New York," "Because You're You," "The Isle of Our Dreams" and "I Want You to Marry Me."

WEDDING BELLS

BOORMAN—LEADER.

A pretty house wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Leader, 278 Thomas street, Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, when their daughter, Nellie, was united in marriage to Mr. Wilfrid J. E. Boorman, the Rev. J. G. Brown, pastor of St. James' Methodist church, officiating, in the presence of a number of the intimate friends and relatives of the young people.

After the ceremony a wedding repast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Boorman will reside on Hunter street.

McARTHUR—HURRY.

At the Knox church manse last night Rev. H. J. Keith united in marriage Alexander McArthur and Elizabeth D. Hurry, both late of Portobello, Scotland. Mr. and Mrs. McArthur will reside in the city.

BRYAN'S LECTURE; "PRINCE OF PEACE"

Large Audience Heard Peerless Orator at the Grand Opera House

> "Service is the measure of greatness; it always has been true and it is true to-day. He is the greatest man who does the most good. The dividing measure of human life is its out go and its contribution to human life."
>
> "Christ is the Prince of Peace and He is deserving of the title, and the years to come will find him more deserving of it as thousands and tens of thousands find peace in Him."
>
> "There never was a system of morals built on reason alone and in the nature of things there cannot be. The man who tries to keep a book account of the good things he does will never do good enough to bind the book."

The elite of the city gathered in the Grand Opera House last evening and heard the widely known and distinguished American silver-tongued orator and statesman, William Jennings Bryan give his significant and eloquent lecture on the subject of "The Prince of Peace." Mr. Bryan lectured under and in the interests of the Young Men's Christian Association, and no more able personage could have been secured to espouse its cause, or be more calculated to create enthusiasm in the work of that organization.

The house was filled almost to capacity. The presence of the celebrated statesman in the city was felt to be a great honor, and an event, and few cared to disregard the opportunity of hearing the lecture, that was stated to be so particularly interesting. Mr. Bryan lived up to his reputation fully, and his exposition of some of the great problems which have confronted mankind since the beginning of life were thoughtful, learned and full of possibilities. The lecture throughout was listened to with intense interest. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., officiated as chairman, and very neatly and appropriately introduced the Hon. Mr. Bryan, and stated what his objects were in coming to Canada, and of the efforts which the visitor was engaged in to further the interests of the Y.M.C.A.

In opening his remarks Mr. Bryan stated that he was especially glad to be present in the beautiful city, and to address a Canadian audience, and to be present under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. He dealt with the work which that organization was carrying on, of the beneficial effects it had on young men, and of how it supplemented the moral, religious and physical training of young men.

The speaker then went on to define civilization. The latter, he stated, was the harmonious development of the human race, physically and mentally and morally. Any organization that strove to accomplish these three great things was deserving of the most respect and the highest regard. The Y.M.C.A. was doing this for young men.

"Religion is the only thing in life that counts," he said. "It is the dominant factors of every life. It is more than politics or business, and it is the practical thing which every man has to deal with. If a man does good only when he thinks people are observing him, he will be sure to do something some day when he thinks people are not looking, and will take a vacation and fall."

Mr. Bryan went on to state some of his experiences with regard to skepticism. He had experienced a feeling of skepticism while at college; when engrossed with the theories of the creations he had been led to doubt the fact of Christ. Every young man would experience the same periods of doubt and hesitancy in accepting God, he held. The years which a man spent in college were the most dangerous of his life in this respect. At that time he imagined he knew more than other people, that he knew more than he will ever know in the remainder of his life.

THE CREATION.

Mr. Bryan then took up the theories of creation, dealing first with the nebular hypothesis. This theory assumed many things but proved nothing. Behind it was the law that matter was attracted by other matter, that there were processes at work that themselves needed explaining.

"I believe that there is a Designer behind the Design," he continued. "I believe that there is a Creator behind the Creation. The Christian always begins with God. I care not how long you draw out the process of creation by your theories, so long as God is behind it."

Mr. Bryan did not believe that man descended from the lower creation. He would not quarrel with any person who wished to trace his ancestry back to the monkey.

"That is a dangerous theory," he declared. "There is some doubt whether the average man is traveling to or from the monkey. I have seen them going both ways."

Man had a mind as well as a body, a soul greater than either. He was not willing to trace his pedigree to one-third of his being. These theories explained no mystery. The Darwinian theory made no pretence to explain the mystery of life.

He then dealt with the mysterious changes in the lives of men which turned them from selfish, self-centered sinful boys, into centres of radiant influence, doing good to mankind everywhere.

Many could not believe in religion because its basis was vicarious atonement. Mr. Bryan showed that this principle was everywhere in human life. The life of a mother was vicarious.

THE PRINCE OF PEACE.

"No child ever paid its mother back—no child can ever pay its mother back for the suffering undergone for it," he said. "No step in human progress but has behind it sacrifice and suffering—some for others."

Christ, the Prince of Peace, was the greatest fact of history. It is much easier to believe Him divine than to explain His life, what He was, what He did.

"The world is full of quarrels because of what men tried to get out of the world," he said. "What peace there will be when all endeavor to see what they can put into the world. Life is too often measured by income. Christ measured it by its out-go. The Christian life is the unanswerable argument of Christianity. There is no question, domestic or international that cannot be settled upon the platform of the Prince of Peace. The emphasis of religion was formerly placed on immortality, now it is placed on life."

Mr. Bryan concluded his lecture by showing how the life of Christ, followed closely, would result in great peace for the individual and for the nation."

His Honor Judge Huycke in rising to tender a vote of thanks to the lecturer for the elevating treat he had given all by his lecture, remarked that the citizens of Peterborough must assuredly count it an honor to have such a distinguished and prominent a gentleman present. Another thing which struck him as a pleasant feature was that the same colors, red, white and blue were interwoven in both the Canadian and American flags that were draped in the rear of the platform. He had much pleasure in extending to the honorable visitor a most sincere and warm vote of thanks.

D. O'Connell seconded the motion in his usual acceptable and appropriate manner. Mr. Bryan made a brief acknowledgement.

TRENT CANAL NEWS

Lift Lock Being Beautified Interesting Operations at Kirkfield Lift Lock

With the intention of increasing the prettiness of the locality near the lift lock, the Trent Canal officers have had several hundreds of ornamental trees planted at the lift lock and at No. 6 lock. In a couple of years they will have attained enough growth to greatly beautify the place.

At the Kirkfield lift lock extensive repairs have been in progress. What is known as a cement gun has been at work there, similar to the one that was first exhibited at the Canadian National Cement Exhibition in Toronto last year. The first practical use it has been put to is at the Kirkfield lift lock. It is used to put on a plaster of cement on the concrete walls leading up to the breast wall of the hydraulic lift lock. At the lock there is also in use what is known as a sand blasting machine, used for the first time in this district. The entire steel work at the lift lock is being sand-blasted. This operation removes the old paint and leaves the surface of the steel clean, preparatory to it being recoated. This is known to be the first instance of a sand-blasting machine to be operated in this district.

WHERE IS CAMPBELLFORD?

Campbellford Despatch.

Talking of industries reminds me that up in Peterborough they are having quite a shindig over their industrial commissioner. Last year the council appointed Mr. Duggan as industrial commissioner, whose duty it was to be on the qui vive for new industries, and to see that they are located by the banks of the Otonabee. But the Electric City does not believe in making two bites of a cherry, and so because capitalists from the four quarters of the earth did not flock to Peterborough within a few months, the council decided to dispense with the commissioner's services. All of which seems likely to raise the dust up there. However, Campbellford does not need a dust raiser of that kind. Our dust is self-raising.

Another little affair that is agitating the classic minds of Peterborough folk is the fact that the oiled streets are detrimental to tyred vehicles, be they bicycles, automobiles or buggies. People don't know when they are well off. Oil may be bad for the tyres, but dust is worse for the lungs. It is a wonder the tyre owners of Campbellford don't pass a vote of thanks to the town council for saving their India rubber at the expense of their lungs! If our Peterborough friends would only migrate to Campbellford the C.P. guarantees there will not be any oil to injure their tyres. Oh, most considerate town council.

Welland is to have another policeman to enforce the local option law.

FRANCE'S LOW BIRTH RATE

Is Surrendering to Race Suicide Shamefully

Paris, May 18.—The Journal Official publishes an article by Dr. Jacques Bertillion, chief statistican of Paris, calling attention to the disastrous results of the birth and death statistics in France for 1910. The complete figures are as follows:

The births are the lowest for a century. In 1859 the births numbered 1,018,000. They dwindled to 984,000 in 1862, and numbered 899,000 in 1880. The number of deaths in 1910 was exceptionally low; yet the excess of births over deaths was only 70,581, compared with 884,061 in Germany.

Dr. Bertillion concludes by declaring that there is no reason, physiological or economic, which prevents from increasing as other nations, and no motive for her to resign herself shamefully to suicide.

All Saints meet St. John's to-morrow afternoon on Park Street's grounds, and both teams are out to win so a good fast game is expected, Mr. Reiton, who refereed the St. John's Park Street game, last Saturday and gave such good satisfaction, will handle the game. All Saints will line up as follows Goal, Moraity backs, Rew, Robinson; Half backs, Hooper, Dawson and James, forwards Willis, Edwards, Curtis, Abbott and Downes. Spares Vickers and Cornwall.

TENNIS

The Oval and St John's Tennis Clubs open up on the beautiful oval ground on Saturday next, when a good turnout of members may be looked for.

The entries for the ladies' section of the City Tennis competition should be sent in to Mr. R. J. Devey before May 24th, so that the draw may be made this month.

The Sodality and T.A.S. societies of St. Paul's church, Norwood, have organized a tennis club, Mr. Egbert Kelly is vice-president and Miss K. Heffernan, secretary-treasurer.

Those playing in the "Y" tournament are requested to arrange for their games at the earliest possible date.

All who are interested in the formation of a Tennis Club in connection with St. Andrew's church will please meet at the manse to-night at eight o'clock.

The St. Mathew's Lawn Tennis Club of Toronto, are sending four men and three lady players to Peterborough to play the Peterborough Tennis experts at the Peterborough Golf Club courts on Wednesday afternoon, May 24, Victoria Day.

The Toronto contingent among other players will bring Miss Lois Mayes, the famous lady champion of Canada, and Miss Summerhayes and Miss Hazel Hedley, both of whom are former Canadian lady champions.

THE RING

New York, May 18—For once Jack Johnson has found a magistrate who agrees with him that he is persecuted He was discharged in court to-day from the charge of running his automobile on the city streets with a last years' Chicago license.

"Your Honor," said the big fighter. "I'm getting sore on the whole world. I don't get a show. This officer just saw Johnson and ran him in. I had newly entered the State, and carried a New Jersey visitor's license. When I was arrested I was on the way to the garage to have the number changed. I never had an accident, and never hurt anybody on the road. It's about time for this thing to stop."

"There's a good deal in what this man says," commented Magistrate Breen. "He ought to get a show. Discharged."

BASEBALL

Russell Ford, the famous New York pitcher, who hails from St. Thomas, and who Thursday held Detroit to two hits, throws fourteen different kinds of balls to batters, as follows:

No. 1 Spitter — Breaks straight down, either slow or fast.

No. 2 Spitter—"Breaks 'in'" for right-hand batters.

No. 3 Spitter—Breaks "out" for left-hand batters.

First Curve—Starts straight, but curves near plate.

The Government held that it was not to the disadvantage of the United Kingdom that Canada should develop trade relations with the United States.

"We hold," continued the Secretary, "that Canada, with a great trade of this kind, cannot fail to be a more prosperous Canada, affording a better market for our goods and able to do more trade with ourselves. Therefore, from every point of view we look upon the step she is taking as probably a very good step in our interest, as well as in the interests of Canada. 13 WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

Came Away No Better and Then Two Boxes of Zam-Buk Worked Complete Cure

Mr. Fred Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrews, N.B., says:—"I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. I tried various remedies but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial, and although I had little hope of it doing me good, I took the advice. Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was cured."

For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose ulcers, bad leg, sore feet, blisters, insect stings, poisoned wounds, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal. Zam-Buk Soap should also be used for washing all wounds, eczemous patches and sores. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. per tablet, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Bourassa, Monk and Lavergne will address a mass meeting in Montreal May 31.

U.S. GOVERNMENT STARTS ACTION AGAINST THE BIG LUMBER TRUST FOR CONSPIRACY

Ten Trade Organizations, and 150 Individuals, Are Defendants — A Gigantic Prosecution.

New York, May 20.—Sweeping charges of a gigantic conspiracy to maintain high prices, to blacklist concerns not regarded as "proper" trade, and to violate generally the Sherman anti-trust law, are made in a Government suit filed by Attorney-General Wickersham in the U. S. Court here yesterday against the so-called lumber trust. Ten trade organizations and more than 150 individuals are named as defendants in this suit.

The defendants named in the suit, and who are alleged to have conspired among themselves and with the assistance of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, have prevented wholesalers from selling directly or indirectly to consumers, are:

The Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, a New York corporation, with offices at No. 18 Broadway; the New York Lumber Trade Assocation of New York City; the Building Material Men's Association of Westchester County, New York; the Lumber Dealers' Association of Connecticut; the Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers' Association; the Lumber Dealers' Association of Rhode Island, the Retail Lumbermen's Association of Baltimore.

The officers and directors, trustees and members of the above are named as individual defendants as well as the officers and directors and members of the three following voluntary organizations: The New Jersey Lumbermen's Protective Association; the Retail Lumbermen's Association of Philadelphia; the Lumber Exchange of the District of Columbia.

Briefly the retailers have conspired among themselves to prevent manufacturers and wholesalers from selling lumber direct to the consumer. A consumer for these purposes is held to be a contracting builder, mail order house, farmers' co-operative union, or the citizen who buys a pine board to repair his woodshed.

That hundreds of consumers, some of them the largest industrial corporations in the country, have been compelled by alleged unlawful agreements to buy lumber from retailers at much greater prices than they would have paid to wholesalers.

The wholesalers and retailers in joint conventions and by agreements have classified the consumers into "proper" and "improper" trade and have prepared and exchanged blacklists.

That, although the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association is not named as a defendant in this action, by agreements with it, the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association has organized and circulated blacklists which have affected the lumber trade in New York, North Carolina, Kentucky, Penna., Maryland, Michigan, West Virginia, Massachussetts, Tennessee, South Carolina, Virginia, New Jersey, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Louisiana, Connecticut, Indiana, Florida, Georgia, Missouri, Alabama, Rhode Island, California, Missouri, the District of Columbia, the Canadian provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Nova Scotia and British Columbia.

That as a result of the alleged blacklists wholesalers have been directed not to sell lumber to retail dealers, will have dealt with consumers in wholesale quantities and that wholesalers who have dealt with consumers in retail quantities have been "protested" to the organized retailers who were directed by their organization not to buy lumber from such wholesalers.

That retailers who have sold lumber in wholesale lots or who have competed for business outside their allotted territory have been posted to the traders as "poachers" or "scalpers," and in some instances have been heavily fined or expelled from the organization.

More to Follow.

Washington, May 20.—At the Department of Justice yesterday it was stated that the suit filed in New York against the so-called lumber trust probably would be the first of a series to be instituted wherever similar violations of law are alleged.

OVER AND THROUGH THE RAPIDS

St. Catharines, Ont., May 19.—Bobby Leatch, the Niagara Falls restaurant keeper, who has performed several daring exploits around Niagara Falls, is preparing to make another trip through the Whirlpool Rapids in his steel barrel.

He will make the trip on the Fourth of July, he says. Oscar Williams, the man who last year tried to cross the Niagara River on a steel wire hanging by his teeth, but who hung for hours over the cataract, watched by thousands of people, because his wire was not properly strung, will make another attempt at the same perilous enterprise next month.

"I'll win out this time," he said, because I'll see that my wire is right.

APIARY MEN ARE IN CONVENTION

Northumberland and Durham Beekeepers in Session.

Trenton, May 20.—An apiary demonstration under the auspices of the Northumberland Beekeepers' Association in connection with the Northumberland and Durham branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture was held in the wards of Mrs. J. W. Free at Frankford yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Morley Pettit, provincial apiarist, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, was present. Methods of swarm control, the use of the wax press and illustrations showing how to detect foul breed and approved remedies for this, were among the matters discussed.

Thursday a grand rally of beekeepers under the auspices of the Hasting Beekeepers' Association was held upon the premises of Mr. E. Geary, Crookston. Inspector Scott of Wooler and Mr. Morley Pettit were among those present.

BRAVE ACT OF 12-YEAR-OLD

Ottawa, May 20.—The plucky rescue by a twelve-year-old girl of her baby brother, and the revelation of a dangerous fire trap in the shape of a spike fence erected near a lofty apartment house, were features of a fire on Elgin street yesterday. The fire originated in one of the apartments occupied by Mr. A. R. Shehyn of the civil service, on the third floor, where some children were playing with matches. The family were in the rear, all save the baby and a brother, and by the time they reached the front of the apartment the place was in flames. Simonne Shehyn, aged 12 dashed through the burning hall and carried the little one to safety, though a cushion on which it was lying was ablaze. The girl's arms and face were burned. The fire brigade was seriously handicapped by a thirty-foot fence erected by a neighbor to prevent the windows of the place from overlooking his lawn. Removal of the fence will be ordered.

LAW IN DOUBT IN THIS CASE

Has a Canadian Magistrate Jurisdiction Over Ship?

Halifax, N.S., May 20.—An interesting question of law and discipline on board ship is furnished by the captain of the German freight steamer Rheingraf now in this port. Captain Schnoor of that steamship had some trouble with his chief officer, but particularly with his chief steward, whose name is Martin. The upshot of it was that Steward Martin had Capt. Schnoor arrested on a charge of assault, committed on board the steamer, and on which the police magistrate fined the captain $30.

Capt. Schnoor from the first stubbornly held that no court had any jurisdiction over a German ship except on a charge as serious as that of murder for instance. He was amenable only to German law. A decision given by Judge Drysdale of the Supreme Court, that British law governed German ships in Canadian waters had no weight at all with Capt. Schnoor, and he refused to pay the fine, appealing to the imperial German consul at Halifax, N. C. Grant, to straighten out the matter. To avoid further complications, the consul became responsible for the fine and Schnoor was released.

Then the captain asked that the steward be sent back to the ship. The man obstinately refused to go, alleging fear of the captain. A second appeal was then made to the German consul, the captain telling Mr. Grant that the man must be sent back to him. The consul could not persuade the steward to go, though he was told that otherwise he would be considered a deserter. All arguments and persuasion failing, Mr. Grant had Martin arrested as a deserter, and in the meantime the jurisdiction of German law in Canadian waters over German shipping and the case of a steward who will not go back to his post with a captain who assaulted him are matters to be considered by the authorities.

TWO ARE INJURED.

Third Man Is Missing In Collision on C.P.R.

Montreal, May 20.—An engineer and fireman were injured and a brakeman is reported missing in a collision of C.P.R. freight trains near the city at midnight Thursday. The injured are engineer Robert Crawford and fireman Arthur Hughes, of Ottawa.

A brakeman named Miller, from Quebec, is missing. It is feared he was buried in the wreckage.

The two trains were the Ottawa and Quebec fast freights. The accident occurred at an intersection. The Ottawa train ran into the other, striking the cars sideways with such force that the engine was derailed and turned turtle. Crawford was pinned under the engine, being badly scalded.

Hughes says the signals were set for "line clear."

Hardie Holds Wrong View.

Kilmarnock, Scotland, May 20.—At a meeting here, presided over by Keir Hardie, Hon. Andrew Fisher, Premier of Australia, voiced his dissent from the chairman's views with regard to naval defence. "If anyone holds the same ideas after looking at a map of the South Pacific ocean," he declared, "I would say that he lacks perspective in his judgment."

Dropped Dead.

Brockville, May 20.—Thursday evening a sudden death took place in the Township of North Crosby. The victime was Mrs. Thos. Bier, who dropped dead. The other members of the family left the house to do the evening milking, and on their return discovered the lifeless body lying on the floor. She was 60 years of age.

TO RAILROAD 447 ITEMS

Hon. Wm. Pugsley Tried to Work Neat Scheme.

Ottawa, May 20.—After attending in the Senate where Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, the Deputy Governor-General, gave the royal assent to a supply bill for thirty-four and a half million dollars, and all the other bills which had passed their third readings, the members of the House of Commons ceased work shortly before ten o'clock last night. Just before the Speaker left the chair R. L. Borden asked what business would be taken up when the House met on July 18. "Probably reciprocity," was the laconic reply of the Minister of Finance.

The supply bill, which includes five-twelfths of all the items not voted, is made up of main estimates for the current year, totalling over twenty-six millions, supplementary estimates of slightly less than eight millions, and $350,000 of supplementaries for the previous fiscal year.

At the evening sitting Mr. Lemieux's bill to increase the salaries of postoffice officials was given a third reading. The Minister stated that he expected within a year or two to bring all the outside postal service under the Civil Service Act.

Hon. Mr. Graham introduced his resolutions providing for the lease of various short lines of railway in the Maritime Provinces, by the I.C.R. They were under discussion when the Black Rod summoned the members to the Senate chamber, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, who was the founder of this policy, advocated the inclusion of the lines of the Maritime Coal & Railway Co. and the Cumberland Coal & Railway Co. in the terms of the resolution, pointing that it would not be in the interests of the I.C.R. to have them fall into other hands.

Mr. Emmerson said that this was a business proposition, which should not be treated as a party matter.

In committee of supply Hon. William Pugsley produced a list of 447 items for dredging and public works, which he said it was necessary to put through before adjournment.

R. L. Borden took exception to the proposal. He said that the Minister of Public Works had purposely submitted a list which he knew the Opposition could not accept.

Mr. Pugsley said that if the Opposition refused to pass the items it would be necessary to give orders to have the work stopped.

George H. Perley said that during the early part of the week the House had been discussing matters which were not of urgent importance, including amendment to the Railway Act. The Minister of Public Works, he said, was putting up a bluff. The Opposition did not object to the items, but desired time to discuss them.

Mr. Pugsley said the officials of the Department had informed him that it was essential that these items should be passed, as they covered repairs, necessary dredging, and small works.

Both Dr. Sproule and Mr. Perley declared that the Minister was not sincere in his proposals.

After some further protests by the Opposition members, Mr. Pugsley said that if the Conservatives decided it was not in the public interests he would not press the votes.

Hon. George P. Graham secured the approval of the House for several votes which he described as urgent, including one of $600,000 for a dock at Halifax.

Mr. Borden gave his approval. He said that increased facilities were necessary because in past seasons there had been much delay owing to the lack of proper dock accommodation.

Mr. Pugsley, to the amusement of the House, said the Opposition leader was quite willing to put through this large vote affecting his own constituency, but declined to allow many items just as urgent to pass.

Mr. Borden said if the Minister of Public Works had adopted the policy of Mr. Graham and submitted only a few items he would have received different treatment. He had, however, asked the House to pass no fewer than 447 items, without consideration.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

EARL GREY GETS ROAST FROM SENATOR POWER OVER ABSENCE

Should Prorogue the Houses of Parliament in Person—Sir Mackenzie Bowell Refers to the Slight.

Ottawa, May 20.—A sensational episode took place in the Senate yesterday, His Excellency Earl Grey being severely criticized for his alleged slighting of Parliament by sending his deputy, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, to give royal assent to bills prior to the two months' adjournment. Senator Power led the attack, and he was in some degree supported by Sir Mackenzie Bowell. Sir Richard Cartwright came to the defence of the governor, extolling his service to Canada in the high position he holds. "I am a very strong believer in British connections," said Senator Power. "I should very much regret that the present practice of having the Governor-General come from England be discontinued. I am altogether opposed to the idea of our becoming independent and separate from the Mother Country. The connection which now exists is not any too strong, and I would regret if anything should be done which would tend to weaken the silken tie that binds us to the Mother Country. I feel that the fact that the gentleman who represents the crown here apparently is desirous of showing that he is not necessary, and that we can get a chief justice or an associated justice of the Supreme Court who will discharge his most important functions just as well as he does, is really doing a good deal to teach this country that we do not want a Governor-General from England. From that point of view it is to be hoped that future Governors-General will do what was practiced formerly and will, unless absent from the seat of Government, make it a point to do what I consider their duty as one constituent of Parliament."

Senator Power: "I do not wish to be understood as reflecting on His Excellency. I simply think he has made a mistake, and we should enter a protest."

Sir Richard Cartwright: "There is a material difference between an adjournment and prorogation. Unless my memory is entirely at fault I think that in Great Britain the sovereign does as a rule or very frequently delegates the adjournment of the House where such a thing occurs to commissioners equivalent to our deputy governors.

"One thing I can assure the House, that the last thing the Governor-General would desire would be to show any discourtesy to either Houses of Parliament. That I am perfectly certain is entirely removed from his intention or desire."

LAURIER LANDS AT LIVERPOOL

Canadian Premier Gets Royal Reception in England.

London, May 20.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier landed at Liverpool Thursday. The Canadian Premier was met at the landing stage by the lord mayor and accorded a civic welcome. A large crowd had assembled to witness the arrival of the Virginia which was gaily dressed in bunting.

Sir Wilfrid refused to be interviewed on political topics, and remarked that he was truly delighted to be in England once again. The London & Northwestern Railway Co. placed at the Premier's disposal one of the saloon carriages of the royal train, which was decorated with flowers.

C.P.R. as Tree Planter.

Montreal, May 20—The latest C.P.R. scheme to be tried out is the planting of millions of young trees along their lines in Western Canada. These trees are to serve the double purpose of taking the place of the present snow forces and of encouraging their settlers to beautify their homes by the planting of shade trees. So far the railway has had great success with their trees, nearly all of them appearing to be in a flourishing condition.

KING GEORGE GAVE FIRST STATE BALL FOR THE KAISER

Storm In Brockville.

Brockville, May 20.—This section was in the grasp of a violent electrical storm for an hour or so yesterday, accompanied by a heavy down-pour of rain and sleet. Two houses were struck in Brockville and slightly damaged, but the occupants escaped.

From the rural section reports are coming in of much damage wrought. The barns on the farm of John Harnett, near Kemptville, were struck by lightning and totally destroyed. Five cows were burned, besides a quantity of hay and grain. Members of the family had just finished milking and left the cow barn when the bolt descended.

Brilliant Function in Honor of Visiting Emperor—Jewelry Was Dazzling

London, May 20.—The first state ball of the reign of King George, the date for which was selected in honor of the visit of the German Emperor and Empress, was held at Buckingham Palace last night. It was an unusually brilliant function.

King George and Emperor William previously had dined together at the palace with the royal family, and afterwards were joined by some thirty additional members of the royal household, who former into a magnificent procession. The King and Emperor, in German and British uniforms respectively, were preceded by the state officials attired in gorgeous robes, carrying their wands of office, through the whole length of the state apartments to the ball room, where had gathered thousands of guests, including the entire diplomatic corps.

Queen Mary and the Empress Augusta Victoria and all the ladies wore lavish displays of jewelry. Emperor William took as his partner Queen Mary, and King George, the German Empress. The Duke of Connaught and Princess Victoria Louise opened the ball with the "Royal Quadrille." Midnight saw a repetition of the gorgeous procession, this time from the ball room to the supper room.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

UNION LABEL

THE ETERNAL QUESTION

Questioned in the House of Commons as to whether the government immigration agents were inducing old country girls to come to Canada by offering prospective husbands as baits, Hon. Mr. Oliver said that His Majesty's government was not yet a matrimonial bureau. He very properly said that if any official was caught making any matrimonial promises to intending emigrants, that official's connection with the service would cease very promptly.

In all of this discussion as to the cry from the west for wives to help make homes on the far flung prairies, the Canadian girl seems to be strangely ignored. Yet in the eastern sections of Canada, girls are much more numerous than men, and some at least have to go through life deprived of their completion of existence for woman—the state of wifehood and motherhood. Many of course, deliberately choose their course, either having what they are pleased to term, broader interests in life, or declining to make a match in which they will not improve their conditions.

Of a truth, it might be said that in the eyes of, and as far as the hungering host of western bachelors is concerned, the Canadian girl is of superior type, in fact, superior to the conditions under which she would be called to put in years—the best years—of the fleeting existence.

The newly arrived girl from the old country is more easily satisfied, more content to take up the hum-drum duties, as a necessary part of her new life. But it would seem too bad that Canadian girls, who would not from choice lead a single life, should not have the first opportunity of filling the vacancies in the hearts of the early westerners. Some of these days students of social conditions will demand of the government that it be a matrimonial bureau; that it extend its state socialism so far that each maiden of good character and standing shall have at least one chance in life to round out and complete existence. It is surely an unjust social system that demands of a woman that unless some man is smitten badly enough to ask her to become partners in the joys and sorrows of life, she shall remain a martyr of unfulfilled destiny.

The world has a great deal of chance and happy-go-lucky system in handling this most important of all questions. While it has made stringent laws governing the actions of men and women with relation to each other in morals and ethics, it has had to leave entirely untrammelled the question of mating. This being a matter of personal inclination, every man to his taste. But it might be a bit of wise government philantrophy to bonus the marriage of each maiden over 30 years of age, thus helping to solve what seems to be a great difficulty.

A "CHRISTIAN" POLITICIAN

The magnificent lecture by William Jennings Bryan on "The Prince of Peace," and his many declarations in it of his conviction of the power and force of religion, and his personal testimony of experience, has raised the question in the minds of many people "Can a man be a thorough Christian and be a politician?" It might be safely asserted, we think, that this thought was uppermost in the mind of the audience on Thursday night.

"Is it possible for a man to be a thorough follower of the teachings of Christ, as far as he is able to follow them, and go through the dirt and the muck of a hot political campaign funds, the making of promises of this and that to secure support in certain quarters, and the 'smooth' talk that is invariably associated with the idea of politics!"

There have been Christian statesmen. Gladstone was one, and there have been others. Bryan is a great and good man, no doubt, a man of integrity and moral principle high beyond the multitude with whom he has to associate as a political force. It is possible, we admit, for a man to apply the fruits of practical Christianity to the work of associating with men of little principle in political matters, but it is immensely difficult. In the first place, a true Christian is one who will not stoop to lie, to mean, petty, dishonorable action, even to gain a worthy object. He will not countenance in associates anything that is not straight and honorable in business, nor benefit by their lapses from the path of honor and rectitude. We think this will be admitted as a requisite to a true Christian life. Moral principle without Christianity may exist, but Christianity without moral principle, never.

A politician, as a rule, must be all things to all men, for he is not commanding office at the hands of the multitude. He seeks it as a gift. In accommodating himself to the exigencies of seeking the suffrage of a multitude, of varying degrees of morality and principle, a man may be able to preserve unsullied, to the satisfaction of the Almighty and his own conscience, his actions and his character. But it is the severest sort of a test.

Of course, it must be granted that the greatest Christian of all is not the monk who hides himself behind stone walls that he may lead a sinless life, but he who goes through the rough and tumble battle of life, seeking in the stress to live up to his Christian ideals as best he may, and hoping for forgiveness in his errors, which must be many, because of the very nature of his life. The man who tries and fails is a man much more worthy of honor than he who does not try at all. As far as outward influence goes, Mr. Bryan probably has been able to maintain his ideal of strictly upright, honorable dealing, and in publicly speaking for the cause of Christianity and religion he is travelling on a very high plane. So few men in public life adopt this outspoken, rugged championship of the cause of Christ that it comes as somewhat of a surprise to find that strong advocacy of the divinity of Christ and the unalterable nature of his bequest to man, comes from a man supposed to be engaged in the mundane quest of popularity with the multitude, the fickle populace that never is found twice in the same position on public matters.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Lest anyone should be deceived by the weather, it should be stated that this is not July 12.

The latest in Parliamentary expression is "you're a brute." This confirms the impression that Ottawa is the centre of a considerable part of the animal kingdom.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts, has declared the auto speed limit law illegal, and now the stop-watch brigade is out of a job. Jack Johnson will please take notice.

The most thankful people in the world when the Mexican bickering comes to a glorious or an inglorious end will be the long suffering newspaper reader—and editors.

The weather in the west is freezing, and in the east it is sizzling. This is a case where reciprocity—or free exchange of conditions—would be both beneficial and pleasant.

The wisdom of adjourning Parliament over June and most of July is manifest. Even the members of Parliament wouldn't care to roast in a reciprocity frying pan in the hot weather.

To Vote on by-law for Purchase of Plant at $30,000

Lindsay Post—At last night's session of the council the agreement between the town and the Light, Heat and Power Co., regarding the purchase of the local power plant came up for consideration. The agreement was read clause by clause by the clerk, and on motion of Reeve Vrooman and Ald. Babcock, the council expressed its acceptance of the terms of the agreement for the purchase of the plant for $30,000.

At a special session on Monday night a by-law for the submission of the proposition to the people will be given its first and second reading and a date set for the vote.

His Worship Mayor Beal said he had received a communication from Hon. Adam Beck, in which assurances were given that the municipality would experience no trouble in obtaining the assistance of the Legislature when necessary in connection with the proposition.

Mr. Beck also informed Mayor Beal that in ten years the local plant would sell for $60,000 more than it was worth to-day.

VESTA VICTORIA TO BE MARRIED

English Comedienne Will Wed a Childhood Sweetheart

Chicago, May 19.—According to plans made by Miss Vesta Victoria, the noted English comedienne, her marriage to A. Cathcart, her childhood sweetheart probably will occur in the Congress Hotel, Tuesday, May 23rd.

Miss Victoria arrived from Canada Friday and engaged five rooms there, beginning May 23rd. Her managers here think the $2,500 a week actress will be "waiting at the church" that morning.

Miss Victoria, whose coster songs have won her a fortune, was born in Leeds, Eng., where Cathcart lived. They loved as boy and girl and quarrelled, Cathcart going to Winnipeg, Canada, where he became a millionaire. Miss Victoria played there two weeks ago, Cathcart met her, a reconciliation and engagement followed.

Mr. Renie Moulaison was treated by two doctors, but found his relief and cure in six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Surette Island, Yarmouth, N. S.—May 19.—(Special.)—Renie Moulaison, a fisherman of this place, is a convert to the growing belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the sure cure for Kidney Disease.

"My trouble started with a cold," Mr. Moulaison states. "My muscles would cramp, I had backache and I had dizzy spells. My head often ached and I had a tired, nervous feeling while specks of light flashed in front of my eyes.

I suffered in this way for over two months and was treated by two doctors, but they didn't seem to be able to do much for me. Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and soon started to improve. I took six boxes in all and now I am glad to say I am cured."

If you have any two or three of Mr. Moulaison's symptoms you may be sure your Kidneys are not in good working order. Bad Kidneys mean Backache, Rheumatism, Heart Disease or Bright's Disease unless attended to. The one sure way to cure them is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Ah," she quickly interrupted, "I think Colonel Moreau acted from the highest motive. None of this family has a greater wish to make his acquaintance and thank him than have I. But I am still sure there was something he did not see, something he did not understand, something which would take the stain from the action of that poor young man. Yes; you think me a fool, you laugh at me," she added as both gentlemen smiled ironically, "but it is what I think, and it is good to see some one laugh in this house even if it is at my expense."

As she turned to leave an old negro entered and announced that the "French niggehs" would serve coffee in fifteen minutes.

"Wait, Croup," commanded Mme. Davezac. Then, addressing the two gentlemen, she added: "Listen. This negro belonged one time to the father of Eugene Kirby. Croup, tell the gentlemen what you have told me once of that time your young M. Kirby has fall from the oak tree."

"Well, suh, it were like dis heah," began the old negro, turning to Judge Pleydell. "'Twere long time ago, 'fo' Marse Randall done buy me to keep me from bein' sold at auction. Den I b'long to ole Marse Kirby, what's been long dead and gone. Dat li'l' Marse Gene Kirby in dem days round de place all de niggehs done know him by de name of 'Li'l' Marse Come Cheer Up, kase dat what de li'l' boy allus say fo' greetin'. But de way what de nickname got fixed on him is dis: He sich a tendah habted lad seem lahk he jest kain't stan' fo' to have nobody in trouble nohah. An' one day a li'l' yaller, no count, ornery brown pickaninny done clim' up in de high branches of a tree fo' to rob de aigs outen a mockin' buhd's nes.' Li'l' Marse Gene Kirby he ketch sight of him up dere, an' he holler fo' him to come down. He say: 'What yo' doin' up dere, pickaninny? Don' yo' know dat ole motheh mockin' buhd come back, fin' de nest robbed, she das goin' to break huh heaht a-mou'nin'? Come down from dere.'

'DEY CALL HIM 'LI'L' MARSE COME CHEER UP.'"

"But de pickaninny mighty sassy an' sponds, 'I ain't meanin' to come down from heah—gwine to git de aigs.'

"Den Marse Gene say: 'No, yo' isn't. I goin' to fotch yo' down frum dah an' tan yo' hide.' An' fo' anybody could stop him he's halfway up de tree afteh dat pickaninny. Pickaninny crope out on a mighty slendeh branch, but li'l' marse right along afteh him and grab him under the ahms. Den blimblam went de branch and down dey come, boffem togedder. My land, I thought dem plum killed, but as dey fall Marse Gene he manage to swing his body underneaf de pickaninny—what's even littler dan Marse Gene an' only a wuffless slave anyhow—so dat when dey hit de ground dat pickaninny land on top o' li'l' marse. But he 'gun to yell lahk he's kilt. Den li'l' marse all he do is to smile when we bend oveh him, an' he say to de pickaninny, 'Come, cheer up.' Dat's all he say, lyin' dere wif his laig broken. Dat's all, suh." Croup hesitated and then added: "I ain't seen li'l marse sence he was a li'l' boy, and dey say he tuhn out very bad. But lahk I tole yo' is de way he done when he was a li'l' boy, an' dey call him 'Li'l' Marse Come Cheer Up.' Thank yo', suh." And, with a bow, the old serving man withdrew.

"Perhaps you can understand," commented Mme. Davezac.

"My dear lady," replied the judge, "I fear the argument is wasted. It is a fact that the late Emperor Nero, a well known but disreputable character in Roman history, was very tender hearted during his boyhood."

"And," added Aaron, with much bitterness, "that a soul of such promise as a child should have fallen so low as a man makes him all the less deserving of your pity. The case against this Kirby is quite clear."

"Perhaps I am ver' foolish that I can't believe with you," she returned. "But are we not going to the plantation to forget all such things? Let us not discuss the matter further."

It was not long before young Randall arrived and acquainted the others with his happy meeting with Colonel Moreau. It was then agreed that the boy in order to prepare his home for the honored guest should precede the others to Plaquemine. Judge Pleydell having orders to leave at his plantation, proceeding from there to the Randalls' home, the pleasure of receiving Colonel Moreau was thus left in the hands of Aaron.

"He may be here at any moment," explained Tom, "and as I must change into riding togs you will have to receive him, cousin. One of our blood must be here to welcome him. I don't think we can show too much honor to the man who tried to avenge my father. So far I am the only member of the family who has made his acquaintance. I will come down as soon as I can, but you will not find him difficult to entertain. He's a fine fellow in every sense of the word."

Shortly after Judge Pleydell had departed, while the ladies were busily engaged with their packing and young Randall was dressing, the tall figure of the flower of southern chivalry, portmanteau in hand, arrived at Mme. Davezac's and was heartily greeted by the expectant Aaron, who, sensible of his duties as host, put forth every effort to receive this distinguished visitor in the manner befitting one who owned such presumable rank and virtue.

INDIGESTION RIGHTLY CURED STAYS CURED

Indigestion should not be neglected for by depriving the body of its proper nourishment it grows steadily worse. Neither stimulating medicines, which ruin the already weak stomach by making it work beyond its strength, should be used, nor predigested foods, which do not excite a flow of digestive fluids, and by disuse cause the stomach to grow weaker. Nowhere is the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills more clearly useful. Its principle is to enable the stomach to do its own work by building up the blood and giving tone to the nerves. When these are once more restored to their normal health indigestion disappears, and the cure is permanent. In proof of these statements we give the experience of Mrs. Paul Gannon, Star City, Sask., who says: "For more than a year I suffered with all the terrible pains of indigestion, and my life was one of the greatest misery. It did not seem to make any difference whether I ate or not, the pains were always there, often accompanied by a severe bloating and belching of wind. I did not get relief at night, and sometimes hardly got a bit of sleep in my misery. I tried many remedies said to cure indigestion, but they did me not one particle of good, and I fully expected that I would always be afflicted in this way. At this time my brother came home on a visit, and he urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got six boxes for me. By the time I had taken four boxes I began to improve and could eat with some relish. I was greatly cheered, and continued taking the Pills until all traces of the trouble had disappeared, and I could once more eat all kinds of food without the smallest inconvenience. We have since used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in our family for other troubles. I am so firmly convinced of their virtue as a family medicine that I have no hesitation in recommending them to all weak, ailing people."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cornwall High School.

Cornwall, May 19.—The Cornwall High School board has re-engaged the following teachers: H. B. Feterly, principal, at a salary of $1,650 per annum; James Nugent, $1,300; A. F. Birchard, $1,200; A. D. Norris, $1,125; and Miss Rose N. Healy $1,125. J. C. Burns of St. Mary's, Ont., has been engaged as teacher of classics, at $1,400; and H. V. Pickering of Guelph, as teacher of ancients and moderns, at $1,300. One position remains yet to be filled. The retiring teachers are: Miss Morden of Lundy's Lane, Ont.; Miss McKeracher and Mr. Hocking.

Tried to Kill Hospital Attendants.

Montreal, May 19.—Swinging an axe about his head, Edward Welsh yesterday threatened to kill the Royal Victoria Hospital attendants who had come with the ambulance to remove his aged aunt, who lay seriously ill at her home, 442 West Lagauchetiere street. Welsh has been remanded to jail for eight days for examination. It is believed he is insane.

Dismissed the Appeal.

Montreal, May 19.—A cable yesterday from London states that the Privy Council has dismissed the appeal of the Drummond Mines and the Montreal Trust Co., maintaining the petition of Wm. Marshall and the Greyshiding Development Co. Marshall is therefore definitely confirmed in the ownership of the Sterling Mines.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and left me to the verge of invalidism. I was a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night, and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor, and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

Found Blind Pig.

Chatham, Ont., May 19.—License Inspector Thomas M. French, assisted by Officers Henry Darr and James McGregor, raided the house occupied by E. Termota, a Belgian, at 33 Forsythe street yesterday morning and found it to be a "blind pig." In the back shed of the place they found a number of empty and two full beer cases. In an ice box in the house and in a boiler they discovered 20 bottles of beer on ice. There were a woman and a man in the house at the time, the former being Termota's wife and the latter a man named Beaupre, who boarded at the place. The house at 33 Forsyth street is reputed to be a hangout for Belgians, and some complaints were entered against it. Six Belgians have been boarding there. Charges have been laid.

More Money Growing Fruit.

Cornwall, May 19.—Farmers in this part of Ontario are waking up to the fact that there is more money in the growing of fruit than in the dairy business, to which most of them have devoted nearly all their attention in recent years. D. A. McIntosh of Harrison set his neighborhood a good example last week by setting out 525 fruit trees, 500 of which are McIntosh Red, Mann, Monroe and Ben Davis apples, and 25 Montmorency large cherries. The trees have been planted in rich well-drained soil and in a few years Mr. McIntosh will have a wealth producing orchard. The demonstrations of fruit culture carried on by representatives of the Department of Agriculture in this district is having good results in causing farmers to pay more attention to their orchards, which had been neglected.

Servant Burned to Death.

Ottawa, May 19.—The house of Hector Chauvin, solicitor, of Hull, and residing on Rideau street, Ottawa was burned yesterday afternoon. Katie O'Rourke, aged 35, a servant, was burned to death. Her clothes caught fire at a gas stove and she rushed upstairs to the bath room and thus set fire to the residence. The inside of the house, with all the furniture, was burned; $6,000 damage was done. An inquest will be held on the victim.

Motor Apparatus For Montreal.

Montreal, May 19.—Chief Tremblay is planning to further improve the fire-fighting machinery of the city by the adoption of motor-driven engines, ladder trucks and chemical wagons. The first step in his plan is to put motor propelled apparatus in number twenty station, fire headquarters. It is Chief Tremblay's intention to lay the matter before the Board of Control very shortly.

Cobwebs in the Morning.

Cobwebs in the head on rising in the morning is the result of a Lazy Liver, one or two mornings in succession and sick headache follows.

Father Morriscy's Liver Pills will clear the Brain.

These Pills are a purely vegetable compound prepared with great care, and are without doubt the very best pills for general use, on the market. The greatest care has been given to selecting the ingredients, and being entirely vegetable, they act upon the liver and bowels in such a manner as not to disturb the other functions of the body as many pills do.

As a Liver Invigorator, Blood Purifier and General System Renovator, they are unequalled. Sick headache is invariably brought on by a sluggish liver, constipation or irregular bowels; these pills are a cure for sick headache in any form.

Pimples, eruptions and yellow skin are often caused by a lazy liver; one pill three times a week, will soon clear the complexion.—Price 25c. per box.

Sold and guaranteed in Peterborough by McDermid & Jury.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Thursday evening a two-year-old son of George Moore of Virgil, near Welland, was drowned by falling in an unused well.

Charles Webster, a fourteen-year-old Barnardo Home boy, dropped dead on Thursday while engaged on the farm of Mr. Adam Knister, Middle road, Rochester Township, near Comber.

Alfred J. Assaf, a Syrian, was yesterday presented with the medal of the Royal Humane Association for bravery, in Montreal. Mr. Assaf on Feb. 25, rescued six women and four children from a burning building.

The Nottingham, Eng., election petition—an attempt to unseat Captain James A. Morrison, Unionist, who defeated Dudley Stewart Smith, K.C., by 1,470—was yesterday dismissed. The petition alleged 820 charges, including 443 cases of alleged bribery, 74 allegations of treating.

At a largely attended meeting of seamen yesterday Secretary French of the Glasgow Seamen's and Firemen's Union stated that a date for a general strike at all ports had been fixed, but that the union officials had decided to keep the date secret until the eve of the day that the strike was to become effective. It is believed to be May 29.

Lightning Ravages.

Kingston, May 20.—Yesterday Isidore Griffin, son of Edward Griffin, blacksmith, Wolfe Island village, was engaged in setting up a stove when he was struck by lightning and hurled to the ground, the bolt coming down the chimney. He will recover.

A team of horses belonging to Edward White was also killed by the storm. Residents of the island say the storm was one of the heaviest experienced there in years.

Lunatic at Large.

Brockville, May 20.—Guards of the eastern hospital are scouring the district in search of John Wilson, a patient committed from Kemptville a few months ago. Wilson wrenched a leg from his bedstead and with it smashed the iron bars of the window. This makes the second time Wilson has left the institution without leave.

DOCTORS FAILED TO HELP HER

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pound, Wis.—"I am glad to announce that I have been cured of dyspepsia and female troubles by your medicine. I had been troubled with both for fourteen years and consulted different doctors, but failed to get any relief. After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I can say I am a well woman. I can't find words to express my thanks for the good your medicine has done me. You may publish this if you wish."—Mrs. HERMAN SIETH, Pound, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

EMIGRATION TO THE WEST

Number of Tickets Sold at C.P.R. Agency 186

The number of people who have gone west this spring is very large, according to railroad records, and while a large number have gone out "on spec," so to speak, the majority have gone with the intention of taking up land and settling there permanently. The C.P.R. has this spring shipped out about twenty car loads of settlers' effects, and the number of passenger tickets sold by the city ticket office of the C.P.R. since January 1st is 186. This number is exclusive of homeseekers' tickets.

$125 DIAMOND LOST LAST EVENING

To lose a diamond ring valued by the owner at $125 was the unfortunate experience of Mr. William Coros, of the Boston Cafe last-night, between nine and ten o clock on George Street. The diamond in some way was loose in the setting and must have dropped out. He thinks he lost it somewhere between the Rex theatre and the Bank of Toronto.

KINDERGARTEN MUSICALE

About three hundred people enjoyed the kindergarten musicale given by the pupils of Miss Hazel Dean, assisted by others, in the Conservatory of Music Hall, last night, and which was a grand success. The efficiency and ease shown by the performers reflected great credit upon the teachers.

The third number, a piano solo by little Miss Gertrude Hood, a kindergarten graduate, and pupil of Miss McKee, was played with the light touch and ease acquired by careful training.

A violin solo by little Miss Bessie Mather, also a graduate, now pupil of Miss Julia Choate, was rendered with the grace characteristic of Miss Choate's pupils. The seventh number, a piano solo, by Miss Lillian Brown (kindergarten graduate) was received enthusiastically. Masters Otto and Paul Gliddon in a clarionet and cornet duet, made the hit of the evening, playing without music, and being called upon for an encore.

The last number, a vocal solo by Miss Kathleen Cuffe, was rendered beautifully, she using her voice to splendid advantage in the song, which had been memorized.

THE MUSICAL HIT OF SEASON THE RED MILL---DUTCH COMEDY

Popular Musical Comedy at the Grand Victoria Day Matinee and Night—Pretty Music, Witty Sayings and Quaint Costumes.

If you do not see the "Red Mill" on Victoria Day at the Grand Opera House, either in the evening, or when you take your small friends to the matinee in the afternoon, you will be sorry. It is a quaint comedy, full of bright sayings, thoroughly clean and funny. The picturesque costumes of the Dutch Kiddies are especially amusing and their dance is one of the hits of the play.

The music is by Victor Herbert who composed "Belle Modiste" and the "Prima Donna" both of which were great successes. There are many catchy songs, that will keep you busy humming them for days after. Some of the favorites are "You Never can tell About a Woman" by the Burgomaster and Wilhelm, "The Isle of our Dreams" "Good Bye John," "Because You're You" and "In old New York."

The seat sale opens Monday and there is likely to be a big rush as there will be many holiday visitors in the city on Victoria Day.

MARKET TO-DAY

Big Offering in Potatoes at $1.20 per Bag

The market was fairly good this morning. There were plenty of potatoes offered but meat was noticeably absent. Rhubarb made its debut in large quantities and quite an amount was bought up. Many live piglets were also offered.

The inner market was well stocked. Prices have varied little since last week. Fowl was rather scarce.

The following prices reigned:
Butter—23cts.
Eggs.—17 cts.
Turkeys—$3.
Ducks—90cts.
Chickens—75 cts. a piece.
Potatoes—$1.20 a bag.
Piglets—$6 a pair.
Hay by the load—$13 and $16.
Baled Hay—$13.

MONTREAL REAL ESTATE MAN

All Crippled Up With Rheumatism GIN PILLS Gave Prompt Relief

One of the leading real estate operators in Canada's largest city is Samuel Longmore Esq, of The Longmore Realty Co. Mr. Longmore makes a specialty of investments and has charge of many estates, investing the funds in a careful and conservative manner. Occupying such a position of trust, it is natural that he should weigh his words when making any statement for publication. The letter below shows what Mr. Longmore thinks of the famous GIN PILLS.

55 UNIVERSITY STREET, MONTREAL, P.Q.

"Just a word of praise for GIN PILLS. About fifteen months ago, I could not walk across my room, suffering severely with Rheumatism. I took GIN PILLS and became quite well. Two months ago, I had Rheumatic Pains with Neuralgia and Diarrhoea. I resorted to GIN PILLS again for one week and became quite well. Last week, I suffered again with Neuralgia, Three GIN PILLS cured me. They are really good." SAMUEL LONGMORE.

You see, GIN PILLS do give quick relief—do save you pain and suffering—do cure Rheumatism, Neuralgia and all troubles due to weak, strained, over-worked kidneys and Irritated Bladder. If you are subject to Rheumatism—and suffer with it more or less every winter—take GIN PILLS right now. Start in and use them regularly and you will never have the slightest touch of your old enemy. GIN PILLS are sold on a positive guarantee of money back if they fail to give relief. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50.

If you have any difficulty in getting GIN PILLS, write us enclosing 50c. for one box or $2.50 for six boxes and we will supply you promptly. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper.

PROF LOWE AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

A Ten Day's Mission With Special Services To-morrow

Professor J. J. Lowe, who is to begin to-morrow in St. Paul's church a ten days' mission, comes from Philadelphia. He was connected with the Bethany Presbyterian church there, better known as the Wannamaker church, as Dr. Chapman's assistant and as musical director of the great choir in the church and Sunday school. When Dr. Chapman resigned the pastorate of the church to devote all his time to evangelistic effort, Prof. Lowe went out with him, and since that time has been devoting himself to preaching the gospel as well as singing the message of salvation. During the last two years he has assumed charge of the meetings for young people in Dr. Chapman's simultaneous campaigns, giving illustrated lessons and addresses. He will employ on the week nights the illustrated form of address in St. Paul's.

The Hespeler paper has the following to say of a mission which Prof. Lowe recently conducted there: "As one sat in the perfect stillness of that hour, he verily lived over again the time of nineteen hundred years ago, in turn viewing Jesus on the cross, standing with Mary at the empty tomb, or, with the disciples, watching His ascension until a cloud overshadowed Him from their sight. It required but little drawing upon our imagination to feel that the spectator was witnessing the reality. When we say that the original paintings of the scenes shown run into the thousands of dollars, it may be readily discerned how realistic they are. Added to this is the great pleasure of hearing Mr. Lowe, in his splendid baritone voice, in some illustrated song, its mellow notes conveying the theme in sympathetic strains to the inmost recesses of the hearts of his hearers. These stereopticon talks will ever remain in the memory of both young and old, and Mr. Lowe will always find a hearty welcome when he returns to Hespeler."

Mr. Lowe's program in St. Paul's for to-morrow is as follows: A service for boys at ten o'clock. This service will be dismissed at a quarter to eleven, in sufficient time for any boys present from other churches to go to their own church worship. Then he will give a special address to the Sunday school in the afternoon, the classes meeting in the church instead of taking up the lesson for the day. He will also take part in both the morning and evening worship.

ED. KEHER DOLAN DIED AT CHICAGO

Was Born in This City—Funeral to be Held Here on Monday

The sad intelligence from Chicago of the death, at that city of Edward Keher Dolan, yesterday afternoon, was received this morning by Mr. T. McDonough of the Oriental Hotel. The deceased was well known in this city, he having been born here, about thirty years ago. For some time, he and Mr. Dan McCabe conducted a tobacconist business on George Street and in 1902 he went to Chicago. He visited here, on two occasions last year towards the autumn.

The late Mr. Dolan was the second son of the late Thomas Dolan, and was unmarried. There are two brothers, Messrs Bert and James, and three sisters, Mrs Ambrose Regan, of Sault Ste. Marie and Miss Kathleen Dolan, of Toronto. Another sister is of the congregation of Notre Dame, Montreal.

The remains will arrive here to-morrow on the 11.28 C.P.R. train and the funeral will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to St. Peters' cemetery.

ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Dr. Marsh Will Conduct Services at Newtonville

Rev. Dr. Marsh, pastor of Springville Presbyterian Church, will conduct anniversary services at Newtonville to-morrow, and Rev. Mr. Adams of that place will take the services at Springville and Bethany.

POLICE COURT TALES OF WOE

Lindsay Man's Pleading Finds Favor and He Goes Free

SLEEPING IN A BARN

Old Member Rejoins Blacklist and Another is Fined $10

"Are you the man who was driven out of Lindsay?" queried His Worship Magistrate Dumble, of John Williams, who was in the prisoner's box at police court this morning to answer a charge of being drunk and disorderly in a public place.

"Yes, Your Honor, I'm the man, and I was a little intoxicated," replied John.

"I have the asthma awful bad," he wailed, "and a wife and two children in Lindsay. Please let me off this time and I will get right out of town."

"Have you got a ticket?" asked His Worship.

"No, your Honor, but I have the money to get one," was the reply.

"Well, if you fail to leave immediately it will be a long time before you have another chance," was the Magistrate's comment as Williams vacated his seat in the prisoner's box.

CLOSE TO NATURE.

"You are accused of vagrancy, and of sleeping in a barn," said His Worship.

In doleful notes Jim told how he had been seized with a bad spell in his heart, and just dropped in the barn for a rest. "I'll never do it again if you'll let me off," he replied.

The chief remarked that two or three bad fires occurred in the city last year, caused by people sleeping in barns and Wilson had been found in the neighborhood.

"That was not me, Chief," James affirmed. "Just give me another chance and I'll leave your city forever. Don't shut me up; I have consumption and give me the fresh air."

Clark, the man for whom Wilson has been working, advised the Magistrate to place Wilson on the black list again. This was done.

"You have no objection to this, have you?" asked His Worship.

"No, Your Honor, it will do me good. I could carry $100 in my pocket when I was on it before."

$10 DRUNK.

Herbert Landry, a blacklister, violated his promise, and he is poorer now by $10.

"It doesn't pay to drink, does it?" said His Worship.

Harry Waters was charged with vagrancy. He will spend the next six months on the hill. Waters had been deported to England, but refuses to remain there. He won't work.

See the Freeman's great wire act; Vandalle Sisters, singers and dancers, and Reynolds the comedian, at the Rex Theatre all this week. Fine specialties, good music and fresh air. Special matinee Friday afternoon at 3.30, all ladies free td

SPRIGS OF SPORT

EAST CITY DEFEAT SOUTH CENTRALS

Finished at the Front With a 10-2 Score

Playing fast ball throughout the game with the South Centrals at the Oval yesterday afternoon, the East City juniors won handily with a 10-2 score. Their opponents broke into the run column in the initial stages of the constest, when they secured their brace of tallies. This was largely due to the slow work of East City on some easy chances for "Riley" Anderson pitched effectively all the time. He should have got away with a shut-out. The fifth ward nine, however, evened up and went in front with the score 3—2. For the balance of the contest they were always on easy street, Smith, who replaced Williams, giving assistance by his wildness on his heaves to the plate. The steady work of Arthur Lipsett at the first corner for the winners was always noticeable. He picked everything coming his way and never attempted to interfere with the base runner, as is sometimes the case. The batteries were:

East City—Anderson and Huycke.

CRAIG'S NINE FELL BY THE WAY

A 16-0 Defeat Registered by Dixon's Aggregation

In a Collegiate League fixture played at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon Manager Craig's team succumbed to Manager Dixon's nine after a five innings contest, in which none of Craig's men was able to score, while Dixon's huskies travelled over for sixteen counters.

Craig started in the box for his team, but only lasted two innings, as he was hit all over the lot for two and three cushions, though errors on the part of his men served to let a number of runners arrive home Armstrong finished the game, and he not walloped so often as Craig.

The batteries were:

Craig's—Craig, Armstrong and Hayes.

Dixon's—Huycke and Phelan.

Umpire—L. J. Pettit.

KING EDWARDS WON

Were Two Runs to the Good Against Centrals

Playing on their own grounds the King Edward juniors yesterday afternoon defeated the Centrals in a public school league game by the score of 12 to 10. W. J. O'Brien was umpire.

The batteries were—

King Edwards—Campbell, Eakens and Frost.

Centrals—Cavanah and Soden.

THE RING

Big Jim Jeffries may tour Europe with a light heart, for as usual his businesslike little wife has left things in good shape at home, and it will be a bold, bad man and a resourceful one who breaks into the strong boxes of the former champion.

So carefully has Mrs. Jeff looked after her husband's interests that she has even placed his big automobile in a tale.

When it was definitely decided that that Jeffries was to make the European trip there were many solicitous offers from would-be friends to care the big car, and generous offers from all, even from Brother Jack.

Jeffries, as usual, gave no definite answer to the importunate ones, and that settled the business, for when he went to his wife and mentioned the incident, she remarked, briskly: "Well, we'll see about that."

Consequently the big car is hidden away back in a Los Angeles garage, the chassis is jacked up on stilts, the wheels are locked in a closet, the tires are home in Jeff's house, and the movable parts of the engine are nested away in some safe-deposit box.

THE NEWLY WEDS

By Tom Akers.

In the quaint old city of brotherly love,
The home of the quiet and peaceful dove,
That was there with the pop and vim and steam,

The Athletics opened their present year
Without a thought of defeat or fear
But the champions failed to show much speed
Or to cop the games in their time of need,

As the world's champs fell with a sickening thump,
And the bugs demanded of Mack to know
Why his peerless wonders were all so slow.

"Alas!" quoth Mack, "'tis a sad, sad tale
But the reason my champions act so stale,
Is because they're nearly all "newly weds"

ADDITION TO THE SPORT DICTIONARY

Some unidentified individual who has peeked through a knothole in the baseball and sporting fence long enough to catch the general drift of affairs, capers into print with the following additions to the sporting dictionary;

Split—Equivalent to a cuss word, used frequently on bowling alleys. Also aid to a high ball, and sometimes used the morning after.

DIAMOND DOTS

Secretary Dorris of the Midland League has received the certificates and entrance fee of the Bowmanville Club.

Jack Rosevear is satisfactory to the Cobourg team for the game on the holiday and he will be on the job.

The Athletics only sent eight men around on seventeen hits yesterday while Detroit went nine times on eight hits. H. Mackiver had six errors.

Dan McCabe will handle the indicator at Bowmanville on the holiday, when Port Hope will visit.

Bill Wylder has arrived home and will luckily do the backstopping in the practice game this afternoon at Riverside.

For Alsace-Lorraine.

Berlin, May 20.—After prolonged bargaining the committee of the Reichstag yesterday adopted the Government's bill providing a constitution for Alsace-Lorraine.

The support of the Socialists was secured by abolishing the proposed plural voting. The original measure provided that the lower Chamber should be male up of members elected by universal suffrage of those twenty-five years old or over, and that voters over thirty-five years old should have two votes and those llore than forty-five years old three votes.

The clericals were won over by concessions in the matter of religious freedom, and an arrangement by which the French language will be used officially in the schools of those districts of Alsace-Lorraine where there is a French-speaking population.

Auto Thrown Into Ditch.

Belleville, May 20.—A serious auto accident occurred Thursday on the gravel road in Sydney near this city The machine, which was running fast, was thrown into the ditch. Seated in the car in addition to the driver were Mrs. Thomas Kelso, Miss Kelso, Mrs. A. A. Roberts and two young children of this city and Mrs. L. Grant of Montreal. Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Roberts were the most seriously injured, and were conveyed to the hospital. Mrs Grant sustained a fracture of the right wrist and was cut about the head and face. Mrs. Roberts' injuries consisted of cuts about the head and face and bruises. Her young son was also bruised. Mrs. Kelso, Miss Kelso and the driver escaped with some painful bruises.

Eli Hebert's Body Found.

Windsor, May 20.—The mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance of Eli Hebert, aged 65, a well-known farmer living near Tecumseh, was partly solved when the bloated and almost unrecognizable body was discovered by the crew of the U. S. mail boat floating in the river off the foot of Bates street last night. The head was cut and battered, and the body bore strong indications of having been thrown into the river after death. All the pockets but one were turned inside out.

C.N.R. Lets Contracts.

Toronto, May 20.—Sir Donald Mann stated yesterday that the contracts for the entire line of railway between Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, including the section from the latter city to Hawkesbury had been let.

Another Trip Through Rapids.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 20.—Bobby Leach is preparing to make another trip on July 4 through the whirlpool rapids in his steel barrel. Oscar Williams, who last year tried to cross the river on a steel wire, hanging by his teeth, but who stuck and hung for hours over the cataract, plans to repeat his trip next month.

AT LAST, A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Me" Says Mrs. Baxter.

"I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without help.

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try them. After I had taken one box, I was much better.

When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone.

After taking five boxes, I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. "Fruit-a-tives" cured me.

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, Dec. 15, '09.

In hundreds of other cases, "Fruit-a-tives" has given exactly the same satisfactory results because "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. "Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine regulates kidneys, liver, bowels and skin, and prevents the accumulation of uric acid, which is the prime cause of Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure every case of Rheumatism, when taken according to directions. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WEIR & O'BRIEN

ARCH. WEIR JAMES O'BRIEN

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone

Does This, And Cures

YOU TAKE THIS MEDICINE IN AIR

Price 25c, 50c. and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont., and Buffalo, N. Y.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Marion, sole distributer, Bridgeburg, Ont.

THE ONLY MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

The only medicine a mother should give her little ones is one she can give and feel absolutely safe that not the slightest harm will result — a medicine that is guaranteed strictly free from injurious drugs. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets—every box is sold under such a guarantee and the mother may feel perfectly safe in giving them to even the newborn babe. Concerning them, Mr. Albert E. Wood, London, Ont., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets all that is claimed for them. My baby has had them from birth and will take them eagerly. I am sure there is no better medicine for little ones.' The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NARROW ESCAPE

Last Thursday afternoon as Mrs. Dan Wannamaker was driving into this village she met with a serious accident and narrowly escaped with her life, and that of her child. She was driving in on the Campbellford road, running along the fair ground, and simultaneously with her arrival at the railroad crossing there, a train rushed by. The horse was dashed instantly to the ground and killed. Mrs. Wannamaker jumped with her child into the road, while the buggy [illegible] ground and was [illegible] by the engine.—Stirling News-Argus.

Found Body In River.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 19.—Geo. Clark yesterday found the body of an unidentified man floating in the river near Queenston. The body is that of a man about forty-five years old, five feet nine inches in height and stoutly built. It had evidently been in water about three months and had but little clothing on. A ring found on the ring finger of the left hand bore the inscription "Hustler John Fay, April twenty-fifth, nineteen two." The ring was such as is worn by organizers of the Woodmen of the World.

Much Building Tied Up.

Kingston, May 19.—The building trades are making a strong effort to have the strike of the masons, their helpers and the stonecutters settled. They have asked that the difficulty be submitted to arbitration. If the strike is not soon settled it will have a very serious effect, as other trades will be forced to quit work as well. Work on the following buildings is tied up; Addition to postoffice, new Bank of Commerce, metallurgy building of Queen's, addition to House of Providence, Royal Military College dormitories.

THEY MUST "KEEP UP"

This is the Lot of Most Women in Spite of Aching Backs, Dizzy Spells Etc.

Mrs. Edward Calwood, of 123 S. Harold street, Fort William, Ont., says: "I suffered with dull, miserable pains, soreness across my back and in my sides for months. They would catch me so badly at times that I could scarcely move move around. I would have dizzy spells, and altogether felt generally run down. After using a number of remedies without finding relief, I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and found them an excellent remedy. They not only relieved me of the miserable pains and soreness in my back but cured me of my kidney trouble."

Booth's Kidney Pills are the best friend a woman has; guaranteed by the proprietors they are a safe remedy. Sold by all druggists and dealers, 50 cents. If you know of a sufferer who should try these pills, advise them to send to the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont., for a free box.

You cannot buy a Furnace like you do a Stove—send it home and have the "Handy-Man" put it up—not if you expect to get all the heat out of your coal.

¶ Your heating system must be planned. The registers must be properly placed. The warm and cold air ducts must be a certain diameter. The furnace must be located in just the right spot—and it must be just the right size. ¶ We supply plans to you absolutely free and you do not need to buy a furnace to get them either.

¶ If you have a heating problem to solve—new building or old—send us a rough diagram of your building, showing the location of doors and windows. ¶ We will prepare for you complete plans and specifications for heating that building, give you an estimate of the cost of the heating system, and also the advice of our experts on every detail.

"Hecla" Furnace

The plan is essential, but it is also essential to have a furnace that will give you ample heat—one that will supply pure, fresh air without a taint of gas, and, for the lady of the house, heat that will be free from dust and smoke.

The "Hecla" is such a furnace.

GET THIS BOOKLET.

"Comfort & Health" tells how you can get heat without gas. It tells how to get the same heat from six tons of coal as you ever got from seven. Write for it to-day. And at the same time ask for any information you may require regarding the heating of your home. 147

PROSPECTS FOR RE-OPENING OF BLAIRTON IRON MINES

Property Has Been Purchased by Capitalists for $75,000.

Havelock, May 20.—Several times during the past few years it has been reported that Blairton iron mines had been sold and would be re-opened under new management, and each time the citizens of that little hamlet began to dream of old time greatness only to have their hopes crushed to the ground afterwards when it became apparent that such was not to be the case. But it now seems as if the long predicted was really going to happen; for at least everything points strongly towards that. At last something really definite has been done and according to report, real cash has changed hands and not merely transactions in opinions as heretofore.

A company composed of Toronto, Chicago and Cleveland capitalists have purchased the property from the Pearce Company, of Marmora, who have held it for a number of years, paying into the Union Bank at Norwood the full amount of the sale price, namely, $75,000.

This certainly looks like business, as a company is not going to invest that large amount of money in a mine and then allow it to remain idle. Further information also points towards this. The company that has acquired the property have been incorporated under the name of the Blairton Iron Mines Co. of Toronto. The option of purchase has been held by the company for the past three years and for the past year they have had a royalty of twenty-five cents a ton on 25,000 tons, although doing no actual mining.

It became apparent about a year ago that the company had a good deal of faith in the mine when a large staff of men were set to work with diamond drills at the mine to make a thorough test of the real value of the mine, which proved very satisfactory to the holders of the option as is shown by the purchase.

The Blairton Iron Mines property is composed of about 25 acres around the unincorporated village of that name which lays six miles to the east of Havelock, and about 3 miles north of Blairton station on the C.P.R. The mines were in operation about 35 years ago and at that time Blairton was a thriving village. It was connected with Trent Bridge, the Havelock summer resort by a railway which carried the ore to Trent River for shipment. The village at that time was the proud possessor of a largely attended school and church, and an ever increasing number of citizens and residences. Indeed, it is said it was only with difficulty that laborers enough to carry on the work at the mine could be secured and the Mining Company dispatched an agent to Europe to secure help. Wages were high as was also foodstuffs and other necessities, as it was only with difficulty that they could be got into the mining town. Of course with the enormous amount of building, lumber was hard to secure and high in price. Saw mills were scarce at that time in this portion of the country and those in existence were taxed to their utmost to supply requirements.

Further probing among the legends of this historic town brings forth the fact that even in these days the people were as anxious for their pleasure and in our late years. Close by the village is the beautiful Crow Lake, which proved an attractive spot for the village residents after the day's work, while weekly excursions were held by train to Trent Bridge, and from there to points on the river by steamer.

But work apparently had been commenced upon the mine before the time was ripe. Facilities of transportation were not far enough advanced at the time for the ore to be carried to the United States concentrators at a low enough price to make the running profitable, on account of the many times it had to be transhipped along the route.

As a result the management of the mine found a balance on the wrong side of the ledger and work was stopped. For a while a certain portion of the population stayed in the town in hope of a revival, but the population has been gradually dwindling away, and the village presents a very different appearance. No longer is there a crowded school or church, a big demand for workmen, a monstrous figure for lumber, or any of these things which characterized the Blairton of 35 years ago.

The ten mile railroad which connected with Trent river, has disappeared, the only remaining trace being the raised grading along the course on which it ran, and of the rolling stock, the only remnant is three cars which lay outside the outer pier at Trent Bridge, and which may be seen there at low water. And thereby lies a tale of how they happen to be there.

While unloading at the pier the engineer of the train, incensed because his helper could not spot the cars right, sprang into the engine, uttered an oath, and declared that he would place them. As a result the cars were shunted over the pier into the water, where they still remain, but the sad part of the occurrence is that one of the men in the cars was taken down and drowned.

But it now seems as if Blairton were to regain some of its old-time life and activity, for prospects for its future are bright. The mine will undoubtedly be reopened in the near future. Facilities for transportation have been greatly improved, and there is no doubt but the mine can now be operated at a profit. The same interests have also acquired other valuable iron properties in North Hastings, and have secured the old Gilmour property at Trenton, where they propose locating their concentration plant.

CHARGE OF ILLEGAL FISHING

Inspector Watt Laid Information Against Jesse Airriess

CASE WAS ENLARGED

How Accused Acted at the Waterworks Dam

Jesse Airriess appeared in police court this morning on a charge of illegally fishing for maskinonge on May 10th. The charge was laid by Fishery Inspector Watt. The case was enlarged for a week as the evidence the inspector offered was not sufficient to prove that the prisoner had been after maskinonge. Witnesses will be subpoenaed.

Airriess pleaded not guilty to the accusation.

The Fishery Inspector was put in the witness box, and told of how he had discovered the prisoner fishing at the waterworks dam on that day, and without being at first obsewrved by Airriess, had seen him fishing with gaff hooks. The prisoner did not observe him until he was directly above him on the bank. When he did he tossed the whole fishing outfit into the river.

Watt said to prisoner: "Now, my an, I have you pinched at last."

Airriess then took to the river himself going in up to the armpits, rather than be captured. The current at the spot was strong, and brought the fishing tackle into shore, when it was seized again by the prisoner and thrown farther out into the river. Airriess then continued his course down the river, walking in the water.

The witness stated that the prisoner had been boasting around the city to his friends of the number of fish he caught. On one occasion, the inspector stated, Airriess had quit work at the McDonald mill, saying: "I can make more money fishing." After he caught the fish he is alleged to have sold them.

He Worship stated however, as this was mere hearsay, he could not assume that the prisoner had been guilty. The Inspector said that while he was observing the prisoner he had seen him throw some suckers back into the river, thus proving that it was not this species of fish that he had been after.

MILITARY NIGHT WITH THE MASONS

Scarlet and Blue Were in Evidence at Corinthian Lodge

Last night was military night at Corinthian Masonic Lodge, when the officers for the evening were selected from members of the order, and who are all attached to the Peterborough garrison. They attended in uniform, the array of scarlet tunics making a pleasing picture in among the traditional blue furnishings of the lodge. Following is the list of those occupying the offices for the evening—

Immediate Past Master—Wor. Bro. Capt. Dr. J. H. Eastwood, 57th Regiment.

Junior Warden—Wor. Bro. Capt R. P. Watt, 57th Regiment.

Treasurer—Bro. Lieut. W. J. Kelly, 57th Regiment.

Secretary—Bro. Major V. Eastwood, 57th Regiment.

Junior Steward—Bro. Capt. A. W. McPherson, 57th Regiment.

After the closing of the lodge the brethren adjourned to the banquet hall where a pleasant hour was spent. A feature of the evening was an address by Rt. Wor. Bro H. R. H. Kenner on the symbolism of operative and speculative Masonry, which was much appreciated by those present.

THE INDUSTRIAL OFFICE.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—It may be of value and interest to your readers in view of the recent discussion over the office of Industrial Commissioner, to know that section 2, chapter 123, of the statutes of Ontario, 1910, says: "The Council of the city of Peterborough may appoint an officer to be called the Commissioner of Industries, and may define his duties, fix and pay his salary and expenses incidental to the office."

As there has been some conflict of opinion as to who owned the Commissioner of Industries, this ought to settle it.

W.A.B.

Y.M.C.A. WORK.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—We should not let this great week go by without giving thanks to Almighty God, through His agents, the Y.M.C.A., for this great work in showing to the young men of Peterborough what they can become if they only try. It is open to any young man, apparently, to be good and bad when he sees fit, so long as it ain't both at the same time. The old motto "Honor to whom honor is due" is revived again by our Y.M.C.A., and it pleases me to see them showing to the rising generation how to laugh and grow fat.

Yours,

WHAT DID CHRIST DO?

MONOPLANE KILLS THE FRENCH MINISTER OF WAR; PREMIER MONIS WILL RECOVER

Report To-day is That the Premier Wasn't Fatally Injured—Frightful Accident in Paris at Aviation Start.

Paris, May 22.—Premier Monis is greatly improved to-day and it is fully expected that he will recover. It is expected, however, that he will resign, as it would be many months before he would resume his work.

Paris, May 22.—France yesterday paid another and terrible toll in her magnificent endeavor to attain supremacy in the art of aviation, when a monoplane, the driver of which lost control, plunged into a group of members of the Cabinet who had gathered to witness the start of the Petit Parisien race from Paris to Madrid, killing the Minister of War, and injuring the Prime Minister, his son, and a well-known sportsman.

A large number of other persons of note had narrow escapes from injury.

The accident occurred on the aviation field at Issy Les Molineux, and was witnessed by two hundred thousand persons.

M. Trail was piloting a monoplane. With him in the car was M. Bounier, a passenger. Neither of these men were injured. The machine was wrecked.

PREMIER MONIS.

Minister of War Berteaux was horribly mangled. The swiftly revolving propeller cut off cleanly his left arm, which was found ten feet away from the spot where he was struck, the back of his head was crushed in, his throat gashed and the whole of his left side cut and lacerated.

Premier Monis was buried beneath the wreckage of the monoplane. He was taken out as quickly as possible and examined by military surgeons who found he had sustained compound fractures of two bones in the right leg; that his nose was broken; his face badly contused and that there were bruises on the breast and abdomen.

M. Deutsch and M. Monis, jr., were not seriously hurt.

Among those who had narrow escapes from injury was M. Lepine, the prefect of police.

Premier Monis and Minister Berteaux and their party arrived at the aviation field about 6 o'clock, shortly after Roland Garros, M. Beaumant and M. Gibert had started in the race, headed in the direction of Angouleme, capital of the department of Charente.

The great line of spectators bordering the flying was being held rigid by a large force of soldiers, who, however, permitted the Ministerial party and some half hundred other persons of distinction to walk across the field to a point where they could get a better view down the course and see the airmen as they rose from the starting point and flew in their direction.

Trail's monoplane swooped toward the earth at the impulse of an air flurry and it appeared as though the aviator was about to dash into the cavalry. The pilot's attention seem momentarily to have been diverted from his course and he make a quick turn to the left, towards where the party of officials were standing. Then he lost control of the craft altogether and it dashed violently into the Ministerial group.

The impact knocked M. Berteaux ten feet away, where he lay in a pool of blood, badly mangled, while under the wreckage of the monoplane lay Premier Monis, his son and M Deutsch. Trail and M. Bonieur emerged from the wreck uninjured.

A scene of frightful confusion followed the fall of the monoplane. From all parts of the aviation field arose cries of alarm and dismay, and tens of thousands of persons broke through the lines and moved towards the scene of the accident. The cavalry, however, by repeated charges, managed to clear the field and the injured men were given first aid by the field surgeons. From the first it was seen that M. Berteaux was fatally hurt, and that M. Monis was seriously injured. After the Ministers had been cared for, the surgeons dressed the wounds of those who had received minor bruises.

M. Dupuy, immediately after the disaster, gave out word that the race should be suspended. M. Lepine issued a formal order to that effect, stating that it would be impossible to continue, for a large part of the aviation field was covered by vast crowds. Late in the afternoon, however, the aero club decided that the six airmen, who had not started yesterday should have an opportunity to do so to-doy.

M. Fallieres summoned his Cabinet, and M. Cruppi, Minister of Foreign Affairs, was designated to fulfil the duties of Minister of War, pending further developments, and temporarily to act as head of the Cabinet.

W. H. Ryan, of Port Hope, was sentenced at Hamilton to three years for burglary.

A new Sunday School Association has been formed in the Anglican Deanery of Kent.

A Critical Time.

London, May 22.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—To the Manchester Saturday preference demonstration Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain wrote: "The present is the critical time for our preference policy in view of the proposed reciprocity agreement between Canada and the United States. Advantages ought to be taken of the imperial conference to make some satisfactory offer to Canada and the other dominions. I still believe it is the only way the Empire can be strengthened and kept together. The English have this opportunity. Perhaps it is the last."

NO AEROPLANING OVER THE CROWDS

Special to The Review.

London, May 22.—Owing to the aeroplane accident at Paris, Parliament be asked to immediately pass a bill which will forbid aeroplaning over the coronation crowds. Many aviators intended to witness the procession in this way.

ELEPHANT TOOK A FREE JAUNT

Walked Away From Circus at Woodstock.

Woodstock, Ont., May 22.—One of the large elephants belonging to Howe's London circus did the disappearing act in Ingersoll yesterday morning. Its going was not noticed by the attendants, who were all busy in setting up the show there.

Shortly after seven o'clock, however, he was missed and examination of the neighborhood disclosed the fact that he had done considerable damage before leaving the town in a southerly direction. Gardens were trampled and fences torn down as by a cyclone and evidence led to the belief that the brute had gone in the direction of Verschoyle.

A search was instituted, and after some time news reached town that the elephant was safe in the bottom of a ditch one mile north of Verschoyle, six miles from town, and was unable to get out. Horses on the road were terrorized by his trumpeting, and farmers found difficulty in getting them to go past, though the beast was some distance away. Men are at work trying to dig the elephant out, but the job is proving very difficult.

Kingstonian Hurt In Cleveland.

Kingston, May 22.—Edward Clark, son of J. E. Clark, of the Bay of Quinte and Lake Ontario Navigation Co., was struck by an automobile in Cleveland and badly injured. He will recover. He was getting off a street car when an automobile on the wrong side of the road hit him.

DEMOCRATS ULTIMATUM

Tell Senate it Must Vote on Reciprocity.

Otherwise it Must Sit Until Dog Days Are Over.

Washington, May 22.—What is practically an ultimatum was served on the Senate yesterday by the Democratic leaders of the House, that there must be a vote in the Senate at this session on Canadian reciprocity, on the farmers' free list bill and on the revised wool tariff.

Provided these terms are met the House will agree to a recess from July 1 to Oct. 1, otherwise the Senate will be held in continuous session throughout the dog days by the House refusing to adjourn.

The Democrats do not expect that the Senate will ratify all their tariff legislation of the special session, but they want a record vote, it is declared, whether affirmative, or negative, on the three principal measures—reciprocity, the free list and the wool tariff.

Senator Burton of Ohio declared on Saturday that this word had been communicated to the Senate from the House side and that, in his opinion, should the House leaders adhere to this policy the prospects of a recess were not very bright.

ELOPING COUPLE WILL BE DEPORTED

Special to the Review.

Montreal, May 22.—Abbadie D'Arrast and Helena Benert, who arrived this morning on the Lake Manitoba have been identified as an eloping couple from Evreux, France. D'Arrast left his coat and hat on a bridge at Paris to suggest suicide. Both will be deported.

Scare For the Sultan.

Constantinople, May 22.—During the Selamlik procession on Friday a party of boisterous Kurds rushed the sultan's carriage to present a petition to the ruler. The sultan was so badly frightened that he fainted. The Kurds were arrested but liberated later after they had explained their intentions.

TWO BATHERS DROWN; SEASON OPENED AT TORONTO SUNDAY

CROMER MUST RESIGN

London, May 22.—The members of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals decided last night to ask Lord Cromer to resign the vice-presidency of the organization because he upholds vivisection.

Swimmer Succumbs to a Cramp—Lad Gets in Over His Depth in the Don River.

Toronto, May 22.—Earlier than usual the drowning season was ushered in yesterday, when a man and a boy in the east and west ends of the city paid the price of recklessness within a few hours of each others. The victims were Percy L. Rouse, aged 21, city traveler for the W. R. Brock Co., whose home is at 73 Howard avenue, and Alexander Eagleson, aged 9, 163 Shipper avenue.

In the morning a party of young men from the Parkdale Canoe Club paddled up the Humber River in their canoes to the old mill, which they reached shortly after 12 o'clock. They decided to bathe, despite the coldness of the May waters. Percy L. Rouse and his boating partner, a young man named Walm, dived in about 100 yards below the mill, and stayed in for some time, the chilly waters apparently not diminishing their ardor. Of a sudden, however, Rouse threw up his hands and went under. Walm immediately went over to help him, but could not find his friend for nearly five minutes. With the assistance of others, he then dragged him to shore, and administered first aid. The artificial respiration was kept up for nearly an hour and a half, but as there was no sign of life the young man's heart evidently having been too weak to respond, the work was given up.

Young Rouse had only joined the canoe cub a few weeks ago, but was an ardent boatman and a good swimmer. An inquest will probably be held.

Carried by Current.

After Sunday school was out, a party of five boys from east end churches hurried up the Don to a point near Taylor's paper mills, about three miles north of Gerrard street. Young Alexander Eagleson of 163 Skipper avenue, aged, 9 couldn't swim, but he went in with the others. Hardly had he been in the water a minute when the current carried him over his depth and he floundered about helplessly. His companions followed him along the shore, but were afraid to venture out after him. When the lad sank they told some farmers on the riverside and the body was recovered further on. It was taken to Ingram's undertaking rooms.

Coroner Dr. W. A. Young is investigating, but it is not probable that an inquest will be held.

A FRENCH PAPER FOR THE CAPITAL

Ottawa LeTemps Refuses to be Guided by Archbishop.

Montreal, May 22.—The French-Canadians who were opposed to the appointment of Mgr. Gauthier of Kingston to be Archbishop of Ottawa now see danger in an alleged plan of his grace to establish a French daily in the capital. The Revue Franco Americaine says his grace of Ottawa called to his palace the other day the representative of one of the French-Canadian papers in Ottawa, when the following dialogue is alleged to have taken place:

Mgr. Gauthier: Is your paper a Catholic journal?

"Yes, sir, it is."

"Then," replied Mgr. Gauthier, "you have no objection to accepting episcopal direction."

"On certain questions, your grace; but the newspaper desires to conserve its entire liberty of action."

"All right, then, if you do not see fit to accept my direction you will see another newspaper started in Ottawa."

The same authority states that Mgr. Gauthier has already given the direction of the proposed newspaper into the hands of a French priest from old France, and The Revue Franco-Americaine state that it would not be at all surprising if the newspaper will be quite luke-warm in the defence of French-Canadian rights in this country.

Attacked By a Hog.

Kingston, May 22.—James Seabrook, aged 50, was taking a hog weighing over 500 pounds into the country, when the animal tore the end out of the box, and when Seabrook got after it the hog attacked him, knocking him down several times, and giving him a bad shaking up.

KAISER AND KAISERIN LEAVE FOR HOME AFTER BUSY WEEK

London, May 22.—The "German week" which was brought to a close by the departure of the imperial yacht Hohenzollern from Sheerness yesterday, has been full of promise, potency and good feeling. Splendid functions, like the dedication of the Victoria monument, the command performance at the Drury Lane Royal Theatre, and the court ball, have been less significant than the cordiality displayed by the two royal families and the personal interest taken by the London crowds in the movements of the German emperor and empress and their daughter.

King George has seemed delighted to make the German emperor prominent, and the relations between them have appeared intimate and unclouded with suspicion. King Edward never seemed to trust his brilliant nephew, and inevitably they were rivals in continental diplomacy. King George and the German emperor are drawn together by mutual affection, and apparently prefer to be considered allies in bringing the two nations into closer and friendlier relations.

Momentous are the issues between the House of Parliament, politics are neglected in the pageantry and social excitement of the most brilliant season London has ever known.

Lord Lansdowne's bill will be read for the second time on Monday, after the Government peers have walked out of the House and irreconciliable Tories have expressed their dissent. It is not likely to emerge from committee. The Opposition leaders will be satisfied with forcing the Government bill out.

By formulating a definite reform scheme the Parliament bill will be carried to the second reading by Lord Morley, and Lord Haldane will take charge of it in commttee. Even if Lord Crewe returns to the House after Whitsuntide, Hotspurs on the Unionists' side are talking confidently of the certainty of defeating the measure, and prominent members of the Upper House are declaring that surrender is impossible.

Mr. Balfour has stopped with the demand that a referendum on home rule shall be the price paid for the acceptance of the Parliament bill. This was the point on which the conference broke down last November. Mr. Redmond vetoed the demand then, and would do it again.

The Lords will challenge the Government to create 500 puppets. If they make a determined fight for the referendum on home rule they are more likely to employ dilatory tactics and to attempt to wear out the patience of the Prime Minister by a prolongation of the session.

The spirit of the coronation season is against them. The country is weary of constitutional controversy.

JOWETT HONORED

London, May 22.—The Rev. J. H. Jowett, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York, formerly minister of Carr's Lane Congregational Church, Birmingham, will be the guest of King George at the coronation ceremonies June 22 in the Abbey Church, Westminster.

HOLLINGER MINE PLANT GUTTED

Fire Destroys $70,000 Worth of Machinery.

Porcupine, May 22.—Ignited by the bush fires, the dynamite magazine on the Hollinger property exploded, breaking the pipes, and the whole plant was gutted by the flames. Mr. L. K. Timmins, who is here, said that the loss on the Hollinger property is $70,000. The buildings on the McIntyre property have also been burned.

The district around Pearl Lake has been swept by the flames, and the settlement around Aura Lake has been completely wiped out.

Two houses and a general store were burned at South Porcupine. The schoolhouse at Porcupine, reported burned on Friday night, was saved.

It rained hard on Friday night, and this considerably checked the flames. All the fires were out by Saturday night.

Fire In Kingston Theatre.

Kingston, May 22.—Fire at five o'clock yesterday morning, caused by spontaneous combustion, it is believed, did about $300 damage to the Princess Theatre, run by John Campbell. Oily rags left under the flooring when the floor was oiled, is believed to have been the cause. The quick work of Chief Armstrong and his men saved the building. The blaze was put out with chemicals. The theatre will not have to be closed. Campbell came here recently from Brantford.

REBELS ARE USING BOMBS

Struggles in Mexican Rebellion Growing Severe.

Cuernavaca, Mexico, May 19.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The federal garrison, under Col. Munguiat to-day was forced to evacuate Cuatla, twenty miles south of here, after a fierce four days' battle with a force of rebels commanded by Col. Seapata. The federals retreated to this city, where they arrived to-night.

The rebels showed great bravery and are said to have lost over 100 men killed and wounded.

Cuernavaca, Mexico, May 19.—The rebels repeatedly attacked the federal defences and eventually the Government troops, unable from weariness and loss of sleep to withstand the assaults any longer, retired from Cuatala, making their escape through an aqueduct which supplied the city with water.

The federal loss was 18 men killed. The rebels used dynamite bombs with which they blew up many of the principal buildings. The insurrectos are under the command of Col. Zatata, and it is feared he will follow up his advantage and march upon Cuernavaca. Orders have been issued to strengthen the already heavy fortifications in the streets here.

Cuatla was surrounded last Saturday. The rebel demand that the garrison surrender being refused the attack began on Sunday. The federals were in strong positions commanding the street approaches, and in the repeated furious assaults the rebels lost heavily before they were finally successful in dislodging them.

WOMEN FORMED BUCKET BRIGADE

And Saved a Four Thousand Dollar Barn.

Special to the Review.

Chatham, May 22.—A party of women passing Andrew McDonald's farm in Harwich, saw a strawstack afire and forming a bucket brigade, they saved a four thousand dollar barn, which was nearby.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If In Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

UNION LABEL

THE CENSUS MAN

The time when the census enumerator will ring your door bell is drawing near, and when you will be compelled to divulge your family secrets. So it were well to be wise in time, and carefully prepare the information the enumerator will drag out of you.

For instance, the polite enumerator will, for six cents, ask you, what is your tribal origin? If you do not believe in the Darwinian theory, and therefore cannot acknowledge that you belong to the monkey tribe, it might be that you can get on the Indian list, and thereby qualify as a tribesman. Anyhow, it is most important that you should decide before the census man arrives as to what particular tribe you are willing to acknowledge and honor.

When the census man comes, he will ask you what your sex is. If you are a man, be sure not to tell him that you are a perfect lady, because the poor man, having only two eyes, will not like being so deceived. If you are a woman, it would be well to disillusion him that you might be a man parading in petticoats so as to look pretty. Of course, if you happen to be a suffragette, the poor man will have to mark down, "neuter gender" and let you go. But there aren't many suffragettes, in Peterborough, at least, so please be very careful not to deceive the census man. It isn't his fault, anyway.

The census man will ask you if you can read or write. This is quite necessary in Canada, where so few people are able to get education, and where books are so costly as to be beyond the reach of most people and where newspapers retail at $10 a word. If the census man were to ask "Can you spell Decently?" he might get some interesting information: but "Can you read and write?" This question put to some truthful person ought to go something like this: "Can you read?"

"Yep, with my specs on. The newspaper print is gittin' so small these days that I can't read unless I hev my glasses."

"Can you write?"

"Yep. I righted a boat last summer up at the lake, when it had got turned upside down, by gum. Oh, you mean kin I write with a pen. Well I used to, when I went to skule, but teacher told me it warn't no writin'. It warn't even ascribble. Yep, I can write, but I can't read it after."

The census man will want to know how much you earned in 1910, but he doesn't ask how much you saved. Perhaps it is recognized that this would be a most useless question. And he will want to know about your insurance, and how much you make by the hour. If you are a corporation laborer, it won't necessary to state how much you "earn" by the hour; just state how much the city pays you. You will thus avoid any charge of making a false declaration. And it might be stated that ladies will do the enumerator a great favor, by taking a good look at the family Bible before June 1, so as to fix in their minds the date of their birth. In order not to let them escape, the enumerator asks two questions. One is "year of birth?" and the other "Age on last birthday." Thus if you aren't able to count correctly—and some people's arithmetic in this direction can stand auditing—the enumerator will be able to count upon his fingers and tell you about your mistake. If you are 40, don't make it 35, 'cause there is a fine for telling even white ones like this.

CEMENT FACTS

A parliamentary investigation into the formation of the cement merger is promised; and it would seem particularly opportune at a time when the price of cement has risen materially, because of the existence of the merger. It might be stated that the merger of eleven cement companies controls the output and the market in Canada, and it is operating under a duty of fifty per cent. This combination of circumstances has led to some remarkable changes in the price the public pays for this most necessary constructional material.

In 1904 there was a consumption of 1,694,988 barrels of cement in Canada, of which only 910,538 barrels were manufactured in Canada. In 1907 the consumption was 3,108,723 barrels, of which 2,491,513 barrels were manufactured in Canada. In 1908 the Canadian mills produced 3,495,961 barrels, or over 300,000 more than the country consumed—due to the business slump, which forced the cutting of the price of cement, on a small demand.

When the Canadian Cement Company, the merger of the eleven properties, was formed, the prospectus for the flotation of securities in London stated that at $1.20 a barrel, on a 4,000,000 barrel production, a profit of $2,000,000 might be anticipated—that is, a clear profit of 50 cents a barrel on a cost of production of 70 cents. Fifty per cent profit is a high rate of interest, and provides dividends for watered stock of juicy proportions.

The Winnipeg Free Press, Liberal, strongly criticises the Dominion Government for its action on the cement duty question. Elected to reduce the tariff on cement, it increased it considerably. The duty in 1896 was 40 cents a barrel. In 1907 the revision made it work out at 51 cents a barrel. It is rather striking that the duty should be 50 cents a barrel, and the profit the merger declared it could earn is identical with this protection. The merger, once formed, raised cement prices almost 50 per cent. in some cases. Winnipeg, in February, 1909, bought 20,000 barrels of cement at 56.32 cents per cwt. On July 8, 1909, 25,000 barrels were bought at 50.57 cents per cwt. In February, 1910, when the merger was in existence, tenders were sought, and the lowest price was 64.02 cents per cwt. The difference in price before and after the merger would work out at 47 cents a barrel.

This is not to be taken as an argument that the protection should be eliminated, but 50 per cent is too high, as it simply enables the holders of the stock to get dividends that should never be made, the building public having to suffer. The true principle of tariff—and one that will obtain in Canada through change of public sentiment in a few years—is that Canadian manufacturers should be given enough protection to assure them the home market, but not enough to enable them to get undue profits on millions of watered stock.

It is no wonder that the Free Press criticises the Laurier Government so strongly. The Conservatives have been accused of high tariffism; but after taking office the Liberals not only continued the Foster scale of duties, but deliberately increased them on cement and agricultural implements—two combinistic productions of great proportions. Thus is the hypocrisy of Laurier unmasked by his own followers.

EDITORIAL NOTES

President Taft will be a candidate for re-election to the presidency, according to the reports emanating from the Republican headquarters. Perhaps Taft will present as his campaign cry, "Let Taft finish his work" and complete the commercial union with Canada, so neatly begun by the introduction of the reciprocity agreement.

In Montreal the trial of the Workman case involved a lot of research by the court into questions of theology, and the new thought, or high criticism. It was most interesting to see the legal talent hunting up the Scriptures during the examination and cross-examination. The Montreal bar is said to be very much more religious now.

The Farmers' Bank shareholders claim that the bank was never legally constituted at all; that it was born in fraud and nursed in corruption. The shareholders had the cards stacked against them, and they intend to F-I-G-H-T, as Sir George Ross would say. They will have the sympathy of most of the people of Canada, for financial buccaneering is not in the least popular with the people, no matter what the moguls think.

The beemen of New York are hunting for a stingless bee, and one twice as industrious as the present busy bee. A bee without a stinger would not get half of the respect it now receives, and as for busy-ness the bee that is more industrious than the present well known species, will die from overexertion at birth. The New Yorkers have bees in their bonnets.

Prof. John B. Smith state entomologist, for New Jersey, was addressing an audience on the mosquito, telling his auditors how the famous New Jersey pest was disappearing. He was attacked on the platform by a swarm of the pesky mosquitoes and had to duck for cover. One little mosquito with its hum can confound the wisest professor. What a sad commentary on the power of human wisdom, after all.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

THE JAPANESE TRADE.
Montreal Gazette.

The Canadian Government has decided that it is not in the interest of this country to be included in the provisions of the trade treaty which Great Britain recently concluded with Japan. The reasons given for this preference have their force. While in the past more importance has been attributed to the commercial good will of Japan than circumstances justified, there is no question that in time it may mean much for Canada that her produce should be admitted into the great trans-Pacific market on terms as favorable as are accorded to the goods of any other nation. Japan has a large and growing population, whose wants increase even faster than its growth. These wants as regards imported goods are presently supplied from Europe more than from the nearer America. There are half a dozen lines of steamships that keep up communication between British and continental ports and those of Japan, besides many independent vessels that find employment in the trade. Half a dozen steamships or so serve to carry all that North America sends to or buys from the same country. This state of affairs is in a way the natural result of the delay in the development of manufacturing industry on the Pacific Coast, and is in part due to the energy of British and other European merchants in seeking business wherever it is to be found. The opening to traffic of the Panama Canal in three or four years may have an important influence on the situation, as it will put the United States, Atlantic States, and the Canadian Atlantic provinces, where manufacturing is largely developed, in comparatively close sea communication with the eastern countries of Asia. It will, therefore, be of importance to Canada that it shall have as good a chance as any other country to send its products into the Mikado's realm. It cannot do this unless there is a treaty of commerce. The new tariff adopted by the Japanese Parliament is one of high duties. The concessions made to Great Britain by the convention recently reached are notably great, and unless other countries are favored in like manner, her producers of the articles included in its scope will have an advantage over all their rivals. A treaty made in Great Britain in the interest of Great Britain's trade alone may not, however, be in everything what would suit Canada's conditions. The Government, seeing this, and acting on it, should take care not to miss the advantage that admission to Japan's trade on equal terms with the best may mean to the trade of the far western provinces.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Saves Time on the Farm

THE farmer with the Bell Telephone Service at hand doesn't have to travel in rainy weather.

The Bell Telephone Service saves him all that. There are always a lot of rainy-day chores about the farm.

Instead of spoiling a day going to town, the farmer goes to his Bell Telephone and does his business. The time saved can be spent profitably.

That is why he would not think of being without the Bell Telephone Service. It is poor economy to try to get along without it.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"Allow me to welcome you, sir," he said. "My name is Aaron Randall, and I have the honor to be cousin to the poor children you have befriended. May I offer you a morning dram, sir?"

Moreau accepted the glass with his native courtesy and, raising it, murmured: "With yoh, suh! I regret," he added in his best manner, "that I have never been able to meet the ladies of yoh cousin's household, and I was delighted to hear today from Mr. Randall that I am to have the pleasure of helping to complete the punishment I began moh than a year ago on the destroyer of this family's happiness. I allude, suh, to the notorious Cameo Kirby."

"The ball I put through Kirby's right lung, suh, was the result of my indignation foh others," replied Moreau. "The one I shall hope to put through his heart is foh myself. Yoh family's plan foh disposing of the scoundrel has my entire approval, suh. I have the honor to tell yoh that Cameo Kirby's continued existence has achieved this importance. It has become an annoyance to me—Colonel Jacques Gaspard Deschamps Moreau—and I shall wipe him from the earth."

"Let us hope so," agreed Aaron.

"Miche Larkin Bunce fo' to see de genaman what's jest come," announced old Croup, popping his head around the door and making a polite bow. Before the gentleman could arise Kirby's partner shouldered his way past the negro and strode into the room.

"Well, Moreau, I've run you down at last!" he exclaimed cynically, eying the startled gambler. "I've hunted the town for you, from the Salle de Conde to Congo square. I reckon you know who I come from."

Moreau, momentarily staggered, quickly recovered his wonted composure. His immediate task was to get rid of Aaron before the latter was in possession of any plain truths—truths with which the overheated Bunce seemed to be bursting.

"Mr. Randall," he said politely and with no evidence of haste, "my business with this gentleman is private. Might I beg of you"—

"He kin stay for all I care," interrupted Kirby's partner.

"Not at all, not at all," apologized Aaron. "The house is yours, sir," he added, turning to his honored guest. With another bow, which this time included Mr. Bunce, he hastily left the room.

"Seemed kinder anxious to git him out o' the way," commented the intruder after a moment's silence. "I reckon you didn't hardly calkilate on Gene Kirby's turning up here in Noo Orleans just about now. I reckon if you had you might have stayed hid in Mexico."

"I don't think you will no more," replied Bunce laconically. "You know, Jack, what I admire about you is the impidence a good skeer puts into you. You're so skeered of Kirby's getting you you've got the impidence to be here with the Randall family because you think it's the last place he'd look for you."

"Well?" demanded Moreau.

"Yes; he's pretty well again, and he's waiting for you, colonel. He don't know these folks, and he don't care what they think of him. It's you he's after, and I guess you wouldn't exactly like him to have a talk with Tom Randall. That's where I've got you. You've got to meet Kirby yourself 'stead o' waiting for this young Randall to try it for you. You've got sense enough to know that. If Tom went you might have both of them after you."

"I suppose," said the other suavely, "you mean I may hope for a settlement of my affairs with Kirby?"

"Oh, you bet you can hope," chuckled Bunce. "When I left Gene two hours ago I said I'd find you for him. He went to the 'dueling oaks'—you know them—and will there for you. He'll be at the fur end—alone. You go into the grove at this end—alone. After you've seen each other shoot when you please. Do you understand?"

"Tell him I'll be there," said Moreau grimly.

On Bunce's departure Colonel Moreau, with his usual amiable manner and native regard for the truth, acquainted Aaron and Tom Randall with the sudden alteration in his plans, adding that for the present he must defer his meeting with the ladies.

"Foh this," he concluded, producing his Derringer, "means an appointment I cannot decline. We dispense with seconds, foh, already having had one encounter, we are permitted to meet alone. Gentlemen, I see yoh have guessed the truth. The fact is I am going to relieve yoh of the annoyance a certain plan might have occasioned yoh. I have just received word that Cameo Kirby is awaiting me now at the dueling oaks. We show our weapons on sight, and this time I shall kill him."

"DO ME THE FAVOR OF USING THIS."

"No, by God, you don't! I claim that right!" cried Tom. "Our plan is bad! I never liked it anyway. They kept me from going out after him yesterday. Now he's where I can get him"—

"This quarrel is between Kirby and myself, suh," sharply interrupted Moreau. "The message was to me."

"I take it off your hands," exclaimed Tom, laughing wildly. "It's mine by right, and I claim it. Thank God, in half an hour I can look my family in the face without shame, and Adele will at last take off her mourning."

"I repeat, suh," returned Moreau, with quiet finality, "that this is my affair. I regard it as an execution. I cannot and will not permit any interference on yoh part. Merely tell the ladies that I was delayed and will follow on horseback later. And kindly take charge of my portmanteau."

Sullenly realizing the other's fixity of purpose, the boy turned to his saddlebags, from which he produced a silver mounted pistol. White faced and trembling with passion, he handed it to the colonel. "At least," he said, with an effort at dignity and self composure, "do me the favor of using this instead of your own. Since my father's death I have always carried it. It belonged to him and is the one that scoundrel caused him to turn upon himself."

RHEUMATISM AND COMMON SENSE

Father Morriscy's No. 7 Eliminates the Uric Acid.

Many treatments will relieve the aches and pains of rheumatism, but there is only one way to cure that dread disease. The common sense method is to remove the cause, and the effects will soon disappear.

Rheumatism is caused, as is well known, by the failure of the kidneys to perform their intended work of filtering the uric acid out of the blood and eliminating it from the body through the bladder. When the kidneys go on strike, the uric acid is carried to the joints and tissues, where it causes stiffening of the muscles, and the excrutiating pains of rheumatism.

Father Morriscy, the learned priest-physician, after much research devised a prescription which would act directly on the kidneys, and by toning them up to vigorous action, cause them to clear the system of the uric acid. This remedy, known as No. 7, has been used successfully in thousands of cases.

Father Morriscy's Liniment will bring relief from the effects of rheumatism, while his No. 7 Tablets will get to work on the cause and in due time cure the disease.

Why suffer from this painful and troublesome affliction, when by using the common sense methods originated by Father Morriscy and successfully followed for years, it is possible to aid Nature to restore you to health?

If you are not yourself rheumatic, you doubtless know of some one who is, and who would be glad to learn of a treatment which has such a consistent record of cures. It is easy to take and sure to benefit and ultimately cure rheumatism. 50c. a box, at your dealer's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., 99 Montreal, Que.

LIVERPOOL, May 20.—Wheat opened easy, unchanged to 3d lower. Prospects point lower. Further general rains were reported in Russia, with rain in Roumania and crop conditions thruout Europe generally improved this bearishness. Notwithstanding this the market displayed a steady undertone, and toward the close there was some covering, which caused a steadier feeling and prices unchanged to 3-8d lower than yesterday. Corn declined ⅛d on opening and further lost ⅛d during the morning on a poor spot demand and very small enquiry for parcels.

CHICAGO, May 20.—With a change to showery and cooler weather, conditions favored the bear side to-day in wheat. There was a good deal of caution, tho, about unduly pressing sales. When the pit was cleared prices were left 1-4 lower to 3-8 up. Corn showed a net decline of 1-4 to 3-8 to 1-2, and oats 1-8 to 1-4. Provisions in the end varied from last night's figures to 15c off.

C.P.R. Increases Wages.

Winnipeg, May 20.—In the Canadian Pacific Railway's freight sheds here the truckers, storemen and checkers will receive an all-round increase in wages at once, the raise being given voluntarily by the company. There are about five hundred men who will benefit by the increase. The rates paid previously were 18 1-2c. per hour to truckers or porters, and $52.50 per month to checkers. The pay to truckers is raised now to 20c. per hour. Checkers will now receive $55 per month for the first six months and then $57.50 for another six months, which will later be increased to $60 and after two years to $65. The previous maximum was $60.

Control Over Cable Rates.

London, May 20.—In the course of a statement in the House of Commons concerning the postoffice appropriations, Postmaster-General Samuel announced that he had arranged to obtain some control over cablegram rates from now on by the insertion of a clause in the licenses of cablegram companies, giving the Government power to protest against excessive rates, and, in cases of dispute, to refer the matter to impartial arbitration.

The cable companies had agreed, the Postmaster-General said, to reduce by 50 per cent. their rates on telegrams, written in plain language, which are liable to delay not exceeding 24 hours.

A Difference of Opinion.

Kingston, May 20.—The stonecutters have agreed to the proposal of arbitration. The masons, however, persist in their contention that they have no dispute with the stonecutters, but that they have an agreement with the mason contractors, whereby they are given authority to do work on the Nicol building, which is in dispute. This they are agreeable to taking the matter up with the contractors, but not with the stonecutters.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone in The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

JOLIETTE, P.Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder.

He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life". 46

NO JULES MOTOR COMPANY FACTORY FOR THIS CITY

Representatives of Company Are Busy in Trenton

$6,000 Worth of Stock Subscribed at First Meeting

There will be no Jules Motor Company factory in Peterboro. The representatives who visited this city and made known their proposition at a public meeting held in the City Council chambers, and who remained in the city, in an endeavor to secure subscriptions for stock, to the amount of $20,000, are now located in Trenton, and that town has made a bid for the industry.

Local people, took stock said to be in the neighborhood of $2,000, but apparently the representatives of the company, had visions of more encouraging fields.

At Trenton, they put before a large meeting, the same proposition as was given here, but later reduced the $20,000 to a minimum of $10,000 in lieu of the town submitting a by-law to loan the firm another $10,000 or $15,000 or guarantee their bonds to that amount. At the meeting, $6,000 of the requisite $10,000 was signed for by different people.

Local people who took stock, did so, on the understanding that the factory would be located here.

LAID TO REST

A large number of citizens as well as representatives of St. Peter's T.A.S. attended the funeral of the late John Donovan, which took place yesterday from his late residence, McDonnel Street.

At St. Peter's cathedral, high requiem mass was sung, after which the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. John and Napoleon Trombley, J. Burns, M. E. Tanguay, G. Donovan and T. J. Dorris.

The funeral of the late Edward Keher Dolan took place at 9 o'clock this morning, from McFadden's undertaking rooms, to St. Peter's cathedral, thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

ENTERTAINED

Pleasant Evening Spent at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson entertained the St. James' Brotherhood, and Mr. Goodwin's Young Ladies' class, on Friday evening. Mr. Fred. Howarth opened with a piano solo, and the Rev. J.G. Brown, as chairman of the first part of the program, commenced with an address on bachelors but finished on church work. Mr. H. Turner sang "Alice where art thou." Miss Bacon gave a recitation on the helplessness of men, which was much appreciated. Charlie Barritt gave a fine rendering of that well known song "Hear the Pipers Calling." An interval followed when refreshments were served. Mr. Goodwin opened the second part of the program with the best speech of the evening, and Messrs Hobson, Bedworth and Lee, gave songs in their well known style. A speech from Mr. Prest was much appreciated and Miss Leader gave a fine recitation. Mr. B. Leader was down for a song, but as he had hurt his wrist playing football, he couldn't sing, so Mr. W. McLaren gave a fine imitation of a German conjurer (given under difficulties.) Mr. G.H. Wilford rendered "The Old Brigade" in fine style and the evening's entertainment was brought to a close by a hearty vote of thanks, and three cheers for the host and hostess.

GET READY!

To-day Globe says: The Government and the Liberal majority in Parliament, confident that reciprocity commands the support of the country as a whole, are not disposed to let the Opposition hold up the Government's program any longer than is absolutely necessary to justify a prompt appeal to the country, and the word has gone out that the Liberal members are to perfect their organization at once, and be ready for a sudden election if need be at any time after the House meets again. Election literature, with reciprocity as the main theme, is now being prepared by both sides, and as the members' postal franks are good during the recess, it will be sent out in huge volume from Ottawa during the next two months.

BAD CUT BELOW KNEE

Accident to Alfred Johns at Woodland Cheese Factory

Alfred Johns, carpenter, met with a painful accident at the Woodland cheese factory near Campbellford, on Saturday, when a drawing knife, which he was using, slipped and cut his leg below the knee.

Johns was doing some work repairing at the factory when the accident occurred. He was brought to Peterborough via G.T.R. and taken to the Nicholls Hospital in Belleghem's private ambulance where Dr. Frederick attended the injury, nine stitches being necessary to sew up the wound.

Go to McDermid & Jury's for a Kodak or Camera. They have the largest stock in town to choose from.

HAT CLEANING AT YEOTES' BROS.

Ladies' and Gents' Straws Made New Again

Now that the burning sun and the hot weather are here with a vengeance, the indispensable straw and Panama is being resurrected, and if it is a last year's, it will likely be made to do duty for another summer. No doubt it has received a coating of dust during the winter months, and looks a few shades darker than when new. If you want the straw to take on that bright new appearance, so desirable, just drop into Yeotes Bros.' hat cleaning parlors on George street, and in a very few moments it will assume the appearance of a new hat. The average straw hat should last more than one year and the touching up it receives at the hands of Yeotes Bros. will give you a hat that you need have no qualms over it not being thoroughly clean and dressy.

Yeotes Bros. have received a complete line of hat cleaning blocks from Montreal, and are in first-class shape to cater to all orders in that line, in both ladies' and gentlemen's straws.

THE GREAT CALL FROM THE WEST

Rev. Mr. Farewell B. A. at Charlotte Street Church

Rev. Mr. Farewell, B.A., Field Secretary of the Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools, occupied the pulpit of Charlotte street Methodist church at both services on Sunday.

In the evening his sermon took the form of a plea for the betterment of the national life of Canada, for the purifying of public life and for the extending of more united efforts to bring the western problem to a successful solution. The speaker explained that the next quarter of a century the West would require 20,000 ministers and missionaries, and over 60,000 teachers.

Rev. Mr. Farewell also referred to the importance and influence of a well conducted and moral Christian life, upon those with whom we associate.

"There are many evils existing in cities of which those who live in rural sections are ignorant," he said. How to rid ourselves of these evils was a momentous and difficult question.

He also dwelt briefly on the immigration problem, and how the incoming thousands, especially those from the central parts of Europe might be brought under the influence of Christianity and be made respectable and loyal residents of Canada.

The service was made very interesting in the evening by the presence of a male choir. A rousing chorus entitled, "Onward Christian Soldiers," was given by them with vim and excellent precision.

A solo contributed by R. F. Downie was rendered most effectively, and in a manner that exhibited the pleasing and impressive qualities of his voice to splendid advantage.

A quartette, composed of Messrs. Lee, Fleming, Downie and Skitch, also gave a selection, which was greatly enjoyed.

FIRST SERVICES IN CONNECTION WITH MISSION

Prof. J. J. Lowe at St. Paul's Church — Meetings This Week

Prof. J. J. Lowe of Toronto, occupied the pulpit in St. Paul's church yesterday both morning and evening and his preaching was plain, inspiring and most convincing. He will be at St. Paul's Church during the week, conducting evangelistic services in the afternoons and evenings.

The services in the afternoon commencing at 4.15 o'clock, will be mostly for children. Prof. Lowe has employed a method in his services of great value, namely of presenting his topics by means of large Biblical pictures and paintings, and he has found it to be of material assistance in securing and holding the attention of his audience.

His text at the morning service in St. Paul's, on Sunday, was taken from John 9, 4th verse, "I must do the works of him that sent me for the night cometh when no man can work."

"The words of the text," commenced the speaker, "give us a glimpse of the great consuming passion of Jesus do the works of Christ. It was the dominating purpose of his life. Every follower of Jesus Christ should be an imitator of Him. He should be our pattern and example. It is a dreadful thing to see a life lost here in the world, but it is even more terrible to see a life lost through sin, and go down to eternal death."

"The work of Christ must be done it is day. Opportunities are coming to us every day. Sometimes we seize them and often we let them go by. Have you ever been prompted to speak to someone about their soul, or have you formulated some excuse when the opportunity came and let the chance slip by? If so, God will hold you responsible for those things you failed to do.

"The night cometh when no man can work." Are the shadows of life falling around some of us now? Soon our sun will set and does the feeling bring with it any dread or sorrow? If it does the only relief is to trust Christ fully.

"What are we doing for the Master? You mothers in the homes, are your children saved? You fathers are you so occupied with business that you neglect God completely, and are not prepared for the Eternal?"

"It is one of the most important things," concluded the speaker, "that we should do our utmost for the salvation of these around us."

FOUR NEW GUNS FOR THE BATTERY

Are Eighteen Pound Quick Firing and of Latest Type

Four eighteen-pound quick-firing guns for the 24th Field Battery, C.F.A., have arrived from Halifax, and they were taken to the armories today. The guns will be taken to Petawawa on June 12th, where the Battery goes into training for sixteen days. Recruiting for men and horses is now going on at the armories on Tuesdays and Fridays.

The new guns are of the latest type, and are very much superior to those used in the past. There is no recoil on a discharge, and the one sight is maintained.

NEW PLAYERS FOR THE S. A. BAND

Two Trombone and One Cornet Soloists—Concert To-night

The S. A. band has again had a strong addition made to its ranks in the arrival of three more bandsmen all of whom are first-class players. Bandsman Sanford, who is an expert trombone soloist, has played with the Chalk Farm Band of London, England, the largest and reputed by many to be the S. A. premier band. He has also played with Toronto Temple Band, New York, Staff Band, and Winnipeg Silver Band, and has come to Peterborough to make his home here. Bandsman Deaken is also a trombone player. He has played in Windsor and Hamilton Bands and is a young bandsman of promise.

Bandsman Powl arrived in the city on Saturday night from Toronto. As a cornet soloist he played with Chalk Farm Band for some years and the fame of Peterborough band drew him to the Electric City. He will be a valuable help to the cornet section. This brings the band's number up to 37 players. The band and songsters are giving a musical program to-night. The program:

Opening song, prayer, Bible reading.
March—"Austria," Band.
Vocal solo—"A Song of the Ocean," S. B. Moyns.
Selection—"Songs of Early Days," Band.
Part song.
Cornet solo—"Columbia," Deputy B.-M. Ford.
Selection—"Mercy," Band.
Part song—Brigade.
Trombone solo—"Home, Sweet Home," Bandsman Sandford.
Recitation—"Brown's Conversion," Bandsman Gray.
March—"Old Times," Band.
Quartette—"Far Away," Band quartette.
Hymn—"Tallis Evening Hymn," Band.
Benediction.
March—"The U.S.A." Band.
William H. Peryer, bandmaster.
Albert E. Moyns, songster leader.
Pearl Payton, organist.

FIRST COMMUNION AT THE SACRED HEART CHURCH

To Large Number of Girls and Boys of the Parish

At the Sacred Heart church yesterday first communion was administered to children of the parish, to to the number of about one hundred and seventy-five. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, assisted by Father McCauley. In the morning the boys marched in procession into the church at the 8.30 mass. At three o'clock in the afternoon both girls and boys assembled in the church again, where they made a renewal of their baptismal promises, the boys making an act of consecration to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the girls enrolling in a society under the patronage of the Blessed Virgin.

The Kaiser, with a companion, visited London Zoo yesterday. London is treating him cordially.

Y.M.C.A., ALL SAINTS' AND ST. JAMES' WERE WINNERS

Good Football in Church League—Park St. Lost Again

At Riverside Park Saturday afternoon the Y.M.C.A. eleven took the game from the Park Street aggregation by the score of 5 to 1.

The Park St. team have not won a game in the series, and only scored their third goal Saturday, tallying the other two a week ago against St. John's.

The game started at a fast clip, and the speed was kept up throughout in spite of the sweltering sun.

The absence of "Doc" McPherson, "Percy" Fitzgerald, Hampton and Adams on the "Y" back division made their stock drop considerably at the opening period, but with "Doc" Williamson and "Jim" Dorris on the line, in form, the Park Street forwards were unable to get very close in for a shot, their only goal being scored on a corner kick. Both backs played a great defence game.

FIRST HALF.

With the ball in Park St. territory most of the time, the Y.M.C.A. defence relieving nicely, and the forwards lying well up the field, it was not long before the shots were coming pretty regularly at Webb. Bowness scored the first goal on a nice rush, in which his team-mates took part, passing unselfishly all the time. He also registered the second, when he rushed Webb, who kicked the ball against him, with the result that the former returned it into the goal.

Shortly before half-time Park St. scored their only goal on a well handled corner kick, which was placed in front of the "Y" goal and went through in the scrimmage.

SECOND HALF.

During the second half it was a matter of how many times the "Y" would score, as the Baptists seldom forced the play out of their territory. The George St. forwards played sterling combination throughout, sometimes missing chances to shoot in an effort to be sociable. The first goal of this half was secured by Ingram on a rebound, while Miller and Lane added one each before the game was called.

The teams were—

Y.M.C.A.—Goal, Fleming; backs, Dr. Williamson, James Dorris; halves, Moore, Tarte, Flowers; forwards, Ingram, Miller, Canniff, Lane and Bowness.

ALL SAINTS' 2, ST. JOHN'S 1.

The game between St. John's and All Saints', played on the ground of the former club, proved to be a hard fought contest. Owing to the absence of their goalkeeper St. John's were compelled to play a man short. The absentee was replaced by one of their leading half backs, and it will readily be seen this was a case of hard luck. At half time the Saints had scored two goals, and then, St. John's reserve turning up, the team played full strength for the rest of the game, during which they scored one goal, the Saints failing to score again. The final score was All Saints 2, St. John's 1.

ST. JAMES 8; KNOX 3.

St. James defeated Knox football club at the exhibition grounds on Saturday by 8—3. The game opened in a sensational manner, Turner scoring the first goal for St. James two minutes after the kick off. St. James continued the pressure, but Knox broke away, and before anyone knew what had happened, they had equalized. Gash scored the second goal for St. James with a fine shot that gave Knox goal keeper no chance, and Wag Hotston, after a pretty bit of dribbling, added another. But Knox weren't a little bit downhearted. They went out for goals, and kept pegging away in a workmanlike manner till their efforts were rewarded by another goal. This livened up the Saints, and led by Turner, they raced down the field; at the proper moment Turner passed to Gash, who tricked two opponents and banged another through. Knox players wasted a lot of valuable breath arguing with the referee but Fred Harris knows the game, and he ignored several obviously frivolous appeals. The Saints spoiled several pretty bits of play by the forwards being too far up the field, the result being that they were offside a few times. Bleakley of the Saints had to retire owing to the sun and half time arrived as a welcome relief to both sides. Half time score, St. James, 4; Knox, 2.

SECOND HALF.

After the start Knox were very dangerous, particularly their left wing, but little David played his usual steady game, clearing and occasionally dribbling in a cool, steady way, and when Knox scored again it wasn't his fault, but a misunderstanding between Phil Braun and Bert Leader. St. James woke up again and though Knox tried hard, they didn't get another chance. The Saints put four more goals through the Knox goal posts, E. Hotston scoring the fifth, Gash the sixth, Wag Hotston the seventh, and Bleakley the eighth. Knox put up a good game, their goal keeper bringing off some very good saves. Had his backs helped him better the score would have been less but the team rely too much on individual efforts, and a little more combination will have better results. Anyhow, they put three goals up against St. James', and no other church league team has done that. Though St. James' were without the services of Yates (who still has the Y.M.C.A. boot marks on his legs) A. Newton and Hodson they were easily the better team. Gribb and Braun played a fine game, both men being in good form. Sparrow improves every time, while J. Newton and Sandiford held their men well. Turner at centre played his usual unselfish game, passing out when a more selfish man would try for individual scoring. Gash is a dribbler of the highest order, and he well deserved his three goals. The Hotstons played as usual, and though Bleakley was called upon at the last minute, he played hard and well. There is some talk about St. James meeting "the team of All the Saints" on Wednesday. If so, the All Saints' ground will be a good place to spend the holiday afternoon. Line-up:

St. James—Leader, Gribb, Braun, Sandiford, J. Newton, Sparrow, Wag Hotston, Bleakley, Turner, Gash and Hotston.

Mr. Fred Harris as referee gave every satisfaction.

ST. JOHN'S, ATTENTION!

A special meeting of St. John's Football Club will be held to-night 7.30 o'clock. Every member is expected to attend, at there is some important business to transact. P. Webb, secretary.

GAME ON THE HOLIDAY.

All Saints' and St. James' meet on Monday morning at nine o'clock, in what promises to be a great game. The two teams lead the league and will no doubt play fast football.

BETHANY LOST AT HAVELOCK

Score Was 2-1 for Homesters Who Are Very Strong

Bethany Midland football leaguers found the pace too hard at Havelock on Saturday, and although Delong scored the only goal of the first half, the railway town eleven came back after the resting period and scored twice. Havelock had on their lineup five of the members of the champion team of 1909, and the Lancaster bunch look as strong as ever.

The game was fast and clean throughout, and to the fair-sized crowd was interesting every minute. Vare and Soden of the homesters kicked the goals in the second half. Good rushes and combination work was noticeable on the part of both teams, and as a result the goal-keepers had a busy afternoon. Ernie Brumwell handled the whistle in a satisfactory manner to both teams.

The teams were—

Havelock—Goal, L. Stewart; backs, H. Andrews, W. Shepherdson; halves, C. Waters, Dr. Kindred, W. McMillan; right wing, W. Hitchens, W. Soden; left wing, W. Vare, T. P. Lancaster; centre, R. Doran.

Bethany—Goal, W. Hannah; backs, W. Price, E. Morton; halves, J. Staples, C. Brereton, H. Bigelow; right wing, A. Benger, J. Boggs; left wing, M. Sherin, A. DeLong; centre, L. Kennedy.

C.G.E. DEFEAT LAKEFIELD

In Midland League Football by Score of 2-1

In a Midland League fixture played in Lakefield on Saturday, the C.G.E. managed to uphold their reputation by defeating Lakefield by 2 goals to 1. Although it did not start till 7.15 o'clock the game was robbed of speed owing to the tremendous heat. Lakefield won the toss and played uphill. On the kick Miller set Corless going and a corner resulted. From this play was transferred to midfield, when from a rally Dawson went down on the left and passed to centre where Miller scored after 5 minutes.

Dodds and Cullan showed form and took the ball within shooting distance. The latter shot and Jones just managed to turn the ball round the post for a corner. Midfield play was the rule until half time, with the C.G.E. leading 1—0.

SECOND HALF.

In the second half French and Miller had no luck with their shots, but after Bell had tested Jones, Hall set the forward away, only to see Miller beat Rowe for No. 2. After this Lakefield pressed hard, the forwards combining, with the result that Cullans shot. McNamee tried to save, but the ball glanced off his foot through the goal. Shortly after time was called.

The following were the teams:

Lakefield—Rowe, Mitchell, White, Stapler, Hill, Moore, Bell, Johnson, Cullan, Dodds A. Moher.

HAMILTON, Ont. May 20.—In a prolonged game, Knotty Lee's Mountaineers this afternoon put it over the St. Thomas bunch of ball tossers by a score of 18 to 8. Hight covered the club for the visitors for the first four innings and allowed seven hits before he was replaced by Eastey, who had 14 hits chalked up against him. Keating started in to pitch for Hamilton, but after mowing down the Saints up to the sixth innings, he gave way to Kolseth, who pitched a steady game. Twenty hundred happy fans saw the game. SCIATICA

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

CURED SIX YEARS

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 50 cents per bottle, trial size, 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

HIS DOLLAR BILL

He Tried to Bestow It In Charity, but It Went Astray.

Diplomacy doesn't always work, as a certain kind hearted business man in West Philadelphia has just found out. He says that the lesson was cheap at the price, but at the same time he will employ more direct methods next time he wishes to play the philanthropist.

It happened on the subway the other night. He had just closed a real estate deal at considerable profit and was feeling very generous, so when he saw a poor woman in a threadbare dress carefully count out five pennies for her ticket and saw that it was the last money in her worn pocketbook he determined to help her. Of course it wasn't easy, but the man prides himself upon being a diplomat. So, crumpling a dollar bill up in his hand, he stooped over as if picking something up and then, holding it out to the woman, said:

"Madam, here is some money you dropped." He tried to smile significantly as he said it, but she didn't seem to understand and said simply:

"Tain't mine."

"You'd better take it," he said. "It isn't mine, and it was lying right by you."

The woman shook her head at first, then took it slowly out of his hand and looked at it gloatingly. The man smiled, well pleased with himself, but an instant later the woman, seeing a man looking down at the platform, rushed up and cried, "Was you looking for a dollar bill?"

"I sure was," answered the man promptly.

"Well, here it is," said the woman, and the man with a delighted "Oh, thanks!" calmly pocketed the sum and walked away.—Philadelphia Times.

Acquitted.

St. Catharines, May 20.—In acquitting James Bohen, Frank Tracey, James Everett and William Cox of a charge of abduction yesterday afternoon, Judge Carman administered a strong rebuke, telling them that they escaped punishment because the child wavered in her evidence. Their own stories, he added, were sufficient to show their character. In dismissing them he complimented them on their luck, as he had intended to be severe, and to give Bohen, who is the oldest of the men, the full limit of the law, five years.

Fire did $300,000 damage in the Salem, Mass., leather manufacturing district last night.

SHOW PROGRESS OF BRITISH EMPIRE

s the Idea of Great Exposition to be Held at Time of the Coronation—Other Plans

The Festival of Empire, with which England's King and Queen will greet visitors in a great "at home," will be held at the Crystal Palace, a vast structure which has been elaborately decorated at a cost of over a million dollars. This celebration will be what the name implies—an exposition showing the progress of the British Empire from earliest historic times till the present day. Among the many features of this interesting exhibit will be the first Imperial concert which will perform twice a day during the whole course of the show, entertaining, it is estimated, between twelve and fifteen thousand people, daily. These concerts will be preceded and followed by pageants in which every phase of teeming British life will be shown, from dustmen and drapers to Dukes and Duchesses, thus exploiting what is confidently expected to be the greatest social organization ever held in England. On June 19th, the actual Coronation festivities, so far as the royal court are concerned, will begin with a great reception and ball in Buckingham Palace, ending on the last day of the month, when the Court will go to Windsor. On June 20th, their Majesties will again entertain the foreign representatives at Buckingham Palace, and in the evening the State banquet will be held. On June 21st, their Majesties will receive the Colonial Premiers and other representatives, and this event will be followed by a dinner given by the Duke of Connaught. June 22nd will be taken up with the actual Coronation ceremony at Westminster Abbey, after which the Royal Family will dine alone. On the day following there will be a public procession headed by their Majesties, through South London. On the 24th, the Royal party will proceed to Spithead, where they will hold a naval review; probably spending the week end on the Royal yacht. On the 26th and 29th, respectively, King George and Queen Mary will attend a gala performance at the theatre and special services at St. Paul's Cathedral, afterwards lunching at the Guildhall. July 8-12th, the Royal couple will journey to Ireland and on the 13th will attend the ceremonies attendant upon the investiture of their son, the Prince of Wales, at Carnarvon Castle, terminating the long list of Royal activities with the dedication of University College, July 14th, and the laying of the corner-stone of the Welsh National Library at Aberstwyh, on July 5th.

A GREAT DIRECTOR

Of Music is Mr. Thomas Beecham—A Story Lately Told

I am glad to note that Mr. Thomas Beecham has been appointed one of the Covent Garden Opera directors. His services should be invaluable; probably there is no man alive who has done more yeoman service for English music. The son of the proprietor of "Beecham's Pills," he is one of the wealthiest men in town, and spends his money with a generous hand, says a writer.

An assuming instance of this came under my notice the other day. I am informed by a friend that last October Beecham and he were walking down Regent Street. The morning was unexpectedly warm, and the celebrated conductor, who was therefore carrying his overcoat upon his arm, continually chafed at the inconvenience this caused him. At last he decided upon action, and roared out "Taxi!" In a moment one was at his side. With a sigh of relief, Beecham threw his coat on to the seat. Then he addressed the driver. "Chauffeur," he said, "just follow my friend and me slowly as we walk down Oxford Street."

The spectacle must have been truly magnificent!

CLOTHES OF KINGS

Were Kept at Great Wardrobe—A Church's History

St. Andrew's-by-the-Wardrobe, for the restoration of which the rector appeals, is a conspicuous way-mark in Queen Victoria Street, London, and derives a grotesque distinguishing title from former proximity to the King's Great Wardrobe. This was originally the town mansion of Sir John Beauchamp, and purchased from his executors by Edward III. for the keepers of the King's apparel. "There were kept," says Fuller, "the ancient clothes of our English Kings which they wore on great festivals." Shakespeare in his will left to his daughter Susannah, [illegible] The present Church of St. Andrew's-by-the-Wardrobe was rebuilt by Wren after the Great Fire, and became the City centre of the Evangelical revival under William Romaine.

PRICES OF HOGS

Slightly Higher in Canada Than the States, Tariff Experts Say

As the result of a thorough investigation into the prices of hogs in Canada and the United States by a Board of Tariff Experts, under the direction of the United States Tariff Board at Washington, whose report was embodied in Senate document No. 849, and presented to Congress by President Taft in March last, the following statement was made: "Prices of swine are slightly higher in Canada than in the United tates. In our Eastern border States—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and New York—they range from $10.00 to $11.50 per head; and in the Central border States the range is about the same. In the Western border States the range of prices is from $10.40 to $11.10 per head. In the great agricultural States of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, prices of swine vary little from those already quoted. In Eastern Canada the range of swine prices is from $10 to $13 per head, and in Western Canada from $12 to $18. The highest American price is $11.80 per head in Wisconsin, as against the highest Canadian price of $13 a head, which is quoted for Quebec, Manitoba and Saskatchewan."

Not long after the issuing of the above statement the Canadian authority published the following table of hog prices, which prove the same contention as that held by the United States Tariff Board:

ON THE DOWN GRADE

New York Evening Post Comments on Staple Prices

Whatever else may be said of the season's very remarkable movement of staple prices, one thing is certain—a supply of grain and provisions in excess of consumptive requirements certainly confronts the trade at present. How long it will last, and how much lower prices will go, is the problem everyone in the trade is trying to fathom.

Conditions are now pretty clearly the reverse of those prevailing in past years. Having completed its cycle of high prices, the history of market averages is repeating itself and values seem to be working to a generally lower level. How low they will go before the bottom is reached is costing the trade a lot of money to determine. Some speculators have lost as much money buying on declines, under the belief that the break had reached the limit, as they made on the upturn.

There is a surplus of grain and provisions the world over; that is evident. Should there be no material damage to the growing wheat crop, a still lower level of prices is anticipated, notwithstanding the fact that there has been a drop of 30 cents in wheat from the high point of the season, while corn is off 20 cents and oats 13½ cents. Pork has dropped over $5 a barrel, lard 2½ cents a pound and short ribs 2 cents, and hogs over $4 per hundred from the high point of last year. Hay has declined over $5 a ton, butter nearly 10 cents a pound, and eggs over 10 cents a dozen. All the inflation is out of the prices of farm products, and if there are to be further declines, it is expected by the best judges of market conditions that they will be gradual.

THE FARMERS' SIDE

Writing on the prospects of freer trade between Canada and the United States, the commercial editor of the Chicago Tribune points out as follows, the relative advantages to be gained by the farmers on either side of the border:

"Foodstuffs can be grown in both the United States and Canada. This country, thanks to its greater area of cultivable land and its much larger number of farmers—12 to 1—is much the larger producer. . . . If it were a question of the farmers of one country capturing the markets and driving out of business the farmers of the other, those of Canada would be routed in the unequal contest. . . . The American farmer does not realize the extent to which those duties have closed the Canadian markets against him. As it is he sells some of his potatoes, onions, hay, etc., to the Canadians. They are, indeed, off and on more liberal purchasers of American farm products than we are of theirs. With the duties removed they would buy more. Consider the farmer as a fruit grower. The reciprocity agreement sweeps away the Canadian duties on the apples of New York, the peaches of Delaware, the apricots of California, and the melons of Georgia, and the strawberries of Louisiana and Illinois. The market gardeners of this country from Florida to Vermont would be gainers by Reciprocity. They are surplus products of the American farmer which he has to find a market for in Europe or South America. He could find one in Canada were it not for the Canadian duties."

AVERAGE PRICES OF FARM STOCK

Statements Showing the Rapid Increase in the Live Stock Industry in Canada

The total value of live stock on the farms of Canada in 1910 was $593,768,000, which was $34,979,000 more than in 1909. The price per head of horses was $130.72 in 1910, of milch cows $42.60 against $36.36, of other cattle $30.90 against $28.81, and of sheep $6 against $5.89. Swine alone showed a drop in average price, being $11.30 per head against $11.80. The total value of horses was $293,398,000 for last year against $278,789,000 for 1909, of milch cows $126,613,000 against $103,601,000, of other cattle $131,781,000 against $127,326,000, and of sheep $15,819,000 against $15,735,000. The value of swine fell from $34,368,000 in 1909 to $31,157,000 in 1910.

The highest average price of horses was in Saskatchewan, of milch cows, other horned cattle and sheep in Ontario, and of swine in Quebec. Horses three years old and over reached the highest price in British Columbia, where the average was $225. Swine per 100 pounds live weight ranged from $6.50 in Manitoba to $9.62 in Quebec. The price of unwashed wool was 18 cents in 1910 and 17 cents in 1909 and of washed wool 24 cents for each year. These are the figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

When the Western Canadian farmers waited upon the Dominion Government in December, their leaders presented certain statistics representing their financial position. Mr. F. W. Green, for instance, referred to "The vast aggregate wealth represented by this delegation. Each member of the western part of it we estimate has half a section of land valued with its equipment at, at least, $10,000. There are 30,000 in our Western organizations which means an investment of $300,000,000. If, as our friendly rivals declare, we are only 25 per cent. of the Western farmers, we would represent the enormous aggregate wealth of $1,200,000,000."

"If we reflect that the farmers who are here (Ottawa) from the Western prairies," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his reply, "and those whom they represent have been in the West, in their present homes, not more, on the average, than twenty years, we cannot but think that to have accumulated wealth to the amount of $300,000,000, does not argue a very bad condition of things at all. And if we reflect that the actual accumulated wealth of all the farmers of the Western prairies is $1,500,000,000, I still repeat that although things are not as good as they might be, they are not so very bad."

INDUSTRIAL TRUSTS

Former Ontario Residents Tell of Their Injurious Effect in the United States

Mr. John M. Downie, a resident in Ontario a few years ago, but now a broker in San Francisco, wrote to the St. Thomas Times recently, showing the injurious effect upon the United States of the large industrial trusts. Mr. Downie said:

"I could cite a half dozen instances of the ruinous workings of the trusts right here in San Francisco. If it was not for the United States Steel Trust and other big trusts, this town would be 25 per cent. better off than it is. The Union Iron Works, a few years ago, running as an independent concern, gave employment to 10,000 men in San Francisco. The United States Steel Company looked on it, saw that it was good, and proceeded to gobble it up. . . . To-day about 500 men are employed just doing repair work. That is what the trusts do to a country. Instead of having a thousand independent factories scattered all over the country helping to build up and make prosperous hundreds of different communities, they concentrate in one or two places, and make one plant do what otherwise would give employment to a dozen."

AMERICAN TRADE

Enormous Output of Manufactures Seek an Output

An examination of the trade statistics of the United States throws an interesting side light upon that country's present overtures for Reciprocity with Canada. For the nine months ending September, 1910, exports of domestic merchandise of every kind from the United States were $1,193,321,512, of which $210,490,966 were manufactures for further use in manufacturing, and $401,684,694 were manufactures ready for consumption. The sum of these two, $612,625,660, accounts for 51 per cent. of all of their exports put together. But this is not crediting the exports of manufactures with a class known as "foodstuffs, partly manufactured" which are valued at $180,159,193. If one regards this also as legitimately forming a part of the exports of manufactured goods, it means that of everything the United States exported for the nine months ending September last manufactured goods amounted to over 66 per cent.

Applying the average for the first nine months to the last three, it indicates that the exports for the year of manufactures ready for consumption and manufactures for further use in manufacturing will pass the $800,000,000 mark. This is an enormous amount for which to have to find an outlet, and underlying the present agitation in the United States for Reciprocity with Canada, is an earnest desire to open wider the markets of this country for exploitation by their manufacturers.

Montreal is to have a variety of fire apparatus.

This furnace is built to keep gas, dust and smoke out of the house.

No matter how cosy your home, an odor of gas, however slight, is unpleasant and sometimes dangerous.

The health of your whole house demands a furnace that will give pure warm air without gas or dust.

Gas cannot escape from a "Hecla" Furnace. Every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an opening has been made absolutely tight by our Patent Fused Joint.

THE FUSED JOINT

In the "Hecla" the steel slides of the radiator are fused by our patented process to the cast iron plates at the top and bottom. This process welds the steel and iron into one piece, making an inseparable joint—one that cannot spread with the heat, and one that has proven perfectly gas and dust proof, even after years of service.

"Hecla" Furnace

The "Hecla" has other safeguards against gas. The cast iron Combustion Chamber will not burn through and allow fumes from the fire to pass into the house.

The air jets in the door assure proper burning of any surplus gas.

The 'Hecla' Saves One Ton of Coal in Seven

How steel ribs added to the "Hecla" Fire Pot make this saving is told in our booklet "Comfort & Health."

NEWS FROM THE BALL LOT

Regulars Had a Good Workout With the Yannigans—Collegiates to Play Lindsay

The regulars had an easy time disposing of the yannigans at the ball lot Saturday afternoon, they being ten runs to the good around the fifth innings. No difficulty was experienced in lining up two teams as there was material galore.

* * *

Rahmal twirled against the big noise brigade and in the first innings was as wild as a pretty dame tripping o'er an oily crossing with a brand new skirt. Not a hit did he allow, yet five runners found the pan.

* * *

He walked Ahearne, hit Shaw, and passed Murphy and Quinlan, Craig the first out at first, but Bill O'Brien found a hole and he succeeded in making the fifth tally.

* * *

But Rahmal was more effective for the remainder of the game and although the regulars took four more in the second, they were connected with some corner lot muffs, on the part of the team behind him.

* * *

Stan Creswell, with his left swinger working smoothly, did't hand out any complimentaries in the five chapters and struck out five. The youngster was steady throughout and looks good for a job.

* * *

Patterson, McFadden and Phelan were handling the big mit. There is at least one good backstop in the trio, but all need lots of work.

* * *

For the difficult corner Murphy looks to be a find. Unlike some others, he behaves as a real ball player should and always in the game, he is prepared for any kind of a chance.

* * *

And speaking of third base, it is to be hoped that someone will invent a trick or else use one of the ordinary ones, by which a runner will not be permitted to ramble down to second, at the speed of a road-roller, when the odd bag is busy.

This juvenile league stunt is pulled off in the majority of cases to the grandstand, it is agony, and it doesn't bring any medals for the infield.

* * *

And probably were the fans to send a petition to the management, there would be no long halts this season on account of a shortage of the leather pellets. Numerous balls are fouled into the river and it is desirable that there be a reserve supply.

* * *

Add to news from the ball !

Every member of the Central T.A.S. baseball team is requested to attend the practice at Boswell's field to-night to get in shape for the game with the Sacred Heart church team on Saturday.

Lindsay Warder—The L.C.I. ball team are making arrangements to have the Peterborough high school play here next Saturday, the 27th and in all probability the return game will be played in Peterborough on June 3rd. The Collegiate are contemplating sending a team to Cannington for the 24th, so that they will have no lack of games for a few weeks.

Y.M.C.A. SPORT

The swimming campaign has been extended for another week, owing to the large number of boys who have taken advantage of the opportunity of learning to swim. Already there has been over 20 boys taught to swim, and this week should increase this number considerably.

To-night there will be a workout of the athletes who intend going to Belleville on May 24. The local "Y" are sending down a strong team for the Pentathlon contest, and also the senior relay race.

The football and baseball men will have a practice to-night at Riverside Park.

To-morrow afternoon the running broad jump jump and the 220-yard run will be the events on the card for the junior contest, the postponed events from last Tuesday will be run on Thursday, May 25th.

The football game scheduled for Wednesday between St. John's and Y.M.C.A. has been arranged for Thursday evening at Park Street grounds.

THISTLES PUT OUT THE LIGHTS

Score of 22-7 in First Juvenile Baseball League Game

The City Juvenile League opened at the Oval Saturday, when the Thistles trimmed the Northern Lights by the rather large score of 22—7.

The feature of the game was Huycke's twirling and Hill's work with the stick.

The "Lights" changed their battery a number of times, as their their pitchers were being hit freely, Swanson, Taylor and Murphy each taking a turn.

Batteries—

Thistles—Huycke, Cavanagh and Hill.

Lights—Swanson, Murphy and Taylor.

There are two games scheduled for this week. On May 24th Cubs and Lights play on the Oval at 10 a.m., and on May 25th Tecumsehs and Thistles are billed for Riverside Park at 4 p.m.

COUNTRY TOWN SAYINGS

BY ED. HOWE

If your liver doesn't work, you won't

Blush as much as you please, you all have kin you don't like.

The wickedness of mules is a standing joke, and you are always hearing them abused. Almost every day you see an old reliable family horse running away usually with screaming women and children in the buggy, but did you ever see a mule running away? Did you ever personally know a mule to kick anybody. The fact is, the mule works hard on light feed, and gets nothing but abuse.

A woman isn't really pleased unless she feels that she must kiss some one, and do it right away.

You are compelled to accept so many explanations that are not satisfactory.

How old must a woman be before she is able to act as her own chaperon?

When a man begins to fall over the dog, and gets cross about it, that is a sign of age.

"At any rate" said a woman, as she looked at three children under four years of age, all crying as loud as they could, "I am not an old maid."

FELL INTO WATER AT NO. 6 LOCK

Narrow Escape From Drowning of Young Lad

The presence of a number of people in canoes at No. 6 Lock, last evening, probably saved the life of a young lad named Hogan, who, in attempting to turn the wheel which regulates the hatchway, was precipitated into the water below the lower gate. He made frantic efforts to get out, but the water was over twelve feet deep, and there were cement walls on either side.

Mr. Hamilton, who works at the Peterboro Lumber Co., plant, was the first to reach the boy, and he took him away in his canoe.

The children in that vicinity are in the habit of crossing the gates, and it is a very dangerous practice, especially on windy days.

HOMESTEAD LOST

Destructive Fire at Chemong Indian Village

While the family was absent the Roberts homestead at Indian Village on Chemong Lake, was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday night. The flames which originated in the chimney, spread very rapidly, and no person being at home at the time to give the alarm, the house was burned to the ground.

A number of years ago Mr. Roberts and his two sons were drowned while crossing the channel which divides their island from the mainland.

So little enthusiasm has been excited by the draft of the arbitration agreement that the majority of the London papers ignore it editorially this morning.

The body of an unknown man was found in the Niagara River, at Queenstown.

DELAY IN LETTERS.

Warsaw, Ont., May 22, 1911.

Sir,—Can you tell me what is the matter with the Peterborough Post-office staff. It seems rather curious that letters posted in the city should take three days to reach such places that have the mail direct from Peterborough by carriers, with Peterborough as a distributing centre. It might be as well if that new staff that was taken on after the change of post-masters be brightened up a little. It is very annoying to have letters which are often important, delayed in this way by careless, ineffective clerks.

Thanking you for your valuable space.

I am, etc.,

WATCH THE RIVER.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Let the ratepayers watch the supply of water in the Otonabee this summer and they will be better able to form an opinion as to the propriety of going in for a half-million-dollar power policy at the city's expense. The experience of the last tow years is that the river power has been greatly overestimated. The supply of water is not here now as it used to be, whatever the reason is. Trenton has voted for a $1,500,000 concern, and others, but not to give them a loan, only a fixed assessment. Loans help the promoters to sell stock on the city's credit, but it is difficult to see what other purpose they are intended for.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

Peterborough, May 22, 1911.

FOREIGNERS GET PREFERENCE.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I would respectfully call attention to the different kind of treatment accorded to life-long citizens and heavy tax-payers for years and that given to newly arrived foreigners. Right in the heart of George street a restaurant operated by two foreigners is having a wood frame cookhouse erected to the rear off the public alley. This shed is not only constructed of inflammable wood, but covered with still more dangerous tar paper. The building is to be used as a kitchen. When a good big pan full of grease catches fire, and the shed goes up in flames the nearby merchant will ask "Why?" On the other hand a few years ago I had occasion to pull down the kitchens (brick) of two houses of mine, not in the business centre of the city. I was not allowed to place these kitchens with a nine inch brick structure, but had to erect fourteen inch walls. Moral: If you want anything done in Peterborough that may conflict with our by-laws, get a foreigner to handle the job.

Thirty-Four Years a Judge.

Kingston, May 22.—Judge Price will this week celebrate his 34th year on the bench, and in point of service is regarded as the eldest living judge in Canada. He was appointed judge of the County of Frontenac, vice Burrows, resigned, by Earl Dufferin on May 25, 1878, and surrogate judge of the maritime court of Ontario by the Marquis of Lorne on March 3, 1879. He was educated at Newburgh Grammar School, graduated at Queen's as LL.B. in 1863, and was called to the Bar in 1865. He practiced his profession with B. M. Britton, now Justice Britton, and it is significant that the present head of the firm, J. L. Whiting, K.C., was offered a judgeship, but declined for personal reasons, else this firm would have had three judges to its credit.

MANY DEATHS AND PROSTRATIONS FOLLOW IN THE WAKE OF THE GREAT HEAT WAVE

Boston, May 23.—The heat blanket which oppressed Boston and all New England yesterday shattered life out of two persons in this city and more than a score of others were prostrated by the sun's powerful rays and a high humidity. Dr. Albert H. Hayes, 74 years of age, collapsed in the Scollay square subway station and died a few minutes later. Seated in a chair near an open window, where she had gone to get some air, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanley, aged 60 years, was found in her home late yesterday, dead.

Cleveland, O., May 23.—Because of the high temperature eight babies died yesterday, making 24 deaths of babies in the last four days attributable to the heat. One woman was also fatally prostrated. There were a number of prostrations. The official temperature was 88, but thermometers in the business streets registered nearly 10 degrees higher.

Troy, N.Y., May 23.—Yesterday was the hottest May 22 in fifteen years and there was many prostrations. One unknown man was overcome while watching a circus parade and died before medical aid reached him. Several others are seriously ill as a result of the excessive heat.

Charles R. Hill, paying teller of the Security Trust Co. of this city, a man about 50 years old, dropped dead while watching the twelfth innings of an exciting ball game. Excessive heat is regarded as the cause.

Pittsburg, May 23.—Showers last night and a slight easterly breeze somewhat relieved for a short period the excessive heat in which Pittsburg and vicinity had sizzled for a week. The official temperature yesterday again scored 92, while hundreds of thermometers in front of business places registered 100.

Six deaths were recorded yesterday, while prostrations are reported almost hourly from half a score of hospitals, besides the police stations.

Heat Deaths In Montreal.

Montreal, May 23.—Sunday was the hottest May day in many years, the thermometer registering 88.5 at McGill, the coolest spot on the mountain, and down town reached 90 in the shade.

John March, aged 71, nightwatchman at the Canada Rubber Works, was found dead in the office there, a victim of the heat, and Francois Xavier Ledoucuer dropped dead from the same cause.

Hot In Toronto.

Toronto, May 23.—Monday was regarded by most Torontonians as a genuine scorcher, but it was not the unusual height of the temperature, but its humidity that caused such discomfort and adoption of mid-summer attire. The weather man said no records for heat had been broken this May. The hottest day in May recorded at the observatory was May 30, 1875, when the temperature rose to 93 degrees, eight degrees higher than Sunday. So far this has been a remarkably dry May, there having been up to yesterday but 45 per cent. of the average rainfall.

In May, 1897, the thermometer for about three weeks registered over 90 degrees every day. This is the first recurrence in the fourteen years of such a heated May.

Kingston Swelters.

Kingston, May 23.—Kingston sweltered yesterday under an unusually warm wave. In Princess street the thermometer registered 85 degrees.

PETITIONS ARE VERY NUMEROUS

To Have Hanging Sentence Commuted in Soo Case.

Ottawa, May 23.—Petitions praying for executive clemency in the case of Angeline Napolitano, sentenced to death for the murder of her husband at the Soo, are piling up at the Department of Justice. These petitions are from women and women's societies chiefly, and from practically all parts of Canada. The plea is made in some petitions simply on account of the sex of the prisoner, but in most cases the ground taken is that the woman's approaching motherhood would make the carrying out of the sentence itself almost a crime.

So far these petitions have not resulted in any action by the Minister of Justice, for the reason that custom requires first a perusal of the evidence taken at the trial, and copies of the evidence have not yet reached the Department. It is expected that several days, if not weeks, must pass before the notes of evidence are extended and the record has been placed in the hands of the Minister of Justice. The execution is set for August, and it is expected that the child of the condemned woman will be born in July. This is said to have been taken into consideration by the trial judge, whose report will have much to do with the action of the Government. Other Ministers than Sir Alan Aylesworth will likely have something to say in regard to the carrying out of the sentence, as cases of this kind go before the whole Council.

A CAMPAIGN IS COMING

Ottawa, May 23.—The political situation and the probability of an election is about this: Parliament is to meet on July 27. Before that date the government will be in possession of the figures showing the population of Canada by provinces and by constituencies. As soon as the House meets, the government will be bound, in view of the opposition to further supply and to the reciprocity proposals, to introduce a bill readjusting the representation as to provinces and redistributing the seats in each province as set out in the readjusted representation based on the census now about to be made. The western provinces will all be given more seats, and the eastern provinces, outside of Quebec (5), will be reduced. So it means many changes all over. The opposition in all likelihood will seek to get as fair a deal as they can in the redistribution, and, once that is over, to refuse other than supplies for a stated period, and to refuse to pass the reciprocity pact. They may give the government supplies up to November.

That will mean an election between September 1st and November 30th (based on the new census by which time this existing parliament will be only three years old. Of course an arrangement could be made, if reciprocity happened to be defeated at Washington, to hold another session of parliament in 1912. But this is not likely.

From now on it will be a good deal of an election campaign. The main issues will be up in all their strength. And there never was before such a campaign in Canada.

PREMIER MONIS IS NOW OUT OF DANGER; ASKS FOR BERTEAUX

Yesterday Was His 65th Birthday — Flight Was Continued Toward Madrid After Accident.

Paris, May 23.—The physician's bulletin, issued last night, says simply: "M. Monis' condition most satisfactory."

The Premier was permitted to take light nourishment yesterday and Prof. Lannelongue, at the close of a consultation, said there was no longer fear of complications.

The Premier persistently asks for news of M. Berteaux. The physicians told him that the Minister of War was unconscious, and that there was no hope. The Premier was so deeply affected that it was deemed best not to inform him of the death of M. Berteaux until later.

Yesterday was Premier Monis' 65th birthday and he received the congratulations of his family and friends.

Aviator Frey began his flight from the aviation field at 2.06 yesterday afternoon, but only succeeding in reaching Etampes, where his machine turned turtle in a squall and plunged to the ground. Frey was not hurt.

Gibert, on leaving Pontlevoy for Angouleme lost his way and landed at Brizay, but later resumed his flight on the first leg of the course.

Garros, the first contestant to reach Angouleme, is repairing his machine for the second stage of the flight from Angouleme to St. Sebastian.

No further starters appeared for the race and a provisional classification has been made for the first stage of the flight to Angouleme. Vedrin is placed first, in three hours 43 minutes; Garros second, five hours and one minute; Gibert third, eight hours 55 minutes.

Wanted Their Money Back.

Angouleme, May 23.—Vedrine, who made a record-breaking flight from Issy Les Molineaux to this place yesterday, in the Paris to Madrid aviation race, brought out his machine last evening to give an exhibition for the benefit of a vast throng of people who had gathered to witness the arrival of the aviators. He was not successful in rising, and the crowd became unruly and demanded their money back. Rioters broke the barriers and attempted to wreck the official buildings and Vedrine's machine. It was necessary to call out the troops to rescue the members of the local aero club's committee, which had charge of the affair.

No Paper To-morrow

To-morrow being a holiday, there will be no issue of the Review.

Another Deadlock.

Kingston, May 23.—Keen disappointment was handed those interested in settling the strike of the stonemasons and stonecutters yesterday, when it was found that the masons' delegate Thomas Izzard, had left the city. The contractors had a meeting on Saturday night, when Mr. Izzard was appointed by the masons to meet the arbitrator of the stonecutters and contractors. Thus the whole matter is again at a deadlock. Five of the striking masons left yesterday for Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Izzard came here from international headquarters.

Kingston Soldiers Depart.

Kingston, May 23.—Men from the 14th Regiment, P.W.O.R., left last night for Quebec. They were given a royal send-off by the members of the regiment. The men who went are Sergt. Charles Hall, Col.-Sergt. Frank Ludlow, Sergt. William McCullough. Quartermaster S. D. Smith of Cataraqui went as representative of the Fourth Hussars, and Col.-Sergt. Bedley of Napanee, and Sergt. McConnell of Kingston will represent the 47th Regiment.

AIRSHIP AT SEA

Queenstown, May 22.—The White Star steamer Celtic, which arrived here at 9.30 o'clock last night from New York reports having passed the supposed remains of an airship on Saturday, in latitude 41.45, longitude 25.10. This was estimated to be 618 miles west of Fastnet.

C. A. Wood Dead.

Brockville, May 23.—C. A. Wood of Toledo, a prominent man for many years in the public affairs of Leeds County, died at his home after a short illness, aged 69 years. He represented the municipality of Kiltie in the County Council, and was also a justice of the peace and clerk of the Division Court. His second wife to whom he was married recently, survives, together with one son.

Elopers to Be Deported.

Quebec, May 23.—Admitting that he was Ferdinand D'Abbadie and that she was Helena Benoit, both were taken from the C.P.R. liner Lake Champlain yesterday morning, and are now awaiting probable deportation.

D'Abbadie is a wealthy iron master of Evreux, France, who eloped with Miss Benoit, a governess employed in his household. D'Abbadie's family move in high Parisian society. The couple traveled to Canada as Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wye.

Questioned on the boat coming over, they stoutly denied that they were the eloping parties, stating that they were on their way to take up farming in the west.

D'Abbadie is about forty years old, while the girl is 22. He is wealthy, has been married 18 years, and left a wife and seven children in France.

PARLIAMENT BILL LIKELY TO PASS

Conservatives to Run Chance of Repeal Later.

London, May 23.—Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reconstitution of the House of Lords passed its second reading in that House yesterday without division, after War Secretary Haldane announced that the Government would not divide against it. The Secretary said that he welcomed the evidence the bill afforded; the Conservatives were convinced of the need of the reform, but the Government held that the passage of the veto was essential before any steps were taken in that direction. Lord Lansdowne complained that the debate had not elicited any statement of the Government's plans for reforming the House.

The fact that there was no division on the bill prevents the disclosure of the revolt among the Unionist peers against the measure, but the speeches of the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Somerset, and Lord Killanin showed it to be considerable, and it is not expected that the committee stage will be proceeded with.

The second reading of the veto bill will be moved in the House of Lords to-day. The debate is likely to last for some days, but in Parliamentary circles it is generally believed that the bill will be given its second reading. Attempts to amend the bill will be made, but the Government will refuse to accept such amendments or disclose its own plan for reforming the second chamber. The Liberals confidently predict that the Lords will ultimately capitulate and pass the veto bill, with the expectation that it will be repealed when the Unionists return to power.

MICHAEL FRASER'S MIND IS BLANK, AND QUITE UNSOUND

Toronto, May 23.—The contest between the relatives of Michael Fraser and Mrs. Fraser as to the sanity of the eighty-four-year-old Midland bridegroom, was concluded in the Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon. Judgment was reserved in order to allow the counsel for both sides to submit cases to the registrar in support of their argument.

During the evidence it was shown that Michael Fraser was addicted to drink and that he was on more than one occasion so intoxicated as to lose the use of his reasoning faculties. It was, however, shown that he had not been kept under the influence of drugs prior to his marriage to Miss Robertson.

John King, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Fraser, several times attacked the action of the court in examining Fraser while in an hotel at Midland. He claimed that it was the first time in history that such a course had been taken.

Prior to the visit of the presiding judges to Midland, they secured information regarding Fraser's actions, both in business and social life during the past year. When questioning the old man it was found that all matters, even those of greatest importance, were complete blanks to him.

"We found," said Mr. Justice Middleton, "that his recollection of affairs had entirely vanished and that he was practically a pensioner on Mrs. Fraser's bounty."

Mr. Justice Teetzel seemed to be of the opinion that Fraser was not of sound mind, and in support of this conviction asked Mrs. Fraser's counsel if a sane man would take a love letter proposing marriage to his solicitor, as was done shortly before the wedding took place.

Mr. King did not discuss the question.

A Secret Directory.

Paris, May 23.—Private letters received in Paris from Lisbon contain the prediction that an attempt to restore the monarchy will soon be made in Portugal, probably before the elections. It is claimed that the movement will be started at Oporto, the second city of Portugal in population and importance, where business is at a standstill as a result of the dockmen's strike.

Alleged Blackmailers.

Hamilton, May 23.—A pair of alleged blackmailers, in the persons of two young and attractive girls of this city, were taken in charge by Detective Sayers here yesterday. A prominent business man complained to the police about the girls, but when they had been apprehended, he refused to appear against them. They were accordingly released after receiving some wholesome advice from the police.

Construction Foreman Killed.

North Bay, Ont., May 23.—Charles Forsythe, of North Bay, in charge of a steam shovel on construction work on the Porcupine Branch of the T. & N. O. Railway, came to his death by falling between the van and engine of a work train. He leaves a wife and four children.

Dr. Wells In Serious State.

Ottawa, May 23—Dr. R. Wells, geologist of the geological survey, is in a grave condition. For several days he has been unconscious, as the result of a paralytic stroke.

Statesmen Dine.

London, May 23.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Premier Asquith dined the members of the Imperial Conference last night. There were present Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Duke of Argyll, Lord Minto, Lord Aberdeen, Lord Kitchener, Lord Strathcona, Sir Edward Grey, Sir William Harcourt, Hon. David Lloyd-George, Austen Chamberlain, Lord Lyttleton. A reception at the Foreign Office followed.

Seized Ten Nets.

Brockville, May 23.—George Toner of Gananoque, fish and game overseer, is the busiest official on the St. Lawrence. During the past week he has seized ten nets. Three of these were taken from the head of Howe Island, four near Poole's resort, and three at Fiddler's Elbow.

Tag Day In Berlin.

Berlin, May 23.—Over $2,200 was raised for the Berlin and Waterloo hospital by the ladies' auxiliary on the annual tag day. This is over $100 ahead of last year.

KING'S AUTO RAN DOWN A WOMAN

King Took Her to the Hospital in His Auto

Special to the Review.

London, May 23.—An auto containing the King, Queen, Prince of Wales and Princess Mary, knocked down and severely injured a woman near St. George's Hospital to-day. The King assisted the woman into the car and personally conveyed her to the hospital.

Lightning Fired House.

Sudbury, May 23.—An electrical storm of exceptional violence swept over Sudbury and district Saturday night. At the height of it, lightning struck the house of Robert Gilmour, foreman in the Sudbury Foundry Co. The bolt passed through the window of a bedroom, passed round the wall, hurled a bureau into the middle of the room, and crashed through the floor. Instantly the house burst into flames, and the occupants had only time to rush out in their night clothes.

A C.P.R. train ran down and killed Joseph Smart, about two miles east of Espanola, on Saturday night. A bottle of whisky carried in his pocket was unbroken, though not a bone escaped.

Informer Assaulted.

Hamilton, May 23.—Claiming that he had given the police a tip that led to a raid on an alleged Chinese gambling joint Sunday night, two of Jim Lee's fellow-countrymen last night assaulted him when he entered a Chinese store at 151 North James street. A heavy bowl, hurled by one of Lee's assailants, struck him on the head and inflicted injuries which made his removal to the city hospital necessary. Detectives Cameron and Coulter arrested Leo Kow and Chew Chong on the charge of committing the assault.

SCENE WILL BE USED NOW

Change of Plans in Historical Spectacle.

London, May 23.—The Canadian pageant committee has arranged to include in the Festival of the Empire the scene depicting the battle of Chateauguay, the withdrawal of which has been much resented by Canadians.

It was announced in April that the Canadian committee, of which Lord Strathcona is president, had decided to eliminate from the coronation program Canada's principal contribution to the pageant. This piece, which has been in course of preparation at the Crystal Palace, was entitled "Chateauguay, where Canada was held for the Empire," and was intended to represent the defeat, through strategy, of an invading American force in 1813, by a handful of Canadians.

It was thought that the pageant might wound the susceptibilities of American visitors, and that it might cause a feeling which would endanger the conclusion of the proposed Anglo-American arbitration treaty. Later it was explained that the opposition was not from Americans, but other unnamed parties.

Premiers Dined by King.

London, May 23.—The Imperial Conference was formally inaugurated by a luncheon at Buckingham Palace yesterday afternoon, at which King George and Queen Mary entertained the visiting colonial premiers and their wives and daughters.

Most of the members of royalty who are now in London were present at the luncheon, as were Premier Asquith and Mrs. Asquith and the officials of the Colonial Office.

The conference will open to-day at the Foreign Office, when Premier Asquith, in his address of welcome, will outline the Government's program.

Barbers to Banish "Tips."

St. Louis, Mo., May 23.—A ban was placed on tipping at a mass meeting of bosses and journeymen barbers Sunday.

The action comes as the result of investigation by the officials of the International Union of Journeymen Barbers of America, representing Canada, the United States and Porto Rico.

Barbers have for some time complained because their patrons were joining the ranks of the self-shavers.

225 Chinamen Murdered.

Eagle Pass, Texas, May 23.—In a desperate fight between Mexican insurrectos, and Chinamen at Torreon, 225 Chinamen were killed. This information was received here yesterday by Sam Wah, owner of the International Hotel at Ciudad Parfirio Diaz, across the river from here.

Of the number of Chinamen killed fifty were off Wah's ranch.

Work on C.N.R. Line.

Brockville, May 23.—Work on the construction of the new Canadian Northern Railway east and west from Forfar, where it crosses the B.W. & N.W.R. branch, will start at once. Three officials of the company are now at Forfar to make the necessary observations preparatory to commencing operations. This is the farthest eastern point in Ontario reached so far by the C.N.R.

JAPANESE GET INTO BAD TEMPER

Mikado's Representatives Withdraw From Conference.

Washington, D.C., May 23.—The fur seal conference at which the United States, Great Britain, Japan and Russia are seeking to come to terms for a fifteen year close season for pelagic sealing in the North Pacific, has already met with difficulties.

Preliminary to the conference, an agreement was signed between the United States and Canada with respect to the Pribiloff Islands, under which Canada was to receive one-fifth of the catch on the islands themselves as compensation for giving up destructive fishing in the open sea.

Japan has taken offence at the arrangement being made before conference, and the proceedings on Thursday ended in Japan's representatives withdrawing in bad feeling. Another meeting will, however, be held to-day.

Two Sudden Deaths.

Cornwall, May 23.—There were two sudden deaths in Cornwall within 24 hours. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Alguir, wife of Dr. D. O. Alguir, expired suddenly while talking to her daughters. She was apparently in good health and spirits till the summons came. Her maiden name was Louise Ross, and she was the only child of A. P. Ross, ex-M.P.P. She was 54 years of age and leaves one son, Dr. A. Ross Alguir, and four daughters.

Catarrhozone

Cures Permanently

BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, CATARRH

Throw medicine to the dogs. At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You are suffering from some disease of the throat, nose, or lungs. Doctors call it Bronchitis, Asthma, or Catarrh, or it is a slight or severe cold. Germs cause these diseases—they have a common root.

CATARRHOZONE is little drops of healing carried by air to the exact place where Catarrh exists. Observe, Catarrhozone not only destroys the cause, but immediately repairs the result of diseased condition.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by doctors, druggists, and by thousands of Canadian people who have used it.

Catarrhozone

Yes, Sir, it is taken in air.

"Little drops of healing" carried by air to weak places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

Three sizes: 25c, 50c, and $1.00, at druggists, or by mail postpaid from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

LEARN TO SWIM

"He didn't know how to swim."

How often do we see this mournful declaration after a particularly sad drowning accident has occurred, and a bright and promising career has been cut short in the very bud.

"He didn't know how to swim," and he sank in the water never to come up alive, helpless and despairing. The fact that the boat overturned in a gust of wind didn't save him when he was plunged into the cold depths.

Surely the lesson is taught enough times every summer for parents to realize that it is as important that their boy should learn to swim as he should learn to be careful of his appearance. His life may depend on knowledge of how to keep to the surface if suddenly plunged into water over his depth.

The Y.M.C.A. in offering to teach all boys of the city how to swim is doing a good practical work. Already twenty have learned, and about sixty more are waiting. Every parent of a boy from ten years to manhood, should make it a religious duty to see that advantage is taken of the opportunity, if he has not already learned "at the hole."

Once learned, never completely forgotten is the swimming lesson, and a provision against accidents on the water is a wise one. See that your boy can swim.

WESTERN POLITICS

The Honorable Frank Oliver is getting hit back in great style by the Edmonton Capital, which appears to speak for the recalcitrants in that portion of the Province of Alberta. The Capital, in an article headed, "Rotten Sophistry," deals with the defence made by Mr. Oliver in the Parliament thus:

'And this, then, is the reply of Honest Frank Oliver: That the public has no right to know where he got the immense sums of money which appears on the credit side of his bank account.

Look the idol over and see the feet of clay. How the mighty have fallen.

Yesterday a blazing, blatant, bombastic, belligerent fire-eater whose swagger and swing was a swashbuckling boast that he could look every man in the eye and tell him to go to hell.

To day a cringing, skulking, hypocritical smug-faced coward, taking refuge behind the rotten sophistry that it is nobody's business but his own where a public man gets money.

Who now are the liars, the thieves, the burglars and the falsifiers?

Does Oliver expect the world to believe that if his bank account is a record of honest transactions he would hesitate to show it?

Does Oliver expect anyone to believe that if he could give a straight account of where the money came from he would hesitate to do so?

Does Oliver expect his constituents to continue their confidence in a man whose every action is blazing proof that he has something to hide?

Oliver's methods resemble nothing more closely than those of a yeggman who is prepared to endure every agony of the third degree rather than have torn from him the secret of his cache.

Oliver's answer to the charge that he is a boodler and a grafter is that he does not have to admit it.

Oliver's actions leave him open to the suspicion that he has violated every confidence placed in him by his friends, that he has been a traitor to the trust of his constituents, that he has wrapped himself in the cloak of a hypocritical virtue while he reached with grasping hand for the bribe that betrayed his own country and his own people.

Oliver has the opportunity to clear himself if he can o fthe stigma. He prefers to leave himself under a shadow which suggests deeds which half the malefactors in the pen would tremble to have attached to their names.

THE CEMENT MERGER

The Hamilton Herald says that since the cement merger was formed the price of cement has increased from $1.23 to $1.50 a barrel. How much has the price of cement risen all over the country since the elimination of competing prices? This would be a useful thing to know, and parliament would do well to deal with this phase of the merger question.

The price of cement in London, England, is from 80 to 90 cents a barrel. The freight to Montreal is 28 cents a barrel. The freight from Montreal to Toronto is 35 cents a barrel. With a 50 cent duty, it will be seen what a grip the cement combine is able to get on the Canadian consumer. The policy of moderate protection does not demand a 50 cent duty, for freight rates make a big differential between the import and home production cost. A duty of 25 per cent. would be ample. Why should Canadian builders have to pay interest and dividends on $30,000,000 capital, when the actual valuation of the properties in the merger was only $14,000,000 when taken into the combine? Of course the common stock is not dividend bearing yet. Canadians have not been called on to supply dividends for all of the watered stock, but when a combine can control prices, it is not hard to figure out that sooner or later all the cement securities will be earning a return—out of an increased price to the public. Let Canada watch the combine evil, while yet there is time.

THE COMING ELECTION

The plain intimation by the Toronto Globe Ottawa correspondent yesterday that an election might be expected in October or November, and the warning to all Liberals to get ready for the campaign, was evidently inspired. From the present situation at Ottawa, it does not seem probable that the elections will be allowed to go over until 1912. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is known to be in favor of an early appeal to the people, evidently clinging to the hope that reciprocity will enable him to carry the country. The Conservative advices are that the Maritime provinces, Ontario and Quebec and Manitoba and British Columbia are dead against it, while Saskatchewan and Alberta may be classed as doubtful. Inasmuch as the Liberal party in Alberta is in the throes of internecine strife such as Canada has seldom witnessed, and there are only two Conservative members representing Saskatchewan, it does not look as if Sir Wilfrid can hope to make any gain. On the other hand, it is certain that he will lose many constituencies through forcing this pact on the people—a pact that is growing more in disfavor every time it is examined, and reviewed.

The plain intimation that an election is in prospect should serve as a warning to Conservatives—and those in Peterborough as well—to prepare for the coming fight. Never in years has the Conservative party had such a case as it can make out to-day against the administration of graft and boodle and extravagance. Never had it such a claim on the support of loyal Canadians, who do not wish to see Canada estranged from all chance of further imperial unity by a trade alliance with the United States. Not since 1891 has Canada faced such a desperate situation. Then Canadians had to fight against the tentacles of commercial union that were creeping through the country, laying insidious hold of the agencies of public opinion and information. To-day a large portion of the government newspaper world is supporting reciprocity, simply because it was a deal made by Fielding and Paterson. It is endeavoring to stifle the spirit of the Canadian that says "I want no alliances that will force me towards separation from the mother country and the empire."

The issue is there, and in the coming political fight it must be considered. The tons of campaign literature that will be sent out from Ottawa, presenting the arguments for and against reciprocity, will have some weight; but the real weight will arise from the strong feeling throughout Canada to-day that this country does not want a deal that will enable the United States to put a spike in all plans of further imperial unity; that will enable the United States to say it has thwarted the effort of those who would make an imperial trade preference band stretching from England around the world back to England again.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The divisional court judges who visited old Michael Frazier in his home at Midland, to find out how far his mentality has been preserved, say that he has no memory of any business transactions for two or three years. In that event the marriage ceremony which he underwent is a farce. It may be that his young wife will look after the octogenarian better than outsiders would, who eye his fortune with covetous glance; but everyone connected with the old man seems to be tarred with the same stick. It is almost as bad to be rich when you are old and helpless and friendless, as it is to be poor.

A Hamilton man named Young is a somnambulist, and while out walking in his sleep performed some remarkable antics. He raced around telegraph poles, danced up and down the car tracks, would not answer when spoken to, and was snoring like an elephant when taken into custody. When he was placed in a cot at the hospital he awoke, having travelled over two miles while still in nodland. The tricks which somnambulism plays are indeed strange, but this one is out of the ordinary. It might be well for people afflicted with this habit to tie a string to a toe, or lock the door and hide the key.

The roar of heaven's artillery last night was really magnificent. Some people do not enjoy a heavy thunderstorm, but for those who do, there is a weird delight in watching the sudden, blinding illumination of the heavens, and listening to the roll and boom and rumble, as the thunder spends its strength. Nature in her wildest mood is awe-inspiring, and when the lightning bolts fly in reckless disregard of life or property, man is made to feel his own impotence in the face of the laws of the universe. But it is probable that more people were frightened into hiding in dark rooms last night than encouraged into watching the blinding flashlights. "All the world's a stage," and in this case, Nature as the stage electrician, excelled herself in obtaining weird and frightening results.

SERIOUS SKIN ERUPTIONS

Are Ended by Zam-Buk

Mr. William Purser, of 1385 Elgin Avenue, Weston, Winnipeg, says: 'As a cure for skin diseases there is nothing to equal Zam-Buk. Some pimples and sores broke out over my face and defied various remedeis which, from time to time, I applied to them. Not only were these sores unsightly, but they were very painful. For over two months I was afflicted in this way, until I was advised to try Zam-Buk. I found this balm was entirely different to the ordinary remedies. It reduced the irritation and the smarting pain. The sores from first being anointed with the balm, grew less and less angry, and then began to dry off. In a short time they all disappeared."

Finest known remedy for eczema, ulcers, abscess, scalp sores, ringworm, children's rashes, chafings, cuts, burns, scalds, insect stings, sore feet, etc. Also cures piles. 50c. box at all drug stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Zam-Buk soap, 25 cents. tablet is splendid for delicate skin and for baby's bath.

Tried to End Life.

Toronto, May 22.—In a fit of despondency Thomas Martin, 40 years of age, 24 Clarence Square, took part of the contents of an one-ounce bottle of laudanum Saturday afternoon.

He was found unconscious on a bench in the square by Policeman McCoy and removed to St. Michael's Hospital in the police ambulance.

There, at first, it was thought that he could not survive, but after several hours' work he was brought around. Martin is a single man and is employed by the Toronto Sanitary Towel Co.

Need More Power.

Kingston, May 22.—Hon. Adam Beck has written Ald. Elliott stating that the Hydro-Electric Commission has an engineer going through eastern Ontario municipalities, and says that more power will be required than at first estimated. It will probably be late in the fall before anything further is heard from the commission.

Creola Must Hang.

Montreal, May 23.—A telegram from Ottawa yesterday, announces that Mr. McAvoy's application for a postponement of execution in the case of Franceseo Creola, Italian, sentenced to be hanged in Montreal on Friday next for the murder of Guiseppi Chine, has been refused, and the law will be allowed to take its course.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"I respect the sentiment and yoh wishes, suh," replied Moreau, handing his own weapon to Aaron, who gingerly placed it in the colonel's portmanteau.

"Won't you even take me as a witness?" pleaded Tom. "He won't see me, for I'll hide in the underbrush."

"Impossible, Mr. Randall. I ask yoh word to continue yoh journey exactly as yoh have planned. Never fear; I shall see yoh at the plantation this evening. When yoh come in sight of yoh fields today look upon them in peace, foh by that time there will be no one to dispute them with yoh. Yoh servant, gentlemen." And, bowing, the good colonel blithely stepped forth into the morning sunshine and headed for the distant dueling oaks.

From the window Tom Randall impatiently watched the other's departure, and when at length the estimable defender of the family, serene upon his coming interview with Kirby, had turned a nearby corner the boy sprang off the window seat and seized his hat.

"Don't meddle with me!" violently warned Tom. "If ever a man had the right to another's life I have the right to Cameo Kirby's. Colonel Moreau may have taken it from me, but do you think I'm not going to see it done?"

"Not in honor," said Aaron sternly. "Each was to go alone."

"What honor did Kirby show my father?" cried the boy. "Get everything ready at the plantation and tell Adele that Colonel Moreau and I will follow on horseback. If Moreau doesn't finish Kirby I will. I'll get him somehow!" And, flinging aside Aaron's detaining arm, he dashed from the house.

CHAPTER VI.

DESPITE his fifty odd years, Colonel Moreau set out for his destination at so vigorous a pace that Tom Randall, who confidently expected to dog the other's steps, was disagreeably disappointed, for by the time he had gained the first corner around which the estimable defender of the family had disappeared the latter was nowhere in sight. Familiar with the city and its environs, the boy possessed knowledge of several time saving short cuts to the dueling oaks, but this on the present occasion he considered useless, for, ignorant of the exact spot where the combatants were to meet, there existed no alternative but to press on in the wake of Moreau, who he had every reason to believe had taken the familiar and direct route. Thoroughly imbued with the desire and expectation of witnessing Kirby's death and thus in a measure glutting his vengeance, young Randall broke into a run, confident that on turning each successive corner he would come in sight of the serene and indomitable colonel. But time and distance flew by until at length the tall trees bordering the grove broke upon his vision, and as yet his quarry had not been run to earth.

Momentarily perplexed and mystified, the boy turned and scanned the way by which he had come. Could he have in some cryptic manner passed the other on the road, or, contrary to all expectation, had Moreau taken the short cut, and was he even now in the grove face to face with Cameo Kirby? For immediate and conclusive answer two pistol shots rattled out, shattering the cool serenity of the morning and sending a bevy of frightened rooks circling and cawing high into the brooding blue dome of the heavens. Cursing his ill luck, young Randall raced furiously toward the distant grove.

Colonel Moreau, considerably more familiar with the town than Tom Randall, had indeed availed himself of the shortest cut possible and one which would lead him directly to that entrance the situation of which Larkin Bunce had been at pains to explain. No time could be wasted, for Kirby was already there, and to keep an adversary waiting smacked not only of cowardice, but was a direct breach of the code regulating such affairs of honor. It was characteristic of Moreau that if left to himself he would serenely outrage all codes by shooting a man in the back, but that when officially entered for a combat—such as on the present occasion—he punctiliously observed both the spirit and the letter.

Kirby living meant a serious menace; Kirby dead meant security and a tighter grip on the spoils of the river, a reoccupation of the premier position from which he had been ousted. Business interests and his own life clamored for Kirby's death. For Bunce, if he grew troublesome, he would account, and he could rely on the latter's remaining true to the code of their profession—carrying no tales to the Randalls, but instead, if he considered fit, fighting out the issue with the slayer of his partner. It can thus be seen that Moreau in his usual optimistic fashion had the future arranged entirely to his satisfaction.

Meanwhile he had cautiously entered the shadow of the dueling oaks and, pistol in hand, was slowly threading his way down the path, the weapon cocked and resting across his left forearm. Flanked on either side by the giant trees through which fugitive sunbeams flickered, shooting their small golden arrows of light into the dense and rank undergrowth, he found some difficulty in accurately discerning distant objects. Although the path was straight, thus obviating any turning of angles and a consequent sudden and unexpected meeting, he could not see Kirby, and for a moment the fears of an elaborately planned ambuscade arose in his unworthy mind. Indeed, the setting offered many inducements to one who, like himself, might entertain such a laudable purpose.

These momentary misgivings were, however, abruptly dispelled, for from far down the path Kirby's voice suddenly broke the silence:

"Good morning, colonel! Is that you? Are you quite ready? Stand by, for I'm coming!"

Moreau instantly turned until he faced the trees on his right. Thus he presented the smallest possible surface to his advancing foe. Although the articles of agreement called for a mutual and simultaneous advance, he was aware that it is easier to fire from a fixed platform, and he consequently deliberately halted, his left shoulder thrown forward and the pistol level with his eye. He could now discern Kirby, who, unmindful of all tactical or strategic advantage, came sauntering toward him, the right hand dangling carelessly at his side. He was whistling, but had Moreau been nearer he would have noted the sinister line running from nose to mouth and the the stigma of murder upon Kirby when several men, attracted by the shots and whose rapid approach had spurred the boy to instant action, came running into the grove. To them young Randall breathlessly recounted his version of the tragedy. "You see, the gentleman has no weapon," he concluded, pointing to Moreau's barren hands. "This, therefore, is a deliberate and carefully planned murder. Like yourselves, I was attracted by the shot."

"But there was two of 'em, for I counted," put in one of the newcomers.

"The murderer evidently missed at his first fire," said Tom. "My name is Randall of Plaquemine, so you may accept by word that I found the gentleman as I have stated. This is a great and villainous outrage. I happen to know the victim, a most estimable and honorable gentleman, who had the misfortune to incur the enmity of the notorious river gambler Cameo Kirby. The latter swore to get even, and there is no doubt he has fulfilled his murderous and cowardly intention."

"I seen this Kirby in town yesterday," commented one of the men, examining with morbid curiosity Moreau's death wound. "He's a bad egg from all accounts. Done his job neat. Shot from ambush, I reckon."

"We passed him on the road as we come into the grove," added a second. "I know him by sight—a youngish looking, gray eyed blade with a sort of dandy getup to him. We asked him if there had been a dooel, and he said yes, he thought so"—

"He lies, as you can see!" cried Tom, springing to his feet. "What road did he take?"

CHICAGO, May 22.—Relief from anxiety concerning drought resulted to-day in a sagging market for wheat. Because of special support, however, the May delivery was an exception, closing ⅜c up. Other months finished ⅜c to ½c down. The end of the day left corn at ⅛c to a shade advance; oats, with ⅛c to ½c decline, and provisions varying from 2½c gain to a loss of a dime.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅜d to ½d higher than Saturday on wheat, and ⅛d to ¼d higher on corn. Berlin closed ¼c higher on wheat, Budapest ½c higher, Antwerp unchanged, Havre ½c higher, and Hamburg unchanged to ¼c higher.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 22.—There was no improvement in the demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, and what few bids came forward were away out of line with values here. Cables on oats were weaker, and the prices bid would bring back over 35½c per bushel for No. 2 Canadian, afloat at Fort William; consequently, no business was done. The local market was weaker, and prices declined ½c per bushel on account of the slow demand and the easier markets in the west. A fair volume of business continues to be done in spring wheat flour for local and country account, and the undertone to the market is firm. There was some inquiry for winter wheat flour from foreign buyers, but the prices bid were just 9d per sack lower than millers were disposed to accept.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 41c to 41½c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 40½c to 40¾c; No. 3 C.W., 40c to 40¼c;

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.30; seconds, $4.80; winter wheat patents, $4.60 to $4.75; strong bakers', $4.60; straight rollers, $4.10 to $4.25; in bags, $1.85 to $2.

Rolled oats—Per barrel, $4.85; bag of 90 lbs., $2.15.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, May 22.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 103 carloads, consisting of 2085 cattle, 173 hogs, 17 sheep, 102 calves and 16 horses.

Exporters.

Geo. Campbell bought 308 cattle for export—for London, 100 steers, 1300 lbs. each, at $6; for Liverpool, 208 steers, 1230 lbs. each, at $5.85.

Butchers.

Best loads and lots of butchers, good enough for any market, sold at $5.85 to $6; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.30 to $5.50; common, $5 to $5.25; but there were very few cattle in this common class, as will be seen by the many sales given below.

Stockers and Feeders.

Short-keep feeders, $5.60 to $5.90; feeders $5.30 to $5.50; stockers, $5 to $5.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers were quoted at $40 to $70 each.

Veal Calves.

Veal calves sold at $4 to $6.50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, ewes, $4.75 to $5.25; rams, $3.50 to $4; yearlings, $5.75 to $6.50; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50; American lambs are quoted at $7 to $7.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

Hogs are higher, at $6.20 for selects, fed and watered, and $5.90 f.o.b. cars at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 22.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 20 were 1250 cattle, 160 sheep and lambs, 1720 hogs and 1415 calves, while the offerings on the market this morning consisted of 850 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 200 calves.

A feature of the trade was the stronger undertone to the market for cattle, and prices since this day week show an advance of 15c per 100 lbs., in spite of the extreme heat which has prevailed during the past few days and the continued discouraging advices received from European sources, cables from Liverpool this week noting a further decline in prices of ½c per pound, which makes a net drop of 1c per pound in the past two weeks, which means that exporters will lose money on their first shipments, which went forward from this port, instead of making some, as they would have done if prices had been maintained around 13½c to 14c per pound, but the hot weather and the increased supplies were too much for the market.

The gathering of buyers on the local market this morning was fairly large, but owing to the very warm weather and the higher prices demanded, the demand for cattle was only fair, and the trade in consequence was only moderately active. Choice steers sold at 6½c; good at 6c to 6¼c; fairly good at 5½c to 5¾c; fair at 5c to 5¼c, and the common at 4½c to 4¾c per pound. A few extra heavy choice bulls brought as high as 5½c to 5¾c, and lower grades sold down as low as 4c to 4½c per pound. Cows of good quality sold at 5¼c to 5½c, and inferior ones at 3¾c to 4c per pound.

Owing to the smaller run of hogs and the keener demand from packers for supplies, a stronger feeling developed in the market, and prices, as compared with those of last Wednesday, show an advance of 10c per 100 pounds. The trade was active, and sales of selected lots were made at $6.75 to $7.85 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

The trade in small meats was quiet; but, as the offerings were limited, a steady feeling prevailed in the market, and prices show no important change. Old sheep sold at $4 to $5, and spring lambs at $5 to $8 each. Calves brought from $2 to $6 each, as to size and quality.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 3125; market active; 10c to 15c higher; prime steers, $6.25 to $6.40; butcher grades, $5.30 to $6.35; cows, $3.50 to $5.35.

Calves—Receipts, 2500; market active; 25c higher; cull to choice, $6 to $7.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 15,000; market fairly active and steady; choice lambs, $7.40 to $7.50; cull to fair, $4.75 to $7.25; yearlings, $5.50 to $6; sheep, $2 to $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 11,900; market fairly active and steady; yorkers, $6.50 to $6.55; stags, $4.50 to $5; pigs, $6.50; mixed, $6.40 to $6.50; heavy, $6.25 to $6.30; roughs, $5.25 to $5.35.

Approve Nationalism.

London, May 23.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Morning Post, discussing the pamphlet of the Canadian National League, says: "Many imperialists in the Mother Country in strong sympathy with the league, have recognized that Canadian nationalism is no menace, bt the best support of imperial unity, for the simple reason that the Empire is obviosly necessary to the aspirations of nationalists."

Girls May Strike.

Winnipeg, May 23.—The conditions which brought about the strike of the telephone operators in Toronto a few years ago, may lead to similar trouble here. Girls in this exchange are said to be threatening to leave on account of heavy work and irregularity of schedules.

Steamer Belleville Aground.

Kingston, May 23.—The steamer Belleville ran aground near Iroquois, but was released by the tug Frontenac of the Calvin fleet, without damage. The vessel was delayed for 48 hours.

FISHERMAN TELLS INTERESTING STORY

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured his Rheumatism and Lumbago

Strains and exposure brought on troubles that caused five years of suffering, but Dodd's Kidney Pills fixed him up.

Cam Bank Cove Bay St. George Nfld., May 22. (Special)—Among the fishermen here Dodd's Kidney Pills are making a name for themselves as a remedy for those ills that the cold exposure bring to these hardy people. The kidneys are always first to feel the effects of continued strain on the body, and as Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure the Kidneys they are gaining a wonderful popularity. An example is the case of Mr. J. C. Greene.

"My trouble," Mr. Greene states, "was caused by strain and cold. For five years I suffered from rheumatism and lumbago. I was always tired and nervous. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing and the pains of neuralgia added to my distress.

"I was in very bad shape indeed when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, but I am thankful to say that the gave me relief. It is because I found in them a cure that I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to my friends"

Others here give the same experience. They were racked with pain and feeling that life generally was a burden. Dodd's Kidney Pills made new men and women of them.

SHE WAS SURPRISED

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

"I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away.

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

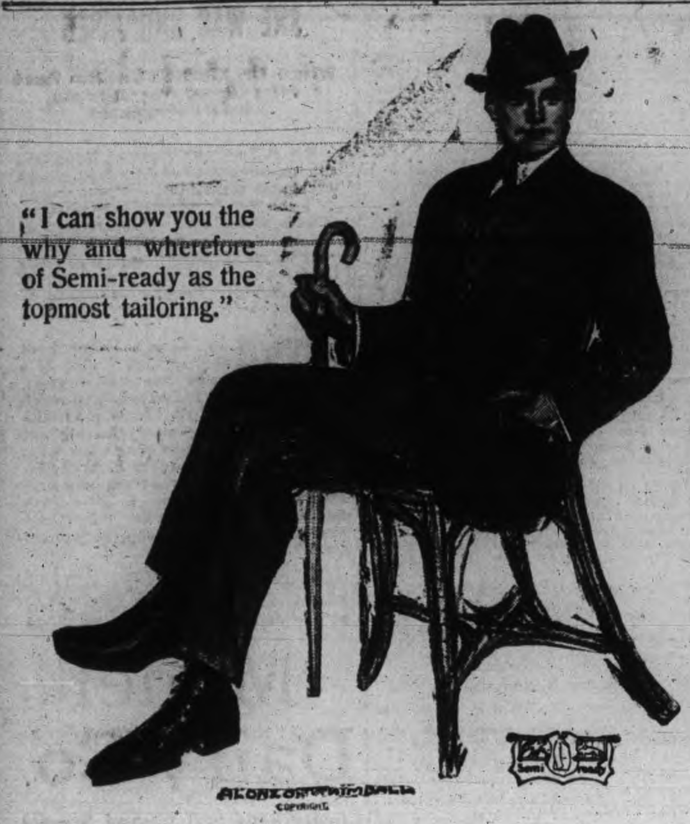
"I can show you the why and wherefore of Semi-ready as the topmost tailoring."



¶ Commercial economists have studied the causes of success in modern business. It's a time-worn expression that small profits and big sales, coupled with better quality will always win. It has helped Semi-ready Tailoring to double its customers in two years—exactly double the number.

¶ Plain marked prices—and prices such as few merchants would accept as profitable without demonstration—mark the Semi-ready Tailoring garment—and it's a policy that no other men's wear house has ever attained to. The makers mark the price worth—and guarantee the worth. It's good tailoring and very different from ready-made or retail tailoring.

GAVE TALK ON WIRELESS SYSTEM

Roy Powell's Interesting Talk to Epworth Leaguers

For over an hour last evening, Mr. Roy Powell, the local wireless telegraph enthusiast, held the attention of those who attended the regular meeting of Charlotte Street Church Epworth League, when he gave a practical and interesting demonstration of the perfection to which he has brought a self constructed system of that wonderful invention.

Mr. Powell's success in experimenting with the wireless, has been more or less known in Peterboro, and he has after eight years of hard and thorough study, mastered the principles of the system, ably fitting him for the task of giving demonstrations on the public platform.

During his talk last evening, he not only explained the construction of the instruments necessary to employ in sending a message, but from his extensive knowledge of the history of wireless and its marvellous accomplishments, he related many interesting stories.

On a table on the platform, Mr. Powell had mounted his receiving station and nearby the transmitter was placed. To show the enormous strength of the electro magnetic waves which are transmitted, the demonstrator carried the transmittor all around the room, but from any point he was able to ring the bell at the receiving station. He also carried the sending apparatus into an adjoining room, but so powerful were the Hertzian waves that their voltage penetrated the wood and rang the bell without any diminution of strength.

Mr. Powell explained all the parts which make up a wireless telegraph apparatus and at the conclusion of his lecture, those present were privileged to personally inspect the various instruments.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Powell, by Mrs. R. F. Downie, for his entertaining and instructive talk, which was seconded by Miss L. Thomas.

THEY SCAMPERED FOR THE SHELTER

Two Young Ladies' Effort to Sleep on Balcony Was Cut Short

Two young ladies, having suffered greatly from the heat during the past few days and nights, decided to sleep out on an open balcony over the front verandah. It was no little trouble to arrange for their doing so, and it was after many trips to the store room in the basement and to the quilt cupboard in the attic that their beds were finally made ready. A couple of camp beds were used that had been hidden away since last summer, and these were made comfortable by plenty of quilts and linen. The young ladies retired for the night about half-past ten, but not to sleep, for an endless procession of automobiles and street cars kept them awake till nearly mid-night. Even to lie there under the stars and be cool was a luxury, and a rest. Finally sleep came, and everything grew quiet, till a loud clap of thunder and a particularly brilliant flash awakened them. No time was lost in scrambling out, rolling up the quilts and pillows, hustling these and the beds into the house. The clearance was accomplished in record time. One of the young ladies suggested that if sleeping out of doors was to be the order this summer that a sort of "storm drill" should be practiced, so that one would know what to do in an emergency. So ended their camping out for one night at least, though they are determined that such a little storm as the one last night need not deter them from making a further trial.

DEATH OF MRS. WOODS AT TORONTO

Passed Away Suddenly—Funeral From C.P.R. Station To-morrow

Many friends and acquaintances in this city will regret the sudden passing of Mrs. George Woods, at Toronto yesterday.

The late Mrs. Woods went to Toronto about two years ago and had been residing with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Dearborn. She had not been in the best of health for some time, and death was due to heart trouble. With her family she had lived many years in this city.

To mourn her death she leaves four daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Scott, of Alberta; Mrs. Fred Dearborn and Miss Minnie Woods, of Toronto, and Miss Alice Woods, of this city. There are also three sons, Messrs. William, of Chicago; Alfred, of Toronto, and George, of Peterborough.

The remains will arrive here on the 11.28 C.P.R. train Wednesday, and the funeral will take place to Little Lake cemetery.

Keep the date open—Tuesday evening, June 13th, 1911, for All Saints Young Peoples Lawn Social on the grounds of Mrs A. L. Davis, Belmont Ave. 1d

DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING IN RIVER AT CRAWFORD'S GROVE

Percy McNamee, a Young Englishman Lost His Life

The Otonabee claimed another victim yesterday afternoon, when Percy McNamee, a young Englishman, who went bathing with a friend, was drowned.

McNamee and his companion left the C.G.E., where they were employed about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and went bathing near Crawford's Grove. They decided to swim across the river at that point, and McNamee's friend went first. When he got nearly to the other side he looked back, but McNamee had disappeared.

Members of the C.G.E. football team, in company with the brother and others, dragged for the body last night and again this morning, but could not locate it. "Bill" Taylor, who lost his brother, Eddie, by drowning, several weeks ago, came along and began to dive. The second time he went down he found the body and the men secured it by the use of the grappling irons.

Coroner Dr. Greer viewed the body and found that the man had been seized with cramps.

H. Corless, one of McNamee's companions, said that he was approaching the opposite bank when he looked around and noticed his friend go down without speaking. He dove a number of times but could not locate the body. Mahoney, the third member of the party, went to a farmhouse for help.

The late Percy McNamee was born in Manchester, England, 24 years ago. He came to Peterborough one month ago and obtained work in the C.G.E. He was a good athlete, and had a number of medals denoting his prowess in the old land. He was a good football player, and was soon signed with the C.G.E. champions, and he proved a great addition to the back division. He was always a true sportsman in his athletics, and won the admiration and esteem of his team mates and opponents.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon.

The body of an unknown man was found in the Niagara River at Queenstown.

SHORT SERVICES FOR MURRAY ST.

During Summer Announced by the Pastor Rev. J. R. Webb

On Sunday evening last the pastor of Murray St. church announced that during the summer weather the Sunday night service would be specially brief. The service, which included a fifteen-minute sermon, was concluded within fifty minutes. Rev. Mr. Webb spoke on the character of Rhoda, the young woman of the New Testament who was devout, courageous and unselfish, but who, in a critical moment, allowed the joy of success to blind her to the duty of the hour.

A quartette "Lord, I'm Coming Home," was rendered by Mrs. Miller, Miss Kidd, Mr. Miller and Mr. Huyeke.

OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. Lane

The death took place in Toronto, on Saturday of Mrs. Maurice Lane, of Bobcaygeon, a lady who was well known and highly respected by a wide circle of friends. The is survived by her husband and a daughter, Mrs. Jas. Carroll, Lindsay. Her husband is Capt. Lane, who was for some years on the steamers Otonabee and Ogemah.

The funeral took place to-day from the residence of her son-in-law at Lindsay, to the Roman Catholic cemetery at Downeyville.

POLICE COURT

Trouble for the Dog Owners Who Haven't Paid the Annual Fee

A man from Ennismore was found drunk and disorderly in a public place yesterday. He pleaded guilty this morning, but on his promise not to be so foolish again, was discharged.

"If you want to get drunk," remarked the magistrate, "go away in some corner where nobody will see you or know who you are."

DOG TAGS.

"If people won't come and be honest," said his Worship, "they must take the consequences."

Accordingly, he got right after those dog owners who have failed to pay their dog license fees. A $4.60 fine was imposed in one case.

Several summons have been served on the forgetful parties. They will have to pay all costs.

SKIPPED OUT.

A blacklister, who had been summoned to appear at police court for breaking his Indian list pledge, skipped out, and there was no reply when his name was called this morning.

The summons was left at his home, his wife having received it, and his Worship enlarged the case for a week, in order to discover whether the missing man had knowledge that he was wanted at police court.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The Council of Dr. Barnardo's Homes find it necessary to ask the public to assist them in coming to a somewhat difficult decision. Since the death of Dr. Barnardo five years ago, the sympathy of the innumerable friends and admirers of his work has enabled us, not only to carry on this work, but even to extend it in accordance with his known desire. We have hitherto followed with the utmost strictness his unalterable rule, that no destitute child shall be refused admission; no votes, no influence, no credentials have ever been required for admission to Dr. Barnardo's Homes. A child's destitution, for which it can in no case be itself responsible, has always been the only test.

Now we are faced with this difficulty. Up to the middle of last year the income of the Homes was increasing, as it has always increased, in almost exact proportion to the increase in the number of destitute children who had to be provided for. Then there was a sudden fall, and at the end of the year there was a deficiency of over £38,000. It is not necessary to go into the reasons for this being so—they are beyond our control and they have affected other charities in the country, in many cases to an even greater degree.

The same thing is continuing during the present year. Our income would be considered enormous, but it is insufficient to support the 9,400 children who are now in the Homes. We have practically no endowments, and for permanent relief we must either reduce our expenses or increase our income.

Are we to do the former? We have endeavored to maintain Dr. Barnardo's tradition of strict economy in everything except the proper plain food, clothing, education, and personal training of the children themselves. There are no high salaries to be cut down, no excessive staff to be reduced—we can economize in children only.

This is the question which we have to decide at once. Because we have no endowments, and because the Homes depend entirely on the country's daily appreciation of Dr. Barnardo's work, the matter is urgent; but in six months we could bring our expenditure within our present income by abandoning the rule which Dr. Barnardo followed for all his life, and which he has left for his successors to follow and maintain.

Is it worth it? Looked at merely as a matter of pounds, shillings, and pence, the thousand destitute children who would be refused admission would, if admitted, be worth to the country in the future many thousands of pounds as honest, hard-working citizens. If left destitute, who can say how much they will cost? Destitute men and women have seldom much future before them—they often have a very extensive past. Destitute children have no past—of their own making—and their future is almost a certainty of an honorable, independent life, if they are given the opportunity, which they can seldom make for themselves, and which the workhouse does not adequately provide. It is a good investment to give it to them, and by every canon of human conduct it is also an absolute duty.

We ask the public to decide for us, and to decide quickly. If they are in any doubt, will they come and see for themselves?

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
SOMERSET, President.

FIERCE ELECTRIC STORM DID NOT CAUSE SO MUCH DAMAGE AS WAS FEARED

Barn and Shed in Douro With Contents Destroyed—$3,000 Damage Caused at Bensfort — Smaller Losses in Other Localities.

For a real good sample of the genuine article, this morning's lightning and thunder storm was a winner. To citizens blessed with strong nerves, the spectacular sight in the heavens was something worth witnessing, and one that is not to be seen during an ordinary storm.

The lightning did considerable damage, and it is safe to say, gave more than one household a bad scare.

WIRE TROUBLES.

On inquiry being made of the different power companies of the city regarding the effect of this morning's electrical storm on their lines, no serious damage was reported. Save for the inconvenience of several fuses on the poles of the Otonabee and Peterborough Light and Power Companies burning out, nothing else was injured, at least so far as they are at present aware.

The Bell Telephone Company, however, sustained the most harm. At the court house a cable was burned out and men have been at work repairing it all to day. About one hundred and five telephone subscribers altogether have complained about 'phones being out of order. The whole staff of the Bell Telephone Co. is out repairing damages. Three men are at work on the rural sets, not one of which is working. Six trunk lines also came in for a bad touch.

The mechanical staff expect, by working hard, to have everything running smoothly in a couple of days at least.

While the electric storm was at its height about two o'clock this morning, the barn and driving shed on the farm occupied by Mr. Jas. Vickery, near Nassau, and owned by the Toronto Savings & Loan Company, were completely destroyed by fire. The buildings were struck by lightning, and so terrific was the storm that nothing could be done to save them, and no alarm reached the local fire station. The farmhouse itself escaped danger.

Fortunately there was no livestock in the building. Three hundred bushels of oats were burned, however, and a smaller quantity of wheat. Some farm implements were also destroyed.

The glare from the conflagration could be easily seen in the city, and aroused much alarming speculation as to its severity.

FIRE AT BENSFORT.

The valuable barns and outbuildings of Mr. Joseph Woods, Bensfort, were destroyed by fire about two o'clock this morning, presumably caused by lightning. There were about eight pigs lost, but the rest of the stock including a number of horses, were saved.

Mr. Woods had his buildings repaired about a year ago and they were valued at about $3,000. The amount of insurance, if any, could not be ascertained.

HORSE KILLED.

A valuable horse, owned by Mr. Thomas Lush, who resides on the Gravel road, was instantly killed by lightning during the severe electrical storm which passed over the vicinity early this morning.

FLAG POLE LOST.

The flagpole of the B. F. Ackerman Company was split into kindling wood by lightning. The flame shot right down the pole to the iron stays. Portions of the chips were scattered around the road on George street. The water from the mains in some manner flooded the cellar of the company, in addition. The flag pole on the top of the Times building was also shattered as was also a portion of the granolithic sidewalk at the Collegiate Institute.

HOUSE STRUCK.

A house owned by G. Walter Green, just outside the city, was struck by lightning this morning. The chimney was shattered rather severely, but the damage will only amount to a few dollars, so Mr. Green stated.

Pianos to Rent.

COBOURG COMING STRONG FOR OPENER WITH LOCALS

The locals had a final workout last evening in preparation for the opening Midland League game at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon. Bill Wylder was on the receiving end and is in good shape. "Mike" O'Brien is home from St. Michael's College and will work at the initial corner.

Cobourg will bring a strong team and should give the Quinlan brigade a lively tussle for first honors. The lakeshore crew always were a hard proposition and will no doubt keep up their reputation. Jack Roseyear is to be on the job as umpire.

The prices are twenty-five cents for gentlemen and fifteen cents for the ladies, with an admittance fee of ten cents to the grantstand for gentlemen.

The local lineup is:—

Wylder c, Quinlan p, M. O'Brien 1b, Ahearn 2b, Giroux s, Murphy 3b, Shaw lf, W. O'Brien cf, Craig rf.

TENNIS GAMES AT THE GOLF CLUB

Program Arranged by Peterboro Tennis Association

The following players will represent the Peterborough Tennis Association to-morrow (May 24th) against the St. Matthews Tennis Club of Toronto; Gentlemen—Messrs. Landry, Byrnett, Kerr and Richardson. Ladies — Miss Burnett and Miss Kerr.

An exhibition game is being arranged between Lois Moyes, the present lady champion of Canada, and Miss Summerhayes, a former Canadian Canadian champion, who are playing for the Toronto players.

The games will be played on the Peterborough Colf Club's courts, commencing at half-past one and continuing all afternoon.

CRESSWELL'S WON BY SINGLE TALLY

Twenty Three Runs in Collegiate League Game

By the close score of 12—11, Cresswell's team put Hill's away in a Collegiate League game last evening.

In the second innings Hill sprained his ankle and had to retire, Bartlett going in to catch.

There were a number of hits, for two and three bags off Sheehy and Smith and the support was rather loose. Cresswell played short for his team, saving him for the proposed trip to Campbellford to-morow, (Victoria Day.)

The batteries wee;
Cresswell's—Sheehy and Hosfield.
Hills—Smith, Hill and Bartlett.
Umpire—Mr. Ferguson.
Score—Cresswell's 12; Hill's 11.

FOOTBALL

EAST CITY LOST IN BALL GAME

Senior Game at Oval Won With 19-2 Score

The Central seniors, by some all round good work in the field and at the bat, registered a decisive defeat against the East City seniors at the Oval yesterday afternoon. The score of 19—2 about indicates the ability of the two teams. In Dobson and Cavanah the league leaders are strong. Dobson twirls nice ball all the time, and his receiver is steady, and has a quick peg to the middle cushion; in fact he is the only backstop in the league who gets the ball down for a putout. The bases are well looked after by Johnston, Long and Routley, at first, second and third respectively. The team is particularly strong with the willow, and Cavanah clouted out a clean home run in yesterday's game.

The East City nine is made up of promising youngsters, and were they a little heavier and more experienced would give any team in the league a hot fight for honors. Anderson is their strong twirler and faster fielding by his team mates would put him near the top of the win column.

The batteries were—

Centrals—Long and Cavanah; East City—Phillips, Anderson and Huycke.

BROOKSIDE CLUB LAWN BOWLING

Rinks From Port Hope Coming for the Holiday

The Brookside Lawn Bowling and Tennis Club will open the season on the 24th of May with a friendly game with Port Hope.

Several rinks are coming up from Port Hope on Wednesday morning and all who desire to take part in the game on that day are requested to be at the green on 9 o'clock on the morning of the 24th inst.

The executive is particularly anxious that as many as possible of the members may have an opportunity of participating in this sporting game, so keep the date open.

ST. JAMES' AND ALL SAINT'S TO-MORROW

Play at Brinton Meadows at Nine O'Clock

For a holiday attraction to-morrow morning, St James' and All Saints' teams of the Church Football League will meet at Brinton's meadows at nine o'clock and indications point towards a great game, with a very large attendance of the supporters of each team. St James' lead the league without a loss and the Saints' come next with only one black mark against them. A win for the Methodists will practically give them the championship of the league and the right to meet the C.G.E. eleven of the Midland League.

Both aggregations play nice football and should get a bumper house at Brinton's meadows to-morrow morning.

All Saints will line up as follows;—Goal, Moraity; backs, Rew and Robinson; halves, Hildreth, Dawson and Hooper; forwards, Downs, Abbott, James, Edwards and Curtis. Spares—Vickers and Cornwall.

BASEBALL

The team to represent the Collegiates at Campbellford to-morrow will be;—Creswell p, Hayes c, Dixon 1b, Armstrong 2b, Sheehy s, Ray 3b, Howden lf, Stewart cf, Christopher rf. The boys leave to-morrow morning and with Cresswell in good shape, should come away with a victory.

The Central T.A.S. team of the Inter-Catholic Ball League, will practice to-night, to-morrow morning at nine o'clock and Thursday night, when the team to play Sacred Heart nine in the opening game next Saturday, will be picked.

SPRAINED ANKLE IN BALL GAME

Unfortunate Mishap to Harold Hill at Riverside Park

Unfortunately for the welfare of the local Y.M.C.A. team, which intends going to Belleville to-morrow to compete in the Pentathlon contest and for the welfare of Harold Hill's athletic possibilities, he sprained his right ankle last evening during a baseball match in the Collegiate League when he made an outfield hit. While rounding second at a fast clip he slipped, with the above result.

A couple of the boys called a cab and took him to Dr. Boucher's office and afterwards to his home.

Harold has been particularly unfortunate, having the right ankle injured on two previous occasions. He is one of the best athletes around the local "Y" and was depended upon for the team contest to-morrow at Belleville. There is no one in sight yet who can take his place, and in all probability the team will not take the trip.

CHILDREN OF UAP.

They Don't Have to Worry About Food, Clothes or Shelter.

In describing Uap, one of the Caroline islands, Dr. W. H. Furness says that children become more or less public property on that island as soon as they are able to run about from house to house.

They cannot without extraordinary exertion fall off the island, and, like little guinea pigs, can find food anywhere. Their clothing grows by every roadside, and any shelter or no shelter is good enough for the night. They cannot starve. There are no wild beasts or snakes to harm them. What matters it if they sleep under the high, star powdered ceiling of their foster mother's nursery or curl up on mats beneath their father's thatch?

There is no implication here that parents are not fond of their children. On the contrary, they love them so much that they see their own children in all children. It is the ease of life and its surroundings which have atrophied the emotion of parental love.

When a father has merely to say to his wife and children, "Go out and shake your breakfast off the trees," or, "Go to the thicket and gather your clothes," to him the struggle for existence is meaningless, and without a struggle the prizes of life are held in light esteem.

Somebody's children are always about the houses and to the fore in all excitements, and never did I see them roughly handled or harshly treated.

MASTERING A TEMPER.

The Method by Which Marion Crawford Controlled His Anger.

Mrs. Hugh Fraser, sister of the late F. Marion Crawford, tells some interesting stories of him in her book, "A Diplomatist's Wife In Many Lands." It was at the Villa Negroni, Rome, that Crawford was born, an event which so delighted his father that, as Mrs. Fraser says, "my father was beside himself with joy and showered presents on all of us to make us understand and share it."

When young Francis was about ten years old it dawned upon him that he had a violent and uncontrollable temper, and with the simplicity which marked all his character he decided to get it in hand.

"One member of the family constantly irritated him to the verge of frenzy, and he invented a form of self discipline which very few children would have thought of imposing on themselves. My mother entered his room one day and found him walking round and round it, carrying on his back a heavy wooden shutter which he had lifted off its hinges at the window.

"'My dear child,' she exclaimed, 'what are you doing?'

"'Getting over a rage,' he replied doggedly, continuing the exercise. 'When I am so angry that I want to kill somebody I come in here and carry the shutter three times round the room before I answer them. It is the only way.'"

Women and Tea In Japan.

No Japanese society woman has completed her education unless she can tell just what grade of tea is being served to her—Uji, Mikado or a hundred others—and at least be able to distinguish by taste at least a dozen "blends" in a brand that has that many or more. Such accomplishments are partly a matter of inheritance and environment, for Japan is a country where tea has been raised and used for centuries. With tea plantations five centuries old and tea plants 200 years of age there is no need for tea commissions to fix customs standards. As for the household standards, the Japanese housewife decides them herself.

The Cock Lane Ghost.

St. John's, Clerkenwell, is a mean structure architecturally, but possesses two interesting historical associations, one romantic and the other ludicrous. It is the headquarters of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, part of the choir of whose ancient priory can still be seen in the early English crypt. This crypt was the haunt of the "Cock lane ghost," which excited all London in February, 1762, and attracted Johnson, Goldsmith and Horace Walpole. The "ghost" proved, as Dr. Johnson surmised, to be the mischievous little daughter of a parish clerk.—Westminster Gazette.

A Regular Attendant.

As the new minister of the village was on his way to evening service he met a rising young man of the place whom he was anxious to have become a member of his church.

"Good evening, my young friend," he said solemnly. "Do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes, indeed, sir, regularly every Sunday night," replied the young fellow with a smile. "I'm on my way to see her now."—Metropolitan Magazine.

His Complete Triumph.

"Uncle Rastus, I thought they had sent you to jail again on the usual charge."

"No, suh; I's vindicated dis time. De jedge couldn't quite make up his mind, an' he turned me loose an' said I mustn't do it again."—Chicago Tribune.

HEFFERNAN BUSY WITH THE WILLOW

Is Playing Great Baseball for Ottawa College

Frank Heffernan is wafting the ball for Ottawa College in the city baseball league. Saturday with three times at bat he hit twice and scored two runs. One of the clouts was for three sacks.

The Ottawa Citizen says:

"It was sweet revenge for the University boys, and Father Stanton's sunny smile broadened until his handsome face threatened to crack. Deschamps had a very sore arm, and, moreover was not feeling well. Eddie Larocque caught an excellent game throughout. Deschamps and Lamarche received superb support, only two error being committed behind them. Thirteen hits in all were made by the Collegians, to which they attached one stolen base. Muzante, Heffernan, "Fabe" Poulin and Caron got two baggers, while Heffernan clouted the cork-cored horsehide for three sacks.

PARK STREET AND KNOX ELEVENS

Meet at Former's Grounds Tomorrow Morning

Park Street and Knox meet to-morrow morning at the Park Street grounds, and a hot contest is looked for, both teams being at the tail end of the league table. A win for Park Street would put them on the same standing as Knox, and a loss, would practically decide their final position in the league standing.

Kick-off at 9.15.

GOLF

Members of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, are reminded that luncheon will be served at 12.30 sharp, on the 24th, and that mixed foursomes will be played in the afternoon.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

FLEETWOOD NEWS

Special to the Review.

Fleetwood, May 22.—Owing to the warm weather of late the crops are making a vigorous growth. Fall wheat and clover was badly winter-killed, but the old meadows and new ones having plenty of timothy sowed are coming along fine and with a good showery June will give large returns, and an excellent crop of hay will be the result.

Orchards in this locality are well covered with bloom and should frost not come to damage them or insects come on the same to destroy the fruit, this will be a banner year for fruit of all kinds.

Hauling out manure and getting the land in proper shape for all kinds of roots, is the order of the day just now.

It is our painful duty to have to record the sad death of Mrs. John Crawford, which sad event took place on Wednesday morning, May 17th, at the age of fifty-three years. The late Mrs. Crawford became ill about the first of this year, and was under the skilful treatment of Dr. T. G. Brereton, of Bethany, who did all he could to relieve her suffering and by his advice she was taken to Toronto to an expert, but her case was pronounced incurable and hopeless. Mrs. Crawford's maiden name was Jane Staples daughter of the late Thos. E. Staples, and was born in Manvers township about 53 years ago. She was married to Mr. John Crawford in Lindsay on June 11th, 1884. She leaves two sons, Fred and Percy, and one daughter, Violet, along with a loving husband to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The funeral took place on Friday, the 19th, at two o'clock. A short sermon was preached in the house by Rev. Patterson, of Lifford, assisted by Rev. J. C. Posten, of Bethany. They made some very touching remarks. The bearers were Messrs. J. L. Hart, T. K. Brown, John Shea, Herb Lee, John Leslie and John McKinley. On her casket was a beautiful display of flowers. A wreath by Miss Sarah Arnott, one from Miss Louie Scott, one from Miss A. Croby and a bouquet by Mrs. Thomas Crawford. The neighbors from far and near attended making a very large funeral procession, showing the high esteem the whole family are held in this vicinity. They proceeded to St. Mary's church burying ground. Rev. J. C. Posten officiated, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Lifford.

Too much cannot be said about the kindness of the deceased. Those at a distance were Mrs. Allen Coates, of Peterborough, and Mrs. John Arnott, of Port Hope. Much sympathy is felt in the vicinity for the bereaved husband and family.

GUARDING THE KING.

Old English Methods When the Monarch Was Taken Sick.

The law raises peculiar safeguards round the person of the English sovereign in case of sickness. They are mere survivals in the present settled order of government, but at one time the opportunity which the king's incapacity afforded aspirants to the throne or treason makers to shorten his days at a minimum of risk of detection made the precautions reasonable.

"If the king be taken sick," says Coke in his "Institutes," "there ought to be a warrant issue from the privy council, addressed to certain physicians and surgeons, authorising them to administer to the royal patient potiones, syrupos, laxitavas, medicinas, etc. Still, none of these should be given except by consent and advice of the council, and they ought to set down in writing everything done and administered, and they should compound all drugs themselves and not intrust their preparation to any apothecary."

Coke wrote thus of precedent in the year 1610, and today the law is practically as he found it, although at the present time in practice the privy council simply hears reports of the progress of the king's malady and leaves actual treatment entirely to the physicians in direct charge of the case.—Exchange.

GIANT TREES OF JAMAICA.

They Shed Masses of Beautiful Silk Cotton Every Year.

The silk cotton trees of Jamaica are one of the most striking natural features of this beautiful island, and visitors express much curiosity concerning them. The fiber of the cotton is too short for textile uses, but its quality is delicate and fine.

The trees are most interesting in structure. They reach a height of 200 or 300 feet. It is the largest tree on the island, and the branches often overhang more than an acre of ground. Some of them are centuries old, dating back to the landing of the Spaniards. They have withstood the tropical winds of the region through the adaptation of their structure. The leaves are very few, and there are heavy masses of roots.

This giant tree flowers once a year. It bears a number of pods much the size and shape of a cucumber. These pods dry and burst, and out floats the beautiful cream colored silk cotton, covering the ground and sailing in the air for some distance. The seeds, of course, are borne on the silky filaments. This cotton is used at present only for pillows. Its use as guncotton has been spoken of.

Some Task.

The office manager turned to the new boy.

"Here, George," he said, "go into the next room and look up 'collaborate.' I am not quite sure about the spelling."

The boy disappeared and didn't return. The manager put the letter aside and took up some other duties. Presently he remembered the boy and went out to look for him. He found the lad studying the big dictionary with great intentness.

"What are you doing, George?" he asked.

The boy looked around.

"I forgot the word you told me, sir," he replied, "an' I'm lookin' through the book to find it."

The manager gasped.

"How far have you got?"

"I'm just finishing the second page, sir."

"That'll do, George." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fixing the Lesson.

Parson Saunders was a little perturbed one Sunday morning over some worldly matter and made a mistake in the reading of the Scriptural lessons. He read the second lesson where he should have read the first. As he neared the end of his reading the parson saw that he was in error. He saw that his congregation knew he was in error. How, then, to conclude? To conclude in the orthodox way—"here endeth the second lesson"—would hardly do, as it was not the second lesson, but the first. Nor, could it, on the other hand, be called the first lesson since properly it was the second? Parson Saunders, after a moment's thought, wisely and frankly concluded:

Very Considerate.

"I suppose, Jennie, you wouldn't want to go to the concert Wednesday in your old hat?"

"You dear thing! I couldn't possibly think of showing myself in it."

"That's what I thought, so I"—

"What?"

"Bought only one ticket to the concert."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

The Aspect.

"The school board, the police board and the jail board are all in the limelight at once for trouble."

"Yes, it certainly does seem as if our city public affairs were going by the board."—New York Journal.

The Harvest.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.—George D. Boardman.

True friends have no solitary joy or sorrow.—Channing.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, lot 15, concession 13, Otonabee, on Tuesday, at one o'clock, and proceed to St. John's cemetery, Ida.

THE BY-LAWS OF THE PETERBORO' PUBLIC LIBRARY

I Hours.

(a) The Library shall be open every day (except Sundays, statutory holidays, and such other days as the Board may direct) from 9.30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

(b) The Reading Room shall be open every day (except Sundays, statutory holidays, and such other days as the Board may direct) from 9.30 a.m. to 10 p.m.

c) The Reading Room on statutory holidays shall be open from 2 to 6 p.m.

II Those Entitled to the Use of The Reading Room.

Residents of the city of Peterborough shall be entitled to have access to the Reading Room as long as they comply with the By-laws.

III Rules for the Use of the Library.

(a) Any resident ratepayer, 12 years of age or over, on signing an agreement to obey the By-laws now or hereafter adopted by the Board, may borrow books from the Library, except the books in the Reference Library and such other books as the Board may withdraw from circulation.

(b) A resident, 12 years of age or over, who is not a ratepayer, may borrow books, except the books in the Reference Library and such other books as the Board may withdraw from circulation, on complying with the following conditions:

(1) He must sign an agreement to obey the By-laws now or hereafter adopted by the Board.

(2) He must file with the Librarian a recommendation and a guarantee, in the form adopted by the Board, from a ratepayer of the city. This guarantee the Librarian may at any time require to be renewed or another to be given in its place, if for any reason the guarantee filed should not be considered satisfactory. Any person who signs a guarantee will be held liable thereunder until the Librarian shall have received a written notice of his desire to withdraw. Instead of filing such a guarantee the applicant may deposit $5 with the Librarian, to be held as security against the loss of, or damage to, books borrowed by him. This sum will be returned to the depositor, less any deduction properly made, upon the surrender of the borrower's card.

(c) Non-Residents.

The privileges of the Library and the Reading Room may be given by the Librarian to non-residents of the city. For these privileges they shall pay an annual fee of $2, sign the agreement, and furnish the recommendation and guarantee, or make the deposit, as specified in sub-clause (b) of Section III.

(d) Borrowers' Cards.

Each borrower shall be furnished with a card on which shall be endorsed his or her registered number. This card must be presented to the Librarian whenever a book is borrowed, returned or renewed, and the registered owner of a card shall be responsible for the books borrowed by means of his or her card. If a card is lost it shall not be replaced until the expiration of two weeks after the Librarian receives a written notice of its loss, when a duplicate card may be issued on the payment of ten cents. If a lost card is recovered after a new one has been issued, the duplicate must be at once surrendered.

(e) Change of Residence.

If the holder of a borrowers' card changes his place of residence, he must immediately notify the Librarian by sending him a written notice of his new address.

(f) Number of Books That May Be Borrowed.

The holder of a card is entitled to borrow two books at a time, provided that only one is a work of fiction; but in case the work is not in more than two volumes, the two volumes shall be considered as one book.

(g) Time For Keeping Books.

Each book (except those marked "Seven Day Books" may be retained for 14 days, and the loan may be once renewed for a similar period, except in the case of a book that has been applied for by another. Where a demand ofr any book arises, the Librarian may restrict the time for the retention of the same to seven days without the privilege of a renewal.

(h) Application for Books That Are Out.

A card holder may apply for a book which is out by paying 5 cents for the privilege, but after its return it shall not be held for the applicant more than 24 hours after the Librarian has mailed to the applicant a notice that the work is in. Applicants are to be entitled to the book in the order of their application.

(i) Fine For Keeping Books Beyond the Time Allowed.

Any holder of a card retaining a book longer than the specified time shall be fined three cents per day for each day the book is so retained.

(j) Method of Procedure if a Book is Not Returned.

If a book is not returned within two weeks after the time specified for the return of the same, the Librarian may, after sending notice to the borrower, proceed to collect the value of the book if it is not returned, or the accrued fines and other charges, if it is returned.

(k) Lending Cards or Books.

No one shall lend his or her card or any book belonging to the Library to any one not a member of his or her family, residing in the same house.

(l) Calling in Books.

The Board may at any time call in all or any of the books borrowed, on giving one week's notice in any newspaper published in the city.

5 Rules for the Use of the Reading Room.

(a) A portion of the Reading Room shall be reserved for the exclusive use of ladies.

(b) Periodicals and newspapers, after the reader has finished reading them, shall be replaced by the reader in the racks provided for that purpose.

(c) No periodical or newspaper shall be clipped, marked, injured or otherwise defaced, and if the same is done, the offender shall be liable to the fine or penalty hereinafter set out.

(d) All conversation in the Reading Room, and all conduct not consistent with the quiet and orderly use of the Library and the Reading Room, and all lounging in or about the building are strictly prohibited.

6 PENALTY.

Any person violating any of the above rules or regulations may be suspended by the Librarian from the use of the Library and the Reading Room and the case shall be at once reported to the Board for action thereon, and every person so offending shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $10 for such offence.

COUNTRY TOWN SAYINGS

BY ED. HOWE

BY ED. HOWE.

A man who says he likes music, but does not like classical music, has never heard any. Classical music is simply good music.

When a woman tells another that she has something to tell her which she thinks she ought to know, it usually means meddlesome mischief.

There is usually something the matter with a man who carries a woman's watch.

Two or three days before a woman begins housecleaning, she gets a funny look in her eyes, and nothing will do her any good, except a woman to help her, a man to move the heavy things.

Every time a new worm appears to pester mankind, it is more luck for the birds, which are already the luckiest things in the world.

Be bold enough to say, "I don't know" and if you can screw your courage up to it, add "and I don't care."

Dogs never seem to become acquainted. When two dogs meet, although they may have known each other for years, there is always a prospect of a fight. But two men will know each other forever after a mutual acquaintance has said "Mr. Brown, shake hands with Mr. Oliver." That's civilization.

There is a demand for an honest man, but should a man carry his honesty into his love letters, no woman would let him write her a second one.

When a man's engagement is announced in the papers, and he gets mad about it, it is a sign that he tried to get away and couldn't.

A man dreamed that his grandfather, dead thirty years, came to visit him, dressed in his grave clothes. That is not nightmare; that's delirium tremens.

Where Waltzing Is Barred.

German court regulations forbid waltzing. This veto dates back to 1859, when the Empress Frederick, then crown princess, was tripped up by her partner in a waltz and fell at the feet of her mother-in-law. The Empress Augusta, a despot on the score of etiquette, forbade the inclusion of waltzes thenceforth in all balls at the New palace. So far the kaiser has resisted the pressure brought to bear on him to revive the waltz. Dancing at the Berlin court always opens with a polonaise, and the rest of the program is filled with quadrilles and polkas, the schottisches and the mazurkas.

Fred Husted, a wealthy farmer near Greenwich, Conn., telling his 12-year-old boy that the shotgun wasn't loaded, prevailed upon him to pull the trigger, blowing Husted's head off.

ONE MAN IS DEAD AND ANOTHER IS ALMOST BLIND

Joseph Angel and James O'Brien Drank Wood Alcohol

As a result of drinking wood alcohol at Healey Falls, the dead body of Joseph Angel is on its long trip to Los Angeles, California, and James O'Brien is lying in St. Joseph's Hospital with his eyes, in particular, seriously affected.

Angel's father is a wholesale druggist of Los Angeles, and the body was brought here last night and transhipped.

The constable of Campbellford accompanied O'Brien to the city last night, and he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by Belleghem's private ambulance service.

It appears that Angel left Healey Falls on Friday last and went to Campbellford. On his return he asked O'Brien and a companion if they would have a drink. The former took a quantity of the contents of a bottle which Angel produced. He did not feel any ill effects that night, and worked the following day. Towards six o'clock, however, he became ill, and had a feeling as though the heat was prostrating him.

Angel was taken seriously ill and died Saturday afternoon. His father at Los Angeles was notified, and he asked that the remains be sent along. Deceased had worked at one of the engines engaged in work on the canal, and O'Brien handled the dynamite which is used in blasting operations. He will recover shortly. At present he is unable to distinguish his hand at a short distance away. He cannot explain just how the mistake occurred.

SHOW AT THE REX THEATRE IS A RECORD-BREAKER IN CLASS

Opening Performance Last Night for This Week Was Immensely Popular—Hits Made by the Acts, and Performers Recalled.

Judging from the applause with which the audience greeted the acts last night, it was easily seen that the goods were being delivered. The management had promised advanced vaudeville, and they certainly kept their word. From the moment the curtain went up, the audience was kept wondering whether they were in some large metropolis, instead of in Peterborough. The opening act was certainly a big surprise, the Modernistas, a team of classy Spanish dancers resplendent in gorgeous costumes of their native country, the male member displaying a toreador costume of elegant effulgence, while the senorita quickly captivated the audience with her graceful dances, making several changes of costume. That famous song, "La Paloma" was rendered in the native language and was largely applauded.

This meritorious act direct from European music halls, left the audience in good humor for the act which was to follow. The famous Cox family was certainly a revelation, and it was the consensus of opinion that such harmony in singing was never heard here before. Their rendition of the Italian Music Master was a beautiful piece of work, replete with clean comedy and was vociferiously applauded. Miss Violet, the wonderful girl baritone, sang that beautiful ballad entitled, "My heart has learned to love you, in such a splendid manner that the audience insisted on a repetition of the chorus. Miss Mildred, in her graceful tambourine dance, was well received and the quartet singing was highly appreciated. This show bids to break the record this week, as the like has never been seen in Peterborough. Baby Elmer, the child comedian, was voted by the audience, the cutest thing that ever graced the boards, and he will certainly prove a favorite with the little folks. The following selections were rendered by the quartet: "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "The Mendelssohn Tune," "Stop, Stop, Stop, and "Put your your arms around me, honey." Every song was encored to the echo, and this will certainly prove to be a banner week for classy singing and dancing.

WAS THROWN FROM BUGGY AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

Unfortunate Accident Met With by Mrs. George Doig — Is in the Hospital.

A serious accident occurred yesterday afternoon when a horse ran away throwing Mrs. George Doig to the road and injuring her. Fatal results may follow.

Mrs. Doig was driving with Mr. Harry Bolton to the Dummer cemetery on the third line, where she intended looking after the grave of her father, the late Sanford Ferguson. Mr. Bolton proceeded to tie the horse to the fence. When he removed the bridle to put on the halter, the animal bolted and started along the road with the buggy and Mrs. Doig in it. Mr. Bolton was knocked down and was unable to catch the animal. When the horse turned at the laneway to Mr. Fred Payne's home, the buggy struck the post and Mrs. Doig was thrown violently out against the other post, sustaining several broken ribs, shoulder and hip bruises and probably internal injuries. The horse proceeded to the yard where it fell. The buggy was demolished but the horse only received minor scratches.

The Warsaw doctor was sent for and he attended the patient until Dr. Scott arrived which was about eight o'clock in the evening. The accident happened about one o'clock in the afternoon.

On the arrival of Comstock's ambulance the sufferer was removed to the Nicholl's Hospital, the drive being taken during the time of the storm. Peterborough was reached about 2.30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Doig lives with her husband, George Doig, and four young children, Stewart, Hettie, Stella and Viola, at 222 King street.

SECOND YORK LOAN DIVIDEND

Liquidators Have Sold Property and Checks Will be Sent Out

A despatch from Toronto says—The second dividend of twenty-five per cent. to the shareholders of the York Loan Company is pretty near due.

Since the liquidators took hold they have sold fifty thousand feet of real estate frontage at the west end of Toronto and only thirteen hundred feet are remaining.

The cheques are already made out for a second dividend which requires three quarters of a million dollars, and as soon as sufficient further payments are made on real estate sales the cheques will be dated, signed and mailed to one hundred and ten thousand shareholders at cost for postage of about eighteen hundred dollars.

There are still between eight and ten thousand shareholders who have not sent in pass books, and have not received the first dividend.

When they send them in they will receive it.

The first and second dividends total fifty per cent. and a further small dividend, the amount of which is unknown, will be paid later.

MOCK PARLIAMENT FOR JERMYN

One Will be Held by Union Literary Society

Special Correspondence

Jermyn, May 22—Mr. and Mrs. T. Kidd of Peterboro were in town Sunday.

Mr. Sheldon passed through, en route, Sunday afternoon.

For the amusement and instruction of their many friends, the members of the Union Literary society, have decided to hold a mock parliament instead of the usual spring debate. Speech from the throne will be as follows:

Gentlemen of Legislative Assembly—I am glad to be able to congratulate you on the prosperity that prevails through the province. It is my extreme pleasure to express the deep sense of our gratitude to Divine Providence for such a beautiful spring, also for the abundant supply of moisture that descended last week. I regret that fire has visited Whitewood camp, and that the Indian River mill is indisposed from rheumatism. Am sorry to know that several of the youth of this locality are suffering from heart disease. I wish also to thank the Peterboro Review for the service it performs to the rural population in maintaining an efficient staff of correspondents.

Measures will be introduced for your consideration by my government as follows:

1. To provide legislation for restocking the Indian River with Trilobites, sea gulls, and mud turtles.
2. To provide legislation preventing the fraudulent adulteration of maple syrup.
3. An act respecting the subsidizing of the Indian River Skating Co.
4. To provide legislation compelling the C.P.R. to put a waterproof lid over Indian River station platform.
5. A bill to prevent farmers' daughters from marrying bank clerks, shop-lifters, etc.

The public accounts of last year and the estimates for this year will be laid before you without delay. You will be asked to vote surplus for the following purposes:

1. The sum of $56 to erect a concrete curb along Jermyn boulevard, for its protection against passing vehicles.
2. To provide the sum of 25c a day, as wages, to boy to drive sheep off aforementioned property.
3. To supply funds to establish an office, where marriage licenses may be obtained for the benefit of aforesaid youth suffering from heart disease.

The following gentlemen will make up the cabinet.

Premier—Sir J. Herbrugen Hall.

Minister—Hon. Thos. Frisky Fife.

Agriculture—Hon. Elijah Wood.

Provincial Secretary—Lord Horace Huggen Sheldon.

Education — Marquis Ping Pong Armstrong.

Attorney General—Rt. Hon. Effervescent Patterson.

Without Portfolio — Hon. David Brooder Kidd.

Provincial Treasurer—Sir J. Harmonious Pallin.

The front benches of the opposition will be occupied by the following gentlemen. Baron, J.J. Hogan, V. C., Lord Hackenshmidt Kidd, T.E.A., Sir Goodhernam Wit Fife, F.U.N., Marquis Weary Willie Shepherdson, Hon. D.P. Eason, Marquis, J. Wilberforce, Breckenridge; Rt. Hon. Simon Fanner Armstrong, Sir Wellington Silver.

TWO GIRLS DROWN IN TORONTO BAY; THEIR ESCORTS ARE SAVED BY PASSING STEAMER

Sad Accident Marred the Holiday at Toronto—Dinghy Upset in Coming About, and Girls Sank After Clinging to the Boat for a While.

Toronto, May 25.—Once more a holiday sailing accident has claimed two lives and, once again, it is two young women taken sailing by two young men, and their bodies left in the waters of the lake. The fatality occurred when a hired dingy containing Miss Hazel Hicks, 18 years old, of Shelburne, Ont.; Miss Olive Blain, 22 years old, of Barrie; Harold Clark and C. J. Wolfe of Trinity College, was upset in Lake Ontario. The boat was upset while Clark, who was controlling the sheet and handling the tiller, was attempting to bring the little craft about in a heavy but steady wind.

The story of the tragedy, as told by Wolfe, is that the party left Dean's boathouse at Sunnyside at noon and ran out freely to the point where the accident happened. This was about 12.30. Clark decided to bring the boat about and come up into the wind, hauling in his sheet. Wolfe thinks that the girls did not shift as directed. He ducked his head to avoid the boom and a moment later felt the boat going over.

He threw all his weight to windward to try and maintain the balance, but was thrown into the water. When he came up, one of the girls was clinging to the boat to either side of him.

OLIVE BLAIN.

He was at the middle of the boat and Clark was at the stern. Each of them helped hold one of the girls to the boat and one of them was holding on to Wolfe. They seemed not to be very badly frightened and were calling for help and waving to attract attention.

Wolfe says that the waves were very high and kept them changing positions constantly as the boat rolled beneath them. All were at the open side of the boat as she lay half over in the waves.

After they had been hanging to the boat for about seven or eight minutes, Wolfe was washed off and went under. When he came up the girls were gone. He had no idea that they were about to let go. Clark was very weak and Wolfe was just going to help him when help came. The steamer was seen to alter her course in their direction and shortly afterwards sounded three blasts of her whistle and a moment later lowered away a lifeboat, which took the men off the boat. They were taken to the Turbinia, and from the dock were removed in the police ambulance to the university, where Clark was put to bed in a state of collapse.

Miss Hicks was a student at the

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT SPEAKS OF COLONIAL GOVERNMENT

Victoria Day at Halifax.

Halifax, May 25.—Victoria Day was celebrated with eclat throughout Nova Scotia. The flagstaff on the citadel was gay with bunting and the flagship Niobe was gaily decorated.

Business almost completely suspended and the people gave themselves up to recreaton and sport. Professional baseball matches were the chief attraction in the city and amateur matches were played in the province.

STIMSON O.K.'s THE RECIPROCITY BILL

New Secretary of War Adds His Say to the Others.

Boston, May 25.—Henry L. Stimson, the Secretary of War, in an address before the Intercolonial Club of this city last night, endorsed the arguments in favor of the reciprocity agreement made by President Taft, as the arguments of "broad and lofty national interest," and as appropriate to the statesmanship "which, not content with mere lip service to party formulae, recognizes the economic and social facts and tendencies of to-day and makes wide provision in respect to them."

The speaker reviewed in brief the provisions of the agreement and urged its enactment into law on grounds of national and continental policy.

"It has been thoughtlessly suggested that such a trade agreement pointed toward political annexation of Canada. Nothing could be further from the real fact. There can be no surer preventive of agitation for political union than to remove the irritation inherent in trade restrictions. The strongest motive that has led men to urge political union between Canada and the United States has been the belief that in no other way could they secure mutual advantageous trade relations.

"But apart from social and political justification," continued Stimson, the reciprocity agreement stands firmly upon the rock of political benefit. I do not mean that some inconvenience, or even possible hardship, may not be caused to specific individuals or specific localities, but there can be no doubt that in the balance sheet of the whole nation the resulting benefits far outweigh such instances.

Says That Britain's Contribution to Science of Government is Consolidation of Empire—Sir Wilfrid Replies.

London, May 25.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Duke of Connaught, presiding at the Royal Colonial Institute dinner, said that the Imperial Conference undoubtedly worked well, being a consolidation of the Empire, welding the parts into an indissoluble whole. The solution of self-government by the dominions was the most important British contribution to the science of Government. He earnestly hoped that the universities of the Empire would give this a full, definite and compulsory place in their curriculum. He alluded to the marvelous emigration to Canada, and congratulated Canada and Newfoundland in the fisheries award, which had been accepted loyally in the United States. In Canadian naval matters the closest connection with the British navy must and would be the aim of both Governments.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in responding, said that if any doubted he could assure them that Canada intended remaining a nation within the Empire. There was a condition that might be compared with an adolescent, having been no account, and suddenly developed into full vigor. The United States was the country of the nineteenth century, Canada of the twentieth, but Canada overshadowed every country.

By her neighbor there were on the soil of Canada to-day 500,000 who five years ago were American citizens and not loyal subjects of King George. If any one thought that therein lay danger to British connection he must have a poor idea of the value, force and strength of British institutions. So long as the latter spelt freedom and prosperity, so long would Canada remain what it is. Sir Wilfrid assured the Duke of Connaught of a hearty welcome awaiting him, not least from Americans who had taken up their abode in Canada.

Premier Fisher, also responding, said that the best thing he could wish to happen to Australia would be to be along side such a population as was Canada. If Australia had sixty or seventy millions of people of similar ideas on its borders, invasion would not be feared.

Sir Joseph Ward thought that the instructions issued by the Colonial Office to Governors-General throughout the whole of their terms should state that they ought not to remain in the bounds of the dominions, but from time to time make an exchange. Why should Connaught remain a whole term in Canada? Why not a few months in Australia or New Zealand?

BISHOPS ARE PROTESTING

Say That Portuguese Policy One of Annexation.

Pope Also Will Protest Against Spoiliation of Churches.

Lisbon, May 25.—A collective protest of the bishops against the separation law has been issued. It consists of a long exposition in four sections under the heads of injustice, oppression, spoliation, and mockery, and concludes by declaring that the bishops, priests and faithful will always unite in manifesting their loyalty and fidelity to the country.

The violence of this protest has caused a sensation. It vigorously attacks the Provisional Government and declares that the law is not one of separation, but of annexation of the church. After being despoiled of all property and authority, the bishops declare the church has been placed in an abject position under the heel of the Government.

The protest is signed by the Patriarch of Lisbon, three archbishops and seven bishops.

The civil governors throughout Portugal have received orders from the central Government to inaugurate an inventory of all churches and chapels.

According to the newspapers here, the patriarch of Lisbon has informed Bernardo Machado, Minister of Foreign Affairs, that the report that the prelates had decided to close the churches in Portugal is untrue.

Pope Will Protest.

Rome, May 25.—The Osservatore Romano follows despatches from Lisbon concerning measures taken by the Portuguese Government as a result of the bishops' protest, by the announcement that an encyclical will shortly be issued in which the Pope will protest energetically against the persecution of the church by the Portuguese Government, and in a special manner against the unjust and oppressive law of separation.

Plotters on the Frontier.

Madrid, May 25.—The situation here is evidenced by the fact that the Government is despatching reinforcements to the north. The official explanation of this, as given out, is that the Government is aware that monarchist plotters, with 2,000 mercenaries, are on the Spanish frontier and intend to cross to Portugal at the first opportunity that the inhabitants will support their cause.

The Government, however, it is said, does not look for a revolutionary movement. It believes the disturbances will not go beyond rioting, but, nevertheless, all military precautions are being taken.

As next Sunday, which is election day, approaches, rumors of conspiracies, royal plots and Republican factional differences multiply. Nevertheless, order continues. The Government in its declaration issued yesterday regarding the elections, when members of the assembly will be chosen, recites the reforms accomplished by the Provinsional Government and the improvement in the public finances. No loans have been made and offers of loans from British and French bankers have been declined. Portuguese consols have risen from 66 to 67.

Hail Breaks Minden Windows.

Lindsay, May 25.—Between the hours of four and five on Tuesday a severe hailstorm covered this village and surrounding section, including the Village of Minden. The window glass of the west side of most buildings was shattered, one house reporting a loss of 16 panes, while damage in Minden is covered by a rush order to Toronto for about 300 panes. Trees were stripped of their foliage and all crops were leveled to the ground. The fruit in this section will be a total failure.

Heart Failure From Heat.

Montreal, May 25.—Another death was recorded as a result of the sweltering weather that hung over the city.

Mrs. Joseph Hebert of Outremont was found dead in bed by her husband Tuesday, and investigation showed that there had been heart failure, consequent on the strain of heat prostration.

13th Visited St. Kitts.

St. Catharines, May 25.—Victoria Day was celebrated in the city yesterday in a military manner. The 19th Regiment of this city and the 13th Regiment of Hamilton taking part in the celebration. The Hamilton regiment, 450 strong, arrived at 11 o'clock, and, accompanied by the 19th, 300 strong, paraded the principal streets of the city.

Surprised by Robber Bands.

Paris, May 25.—The Minister of the Colonies has received despatches announcing a French force has been surprised by robber bands at Zarafed, Upper Senegal.

EAGLE ATTACKED AVIATOR GILBERT

Was Shot After a Short Struggle—Vedrine Leading.

Special to the Review.

San Sebastien, Spain, May 25—Aviator Gilbert was attacked by a giant eagle, while flying on the last leg of the Paris to Madrid aeroplane race. The bird struck Gilberts' metal headpiece with claws and beak in attempts to reach the eyes of the aviator, but it was finally shot by him. Vedrine is leading. Garros and Gilbert and all three are making occasional descents on account of motor troubles.

GENERAL IAN HAMILTON.

Who is on a trip of inspection to the West Indies. He is commander-in-chief of Britain's Mediterranean forces, inclusive of Egypt, the Soudan, Malta and Gibraltar, and inspector-general of all over-sea forces.

SHOT HIS WIFE THEN HIMSELF

Mining Engineer, Crazed With Drink, Under Arrest.

Toronto, May 25.—Crazed with drink, which he had been taking for some days, J. B. Phillips, 264 St. George street, a mining engineer, 42 years of age, shot his wife in the right breast and then put a bullet through his own shoulder at his home at 01.30 last night.

He was taken to the Yonge street police station, after being overpowered by David Johnston, 266 St. George street, who was summoned to the spot by the woman's screams. He was arrested by Chief Inspector David Archibald, who was called from his house at 273 St. George street, and is charged with shooting with intent to kill.

Phillips and his wife had been at the races yesterday afternoon. Phillips had been drinking heavily all week, and when his wife went up to the servants' room, having put their two little girls to bed, she heard her husband coming upstairs. When he reached the doorway, he leveled an automatic pistol at her and fired. The bullet entered the right breast and came out over the right shoulder. The man then turned the pistol on himself and put a shot in his own left shoulder. He then went downstairs. Neither the wounds of Phillips or his wife are dangerous.

Fires Threatened Village.

Halifax, May 25.—Forest fires at Hubbard's Cove Tuesday afternoon threatened the destruction of the village, but fortunately the efforts of a hundred men, who turned out to fight the flames and the circumstances of the wind, prevented a general conflagration. The fire started from a spark from a locomotive on the Halifax & Southwestern Railway, and was carried along by a northeasterly wind. A house and barn owned by Frank Schwartz was destroyed, at a loss of $2,000. Valuable trees fronting on Major Drewin's property had to be cut down to save the house, and other minor damage was done. At six o'clock in the evening the fire was under control.

Asquith Won't Say.

London, May 25.—In the House of Commons, Mr. George Terrell asked the Prime Minister whether under the Government scheme of home rule for Ireland the Irish Parliament would have similar powers to those possessed by the self-governing dominions to enter on a preferential trading treaty with the United States to the detriment of British manufacturers.

Mr. Asquith did not feel it his duty to answer such a question.

IVERNIA IS FAST ON ROCK

Big Cunard Liner is Seriously Damaged.

Struck Daunt Rock in a Dense Fog—No Lives Lost.

Queenstown, May 25.—The Cunard Liner Ivernia, which left Boston May 16 for Queenstown and Liverpool, struck Daunt Rock at noon yesterday during a fog as she was appoaching the shore after an eventless voyage.

The vessel is now resting at anchor close to the eastern bank of Kinloch Channel inner harbor with 25 feet of water in her fore compartment. Previous reports were to the effect that she had been beached, but these latter turned out to be erroneous. No one on board the steamer were hurt.

The first that was known of the accident was when the liner passed Roche's Point, at the head of Cork Harbor. The forward part of the Ivernia was sunk deep in the water, her stern was high in the air, and she had a bad-looking list to starboard.

The great hole in the fore part of the liner and the narrow margin, nine feet of free board above the water, sufficiently indicated what a narrow escape the Cunarder had from disaster. The water tight compartments, however, stood the strain well, and the water was confined to the forward hold.

The captain brought his damaged vessel safely into the inner harbor, where she was anchored at the edge of the eastern bank. The passengers, who numbered 758, were quickly landed.

The liner was within a mile of a tender which was waiting to take off the Irish contingent of passengers, when Daunt Rock suddenly loomed up in a dense fog, and before the vessel's way could be stopped the big ship struck.

The passengers were at luncheon at the time of the accident and quickly rushed on deck. The ship only hung on the rocks for a short time, and then slid off into deep water with a large aperture in her starboard bows, through which the water flowed and threatened to flood the liner.

Captain Potter and his officers, however, were prompt to close the bulkhead, and the inrush of water was confined to the forward hold.

The ship's officers were able to quickly reassure the passengers of their safety, and there was no sign of panic on board.

An examination of the steamer shows that the water is penetrating holds Nos. 2 and 3 as well as No. 1.

The Ivernia was built at Newcastle in 1900. She is of 9,058 tons net register, 582 feet long, 64.9 beam and 37.8 feet deep.

Daunt Rock, on which the Ivernia struck, is a pinnacle, with ten feet of water over it, and four and a quarter miles from Roche's Point, the Irish mainland. Vessels bound from the westward take special precautions to avoid the rock.

POPULATION IS ON THE INCREASE

England and Wales Have 36,075,269—Greater London, 7,252,963.

Special to the Review.

London, May 25—The returns of the government census, made public to-day give England and Wales a population of 36,075,269 which is an increase in ten years of 10.91 per cent. Greater London has a population of 7,252,963.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

RIOTS FOLLOWED NEWS THAT DIAZ REFUSED TO RESIGN

Three Deaths and Many Wounded in the Rioting.

Mexico City, May 25.—Enraged by the announcement that President Diaz and Vice-President Corral would not resign before to-day, spectators from the galleries of the Chamber of Deputies late last night started a riot in the streets that resulted in at least three deaths and the wounding of many persons by volleys fired by police and troops.

In the midst of it all, President Diaz is on a sick bed. It was learned on good authority yesterday that despite recent optimistic reports of his condition the President has shown several degrees of fever for the last five days. He declines to see all visitors, including members of the diplomatic corps, and takes nothing but liquid nourishment. Madame Diaz told a visitor yesterday that the President's principal diet was warm milk. His condition is regarded as serious by members of his family.

Telegraphic reports were received last night stating that demonstrations are in progress in Tehuantepec, Guadalajara and Zacatecas. The federal governor of Jalisico, Manuel Cuesta Gallardo, was driven out. At Zacatecas the troops fired on the mob, killing four. Further details are lacking.

Will Deport Couple.

Quebec, May 25.—As the result of the examination by the special board of examiners appointed by the immigration authorities, it was finally decided that both Mr. D'Abbadie and Miss Helena Benoit, who were detained here on the arrival of the steamer Lake Manitoba last Monday on the technical charge of being undesirable citizens, have been ordered to be deported. Miss Benoit has appealed to the Minister of the Interior, denying that there had been any impropriety between her and her former employer. It is understood, however, that both will be sent back to England by the Lake Manitoba.

Wholesale Arrests In Montreal.

Montreal, May 25.—Fifty-eight boys and four men were arrested last night by the police and plainclothes men, for violating the controllers' orders against setting off fireworks within the city limits. Otherwise Victoria Day in Montreal was uneventful. There was little decoration in evidence except on the ships in the harbor.

Intermittent rain kept the crowds away from the various sporting attractions. Many factories and stores failed to close, as to-day, Ascension Day, is also a public holiday in this province.

DIAZ EXPECTED TO QUIT TO-DAY

Four Killed and One Hundred Wounded in Rioting.

Special to the Review.

Mexico, May 25—As a result of rioting last night, four are dead and over one hundred wounded. The demonstration is being continued to-day in face of only a half hearted show of authority on the part of the troops of Diaz. The President is expected to resign this afternoon.

Barns Burned.

Welland, May 25.—The electrical storm on Monday night caused considerable loss by fire in the section west of Welland. The following losses are reported: Ennie Priestman, Forks road, large barn and shed, with contents; loss $1,600, no insurance. Oakley Beamer, Boyle, barn, 80 by 40, and shed, cattle, buggies and grain destroyed; loss $2,800, insurance $1,200. William Lapp, Lowbanks, barn, with contents; loss $1,500, insurance $500.

Madam Hoffman, magician and illusionist.

Prof. Talkerton, ventriloquist.

One price all over the house, 10 cts.

In Hamilton.

Hamilton, May 25.—Hamiltonians observed the holiday in a very quiet manner. Sporting events occupied the centre of the stage, with two road races, and a baseball game being pulled off in the morning, while a baseball game in the afternoon provided the principal entertainment for the citizens. The 13th Royal Regiment, in practically full force, spent the day in St. Catharines, and returned to the city at 11 p.m., while the 91st enjoyed the Scotch hospitality of the inhabitants of Fergus for the day. Both railroads and the steamboats did a rushing business, every train and vessel leaving the city being crowded. The weather was more or less threatening all day, but a light shower at noon was the only rainfall.

POLICE COURT

One Drunk Pays Fine—Two Others Go to Jail

Three men from Bethany were the victims of indulging in the cheering cup too copiously on the holiday. Only one had enough to pay the $2 fine this morning and the major part of his money was in nickels which he appeared loath to part with. He had $30 yesterday it is said.

"You look old enough to know better," was Acting Magistrate's Armstrong's comment.

The other two were shy the price so they will rest for ten days in jail.

Catarrhal Bad Breath

Corrected Quickly by the Use of Catarrhozone

Catarrh is an inflammation. Where there is inflammation there is always more or less offensive secretion. Inflammation may be of the very active sort, but it is often of the slow kind, and this is the particular form in which the breath is rendered offensive and the presence of the sufferer becomes an offence to every person of delicate sensibility.

Bad breath is in itself sufficient to urge you to correct it, because one dislikes to be unpleasant to their friends, but this form of catarrh is dangerous because it supplies a hotbed for the development of Consumption or of other diseases of the throat and lungs.

Bad breath is an evidence that the microbes have found a good resting place and are carrying on their evil inroads into the health of the body.

Catarrhozone acts at once and destroys these minute organisms, but it does more—it heals the inflamed surfaces in which they found a nesting place and consequently removes both cause and effects of their action.

If we only highly estimated the value of prevention and used Catarrhozone at the beginning of a cold or just before it becomes well seated, the deadly ravages of Consumption would be stayed and the terrible agonies of sufferers of Asthma or Bronchitis completely abolished.

There is no remedy as effective for bad breath, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, etc., as Catarrhozone. Besides being healing and soothing it is germ destroying. Nothing ever offered to the public can compare with it in its promptness, efficiency, and permanency of action, and you can buy it from any dealer in medicine throughout the Dominion of Canada, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 sizes. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

RAISING THE PRICES

The fact that the cement merger by eliminating competition has been able to raise prices in a most pronounced manner, is borne out by the testimony of Peterborough hardware men. Cement sells in Peterborough to-day at $1.90—this being the store price. The price for cement in September 1909 was around $1.25 a barrel. This represents a full increase of at least 50 cents a barrel, and only recently was the Lakefield factory put into commission again, the demand being sufficient to enable all eleven mills in the merger to produce without creating a surplus "stock."

Is it not possible that there are other big mergers among the many that have recently been brought into existence, which are using their power of eliminating competition to advance prices unduly. The Standard Oil Co. was ordered by the United States supreme court to dissolve, because it was acting in unreasonable restraint of trade. Are there not Standard Oil Companies, on a smaller scale, in Canada—but just as big relatively, to us?

Parliament is reluctant to go into an investigation of these facts, but they seem to warrant an investigation. The MacKenzie King anti combine act is a farce in operation. Something a great deal more stringent than it is needed to control the industrial combinations.

THE CONFERENCE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is reported by cable as having been utterly amazed and surprised at the general acceptance in England of the idea that reciprocity is but a good long step toward annexation, and that Canada was separating herself from the Empire in a gradual but sure manner.

It should not have surprised Sir Wilfrid so much, because the people of Britain have only two sources of information. One comes from Canada and the other from the United States. The utterances of Champ Clark, Representative Bennett, and President Taft and Secretary Knox are such that the English who do not know Canada would readily fancy that where there was so much smoke there must be some fire. President Taft's "blazing" indiscretion in declaring that it was now or never with reciprocity; that this was the United States' chance to stop that imperial trade preference band stretching from England around the world and back to England again, was perhaps the signal for the greatest outbreak of alarmist sentiment yet.

Sir Wilfrid did well in assuring the people of Britain that there wasn't the slightest danger of annexation. There doesn't even seem to be the slightest danger of reciprocity. And if the people of Canada, as a whole, are opposed to a trade arrangement that destroys any chance of closer trade relations with the empire, how much more would they be opposed to becoming another star in Old Glory! The sentiment of new imperialism is so strong in the hearts of Canadians now, so prosperous and contented are they, that they are inclined to turn aside offers of reciprocity in natural products. If Canadians want goods without paying a customs tariff, they can lower their duties in accordance. But they do not want to make trade agreements only to find the agreement upset at any time without notice, and disturbing the steady flow of business. Neither do Canadians want trade arrangements that will place them at the mercy of huge monopolies, and subject them to violent panics and business depressions, through no fault of their own.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in England makes his usual brand of patriotic speech. It is a great cheer-raiser to hear him declare that Canada and the United States will show the world how the two countries will live side by side along the longest boundary in the world, without a gun, without a fortress, without a soldier. This is fine, but Sir Wilfrid, of course, diplomatically ignored the fact that the United States has nine warships on the great lakes in defiance of the Rush-Bagot treaty, and Canada spends twice as much on her militia as on her agriculture. It is without doubt the desire of the two peoples to live harmoniously, and it may be that to make of the continent a common play-ground for the trusts and monopolies is the best way to ensure peace, through the desire of these all-powerful factors for business gain. However, Sir Wilfrid has done very well in declaring to England that Canada won't stand for annexation talk. If he had added that reciprocity was likely to be the death of his government, he might have given the old country some real idea of how matters stand.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The cement merger will be rather a hard case to probe.

Latest fashion tip from Paris: Ice-cream trousers have come out.

Sir Wilfrid says that if the United States attempted to annex Canada, Canada could reply as did Diogenes to Alexander, "Stand out of my Sun." Of course, after a brave declaration like that, Uncle Sam would go hide himself in the Panama ditch for a while.

Victoria Day is second only to Dominion Day, in the list of patriotic holidays. The birth of the new Dominion is of supreme importance to Canadians, but the birthday of Victoria the Good, will remain a close second in their affections. So much was accomplished in Victoria's reign, for the advance of the world's welfare, that the general observance of the day is only a reasonable tribute to her who endeared herself to her people.

They are urging a "sane" fourth of July across the border, but Victoria Day in Canada is, and always has been quite sane. Canadians take their joys more calmly and sanely than Americans; and their sorrows do not reach to the depths so quickly. Speakers often say that Canadian audiences are much more cold and phlegmatic than American. At any rate, holiday time is more rationally observed on the north side of the great lakes and the forty ninth parallel.

The Globe says,—"An industrial merger cannot injure the public so long as there is a workable provision by which they can obtain tariff relief if subjected to unfair exactions. There is such a provision in the Fielding tariff." Of what use is any provision in a tariff when it is not applied when needed? In the case of the cement merger the duty was raised from 41 cents in 1896 to 50 cents at the 1907 revision. Is the cement merger injuring the public by using its combinistic formation to raise prices? Where is the Fielding provision in this case? It is a "delusion and a snare."

The creditors of the Farmers' Bank will get from five to ten per cent out of the sale of the assets. They lose only the amount of the credit; but the shareholders who were duped because of the treasury board's negligence, lose not only their first investment, but are called on to pay a second dose. If they had got a run for their money it would not have been so bad; nor had they had even a fighting chance. But the issuance of the certificate in the first place, in spite of warnings that the deal was not straight, was only the beginning of a series of financial blunder covered up in a cunning manner until the final crash came.

The London Pilgrims will dine the colonial premiers to-morrow evening. Sir Edward Grey, Lord Roberts and Lord Haldane will also be present.

Manual of Portugal is fast becoming Anglicized and is said to cherish no ambition to return to the Portuguese throne. He will make a world tour shortly.

ALFALFA MAKES RECORD GROWTH

Early Development is Quick Campaign Quite a Success

The remarkable length of root and the extraordinary early and rapid growth of the alfalfa plant in early spring is well illustrated in an alfalfa plant received this morning from Mr. Geo. F. Marsh, lately of Peterborough, but now on his farm at Clarksburg, Grey County, where alfalfa is grown abundantly. This alfalfa plant measured three feet eight inches and a half in root, and had over twenty inches of top, which has grown already this season.

The habit of early growth is one of the important and valuable characteristics of alfalfa. In late seasons, and in fact in any season, its growth far outstrips that of red clover, and should fodder be scarce, as it often is before grass is ready to pasture, the new alfalfa may be used for soiling stock, or if one cares to take a chance on losing the stand the early alfalfa may be pastured.

Alfalfa has been popular for many years in that section of Grey county in which Mr. Marsh has his home. After leaving Peterborough some weeks ago for his farm, Mr. Marsh wrote back that he was surprised at the large area in his district now devoted to alfalfa growing, although he was aware that many of his neighbors had considerable acreage devoted to the crop.

Our readers will be interested in learning that through our special campaign this past spring alfalfa has become surprisingly popular with our own farmers here in Peterborough county, a great number of whom have grown considerable alfalfa this spring for the first time. Those of our farmer readers who as yet have not done so ought to place themselves in line to profit from the alfalfa competition, which has been especially arranged for the farmers of Peterborough county. Entries should be sent in forthwith to the secretary of the competition, care of Farm and Dairy, Peterborough. No entry fee is required and competitors in the competition have everything to gain, so keen interest and a large list of entries in the competition is anticipated.

MATHERS CORNERS

Special Correspondence.

Mathers' Corners, May 24.—Mrs. Herb Hunter and family, of Janetville, spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor last week.

Miss Mary Graham was the guest of Miss Jennie Hope, Lang, on Sunday.

Allie Watkins spent Sunday at his home in Monaghan.

Mr. Thomas Taylor, who has been under the doctor's care for a few days, is, we are pleased to see, able to be around again.

Miss Sue Weir visited at the home of her uncle, Mr. Robert Weir, on the 24th of May.

Mrs. John Mather has returned home after spending a few days with her sister in Havelock.

Ralph Watson, who was last year engaged in Lang cheese factory, has accepted a position in our factory for this season.

Mr. F. J. Clarke, of Stirling, was the guest of Miss Sue Weir on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wood attended the district convention in connection with the Woman's Missionary Society held in Warkworth last Wednesday.

If any of the farmers in this vicinity are intending to beautify their farms by building new fences, and are wanting a quantity of good, strong, substantial wire, we would recommend them to call at our village, as we believe a good supply of the very best is always kept on hand, and some of the farmers' sons say that the sooner rail fences near the road are done away with the better.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"He come from that a-way," interrupted the informant, pointing in the direction Kirby had taken. "But you all know the road forks farther down."

"Come! We'll separate, and he cannot escape!" cried Tom. "It's our duty to hunt the villain down, to aid the law all we can. Dueling is one thing, but murder such as this deserves only lynch law. We'll show the scoundrel the same quality of mercy he meted out to this poor defenseless gentleman."

"That's right. Short shrift and a long rope!" cried the men.

Piloted by the member who had met Kirby, the small impromptu posse quickly made its way through the underbrush, emerging on the road which the gambler, at a point below the fork, was even then traversing. When the fork of the road was reached Tom and two companions chose the right or southerly branch, while the man who had met Kirby, accompanied by a half grown youth, bore away to the left. Thus by another intervention of the fates young Randall's meeting with the gambler was again postponed. The former and his companions, alarming the countryside en route, reached town without overtaking or even sighting their quarry.

Meanwhile the other members of the posse had fared better—or worse. They had not long left their companions before Kirby was sighted, walking leisurely with bowed head and evidently preoccupied mind. Warned by the rapidly advancing steps of his self constituted judges and executioners, he turned in mild curiosity and awaited their approach.

The farmer and his son—for such was the relationship existing between this contingent of the pursuers—came up hot and panting from their exertions and, meeting Kirby's cool and pleasantly inquiring eyes, became for the moment nonplused and confused.

"Rather a warmish morning for such strenuous exercise, gentlemen," greeted the gambler. "It is obvious that your business is with me. Pray in what manner can I serve you?"

The youth's loutish bearing became the more evident in contradistinction to that of the elegant and courteous gambler, and, with hanging lip, he fell back, overawed by the silent but compelling mastery of caste.

His parent, however—a stringy, drawling, malarial gentleman—was cast in a more determined and heroic mold. "Yuh all be the gambler they call Cameo Kirby," he exclaimed, pointing a threatening finger. "We seen yuh all come from the duelin' oaks, an' we all have just come from there. Yuh all have killed an unarmed man, an' we all are goin' to have yuh all up for murder."

"My dear sir," replied Kirby, arranging his cravat, "you all's intentions speak well for you all's respect for justice, but I assure you all there is some mistake. The gentleman I had the good fortune to kill entirely merited his end. Moreover, he was not unfixity of purpose in the brooding eyes, all of which belied the cheery carol.

Moreau, standing like a rock which disputed the other's progress, waited and watched. Once he made a sudden, violent movement in the hope of drawing Kirby's fire, but the latter, never heeding, continued his seemingly careless advance. On he came, thirty paces; twenty, and still no sign from either man; fifteen, and Moreau's hand whitened at the knuckles and his head came slowly down as he impaled the other on the sights of his pistol. On came Kirby, still whistling, as if on a pleasure stroll, the right hand still dangling carelessly at his side.

The nervous tension was fast growing unbearable. Moreau's nose looked pinched, and the breath whistled through it. On came Kirby—ten paces, and a sudden throb of flame leaped from Moreau's pistol, followed by a whirling wreath of smoke and a reverberating crash. He reeled from the heavy charge. At the same moment Kirby's listless hand swept up, and without breaking step he fired.

The drifting smoke parted in shreds and streamed away. The startled crows had ceased cawing, and off somewhere a bluejay ventered to timidly call its mate. Once more the cool serenity had descended upon the dueling oaks. Kirby was still advancing, but Colonel Moreau, giving a little cough, hesitated a moment, then fell prone, a small blue indentation disfiguring the purity of his lofty forehead.

Cameo Kirby looked gravely down upon the body of his late enemy; then as gravely he parted the trees and, with bowed head, slowly threaded his way toward the distant town.

Kirby had not long left the scene of conflict before Tom Randall, coming from an almost diametrically opposite direction, burst into the grove and tripped headlong over the lifeless form of Colonel Moreau. Recovering himself, the boy stared in horrified amazement at what he had never expected to see. That God should have thus defended the impious seemed impossible. Astonishment quickly gave place to a sense of burning outrage, a bitterness, abhorrence and vindictiveness which immeasurably overswept all previous feelings of treasured animosity and hatred. Now, Kirby must atone not only for the suicide of John Randall, but for the death of that gentleman's fancied protector and champion.

Swayed by his present emotions, baiked of revenge and thirsting for some means of expressing it, young Randall now stooped to an action which dishonored his name, race and country. In cooler moments he would have repudiated an action which forfeited the respect of all decent men. But he was hostage to a tempestuous and violent passion which counted not the means to an end. Single handed he might not hope to hunt down Kirby, but if he could enlist the assistance of the authorities, make every man the gambler's enemy, the latter's capture would be assured.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 1st. 1910.

"I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from Rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly walk up stairs.

Last June, he received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". He used them and dates his recovery from that time. To-day, there is no man in Vancouver enjoying better health.

He was building a house this fall and shingled a good part of the roof in a driving rain, without suffering any bad effects". JOHN B. LACY.

Mr. E. E. Mills, (assistant postmaster at Knowlton, Que.,) also writes:

"I honestly believe that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world". Try it yourself.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

LIVERPOOL, May 24.—Wheat—There was a firm opening account strength in America. Following the opening there was some covering by shorts in May and July, which advanced a further ⅜d from opening, under speculative support. There was an improved demand for cargoes, which later were more firmly held, and predictions are for small Argentine shipments this week. Private reports received here continue to emphasize the dry weather in Russia with damage, and altho the market was dull around midday, the undertone was very firm with speculators and good interests on the buying side. At 1.30 the market was firm, ⅜d to ⅜d higher, with July leading the advance.

CHICAGO, May 24.—May wheat to-day rose to within ¼c of the dollar mark. Nervous covering of about 400,000 bushels on orders, said to have come largely from St. Louis shorts, put up the price nearly 2c a bushel, to 99¾c. The close, however, was at a net gain of 1c. Other months rose, but to a lesser degree and in the end were ⅜c to ¼c lower than last night. Latest trading left corn a shade to ⅜c to ½c up; oats, at ⅛c to ⅜c advance, and provisions unchanged to 12c to 15c increase.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, May 24.—The railways reported 65 carloads of live stock, consisting of 865 cattle, 1536 hogs, 93 sheep and lambs, 152 calves and 2 horses.

The quality of cattle was generally good.

Trade was fairly active in all the different classes of live stock at about the same prices as on Tuesday.

Vagaries of the Thermometer.

Quebec, May 25.—A drop of 28 1-2 degrees in the temperature is a sample of the weather which has been prevailing in Quebec since Sunday.

On Sunday the mercury registered 92 degrees in the shade, and that was warm enough for May 21 any place. Monday the thermometer registered 11 degrees lower than on Sunday, and yesterday 17 1-2 degrees lower, which constitutes a drop of 28 1-2 degrees in two days.

Refused Bell Co.'s Request.

Sarnia, May 25.—News was received here yesterday from the Dominion Railway Commission that the Bell Telephone Co. had been denied its application for an increase in the long distance rate between Sarnia and Detroit. The company sought to raise the rate from forty to fifty cents. The increase was opposed by the Board of Trade, Town Council and marine interests here.

Found Dead Beside Engine.

Wallaceburg, Ont., May 25.—Isadore Lapine of Montreal, engineer on the Government tug here, was found dead beside his engine Tuesday. Failure of response to a signal led the captain to investigate, with the above result. Heart failure was the cause.

Killed by Lightning.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 25.—George Sayers, 21 years of age, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by lightning, while engaged on cement floor work in the west end. Sayers was engaged by Kidd & Co., and while the storm was at its worst sought shelter with the rest beneath a tree. A bolt descended, killing Sayers instantly and prostrating three others of the men who were with him. The deceased is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sayers of Bay street. He was unmarried.

THEATRICAL

"The Red Mill"

The Grand Opera House had a splendid holiday attraction in "The Red Mill," a matinee and evening performance being given to large and well satisfied audiences. James Crowley and William Moore as Con Kidder and Kid Conner, supplied most of the comedy, and their work was clean cut throughout. All the prominent members of the company were good, and the songs included some of the best heard here. The catchy ones were "You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Every Day is Ladies' Day with Me," "Because You're You,' and "In Old New York."

SCHOOL CHILDREN HAD A PICNIC

Bridgenorth Pupils Had a Happy Time in Chemong Park

Special Correspondence.

Bridgenorth, May 25.—The pupils of the school here held a picnic at Chemong Park yesterday afternoon and a very successful affair it proved to be, much praise being due Miss Martin, the teacher, for her part in the day's program. About ninety pupils were present, and the afternoon was spent in races and other sport. Many of the parents of the pupils attended, and the prizes for the winners in a race for ladies were a pair of braces, and a corn-cob pipe while for the men the prizes were a baby's bib and a doll.

CRAWFORD-HAY NUPTIALS

A quiet but fashionable wedding was solemnized at two o'clock this afternoon at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. T.A.S. Hay, city engineer, 192 McDonnel St, when Miss Helene Leocadie Hay, became the bride of Dr. Arthur Hamilton Crawford, of Ottawa and formerly of Havelock.

Rev. Robert Pogue of St. Paul's Church. was the officiating minister. The house was artistically and becomingly decorated with lilies of the valley and lilacs, the colors lending a very pretty effect to the interior. Promptly, at two o'clock, the bride, beautifully attired in an elegant gown of white satin with a pearl panel, and leaning on the arm of her father, entered the parlor, while Miss Flora Collins played the wedding march. Assisting as bridesmaid, was Miss Isobel Hay, a sister who wore a handsome and striking gown of pale yellow satin, and in which, she looked most charming and attractive. The groomsman was Dr. J. Guy, W. Johnston of Montreal, an intimate friend of the groom.

The grooms gift to the bride was a rare and elegant bracelet of pearls and rubies. Dr and Mrs. Crawford, left later in the afternoon on a tour west after which they will reside permanently in Ottawa.

A number of guests from out of town places were present at the nuptials, and both bride and groom were the recipients of numerous beautiful gifts.

LOCAL DELEGATES AT CONVENTION

Mr. Hugh Robinson Elected Vice president of O.L.E.A. at Guelph

At the annual convention of the Ontario Labor Educational Association held at Guelph yesterday morning and afternoon, local organizations were represented by F. Dobbin, Geo. Skelding, Trades Council; F. Brown, Patternmakers; H. Robinson, Moulders; E. Standford, Textile Workers, and George Brosseau, Barbers. Mr. Hugh Robinson was elected third vice-president. The delegates were welcomed by President Thatcher, of the Guelph Trades and Labor Council.

The feature of the afternoon session was the discussion of the proposed formation of a Provincial Federation of Labor in Ontario. The discussion was heated, almost all the delegates speaking on the subject. A resolution was passed declaring that the time was ripe for such a federation, and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will be asked to take such steps as make this possible.

President Glockling, of the Congress, reviewed the work of that body in securing the enacting of laws beneficial to labor men and all workingmen.

A resolution was brought in with reference to McNamara, the union organizer who is charged with dynamiting. It was ruled unconstitutional for this body to interfere with union matters across the border, but a resolution of sympathy to McNamara was unanimously carried.

The Peterborough delegates were successful in landing the convention of 1912, which will be held here.

THREE TENDERS WERE ACCEPTED

Property Committee in Session—Coal Wanted

The Property Committee met Tuesday night, with Ald. Duncan, chairman, and Aldermen Bradburn and Brown present.

A letter was read from Adamson & Dobbin, offering to put in lawn service at the public library of 1-2 inch pipe for $18, and of 3-4 inch pipe for $22.

Offers were made for 26 window screens and for door screens for the public library building.

On motion of Aldermen Bradburn and Brown, it was decided to accept the offer of Adamson & Dobbin to put in lawn service and of E. Wand for the window screens, and that they be referred to the chairman of the Property Committee of the Library Board, and that he be requested to see that the work is properly done, and also that he be authorized to purchase 50 feet of lawn hose.

Moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Brown, that the necessary repairs to the catch basin of the fountain be left in the hands of the chairman of the committee.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Brown, that tenders be asked for 70 tons of coal for the city buildings, and the coal required for the Fire Hall in May be directed by the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.—Carried.

It was decided to leave in the hands of the Hospital Board the matter of procuring screen doors for the Queen Mary Hospital.

Offers were read for painting the band stand in Victoria Park as follows—Coleman Bros., $30; J. Watson, $30.

It was moved and seconded that the tender of Coleman Bros. be accepted, if they do the work at once, and if they cannot, that it be given to J. Watson, if he will do it at once.

BOAT HOUSES.

It was moved and seconded and carried, that the city solicitor be asked to prepare a lease or agreement, and a by-law, if necessary, to regulate the erection of boat houses on the river front north of the C.P.R. bridge, where the boat houses were recently burned, on terms that the boat houses must be constructed of planed lumber and painted, and that they must be removed on a month's notice from the Council, so to do and such other terms as the mayor and Council may direct.

SPOKE AT SCHOOLS ON EMPIRE DAY

At the Empire Day celebration at the city schools, on Tuesday afternoon Rev. J.C. Davidson and Mr. John Crane, spoke at Central school. Dr. Morrison and Mr. L.M. Hayes, K.C. were at South Central, His Honor Judge Huycke, Col. Miller and Rev. Mr. Coon were at East city school, and Mr. T. H. Adams addressed the children at the West ward school. Messrs. V. Eastwood and R. Fair, spoke at the Queen Alexandra school.

OBITUARY

The Late Ernest A. Edgar

After five years' patient suffering, Ernest Alfred Edgar passed away last night at the age of 23 years at the family residence, Sherbrooke Place.

Deceased was born in Bobcaygeon and lived there until seven years ago, when the family moved to Peterborough, the father, the late Alfred John Edgar, having passed away two years previous. The late Ernest A. Edgar had been a sufferer from diabetes for a number of years, and for the past five years he had been unable to leave the house. He spent a few weeks in the hospital, but as his case was hopeless he was again removed to his home, succumbing about 11.45 o'clock last night.

Before his illness deceased was a regular church attendant, and at Bobcaygeon was identified with the Methodist church.

Those left to mourn his death are his mother and three brothers, Earl, Oscar and Orval, at home, and four sisters, Mrs. Gordon and Miss Nina, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Herron and Miss Sarah, of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held Saturday, the remains being taken to Bobcaygeon on the 7.42 a.m. C.P.R. train,

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Band rehearsal will be held at the Simcoe street hall to-night at eight o'clock.

Bugle band will meet for practice at the armories this evening at 7.30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

The local branch of the W.C.T.U. will meet Friday afternoon in their room over the Public Library at 3 o'clock.

Superintendent J. D. Lynch, General Roadmaster Bibby and Trainmaster Dan McMillan, of the Grand Trunk, were visitors in the city yesterday.

Yesterday all was quiet at the fire station, not an alarm being sent in. This is exceptional. Last year on the 24th of May there were six alarms.

STEAMERS BUSY

Many Citizens Took Holiday on the Water

The steamers of the Peterborough and Lake Simcoe Navigation Company were well patronized yesterday many citizens taking the opportunity to spend a day on the water. Capt. Wilbert Harris took the Water Lily to the lakes, Capt. Grey, with the Otonabee, gave an efficient service to the Salvation Army excursionists. The Manita with Capt. F. R. Pearson, took a holiday trip from Lindsay.

Rex Theatre—two performances.

PUMP IS NOT SATISFACTORY

The Water Commissioners Have Knotty Proposition to Handle

Mr. Lester of the John McDougall Caledonian Iron Works Company Limited, Montreal, was present at the meeting of the water commissioners on Tuesday evening, to ask the commissioners for a chance to allow his firm to remedy the troubles in connection with the turbine pumps at the waterworks dam.

The commissioners did not feel inclined to grant the request, and on motion it was decided to let the matter stand until the commissioners arrive at a decision, when they will communicate with Mr. Lester as to the result.

There were present at the meeting Messrs. T. F. Matthews, W. H. Moore, W. H. Hill and W. Henderson, waterworks superintendent.

Mr. Lester asked for about four months in which to have an opportunity of making alterations, changing impellers etc., thereby lessening the noise which the pumps make in operation, and which the commissioners maintained was very objectionable. The McDougall firm would spend the money to make it right even up to $500 or more.

Mr. Matthews stated that he felt the commissioners would rather have it removed. The matter was left standing, pending the outcome of the decision of the commissioners.

WEDDING BELLS

LUCAS—BODDISON.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. John's church at 11 o'clock yesterday morning when Miss Mabel Alice Boddison, eldest daughter of Isaac Boddison and Henry Edward Lucas, eldest son of the late Thomas Lucas were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Canon J. C. Davidson.

The young couple will reside at 274 William street.

HUNTER—MacFADDEN.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. MacFadden, 203 Dublin street, a pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday, when their only daughter, Estella May, was united in marriage to Mr. George E. Hunter, the Rev. Isaac Couch, M.A., B.D., pastor of the George St. Methodist church, performing the ceremony. The groom was supported by his brother, Albert Hunter, and the bride by her cousin, Miss Clara May Deyell, of Lindsay. The rooms were decorated with palms and Mrs. Geo. Walker, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The happy couple left on the 4.38 for a trip in Western Ontario.

GILES—ACKERS.

At the Knox Presbyterian church manse on Tuesday evening, May 23rd, Rev. H. J. Keith united in marriage Clifton Edgar Giles, to Grace Susannah Ackers, both of North Monaghan, in the presence of witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Giles will reside in North Monaghan.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT LOW PRICES

LaMonts Fun Makers in Musical Comedies Presenting the College Girl and a Prince For a Day

LaMonts funmakers in musical comedies, presenting "The College Girl and a Prince For a Day. An interesting absorbing story interwoven with song and music will be found in College Girls, the new musical offering which comes to the Grand Opera House, on next Monday and Tuesday nights. Seldom if ever has there been gathered together such a distinguished corps of artists as will be seen with this musical comedy. The story is that of college life bristling with wit, set to tuneful music, the song numbers new and catchy, rendered in a masterly manner by an exceptionally strong singing contingency, ably supported by a chorus of pretty girls whose rendition of the various musical numbers is superb. The piece is gorgeously mounted and will be offered at popular summer prices. The biggest show ever offered in this city, for the money.

UNCLE TOM'S BIG STREET PARADE

Saturday Attraction at the Opera House an Old Favorite

Of all the great American plays, the old historical drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has the strongest hold on the people. It is beyond question, one of the best plays ever written, hence the warm place it retains in the hearts of people of every clime. The greatest production that this American classic has ever had will be given at the Grand Opera House, Saturday, May 27 matinee and evening, under the management of Leon W. Washburn. Watch for the big street parade with two brass bands, "Eva" in her golden chariot "Marks" and his donkey, a pack of real Cuban bloodhounds, beautiful Shetland ponies, tableaux floats, jugglers, and a host of new sensations.

SERVICES IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The illustrated services being conducted by Prof. Lowe in St. Paul's church will be resumed this evening. The attendance on Monday and Tuesday, owing to the excessive heat, was not as large as might be expected. The views shown on the life of Christ have been exceptionally good, most of them having been taken from paintings by the world's greatest artists. Mr. Lowe will resume his lectures on the life of Christ tonight. These same addresses were recently given to crowded houses in Hespeler and Guelph. The services are open to all who can make it convenient to be present. They begin promptly at eight o'clock.

LOCALS TURNED COBOURG DOWN WITH TWENTY EIGHT HITS AND THIRTY-ONE RUNS

No wonder black and thunderous clouds hoved o'er that awful sight; no wonder fans by dozens beat it out and some got tight; no wonder "Mousie" missed the train which bore the victims here; no wonder after all was done there rose a mighty cheer, The City League of 1910 was some big noise on jokes, but this here crime of yesterday should land the nickle smokes; the smotes of Mike O'Brien, Wylder, Shaw and Slim Ahearne, Craig and "Wett" and Doc and Rahmal, made poor Cobourg sickly turn. No wonder W. J. was glad to take the doctor's mit and play the patient act for once, to stay meant take a fit; no wonder heaver Quinlan smiled when Quinn came to the bat with three on bags and two hands down—the air was all he swat. There's some excuse for Tommy Burgess drawing all his pay and after long and honored strife lay' way his suit of grey; for "can't come back" has got his goat, and Tommy's on the list of those who made the game round here and now to-day are missed.

Anything that the local swatsmen forgot to do with Cobourg yesterday afternoon, Tommy Burgess will likely include in a Laura Jean Libbey effort entitled, "Memoirs of an Old Midland League ball player, or Why I couldn't come back." It wasn't like this ten years ago," sighed the fast active member of the old Lakeshore brigade, as he watched a big seven go up on the score board after that awful sixth. That exhibition would have been interesting to watch from an aeroplane if you didn't know what it was. The runs were forty in number, the hits thirty-eight and the black marks just sixteen. It was supposed to be the opener of a resurrected league, which to judge from yesterday's performance, should have kept right on in the arms of Morpheus.

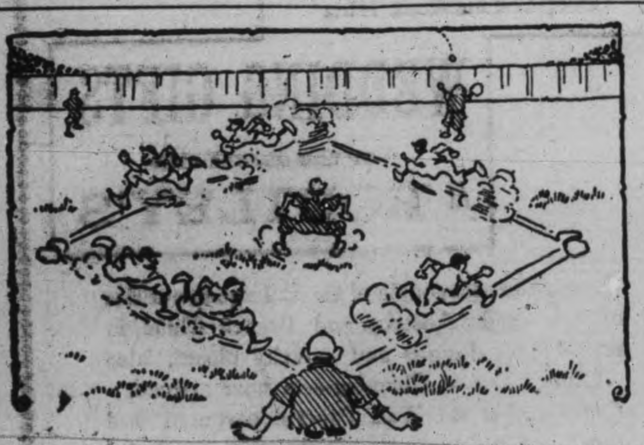
However, it is a pleasure to state that the visitors were game and stayed to the finish, which is more than can be said of about five hundred of the eight hundred fans and fanettes. Still there are cases which are excusable, and to do the hiking act, a better date than yesterday could not have been secured.

Marvelous Hornbeck turned pellet dispenser and he got his, too. Hutton with the big mitt, and Gordon at second, who had a flinger on him like a tin Indian, played very good ball and that gives the team about all that is coming to them. On the sunny side of the performance the new outfit gave a good account of itself. Quinlan and Wylder were in shape for any old kind of struggle, with prospects for first honors, and they with the remainder of the team were batting and fielding in mid-season form. Everybody got a hit, some took two, three and four, and Jack Rosevear should have been voted several baskets of thanks for his part in the affair, which was borne with commendable fortitude.

PLAY BY INNINGS

Glenn leading off for Cobourg, gave Wettlaufer first chance and he muffed. A quick throw by Quinlan to M. O'Brien got the runner, and Guy was out on a foul to Wylder. Guys' third strike was missed, but he was out on the peg.

For Peterborough Murphy stretched a good double into three sacks,



Park Street A.C. and Strathconas Never Had Anything on Cobourg Even When Aviating at Their Best.

Of the total in runs, the Petes took just thirty-one, and of the bingles, a slightly smaller quantity, only twenty-eight. It was a case of go while the goin's good, and it had the only holiday attraction outfit so dizzy they were wandering all over the field, playing at any old bag or garden in an heroic effort to stick.

Manager Niles, who did the flinging, was deserving of bouquets, but he didn't get any. He was shooting them over in fairly decent shape, but his fielders were ! ! ! ! ! They had all kinds of easy chances, but didn't want them, and the big score was the result. To assist in the comedy, which was going to the bad around the sixth spasm, and was first across the pan. Shaw was hit, stole second and reached third, when Hornbeck dropped a throw. With Ahearne, who walked and went to second, he tallied when Wylder hit for two bags, after M. O'Brien was out on third bunt strike. Quinlan singled, Craig sacrificed and W. O'Brien struck out. Four runs, three hits.

SECOND.

A foul fly to Wylder ended Hornbeck, Niles was safe on Murphy's slipup to O'Brien, but Mike recovered and the runner captured getting the runner into third. Burgess missed three.

Wettlaufer flew out to Burgess, Murphy died third to first, Shaw biffed in vain, but was safe when Niles missed the throw. He stole second and scored on Ahearne's double. O'Brien nailed Doc McFadden's picture with his home run. Wylder was out on a fly to Burgess. Three runs, two hits.

THIRD.

Quinn swiped and retired, Toms and Hutton threw easy chances at Ahearne, who accepted.

Quinlan grounded second to first, Craig walked; M. O'Brien was safe when Niles fell over himself. Wettlauffer smote the air.

FOURTH.

Glenn dropped one in short left and was safe at second on the throw in. Guy walked and made second, Gordon striking out. Glenn went to third and scored on Hornbeck's single. Niles walked and Guy and Hornbeck came in when Burgess hit. Niles went to second and third, Burgess stealing second. Quinn wafted again in vain, and Niles and Burgess blew home. Toms was safe and first and second and Hutton struck out. Five runs, three hits.

The locals all had a bat and Shaw and Ahearne went twice in their half and six runs went up on the score board. Ahearne, Shaw, Wylder and Quinlan had a single, and Craig a double. Six runs, four hits.

FIFTH.

Glenn and Guy hit and came home when Quinlan threw to the grandstand on Gordon's attempt. He went to second and Gordon made third on a passed ball. Niles struck out, Burgess got free transportation. With the bases full Quinn fell for three swift ones, and the best Toms could do was to foul out to Wylder Two runs, four hits.

Peterborough took three more runs in their half. M. O'Brien struck out, but was safe at first when Niles bungled the throw from Hutton, who let the third strike ramble away. He went to second on Wylder's single Quinlan struck out. O'Brien came in when Craig's grounder got away from Guy, and Wylder followed on a wild pitch. Craig took second and went to third on another wild heave, scoring on a hit by O'Brien, who was out and also hurt at second. Wettlaufer singled, but Murphy popped one up to the catcher. Three runs, three hits.

SIXTH.

Craig and Wettlaufer and W. O'Brien retired, Brydie, Rahmal and McFadden filling up. Hutton flew out to Rahmal, Glenn to Quinlan and Guy struck out.

The locals' sixth was agony, Murphy's triple, Shaw's and Wylder's singles, doubles by McFadden and Rahmal and a lot of rummy work by the visitors sent seven men across. Shaw and Ahearne batted twice. Seven runs, seven hits.

SEVENTH.

Gordon walked and went to second, Hornbeck was out on a long fly to Shaw, and Niles grounded to Murphy for a double play. M. O'Brien singled and Craig running for him, stole second and went to third, coming home when Wylder singled. Wylder was out stealing second. Quinlan and Brydie struck out. One run, two hits.

EIGHTH.

Burgess sent up a fly to first, Quinn out Quinlan to O'Brien, and Toms out Murphy to first.

The homesters took seven more on some good hitting, and assisted by the half-hearted fielding of Cobourg. The play was tame, and the grand stand had become thinned down to only a few of the game ones. Seven runs, six hits.

NINTH

In their dying struggles the visitors collared two counters, Glenn, Guy and Gordon rapping out singles. Gordon was called out for cutting second base, he and Guy having come in on a wild heave to the fence. Two runs, three hits.

LEAGUE LEADERS WERE DEFEATED

All Saint's Trimmed St. James' at Brinton Meadows

In a Church League game on the Brinton Meadows, yesterday morning the All Saints team took a fall out of the St. James huskies, to the tune of 1-0. The score does not indicate the play as the "Saints" forwards had a number of chances to score on the Methodists, but missed by fumbles. The grass of course was very long and it was hard to do any grand stand stunts but the game was fast throughout. The absence of "kickers" was the feature of the game, there being less back talking to the referee than has graced most of the Church League fixtures.

The St. James forwards did not seem to be able to get away with their usual speed and they had no goalgetter. The All Saints forwards worked together well, Curtis being the best on the field.

The goal was scored in the first half on a nice combination rush. The Methodists came back hard, and it looked as if they were going to score but the Saints gradually worked the ball out again for a second tally past Leader, but on the advice of the goal umpire the referee did not count it.

The line-ups were—

All Saints—Goal, Moriarty; Backs, Rew and Robinson; Halves, Hooper, Dawson and James; forwards, Edwards, Willis, Abbott, Curtis, Downs.

St. James—Goal, Leader; Backs, Grubb Braun; Halves, Sandiford, Yeates and Sparrow; Forwards, E. Hotston, Hodson, Gash, C. Hotston, and Turner.

Referee—H. Relton.

PARK ST. WON

Defeated Knox Eleven by Score of 3-2

Knox and Park Street teams played a league fixture on the latters' grounds, yesterday morning. The Park Street aggregation winning their first game of the season by a 3-2 score.

The play was not of the best, the Park Street team having a little more of the play than Knox, but neither teams being very strong on the combination or shooting. The first half ended with Park Street leading by a score of 1-0

SECOND HALF

The second half was a little better football both sides landing some of their shots. Knox were playing against the wind this period, and were kept on the defensive most of the time their backs playing a strong game. The goal-keeper was very safe in goal. Park Street scored twice, and with about 10 minutes to play, Knox tallied twice within about 7 minutes interval, two good shots beating the Park Street goaltender, making the final score, Park 3, Knox 2.

FOOTBALL

There were no Midland League games yesterday, the C.G.E.—Bethany game having been called off Tuesday, and the Havelock—Lakefield fixture yesterday.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYROUX, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

LAKEHURST NEWS

Pupils at S. S. No. 8 Have the Whooping Cough

Lakehurst, May 21.—Mrs. W. Irwin is suffering from an attack of la grippe. we hope that it will not prove serious and that she will soon be restored to her usual good health.

An epidemic of whooping cough has struck school section No. 8, the latest reports state that all he pupils except one are suffering frrom the disease. This is a most deplorable state of affairs, especially so near examination time.

The Methodist Sunday school has recommenced operations after having been discontinued during the winter months. Their capable staff of teachers are taking up the worrk with renewed energy and we are sure that much good will be accomplished.

Mr. Wm Shou'dice, who has taken the contract of digging the telephone postholes, is making most remarkable progress. The holes are ready almost all the way from Cedardale to the next corner, a distance of about a mile. At this rate it will surely be but a short time until we are in speaking distance with all the surrounding places of importance.

THE QUEEN'S CROWN

Jewellers are Preparing a Design to Submit to Her Majesty

The jewellers to whom has been entrusted the task of making the Queen's crown for the Coronation, are busy preparing a design to lay before Her Majesty. As Queen Consort a crown has to be made specially for Queen Mary. This crown must be on much the same lines as those worn by previous sovereigns, but to a certain extent Queen Mary may choose what it shall be like.

For instance, it is laid down by precedent that it must consist of a circlet of diamonds, set in some metal, resting on a narrow ermine border, four crosses and four fleur-de-lis of diamonds, as in the Royal crown, and a cap of crimson velvet.

But Her Majesty may choose the number of "arches" in the crown and their shape. They may be of Hanoverian, Stuart, Tudor, Plantagenet design, or any other period she prefers.

Queen Alexandra chose to have eight arches, after the fashion of the crown of James I., instead of four, as in the State crown.

MASTER ANTHONY LOWTHER
Son of Mr. Lancelot Lowther

COST OF A CORONET

The Little Crown is Not as Expensive As It Looks

Everyone knows that at the coming Coronation the peers of the realm are expected to wear their coronets, or "little crowns." Few, however, may be aware that these emblems of rank are not what they appear to be, nor so expensive as they look The crown which will adorn the brow of King George during the ceremony is, of course, priceless, and so also is that which the Queen will wear, butt he coronets worn by the peers and peeresses may be obtained for a comparatively small sum, and if we take into account the sum spent upon the robes and dresses worn, the cost of a coronet is almost insignificant. For the fact is that these coronets are not kept as heirlooms and put away in cotton-wool, or even in glass cases, but as a rule are bought as required. Very few, if any, are made of gold; most of them are of silver-gilt, or of water-gilt, the latter costing about a couple of pounds more than the former.

From the prices given below, which are taken from the catalogue of a well-known firm of gold and silversmiths, it will be seen that the prices are not even proportioned to rank, the coronet of an earl, for instance, being priced hegher than the coronet of a duke. The reason for this is found in the imitation pearls which adorn the coronet of an earl, while that of a duke is free from anything save the strawberry leaves. The cost is as follows: Duke, £6 10s.; duchess, £5 10s.; marquess, £8 10s.; marchioness, £7 10s.; earl, £9; countess, £8; viscount, £8 10s.; viscountess, £7; baron, £4 5s. It may not be generally known that while the King and Queen are crowned the peers crown themselves. At a given signal they wave their coronets before them and then place them on their heads. This is to symbolize the reassumption of their state at the beginning of the new reign.

GOOD TIMES FOR THE IRISH

Irishmen will indeed have a right royal time when their Majesties visit the Emerald Isle, and to add to Paddy's joy the King has presented two cups to be raced for at the meeting at Leopardstown that he intends to grace [illegible] Cup of the cups [illegible] to farmers. King George also intends—as stated would be the case—to send two or three of his racehorses over to Leopardstown to compete.

Forest fires are doing much damage in Carleton County, N.B.

STREAM OF GOLD BEGINS TO FLOW

Fabulous Sum That the Coronation Will Cost People of England—Visitors' Money

"When Kynges are crowned, much gold dothe flye," wrote a chronicler of the Middle Ages, and there is little doubt, if he could "revisit the glimpses of the moon" this coming summer and see the grand total of the bill for the Coronation of his Gracious Majesty King George V., he would gasp with amazement, and would declare that he never wrote truer words in his life. Already the stream of gold is beginning to flow; and before it ceases, some months hence, the total, if it could be exactly ascertained, will indeed be staggering.

The expenses of the Coronation ceremonies and the festivities immediately associated with it will alone come to a goodly sum. The current estimates contain a provision for an expenditure of $925,000, in addition to a substantial available balance in the hands of Lord Beauchamp, who is the national host; and King George himself will, it is estimated, spend at least $500,000 out of his own purse. Thus we arrive at a startling item of close on $1,500,000.

For every pound spent on Royal ceremonials and banquets scores will be lavished by the nation and her guests from over the seas on this carnival of rejoicing. From every corner of the wide world visitors are about to flock to our shores, with purses well filled, eager to "have a good time," and reckless of the expense. From the United States alone, it is said, at least 100,000 are coming, many of them millionaires, to whom a few thousands for a holiday jaunt are no more than the cost of a trip to Margate to the average man.

One palatial liner will come over crowded to its last cubic foot of accommodation with these transatlantic Croesuses. Every berth in every boat that will cross the "herring-pond" from now to the latter part of June has long been taken. In fares alone the United States guests will spend at least $10,000,000, a small instalment of the gold they bring with them to leave in British pockets.

Assuming that, on an average, each of these 100,000 Americans spends only $250 (an absurdly modest sum) on his holiday, we have an item of $25,000,000 to add to our bill. Canada is sending 8,000 of her people to the Motherland, Australia 10,000, and so on through the long list of those who will voyage across the seas. At a low estimate London during Coronation week will play the hostess to 200,000 guests hailing from every remote part of the earth; and they will return home richer by the experience of a lifetime, and poorer by at least $40,000,000.

For the privilege of sight-seeing alone it is easy to calculate that a sum running far into seven figures will be paid. Fabulous amounts have arleady been paid for houses and flats in Mayfair, St. James', and Belgravia, in South Kensington and the purlieus of Hyde Park. For the day of the Coronation procession itself $5,000 is the cost of a flat in Pall Mall; and on the following day—the day of the Royal progress—$2,500 will be disbursed for the same flat; $7,500 will for two days—at the rate of $1,435,000 a year! The lowest price asked by one agent for a solitary window overlooking the processional route is $175; and single seats range from $5 to $125.

The millionaire who wants a house to himself, say, in Queen's Gate, must be prepared to pay something like $15,000 for it. In fact, one rich American has already secured a mansion in Upper Grosvenor Street for $20,000, and is quite pleased with his bargain; while another Croesus has paid $17,500 for a house in Grosvenor Square. It is true that such rents cover a longer period than the Coronation festivities; but as the Coronation is the attraction which fixes the prices they may fairly be put down to its account.

Hundreds of flats in St. James' Street and similar places of vantage are being let for sums ranging from $500 to $2,500 for the Coronation Day alone, the lucky tenants thus paying the year's rent and pocketing a substantial sum in addition for vacating their quarters for a single day.

And practically all this expenditure, so far, is confined to the Metropolis alone. What about the money lavished not only in the provinces of the United Kingdom, but in our far-spreading colonies all the world over, from Canada to Ceylon, where loyalty is at least as rampant as at home? It is but a poor town in England which is not already committed to spend at least $5,000 in public rejoicings. This may be put down as an average expenditure for a town of 30,000 inhabitants. Such cities as Liverpool, Manchester, and Glasgow will probably spend from ten to twenty times this amount, and not grudge a penny of it.

Provincial public celebrations in the United Kingdom will run away with at least $5,000,000, and private disbursements will come to twice as much. We cannot put down less than $15,000,000 for provincial celebrations in Great Britain and Ireland; and we must allow considerably more for our hundreds of millions of fellow-subjects across the seas, who will raise their thunders of cheers to George V., "God bless him!" on Coronation Day.

And what will the total cost be? He would be a bold man who would hazard a guess without stipulating for a margin of a few millions. That it can fall short of $100,000,000 the present writer declines to believe.—Tit Bits.

MEMENTOES OF OLD SHIP

Are Kept by King and Queen—The Ship He Toured World In

The Melampus, the ship in which King George toured round the world, has been broken up recently, and the mass of material of which she was built will be sold by auction.

Both the King and Queen Alexandra desire to preserve mementoes of the old ship, and orders have been given for a garden chair to be made from her for the King, and a suite of garden furniture for Queen Alexandra. These pieces will be made from the teak used in the officers' apartments.

St. Thomas Horticultural Society will try to beautify that city.

MAKE YOUR OWN COMPARISON BETWEEN

St. Lawrence Sugar

AND ANY OTHER KIND YOU KNOW OF

Test it in every possible way, and thus satisfy yourself that ST. LAWRENCE GRANULATED is the purest and therefore the best sugar for you to use.

See Prof. Hersey's report which says that analysis shows St. Lawrence Sugar "to contain 99 99/100 to 100 per cent of pure cane sugar, with no impurities whatever."

Look at the sugar itself—its perfect crystals, its sparkling clearness. Test its matchless sweetness; then you will understand why St. Lawrence Granulated has no superior for purity and quality.

Your grocer should have

NEWSY ITEMS FROM BENSFORT

Bensfort, May 24.—The frequent showers of the past week have done much in promoting growth and the country can now be seen in its beauty.

One of our local men, who has been acting as assistant fish inspector, is being severely criticized for the part that he has been playing in the game and there is much speculation as to the outcome of some of the seizures made by him.

Mr. Mcfiatt, our new cheese maker, has deserted Mr. O'Hara, who will have to procure the services of another. The season opened on Monday, 15th inst., and has so far not been very promising. Many patrons are patronizing the Millbrook creamery, of which Mr. O'Hara is also manager, naturally diminishing the supply here. Better returns are expected as the season advances, but the cheese supply will be considerably less than a year ago.

Mr. S. Wedlock is erecting a new hen house, Mr. Russel Thompson is the contractor and the structure will be one of exceptional quality. Mr. Wedlock purposes devoting considerable time to the managing of poultry, which is considered quite a profitable business.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid, of Peterborough, were guests of Mrs. John Kerr on Sunday.

The wiring of gates is becoming a practice in our community and some of our young men would find it convenient to carry a pair of pinchers with them while out driving at night.

Mr. Louis Fry was renewing acquaintances at Mr. Wm. Jewison's on Sunday.

Quite an amusing mishap occurred to Mr. Harry Kerr the other night, while out wheeling. He had the displeasure of a puncture and had to walk some distance to his home.

Mr. Harold Montorief has a new top buggy and takes great pleasure in driving on the Lakeview road, which is a very picturesque route for one who is an admirer of beautiful scenery.

Mr. Robert Roddy, who is the operator of our road grader, was in Otonabee a few days ago with our machine, doing some work for Mr. John Whittington, a former resident of this vicinity.

Mr. Harry Finnie was the guest of Mr. Wesley Robinson, of Otonabee on Sunday evening.

Mr John Deyell was renewing acquaintances at Mr. Walter Finnie's on Sunday and accompanied by Messrs. Lawrence Finnie and Harry Thompson took in the service at Hiawatha church on Sunday evening. The Indian choir is much appreciated by all who have the privilege of attending their services.

Mr. Hiram Shaw, a young Englishman, who is secretary of our Adult Bible Class, will undoubtedly prove himself a great worker in trying to induce his fellow countrymen to come out and join with us in our services.

Mrs. Lancelot Nicholson and son Manson have been visiting friends near Omemee where Mrs. Nicholson still remains on account of illness.

We were pleased to see Miss Annie Kerr our local teacher, who was off duty on Monday and Tuesday on account of illness, able to resume her duties on Wednesday.

Mr. Richmond Morrison has been sick during the past week, but we are pleased to know that he is recovering.

Mr. Odell, our school inspector, was making his semi-annual visits to the neighboring schools during the past week.

Caterpillars are very numerous this season and it is feared that they may become a plague, as they were some years ago, if people do not get busy and destroy them. It will be remembered that some years ago many or nearly all of our orchards and forests were robbed of their foliage, many trees in both forests and orchards dying as a result of the scourging they received at the hands of the crawling enemy.

Miss Bullerd, of Peterborough, has been a guest at Mr. Fred Watkins' of this vicinity.

It is with feelings of regret that we record the death of Mr. Walter Sisson, of Otonabee, a former resident of our vicinity, who passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, Peterboro on Sunday after a short illness. The family have been extremely unfortunate during the past few years, the father and a brother, having been called away and much sympathy is felt for the widowed mother and remaining members of the family in this their hour of sorrow.

Y.M.C.A. ATHLETES WERE AT THE TOP

Took Prizes in Pentathlon Events at Belleville

The local athletes who went to Belleville yesterday succeeded in getting their share of the prizes in the running high jump, the local men finishing 1st, 2nd, 3rd. Stanley Canniff winning first with a jump of 5ft. 3in; H. Wood, 5ft. 1in. was second, and C. and Bartlett was third with 4ft. 11in. In the 100 yard final heat H. Wood ran a good third, not a foot separating the first three men. In the 12lb. shot put Stanley Canniff landed third place with a put of 33ft. 11in. the pole vault and other events were not run off owing to the rain which fell in torrents for a while and flooded the grounds.

The Stratton Cup contest opens at Riverside Park Friday evening, when the 100 yard dash and running high jump will be the events. This contest promises to be the best yet held.

The "Y" football team will meet the St. John's team on the Park street grounds to-night at 6.30 p.m. and the following men are requested to be on hand:—Fleming, Dorris, Williamson, McPherson, Moore, Flowers, Tarte, Miller, Bowness, Lane, Canniff, Adams, Hampton.

To-day and to-morrow will be the last of the free swimming and all those holding tickets are reminded to come to make use of their tickets.

LEAGUE OPENER THIS SATURDAY

Central T.A.S. and Sacred Heart Teams Meet at 3.45

The Inter-Catholic Ball League opens Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park with a game between Central T.A.S. and Sacred Heart church nine, and at this distance it looks like a lively article of ball. The Centrals have strong twirlers in Hickey and Mahoney, with Phelan and Hayes to do the backstopping. Sacred Heart have Gus. Rose of last season's West End team, and Lafavre, who used to do service with Ab Quinlan. Play will be called at 3.45 o'clock.

TWO GIRLS DROWN IN TORONTO BAY

Toronto College of Music and Miss Blain a teacher at the same place. Clark is a third year Arts student and Wolfe a third year Anglican divinity man.

When word of the drowning was taken to the girls' boarding-house, messages were sent to Miss Hicks' parents at Shelburne, and to Miss Blain's brother, at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

The bodies were lost in water too deep for dragging and it is likely that the friends will have to wait for the bodies to come to the surface. The spot where they were drowned it outside of the city limits and therefore comes under the jurisdiction of the county authorities.

One of the girls had been out with Clarke sailing on Tuesday night. The other girl met both men for the first time yesterday. Wolfe had met neither of the girls until yesterday. Both men could swim and Clarke is said by Wolfe to be an expert sailor, but Wolfe says that he himself knows nothing of sailing.

Two Drownings at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 25.—Eber Jones, son, and Miss Maggie McLeod, sister-in-law of Rev. J. Phillips Jones, pastor of St. John's Park Presbyterian Church here, were drowned yesterday north of Kildonan Park while boating. Jones was writing for his matriculation. Both are well known.

George E. Hunt and his sister Jessie were drowned out of a canoe at Elm Park last evening. Miss Maud Steele and A. J. Hunt were in the canoe also, but escaped. The party had been out at the regatta and were swamped in the waves caused by a sudden wind storm. The bodies have not been found. They lived in the Bettses Block, corner of Portage avenue and Carlton street.

Drowning In Grand River.

Berlin, Ont., May 25.—Henry Kraener, aged 24, was drowned in the Grand River at Bridgeport Tuesday night, and his brother, Albert almost met a similar fate in attempting to rescue him, being rescued by another young man named Hintz.

At the Woodbine.

IMPERIAL COUNCIL IDEA IS NOT FAVORED BY DELEGATES

Sir Joseph Ward's Motion is Defeated—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Favors an Advisory Council.

London, May 26.—The Imperial Conference, which is holding its sessions at the British Foreign Office, yesterday turned down the proposition of Sir Joseph Ward, the Premier of New Zealand, favoring the constitution of an ex-imperial council of state, with representatives of all the self-governing British Dominions to act in an advisory capacity to the Imperial Government.

Sir Joseph Ward's proposal met with no support and was withdrawn after a debate lasting two days.

The first step in the direction of the federation of the British Empire was thus postponed.

At yesterday's meeting of the Imperial Conference a message of thanks was read from the King for the loyal assurances conveyed at the first meeting.

Sir Joseph Ward resumed his speech on the imperial council. The question became more urgent and emphatic, he said, when it was remembered that at least two of the greatest dominions had already embarked on a naval policy of their own. Such action emphasied the need of some imperial council, accredited to co-operate and harmonize the policy of naval defence, a still greater question than that of naval supremacy. He would prefer to call the suggested body an Imperial Parliament of Defence, as defence, above all questions, was one in which every party of the Empire was vitally concerned. It could be treated satisfactorily only by a properly constituted council of state or Parliament. At present the different parts of the Empire had no voice whatever on questions concerning peace or war.

The question of an imperial council of defence was even more important to the United Kingdom than to the dominion, in view of the burden imposed on her navy by the necessities for protection of British ships, goods and people on the sea. The local provision by Canada or by Australia, however good it might be as far as the local portion of the dominions were concerned, would not be adequate. What was wanted was uniformity of system for the preservation of the whole overseas interests.

Laurier pointed to the resolution in favor of the creation of a council. Advisory to the imperial authority, but the arguments of Sir Joseph Ward were in favor of something very different. What Ward proposed was not an advisory council, but a legislature, a body elected by the people of the United Kingdom and the dominions, with power to create expenditure, but no responsibility for providing the necessary revenue, to meet the expenditure. Such a system was indefensible. The body might say five, ten or twenty millions of pounds were necessary, so much for each of the different portions of the Empire, and then the respective Governments would be dumb agents, carrying out the decision. They would simply have to provide the money asked for. Suh a proposal was absolutely impracticable.

Premier Asquith said the scheme would impair, if not altogether destroy the authority of the Government of the United Kingdom, in such grave matters as the conduct of foreign policy, conclusion of treaties, maintenance of peace or declaration of war.

As the whole of the representatives were against him, Sir Joseph Ward withdrew his resolutions.

C.N.R. WILL MAKE SOME CHANGES

Taking in of Canadian Quebec Line Means Reorganization.

Montreal, May 26.—The presence yesterday of D. S. Hanna, vice-president of the Canadian Northern Railway, in Montreal is considered of the utmost significance in railway circles.

It is stated that a general reorganization of the company's system, consequent upon the amalgamation of the Canadian Quebec with the Canadian Northern proper as a transcontinental line, is now in progress, the effect of which will be to switch the centre of gravity, so far as the Canadian Northren Railway is concerned, from Toronto to Montreal. It is in connection with this reorganization that Mr. Hanna has come here, and important changes in the local staff, involving several promotions, may be expected in the near future as the outcome of the visit.

The Massachusetts Medical society has expelled Dr. George W. Galvin, founder of the Boston Emergency Hospital, because he advertised.

INCLUDES LAKES

London, May 25.—The Manchester Guardian understands that the Lord Furness and the Canadian navigation deal includes three more concerns, resulting in a chain of steamships from Lake Superior to Manchester.

GASEOUS WELL; AYR MAN DIES

Sad Death of F. G. Jones Under Odd Circumstances.

Ayr, May 26.—A tragic occurrence marred the holiday Wednesday for the people of Ayr and vicinity, and resulted in the death of F. G. Jones, a well-known resident of the town. The scene of the tragedy was the unoccupied farm of William McRour, fifth concession, South Dumfries. On this farm there is a 75-foot well, with windmill. Something had gone wrong with the piping, and Mr. Jones, who had dug the well about nine years ago, was called upon to make the necessary repair, in which undertaking he was assisted by Mr. McRour, shortly after the noon hour.

Mr. Jones descended into the well a short distance to make a joint on the piping. He had been down only about ten minutes when Mr. McRour heard him utter an exclamation. Looking into the well Mr. MeRour could see nothing of him, and he thereupon started descending. He had gone down but a few feet when he suddenly felt that he, too, was being overcome by gas, and he hastily retreated, but was so weak that he had some difficulty in getting out. An alarm was given over the nearest telephone, and help was speedily secured. Mr. P. Nunan volunteered to go down and made three unsuccessful trips, each time plainly showing the deadly effect of the poisonous gas. On the last trip he succeeded in fastening a rope around Mr. Jones' body, but it slipped and Mr. Harry Barrett, who also made a previous unsuccessful effort, finally succeeded in effecting the recovery of the body.

On Ground of Self Interest.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 26.—The Morning Herald says it has become obvious to the meanest understanding that the destiny of the Dominions is bound inextricably with Britain, no possession of the crown overseas is in a position to maintain its independence if once the might of England were destroyed. It will be a generation before Canada, Australia or South Africa are able to face even a second rate European power. Putting it on the lowest ground, self interest. the Empire must hang together.

Special to the Review.

Montreal, May 25.—Francesco Crevola had to be carried to the scaffold, where he was executed this morning, for the murder of Guiseppo Chino. He was in a state of collapse. Many people watched the execution from windows overlooking the jail yard.

Crevola was only eighteen years of age.

Montreal, May 26—Seats or windows for the hanging of Francesco Creola, which took place this morning were eagering sought after. For two weeks past the residents of Delorimier avenue, from Erie up to Dorchester, whose windows overlook the courtyard of the jail, have been approached by men desirous of renting windows for a few moments. Anywhere from 50 cents up to $10 was offered. Two dollars and five dollars were the favorite prices. Among the applicants were several Italians. They did not offer any great sum, but seemed quite anxious to obtain almost any place from which the execution might be viewed.

Ex-Mayor Huber Poisoned.

Berlin, May 26.—Ex-Mayor Allan Huber is seriously ill at the General Hospital with blood poisoning. Last winter he wore a pair of rubber moccassins as footwear, and it is believed he was thereby poisoned. He was at present promoting an old settlers' reunion for August, but his physician fears he will not live to celebrate the event.

EARLY ELECTION IS TALK OF POLITICIANS AT CAPITAL

Rumor Comes That the Government Won't Even Wait for Redistribution—Mr. Borden Wants Redistribution Before an Appeal.

Ottawa, May 25.—It is entirely to be expected that a general election will be held this summer, probably in the month of August, with reciprocity as the issue. At the last Liberal caucus which Sir Wilfrid Laurier attended before sailing for England he told his followers that he could not tell them exactly when dissolution would take place, but that they must prepare for an early election.

Since then the plans of the Liberal leaders have advanced a stage. They do not intend to have Parliament reassemble, but will dissolve and precipitate the struggle. The impression that there will be an election this year is very widespread here. It has been conjectured that the House would sit for a fortnight, on reassembling, but the far more likely course of events is for dissolution to forestall reassembly.

NO REDISTRIBUTION.

In taking this step, the Liberal Government ignores the claims of the West for a readjustment of representatives. That they are conscious of this is shown by the fact that already attempts are being made to declare that Conservative "obstruction" is robbing the west of its additional members. There has been no Conservative obstruction, the reciprocity measure having been given ordinary discussion. Moreover, Mr. Borden, in challenging the government to a test before the electorate, expressly urged that this take place after the census and after the redistribution which is bound to follow the census.

DIAZ CRUSHED BY HIS DOWNFALL

Provisional President Takes Oath of Office—City is Quiet.

Special to the Review.

Mexico City, May 26.—The oath of office as Provisional President, was taken by Francisco De. La Barra today. Rioting has ceased and all is quiet. Ex-president Diaz is reported as being gravely ill and much depressed by the rejoicings which are going on throughout the city, over his downfall.

QUEEN MARY FORTY-FOUR

Salutes Given To-day—King Celebrates His Birthday To-morrow.

Special to The Review.

London, May 26.—Salutes were fired in all garrison towns to-day in honor of the forty-fourth birthday of her Majesty Queen Mary. The King will celebrate his official birthday to-morrow, the date of June 3rd, being too close to the coronation celebration.

DIAZ GIVES UP THE POST

Resigns the Presidency, and De la Barra Succeeds.

Doesn't Understand Revolution But Bows to Will.

Mexico City, May 26.—President Porfirio Diaz, in a letter read by the president of the Chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon, resigned the Presidency of the Republic of Mexico, and at 4.54 o'clock the acceptance of the resignation by the deputies was announced.

Vice-President Ramon Corral's resignation was also accepted, and Minister of Foreign Affairs, Farncisco Leon de la Barre was chosen Provisional President, to serve until a general election can be held.

Everyone had expected an uproar when the announcements should be made, but within the chamber the words announcing the event were followed by silence. The deputies seemed awed by what had taken place.

In the streets, black with people, the news that Diaz was no longer the President was the signal for wild shouting and manifestations.

There was no violence or destruction of property. On the motion to accept the President's resignation 167 deputies voted aye, while no expression was made by Benito Jaurez, a descendent of President Jaurez and Concepcion Del Valle. As their names were called all other legislators rose and bowed their affirmation.

In similar fashion the resignation of Vice-President Corral, now in EX-PRESIDENT DIAZ.

France, was unanimously accepted, and similarly Senor de la Barre, recently Ambassador to Washington, was chosen Provisional President. Senor de la Barre will take the oath of office at noon to-day in the Yellow Parlor of the National Palace.

Of scarcely less popular interest than the resignation was the assumption of military control of the federal district by Alfredo Robles Dominguez, Madero's personal representative, insuring the handling of popular demonstrations by a leader of the new regime.

Personally Dominguez commands only a small body of local rebels, but the federal garrison is under orders to make no move whatever without his approval. Senor Dominguez said that he could bring 5,000 organized rebel troops into the city within three hours. Their baggage and horses are aboard trains, furnished by the Government, at Cuernavaca, Pachuca and Tlalnepantla.

Dominguez last night said that the troops would remain at their present stations until they should be needed in Mexico City to control the situation.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH IN THE AIR; VEDRINE WINS LONG RACE

190,000 IN A MONTH

London, May 25.—Emigrants to Canada during April numbered 190,000, an increase of 4,300 over the same month of last year.

French Aviator's Time For 761 Miles, 10 hrs. 19 mins.—Gilbert Was Second.

Special to The Review.

Madrid, Spain, May 26.—Pierre Vedrine to-day finished first in the Paris to Madrid aeroplane race, a distance of seven hundred and sixty-one miles, and his time for the journey was ten hours and nineteen minutes. Gilbert was second and arrived shortly after the winner. Both men were completely exhausted after their long flight through the air, in which they encountered motor and other difficulties. As a result of his achievement Vedrine wins prizes aggregating thirty thousand dollars.

Madrid, May 26.—With the exception of the crossing of the Alps by George Chavez on Sept. 23, 1910, a feat which ended in his death, the third stage of the aviation race from Paris to Madrid for the Petit Parisian prize of $20,000 and $10,000 additional offered by the Spanish aero clubs, proved to be the most severe test the aeroplane yet has been subjected to, and two of the three contestants, it would now appear, have been forced to abandon the flight.

From the latest despatches reaching the committee in charge it appears that Vedrine alone is likely to finish. He passed over Quintanapalla and crossed the city of Burgos at a great height, but later was forced to descend. He telegraphed to the aero club saying that he could not proceed for some hours and the club authorized an extension of time for the completion of the race.

Gilbert landed at Olazagutia, about 40 miles from Sansebastian, but when he attempted to make a fresh start his machine was capsized and partly wrecked, although the aviator was not hurt. There is little probability that he will be able to repair the aeroplane within the time limit.

Garros is stalled in a mountainous spot near Andoain, six miles from Sansebastian. The nature of the ground makes a restart practically impossible, and, it is understood that he has abandoned the contest.

WEDDED NIECE OF ENGLISH PEER

Toronto Man Takes Unto Himself a Wife.

London, May 26.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The wedding of Mr. Claude Bryan, son of Canon Bryan of Toronto, and Miss Annette Furness, niece of Lord Furness (almost better known as Sir Christopher Furness, the well-known north of England shipbuilder), took place at St. Mark's Church, North Audley street, London, yesterday. The Bishop of Ripon, Dr. Boyd Carpenter, officiated, assisted by Rev. J. Cronshaw, rector of St. Mark's. A reception was afterwards held at 23 Upper Brook street, the residence of the bride's uncle.

Chester, Ill., lays claim to the champion ice cream eater of the state. On a wager Henry J. Heine, owner of a hack line, ate one gallon in eighteen minutes.

An Open Letter.

Dear Senor Levee,—You will notice by to-day's papers what has happened to me. I sympathize with you most heartily in anticipation. I thought I could sit tight, but they got me. Please don't think that because I am in the soup, you should necessary follow my distinguished precedent. On the contrary, dear senor, you have my sincerest admiration at your grand nerve. Hoping to hear of you still holding the fort.

Yours in resignation,

Diaz.

The Daily Review

FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1911.

WHERE WERE THEY?

The Empire day celebrations by the pupils of the Peterborough schools were conducted with a great deal of genuine success. The pupils had been thoroughly trained in the patriotic choruses; many of them had perfected recitations and songs. Trustees and other prominent citizens added to the celebration of the Empire spirit by patriotic addresses, endeavoring to instil into the minds of the growing youth of Canada a love for home and country, a spirit of true loyalty for British institutions and ideals.

All of this went through very nicely. The pupils, trained with much labor and effort, did their part in excellent manner. Of course, the trustees of the Board of Education did nobly with their speeches. That was only to be expected of the members of that august body. But where, oh where, were the parents of the children? Were the fathers and mothers all asleep, or all too indifferent to the progress of the Empire day movement? It is customary for at least some of the relatives and friends of the children to attend, and take part in the celebration, but it is said on good authority that there was not a parent or relative of the children present at the concerts given in the schools. The children had practised, and practised, merely to have themselves, their teachers and one or two trustees for an audience.

And the trustees labored and cogitated "thunk" deeply and drew from their sapient wells of experience the water of valuable advice and admonition. They had no one to speak to but themselves and the children. It is not at all satisfactory to make a speech with only another trustee as auditor, and the trustees therefore concentrated their remarks on the boys and girls.

Surely the fathers and mothers, the aunts and the uncles of the pupils—those who were able to go—would have been doing their duty by the children, to have attended to hear the results of months of practice in song and story. The teachers have a right to feel discouraged at trying anything ambitious in this line, when so little public appreciation of their work is shown. The reward of a consciousness of a duty well done is not enough; it should be supplemented by a display of at least a little outside interest.

The trouble with the modern school system is this: That it has been advanced so far that parents turn their children over to the schools for rearing, thrusting aside their own responsibility in the matter, and hoping for the best. Theodore Roosevelt referred to this the other day, in remarks about the "cuckoo parent." It is a serious evil this. Parents should have enough interest in the work of their children in the schools to attend—at least a few of them—the special exercises such as those of Tuesday.

A QUESTION OF AUTONOMY

Henry L. Stimson, the new secretary of war in the Taft cabinet, fell into line with his chief on the reciprocity business in a speech in New York. Mr. Stimson spoke of the benefits of reciprocity to the United States with the fervor of conviction, according to the reports and he certainly did not lag in expressing the opinion and hope that reciprocity would tend toward closer relations between the United States and Canada. He said the United States stood ready for free trade in everything between Canada and the United States—for unrestricted reciprocity as understood in 1891.

Stimson said in one part of his speech:

"My answer is that it opens a breach wide enough to insure the extension, and continued extension, of our natural trade. Our Government has offered to Canada free trade in all commodities; the Canadian commissioners, representing a younger country, with younger industries to protect, have felt compelled to decline free trade as to these industries. But the step once taken, the tendency toward closer relations will be irresistible."

President Taft's plain intimation to the people of the United States that he expected reciprocity would be only the forerunner of much closer commercial relations is in direct line with this. The "entangling web" is introduced; and pressure will be exerted continuously to demolish the "Chinese wall," until commercially Canada and the United States are one if not also in sentiment.

The preservation of Canada as a separate, distinct nation in the British empire depends on the maintenance of a tariff against the United States. It is very well to declaim against Chinese walls; against the folly of tariff barriers between two friendly, kindred peoples. But this tariff is the price of Canadian freedom, of Canadian commercial independence. A nation of ninety million people can afford free trade with a nation of eight million, since it is impossible for the eight to swallow the ninety; but such a policy would be political suicide for the eight.

Canada must reject reciprocity if it hopes to maintain its present freedom. Of what use is boasting of Canadian autonomy in the empire, if we deliberately sacrifice it in our relations with the American republic? It will be argued of course, that free trade in natural products is not lessening our autonomy. But it is a step that ties our hands in our foreign relations. In giving our all to the United States we have empty hands for the motherland and the sister dominions. A reasonable measure of freedom of trade with the United States is necessary, but the securing of greater freedom means a bigger breach in the wall, with the danger of being unable to stop it if desired.

Discussing this feature of sacrifice in autonomy in our relations with the United States, A. J. Balfour, ex-prime minister, spoke with peculiar significance a couple of days ago. It is significant in indicating that outsiders view with apprehension the results of long continued reciprocity on the future fiscal freedom of Canada. President Taft and A. J. Balfour think alike on the subject—both are agreed that reciprocity will tend toward tying Canada to the commercial chariot of the republic, and thus will eventually produce a condition of affairs where a return to the old condition of affairs will mean a dislocation of business of most serious proportions.

Mr. Balfour's remarks are worth study. In view of the fact that they were uttered at the opening of the imperial conference, they are doubly significant. He said:

"It would be a mere impertinence if I were, I will not say, to dictate, because it is absurd even to suggest to any Canadian statesman, or any Canadian voter, and I have nothing to say as to what policy he should support. That is a matter for Canada and Canadians alone. (Cheers) But it is no contravention of that fundamental truth to say I am sure every Canadian whatever his views may be, whether he believes it on the whole good or bad for Canada and the Empire, I am sure every Canadian is asking himself this question: Will the result of hte proposed new trade relations with the American republic, have the effect of drawing outside as it were, economically outside the British system and inside some other commercial and economic system nearer at hand, and if it has that effect what will be the result upon the autonomous and independent development of Canada as one of the great democratic communities of the world? (Cheers.) I do not know how Canada will answer that question nor is it my business to suggest the answer, but every Canadian patriot, if he came to the conclusion that the result of any commercial union, either the one now suggested or the one which the imagination of the American President has sketched, (Laughter.) If he came to the conclusion that the result of adopting that system would be that Canada would become a mere commercial appendage of the community which at this moment is larger, richer and more powerful than herself, I am sure he would feel that Canada's power of autonomous development under the new and proposed system could not compare with her prospects of autonomous development, if she remained part of the Empire. (Cheers.)

EDITORIAL NOTES

If the Canadian senators were as "rambunkstous" as the American senators, in obstructing reciprocity Sir Wilfrid Laurier would at once declare for a real reform of the upper chamber.

The United States battleship Delaware will be the biggest battleship at the coronation review. It won't be any bigger than the feelings of the American duchesses when they take part in the coronation proceedings.

That drowning accident at Toronto on Victoria day, when two young women were drowned when a dinghy upset, and two young men were rescued exhausted by a steamer, goes to show that as long as people are careless in small boats, just so long are they inviting disaster. The rock-the-boat fool cannot be discovered until it is too late, and there's the danger. It is a wise precaution to go out on the water in small craft only when you know you are an expert yourself, or in expert hands, and ready to act with prudence.

The Italian minister of justice proposes to introduce a bill to provide for divorce in Italy, where it does not exist. All the weight of the Roman Catholic church, which does not recognize divorce, will be brought to bear against the effort to introduce it. Several previous attempts have been thwarted, but the feeling in Italy just now is that Italians should have the same rights and privileges in regard to securing divorce as Frenchmen or Hungarians have. This will be a very interesting contest, because the tendency in the Catholic countries of Europe to-day is distinctly away from the yoke of the church. Italy has laws of a very stringent and far-reaching character against priestly interference in the home-life of her people—laws that Canada would not think of passing. It remains to be seen whether Italy will be willing to maintain an Italian divorce court as a continuance to the opposition to Vatican influence.

At ROUTLEY'S

During the past couple of weeks large quantities of high grade Austrian and French China, in many fancy designs and novelty pieces, also Dinner Tea or Chamber sets have arrived. Crowds visit the Wall Paper department and they are quick to appreciate the wonderful values. Each day's sales eclipses the corresponding day of last year. Our purchasing power in one year for Toronto and Peterborough is more than all in Peterborough put together could possibly sell in five years and the low prices represent large and discriminate buying.

We will look forward with pleasure to a visit from you.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

With difficulty loosening Moreau's fast stiffening fingers from their death grip upon the pistol, young Randall hastily concealed the weapon upon his person and thus by a single movement transformed what had been an honorable and fair encounter into a seemingly deliberate and cold blooded murder. The fact that Moreau had used the late John Randall's weapon, leaving his own at Mme. Davezac's, would be but additional proof that Cameo Kirby had shot down an unarmed man. But one living witness other than Tom Randall had been present at this exchange of weapons, and he, Aaron, would be expected to keep silent. Revenge, may it ever be honorable, but, honorable or dishonorable, revenge at all costs—such was the boy's slogan.

He had hardly resumed possession of his father's weapon and thus cast the stigma of murder upon Kirby when several men, attracted by the shots and whose rapid approach had spurred the boy to instant action, came running into the grove. To them young Randall breathlessly recounted his version of the tragedy. "You see, the gentleman has no weapon," he concluded, pointing to Moreau's barren hands. "This, therefore, is a deliberate and carefully planned murder. Like yourselves, I was attracted by the shot."

"But there was two of 'em, for I counted," put in one of the newcomers.

"The murderer evidently missed at his first fire," said Tom. "My name is Randall of Plaquemine, so you may accept by word that I found the gentleman as I have stated. This is a great and villainous outrage. I happen to know the victim, a most estimable and honorable gentleman, who had the misfortune to incur the enmity of the notorious river gambler Cameo Kirby. The latter swore to get even, and there is no doubt he has fulfilled his murderous and cowardly intention."

"I seen this Kirby in town yesterday," commented one of the men, examining with morbid curiosity Moreau's death wound. "He's a bad egg from all accounts. Done his job neat. Shot from ambush, I reckon."

"We passed him on the road as we come into the grove," added a second. "I know him by sight—a youngish looking, gray eyed blade with a sort of dandy getup to him. We asked him if there had been a dooel, and he said yes, he thought so"—

"He lies, as you can see!" cried Tom, springing to his feet. "What road did he take?"

"He come from that a-way," interrupted the informant, pointing in the direction Kirby had taken. "But you all know the road forks farther down."

"Come! We'll separate, and he cannot escape!" cried Tom. "It's our duty to hunt the villain down, to aid the law all we can. Dueling is one thing, but murder such as this deserves only lynch law. We'll show the scoundrel the same quality of mercy he meted out to this poor defenseless gentleman."

"That's right. Short shrift and a long rope!" cried the men.

Piloted by the member who had met Kirby, the small impromptu posse quickly made its way through the underbrush, emerging on the road which the gambler, at a point below the fork, was even then traversing. When the fork of the road was reached Tom and two companions chose the right or southerly branch, while the man who had met Kirby, accompanied by a half grown youth, bore away to the left. Thus by another intervention of the fates young Randall's meeting with the gambler was again postponed. The former and his companions, alarming the countryside en route, reached town without overtaking or even sighting their quarry.

Meanwhile the other members of the posse had fared better—or worse. They had not long left their companions before Kirby was sighted, walking leisurely with bowed head and evidently preoccupied mind. Warned by the rapidly advancing steps of his self constituted judges and executioners, he turned in mild curiosity and awaited their approach.

The farmer and his son—for such was the relationship existing between this contingent of the pursuers—came up hot and panting from their exertions and, meeting Kirby's cool and pleasantly inquiring eyes, became for the moment nonplused and confused.

"Rather a warmish morning for such strenuous exercise, gentlemen," greeted the gambler. "It is obvious that your business is with me. Pray in what manner can I serve you?"

The youth's loutish bearing became the more evident in contradistinction to that of the elegant and courteous gambler, and, with hanging lip, he fell back, overawed by the silent but compelling mastery of caste.

His parent, however—a stringy, drawling, malarial gentleman—was cast in a more determined and heroic mold. "Yuh all be the gambler they call Cameo Kirby," he exclaimed, pointing a threatening finger. "We seen yuh all come from the duelin' oaks, an' we all have just come from there. Yuh all have killed an unarmed man, an' we all are goin' to have yuh all up for murder."

"My dear sir," replied Kirby, arranging his cravat, "you all's intentions speak well for you all's respect for justice, but I assure you all there is some mistake. The gentleman I had the good fortune to kill entirely merited his end. Moreover, he was not unarmed, but made an earnest and sincere effort to settle me all. In short, ours was a fair and honorable meeting, and as such matters are not prohibited by the statutes I really fail to see how it concerns you all—comes within the scope of you all's worthy usefulness."

"Them big words and makin' fun of my langwidge don't change the case," said the farmer grimly. "I seen yuh all's victim with my two eyes, an' so did my boy and a lot others. He didn't have no weapon of any kind, an' that we kin prove. Lynchin' is too good for you, Mr. Kirby, an' yuh all know it."

"The devil it is," replied Kirby. "You are the victim of a mistake, Mr. Farmer, and I'm evidently the victim of an enemy who has concealed my late opponent's weapon. I will not permit your ignorance to swing me from the end of a rope."

"Tom, run for help. I'll hold this fellow," cried the farmer. And as the boy ran off the malarial gentleman flung his wiry arms about Kirby.

A fierce and protracted struggle ensued, Kirby realizing that he was not only fighting for liberty, but life. In those days lynch law was only too common, and he knew what to expect at the hands of an infuriated, ignorant and unreasoning mob. And in the present instance all explanation would prove futile, for mob rule is not influenced by judgment, and he was already a dog with a bad name. They would hang him first and inquire into the merits of the case afterward. If possible prompt and ignominious flight was his only salvation.

True to his class, Kirby's opponent possessed some knowledge of wrestling, but was totally ignorant of even the rudiments of pugilism, and the younger man confined his efforts to frustrating tripping attacks while at the same time striving to free his pinioned right arm. This at length he succeeded in doing. A vicious wrench, a clever feint, a smashing uppercut, and the malarial gentleman went down on his back, while Kirby, waving an airy adieu to the now advancing army of yelling pursuers, took nimbly to his heels.

But, fleet and long winded runner though he was, capture was not thus to be lightly outfooted. The cry of "Catch the murderer!" is infinitely more potent than that of "Stop thief!" and pursuers were multiplying in his track at an alarming rate, adding at every step fresh runners to their ranks.

On sped Kirby, every variety and class of humanity at his heels. Once or twice his way was barred by some energetic and inquisitive newcomer, but a clever dodge or a well directed blow left him to swell the ever increasing army of impotents in the rear. No fox doubling and redoubling on his tracks while in full view of the pack owned a more keen delight in thus staking acumen and agility against overwhelming odds than did the young gambler. By now the city proper had been gained, and the pursued, dashing around the first opportune corner, became lost to his pursuers.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Hot weather kept wheat on the rise to-day. Threats of a short yield in the southwest helped give the bulls an advantage which they used to the limit. New crop months made a net gain or 1 3-8 to 1 1-2. May proved inactive and scored only 1-8 cent advance. Other cereals and the provision list all went skyward—corn up 7-8 to 1 1-8; oats 1 1-4 to 1 5-8, and hog products5 to 22 1-2. There was also considerable investment buying, based upon signs of the July delivery having passed under the control of the concentrated holdings in May. During the session July ranged from 87 7-8 to 89 5-8, and closed steady 1 1-2 net higher at 89 3-8 to 1-2.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅛d higher than yesterday on wheat, and unchanged on corn.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 25.—Business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable continues dull, there being no demand whatever, but there was an improved enquiry for oats at firmer prices, but as they were still ½c per bushel under Winnipeg prices, no business was done. There was a firmer feeling in the local market under an improved demand, and if the advance in prices in the west is maintained, values here will be marked up. The foreign demand for spring wheat flour showed some improvement, but no business was reported. The local trade is fairly active and prices firm.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, May 25.—The railways reported 50 carloads of live stock at the City Market, consisting of 633 cattle, 1411 hogs, 62 sheep and 33 calves.

Exporters.

A. Quinn topped the market for exporters during this week, at $6.12½. Maybee & Wilson also sold one load at $6. Export bulls are worth about $5 to $5.25.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers sold at $5.85 to $6; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.30 to $5.50; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $3.50 to $5.20; bulls, $4.50 to $5.

Stockers and Feeders.

Short-keep feeders, $5.60 to $5.85; feeders, $5.40 to $5.75; stockers, $4.75 to $5.30.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fairly good demand for cows of the right good kind, but this class was not largely represented. Prices ranged from $45 to $84, one cow selling at the latter price.

Veal Calves.

Few good to choice new milk fed calves are being offered; such would be worth $7.50 to $8 per cwt., but we have not seen one in weeks. The class that is coming sells from $3.50 to $6.50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Wesley Dunn quoted sheep and lambs as follows: Sheep, ewes, $4.75 to $5.25; rams, $3 to $3.50; yearling lambs, $6 to $6.75; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50 each.

Hogs.

The market for hogs closed strong at the end of the week. Selects fed and watered sold at $6.35 to $6.45, and $6.10 to $6.15 for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

KING'S BIRTHDAY

June 3 Not Yet Decided as a Public Holiday

Ottawa, May 25.—The Government has not yet decided whether June 3rd the birthday of King George V., shall this year be observed as a public holiday, though it was treated as such last year. The matter was mentioned in Parliament some time ago, but the Premier said he had no announcement to make. The proclamation could be made by order-in-council at any time.

LOCK WORKS WILL NOT COME HERE

Orillia Concern Will Instead Enlarge the Plant

Orillia News Letter.—The citizens of Orillia will be glad to hear that the National Hardware Company, Limited, (lock works), despite the splendid inducements offered by Peterborough and other places, have decided not to leave town, and we are pleased to announce that they will not only stay, but will double the capacity of their present plant.

The directors, who are all good, patriotic citizens, decided this last week, and the plans for an enlarged plant are now being drawn by Architect Robertson. A new addition to the plant 100 feet by 45, two-storey high will be built, while the old plant, which is 40 by 100 feet, will be reconstructed and bricked, making a fine factory 95 feet by 200, two storeys high.

He Liked Millbrook

Mr. Hay, engineer of Peterborough, who was out last week consulting with the council on sidewalk matters, expressed his unabounded surprise and admiration at the beauties of Millbrook. He had lived in Peterborough all his life and never been here before, and was kicking himself all over at what he had missed.—Millbrook Reporter.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid. something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

COMMISSIONERS STICK TO REPORT

Made by Engineer Kennedy on Turbine Pump

Messrs. T. F. Matthews, W. H. Moore and W. H. Hill were present at the meeting of the Water Commissioners held last evening. The turbine pump question was the chief item of business.

A letter was read from Wm. Kennedy, Jr., regarding the pump furnished by the John McDougall Caledonian Iron Works Co., Ltd.

It was moved by Mr. Moore and seconded by W. H. Hill, that a reply be sent to Mr. Kennedy, that the commissioners approve of his action in the report he made to the John McDougall Caledonian Iron Works Co., Ltd., upon the pump put in by that company, and ask him to be good enough to inform the company that the commissioners will not take any action to interfere with what he has done in the matter and that he be also requested to see that the company acts on his order at as early a date as he would consider reasonable and that the commissioners think that by July 1st would be ample time, although they would leave that with him, and that the John McDougall Caledonian Iron Works Co. be informed that Mr. Kennedy has been communicated with and that they will hear from him.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Moore and Hill, it was decided that the collector be instructed to amend the account sent to the Lundy Shovel and Tool Co. for setting a metre by striking out the item of $1.50 for cartage.—Carried.

HOME DESTROYED; FAMILY LOST ALL

Felix Lynch, Residing on River Road Below Locks Awakened to Find House in Flames — Family Escaped in Night Clothes.

About three o'clock this morning fire completely destroyed a two storey frame residence owned and occupied by Mr. Felix Lynch on the River road, just across from the Belmont Club house, below the locks, and the occupants, consisting of Mr. Lynch, his wife and three small children, had very narrow escapes in making their way out from the burning building.

The damage is estimated to be about $600 and the house was insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

HUSBAND AWAKENED.

Mr. Lynch, when seen to-day by a Review reporter, stated that he was awakened about three o'clock by the noise of the crackling wood in the little shed at the back of the house, just below where the family were sleeping. Hurriedly awakening the rest of the family, when he saw that the house was on fire, he carried the children, aged four, three, and one and a half years, out side, just in time, as the flames were creeping swiftly to the front section of the house. The wood-shed and summer kitchen were by this time wrapped in tongues of fire, the reflection of which was discernible for a great distance around, the building standing in an elevated position. A large number of the neighbors quickly made their way to the scene, but could do nothing to check the blaze. Practically all that was saved was the clothing the family wore when they made their hurried exit.

Mr. Lynch only returned home about two weeks ago, having been employed on a government job, and fortunately part of the furniture of the house was with him, where he was living while away from Peterborough.

The stove and the pipes and considerable other charred furnishings are lying in the cellar at present, and the building was smouldering at three o'clock this afternoon.

The house was quite isolated, and thereby did not endanger residences in the vicinity.

MORTGAGE REDUCTION FUND

Is Commenced by Salvation Army—Two Citizens to Give $500 on Certain Conditions.

To The Editor of The Review.

Sir—With your kind permission I wish to bring to the notice of your readers a very special effort we are making in the interests of the local work of the Salvation Army.

We have at present a liability, in the form of a mortgage on our Temple of $4,2260.00 on which we are paying interest as a weekly rental, which is a very heavy tax upon the meagre income derived from our ordinary collections.

We have therefore started a Mortgage Reduction Fund, in conjunction with our annual Self Denial effort, with the object of raising at least $3,000.00 to apply on our mortgage, thus reducing very materially our weekly burden of rent.

In addition to a generous response by several of our friends, two well-known citizens have promised to subscribe $500.00 and $200.00 respectively as soon as we raise $2300.00 or sufficient to make a total of $3,000.00 in all. Otherwise, the offers of these two gentlemen will be withdrawn.

As the fund now stands, we require about $300.00 to meet the conditions of these offers, and get the $700.00. We have secured nearly all the prospective larger donations, and our only hope now seems to be an appeal to the citizens generally, to assist in smaller sums. Every dollar given now will be worth over three dollars to us, as it will help us to raise the $300.00 still lacking to secure the $700.00 offered by our two friends, and our total of $3000.00.

I would therefore make a most earnest appeal to all our friends to rally to our assistance, and send along their donations to Ensign J.H. Merrett, 320 King Street, or phone 440 if it is desired that I should call. All sums of $1.00 and upwards will be duly acknowledged by mail.

J. H. MERRETT,
Ensign,

Peterboro, May 26.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. T. H. G. DENNE

Breakfasted With Husband and Daughter and Shortly Afterward Expired

Complaining only of a slight dizziness, Anna May Davidson, wife of ex-Mayor T. H. G. Denne, passed away shortly after ten o'clock this morning. Deceased has not had very good health for some time, but her illness was not regarded as serious. On May 24th she spent the day on the lakes in company with her husband, and yesterday evening they went for a drive. Mr. Denne left for his office this morning at the usual hour, his wife and daughter having had breakfast with him. About 10 o'clock he received a telephone message to come home, but death had preceded his hurried arrival.

The late Mrs. Denne was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Davidson, and was born 43 years ago, and lived all her life here. She was educated in the public schools here and was married to T. H. G. Denne in August, 1886. As a member of St. Luke's church she was a regular attendant at services, always interested in the welfare of the church and beloved and highly respected by a large circle of friends.

Those left to mourn her loss, besides her parents, and a loving husband, are three daughters, Miss Lexa, attending Toronto University; Miss Marion, St. Hilda's College, and Miss Phyllis, at home. Four brothers are Messrs. George Davidson, manager of the Ross Power Co., Calumet; William, who is superintendent of the Western Canada Collieries Co., Coleman, Alta.; Robert I., druggist, Delta, Ont., and John, who is accountant in the Union Bank at Calgary. Five sisters are Miss Lillian, residing with her brother William in Coleman, Alta.; Miss Flora, Bryn Mawr College, Pennsylvania; Margaret, Toronto; Jean, North Bay, and Kate, of Montreal.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 361 Park street, Monday afternoon at 3 p.m. to Little Lake cemetery. Service will be held at the house at 2.30 p.m.

The Late Clara Houlihan

Clara Hilda, the 2 year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. James Houlihan, 535 Parnell Street, passed away yesterday morning after a short illness.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock to St. Peter's cemetery.

MAKING READY FOR REGIMENT TRIP

Officers of 57th Were Visitors at Brockville

Major Clegg, Major Bennett and Captain McClean, of the 57th Regiment, went to Brockville, May 24th, where they were met and entertained by Mayor Patterson. The 41st Regiment was holding a target practice on their range and the visiting officers were taken to see them.

While in Brockville the local officers located a good camping place to be used by the 57th Regiment on the annual trip to that town for Dominion Day. The regiment leaves here on the night of June 30th, and returns to Peterborough July 3rd. The men will be under canvas in a place where water is easily obtained.

The program for the trip has not been arranged as yet, but it is likely the 57th Regimental Band will give a band concert on Saturday night and probably a sacred concert on Sunday afternoon.

The Brockville Times says;—Three of the officers of the Peterborough Rangers, Major Bennett, Major Clegg and Capt. McLean, arrived in town yesterday on the 10.14 train in the morning, where they were met by Major Patterson, the popular paymaster of the 41st, who drove the visitors around town, assisting them in making arrangements for the visit of their regiment here on the first of July. It is probable that the regiment will camp at the north end of the Fulford athletic grounds. They will arrive in the morning of the first of July, and remain until Sunday evening, the second of July. The band which is one of the best in the Province, will give a concert on Court House avenue on Saturday evening of the 1st July, and a sacred concert on Sunday afternoon of the second. A church parade will be held on Sunday morning, in which the 41st will probably join with the visitors.

The Peterborough corps is a fine regiment of eight companies and will likely arrive about four hundred strong. They wear the regulation infantry red uniform. Meals will be served the regiment at the Strathcona St. Lawrence Hall, Grand Central, the Commercial and Albion Hotels.

SECOND SYMPHONY A GREAT SUCCESS

Dedicated to Memory of King Edward and Played for First Time

London, May 25—Sir Edward Elgars' "Second Symphony" was played with tremendous success at Queen's Hall, last-night. It is dedicated to the memory of King Edward, and contains a funeral march, which, according to the critics ranks with the greatest compositions of its class.

Forter Teak, of Lafayette, will die as the result of his swallowing his false teeth which lodged in his lungs.

CHURCH LEAGUE

Lineups of Teams for the Games To-morrow

All Saints' and Y.M.C.A. Church Football League elevens play at Brinton Meadows to-morrow at three o'clock. The Saints will line up as follows—

Goal, Moraity; backs, Rew, Robinson; half-backs, Hooper, Dawson, Edwards; forwards, Curtis, James, Abbott, Willis, Downes; spares, Vickers and Cornwall.

ST. JOHN'S HAD EASY VICTORY

Defeated Y.M.C.A. Football Team by Score of 4-0

The Y.M.C.A. team was whitewashed by the St. John's braves in a postponed Church League football game which was played off last night on the Park St. grounds.

When the whistle blew the Y.M.C.A. could only muster nine players, but they started in against their eleven opponents, only to be scored on in about five minutes. One of the onlookers was pressed into service at this juncture, and the "Y" played out the half with ten men, St. John's scoring two more.

Another spectator came to the rescue in the final period, but the game was lost in the initial half.

There were a few individual stunts sandwiched in for the amusement of the fans, but they did not count for much. "Reddy" Hancock, of the "Johnnies," was inclined to mix it, and after repeatedly warning him about his tactics, the referee ordered him off the field.

With St. John's on the aggressive, Fleming was beaten on a well-placed corner kick by Smith. This ended the scoring.

The teams were—

St. John's—Goal, Renshaw; backs, Gamble, Gregory; halves, Smith, Simmonite, Renshaw; forwards, Shannon, Edwards, Copson, Hancock, Gaskill.

Y.M.C.A.—Goal, Fleming; backs, Dorris, Dr. Williamson; halves, Turner, Thomas, Moore; forwards, Lane, Miller, Flowers, Tarte, Johnston.

Referee—W. Fields.

VISITING TENNIS PLAYERS WON

St. Matthew's Club of Toronto Played P.L.T.A.

The St. Matthews' Tennis Club, of Toronto, represented by four men and two ladies, played in Peterborough on May 24th, against the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Association, and scored a victory. The games were played on the Golf Club courts.

Many of the games were very closely contested and were followed with great interest by a large and enthusiastic gathering.

An interesting exhibition match was played between Miss Moyes, Canadian lady champion, and Miss Summerhayes, ex-Canadian lady champion, two of the Toronto players.

The visitors were entertained at the Peterborough Golf Club, and luncheon and tea were served in the club house. The visitors remained over until the following day, guests of the members of the Golf Club.

Spanner (T) beat Landry, 6—4, 11—9.

Dineen (T) beat Kerr, 9—7, 2—6, 9—7.

Dineen and Miss Moyes (T) beat Kerr and Miss Kerr, 8—6, 8—6.

Spanner and Miss Summerhayes (T) beat Landry and Miss Burnett, 6—3, 6—4.

Spanner and Dineen (T) beat Kerr and Landry, 3—6, 6—3, 7—5.

Summerhayes and Flesher (T) beat Burnett and Richardson, 6—1, 6—2.

TENNIS MEETING

In a Juvenile League game at the Oval last evening the Thistles shut out the Tecumsehs with a 6—0 score. The feature of the contest was the effective twirling of Meredith Huycke, who struck out thirteen. In the last half for the Tecumsehs, with the bases full and one down he fanned the next two batters, Phelan and Hattrick. J. J. Thompson was umpire.

FINGER MIT FOR A HOME RUN

Offered by the Banks Sporting Goods Store

Mr. Charlie Banks has kindly offered a finger mit for the first player who makes a home run in the Inter-Catholic League.

The league opens to-morrow at Riverside Park, when Central T.A.S. and Sacred Heart Church teams play. The boys are playing good ball, and the opener promises to be a fast one.

Ladies go free, but the gentlemen will be taxed 10 cents each.

Norwood Register—Basball appears to be booming this year in the towns of this district and the old Trent Valley League will likely be revived It is stated that Mr. Jas. Thompson, M.P.P. of Havelock, would donate a handsome trophy for the best home-brew team in the district in case a league is organized. It only remains now for the clubs to get together and form a league. Havelock, Hastings, Roseneath, Warkworth, Campbellford, and Norwood have been suggested as the league towns.

There appears to be enough material here for a good team and the boys have had several practices but as yet have not officially organized into a club.

Last Friday evening, however, they played their first game of the season at Hastings, the result being a win of 10 runs to 4 for the Hastings nine. Doherty and McMaster composed the Norwood battery, while Prest and O'Neil acted for Hastings. The return match will take place in the near future.

At Brantford on Thursday, Hamilton Canadian Leaguers, had a triple play. In the fourth innings Minnings Minnes and Connelly were on third and second base, and Shea drove a fast liner, which Murray speared before it touched the ground. The runners were quickly doubled, completing a triple play. This is the second triple play of the season, the London team having made the play in the second game of the season.

Manager Kelley received notice today that Pitcher McIntyre has been turned back to the Toronto club by the Haverhill club of the New England League. McIntyre has been pitching every other day for Haverhill and doing good work. — Toronto Star.

Manager Derocher of the Central T.A.S will have the following list of players at Riverside to-morrow afternoon when the Inter-Catholic Ball League opens—Hickey and Mahoney, p.; Phelan and Hayes, c.; C. Giroux, C. Callaghan, T. Connors, V. Corkery, Conlin, H. Callaghan, Sheehy and Derocher.

Sacred Heart Church team will have Gus Rose and Lafaore as their battery.

The Peterboroughs will practice at two o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and all players are asked to be out in uniform at Riverside.

Stan Cresswell certainly must have been going some at Campbellford on the holiday when he struck out 18 men. Such a feat on a foreign ball lot is worthy of note.

Meredith Huycke looks to be another comer. Last evening he made thirteen players take the count of three, and also with the three cushions occupied in the last inning, with only one out, fanned the next two batsmen.

In one of the show windows of the Roy Studio, are to be seen pictures taken at the ball game on the holiday.

The President's letter of resignation read as follows:

Sir,—The Mexican people, who generously have covered me with honors, who proclaimed me as their leader during the international war, who patriotically assisted me in all works undertaken to develop industry and the commerce of the republic, establish its credit, gain for it the respect of the world and obtain for it an honorable position in the concert of nations; that same people, sir, has revolted in armed military bands, stating that my presence in the exercise of the supreme executive power is the cause of this insurrection.

"I do not know of any fact imputable to me, which could have caused this social phenomenon, but permitting, though not admitting, that I may be unwittingly culpable, such a possibility makes me the least able to reason out and decide my own culpability. Therefore, respecting as I have always respected the will of the people, and in accordance with article 82 of the federal constitution, I come before the supreme representatives of the nation in order to resign, unreservedly, the office of constitutional President of the republic, with which the national vote honored me, which I do with all the more reason, since in order to continue in office, it would be necessary to shed Mexican blood, endangering the credit of the country, dissipating its wealth, exhausting its resources and exposing its policy to international complications.

"I hope, gentlemen, that when the passions, which are inherent to all revolutionists have been calmed, a more conscientious and justified study will bring out in the national mind a correct acknowledgment which will allow me to die, carrying engraved in my soul a just impression of the estimation of my life, which throughout I have devoted and will devote to my countrymen."

Mexico City, May 26.—The police fired on a crowd in front of the Department of Foreign Relations. One man was killed.

GIVEN A WELCOME AT BELLEVILLE

Local Members of Coronation Contingent at Smoker

Belleville—A right royal farewell and Godspeed was that said last evening at the armories to the three representatives of the Fifteenth Regiment, who will take part in the ceremonies attendant upon the coronation of their Gracious Majesties King George and Queen Mary in London next month.

Shortly after nine o'clock the officer commanding, Col. Stewart, the officers, non-commissioned officers and a few others met in the headquarters. There were present as guests the three honored men of the Fifteenth staff, Sergt. Lorne, F Greene, Col. Sergt. Boyd, and Sergt. Barber, and the three representatives of the 57th Regiment of Peterborough Col. Sergt. Flavelle, Col. Sergt. Fucee, and Sergt. Brightman. The Peterboro boys left their home town at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, arriving here at noon. The rest of the day they spent admiring the sights of Belleville.

Col. Ponton, formerly in comand of the Fifteenth, extended a hearty welcome to the boys of the Fifty-Seventh. Col. Edwards of the regiment had he said, gone to Edmonton and organised a regiment. Gerald Ponton the speakers' son has joined this body.

J.F. Warth, aged 78, president of the Aurora Brewing Co., Chicago, has taken his fifth wife.

FRENCH ACTIVE

Ottawa, May 25.—If the French-Canadian population of Ontario does not total up all that is possible, the fault will not be that of the French Educational Congress, which, directed from Ottawa, has initiated a propaganda in the matter. Because of advantages accruing from having a large French showing, steps are urged to be taken to make the census as complete as possible, and particularly to have enumerated as French all of French origin, whether or not that is their common language. The clergy is urged to preach about it, and, if possible, to make a house to house campaign in favor of it. A letter has been sent, signed by Jules Tremblay, secretary of the Association.

INDIAN RIVER

Representative on Coronation Contingent Off on Trip

Special Correspondence.

Indian River, May 25.—Stewart Armstrong is loading cordwood at the gravel pit to be shipped to Peterborough.

Mrs. Earle, of Winnipeg, who has been home on a visit, left here Tuesday for the West.

Mrs. Walter Patterson, who has been visiting her father, Mr. Nesbitt, of this place, returned to her home at Milestone, Saskatchewan on Monday last.

Those spoken of as "we" who did not see the "snake," show every evidence of having seen several.

Mr. Gilbert Elmhirst left here Monday on his way to the coronation. Mr. Elmhirst, who has been a member of the 3rd Dragoons for the past five years, was chosen owing to his fine physique and excellent horsemanship to join one of the four companies of dragoons to be sent to the coronation. Three weeks of preparation at Quebec will be taken before sailing for England.

During the storm of Monday night the house of Morris Fitzgerald was struck by lightning. A great deal of plaster was shaken from the walls, but fortunately no fire occurred. His dog was killed and the tongue of a wagon, which was in the yard, was broken.

As might be expected there are are several theories given for the hot weather. One is that it is not heat at all, but merely humidity of the atmosphere; another is that the south winds of the past few days have brought heat from the United States. The truth of the matter is, however, that it originates near Jermyn.

Among those who visited Peterborough during the week were Albert Elmhirst, Mabel Elmhirst, Florence Mann, Miss J. Breckenridge, Miss Angus, Miss Agnes Borland, William Breckenridge, James Hall, Mr. Whibbs and Norman Patterson.

Miss Clydesdale, of Peterborough, spent Victoria Day at the home of Misses Borland.

Mr. Cummings, who for the past few weeks, has been section foreman here moved his furniture from Norwood here on Tuesday. Mrs. Cummings arrived here this week.

Willie Stephenson, jr., made an easy quarter last Saturday.

Nellie Borland returned from Peterborough on Saturday last.

Ice cream will be served at Kidds' store Saturday evening.

STORY OF THE VISION FAKED

By the Apostle St. Paul Says Leader of New Cult

Montreal, May 25.—Dr. Adhust Hanish of Chicago, head of the Maz Daznan, which has just opened a temple here, nearly caused a riot at a meeting of the Maz Daznans last evening by declaring that St. Paul faked the story of his vision.

St. Paul wanted to get into the Church," he declared, "but he could not because of his early persecutions. He heard that the Christian believed in miracles so he decided to have one. He therefore faked up the vision story. The trouble with the Church to-day is that it preaches the doctrine of St. Paul instead of that of Jesus Christ."

There were loud protests from a number of the people in the audience, and it was some moments before the Persian leader could continue, a large part of the audience leaving the hall in the meantime.

WHAT NOT TO PRINT

Calgary Herald.

"Some people harbor the belief that newspapers are eager to publish derogatory things. It is a mistake. There isn't a newspaper that could not spring a sensation in the community by merely telling what it knows. There is not a newspaper that does not keep under the lock of secrecy scores of derogatory things which never meet the public ear. Deciding what not to print is the most troublesome part of newspaper work."—New Michel Reporter.

So, now, when you see anything in the paper that you don't like, just think how much worse it might have been.

DROPPED OFF BOAT.

Young Man Drowned In Lake Erie Under Remarkable Circumstances.

Welland, May 26.—Edward Vandervere, a fisherman, was drowned in Lake Erie off Windmill Point, under peculiar circumstances, on the afternoon of Victoria Day. At the time of the accident he was with his brother, who ran a gasoline fishing tug. He was sitting on the rail. His brother thinks he fell into a doze and dropped into the water. He is said to have been a good swimmer. The two men left Port Colborne harbor at noon with a cargo of fish for Buffalo market. They had sold their cargo and were returning home shortly after four o'clock. Aaron was attending to the engines and Edward was sitting on the rear rail steering.

Aaron made the following statement: I noticed that the boat was following her own way, and looking that way saw that Edward was asleep. I warned him up and then I turned to work on the canvas. It might have been half an hour afterward that I noticed the boat dropping again, and looking back saw that he was gone. I grabbed the tiller and turned her over so hard I broke the shoe off of her. I cruised around for over an hour in the hope of picking him up, but there was no trace of him. Quite a sea was running, but not nearly so heavy as we often have been out in.

TENNIS BOOMING ABOUT NORWOOD

Churches Will be Represented by Clubs—Newsy Items

Norwood, May 25.—Lawn tennis is taking the lead in Norwood this season in the line of sports, the young people of the different churches have already formed clubs or are about to organize. The Presbyterian, Baptist and Catholic churches have each their courts and are practising faithfully. The Methodist young people will likely follow suit. The Methodists have one of the finest lawns in Norwood, being level and of ample size for a tennis court.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Walter Emery of Dummer, a life-long resident of that community, passed away on Monday after a lingering illness, having almost attained the allotted span of life, namely, three score years and ten. Mr. Emery leaves behind his partner in life also a family of boys, Mr. Elsworth Emery, of Peterborough, also Joseph, Alex. and Corman, of Dummer.

Deceased was a man who made many friends, being of a very agreeable disposition. Owing to his ailment he has for several years been unable to do any hard work and spent a good deal of his time very close to nature being a lover of the wilds. One of his favorite occupations was locating the swarms of honey bees, which had escaped from their hives and had taken up their abode in hollow trees in the depths of the forest. It was no unusual thing for him to locate a dozen or more swarms in a summer and by so doing always had abundance of the choicest honey.

Mr. Emery was a member and regular attendant at the Baptist church, Centre Dummer. The funeral is to take place to-day (Wednesday) afternoon to the Norwood cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Finlay accompanied by their family, went to Hastings on the 24th and enjoyed a sail in their launch.

Quite a number of Norwood people went to Havelock on the 24th to witness the ball games.

A gang of men have been busy for the past few weeks installing the rural telephone system. The system being installed here is the Bell. Already a large number of the rural population has subscribed. Some of the phones have been already installed and it will not be long until all the work is completed.

We wonder when the Norwood band intends giving their first open air concert in front of the town hall. Perhaps they are waiting for the warm evenings.

Mr. Albert Scriver has sold his house and lot on Spring street, to Mr. Galaher, who has been living in Mr. J. Davidson's house on Queen street.

Mr. T. H. Elliott has sold his residence east of the Presbyterian church to Miss Carr, of Asphodel, and has taken up residence in his fine property lately occupied by Mr. Thos Loughbridge.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. COULDN'T COLLECT FROM RAILWAY

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has upset the judgment of an Ontario court which awarded damages to a man who was injured while riding without authority on a railway train. The Privy Council held that while a railway, by its sale of a ticket contracted to safely carry the holder, it had no contract with a man who had no ticket, and was, in fact, a trespasser, who might have been prosecuted for his act.

The case in point happened on a train which was backing from one station at London, Ontario, to another in a different part of the city, and on which a trespasser jumped on the rear platform to steal a ride between the two stations. There was a collision and the man was seriously injured, resulting in a suit against one of the railways. The trial judge and jury acquitted the railway. The higher court reversed this judgment, and the railway appealed. The Court of Appeals in Ontario sustained the higher court, after which it was taken to the Privy Council, and the lords of the Judicial Committee reversed all the judgment but the trial judge. The defendant had to pay the costs in all the appeals.

Occasionally it pays a railway to fight a damage claim. It may get the case before a court which gets at the sense of the situation.

GOING, GOING, GONE CHEESE FACTORY

Cheese Man Says They Are Doomed in Peterborough County

"The cheese factories of Peterborough county are doomed. They will have to give place to creameries." With this statement a recent caller at the Farm and Dairy office (who, by the way, does not want his name mentioned in this connection, although for the past two years he has had an opportunity of learning at first hand the cheese factory conditions in the county; started in to discuss the local cheese factory business.

"In our cheese factories here," he said, "the whey is a dead loss. A few men only are getting it. Often one man near the factory buys the whey and in other cases where all of the patrons are supposed to share alike in the whey a few men living close to the factory get it; and then the whey is not always in good condition. In cases where the whey is sold patrons do not get enough for it. In fact the prices they get scarcely amount to anything.

TWO REMEDIES.

"As a remedy for the existing evil in this connection, cooperative piggeries would help out somewhat, or it would be better to have the whey pasteurized and have it sent back each day to the patrons. I noted with much satisfaction the article of Mr. Reddick's, of the Wooler cheese factory. Mr. Reddick is much in favor of pasteurizing the whey.

"At any rate, let it be known," continued our friend, "that unless some better means of handling the whey is adopted, butter factories are going to come in and oust the cheese factories in this county of Peterborough. At Havelock the old cheese factory has started as a butter factory this spring, and it is hurting the business of cheese making at other factories around there. At Central Smith also they are working into butter. Mr. Campbell, the maker, I am informed, is taking in either milk for cheese making or cream for butter making as the patrons may send. The competition of the creamery at Peterborough is making it necessary to make butter at Central Smith. In one or two instances elsewhere in the county several small factories are likely to give up making cheese and a creamery will be established in their place.

"In the face of this situation," our informant concluded, "the question naturally arises, "Is there a market for this butter?" If there is not, we had better stay with the cheese making.

"How will the situation be met? In my estimation it will help a lot to properly pasteurize the whey and send it back to each patron. The dairy farmers of the county are coming to realize as they never did before the feeding value of skim milk. On that account the creamery is bound to become more and more popular. I should like to know what some of the local readers of Farm and Dairy have to say about the situation."

So grief stricken was Mrs. Thomas Kelpin, of Detroit, at her son's death from drowning that she fell dead as his body recovered a week later was being taken into the house.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

THE REASON FOR RECIPROCITY.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Those who have been looking for some explanation of the sudden attempt to force a crazy reciprocity pact on the country will find some light in the decreasing exports. Imports, and therefore revenue, have increased of late years, for the very good reason that the foreign manufacturer was favored by the Canadian tariff. Canadian exports, especially those of agricultural products, have been decreasing, and this month's (April) returns show the immense decrease of $3,000,000.00 in agriculture alone. The Laurier policies are no good, except for the outsider.

COMMON SENSE.

Peterborough, May 26, 1911.

ABOUT MAGISTRATES.

Sir,—I see that Premier Whitney has at last awakened to the injustice of a police magistrate being allowed to practice law while sitting on the bench. In appointing Joseph E. Judd police magistrate of London, he made it a condition that Mr. Judd refrain from practicing law.

Now that the Premier has taken cognizance of such a flagrant injustice in the administration of our laws, let him see to it that other places receive the same measure of justice as is accorded to London. We all know how unfair it is for a presiding magistrate to try a case where one of the litigants is his own client and presumably acting on his advice.

Yours, etc.,

JUNE WEATHER FORECASTS

BY HICKS

Forecasts for June, 1911.—A regular storm period covers the first six days of June. The Mercury and Venus periods also bear upon and intensify disturbances at this period. The crisis of these storms will fall on and touching the 4th and 5th. A low barometer, high temperature and humidity may be put down as foreshading severe storms at this time. Rising barometer and change to fair and much cooler weather will pass eastwardly over the country from the 6th to the 9th.

A reactionary storm period will bring decided storm conditions on and touching the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th. At this period we enter into the June solstice disturbances. This fact, by oversight, is not shown in the diagram, but the solstice period extends from the 10th to the end of June. The full moon on the 11th falls at the central day of the annual magnetic and electric crisis. Within three days of the sunset on the 11th, a maximum of magnetic and electric storms will visit many wide extremes of the earth, attended by phenomenal "earth currents," much volcanic unrest and violent seismic shakes.

A regular storm period extends from the 13th to the 17th, being at the crisis of the Mercury period, and under full strain of the solstice and the Venus periods. Daily thunder storms with an excess of electricity wind, hail and rain may be expected. Tornadoes may be looked for, and your locality may be in their paths, why not? Change to very much cooler will follow about the 16th to 19th.

A reactionary storm period will make itself severely felt on and touching the 20th, 21st and 22nd. This period is at the exact centre of the summer solstice and great electrical manifestations will mark this period and in all this part of the month we may look for an excess of lightning all round the heavens, in early evenings and through the nights. As we have often said, this solstice lightning is very grand and awe-inspiring, but for the most part it is perfectly harmless. Of course the electric belts of an on-coming thunder storm are fraught with danger, but the noiseless panoramic flashing all over the clouds banked round the horizon these solstice evenings, is as harmless as moon shine, beautiful to behold and full of life and health to the vegetable kingdom as well as to all animate life.

A regular storm period is central on the 26th, the new moon falling on the same day, moon being in perigree and at its greatest north declination. In every probability this will prove one of the most decided periods of disturbance during this month. The barometer should be consulted with care as we enter this period, and if it falls to a very low reading—a result to be expected—storms of violent character should be apprehended. All storms during the last half of June will be erratic in character—and will move in directions out of the ordinary, often doubling back over their tracks after they have supposedly passed off to the east. We believe there will be too much rain in June, for best agricultural interests, except in the New England States, and the extreme southern and southwestern sections. A marked seismic period is central on the 26th, covering the 23rd to the 29th.

LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Percy McNamee, who was drowned while bathing in the river at Crawford's Grove Monday afternoon, took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his brother, Mr. Daniel McNamee, 367 McDonnel street, to Little cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the casket. A large number of friends were present to pay their last respects, and the service, both at the house and grave, conducted by Rev. Chas. Carpenter, was very impressive. The Order of Amalgamated Engineers, Sons of England, C.G.E. and Church League football clubs, and St. George's Society were represented, and about fifty of the deceased's fellow-employees of the C.G.E. marched in a body to the cemetery. The St. George's Society was represented by Messrs. S. Jay and J. John. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. Tinker, Geo. Greatoux, E. Clark, R. Assan, W. Jones and W. Boycott. At the grave the hymn "Abide With Me" was sung.

DIAZ FLEES FROM MEXICAN CAPITAL IN DEAD OF NIGHT

Muffled to the Ears, and Known to Only a Few, the Iron Dictator Slips Away —Madero Resigns His Claim.

Mexico City, May 27.—Porifiro Diaz, for whom during thirty years all Mexico stood to one side, early yesterday, hat in hand, stole from the capital. Only a few devoted friends, whom he dared to trust, followed him to the station at two o'clock yesterday morning, shortly after the celebration over his resignation had quieted down.

Diaz was bound for Vera Cruz to take ship for Spain. In the distance he could hear the voices of a few of the more enthusiastic citizens who were still acclaiming the new President, Francois Leon de la Barra and shouting "via Madero."

Travel between Mexico City and Vera Cruz usually is over the Mexican Railway, a standard guage line with modern equipment. Rails along this route, however, frequently have been removed of late by bandits who were determined that Diaz, for reasons best known to themselves, should not leave the capital. They are reported to have harbored the idea that Diaz would follow the precedent of other Latin-American Presidents and carry the national funds with him.

There is also a narrow guage, railroad to the coast. Taking it for granted that Diaz would take the more luxurious route, the bandits did not molest the narrow guage road. For this reason, it was chosen by Diaz for his trip.

The general should have reached Vera Cruz yesterday afternoon, but whether he arrived is not publicly known here.

General Diaz, still feeble from his illness and far from being a well man, left his home under dreary circumstances. Rain had fallen earlier in the night and by the time the former President emerged from his house, the air was chilly. He was closely muffled. To aid in the disguise a borrowed automobile was used. The trip to the San Lazaro station was made over unfrequented streets. By a prearranged scheme, at the last moment, police were scattered along the way. At certain points close friends of the former chief executive, including those who are to accompany him across the Atlantic, fell in behind the Diaz automobile.

Three trains were used, the first as a pilot. The Diaz special followed. A third train, occupied by a detachment of the Twenty-Fifth Infantry, brought up the rear. The cars of the fugitives' special were occupied as follows: First car, Gen. Diaz and Mrs. Diaz, Mrs. Romero Rubio de Terresa, Col. Porfirio, jr., a son, Lieut. Lorenzo Elizaga and their families. Second car, Gen. Fernandino Gonzales, Manuel Gonzales, Col. Santa Cruz, Major Espinosay Rondero. Third car, Francisco S. Garcia, Ignacio de la Garita and a kitchen crew. The trains ran without orders, for fear the bandits along the line might tap the wires and get news of the flight.

Just when or on what ship Gen. Diaz will sail is a matter of conjecture. The French ship Espagne was due to leave Vera Cruz yesterday, but may have been held at the disposal of the party from Mexico City.

Diaz Off For Europe.

Mexico, City, May 27.—Private telegrams received here last night, report the arrival of General Diaz at Vera Cruz at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

According to these advices, Diaz boarded the Ypiranga, a Hamburg-American boat last night. The Ypiranga is due to sail south to Coatzacoalcos to-day. She will return to Vera Cruz and sail for Europe next Wednesday.

Madero Resigns.

Jaurez, Mexico, May 27.—Francesco I. Madero, in a manifesto to the people of Mexico, last night resigned the position of Provisional President conferred on him by a convention of revolutionists at San Luis Potosi last October and called on all Mexicans to support Senor de la Barra as the sole executive of Mexico.

Senor Madero placed his forces at the disposal of Senor de la Barra and paid tribute to the character of the new executive, pointing out that he might well be regarded as "one of us." The manifesto was Senor Madero's last act as Provisional President.

On the Warpath.

Montreal, May 27.—Hon. Mr. Fisher was in Montreal yesterday en route to his home in Knowlton for a brief rest, preparatory to a series of important meetings throughout the eastern provinces.

The first meeting is to be held at Farnham on Saturday afternoon, May 27. The chief topic for discussion will be reciprocity and the speakers will be Hon. Mr. Fisher, Hon. Mr. Lemieux, H. E. Allan, M.P., and D. P. Meigs, M.P.

Another meeting is to be held on Thursday, June 1, at Sherbrooke, where the speakers will be Hon. Mr. Fisher, Dr. Beland, M.P. for Beauce, Dr. Pelletier, A. B. Hunt, M.P., C. H. Lovell, M.P., and E. W. Tobin, M.P.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

VILLAGE BURIED

St. Petersburg, May 27.—Word has reached here that the village of Oroschor, situated on Pamis Plateau, in West Central Asia, has been overwhelmed by an avalanche. One hundred and twenty-eight persons were killed.

LAURIER IS SATISFIED

Doesn't Want Any Change From Present Conditions.

Advisory Council Would be Cumbersome Affair.

London, May 27.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—When the Imperial Conference yesterday considered the New Zealand proposal for reorganization of the Colonial Office, Harcourt submitted the changes the Government was prepared to institute. The standing committee of the conference would be absolutely advisory and not executive.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Canada was quite satisfied with the present system. If the other parts of the Empire were disposed to press the suggestion of a division of the existing organization of the Colonial Office, Canada would not raise any objection. The standing committee had, however, raised a more serious difficulty. If it was proposed to submit to that committee matters affecting one dominion regarding which there might be differences of opinion between the Home Government and the Government concerned, he thought it would prove cumbrous and unsatisfactory. The status of the high commissioners was somewhat delicate. They were not only the representatives of autonomous Governments to Britain, but also confidential agents, able to have confidential conversation with the Secretary of State and press matters which it might be undesirable to include in an official despatch. The standing committee might make recommendations suitable to one part of the Empire and not to another. He did not see what good purpose would be served.

Premier Fisher said that the standing committee would seem to extend the functions of the commissioner into those of consultative authority. A feeling existed in favor of Dominion matters coming under the Foreign Office. On the general question, as Laurier had said, the old constitution had rubbed along very well up till now, but Sir Wilfrid represented a great Dominion which had not hesitated to make innovations. He might very well give a lead in this matter by endeavoring to give the high commissioner, through a resolution of the conference, definite and distinct authoritative power to enter into negotiations and discussions as officers of Dominions responsible to their Governments.

Premier Morris was satisfied with the present arrangements.

Premier Asquith said he did not wish to press the suggestions unless they should meet with general approval. He felt it would satisfy the real want of the conference if they postponed decision.

SLEUTHS SHADOW THE LABOR MEN

Montreal Police Chief Gets Peculiar Complaint.

Montreal, May 27.—Declaring they were being shadowed and in one case assaulted by private detectives, a delegation from the Labor Temple waited on Chief of Police Campeau yesterday, seeking redress from him, and were advised to seek legal advice, with the result that a warrant for the arrest of one detective on the charge of assault is to be issued.

Mr. Sinclair, a labor organizer, who has been in Montreal for some time, claims to have been shadowed continually by a pair of sleuths, and at a meeting in the Labor Temple yesterday morning an appeal to the police authorities was decided upon.

"I cannot go to my private-house," said one labor man, "without being shadowed, and directly I come out the next morning, there is the detective waiting for me."

TRAVERS WILL CARRY A HOD

Milton, May 26.—At the meeting of the Farmers' Bank shareholders, Dr. Webster, sheriff of Halton, said he met Travers at the Kingston Penitentiary last week. Travers was talkative indeed and blamed the wreck of the Farmers' Bank on "that man Lindsay." He said they were going to make him carry a hod at Kingston. I told him he had made many a one do that in Halton, and had put a heavy burden into the hod as well. He replied that he would have doubled everybody's money on the Keeley mine if he had had more time."

CONEY ISLAND VISITED BY THREE MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN.
His guess is that a vote on reciprocity will be taken in the United States Senate by June 15th.

One-Third of Amusement Places Destroyed — No Human Lives Lost.

Special to the Review.

New York, May 27.—A disastrous fire, which had its origin in an insde show in "Dreamland," destroyed one-third of the places of amusement at Coney Island and caused a loss which is estimated at over three million dollars. Up to the present no report of human lives having been lost has been received, but thrilling rescues were numerous ,on account of the quickness with which the fire spread from one point to another, at an early hour this morning when many of the performers and employees at the resort were asleep. Six tiny mites from baby incubators were among those saved. Captain Ferrari's big animal show was completely destroyed and seventy-nine animals some of which were worth large sums, were either shot or burned to death. Where it was seen that animals could not be taken from their places, or where they had been severely burned, the policemen used their revolvers. One bear, a leopard and huge lion were riddled with bullets by the policemen when the terrified animals dashed into a crowd of spectators. The fireman managed to protect Luna Park and no damage of any consequence occurred. This is the second bad fire which has visited Coney Island in the past few years, but as was the case, on the former occasion, rebuilding will be resumed with a rush as soon as possible.

DR. RUTHERFORD HAS RESIGNED

Will go West to Reside in British Columbia.

Ottawa, May 27.—Dr. J. G. Rutherford. Dominion Live Stock Commissioner and Veterinary Director-General of Canada, one of the most valued officials of the Government, has tendered his resignation to the Minister of Agriculture, and intends to go to British Columbia to reside. His resignation has not yet been accepted, and it is still hoped that he may be prevailed upon to continue in the office in which he has done invaluable work during the last five years.

DR. J. G. RUTHERFORD.

Dr. Rutherford is one of the best known veterinarians on the continent, and was last year President of the American Veterinary Association. His health has not been of the best during the past few years, and he has continued in office only at the urgent solicitation of Hon. Mr. Fisher, having several times refused tempting offers from the American Government and from private corporations.

MUNRO TRUSTED TRAVERS' WORD

Earmers' Bank President Says He Was Duped.

He Signed the Returns Believing They Were Correct.

Toronto, May 27.—After the examination of a number of witnesses, including W. R. Travers, former manager, in an effort to establish that Col. James Munro of Embro, president of the Farmers' Bank at the time of its suspension, had wilfully signed returns falsely showing the position of the bank, the crown concluded its case late yesterday afternoon. Judgment was reserved by Judge Winchester. H. H. Dewart, K.C., appeared for Col. Munro, and Louis Monohan represented the crown.

The accused banker, while acknowledging the signatures as his, stoutly maintained that he had signed the returns believing them to be correct. The evidence of Mr. Travers and Accountant Fitzgibbon supported this testimony, each declaring that the president had attached his name to the reports without, as far as they were aware, any idea that they did not truly represent the bank's status.

Somewhat of a sensation was caused by the introduction by the crown of a private letter written by Col. Munro to Travers in December, 1909, It referred to "rumors" which the writer thought the bank could not afford to disregard, and suggested that Dr. Beattie Nesbitt be compelled to pay his indebtedness to the bank, "as many people seem to know of it and claim he was worth nil."

F. W. Stair testified that he had warned the colonel a year before the collapse that the bank was unsound. Col. Munro admitted this, and said he had spoken to Travers about it, and had been assured that all was well.

DIAZ LEAVES MEXICAN SOIL

Will Take Trip Along Coast Before Starting for Spain.

Special to the Review.

Vera Cruz, May 27.—Weak and nerve-shattered, ex-President Diaz today left Mexican soil on the liner Ypiranga. He will return on Wednesday after a trip along the coast and start for Spain.

London, May 27.—The Duke of Connaught entertained Sir Wilfrid Laurier at lunch yesterday. Lord Pentland dined him on Thursday night, and Sir S. Solomon last night.

RATE WAR IS QUITE LIKELY

Atlantic Shipping Trade Arming for Fight.

C.P.R. Will Not Renew the London Agreement.

Montreal, May 27.—The prospects of a rate war in the Atlantic shipping trade, was the principal topic of discussion in shipping circles yesterday.

It now appears that the Canadian Pacific, which occupies as influential place in the National Conference as the Irish party does in the British House of Commons, has been a leader in the insurgent movement, and a considerable time ago gave notice that it would not again be a party to the agreement, under which all the principal shipping lines on the North Atlantic have been working. This agreement, which is known as the "London agreement," has since been extended temporarily on two occasions, but it expires finally on June 30.

This agreement not only forbids shipping lines from running to ports served by their rivals, but not up to the time of the agreement served by them, but also brought into effect an arrangement by which all the immigrant traffic—which is a huge paying business—was pooled, each vessel getting such percentage of the total proceeds of such traffic as was alloted to her by the conference, regardless of the number of immigrants she carried. Thus, if a boat was allowed a percentage on the basis of 500 immigrants per trip, her owners would be paid for 500 passengers whether she carried 900 or only twenty—This applied to all the vessels running to North Atlantic ports, from Baltimore to Halifax.

The effect of the agreement is considered to have been detrimental rather than otherwise to Canadian shipping. There has been such a boom in immigration to Canada that the Canadian vessels have been loaded to capacity with immigrants on almost every trip, and the result has been that good money earned by the Canadian lines has in effect been handed over by them to their American rivals.

TWO DYING, TEN INJURED IN TROLLEY'S SMASH WITH TRAIN

Accident at Tonawanda Has Most Serious Results—Brakes Wouldn't Work.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., May 27.—When a Lockport freight trolley crashed into a westbound Lehigh Valley passenger train at Tonawanda Junction yesterday afternoon, two people were fatally injured and ten more seriously hurt.

Mrs. A. P. Garrett of Brantford, Ont., is dying at the home of Stanley C. Peuchen, where she was taken after the accident. George A. Torrey, a traveling man from Boston, Mass., is so seriously injured about the head that physicians declare he cannot recover. He is in a temporary hospital that has been arranged. The injured, who are being cared for by local physicians, are: H. N. Travel, Buffalo, internally injured; Miss Evangeline Travel, his daughter, head injured; Alex. Ross, Buffalo, right arm broken; J. H. Frayer, Galt, Ont., left leg broken; Ira Scott, Buffalo, 10 years old, face cut, internal injuries; Mrs. Catharine Scott, Buffalo, hip broken; Chester McLaren, both arms injured. Several others were also slightly injured.

Motorman W. E. Bradley of the freight trolley said after the accident that the brakes refused to work. He and Conductor L. E. Mertaugh saved themselves by jumping. At the scene of the accident the tracks of the Lehigh Valley and the one on which the freight trolley was operating run at right angles.

The trolley struck a coach of the train and hurled down an embankment, reducing it to kindling.

Motor Boat Lantern Explodes.

Brockville, May 27.—John Ferguson was cleaning a motor boat at Dark Island when an explosion occurred from a lantern in the boat. His arm and hand were terribly burned.

One of the first river accidents is reported from Crossman's Point. Walter Seaman started in his motor boat to cross to one of the islands and collided with another "put-put," which struck his craft amidships, cutting it partly in two. Seaman was thrown on the deck of the other boat and escaped with a few bruises.

Cows Electrocuted.

Brockville, May 27.—Five thoroughbred Ayreshire cows belonging to Thomas Jones, a farmer, living just across the line, were electrocuted by the dropping of a live high tension transmission wire which crossed the farm. The animals were valued at $100 each.

Horse Distemper

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares "Nerviline" Is a Specific.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P. E. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

Nerviline CURES QUICKLY

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 50c, trial size 25c, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CORNS CURED IN 24 HOURS

TAFT'S MESSAGE

His reverend nibs of the Toronto Globe has delivered President Taft's message on Anglo-American arbitration to the Scottish General Assembly. The message was this—

"Say to the assembly that it is my one sincere desire that Canada shall continue to prosper, flying the British flag, and sharing with us the responsibility for North American civilization."

That President Taft should deem it his duty to set at rest alarmist fears of annexation is manifest. As a matter of fact, there is no sensible person in Canada who talks annexation through any sentiment favorable to it. What is to be feared is not the loss of the British flag in the next decade or two decades, but that Canada shall become, as she grows in wealth and importance, so inextricably involved with United States affairs that the two countries shall be commercially one, though politically separated. President Taft may easily be quite sincere in his declaration that he wishes to see Canada prosper under the British flag, and at the same time endeavor to gain for his own country the benefits of Canada's vast storehouse of raw material.

But this little message is not so important as the fact that his reverend nibs of the Globe is chosen to be the bearer of it. With what feeling of savage delight must the rival editors of the Hogtown papers view this lofty message-bearer from the capitol. In order to come up to the distinguished level set by the parson-editor, we will soon have Billy Maclean going to Mexico to restore peace and harmony in the land of the senor and senorita. And Mr. Willison will have an interview with the Kaiser and carry from him message of good will to the president of all the French; and Mr. Wallis will hunt out Sir Wilfrid Laurier and carry a scintillating declaration of peace to Henri Bourassa.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

Reciprocity at Washinton is having a stormy passage. The Republican senators are trying to find some happy way out of the dilemma, without passing the bill, but it is a ticklish job. Five weeks have been spent in finance committee on the bill, and the end thereof is not in sight. With the temperature ranging from 90 to 96 in the shade, the venerable senators are kept to the wheel, and they must vote either yea, or no.

The Root amendment on the paper and pulp is the most dangerous, and a counting of the noses in the senate is said to show two majority in favor of this amendment. An amendment would kill the bill as effectively as a majority vote against it, unless accepted by Canada.

Getting reciprocity through the senate, the citadel of the big interests, is like piloting a cruiser through a harbor planted with mines—one never knows where something will explode. But, whatever the Republican senators do, the Democrats stand to benefit in the coming presidential election. What effect in Canada the rejection of the reciprocity pact by the U.S. senate would have it problematical. Laurier would be only too glad to drop the project like a hot potato. With a back-down by the Laurier government, the fight would be off when parliament reassembles, and the necessity of an election this fall would be obviated. Of course Laurier has declared that reciprocity will go through. It surely must go through because it is in line with the determination he expressed in 1889 to keep on until he attained the goal of unrestricted continental reciprocity. And Sir Wilfrid is famed for consistency!

A back-down on reciprocity by the Laurier government, following failure in the United States to get reciprocity through, would be the greatest blow to the government in a decade. Not only would the anti-reciprocity mass of the people be opposed to it, because reciprocity would be the recognised policy of the Liberal party but the west would immediately turn on its quondam friend. As the situation appears at present, the Laurier government is in dire difficulty whichever way the battle goes in the United States

ERASTUS WIMAN

It is some years since Erastus Wiman created a furore by his open alliance with Sir Wilfrid Laurier to secure unrestricted reciprocity, or continental free trade. Wiman was quite familiar with Canadian conditions, and declared commercial union was necessary as a preliminary to a political union. Before the Interstate Commerce Committee of the U.S. senate, he gave evidence that is of peculiar interest to Canadians to-day, to many of whom the name of Erastus Wiman is strange. After telling how the abrogation of reciprocity forced Canada to build the C. P.R., he said:

"The tendency or disposition toward an annexation movement was much stronger in 1849 than it has even been since that time. There is to-day some growth of annexation sentiment in Canada more or less pronounced, and possibly it may continue to grow; but it is a secret growth, and no one who understands the people there but realizes that it would take twenty-five years to elect a parliament favorable to annexation or to give force and effect to any such movement.

"The Chairman—Do you mean that it would acquire twenty-five years hence to accomplish such a result?

"Mr. Wiman—Yes, twenty-five years. It would take five parliaments of five years apart to give force and effect to such a movement for union. It has got to be done by parliament as the only constitutional means, and such an event is at best remote if not impossible while the people are so wide apart.

"The Chairman—I think you will find many instances in the world's history of public sentiment changing suddenly.

"Mr. Wiman—If the custom houses were entirely abolished there would be freer intercourse. If a uniform tariff, regulated at Washington, extended around the continent instead of athwart it, and if the manufacturers of the United States could have free access to that vast region to the north much would be done toward changing the sentiment. If the emigration that is pouring in here and beginning to trouble you so much should go in the direction of these new regions and become your customer, and the United States be enriched by the production of that region, the people would be brought into closer contact with each other, and the result which you speak of as to a change of sentiment might be attained. Of course it is presumable that the English Government is watching this question with great interest, the day may come when that Government may have to decide the question whether you will regulate at Washington the rate of duties on goods from one part of the British Empire imported into another part of the British Empire. Suppose you were to make an offer to Canada of commercial union, and suppose at the general election two years hence a parliament were returned favorable to the offer as it will be if you make the offer, and a law would be passed to abolish the custom houses between the two countries, it would make the United States tariff continental in extent of application. It would make trade with you as free as Illinois trade with Indiana or between any two or any dozen states in the union. The English Government is asked to assent to discrimination against English goods in favor of American goods. If the English Government refused it would be a serious matter with respect to the tie that binds the Dominion to Great Britain. It is a matter that concerns but 500,000 manufacturers in England on the one hand, and 5,000,000 people in Canada on the other.

"Senator Blair—Suppose this large fertile area that has been referred to were opened up to settlement, and it had access to the markets of the world; what then?

"Mr. Wiman—It would be a second Oklahoma. There is a great deal of rich country up there. They have American ideas and are a thrifty people, and if the country were settled up they would not be content to remain in the condition they are now, but might become a republic in twenty-five years. Even Quebec alone is richer than Texas, if the senators only knew the facts.

"Senator Reagan—That is saying a good deal for it.

"Mr. Wiman—In fifty years under commercial union and enlarged development there might be a great republic and with the same relative progress it might become as great as this. That would solve the problems that now press for solution, and form a union between the English-speaking races on this continent. That would be worth talking about. There is no question of the extent and value of the country to the north, and when it has markets for its products it will grow just as rapidly as the country to the south has grown, but that can never be in the present condition of things."

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifing the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's. 10

The Nationalists are planning an energetic program for the election in Quebec, and it is said that Mr. Bourassa will contest East Quebec against Sir Wilfrid. The premier will apparently have his own troubles in holding his native province, for the first time since 1896.

The resignation of Diaz came at last, but it required a revolution to make him see that he was better out of the way. Some men do not know when to quit, and suffer accordingly. It is a fine problem sometimes to guess just how long one dare hang on without having to be pried off.

Although June 3 has been proclaimed as a legal holiday, it is not necessary for the business public to observe it as a public holiday. It will not be so observed in England. Coming on a Saturday, it would upset business a great deal, and it is merely optional with merchants whether they close or not.

The Cataract Power Company is providing power development reserves for 50,000 more population in Hamilton, which will come as the result of cheap power. The power question these days is the key to the whole industrial situation, and if Peterborough would advance, it must get into line moreso than at present.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, will be knighted at the coronation. Mr. Gibson is one on whom the honor will worthily fall, and it is a matter of surprise that he has not been remembered before this. And, of course, Mr. Gibson being a Dominion Power and Transmission Co. man, the King will be accused of knocking the hydro-electric, by the hydro organs.

FARMER'S WIFE TELLS HER STORY

Found a cure for all her Ills in Dodd's Kidney Pills

She was tired, worn-out and nervous and suffered from Rheumatism but two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Hawthorne, Ont., May 26.—(Special)—Mrs. T. G. Alexander, wife of a well-known farmer living near here, adds her testimony to that of the thousands who have learned from their own experience that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Kidney Disease.

"I suffered for twelve years," Mrs. Alexander says, "My back ached, my sleep was broken and unrefreshing, I was nervous and tired and I was troubled with heart flutterings. Rheumatism developed and added to my suffering.

"I was in a very run-down, worn-out condition when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, but I am thankful to say they gave me relief almost from the first. Two boxes cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys mean that all impurities are strained out of the blood. That means pure blood all over the body and the banishment of that tired, heavy feeling and those pains and aches that impure blood brings.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

Kirby found himself in a quiet side street lined with aristocratic, fat little red brick houses whose drawing room balconies were little more than a man's height from the side path. He vaguely realized that he was in the heart of New Orleans' old French quarter. The street was not very long, and he did not know to where it led. Owing to the early hour the shutters of the houses were still closed, but one house seemed to be an exception, for his quick, searching eyes noted on his right a half open drawing room window with its gently flapping curtain.

He had dropped into a quick walk in order to gain a much needed breathing spell, but now as the hue and cry of his persistent pursuers became more insistent he again broke into a run. In a few moments they would turn the corner and sight their quarry. Almost at the same instant another chorus of cries came from the far end of the street toward which Kirby was hastening. He incontinently halted, realizing that the enemy, familiar with the neighborhood, had divided its army and sent one contingent around his flank to head him off. He was trapped, for it was impossible to advance or retreat. Louder and louder sounded the cries from front and rear. Another minute and the short street would be choked with the meeting mobs.

Without hesitation nor caring where it would lead, Kirby accepted the desperate and solitary chance that was offered him. Hastily returning to the house with the open window and ascending its steps, he leaped high in air, caught the overhanging balcony, drew himself up, leaped over the elaborately scrolled railing and, pushing aside the gently bellying curtains, stepped quietly into the room.

CHAPTER VII.

THE General looked up gravely. "Dele, I wish you would read some more to me, for there are words here that are too long. Both the princes are just about the best heroes I ever heard of. One is a good prince and the other a bad prince. Which would you rather be, Anatole?"

"Oh, but the good prince, of course," replied M. Veaudry, good humoredly concealing his vexation at being constantly interrupted in his snatched tete-a-tete with the child's sister.

"Both of 'em have so many hairbreadth escapes I just can't tell whether I'd rather be the good one or the bad one," sighed the General. "Think of this: The good prince is in a secret passage, and the bad prince gets it walled up at both ends, but the good prince has got a slow fuse leading through a crack to a barrel of gunpowder under the bad prince's throne where he's sitting, but he doesn't know about it. What kind of time was that to tell anybody he couldn't hear the rest till after breakfast?"

"Drink your milk or you shall never hear any more," threatened Mme. Davezac. And the child obediently but unwillingly seized the huge glass and attempted to drain it at a draft.

"You are pale like the camellia," murmured M. Veaudry, resuming his tete-a-tete with Miss Randall. "It is only the air of the plantation you need to make you the rose, and we are go'n' to make you renounce these black; we go'n' to persuade you to wear both the rose and the camellia in your dress once more."

"Not yet," said the girl sternly, fingering her black dress.

"I know what you mean," he returned, with deep significance. "Yet I tell you I think you are go'n' to take off your mourning at the plantation. When you do then you will listen to what I have kep' in my heart so long"—

"I will not listen to any other man before then," she interrupted listlessly. "Why is Colonel Moreau not to come with us?" she added abruptly, turning to her aunt. "I have such impatience to meet him. Are we not to see him?"

"Oh, yes. Possibly he may come in time to start with us," returned Mme. Davezac, rescuing the General from strangulation as he again attempted to drain his milk at a draft in order to the sooner return to "The Two Princes—A Romance."

MARKET TO-DAY

Potatoes Take a Drop and Sell at $1

To-day's market was well attended. As usual, potatoes were plentiful selling at $1 a bag, considerably lower than last Saturday. Meat was only meagerly represented. The live piglets were also fairly plentiful.

The inner market was well stocked with chiefly butter and eggs.

At eleven o'clock eggs could be purchased at 17 and 18 cents a dozen, and butter at 23 cents a pound. Some chickens were offered at 70 cents a piece and turkeys at 15 cents a lb.

The following were the prices;

Potatoes—$1 a bag.
Chickens—70 cts.
Eggs—17 and 18 cents.
Butter—23 cts.
Piglets—$5.50.
Turkeys—15 cts. a pound.

Police Hoaxed.

Hamilton, May 27.—A hoax — the structure of which was built in the imaginations of two boys — is now thought to have been played on the local police department. It was reported to the police that Charles Freeman, a boathouse-keeper, had seen two suspicious-looking Italians heave a heavy bundle into the bay near the foot of Simcoe street. Thinking that the recovery of the bundle might possibly open up a murder mystery, dragging operations were carried on at the spot where the bundle was supposed to have been thrown into the water. Nothing, however, was brought to the surface. It has now been learned that Mr. Freeman did not see the men himself, but was told of their alleged actions by two small boys, who claimed to have seen them dispose of the bundle. While the police do not place much faith in the story, dragging operations will probably be resumed to-day in an effort to thoroughly test the truth of the report.

Locomotive Works Change Hands.

Kingston, May 27.—Yesterday afternoon the Canadian Locomotive Works of this city practically passed from the control of Hon. William Harty. At a special meeting of the stockholders held here the offer of English capitalists, made through Aemilius Jarvis & Co. of Toronto, was accepted. The amount paid could not be ascertained, but it is understood to be large. Mr. Harty may remain with the new company, but this is not definitely known. The capital stock of the company is to be increased very largely. M. J. Haney of Toronto was one of the chief stockholders. The new company will shortly be organized.

Taft's Message to Scots.

London, May 27.—Attending the assembly of the Church of Scotland are Dr. Sedgwick, Nova Scotia; Rev. J. A. Macdonald, Toronto; T. H. Boyd, New Brunswick. Dr. Macdonald gave a message from President Taft which said that no desire of his life was more sincere and resolute than that the two sections of the English race should join in a treaty-making war between them impossible. Our sincere desire is that Canada may continue to prosper flying the British flag on the American continent.

New College Principal.

Montreal, May 27.—At the meeting of the board of governors of the Wesleyan College yesterday, Rev. Dr. James Smyth of Belfast, Ireland, was appointed principal in succession to the late Dr. Shaw. He will take over his new duties in August.

AN INVALUABLE MEDICINE

Mrs. W. Arnold, Edmonton, Alta., writes:—"Kindly send me a box of Baby's Own Tablets. They have been invaluable to me and I really do not know how I ever would have got along without them. Baby was poorly; his digestion was bad and he was constipated. I gave him the Tablets and they made a fine healthy boy of him. Now, whenever he is cross or troubled with constipation, I always give him the Tablets and they relieve him right away. I tried a lot of other medicine but nothing seemed to agree with him till I got the Tablets. I would not be without them." The testimony of Mrs. Arnold is that of thousands of other mothers. Everyone who ever uses Baby's Own Tablets have words of praise for them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Welcome Earl Grey.

Berlin, May 26.—Elaborate preparations are being made for to give a royal reception to His Excellency the Governor-General and party on their visit to Berlin, on Monday next. A troop of the 24th Grey Horse will act as an escort, and a hundred boy scouts will be guard of honor. The purpose of the visit is to unveil a monument erected by the Daughters of the Empire to Queen Victoria in Victoria Park.

Expects Vote by June 15.

Washington, May 27—Vice-President Sherman, to a White House caller yesterday, declared that he expected a vote to be taken on the Canadian reciprocity bill in the Senate by June 15, and said he would not be surprised to see Congress adjourn long before October. Mr. Sherman did not say whether he expected the reciprocity bill to pass.

The vice-president's optimism as to an early vote on recipracity is not shared by a number of Senators. President Taft told callers yesterday that while he still is of the opinion that the bill will pass, he is not counting on a vote as soon as June 15.

New French War Minister.

Paris, May 27.—Gen. Francois Goiran yesterday accepted the portfolio of the Ministry of War, in succession to the late M. Berteaux, killed by an aeroplane last Sunday, whose funeral yesterday was made the occasion of an impressive national demonstration.

Acute Dyspepsia

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge, P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition, advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvelous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glowed within me. I can now eat, sleep, and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills —they are sure to do you good. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

BRONCHITIS COMPLETELY CURED.

St. Jean, P.Q., Jan. 5th, 1910.

Father Morriscy Med. Co. Ltd.,

I can gratefully testify in favor of Father Morriscy's Remedy for Bronchial trouble. I had suffered for some time from Bronchitis, and could get nothing to give me ease, until I tried Father Morriscy's Prescription (No. 10). To my great surprise, after I had taken this remedy I commenced to grow better, and soon after I was completely cured.

Mde. GEORGE DESMARAIS.

Everybody knows that many common roots, barks and herbs contain Nature's own provision for the relief of coughs and colds. It remained for Father Morriscy, with his wonderful medical skill, to combine extracts from these in such a way as to make the most effective cure for all forms of throat and lung troubles.

His prescription, known as "Father Morriscy's No. 10" or "Lung Tonic", stops a cough by curing the inflamed condition of throat or lungs which causes it. It goes a step further, too, and earns its name of "Lung Tonic" by strengthening the weakened parts.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we car point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" WILL CURE RHEUMATISM

McMillan's Corner, Ont., Sept. 30th, 1910.

"Your remedy, "Fruit-a-tives" is a perfect panacea for Rheumatism. For years, I suffered distressing pain from Sciatic Rheumatism, being laid up several times a year, and not being able to work at anything. I went to different doctors who told me there was no use doing anything, it would pass away.

Fortunately, about two years ago, I got "Fruit-a-tives" and they cured me.

"Since then, I take them occasionally and keep free from pain. I am satisfied that "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of Rheumatism and they will cure anyone who takes them". JOHN B. McDONALD.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago in the world.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures, because like fruit juice it purifies the blood—regulates kidneys, bowels and skin—and thus keeps the whole system free of uric acid. Take "Fruit-a-tives" and you will find instant relief and a prompt cure.

50c. a box—6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

OBITUARY

The Late Violet B. Jackson

A bright young life was brought to a close at an early hour this morning when Violet Beatrice Jackson, aged 16 years, passed away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson, 545 Sherbrooke street, after an illness extending over about a year. The late Miss Jackson was a member of the Park street Baptist church and was a regular attendant at services and Sabbath school, winning several prizes for regular attendance. Although she has been suffering for the past year her case was not regarded as hopeless until a couple of weeks ago, she being confined to her bed for about three weeks with a complication of diseases. Besides her parents there are two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral will take place at three o'clock Monday afternoon to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. W. C. Riddiford will officiate and conduct the service at the house at 2.30 o'clock.

LOCAL HORSES AT THE GALT SHOW

Mr. Stratton Will Also Exhibit at Cobourg and Ogdensburg

Mr. Stratton's string of horses will be taken to Galt next week for the horse show at that place and will also be sent to the Cobourg horse show. From Cobourg the horses will be taken to Ogdensburg.

PERSONAL

Miss Edith J. Coulter, of Pontypool, spent the day in the city.

Miss Dickson and Miss Brown have returned from Niagara, where they attended the graduate nurses' meeting.

WATER CRAFT OWNERS DO NOT LIKE THAT RECOMMENDATION

That New Boat Houses Must be Removed on One Month's Notice.

There is a general kick from the owners of water craft at the recommendation of the Property Committee of the City Council, made at a recent meeting, which is to the effect that all boat houses erected on the site of those destroyed by the Houedry fire, must be removed at a future date, on one month's notice from the City Council. The boat houses too, must be of planed lumber and painted and other restrictions will likely be included in the by-law, which the city solicitor was instructed to prepare. The boat owners quite agree that the structures should be up-to-date and are willing to work along these lines, but the sore touch is that the council will, should the recommendation pass, have the authority to order the removal of a house on giving one month's notice. If there were other properties, to be secured as sites, the matter would be entirely different. Then again objectors claim the action of the property committee to be scant encouragement to canoe factories of the city.

SOME VALUABLE ADDITIONS MADE TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

Set of Topographical Maps Presented — Some Splendid Juvenile Books Added.

Through the kindness of Mr. J. R. Stratton, the library is now in possession of a complete set of topographical maps of Western Canada and also of a great part of Eastern Canada. These will be of great value for reference work. There are also many maps relating to the Gowganda region.

In the late consignment of books there are many that are of special value to teachers and parents who are in the habit of reading aloud to their children. Chief among these may be mentioned the Children's Hour, (9 vols) These books are filled with matter of the greatest interest to young people, and it is a practical certainty that they will be amongst the best used books in the library, when they once become known. They are placed in the juvenile section and can be easily got at by the public.

The Librarian once more requests those who make use of the shelves to bear in mind the fact that much trouble is saved by having books changed before going to the shelves to seek fresh ones. The amount of trouble that is caused by certain people making a practice of carrying their books into the stack room and leaving them heedlessly about, is only appreciated by those who have to rectify the errors caused by their being mislaid. Apropos of this it may be added that as the membership of the library is now nearly 1700 it can be seen that unless a strict system of changing books is maintained, and it can only be maintained by the public loyally falling in with the requirements, a high standard of efficiency cannot be attained.

A set of the late Walter Besant's works has been lately added to the fiction department in order to replace the former set which had reached the limit of its usefulness. This author's works should be read by all who enjoy clean wholesome literature They are full of interest and can be read by old and young with equal zest.

CORONATION TRIPPERS NUMBER ABOUT FIFTY

Majority Are Sons and Daughters of Merrie England.

Peterborough people to the number of about fifty will be in London on Thursday, June 22nd, for the procession and festivities in connection with the coronation of King George and Queen Mary.

Of this number about forty are Englishmen and Englishwomen, who are awaiting with eagerness a return to the old land.

Misses Isabel Hay and Mabel Collins, McDonnel street, left yesterday and sailed from Montreal this morning on the Teutonic, of the White Star Dominion Line. Other Peterborough passengers on board are Mr. James Pearson and Mrs. Farrar.

Mr. Alex. Elliott, late of Sanderson's jewelry store, sailed on the Hesperian of the Allan Line, from Montreal to-day. Mr. Elliott will make the trip to Glasgow and be in London for the coronation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Turner and Messrs Ernie and W. B. Warne, who left the city this week sail on the Lusitania next Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell are already in England.

FINE OF $12.60 IMPOSED FOR ILLEGAL SHOOTING OF GAME

Inspector Found Duck in Canoe — Conflicting Evidence.

Earl Clark, a young man, was fined $12.60 at police court this morning for shooting a duck on April 11th, contrary to the fishery and game laws. The offence was committed about five miles down the Otonabee river. The open season is from September 15 to December 15.

ONE STORY.

The accused pleaded guilty to the charge. A resident of the vicinity, who was with him at the time, related the circumstances of the affair. He stated that, having had his chicken farm bothered by hawks and owls, the two of them had sallied out to destroy any hawks or owls they might see. Happening to notice a little lone duck on the opposite river bank, young Clark fired and killed it. That was all there was to it, so the witness stated.

INSPECTOR'S EVIDENCE.

Inspector Cain, however, contradicted some of the witness' statements. He swore he had come upon a canoe lying hauled up on the river bank and a dead duck lying in it. When the two owners of the canoe came up namely Clark and his friend, he accused them of illegal shooting, which one of them denied.

His Worship gave the first witness the benefit of the doubt and allowed him to go without a fine, but Clark, who admitted doing the shooting, paid the amount of the fine.

The highest penalty for this breach of the law is $50, or in default of payment, three months in jail.

ALLOWED OFF.

Frank Walker, a recent youthful arrival from the mother land, appeared for having used a gun with intent to kill ducks out of season on April 9th.

Mr. Watt withdrew the charge, however, stating that it was owing to ignorance on the boy's part of knowing the rules and regulations regarding such matters. The boy had been given permission by his employer to go out on Sunday, the day in question, and do some hunting. The youth told his Worship that he was allowed to hunt game on Sunday in the old country.

PETERBORO' MAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT AT TORONTO

George Carter Knocked Off Street Car—One Rib Pierced Lung.

Toronto, May 27.—Two men are in a serious condition at St. Michael's Hospital as the result of two unusual accidents yesterday.

George Carter, 208 George steet, learning to be a conductor on the street cars, comes from Peterborough, Ont. Yesterday afternoon he was riding on the knife-board of an open Avenue road trailer. George A. Gaham's big touring car was standing in the roadway at Avenue road and Cottingham street. It was not fairly against the curb and, the hood being down, this part of the machine struck Carter, knocking him to the pavement.

One rib was broken and pierced the lungs. He was given medical attention and later removed in the police ambulance to the hospital.

Charles Barker, a teamster, living at 111 Berkeley street, while backing his team in a lane in rear of the Ontario Woollen Mills, was impaled upon the tongue of his wagon. The tongue pierced the abdomen when he was jammed against the wall. He walked to his home, holding his hand over the wound, which was bleeding profusely, but was later removed to the hospital in the police ambulance.

A Review reporter made enquiries at the Carter home at 310 Aylmer street, and the young man's mother who answered the summons at the door, had not heard of the accident to her son, who is twenty-three years years of age. He went to Toronto last February and in a recent letter wrote that he intended to get work on the street cars. Before leaving here he drove a delivery wagon for F. R. J. Mitchell.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

A very prettily arranged repast was tendered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Throop, 104 Lock street, Friday evening, May 26th, to their daughter, Mabel, and William E. Stewart, upon their return from their wedding, which took place at Toronto, May 24th. Rev. Richard J. Treleaven, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Those present at the repast numbered about twenty-five, from Peterborough, Cobourg, Ennismore and Toronto.

The Trustee Board of the Mark street Methodist church, met last night and transacted considerable business. Dr. Middleton was elected treasurer as Mr. John Spie resigned at a previous meeting. In future the Board will meet on the first Monday of every month.

Cressman's have a seasonable dressing in their large window, where a hammock is seen swaying before the breeze, which in this case is manufactured by an electric fan. Around the spot in the hammock, where it generally happens, is a piece of sheet music entitled, "Put Your Arms Around Me Honey, etc." Summer goods are shown on models and the window is attracting considerable attention.

Miss Bessie Elcome will give a recital at the Conservatory of Music hall on the evening of Monday next, at eight o'clock. All interested are invited to be present.

Here is a furnace that is easy to attend—

One you can clean out without using the poker.

¶ The ashes at the side of the pot can be shaken down without losing good coals in the centre. The four separate grate bars do that.

¶ The water pan, so essential to good heating, is placed where it can be easily filled and not so likely to be overlooked.

"Hecla" Furnace

Six tons of coal instead of seven.

And this furnace which is so easy to run will save you one ton of coal in every seven.

¶ It will give you pure air without gas or dust.

¶ When you shake it down no ash dust can escape either in the basement or in the living rooms.

Sound interesting?

Why not investigate?

NOTE THE FEATURES THAT MAKE FOR CONVENIENCE:

Water Pan Openings conveniently placed on either side of ash door.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY AND THE THURSDAY HALF HOLIDAY

June 3rd, Which is a Saturday Will Not be Generally Observed.

The Review is requested to announce that the merchants of the city will not close their stores on the King's holiday, June 3rd, which comes on a Saturday.

The date will be an official holiday. To the Review this morning Mr. T. Barrie, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, could not make known any expression of opinion on the part of the merchants, as he has just returned from a ten days' trip to New York.

Mr. Jas. Connal, treasurer of the association, held that as the three holidays—June 3, 22, Coronation Day, and July 1, Dominion Day—came so close together, and also that June 3 was a Saturday, it would not be observed.

His Majesty King George is celebrating his holiday to-day.

As to the question of a half holiday on Thursday afternoons during July and August, Mr. Barrie said that personally he was in favor of the closing.

Mr. Connal intimated that the matter would be taken up by the association. The grocery stores, he said, would not close.

BUYING OF BALLOT BOXES INDICATES EARLY ELECTION

Rush Order for Several Thousand Said to Have Been Placed in Toronto.

Toronto, May 27.—Another indication of the imminence of a Federal general election was furnished by a report current in the city yesterday, to the effect that Mr. J. G. Foley, the Clerk of the Crown-in-Chancery, had come to Toronto and had placed a rush order for several thousand ballot boxes with a local firm. This rumor seemed to confirm the opinion held by members of the Opposition in the House of Commons that an appeal to the people would be made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon his return from England after the Imperial Conference and to justify the call to all Conservatives to hold conventions and prepare for the conflict. Mr. Foley explained his visit by saying that at each general election trouble has been experienced in obtaining the use of sufficient ballot boxes. In the past some of the boxes used belonged to the Federal Government, some to the city of Toronto and some to the County of York. Mr. Foley stated that he has been endeavoring to make arrangements whereby the difficulties arising out of this diverse owership of the ballot boxes will be ovviated.

Mr. Foley denied, however, that he had ordered or purchased any ballot boxes while in the city. "I am constantly ordering new ballot boxes for those parts of the country in which the population is increasing rapidly and where new polling sub-divisions will have to be created. This does not mean that an election is imminent. We naturally try to provide ahead of time.

It was said that the contract for the manufacture of the new ballot boxes had been let to the firm of Wheeler & Bain. Mr. Alexander Wheeler, however, declared last night that as far as he was aware, no such contract had been awarded to his firm.

PETERBORO'S C.G.E. MADE THEM; TESTS AT GUELPH POWER PLANT

Experts Say Plant is One of the Finest They Have Seen

The following will be interesting to citizens in general, inasmuch as the generator sets, and transformers installed at the plant of the Light and Heat Commission, which is referred to in such enthusiastic terms, were from Peterborough's premier industrial concern, the Canadian General Electric Company:

Guelph, May 26.—Niagara power is now being used exclusively by the Light and Heat Commission in supplying light and power to its patrons. Mr. C. Carter, representing the Lancashire Dynamo Company, of Manchester, England; Mr. Timmerman, of the Canadian General Electric Company; Mr. Richards, the Commission's electrical engineer; local Manager Heeg and Chairman Carter made a tour of inspection of the whole plant yesterday and found things in first-class condition. The generator sets and transformers were all given the most severe tests, and showed much better results than were expected. The experts pronounced the Guelph plant one of the finest they had seen, and congratulated the Commission on the thoroughness of the work done.

MILKMAN FAVORS DELIVERY OF ALL MILK IN BOTTLES

He Says Customers Are in Some Cases to Blame for Sickness.

The Review interviewed a leading milk dealer to-day and had an interesting conversation concerning the condition of milk when it is delivered in bottles, and when it is delivered in cans. The Property Committee of the City Council recommended that a by-law which is being prepared for the regulating and inspection of the milk supply, contain a clause which would compel the delivery of milk in bottles.

The informant stated that he was decidedly in favor of the bottled method, considering it both more sanitary and much more convenient. While it costs a little more, still the increase is only one cent, and he felt that the majority of people would prefer to pay more merely for the sake of having their milk delivered in a proper and healthy condition. All the milk men at present are delivering milk to a large number of their customers in bottles, but there are some customers, he stated, who want it brought to them in cans, as before. By delivering it in bottles the dealer stated, the practice of changing or pouring milk from one can to another on the street, often a necessity among milkmen, is avoided.

"A customer, for instance, will take more milk on one day than on another, and where this is the case among several customers, often in one day a milk man will run short before he has finished his delivery route. He must then borrow or buy from another milkman on the street, and the exchange must be effected on the street. The bottle plan does away with this exposure to dust, heat, etc., the milkmen merely exchanging bottles.

MORE CREAM.

"Also, the bottle method increases the amount of cream, as a bottle, if left standing over night will, in the morning, have from two to three inches of rich cream in the neck of the vessel, while if left in an ordinary dish or pail merely the top of the liquid will be cream.

SOMETHING IN THIS.

"Many people are only too ready and eager to lay the blame for illness among infants on the milk delivered by the milkmen, and attribute it to the milk," stated the Review informant, "but the people are to blame themselves much more frequently. I have entered houses," he said, "to take in milk where the stench and bad odor was simply nauseous. The surroundings were unclean and the milk left uncovered for hours at a time, right on the table, during the heat of the day, and in some places never, in fact, put away in a cool place at all during the day, but left exposed.

"However, concerning the bottle method of delivery," he said, "it is in my opinion the best and safest plan for all people, and I hope it will be adopted by all milkmen."

POLICE COURT

A tribal Indian named James Trebilcock faced Magistrate Dumble this morning on a charge of being drunk yesterday. He pleaded guilty, but was discharged and left this afternoon for his home at Roseneath.

When arrested yesterday he was in an hilarious mood, and had imbibed the fire water freely. When put in the witness box this morning to ascertain where he had secured the liquor, he stated that he had been working in North Bay all winter and had a supply with him when he got off here. He had not intended to get off at Peterborough and did not know he was in Peterborough.

"You are children of the government," said Magistrate Dumble, "and the law tries to protect you from the whiskey."

MUSICAL COMEDY AT LOW PRICES

"College Girl" on Monday Night—"Prince for a Day"—At the Grand Tuesday Night

It is not often that Peterborough audiences have the opportunity of hearing musical comedy, except at high prices, so that it is likely that there will be crowded houses to hear "The College Girl" and "A Prince for a Day," when they are given at the Grand on Monday and Tuesday next. The plays are being put on by the La Montes, Funmakers, a most enjoyable organization, there being many notables connected therewith, Miss Billie Mallette appearing most prominently, and an artist of rare ability, having for the past five seasons been connected with such well-known productions as the "Flower of the Ranch," "Isle of Spice," "The Show Girl," and "The Girl in the Kimona," where she sang the leading roles. Miss Mallette is one of those fascinating, dainty, magnetic winsome artists who never fail to hold her audience with her grace and charming manners, and her full, round, soprano voice. Surrounding her are a most excellent supporting company, and a chorus of charming singers and dancers. La Monte's Funmakers present two of these petite musical comedies that sparkle with newness and bright comedy, being beautifully staged, characteristic to all of Mr. Ott's productions, and will be offered for the first time at popular prices.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

Lynching In Oklahoma.

Okema, Okla, May 26.—Laura Nelson, a negress, and her 16-year-old son were taken out of the county jail yesterday by a mob which had first gagged and bound Jailer Payne. The bodies were found hanging to the timbers of a bridge across the Canadian River.

The Nelsons were charged with the murder two weeks ago of Deputy Sheriff G. H. Loney, who went to search their shanty for stolen goods.

NORMALITES AND COLLEGIATES TIED

Exciting Ball Game Finished With 4-4 Score

In an exciting game of baseball last evening the Collegians and Normalites played to a tie, 4—4, the Normalites balancing up in the last inning.

"Lefty" Stewart, on the slab for the Normalites, allowed five bingles in the first inning, though only two runners were able to register.

Huycke, serving for the Central Park aggregation, was steady throughout, only allowing scattered hits, which were easily fielded. Armstrong and Stewart each pulling off a few individual stunts in the fielding line.

The Normalites evened up in the last inning, when Moran beat Phelan and Ray from third. Huycke steadied down like a veteran and Stewart smote the air three times.

FRANKIE BURNS AND AD WOLGAST

Meet To-day at San Francisco in 20 Round Go

San Francisco, May 26.—"Ad Wolgast is only a human, and I'm going to give him the battle of his life," was the prediction made to-day by Frankie Burns, Wolgast's challenger for the lightweight championship, to be decided in a 20-round bout to-morrow afternoon. Burns even predicted he would stop the champion inside of 12 rounds. The fight is scheduled to start at six o'clock, Pacific time.

BASEBALL

Dubby Shea is hitting the ball hard, but his fielding is off color.—Brantford Expositor.

When Jimmy Digert was a member of the Philadelphia Americans last season he was the champion warm up pitcher of the land. As Jimmy once said, "I have pitched 158 games and been in the box only sixteen innings!"

But all of Jimmy's stunts are paralleled, if not exceeded, by a funny case of Brownie Coombs. He is Jack's brother, and is also a pitcher. As an amateur and semi-professional twirler he is one of the best in his section, and some day he may be on the roster of a big league club.

However, this is not to the point. One Memorial day Brownie was to pitch for a team some miles away from his home. He was to receive a pretty good piece of money for his labors, and he wanted to make good. Sunday, the day before the game, brave young Mr. Coombs got hold of a catcher and went out and warmed up all day.

The reader can easily imagine Brownie's arm and its condition the following day, the date of the game.

Pitcher Armiger, the Baltimore pitcher, whom the Leafs took South on the spring training trip, will be sent to the Brantford Club on the Canadian League. Armiger won an 11 innings game from Petersburg of the Virginia League by 2 to 1. Willie Keeler spoke very highly of him after this game.

Pitcher McIntyre, the Mitchell boy, who has been sent back to the Leafs by Haverhill Club of New England League, will be sent to Guelph. McIntyres' work with Haverhill has been very good.

And Kyle will be given a chance in the outfield of the London Club of the Canadian League

RHEUMATISM AND GOUT

Outcome of Sick Kidneys—Uric Acid Cause of Grinding Pains That Disturb Day and Night—Booth's Kidney Pills Remove the Cause.

Backache, rheumatic joints and uric acid troubles follow in the train of sick kidneys.

There is no rest and but little peace for any person whose kidneys are out of order. Not only does backache keep up its dull throb day and night, but there are sharp twinges, cricks and stitches of darting pain, achy joints and sore, stiff muscles.

When the kidneys get congested and inflamed following a chill, a cold, grippe fever or from overwork, a fall or some injury to the back, they need a kidney tonic.

Booths' Kidney Pills will quickly remove uric acid troubles—rheumatism neuralgia, nervousness, sciatica, gout, weak eyes, headache, etc., resulting from the weakened kidneys failing to filter the blood free from uric poisons.

When sediment, thick and cloudy, or gritty as sand, appears in the urine, and passages are too frequent, to scanty or painful, there is danger of dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel, stone in the kidneys and diabetes.

Booths' Kidney Pills have brought new life and health comfort to thousands of sufferers from backache, kidney and bladder troubles. They are guaranteed by the proprietor to do all they claim or they will refund your money.

BOOTH COMFORT

T.E. Foster, of St. John Street, Fredericton, N.B., says:—"I have found more actual relief from Booth's Kidney Pills than in all else I have ever tried for rheumatism. The pains in my limbs have lessened greatly and I am better and stronger than in years previous. My appetite has built up and I eat and sleep better than I have in over three years. My general health is greatly improved and I can credit this only to Booth's Kidney Pills."

DIZZY SPELLS

Mrs. Edward Calwood, of 123 S. Harold Street, Fort William, Ont., says:—"I suffered with dull, miserable pains, soreness across my back and in my sides, for months. I would have dizzy spells and altogether felt generally run down. After using a number of remedies without finding relief I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and am pleased to say found them an excellent remedy."

Completes Flight to Madrid.

Madrid, May 27.—Pierre Vedrine, the French aviator, arrived at the Spanish capital from Burgos at 8.06 o'clock yesterday morning, being the first contestant to complete the third stage of the Paris-to-Madrid aviation race, and the almost certain winner. He covered the distance of 140 miles between Madrid and Burgos, where he landed Thursday from St. Sebastian, in two hours and forty-five minutes. Gilbert and Garros are still stalled in the mountain fastnesses, and it is not thought probable that they will be able to finish within the time limit.

Horse Ate Her Rat.

Chatham, May 27.—A farm horse tied near the Central Drug Store yesterday reached out at the head of an unknown young woman, who was passing and pulled the rat from her hair. The screams of the lady brought the owner of the horse to the rescue, but the horse had devoured most of the rat before it could be taken away from him. The lady made a quick disappearance.

Chatham Overcrowded.

Chatham, Ont., May 27.—The house famine has reached such an acute stage in this city that vacant lots are renting for high prices on the north side, where newcomers are erecting tents to live in till such time as they may be able to secure houses. Many families have already established themselves in tents in North Chatham.

This Medicine Is Breathed!

Have You a Cold?—It Can Be Completely Cured By

Catarrhozone

It Quickly Cures Whooping Cough, Grippe, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Asthma, and Colds.

Catarrhozone is not like other remedies, but is so healing and soothing that when it is breathed through the inhaler it kills the germs that cause diseases of the throat and lungs.

Catarrhozone quickly soothes and heals the mucous surfaces so that in a short time the whole mucous lining is healed.

If you are subject to throat irritation or have a tendency to consumption you should use the "Medicine that is breathed."

Thousands who have used it tell of its merit.

Air which you breathe through the Catarrhozone inhaler carries healing to the very spot affected, and there is no chance of failure by going to the wrong place. That is why it cures.

Catarrhozone

Approved by Doctors, Druggists, and thousands of Canadian people who have used it. Little drops of healing for weak places in the throat and nasal passages—that's Catarrhozone.

Three sizes, 25c., 50c., and $1.00, at druggists or by mail, postpaid, from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Skyrocket In Church.

Brantford, May 26.—A skyrocket went through the window of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Wednesday night and set fire to a curtain. Caretaker Henderson happened to be passing and rushed in, extinguishing the blaze and sustaining painfully burned hands. Little damage was done.

Big Cocking-Main Pulled Off.

Brockville, May 26.—A big cocking-main was pulled off on Old Man's Island, between Ogdensburg and Brockville birds. Twelve battles were fought, the majority went to the Ogdensburg birds, also a considerable quantity of Brockville hard-earned cash. One of the ba[illegible] many an hour.

Taboga Had Cattle Cargo.

Panama, May 26.—The steamer Taboga, which it is reported has been wrecked, had a cargo of cattle and was on her regular coastwise trip. The scene of the accident is about 100 miles from the nearest telegraph station.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

When you need a laxative, why not try Abbey's Salt?

It is pleasant to take—does not flake on top of the water—and effervesces slowly, without choking or blinding the user like seidlitz powders.

Abbey's Salt is used all over the world and is regularly prescribed by the leading physicians.

Why don't you find out what it will do for you?

SHOSHO INDIANS ON THE WARPATH

Uprising on the Border of California

Reno, Nev., May 25—A band of Shosho Indian bucks, heavily armed, and with an extra supply of horses, have gone on the warpath near Little Rock Canyon, 150 miles from Reno, and word is momentarily expected that the band have taken revenge for the extermination last February of Red Mike and eight marauders by the State police. The mutilated bodies of four Reno stockmen, together with the carcasses of horses, were found by a herder near Nelles' Creek, in January. The State police took the trail, and after a march through the deep snow for 500 miles came upon the murderers. In the fight which ensued eight Indians and one policeman were killed.

The news of another uprising on the border of California was brought this afternoon. The band went from Duck Valley Indian Reservation, in North Elko County. Couriers have been sent in all directions to notify the white settlers who are unprotected to flee from the danger zone. The Indians are camped in Soldiers' Meadows, near the scene of the battle last February, and have donned war-paint.

WILL BLOW FALL HERE?

There is likely to be a falling off in church attendance among the girls in Hamilton. The police there are not allowing the young men to stand around the church door when service is coming out and "pick up" their steadies.—Calgary Daily Herald.

If this blow was to go in force in Peterborough it would indeed be a sad blow to the local "ladies' aid" brigade, who congregate at the church doors after Sunday evening service particularly.

JUST ONE CURE FOR ANAEMIA

It is Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Makes

There is just one cure for anaemia—more rich, red blood. Anaemia is simply a bloodless, run down condition. Then the body becomes weak from overwork, worry or illness, and examination of the blood will show it to be weak and watery. The common symptoms are paleness of lips, gums, and cheeks, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, dull eyes and a loss of appetite. Anaemia itself is a dangerous trouble and may pass into consumption. It can only be cured by making the blood rich and red, thereby enabling it to carry the necessary nourishment to every part of the body.

It is a proved fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured thousands and thousands of cases of anaemia. They are really intended to make new, rich blood and are compounded in the most scientific manner with the finest ingredients for the blood known to medical science. These Pills are not a cure-all. They are intended to cure only those diseases that have their origin in poor, watery blood, and starved, weakened nerves, and the record of their success in doing this is their constantly increasing popularity in every part of the world.

Mrs. R. Cotton, Golden, B.C., says:—"As a matter of duty I wish to say a word in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for what they have done for my daughters, one 16 and the other 18 years of age. Both were pale and bloodless and suffered from many of the symptoms of anaemia. They would tire easily, suffered from frequent headaches, were easily discouraged, and often fretful. I saw in our home paper the story of a young girl who had similarly suffered and was cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought three boxes of the pills and my daughters started to take them. Before they were done they began to feel better and look better, and I got a half dozen more boxes, and by the time these were used, they were enjoying the best of health, with rosy cheeks and not like the same girls at all. I also gave the Pills to my little boy who had rheumatism, and they completely cured him."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Australian Mail Service.

London, May 26.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Chronicle's Melbourne correspondent says that Premiers Fisher and Laurier are expected to arrange a Vancouver service in such a form as to pave the way for the initiation of their allied scheme. The Commonwealth Ministers, however, are unable to agree to join in a new contract between Canada and New Zealand owing to the arrangement for a New Zealand port to be visited after Sydney is left by outward liners. The Sydney Labor Ministry is pressing the Federal Government not to allow the service entirely to lapse in July.

Brockville Methodists Protest.

Brockville, May 26.—In view of the "ne temere" decree the Brockville Methodist district, at its annual meeting, placed on record it strongest protest against any branch of the church making encroachment upon the domain of the state, and pledged themselves to resist in all legitimate ways all attempts to lessen the validity of the principle of organic union of Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian Churches.

Incendiarism Suspected.

Kingston, May 26.—The entire stock of Samuel T. Kirk, grocer, was destroyed by fire, which started from an unknown cause. The building was saved, loss $6,000. This is the third fire to occur under mysterious circumstances, and it is believed a firebug is at work. Sunday night two five-cent theatres in the same black caught fire.

Class for Census Enumerators.

Berlin, May 26.—R. Y. Fish of Linwood, census commissioner for North Waterloo, held a class of instruction yesterday for the twenty enumerators who will take the census in Berlin. It is expected the population to be 15,000, in which event Berlin will apply for a city charter.

Child Perished In Fire.

Ottawa, May 26.—In a fire near Fort Coulonge, Quebec, which destroyed the home occupied by two families named Ladouceur and Kingsbury, a daughter of the former, aged three years, perished. The fire was caused by lightning.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

COURT CHEMONG I.O.F. INITIATION

Four Applications Approved—The Growth of the Order

The regu'ar monthly meeting of Court Chemong, No. 530 I.O.F., was held in the S.O.E. Hall on Thursday evening. The meeting was presided over by Bro. F. C. Rooke, C.R., there being a good representation of the members present. Bro. F. Mullett, D. H.C.R., was present and presented the Court with a number of applications for membership in the order and 4 of these were duly initiated. The returns from the head office show 3820 applications for March and more are expected for April, thus bringing the entire membership up to nearly the 250,000 mark.

The annual church service came up for discussion, when it was unanimously decided that the members attend this service at St. John's church on the evening of Sunday, June 18th, when the Rev. Canon J. C. Davidson will deliver the annual sermon.

A number of candidates will be initiated at the next meeting on June 8th, to which the members are invited to make full arrangements for the annual church service.

PIANOFORTE

RECITAL BY PUPILS OF MRS. GREENSLADE

The attractive studio of the J. M. Greene Music Company was last evening the scene of a very enjoyable and successful pianoforte recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Greenslade, before their parents and friends, who made up a large attendance. That their teacher had carefully and thoroughly trained them was evidenced by the work of those taking part, each pupil giving a praiseworthy rendition of the selection. Assisting in the program was Miss Greta LeBar, who gave a reading with splendid effect and which added much to the pleasure of the evening. Mrs Greenslade was presented with a beautiful bouquet during an interval in the recital, the complete program of which follows:

NEARLY DIED OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

513 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT.

"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of The Bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me." JOHN HERMAN. 48

GIN PILLS are sold at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper. Money back, if GIN PILLS do not give full satisfaction. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. B., Toronto.

SERVICES IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Prof. Lowe Will Speak To-morrow Monday and Tuesday

The service last night in St. Paul's church, conducted by Professor J. J. Lowe, was of unusual impressiveness. Mr. Lowe gave the first of two addresses on "The Passion Week of Our Lord," illustrated by slides made from the master paintings of the world. It is safe to say that never before has a Peterborough audience seen so many pictures of such a superior character thrown upon the canvas in one address. Mr. Lowe's address on Sabbath evening will be a continuation of that on Friday evening. One of the most enjoyable parts of the service is the illustrated song. Mr. Lowe sings with great sweetness and effectiveness many of the old gospel hymns. The services will be continued on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Farmers' Institute Annual Excursion to Ottawa

The above Excursions will be run via C.P.R. Special Train, starting from Cavanville at 6.40 o'clock, a.m., calling at all stations on line to Tweed inclusive, on Thursday, June the 8th, 1911.

Train leaves Peterborough at 7 a.m.

Note the fact that this is the only Farmers' Excursion run by the Farmers' Organizations from this District this year and we promise you a good train service and a splendid Educational Trip. You will be sorry if you miss it.

HOME SWEET HOME

The spirit of John Howard Payne, the singer of "Home, Sweet Home," is to be invited to repose on the campus of his Alma Mater, Union College, Schenectady, N.Y., where Payne was a student one hundred odd years ago. There a gateway is to be erected in his memory. A bust of the poet will be set in a niche in the front face of the central pylon. On the inner face the simple words of the song that touches the heart of the world will be inscribed on a tablet of bronze.

Keep Your Glasses Clean

Many persons fail to realize that the satisfaction of the glasses they wear depends largely on the care given them. The only glasses hard to keep clean are pasted bifocals. If you breathe on the lenses or dampen them in any way you are liable to loosen the cement and the wafers will fall off.

Toric Kryptoks

(Deep curve, double vision lenses, single in appearance) are made by fusing two pieces of glass into one. You can keep them clean. Besides, they look like one pair of glasses and serve the purpose of two. No lines to make them look old; no cracks to gather dirt; no expensive wafers to fall off.

RECIPROCITY FACES DEFEAT IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE

Washington, May 29.—The plot to defeat reciprocity developed another phase Saturday. The Democrats are to be used to encompass the downfall of the bill.

A plan is being framed by the opponents of the measure to co-operate with those Democrats who are insisting upon the farmer's free list being attached to reciprocity as a rider.

There is a group of Democrats who believe that they will get into trouble with their constituents if they vote against the farmers' free list when it is offered as an amendment to the reciprocity agreement. These votes are needed to insure the success of the pact.

On the other hand, there is a group of Republicans who will not vote for reciprocity if the farmers' free list is attached to it. These votes also are needed to insure the success of the bill.

The plan of the opposition is to cooperate with the Democrats in having the free list made a part of reciprocity and then leave it to the protectionist Republicans to defeat the bill on the final passage.

The only way out is for the Democrats, who want to attack the free list, to realize that reciprocity can be passed with a measure of tariff reform, if they will consent to consider it apart from the farmers' list; whereas, both reciprocity and the free list will be defeated at this session if they fail in the plot that is being arranged by the enemies of the pact. It is the choice that is offered of half a loaf or no bread at all.

In the meantime, the Root amendment, which will enable the paper trust to keep up the price of paper, a direct tax upon everyone who reads newspapers, magazines, book or handbill, is making progress.

Elgin Perry, of London, had his eye pierced by a woman's hat pin and may lose the sight.

NUDE CORPSE ON PIANO STOOL

Alfred, N.Y., May 29.—The placing of a naked human corpse on apiano stool in the chapel of Alfred University on Thursday night has so upset the faculty and student body that the program prepared fo the last day of the college year has been postponed.

Students are suspected of the deed but as yet the faculty has been unable to get any definite clue. For several days the students have been in sullen mood over the suspension of the entire baseball team, which played a game recently at Wellsville without having obtained permission.

The body was taken from an undertaking room in the town and placed on the piano stool.

BIG FIRE IN QUEBEC CITY; LOSS OVER QUARTER MILLION

Ancient Capital Visited by Flames; Started in a Roller Rink and Spread Rapidly.

Quebec, May 29.—It was nine o'clock Sunday morning when the "All out" was sounded for a fire which broke out in St. Roch shortly after noon Saturday, and which for a time threatened a large section of that portion of the city and looked possible to develop into a general conflagration. About a quarter of a million of damage was wrought by the fire, among the buildings destroyed being a couple of large and a number of smaller factories.

The fire was one of the fiercest which the local fire-fighters have been called upon to face for a long time, breaking out in a roller rink on Notre Dame des Agnes street, the blaze worked itself into the Carelbe carriage factory on Dorchester street, just around the corner. Here the full force of the fire raged, the flames being fierce and the whole building speedily becoming a mass of flame.

The firemen of No. 3 and 5 stations almost opposite the roller rink, had just returned from a run to a chimney fire in their section, and were cleaning up their wagons, when the new fire was discovered. Captain Louis Talbot at once sounded a double alarm

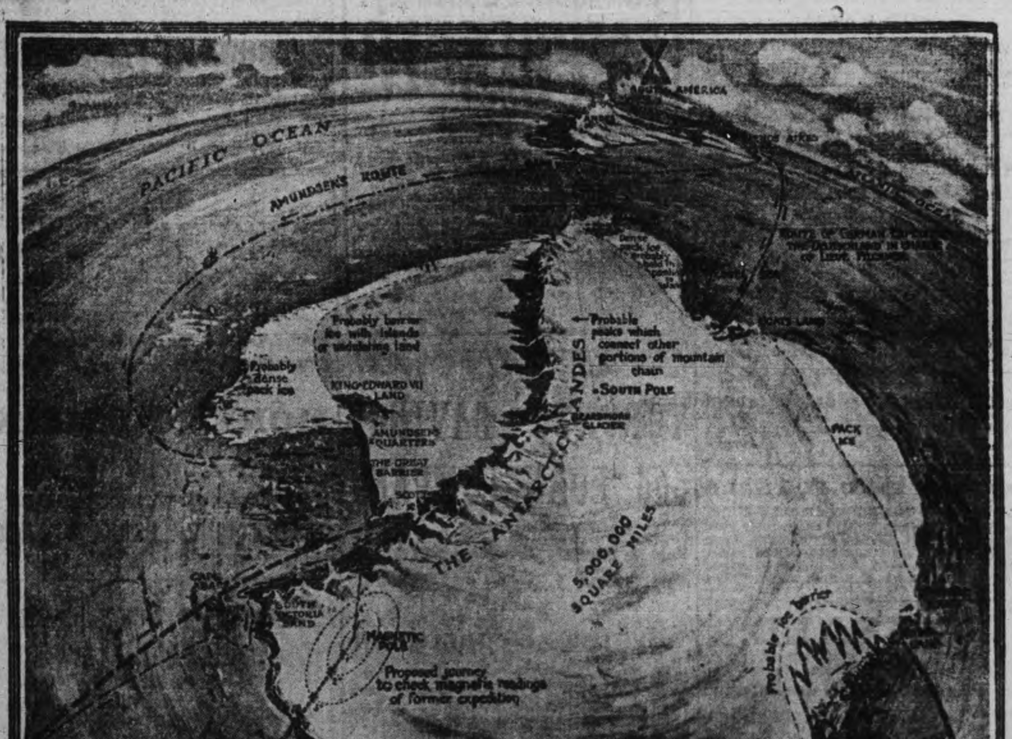
Springhill Strike Ends.

Halifax, May 28.—The long and bitterly fought strike at the Springhill coal mines was ended Saturday afternoon when the men adopted the report of the system committee. The points of the agreement under which the strike is brought to an end, as adopted at the meeting of the miners in Springhill Saturday, are as follows:

1. The men to be taken back as soon as places can be found for them, the company saying it hopes to find employment in 45 days for a majority of the men.
2. The schedule for mechanics is to remain with no reductions of the rates before the strike.
3. The Longley Board's fine, that is the docking system, is to govern.
4. Coal cutters are to get ten per cent. less than the rate paid before the strike, fair consideration to be allowed to enable a man to earn an average wage where changing conditions in coal make that necessary.

HUNTING FOR THE LAST PRIZE OF DISCOVERY---THE SOUTH POLE



The route followed by the Mawson Expedition is shown by thick lines. The start will be made from Hobart, Tasmania, and an attempt will be made to reach the South Magnetic Pole in order to check the readings obtained by former expeditions. The view also shows the line of mountains known as the Antarctic Andes. It is believed that they run right across the Antarctic continent and form a ridge connecting the Australian Alps and the South American Andes (indicated by large crosses.)

ELECTION IS VERY QUIET

First Portuguese Republic Polling Held.

Monarchists do Not Put Out Any Candidates.

Lisbon, May 29.—Perfect order prevailed yesterday at the elections for the constituent assembly, which were held throughout the country. In thirty out of fifty-one constituencies, the seats were disputed by candidates of the directory of the Republican party, the Independent Republican and the Socialist parties. In the other constituencies the regular Republicans were unopposed.

The Monarchists refrained from putting forward candidates, declaring that the elections presented no guarantees of liberty or sincerity. Instead they circulated all sorts of rumors of a counter revolution, an armed invasion by way of the Galician frontier and similar attempts against the Government.

The authorities took extraordinary precautions, not only to preserve order, but to anticipate any revolutionary movement. Almost the entire fleet was concentrated in the north, but the intervention of armed force has not been necessary up to the present in any part of the republic.

The polling throughout was very heavy and the first results indicate a majority of 231 deputies will be regular Republicans.

A few Independents and Socialists are likely to win their elections, but the general opinion is that, while the Government may have to meet certain divergencies of opinion in the assembly, there will be nothing like systematic opposition.

In Lisbon, police patrolled the streets all night, but there were no disturbances. The balloting continued throughout the day and will continue to-day. The regulars carried the day in this city. One woman, Dr. Beatrix Angelo, recorded her vote, amid thunders of applause.

It is announced that the discussions of the constituent assembly will be confided, first to a law defining the political powers of the republic; second, to organic laws relating to each of these powers, including an electoral law; third, to acts of dictatorship on the part of the Provisional Government, and fourth, to the budget.

Several of the civil governors have made representations, urging the necessity of modification of the law, and it is understood that a special bill will be introduced with this object.

FRENCH ARRIVE AT THE CAPITAL

Column Reached Fez to Protect Trade Routes.

Paris, May 29.—(N. Y. Tribune Cable.)—The first and easiest portion of the French task in Morocco is accomplished by the arrival at Fez of Gen. Moinier. The Government is fully alive to the absolute necessity of completing in a thorough and permanent manner the triple work of establishing in Morocco the military supremacy of the Sultan, the integrity of his territory and the open door for the commerce of all nations.

The measures decided on to accomplish these three results are to give carte blanche to Col. Mangin, the French instructor of the Sultan's army with the aid of a corps of French officers and to maintain in security two military and trade routes of communication with Fez, one between Fez and the Atlantic and the other between Fez and Algeria, via Taza. Three efficient Moroccan armies, under French officer instructors, are to be centered at Fez, at Taza and at Meknes for the first time in history to really govern his country and keep it in order.

The French Government is determined not to withdraw its present armies of occupation until this is accomplished.

Died on Train.

Montreal, May 29.—When the Intercolonial train pulled into Montreal yesterday it brought the body of a young man named Chapman, who had died on the train shortly after leaving Quebec. Chapman had been employed on the Intercolonial at Moncton, N.B., and six months ago suffered a fall which resulted in injuries to his brain. After a long illness it was decided to send him to the Royal Victoria Hospital here to undergo an operation. He had almost reached his goal when he suffered a relapse and passed away.

PLOT WAS UNEARTHED

Madero to be Assassinated and Counter Revolution Commenced.

Special to the Review.

El Paso, Texas, May 29—Daniel De Villars, a Boer, and W. F. Dunn, an American, have been placed under arrest on the charge of having plotted to assassinate Madero, and start a counter revolution, with a view of seizing the reins of government. De Villars, offered General Villjoin, who was his comrade during the Boer war, a huge bribe to assist in the plot and Villjoin after gaining the confidence of De Villars took charge of some of his countrymen and then betrayed him.

TWELVE START IN AEROPLANE RACE FROM PARIS TO TURIN

LION GOT LOOSE

Omaha, Neb., May 28.—A real lion, which had escaped from a circus, scattered five hundred shriners in the Masonic Temple here. The animal was finally caged, but the Shriners were so far away, they couldn't get back in time to participate in the meeting.

WAYLAID THE DIAZ TRAIN

Insurrectos Made Futile Attack on President.

Vera Cruz, May 29.—While escorting ex-President Diaz from the Mexican capital to Vera Cruz on Friday the federal troops engaged a large force of rebels.

The troops were successful in beating off the insurrectos, who retreated, leaving behind thirty dead. General Diaz left the train and gave orders to his soldiers during the battle.

General Diaz and his party, consisting of Madame Diaz, Col. Porfirio Diaz and the latter's family, left Mexico City on a special train, composed of three sections.

The first section carried the Eleventh Regiment of Infantry. The Presidential party was in the second section, which was followed closely by the third, also carrying troops.

When approaching Tepeyahualo they encountered a body of some 700 rebels. The leading section of the train pulled up and the federal troops dismounted. After a sharp engagement the federals succeeded in defeating the insurgents, who retired, leaving on the field thirty dead, their standards and a box containing 1,000 pesos.

The federal troops, which were 300 strong, registered three men wounded, one probably fatally.

General Diaz and his son, Col. Porfirio Diaz, on arriving at the scene of the engagement, descended from their car and took part in the fray. The ex-President experienced some difficulty in preventing his troops from pursuing the revolutionists.

The general was received here with the greatest respect. He plans to leave Vera Cruz for Europe on May 31. No definite arrangements have been decided on as yet regarding his future course of action.

ARRESTED ON A MURDER CHARGE

Said to Have Killed His Wife—Boy Gave Story.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., May 29.—William Molyneaux, Milltown Crossing, was arrested Saturday by Officer McCarron, charged with the murder of his wife, nee Ada Jenkins, formerly of Charlottetown. Since the inquest the coroner had the eight-year-old son of the deceased examined, and it is understood that the boy gave very important evidence regarding sounds he heard the time his father came out of the pantry and left the house, and other statements which at this stage cannot be made public. The lad was excited at first, but eventually calmed down and told his story. The prisoner was put in jail at Georgetown to await trial.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Molyneaux was found hanging to the pantry door with evidence of suicide, but detectives afterwards discovered marks on her neck which led to an investigation and to the arrest of the husband.

Destroyed by Fire.

Cornwall, May 29.—While most of the family were in church yesterday morning the new residence of Alex. Gadbois, jr., Glen Water, was destroyed by fire along with most of the contents. Mr. Gadbois lighted a fire in the summer kitchen and a spark set fire to the roof of the main building. The neighbors gathered, but the fire spread so rapidly that little could be saved. It is understood that the building was insured for $6,000. Mr. Gadbois was burned out a dozen years or so ago.

Snow In Month of May.

Winnipeg, May 29.—There was a heavy fall of wet snow all over the Regina district Saturday morning; six inches fell in many places.

Natural gas is to be piped to London by September.

Prizes Amount to $100,000 — Vedrine Among the Starters—Safe Get Away, But Two Machines Get Stranded.

Paris, May 29.—Profiting by the lessons of last week's catastrophe, when, at the start of the Paris to Madrid race, M. Berteaux, the Minister of War, was killed and Premier Monis badly wounded, the organizers of the second great air contest, from Paris to Turin, sent the competitors away with record speed and precision yesterday.

Not the slightest mishap marred the occasion. The new Minister of War, Gen. Coirrion, Antone Monis, son of the Premier, who was slightly injured in the accident of a week ago; the Italian ambassador, Signor Tittoni, and several high officials, were allowed on the field, but were kept well behind the starting line. A large assemblage of people were kept out of the danger zone by imposing lines of troops.

The weather was perfect. Twelve out of 21 competitors were on the start when the signal bomb was fired at six o'clock in the morning. The machines were sent off in rapid succession, ten leaving within a few minutes, and the entire number being away by seven o'clock. The remaining nine entrants, includng Pierre Vedrine, the Frenchman who won the Paris to Madrid race, will start to-day or to-morrow. Vedrine is now on his way back to Paris, leaving Madrid for this city last night.

The first to cross the line yesterday was Roland Garros, who, after making many plucky efforts to finish in the Paris to Madrid flight, was forced by a series of mishaps to abandon the race. Garros drove a monoplane. He was followed by Andre Beaumont, who rapidy overtook Garros and arrived first at Dijon, the initial recording station of the long journey.

The two next followed in the same order, reporting at Lyons and finally landing at Avignon. They covered the 401 miles from the aerodrome at Bac, a short distance outside the French capital, to Avignon in 12 hours and 45 minutes, and 13 hours and 35 minutes respectively, and decided to spend the night there. They will finish the remaining 220 kilometres of the first stage of the flight to Nice this morning, a total distance of 865 kilometres, or 538 miles.

The other competitors early in the journey were the victims of mishaps, but nothing more serious than "the breaking of wood," and only two of them, Henri Molla, representing France, and the German aviator Frey, had got as far as Dijon up to seven o'clock in the evening.

The race was organized by The Paris Petit Parisien, and the prizes aggregate more than $100,000. The second stage of the journey is from Nice to Rome, the recording stations being Genoa and Pisa, and the third stage is from Rome to Turin, the official stopping places being Florence and Bologna. The total distance is a little more than 1,300 miles, and the competitors have until June 15 to accomplish the distance.

Special to The Review.

Nice, France, May 29—Aviators Garros and Conneau are leading in the Paris to Turin flight, but are held up as a result of damages to their machines, but are four hundred and three miles from the starting point. The race is at a standstill to-day owing to the bad weather.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE LOSS

San Francisco Amusement Resort Was Destroyed.

Special to the Review.

San Francisco, May 29—Chutes Park the largest amusement resort in the city, was completely destroyed by fire this morning. Four persons who are missing are believed to be dead. The loss will be over a quarter of a million dollars. The fire resembled that at Coney Island of Saturday morning, in that many of the animals in the large menageries perished.

War Clouds In East.

Cettinje, Montenegro, May 29.—It is reported that Turkey has made an unsatisfactory reply to the Russian note warning Turkey that the concentration of Turkish troops along the Montenegrin frontier, since the Albanian outbreak, constitutes a serious menace to peace.

This reply is said to be in effect that there is no intention on the part of Turkey to attack Montenegro, provided that country abstains from assisting the Albanian insurgents, closes her frontiers to refugees and removes the refugees who already have crossed the frontiers to the interior of Montenegro.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS

Cause, Rush of Blood, Fullness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head, and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys, which I had lately noticed, was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it siezes him that he were elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver, and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild, certain, and always curative. Refuse any substitute. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

SOME EASY MONEY

An example of the rapid increase in the value of water powers, it may be mentioned that Hon. William Harty, of Kingston, bought a water power in 1887 for $400, at Chats Falls near Ottawa. He has held that water power ever since, and now the city of Ottawa is considering developing its own power, instead of purchasing it from an existing company. Hon. Mr. Harty informed the Hydro-Electric Power Commission that he wanted $100,000 for that water power, and it is said that he wants $150,000 now advancing the price because the site is wanted. In 1887 Mr. Harty was given the right to develop power from the falls for factory purposes, but in the last thirty years he has done nothing but hold those rights. The Electric Commission will probably expropriate for the benefit of the city of Ottawa. We would advise anyone with a few hundred dollars to invest at a rate of a thousand per cent. or so to buy some water power rights, and hold. The investment is guaranteed to produce a fortune, and no gold brick about the promise, either.

THE NE TEMERE

The Ne Temere (Lest Hastily) decree of the Roman Catholic church, is still being discussed all over Canada, and it is rather surprising to note the ignorance displayed in reference to the issue by many people who ordinarily are supposed to be well informed. In the first place the decree has no civil bearing in Canada outside of the Province of Quebec. In Ontario or Manitoba or British Columbia a Roman Catholic may be married to a Protestant by a Protestant minister, or two Roman Catholics may be married by a Protestant minister, knowing that they are validly married, and the civil rights pertaining thereto are enforceable in the courts. This arises from the fact that the provinces, having the power under the British North America Act to make laws respecting the solemnization of marriage, give to each and every duly ordained minister or clergyman the right to perform a valid marriage irrespective of religion. The Ne Temere decree of the church of Rome is in all these provinces merely a disciplinary measure within the church, and can have no legal effect outside whatever. If a Roman Catholic offends in this matter, he must submit to the ecclesiastical penalties the church provides, but that is purely a matter between him and the church. From a civil standpoint his marriage is legal and unalterable, and children born of the union are legitimate.

In the Province of Quebec, however, the legislature has decreed that the rules and regulations of churches and denominations shall be held to have civil effect in relation to marriage. The Roman Catholic church is the only church which disputes, in any case, a ceremony performed by a minister or clergyman outside of its own pale. The law, then, allowing the churches to make decrees having civil effect, gives to the Roman Catholic church a great advantage. It means that the Pope may change the marriage laws of the church twice a year, and whatever the change is, it becomes of immediate effect in the civil law of the province immediately on promulgation in the church. The handing over of such authority to the church by the legislature of Quebec is not in accordance with British constitutional practice. The law of any portion of the empire should give civil effect to the rulings of no church. All churches should stand on an equal footing before the law, and while technically in Quebec there is no discrimination in favor of the church of Rome, in effect there is, and it was so intended.

The only hope is for a change of the civil law either by the legislature of Quebec, or through such, a change in the B.N.A. act that the Dominion is given undisputed power to make a general statute covering the matter. A decision by the Privy Council that such a delegation of civil authority to denominations or churches was not in accordance with constitutional practice might be of some value, but the law on this subject is so intricate that agitation, to have any effect, will have to be very strong.

A FRIEND IN NEED?

The Kingston Standard remarks that as an election is seemingly an absolute certainty, the Conservatives of Frontenac and Kingston are ready for the fight. It is to be hoped so, but if that is the case, no thanks is due the Standard for that happy condition. Dr. Edwards, representative of Frontenac county in the House, has, along with the Opposition and many Liberals, seen the folly of the reciprocity pact. He has opposed it. Many of the farmers around Kingston and Frontenac have an idea that reciprocity would be a good thing for them, situated so close to the border. With both Standard and Whig in favor of reciprocity, they have been left in the dark as to the real condition of affairs opposite them in New York State. A true exposition of the case by the Standard, as a Conservative newspaper—if it can be called one—would have shown the folly of reciprocity, even for Frontenac, and the Conservative member would have had his case strengthened just that much. If the Conservatives of Frontenac and Kingston are ready for the fight, it is more than can be said of their supposed newspaper organ. The Standard's attitude can be easily explained in the fact that its editor and proprietor lived so many years in the United States that he sees through American glasses. And in a matter affecting Canadian relations with the United States, he is about as Canadian as President Taft or Uncle Joe Cannon.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Chicago drinks in hot weather a million gallons of beer a day, there being 7,000 saloons in the city. Chicago has been noted for wind and froth.

When the census man asks if you are blind, or deaf and dumb, or crazy, or a lunatic, or an idiot or silly, don't rise up in righteous wrath. Even if the cap fits, you are not expected to acknowledge it. These questions were added by the government merely to enable the census enumerator to make a pleasant introduction.

The population of England and Wales has increased 10 per cent. in the last decade. Britain may be decadent, but it doesn't show in population, in spite of the millions who have left the old sod to become citizens of the empire across the seas. There's a good deal of life in the old 'un yet.

The Wisconsin legislature has passed a bill granting suffrage to women. If endorsed by voters of the state on submission, it will go into effect in 1913. If votes will enable women to make a spring clean-up in politics each year it would seem to be worth while letting them have a try.

For the coming election the Conservatives in Ontario have to nominate in 31 ridings and the Liberals in 48. The Conservatives have a distinct advantage in the organization so far. The early candidate in the field has a distinct advantage over his opponent, and associations would be wise in not delaying their conventions too long.

They have discovered another white man's hope. This is a Sheffield curate who recently fought a public prize-ring fight with a negro pugilist named Jim Johnson, in England, because the negro had complained there was no one to meet him. This may be one conception of the church militant, but a pugilistic parson does not fit in well with the exemplification of Christian principles.

The London general medical council has found three medicos guilty of unprofessional conduct because they advertised. An association of Illinois editors discussed the ethical non-advertisers, who got their advertising through cleverly arranged news items, and combined to suppress them. The non-advertising professional men have a hard time of it these days, when advertising is the source of business and prosperity.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, one of the local moving picture theaters strenuously advertised a film "The White Slave Trade," that was merely an effort to pander to the sensational. The sooner the government puts into effect the act recently passed at the session of the legislature, compelling the censoring of all moving picture films before being exhibited, the better, for it will prevent the exhibition of moving pictures such as these. Pictures like these, though comically ineffective in themselves, are not fit subjects for presentation to audiences such as frequent the moving picture places, and the sooner they are barred the better.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Rains and cooler weather west of the Missouri River made the wheat market easy most of the time to-day, but in the last half hour a smart rally occurred on account of renewed buying for an interest which has been conspicuous of late in taking the bull side. Closing figures varied from a shade lower than last night to ¼c up. The day's trading left corn unchanged to ⅛c down; oats the same as 24 hours previous, or ⅛c to ¼c decline, and provisions strung out from 12½c down to a gain of 2½c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅛d higher than yesterday on wheat, and ⅛d higher on corn.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"If Colonel Moreau doesn't come," said Ann Pleydell, "that leaves an empty seat in the carriage. Adele, won't you ask Anatole to take it instead of riding on horseback?"

"Certainly, I do," replied Miss Randall in the same pleasant, lifeless voice. And, although the young creole impulsively kissed her hand, she remained as strangely emotionless and expressionless.

"Come," she added colorlessly; "you and I, Ann, have our packing to finish."

"And there is a packing case in the courtyard," sighed Mme. Davezac. "Will you see for me if it is secure, dear Anatole?" Then as the two girls left the room she added gravely: "Adele has always been fonder of you, Anatole, than of any other man. You must help to rouse her from this gloom. She wears that mourning now more than a year. Ugh! She broods; she is so bitter, so strange, so impulsive, so full of morbid impulse. Because her father had no one to protect him the poor child thinks she should befriend all the world which is in trouble. Last week one day coming home from the cathedral she has given her warm cloak to a ragged woman in the street. That was in the rain. You must help to rouse her, cher Anatole, from this gloom."

"It is no secret from all what I would give to make 'er happy once more," he replied, with gloomy sincerity.

When the young creole and his hostess joined the others at their packing the General, unnoticed and temporarily forgotten, had taken his book and secreted himself under the table, in which city of refuge he hoped to follow without interruption the further adventures of his two heroes. With all a child's adaptation to environment it was not long before he became completely absorbed in the romance. Presently vague and disturbing cries came stealing in through the open window, and these he impatiently shook off, for natural inquisitiveness as to their origin was trivial compared to the fate of the two princes. But the voices refused to be thus lightly dismissed. Excited cries of: "He went this way! Look in that courtyard! He turned this corner!" certainly merited the earnest attention and searching inquiry of every healthy eight-year-old whose native inquisitiveness cannot be dampened by being dragged from bed before dawn or discouraged by the prospect of an all day journey. After all, exciting fact is superior to exciting fiction, for the former is but temporary, while the latter is comparatively permanent—to be used as a stimulant or sedative when real life is lacking in appeal.

Turning around and looking up from under the table, the General's inquiring eyes met those of Cameo Kirby, who, standing motionless by the curtains, was warily scanning the room. For a long moment man and boy mutely estimated each other, too surprised to speak. "Come; cheer up," said Kirby at length, unconsciously employing his characteristic phrase. "Don't be afraid."

"I—I'm not afraid," breathed the General, creeping cautiously from under the table.

"Does the roof of this house touch the roof of the house next door?" pursued the gambler, with a reassuring smile.

"No," said the child, round eyed.

"Are there people upstairs?"

"Yes, there are."

Kirby considered, no hint of his dilemma in voice or bearing. He felt that he could rely upon this child, who, with all the composure of a self possessed adult, evinced no alarm or amazement at the sight of an overheated and disarranged young man entering a strange house via the window.

"Does that lead to the street?" he asked, pointing to a door on his right.

The General nodded. He was breathless and terrified with joy. "Are you somebody making a hairbreadth escape?" he stated rather than asked.

"I hope so," admitted Kirby, with a smile. "Do you want to be somebody helping me to do it?"

"Yes, of course. What do I do?"

"Go out on the balcony," Kirby gravely explained, "and look as if nothing was the matter. Lean your elbow on the railing and tell me what you see." He drew aside the curtain as the child, with flushed cheeks and shining eyes, obeyed.

"There are men up on that corner," announced the General at length.

"Don't point," warned the man in the room. "How many men?"

"Five. Two of them all got guns."

"All right. Don't turn your head when you speak to me."

"There's more men hunting through the garden across the street," piped up the boy, wallowing in the satisfying knowledge that at last, by some miraculous intervention of a beneficent providence, he had become an indispensable character in a very real adventure which promised to eclipse the most thrilling hairbreadth escape he had ever read.

"Are any of the men looking up here?" whispered Kirby. "No? Come in, then—quick!" The boy obeying, he cautiously closed one part of the window, but refrained from drawing the curtain.

"I think," impressively announced the General, approving of these preliminary maneuvers, "that this is better than where the good prince's trusty friend cuts his bonds. Which one are you?"

"Which what am I?" asked Kirby, with a perplexed smile.

"I mean are you the good prince or the bad prince?"

"Oh, I see. Well, I'll try to be the good prince for a few minutes if you'll help me to get away. Suppose you find me a hat, eh?"

The General, with that lively disregard for another's property which every loyal servitor of unfortunate princes must possess, instantly seized M. Veaudry's hat, which was reposing on an adjacent chair.

"Thank you," said Kirby gravely, covertly examining the pistol in his breast pocket. "This door leads to the street, you say? And there are five men on the corner, two with guns?"

"Yes. What do we do now?" briskly asked the boy.

The other gravely offered his hand. "Why, now," he said gently, "we shake hands, and I say thank you. And next we say goodby."

"All right. Wait till I get my hat."

"But we just said goodby," remonstrated Kirby.

"Yes, but I'm going with you. You don't know what minute you may need a trusty friend. Besides, I've got to see what happens next."

"That's just what you mustn't," replied Kirby, shaking his head. "Don't you look out of that window when I've gone, and don't you come near the door. What do they call you?"

"General."

"Well, General, I've only known you about two minutes, but I'd hate to get you into any trouble. Now, we both would be in trouble if anybody came in here, so I've got to get out pretty quick, and we'll be in worse trouble if you try to follow me into the street. So I put it to you this way: If you really want to be my trusty friend just shake hands with me again and say goodby."

"Will you promise I can be your trusty friend?" said the boy earnestly. "No matter whether you turn out to be the good prince or the bad prince, I'll always be your trusty friend—always."

"Always," pledged Kirby, with the utmost sincerity.

"Then shake hands," said the General.

They did so gravely. "Thank you, General," said Kirby. "I"—

He turned sharply at the sound of a softly closing door. A girl had entered the room, a girl whose clear pallor was accentuated by the deep black of dress and hair. She had overheard the boy's last words, had estimated the tableau, and now as Kirby's eyes met her own the warm blood crept into throat and cheek, and she said impulsively, a little catch in her voice:

"So it is the General who has had the honor of receiving you, after all. I am so glad you have again changed your plans. Now you can go in the carriage with us"—

"But you don't understand, Adele," cried her brother, while Kirby looked his astonishment. "His enemies are after him, and he had to make a hairbreadth escape through our window. He lost his hat in his flight from somewhere"—

"Wait, General. We'll finish the story after awhile," she interrupted smiling understandingly at Kirby.

"But I tell you he climbed in the window," persisted the excited boy "I gave him Anatole's hat."

Kirby, his eyes still on the girl, bowed with courteous formality.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Seventeen-year locusts of unusual size made their appearance in large quantity Saturday at Phillipsburg, near this city.

Prince John of Denmark, uncle of King Frederick of Denmark and of the Queen-Mother Alexandra of England, died Saturday evening from pneumonia.

Fire Saturday afternoon destroyed the eastern lumber yards of A. Weston & Co. on the River road near North Tonawanda, N.Y. Loss $125,000; covered by insurance.

The British aviator, Smith, flying in a Sommer machine, during an aeroplane competition at St. Petersburg, Saturday, fell from a height of 125 feet and was killed.

The Red Star Kroonland sailed from Antwerp Saturday with a substitute crew. The old crew refused to sign, on the ground that the general seamen's strike may be declared before the return of the steamer.

A rumor that the Miraflores Dam, Panama, has broken away, precipitating thousands of cubic yards of mud and silt into the lock, is officially denied. There was a small breakage, the damage amounting to about $25,000.

Telegraphic advices received report 100 passengers and crew of the steamer Taboga have been saved. The Taboga struck a rock off Punta Mala on Tuesday and sank a short time after. Twenty persons are not accounted for.

Fisher at Farnham.

Farnham, Que., May 29.—The first of the Liberal rallies to be held in this province during the recess of Parliament took place here yesterday. A large audience heard speeches delivered by Hon. Sydney Fisher, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Messrs. Demers, Meigs and Allen, M.P.'s. The audience was more interested than enthusiastic, but Mr. Fisher gradually woke it up in a forceful presentation of the reciprocity issue. Mr. Fisher prefaced his remarks by referring to the talk of a general election in the near future, and explained that it lay in the power of the Opposition to prevent a vote being taken on the reciprocity question, as the Government required money to carry on the business of the country, and by useless debate the Opposition could prevent it being granted.

Thrown Into Carriage Gear.

Woodstock, May 29.—Robert Danby of Muir received painful injuries while driving in the city yesterday morning. The king bolt of his buggy broke and he was thrown into the carriage gear, and when the horse took fright and ran away, he was dragged a considerable distance. A badly-broken shoulder and many bruises resulted.

Two Classes.

The world is divided into two classes—those who go ahead and do something and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"

A man should be grateful even to his enemies when they open his eyes to a sense of his own faults and failures.

MISSED THE KANGAROO.

The Hunter Was After Meat, but Got Instead a Stone.

In 1889 a hunter in New South Wales took a fancy for some kangaroo meat, so he made a trip through the mulga with no companion but his gun. He had no need of either guides or dogs, as he was an experienced bushman.

The first kangaroo sighted was wounded by him, but not badly enough to disable it. Before he could get in another shot it made off through the salt bush at a terrific pace, but leaving a plain trail in drops of blood, so the hunter followed as fast as he could.

The trail gradually grew fainter as the wounded animal bled less freely, and its pursuer was often obliged to stoop and examine the ground closely for the telltale signs. After several hundred yards had been covered without seeing any more crimson spots the hunter began to think his quarry had escaped, when he saw a single fleck of red before him.

As he bent to look for more flecks the red changed to an iridescent pale green, and he say it was a gem stone that lay before him. The kangaroo was not bagged, but the White Cliffs opal fields were discovered.—New York Press.

A Fish Aids Science.

There appears to be no limit to scientific curiosity, especially in Germany. Not long ago a scientist of Leipzig, wishing to ascertain whether fish are warmer than the water they live in, stuck a needle connected with a thermoelectric circuit into a living fish in an aquarium. The needle formed one element of the circuit, while the other element was immersed in the same water that contained the fish. The latter was not seriously injured by the needle and quickly became indifferent to it. Then as the fish swam about, carrying the needle, the ingenious savant closed the circuit and kept watch of the galvanometer. It showed no deflection whatever, from which he concluded that the fish and the water were precisely equal in temperature, for had either been warmer than the other a current would have been generated in the circuit.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Hamilton's Coronation Program.

Hamilton, May 27.—The coronation celebration in Hamilton will be on a larger scale than at first planned. The 19th Regiment, St. Catharines, and the 22nd of Woodstock have been invited, and ten bands have been engaged for the tattoo and fireworks' display at night.

Death of Mrs. Bishop.

London, May 27.—Mrs. Bishop, wife of Hon. R. K. Bishop, Newfoundland, attending the Imperial Conference, died at Brighton Thursday after an operation. Mr. Bishop is a member of Premier Morris' Cabinet.

To Have New Stations.

Kingston, May 29.—Dr. E. Ryan, chairman of the railway committee of the Board of Trade, has just received plans for the proposed new passenger station for the Grand Trunk and also the new freight station. The plans call for the removal of the present city station and freight sheds.

The station will be built on the present site, one storey high and in the prevailing style of modern railway stations. The new freight station will be erected on the old hay market.

The C.P.R. will be negotiated with for the purchase of land, in order to carry out the plans of the Grand Trunk.

June 3 a Legal Holiday.

Ottawa, May 29.—June 3 is a legal holiday all over Canada. Government offices, banks, etc.. will close. Observance by the general public is, of course, optional.

An earthquake in Santa Maura, one of the Grecian isles, has destroyed a number of dwellings.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA AND BRONCHITIS

Brought Mrs. Baker to Death's Door. Father Morriscy's No. 10 Saved Her.

Of the many hundreds of cures wrought by Father Morriscy's No. 10 (Lung Tonic) few are more remarkable than the saving of the life of Mrs. John S. Baker, of 164 Rockland Road (North End), St. John, N.B. She wrote on Oct. 16, 1909:

"I wish to express my gratitude that I am living to-day, saved from the grave by Father Morriscy's No. 10 (Lung Tonic). This time last year I had pleuro-pneumonia and bronchitis, and had been given up to die, and had my lungs tapped in the City Hospital, and never expected to walk again; I was continually getting worse every day. I came home from the hospital, and everyone was watching fo me to die. I tried everything but there seemed to be no cure for me.

"I began taking Father Morriscy's No. 10, and the second day I could eat without pain. I used 22 bottles of No. 10, as I was run down right into consumption, and for six months was just a shadow until I began to use it, and now I am in good health, and surprised most of my neighbors by gaining so quickly. I feel it my duty to publish it everywhere I can, as with all I can say I cannot recommend it too highly—it was a life saver to me, and I am very thankful to recommend it, as it is worth all it is said."

Father Morriscy's No. 10 is very different from the many preparations that simply relieve a cough. No. 10 relieves the cause of the cough, restores the membranes of throat and lungs to a healthy condition, and tones up the whole system, giving strength to resist future attacks.

Trial bottle 25c.—regular size 50c. At your dealer's or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., [illegible] 92

VARIED HIS VIEWS.

A Broad Minded Candidate and a Patient Constituent.

Farmer Gordon was engaged for a fortnight to drive a political candidate about the county in his buggy. They traveled by day, each town being a stage, and the politician spoke every evening.

The man was honest and well meaning, but careful local partisans had tried the temper of each community in advance and reported to him with suggestions. So it happened that from his extreme anxiety to please his expressed conviction on the issue varied considerably from time to time.

"Well, Mr. Gordon," said the candidate one day at the beginning of the second week, "how do you stand on the election? How are you going to vote?"

The farmer was silent, thinking. "I really don't know," he said. "I can tell better, maybe, at the close of our engagement."

"Can't make up your mind yet? You've heard all of my speeches."

"Yes, and I like you personally, and I'm hoping to get to vote for you. Don't worry—at least, not yet."

"Not yet! Why do you say that?" asked the puzzled candidate.

"Well, you've had several points of view, and I'm just waiting and thinking maybe before the end of the week you'll get round to mine too."—Youth's Companion.

The Furtive Look.

A Boston woman says she can detect a bachelor as far as she can see him. She always knows a bachelor by his furtive look. The furtive look, she explains, is something akin to that of a hunted animal, always on the watch for snares and pitfalls. Of course this may apply only to Boston bachelors, but it would be well for all other single unfortunates to take a good look at themselves in the mirror and find that telltale look. If they do there is an easy way to efface it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

No Excuse at All.

"Its climax," he said, "is false and unsatisfactory—as false and unsatisfactory as Rowndar's excuse. On Rowndar's return at a very late hour his wife said reproachfully:

"'You used to vow I was the sunshine of your life, but now you stay out night after night.'

"'Well, my love,' said Rowndar, 'I don't ask for sunshine after dark.'"—New York Tribune.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

The fire department received a telephone call at 9.45 a.m. to-day to the home of George Shearer, 569 Concession street. The stable had caught fire from some unknown cause, but the blaze was extinguished before much damage had been done. It was the first call in a couple of weeks, and the first chance to try out the new horse, which behaved well.

Boat arrivals—C.P. steamer Mount Royal, from Antwerp, expected at Quebec, 7 p.m. Tuesday; Lake Erie, due at Quebec Wednesday morning, Montreal Thursday; Ionian reported due at Quebec to-night; Tunisian arrived at Liverpool on Saturday.

The C.G.E. Angling Club has completed arrangements for the annual excursion on June 10, to Rice Lake, per steamer Stoney Lake, and this year's trip will no doubt surpass anything yet undertaken by that organization.

The chief of police has the number of an automobile, the owner of which refused to stop speeding around the Nicholls Oval driving tracks on Sunday when requested. Action will be taken against the offender.

An Educational Treat in Cookery

Miss McPhee, who is head demonstrator for the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, has been sent to this city to show the housewives the new and simple up-to-date methods of making bread and pastry from the celebrated Royal Household Flour. Miss McPhee invited every lady of Peterborough to attend her classes durring her stay in this city at 2.30 p.m., sharp, daily.

A Surprise for Peterborough

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company of Canada, the largest milling concern in the British Empire, have rented the ground floor of the T.A.S. Hall, Simcoe street, as being the most convenient they could secure to accommodate an audience. Miss Jean MacPhee, graduate of Household Science, Guelph, and the Boston Cooking School, is showing the easiest and most economical methods of handling their high grade Royal Household Flour; also serving a delightful afternoon tea free of charge. The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company cordially invite every lady in Peterborough to attend at 2.30 p.m. sharp, every afternoon.

SONS OF ENGLAND HEARD SERMON AT ALL SAINTS'

Splendid Turnout at Annual Parade to Divine Service

Every patriotic Englishman, who attended divine service with the Sons of England, on Sunday evening at All Saints church, must have been stirred to a higher sense of what it means to be a Son of England, by the eloquent and inspiring sermon delivered by Rev. H.R. Trumpour, rector of All Saints.

The entire front pews of the Church were occupied by the members of the order, who were present in large number. They assembled at the lodge rooms at 6.30, and marched in a body to the church.

Rev. Mr. Trumpours' sermon was most appropriate and well delivered. He spoke earnestly and his words appealed strongly to his hearers. Taking for his text the words found in Acts, "I am a citizen of no mean city," he showed how the meaning in it could be applied to the objects for which the Sons of England stood, namely, Patriotism, Philantrophy and Religion.

"Every Son of England to day, can say" said the speaker, "that he is a member of a greater empire than Rome ever was. The sun never sets on the British empire. History has handed down many wonderful things, but it will never hand down anything greater than the history of the strength that has gathered around that little isle of our fathers. No Son of England should ever forget the land of his birth. It is a great thing to be able to say 'I am an Englishman,' yet there are Englsmen whom Englishmen are ashamed of, just as there are Canadians of whom Canadians are ashamed. The English race is the best that history has ever evolved. England is worthy of your best, but the point is, are you in every respect worthy of England? You live in an age when loyalty needs to be fostered.

"Yet there are people to-day who will be loyal to England, so long as England stands for money and prosperity, who forget that there are fundamental principles greater than these underlying all national life.

"A man can only be loyal when he knows what England stands for. England has not been selfish. She has given her light to the world. Freedom has been the gift of the British Empire to the world. Another gift she has given is, respect for law and order and obedience. Englishmen respect all in authority. A visitor to England is struck by a marvellous degree of discipline which exists.

"Patriotism is not merely the jingle and beat of drums but the nourishing of the principles, and it can only be by nourishing them, that they can be maintained.

"Never think of annexation or of independence outside of the British empire, for outside of her, we can never have freedom or liberty such as we now enjoy.

"Five characteristics of the English race are courage, aggressiveness, respect for the rights and feelings of others, a lack of deceit and pettiness, and an innate sense of independence." Philanthropy the second principle of the order was touched upon by the speaker briefly. He threw out a suggestion for equal care to be bestowed on the weak members of the order, as well as the strong, and urged the order to be always charitable.

"Finally every Son of England must be a good Protestant, and of good moral character, and a man has no right to call himself a Protestant, who neglects religion. Our consciences are dulled just enough to make us dead to what is right and wrong, in many cases.

"A Roman Catholic thinks it a sin not to be present at mass, but a Protestant says it is too hot, or the river looks inviting and so he neglects God. Yet without God and the churches, a veil of iniquity would sweep over the land.

"Protestants and Sons of England should protect their country from the invasion of any foreign prelate."

The policy of the Roman Vatican for the past few years has been one of peace but now the Vatican has decided a new method of gaining Protestants. It is a policy of aggressiveness, and the peace policy has been withdrawn. As an example the Ne Temere decree has gone forth. Regarding the latter Rev. Mr. Trumpour stated that he would refer to it, at a later date. "There must be full religious tolerance," he said, "and this glorious Church of ours must be free and never ashamed of Protestantism."

WALTON STREET RESIDENCE ENTERED BY LONE BURGLAR

Was Frightened Off Empty Handed by Arrival of the Owner.

An attempted burglary was made on Saturday night between ten and eleven o'clock of a Walton street residence, when the occupants were shopping. The intruder did not get anything, however, but was frightened off by the arrival of the owner.

The lady who resides there, accompanied by the maid, went down street early in the evening, leaving the two children at the next door neighbor's. When she arrived home she was surprised and startled to notice a light burning in the dining room, she having extinguished all the lights before leaving the house. Thinking, however, it might be a relative, whom she expected that night, she called out his name. Immediately the light was switched off and she could hear the intruder making his way out the back kitchen. She hurriedly got a couple of the neighbors to come over and a search revealed that he had tampered with a large clock which hung upstairs, and which had been stopped at ten minutes to eleven. The clock had been going when she left the house. The intruder must have been well acquainted with the house, for he had secured the door key from underneath the door mat, and entered through the side door. When he escaped he opened the back kitchen door leading out into the yard, and the marks of his footprints could be clearly seen in some black soot which was lying there. He had jumped over a back fence in getting away from the neighborhood. The police were 'phoned for and made a search of the house. A couple of neighbors also went through the house, but nothing was disturbed, as far as known, except the clock.

IT TELLS ABOUT THE SANE HEATING OF HOMES

"Comfort & Health" tells about a heating system.

It goes into the question of healthful heating and shows how important a part the furnace plays in the health of your family.

It explains the principle of warm air heating; how the furnace draws in fresh air, warms it and circulates it moist and pure to every room in the house.

Then it tells about the perfect warm air furnace—the "Hecla." The furnace that cannot leak gas. The furnace that gives heat without dust. The furnace that is easy to run, and what is more important, how that furnace—The "Hecla"—saves you one ton of coal in seven.

"Hecla" Furnace

Cannot Leak Gas

Gas in the house is disagreeable. Often it proves dangerous to the health. The "Hecla" is so constructed that gas cannot get into the living rooms. The places where gas leaks occur in the ordinary furnace are fused in the "Hecla" so that gas cannot possibly find an outlet.

Saves 1 Ton in 7

The "Hecla" uses only six tons of coal where others use seven. It is the steel ribbed fire pot that makes this saving. How flanges are of steel plate placed close together and welded into the fire pot get more heat from your coal is told in "Comfort & Health."

Investigate The "Hecla"

OBITUARY

The Late Wm. Hornback

William Hornback passed away away about 7.30 o'clock yesterday evening in the Nicholls' Hospital, at the age of 45 years.

Deceased has been in the employ of Mr. G. N. Graham, of the Oriental Hotel, for about twenty years, and came from Cobourg. He was taken to the hospital three weeks ago to undergo an operation. An attack of pneumonia set in, and death resulted.

A mother, one brother and one sister survive.

The remains were taken to Cobourg at noon to-day via G.T.R., and were accompanied by Mr. G. N. Graham.

The Late Wm. Walton

William Walton, until fifteen years ago a resident of Peterborough, and a son of the late Joseph Walton, died on Saturday afternoon in Lakefield, at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. J. Burgess. He had been ailing for a year from heart trouble, but had not been confined to bed.

The deceased was unmarried, and lived in the west for years previous to coming east about a year ago. He was an adherent of the Presbyterian church.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon to Little Lake cemetery, from Mrs. Burgess' residence in Lakefield.

LIGHTNING PLAYED HAVOC WITH PARNELL ST. HOUSE

Among the depredations in the city by the electric storm yesterday afternoon, the house of Mr. John Carscallen, 512 Parnell street, was struck, several of the family narrowly escaping.

The awning rod of F. R. Clarke's jewellery store was broken and it went through the plate glass window. A large limb of an oak tree was blown off in Victoria Park and a basswood tree was split and broken in front of D. H. Burritt's residence, Brock street. The storm was at its worst between the northern limits of the city and Bridgenorth. Hail stones fell in large quantities in Smith township and the porch of the Methodist church at Bridgenorth was blown from its place. No damage of any extent was reported. Very little rain fell in the central portion of the city, but towards the northern limits the rainfall was heavy.

HOUSE BADLY SHATTERED.

The most damage was done to Mr. Carscallen's house, Parnell street. One chimney was shattered and destroyed the facer board along the gable was broken off, two windows, including the sash and frame were broken; several holes were made in the walls, and the paper around one bedroom was scorched.

Mr. Carscallen was sleeping in one bedroom and his daughter in another, while Mrs. Carscallen and another daughter were seated on the verandah in front of the house at the time. The bolt apparently struck the chimney on the north side of the gable, tearing the boards off, continued to a partition about the centre of the house, went through the wall into the room where Miss Carscallen was resting, proceeded half way around the room about a foot from the ceiling scorching the paper, and then on to a window. Here the glass was broken and the sash and frame badly splintered, one piece being driven through a partition on the opposite side of the room. The bolt went down into the parlor below and thence through the next floor to the ground.

The electricity did not seem to affect the people in the house, though they were all badly frightened. Miss Carscallen thought the house was afire and it was with difficulty she was taken downstairs. Mrs. Carscallen and her other daughter, who were seated on the verandah did not feel the effect of the bolt very much, though the former was sitting within two feet of the window beside which it descended to the ground.

WINDOW BROKEN

The awning over the front window of Clarke's jewelry store, was down and the lightning struck one of the steel rods, breaking it and throwing the weight of the awning against the large plate glass window, smashing it badly.

Fortunately it was not raining and none had sought shelter underneath the awning, or there might have been a tragedy to record.

Mr. Clarke had to send to Montreal for a plate glass to replace the broken one as none of the merchants here carry one large enough in stock.

TWO TREES STRUCK

In Victoria Park, a limb was blown off an oak tree, and a large limb of basswood tree on D. H. Burritt's lawn Brock Street, was blown off by the high wind, but no one was passing at the time. Last year the same limb was broken and Mr. Burritt had it supported by an iron hoop, hence it was an easy mark yesterday.

RECEPTIONS FOR SCOUTS

Coronation Contingent Will Assemble in Toronto June 7

Whether the Peterborough Boy Scouts will be represented at the coronation festivities rests with the action the city council will take to-morrow night in regard to the request for a grant of $200 towards helping to send them. Such was the opinion of one of the committee which is in charge of the arrangements. The names of the two scouts who will represent Peterborough have up to to-day not been mentioned.

The Toronto contingent, composed of about forty scouts, will assemble in Toronto on June 7, when they will be finally reviewed. The outside scouts will be entertained by the Toronto scouts who have planned an automobile ride for their visitors. Besides being shown the main points of interest in the city, the scouts will be taken to Scarboro Beach Park, and they will be given the freedom of that resort. They will be similarly entertained in Montreal, where they will embark on June 10 on the steamer Megantic for Liverpool. At that port the scouts will be received by the British Boy Scout cousins, also Sir James Whitney and Mayor Geary.

CALL OF THE WEST

Mr. Donald Downie Has Left the City

Mr Donald Downie, familiarly known as "Don," left this morning to attend the millers' convention at Detroit. In a few days Mr. Downie will be leaving Peterborough for the west. Since coming to the city "Don" has made a great many friends, and a few of these met at his home, Aylmer street, on Saturday evening, and said a whole lot of nice things about him, assured him how much he would be missed, and wished him all kinds of success. The affair was a complete surprise to the recipient of these compliments, but he proved equal to the occasion.

Mr. Downie is an enthusiastic tennis player, and last year was president of the Nicholls Oval Tennis Club.

PROTEST FROM BICYCLE OWNERS

They Do Not Like the Oil on the Streets — Petition Being Signed

So great is the ruinous effects on bicycle tries by the use of oil on the streets, a petition of protest largely signed will be presented to the City Council to-morrow evening. The petition has been placed at Millard's bicycle store on Hunter street.

The M.C.R. will take back its dissatisfied sectionmen at the old rate of wages.

CHANGES AT THE PALACE HOTEL

Frederick Blastorah Takes Over the Business

The Palace Hotel, conducted by Mr. Isaac Eastwood on Hunter street, has been purchased by Mr. Frederick Blastorah, who, although a new-comer to the city, is well and favorably known. Mr. Blastorah, the Review understands, has had a long experience in the lumbering camps and worked himself up from "cook's devil" to responsible positions with the companies for whom he worked.

The Board of License Commissioners sanctioned the transfer of license at a meeting Saturday night, but according to law it must be advertised for a period of fourteen days before being valid.

FIRED FOUR SHOTS AT NEIGHBOR

Shooting on Hayter Street, Toronto—Victim May Die

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 29.—Brooding over a long standing neighbors' feud arising out of a real estate deal, Joseph Jessiman, an elevator operator fired four bullets at James Lougned on Hayter street this morning. The wounded man is believed to be fatally injured. Jessiman attempted to ride away on a bicycle, but was seized by men who witnessed the shooting.

Special to Review, 3 p.m.

Toronto, May 29.—Lougned died in hospital, while under chloroform, and a charge of murder was immediately laid against Jessiman.

REV. H. J. KEITH AT MURRAY STREET

UNSATISFACTORY

C.P.R. Official and Grievance Committee for Men to Meet

It is rumoured that the C.P.R. officials are not satisfied with agreement by which a raise in wages was accorded to their waymen a short time ago.

It is expected that D. W. McNichol, superintendent of the C.P.R., will meet the grievance committee from the Brotherhood for maintenance waymen on the Canadian Pacific Railway system, in Montreal next month and the question will then be decided. The men received an advance from $1.50 to $1.90 and in the agreement provision was made whereby either side could bring the matter up again within sixty days, if dissatisfied.

ALL SAINTS', ST. JAMES' AND ST. JOHN'S WERE THE WINNERS

Good Games in the Church Football League—Both Leaders Won.

All Saints football team defeated the Y.M.C.A. at the Brinton Meadows, Saturday afternoon, in a Church League fixture by the score of 2 to 1.

As usual the Y.M.C.A. players were tardy as to arrival near playing time, and the game was not called until after 3 o'clock, the appointed time.

The contest was pretty even throughout, Fleming being called upon to pull off a few good saves in the first few minutes, which he did in his usual effective manner. The first half ended without either teams scoring, though the "Y" was having the better of the play.

SECOND HALF

The second half was a series of disputes. The first started when the referee disallowed the Saints a goal, on the ground that the man scoring knocked it through with his hand. To see the counter snatched from them by a mere foul, did not appeal to the All Saints management, and they proceeded to "kick."

The next dispute arose when a spectator was supposed to have kicked the ball through the "Y" goal, when the referee was not watching. The gentleman promptly came forward and acknowledged his part in the affair, but the referee decided to take the goal umpire's decision, who happened to be a "Saints" follower. The All Saints second goal was an easy one which rolled in between "Doc" McPherson's feet as he was preparing for a place kick.

This did not allay the ardor of the "Y" boys, and they went in with a vim. With 1 minute to play, Tarte scored on a nice long kick from left wing, which beat Moraity easily.

The teams were:

All Saints—Goal, Moraity, Backs, Rew, Robinson; Halves, Hooper, Dawson, James; Forwards, Willis, Abbott, Edwards, Curtis, Downes.

Y.M.C.A.—Goal, Fleming; Backs, Dr. McPherson, Dr. Williams; Halves, Turner, Moore, Flowers; Forwards, Tarte, Johnston, Miller, Canniff, Lane.

ST. JAMES' 8, PARK ST. 2.

St. James' and Park St. football teams met at the Exhibition Grounds for the second time this season, and as before, the Saints were victorious. Park St. were unfortunate in being without Pitcher, who played a fine game against the Saints on the previous, but St. James were also without the services of D. Gribb, the stalwart right full back, but his place was well filled by J. Newton, who put up a good game against a fast wing. St. James' were first to score, through a misunderstanding of the Park St. backs which gave Wag Hotston a chance, and he made good. Park St. made a rush, but Follis stuck to the ball too long, and Phie Braun cleared. Turner received from Hotston and beat the goal keeper with fast rising shot, making the second goal for the Saints. A foul by Newton within the penalty area gave Park St. a chance, but Marsh, who took the penalty kick, shot straight at Leader, who cleared in fine style. Park St., however, wouldn't be denied, and success soon crowned their efforts. Turner added two more goals for the Saints, and at half-time the score stood 4—1, in favor of St. James'.

Park St. had been unlucky to lose the services of two very good men, who had been injured, and Captain Braun, on resuming, gave Park St. the privilege of playing two fresh men. This evened things up a bit, and Park St. tried hard, Biddle and Follis being conspicuous by their good, clean football. St. James', however, got going, and Turner soon scored another goal. Park St. still tried hard, and finally shot from the right wing. For St. James', Hotston added another goal, Turner and Brindley each following suit, and the game concluded with the score 8—2 in favor of "Jimmys."

The teams were—

St. James'—Goal, Leader; backs, Newton, Braun; halves, Sandiford, Yates, Sparrow; forwards, Wag Hotston, Brindley, E. Horston, Gash, Turner.

Park St.—Goal, Collett; backs, Cuddon, Marsh; halves, Smith, Marks, Biddle; forwards, Tooley, Follis, Kings, Thorne, Brisco.

ST. JOHN'S 5, KNOX 1.

What may, with truth, be termed a battle between the English and the Scotch, took place on Saturday afternoon, when St. John's (English) met Knox Church (Scotch). The members of St. John's are all English, while the Knox team are nearly all Scotch. As was to be expected between two fighting nations, a hard, well-fought battle took place. At half-time both teams had scored one goal each, but when play recommenced St. John's piled up their score and won well up with a score of 5—1.

St. John's—Goal, G. Renshaw; backs, Gregory and T. Renshaw, halfbacks, Smith, Simmonite, Brown; forwards, Sharman, Dawes, Copson, Gaskill, Mathers, P. Webb.

LINDSAY WON FROM THE LOCALS

Score Was 18-7—Cresswell Had Twelve Strikeouts

The local Collegiates fell for a second out-of-town defeat at Lindsay Saturday, when they lost to the Lindsay Collegiate nine by a score of 16—8. Stan Cresswell, the hard-luck twirler, was going strong, and struck out twelve, but the fielding behind him was shaky. The Lindsay team will play a return game here Saturday, as the Midland Leaguers will be at Port Hope.

The teams were—

Lindsay—Shields, lf; Maylor, ss; Dougan, rf; Brown, 2b; Hopkins, 1b; Williamson, p; Keanan, cf; Ryley, c; Anderson, 3b.

BASEBALL

Bud Swanson had twelve strikeouts pitching for the Northern Lights against the Maple Leafs Saturday. The Lights won 13 to 1.

CENTRAL T.A.S. LOST FIRST GAME IN INTER-CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Sacred Heart Church Nine Were Strong at the Bat and Always Leading — Good Work by Gus Rose and LaFavre.

The Inter Catholic ball league got away to a good start, Saturday afternoon, at River Park, when Manager Grady's nine, from the Sacred Heart church, defeated the Central T.A.S. aggregation with a score of 13-8. There was plenty of good twirling, lots of hitting and errors and last but not least, the usual comedy stunts. The prospects for better baseball in the succeeding games are bright for with a few more workouts, the material which has been gathered together for this league, should show up well.

Manager Derocher sent "Kid" Hickey to the hill to hurl against the south end brigade and then had to do the jerking act, because the kid couldn't salt off the enemy who banged repeatedly and went free, owing to the erratic fielding of the men behind him, the garden trio in particular being unable to connect with any wafts in their direction. Mahoney who relieved, stayed till the finish, but his shoots were peppered as in the case of the Strathcona heaver.

Gus Rose had the Centrals tied in bunches in early stages of the contest and was travelling along at a pretty gait, and then weakened, not sufficiently however, to allow the Derocher braves to creep up within tieing distance. Harry Lafavre, after a long absence broke into the game again and on the receiving end for Rose, was a strong partner. He caught and threw particularly well.

One of the features of the exhibition was a pretty peg from deep left to the plate by Clare Callaghan of the Centrals. Next Saturday Manager Derocher, with a strengthened line-up will meet the East City team, which will include "Mordecai Brown" Gorham, the Coughlin brothers and MacGuerin. Gorham worked at short for the winners Saturday, and the game may have to be replayed.

Game by innings:

C. Callaghan first up for the Centrals led off with a neat single, to left and stole second, going to to third when Lafave dropped the third strike on Derocher, and had to throw to first for the put-out. Connors missed three, but Giroux stopped a shoot with a portion of his anatomy. Callaghan was out at the plate by a beautiful throw from Kenneally when he tried to score on a wide throw to first. No runs.

Gorham was hit by a pitched ball, and Heffernan followed with a clean single over second, sending Gorham to third. Giroux took care of Neary's fly and would have doubled Heffernan at first, but Derocher dropped the throw. Milloy sent a slow grounder along the third base line which got clean away from Connors, and Gorham scored. Heffernan being thrown out at the plate by Conlin. Milloy followed with a neat single. Rose was safe on Derocher's error and Kenneally singled, the net result being three more runs. J. Neary fanned, ending the innings. Four runs.

SECOND INNINGS.

Conlin and Corkery fanned, and Phel was an easy out on a roller in front of the plate.

For Sacred Heart Conlin beat out a hit to short, but was out at second, Derocher to Giroux when he tried to reach the middle station. Gorham fanned. Heffernan peeled off another nice single, but F. Neary missed three. No runs.

THIRD INNINGS.

H. Callaghan struck out. Hickey was passed but was out stealing, Lafave to Heffernan, a pretty throw by the catcher. C. Callaghan grounded to Rose. No runs.

Lafave walked and stole second, but was caught off the bag by a snap throw from Hickey, Giroux making the put-out. Milloy and Rose both fanned. No runs.

FOURTH INNINGS.

Derocher led off with a two-bagger to left and went to third on Neary's bad throw. Connors was safe on Heffernan's miss, but was run down between second and first, Derocher scoring. Giroux was safe on Gorham's fumble, but was out stealing, Lafave to Heffernan. Conlin fanned. One run.

Kenneally's double, a low throw to the plate by Corkery, a base on balls to Condin, errors by Conlin and H. Callaghan on flies to the outfield and F. Neary's safety gave the Sacred Heart team three in their half. It might have been more had not a double play Hickey to Derocher stopped the proceedings. Three runs

FIFTH INNNIGS.

Corkery was out on a foul to Lafave. Phelan was safe on Milloy's error, and errors by Gorham and Lafave allowed him to score. Hickey and C. Callaghan both fanned. One run.

Mahoney replaced Hickey on the slab for the Centrals. He started well by getting Milloy on an easy grounder, but Phelan dropped Rose's pop fly in front of the plate, and a double by Kenneally, a pass to J. Neary and four singles by Condin, Heffernan, F. Neary and Lafvve followed, the result being five runs before the side was retired.

SIXTH INNINGS.

There was more run-getting in the sixth, errors by Heffernan, Kenneally and Lafave, and singles by Derocher, Giroux, Corkery and Herb Callaghan, sending five runs over for the Centrals. Sacred Heart came back with one, Rose's two bagger and a passed ball being responsible.

SEVENTH INNINGS.

Derocher's single and an error by Gorham on Connors' grounder gave the Centrals another in the seventh. Connors was an easy out, when he tried to steal home.

Neary singled in the Sacred Heart half, but was stranded.

EIGHTH INNINGS.

The Centrals went out in order in their half, and Sacred Heart failed to score, although Kenneally was safe on an error.

NINTH INNINGS.

In the ninth Mahoney fanned, Callaghan grounded to Rose, Derocher was safe on Kenneally's error, but Connors flew out to left, ending the game

Champions Defeated Havelock Eleven by 1-0 Score

The C.G.E. and Havelock Midland League football teams lined up on the Exhibition Grounds at 5.30 Saturday afternoon, and played a clean, fast, well-contested game, with some brilliant individual stunts sandwiched in, the former winning by the score of 1—0.

The champions showed themselves to be masters of football, combining nicely. Havelock was strong on the defence, but the firing line was not strong enough in their team play to be effective.

The score indicates the play, as it was an end-to-end game throughout.

The teams were as follows—

C.G.E.—Goal, W. Jones; backs, W. Hull, B. Mason; halves, E. Allin, A. Padgett (Capt.), A. Bridge; forwards, H. Corless, A. French, W. Boycott, A. Dawson, G. Miller.

Havelock—Goal, L. Stewart; backs, H. Andrews, W. Shepherdson; halves, F. Easton, Dr. Kindred, W. McMullen; forwards, W. Soden, H. Meads, R. Doran, T. P. Lancaster, W. Hitchens, (Capt).

E. E. Brumwell made a very satisfactory referee.

The return game will be played in Havelock next Saturday.

THE RING

Ad. Wolgast won from Frank Burns at San Francisco, on Saturday afternoon in the sixteenth of a scheduled twenty round bout for the lightweight championship. Wolgast hurt his hand, and was only in danger in the twelfth, when Burns sent one to the stomach which had the champion dizzy. Burns was too tired however to follow it up.

SHOOTING

The shooting contest at Yeotes' Bros. gallery, was well attended last week. In the Professionals A. C. Miller carried off the fine box of Tuckett's Specials with the score of 59, while J. Gillespie ran second, with a score of 58. The following are the scores:

Why He Wore a Hat

To illustrate the "offishness" of some churches, Rev. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, speaking at the First Presbyterian church, Chicago, told a story of a man who sat through the service one Sunday morning wearing his hat.

When requested to do so by an usher he removed the hat smilingly. The usher afterward asked him if he had worn the hat purposely or if it were merely absent-minded negligence.

"No," said the man, "I have been attending this church regularly for nearly two years, and no one has ever spoken to me in all that time. I just thought I would leave my hat on my head as an introduction to some one. I am glad to meet you."

Deathly Cramps, Stomach was Bloated

A Bad Case That Proves Cramps and Stomach Disorders are Cured Fast by Nerviline.

"The distress I suffered from cramps last summer was so severe I thought it meant death," writes P. R. Emerson, of Guys Hill, P. O. "I was doubled up with pain and in such bad shape I couldn't walk a hundred feet. I remembered having Nerviline on hand and took half a teaspoonful in sweetened water. In five minutes I was well and my stomach derangements disappeared entirely."

NERVILINE
AN INSTANT RELIEF

For cramps, flatulence, diarrhoea and disorders of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline knows no equal—one million bottles used every year—fifty years on the market, that's proof enough of its merit. Large bottles, 50c., trial size 25c. All dealers or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

COUNTRY TOWN SAYINGS

BY ED. HOWE

It was reported once that a woman had whipped her husband, and, as a reporter, I was sent to interview her. "Yes," she confessed, "I whipped him, but its none of your business. You can take it up, if you want to."

Women rush frantically to a wedding, but when they return home they say: "O, well, it was just like all the others."

A woman never realizes the trouble and work necessary to earn a dollar.

Only one letter in a hundred really means anything.

"I never lied to my wife in my life," said a man in a crowd, and there was a big laugh. "You didn't hear me out," the man continued. "What I intended to say was that I never lied to my wife that I didn't get caught at it."

When a man sees a sign on a door reading, "Keep out; this means you," he thinks it refers to other people, who are bores.

A young man does not realize what a small figure he cuts in the world, but when he is fifty or sixty, he begins to have suspicions that are very near the truth.

Some people give with so much reluctance that you'd rather do without.

In novels, "popping the question" is very difficult. In real life, popping the question is as easy as sleeping late in the morning. When a man is at all backward in "popping the question," the women have a way of helping him along.

Lots of people enjoy a good runaway on a crowded street.

CHINESE LEPER MUST BE KILLED

New York, May 27.—A despatch to the Herald from Pittsburg says: Great alarm has been caused in this city over the discovery of a Chinese leper. The city physician had the victim removed to a tent on the premises of the Municipal Hospital for contagious diseases. He will be kept there until a house can be built for him in an isolated spot of the city. An organized effort is being made by citizens to have the leper killed at once. A petition will be circulated, asking that the director of public health devise some means of an easy death for the Chinese. Great alarm is felt that the disease will spread. The man has been suffering from leprosy for seven years, the disease manifested itself two years ago. The victim is Yee Tung, well educated, born in San Francisco, and thirty-one years old. For five years he has been employed as bookkeeper in Third avenue.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. CLOSE FRIENDS OF QUEEN MARY

Very Few of Them are Among the Society Ladies—They Have Other Qualifications

The late Queen Victoria used to say, "May is a continual ray of sunshine," and this statement is borne out by Her Majesty's principal friends. It is well known that Her Majesty is slow to make friends, but once made she does not easily allow anything to sever the friendship. Her tastes are, of course, not like those of many society women. Her chief interest is centred in her home and her children, and she has no desire to be like the "butterfly" society woman.

Rank does not receive any great consideration from Her Majesty, and many of the friendships which she has made with people in comparatively modest stations of life when a girl living with her parents in White Lodge, Richmond Park, she still retains. Indeed, a number of people living in the neighborhoods of Royal Richmond, Kingston, and Teddington own intimate friendships with Her Majesty.

Queen Mary, like Queen Alexandra, is fond of really good music, and is a very fair musician. She also possesses a tuneful but not powerful mezzo-soprano voice. Her Majesty is possessed of considerable skill in art, and has distinct literary tastes. She very seldom misses an exhibition of any importance. On these visits she is generally accompanied by Lady Katharine Coke, who, since the death of the Queen's mother, to whom she was a Lady-in-Waiting, has been one of Her Majesty's Women of the Bedchamber. Lady Katharine Coke is a very keen art critic, and Her Majesty is often amused by her clever comments upon the pictures which come under their notice.

Her Majesty has very few intimate friends among society ladies, but among those honored with her friendship may be mentioned the Duchess of Devonshire, who was recently installed as Her Majesty's Mistress of the Robes, and Lady Mount Stephen, to whom Their Majesties, it will be remembered, paid a visit at Brocket Hall, near Hatfield, some few weeks ago.

Ladwy Eva Dugdale is perhaps the oldest and most intimate friend that Her Majesty possesses. As is well known, Lady Eva has been the Queen's Lady-in-Waiting, or Woman of the Bedchamber, as she is now officially known, ever since her marriage nearly eighteen years ago. She is a very clever needlewoman, and is also said to be an expert upon furniture and old china, two topics in which the Queen takes a very great interest. Neither the Queen nor Lady Eva Dugdale cares a great deal for outdoor sports; both are great readers, and often discuss and criticize books together.

The Countess of Shaftesbury, who, it will be remembered, accompanied Their Majesties on their last visit to India, and will again this November, as the Queen's Lady of the Bedchamber, is another intimate friend of Her Majesty's. Before her marriage with the Earl of Shaftesbury she was Lady Constance Grosvenor, and is a sister of the Duke of Westminster.

All the Queen's friends have something to recommend them more than a mere social qualification. Her Majesty takes a very great interest both in British manufactures, which she has done so much to aid in every possible way, and in social questions. Old relics of the Royal Family have also a great fascination for the Queen. Among the Royal Family Her Majesty is immensely popular, and this is no doubt due to her general high spirits, the way in which she always looks on the brightest side of life, and her good humor.

THE KING EDWARD DURBAR

Railways are Preparing to Avoid a Repitition of the Confusion

Among the hosts of vivid impressions carried away by visitors attending the last great Delhi Durbar hardly one probably remains more firmly fixed than a remembrance of the confusion which engulfed the railway arrangements. This was chiefly owing to the choking of the East Indian Railway and the difficulties arising from the large Central Station at Delhi being in course of reconstruction when the Durbar occurred. Signs are now forthcoming from all parts of India that those who have to arrange camps at Delhi for the Royal Durbar next December are already busily engaged in their preparations. To these it will be good news that the railways have decided upon elaborate plans which should avoid a repetition of the former trouble.

There will be no coronation issue of Canadian postage stamps.

BIG FIRE IN QUEBEC CITY

and the firemen were quickly on the spot. There was, however, some trouble with the water pressure, and for a time the firemen could not get sufficient force to cope with the flames.

A general alarm was then sent in and the whole brigade assembled. The proposition which confronted them was a serious one. The fire had gained such headway and was raging so fiercely that it looked as if another disastrous conflagration was in sight. The firemen did everything possible to confine the flames to the building in which the blaze had declared itself, but this was impossible, and the fire leaped across the street and caught the Dominion Corset Co., through which the fire swept with a force that could not be stopped.

At this juncture, it looked as if the whole section of the city was fated to burn.

A desperate attempt was made to save the great corset and box factory of the Dominion Company, but it was too late and the flames swept through the upper storeys and wrecked the whole interior of the building.

The firemen, however, managed to check the fire here and prevented the flames from spreading further.

Eight families were burned out, in addition to the two factories and the roller rink.

Among the houses burned was one occupied by the chief of the fire brigade, Fitzback, who is now seriously ill, and whose house was totally destroyed. He had to be carried out of his house on a stretcher.

There were many exciting scenes during the progress of the fire, there being a hurried shift among the residents in the immediate vicinity, and whose houses seemed at one time doomed to destruction.

Trial In September.

Los Angeles, May 29.—Motion of attorneys for J. J. McNamara and his brother, J.B. McNamara, charged with murder by the use of dynamite for a continuance of the time to enter pleas to the charges from June 1 to July 5, was granted Saturday.

The defence declared there was no possibility of a trial before September.

FRANK DISCUSSION BY BOTH SIDES WILL SETTLE DISPUTE

Is the Opinion of Rev. W. C Riddiford Who Holds that Roman Catholics Do Not Favor Decree

Matthew 19. 6.—What therefore God hath joined let no man put asunder.

Rom. 7.2:—For the woman that hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead she is loosed from the law of her husband.

The above scriptural verses were taken by Rev. W. C. Riddiford at the evening service at Park street Baptist church yesterday for his discourse as announced on the subject of "Is the Temere Decree worth objecting to?"

The reverend gentleman answered decidedly in the affirmative, and held that not only were Protestants against the decree, but also that those of the Roman Catholic faith did not want it.

Rev. Mr. Riddiford will continue this subject at the evening service next Sunday, and will deal with four reasons why the Temere is objectionable, and which are:

1. Because it is not according to the teachings of the New Testament.
2. Because it is false to the natural intuition of the human heart.
3. Because it is false to the God-ordained institution called Home.
4. Because it is false to the highest conception of Nationhood.

RELIGIOUS INTERESTS.

In his opening remarks the preacher said that many requests had been made to him to speak on the subject of the Temere Decree, and that he believed the subject to be of vital importance to the religious interests of the Dominion or he would not have responded to those requests. The Roman Catholic Church, he held, was seeking to get control of the marriage laws. "I respect their church; let every man have his own religion, but when an ecclesiastical power steps out of the borders of religion into the civil part of the government it is time to say hands off."

SILENCE OF R.C. CLERGY.

"I have read the Temere decree, and one thing I do protest against is the clause that has to do with mixed marriages. One thing that has occurred to me is the silence of the priesthood on the question. Protestant ministers have been discussing the decree, but only on a few occasions has there been a discussion by the Roman Catholic clergy. Then has followed a silence. What does that mean? The order for a hush—and that hush is what we have to be careful of. "Father Burke, of Toronto, answers to the effect that there is a well-known law of physics that the larger part carries the rest. That means that the Roman Catholics hold the upper hand, and we will hold, or in other words, Canada must submit to the canon law from an Italian Pope. I admire their tenacity and bulldog courage, but are we, too, not going to be courageous? We too, have to face this issue."

Rev. Mr. Riddiford referred to the fact of Protestants and Roman Catholics having stood shoulder to shoulder to fight for the Empire at the time of the South African war, and gave as his opinion that the matter could only be settled by a frank discussion on the part of both parties. Mud throwing on either side would not settle it.

The preacher said that he had united in marriage about a dozen Catholics to Protestants, and vice versa, and could point to many happy homes where there had been no interference.

"I say if there is a law that will step in a home, call the wife a harlot and the children illegimate its time to call a stop," said Rev. Mr. Riddiford. "I hate a law that will come in and break homes and hearts. It is a matter of the future happiness of the children. Is it not possible for a Protestant to love a Catholic? How can a Roman Catholic believe they are living in sin because they were married by a Protestant minister? Do they? I have asked them, and their answer is no, but don't say anything to the priest about it. Where is the Protestant who dare say that Protestants who go to the Roman Catholic church to get married are not married? Why should it be so in the other case?"

LET MAGISTRATE OFFICIATE.

The speaker said he believed it would be a good thing if marriages were taken out of the hands of the clergymen and the ceremony performed by a magistrate. The marriage law would be settled for all time. He believed, he said, in the separation of church and state, and there should be more of this principle carried out. The Roman Catholic Church says that marriage is a sacrament and as such must be performed in the Roman Catholic church. But is is not. People are married long before they see the minister, and if the power was given to the magistrate, the ceremony would be just as binding as if conducted by a minister. The ceremony doesn't make them more married. And there must be laws that must be respected in Quebec just as much as in Ontario.

In his concluding remarks Rev. Mr. Riddiford said that he thought the majority of Roman Catholics were in favor of the banishment of the Temere decree.

NATIONAL DRUG CO. TO SELL 3700 SHARES MORE

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the National Drug & Chemical Co. was held recently. The financial statement for the last business year was the best so far presented to the shareholders. The most interesting reports were from the Na-Dru-Co. and proprietary departments of the business. The former was established only eighteen months ago and the manner in manner in which the drug trade and the general public have supported the products of this department has decided the directors to spend large sums of money in still further advertising this important line of medicinal and toilet preparations.

In order to continue the development of this department, and to keep pace with the progress of the country by the opening of new branches, especially in the West, the directors have decided to dispose of 3,700 shares of the 7 per cent cumulative preference stock of the company at par. A large proportion of these shares has been taken up by the directors.

POWER IN ONTARIO

(Clayton M. Jones, in the Canadian Magazine.)

The city of Berlin, Ontario, enjoys the distinction of being the first city in the world to receive electric energy transmitted over one hundred miles at the great pressure or potential of 110,000 volts. The city signalized the completion of the greatest public undertaking in the history of the Dominion of Canada by a three days' celebration, when Niagara power was officially turned on over the lines of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission on October 11th, 1910. Myriads of electric lamps were strung along the main thoroughfare, among the electric arches and signs, with the effect that the town suddenly became a real electric city. Prominent American and Canadian manufacturers had on hand a fine display of the most modern of electrical devices, including power supplies, heating and cooking apparatus, all operated by the far-off source of power.

If a man should calmly appropriate the air above the city of Toronto as a highway and sail merrily over the city, seated on an aggregation of twigs and canvas, with a sixty horse-power motor chugging along behind, the whole city would be startled. That is because the new and wonderful aeroplane is something which they can see and comprehend. It excites their imagination, and they go back to work with strained necks, thinking what a great creature man is anyway and how glad they are that they belong to the race. It is the same way with the locomotive or the traction car, but when it comes to using the ether which premeates the same atmosphere in which our aviator is recklessly gliding; when it comes to utilizing this something which exists in the atmosphere as a medium for the transportation of power, in the shape of wireless messages, or by sending it shooting through the ether, directed by hundreds of miles of wire to do the work of a city far away, then in some manner the very intangibleness and wonderfulness of the achievement make it miss the imagination, which is so stimulated by the advent of the air-man.

LOGS HELD BACK AT SQUAW RIVER

Cavendish Lumber Company Has a Drive Tied Up

Newcastle, N.B., May 27.—Several million logs have been abandoned on the Miramichi for lack of rain. The tie-up is that of the D. and J. Ritchie Co., on the Sevogle. None of the Upper Miramichi drivers are yet in safe waters.

Local lumber companies are experiencing some trouble with their logs.

The Peterborough Lumber Company state that they fortunately would come out clear. The Cavendish Lumber Company, however, has a large drive tied up on the Squaw river, which empties into Ball lake, and of which Mr. Cresswell is in charge. The McDonald Estate Lumber Company had a drive just ahead of him and luckily they got out alright. One of the Peterborough Lumber Company's officers stated that while the tying up of a drive prevents the logs from being used the same year, they are not lost. however, as lumber companys always keep a year ahead in the supply of logs. There has not been sufficient rainfall this spring to swell the rivers to any extent, but it is likely by the fall of the year they will have obtained sufficient strength to bring out any drives that have been stranded.

LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Mrs. T. H. G. Denne took place this afternoon from the late residence, Park street, to Little Lake cemetery.

Many representative citizens and friends of deceased and family turned out to pay their last respects and the funeral cortege was exceptionally large. Many beautiful floral wreaths were laid on the casket, expressive of sympathy for the bereaved ones and of the high estimation in which the deceased was held by all who knew her.

Rev. F. J. Sawers rector of St. Luke's church, conducted a very impressive ceremony at the house at 2.30 p.m., the funeral leaving at 3 o'clock.

The pallbearers were E. H. D. Hall, V. Eastwood, A. H. Stratton, Alex. Elliott, Joseph Mills and Dr. Morrison.

AUTO CRASHED INTO BUGGIES

A young man in an automobile narrowly averted a serious mix-up on Brock street this morning when he crashed into the vehicles standing in front of Fitzgerald's factory. It appears the spare tire, which the machine carried, was becoming unfastened, and the driver, in attempting to readjust it, lost control of his car for the moment, and it made for the sidewalk, alongside which several buggies were standing. The wheel of one buggy was smashed before he could regain control of his machine.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Keep Your Glasses Clean

Many persons fail to realize that the satisfaction of the glasses they wear depends largely on the care given them. The only glasses hard to keep clean are pasted bifocals. If you breathe on the lenses or dampen them in any way you are liable to loosen the cement and the wafers will fall off.

Toric Kryptoks

(Deep curve, double vision lenses, single in appearance), are made by fusing two pieces of glass into one. You can keep them clean. Besides, they look like one pair of glasses and serve the purpose of two. No lines to make them look old; no cracks to gather dirt; no expensive wafers to fall off.

TO LIVE HAPPILY WITH TWO WIVES

Kansas Man Has a Job on His Hands Worth While

Pittsburg, Kans., May 27—Peter C. Sharp, and his two wives, Annie Katherine and Louisa, settled in the Sharp cottage to-day and told of their plans to live together, as a happy family, Annie Katherine, the first Mrs. Sharp, returned to her husband yesterday after forty years of separation, during which each had searched the country for the other.

Mr. Sharp lost his wife in the confusion of the Chicago fire in 1871. Through the pension rolls of the War Department she found him recently and came here from her home in Oakland, Cal. Nine years ago Sharp gave up Annie as dead and married again.

"If I thought my coming would displace Louisa I would go back to my nursing the sick in Oakland," said Annie, as hte three sat together in the garden to-day. "She has been a good wife, and married my husband in good faith. This is her home and I shall bring her no sorrow."

Louisa held Mr. Sharp's wrinkled hand in hers. She is fifty years old he is eighty-two and Ann is seventy-two.

THE OTONABEE POWER CO. WILL SPEND $200,000 TO INCREASE ITS EQUIPMENT

Will Use Total Flow of the River, and Generate Big Surplus of Power---New Plant to be Installed ---Estimated Output of 4000 h.p. to be Provided--Work to be Started Immediately--Land Bought in Douro to Provide for the Extension.

It has been known for some time that the Otonabee Power Company has had in contemplation some very large additions to its power plant, at dam No. 5, on the Otonabee River, and enquiry from the officials of the company this morning confirmed this.

When asked about the extensions Mr. W. G. Ferguson stated that the Otonabee Power Company Limited, of which he is president has recently acquired from Messrs, Daniel Moloney and R. S. Bolton, of Douro, about fifty acres of land on the Douro side of the Otonabee river between dams numbers four and five, lying west of the Lakefield branch of the Grand Trunk Railway for the purpose of developing dams numbers four and five under one head. The company propose to construct their headrace through this property and erect their power house below Lock No. 5, of sufficient size and capacity to develop the total flow of the Otonabee river. Their new work will cost upwards of $200,000 and will enable the company to place upon the market in Peterborough a large quantity of surplus electric power which will be available for new industries and for existing industries which are contemplating enlarging their works. The company feel that if intending manufacturers are aware of the fact that there is actually existing a large quantity of surplus electric power available for immediate use, it will have a more pronounced effect in inducing them to locate in Peterborough.

During the spring of 1907, the company had Messrs. Ross and Holgate consulting engineers of Montreal, prepare plans and specifications with a view of developing this water power but before the plans were actually completed it will be remembered that a very severe financial depression took place in Canada and the United States, which had the effect of curtailing the output of existing factories and checking the establishment of new industries. Under the circumstances the company decided that it was not in its interest to proceed with this development and place upon the market a large amount of surplus power for which no market could be found and from which no revenue could be derived and especially so when the electric companies had already on hand an ample surplus of electric power to supply existing industries. Since that time the consumption of electric power in Peterborough has been continuously increasing until at the present time there is a shortage of electric power to supply existing demands and to supply immediate future requirements hence the company have decided that it is in its own best interests and in that of the citizens of Peterborough to proceed at once with the development of this power so soon as some minor details can be arranged satisfactory to the company.

In carrying out the development the topography of the section bordering on No. 5, will be materially altered. the river between dam No. 4 and dam No. 5, will be materially altered. The northern opening of the canal or flume, will take out of the bay that reaches some distance to the east, and which was formed when the dam and reach above the lock was constructed. From the bay the canal will run south, between the railroad track and the river, and it is probable that the driving road will have to be again diverted.

As the Otonabee Power Company have acquired the property on the Douro side, and which is concerned in the development, the new power house will be placed on the eastern bank, and about 100 yards below lock No. 5, and the down stream approaches thereto. In making the excavation for the canal the spoil, or material removed, will be used to form the banks of the canal. In addition there will be a large quantity removed from what will form the forebay to the power house, which will be of thoroughly modern design and construction. The water from the wheels will flow out into the river, some dredging being done to secure the ready and free flow, so essential to good power development. The work when completed will combine the heads of both dams, and will make from 24 to 26 ft. with an estimated power output of 4,000 h.p. All the flow of the river, except what is required for navigation, can be carried through the wheels.

It does not follow that the locks at present in use will have to be altered, though it may develop that lock No. 5, may be raised and do away with lock No. 4. In this case the power canal can be widened and used as the channel by which boats will pass from the lower levels to the upper.

The power-house now in use will, it is likely, be retained, and held as a reserve or auxiliary, as the equipment, while valuable, would not fit into the arrangement, and scheme of the new power-house.

DROWNED IN SMALL LAKE

Sir William Gilbert's Sudden End in England.

Was the Librettist of Many Fine Comic Operas.

London, May 30.—Sir W. S. Gilbert, the noted dramatic author and librettist, who, in collaboration with Sir Arthur Sullivan, wrote the famous Savoy operas, including "H.M.S. Pinafore," "Patience," "Iolanthe" and the "Mikado," and was Knighted in 1907 by King Edward, met a tragic end yesterday. He spent the morning in London, and returned to his residence at Harrow in the afternoon. As was his custom, he went down to the lake in his grounds to enjoy a half-hour's swim. He dived in, and was a long time in coming to the surface. Women friends who had accompanied him to the lake observed that he was in difficulty and was struggling. They rushed off for help and Sir William sank again.

Servants came as quickly as possible to the scene, but when the body was recovered life was extinct.

The precise cause of death is not known, but it is believed to have been due to syncope. The lake was only a few feet deep, and the bottom was free from stones. Sir William was born in London in 1836.

Sir W. S. Gilbert has amused millions of playgoers since he put his first manuscripts of Dulcamara on the market for $150. After reading it the purchaser, Mr. Emden, took the librettist seriously to task for selling such a good play for such a paltry sum. Since then he has given the world, among others, "Pygmalion and Galatea," "Trial by Jury," "H.M.S. Pinafore," "Pirates of Penzance," "Patience," "Iolanthe," "The Mikado," "The Yeomen of the Guard," "The Gondoliers" and "Utopia, Limited." To these delightful operettas Sir Arthur Sullivan suppied the music, and the partnership between the two continued for many years.

THEY WANT PART OF CHINESE LOAN

Russia and Japan Anxious to Get in on It.

Pekin, May 30.—Though the Chinese currency reform loan of $50,000,000 already has been completed with the American, British, French and German groups of bankers equally participating therein, the Russian and Japanese Governments have signified to China their desire of taking part in the loan.

Russia and Japan argue that the pledging of the Manchurian revenues to secure the loan may conflict with their prior rights in that province. Furthermore, these two Governments are materially interested in both the development of Manchuria and the reform of the currency to which the loan is allocated.

If Russia and Japan follow up their signified wishes to participate in the loan, it may bring about a diplomatic contest, it is believed here, of a more serious aspect than that which surrounded the historical entry of the American syndicate into the Hukwang Railroad loan agreement. It is reported in financial circles that a strong international group of bankers is being formed in opposition to the quadruple banking group. The neucleus of the opposition is said to be the Russo-Belgian syndicate, which is expected to take in British bankers and probably also Japanese financiers.

EARL UNVEILS QUEEN'S STATUE

Governor General Performs Function at Berlin.

Berlin, Ont., May 30.—Earl Grey and party arrived at 11.30 yesterday and was accorded a grand reception. His worship Mayor Schalz and the aldermen formed a civic reception committee and met the vice-regal party at the depot. His Excellency, who was accompanied by the Ladies Sybil and Evelyn Grey, the countess being absent on account of illness, was escorted by a troop of the 24th Greys and honored by a hundred boy scouts from Galt, Preston, Hespeler and Berlin. Dr. Lackner, M.P.P., and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King took part in the reception. An address of welcome was read by Mayor Schalz and replied to at the City Hall. The party then drove to the Country Club on the Bridgeport road, where a luncheon was tendered them.

The unveiling of the monument to Queen Victoria, the purpose of His Excellency's visit, took place at 2.30.

MILLIONAIRE AUTOIST HURT

Was Driving Car in International Race—Rear Tires Exploded.

Special to The Review.

Indianapolis, May 30—With forty of the most powerful racing cars in the world, tearing around a two and a half-mile speedway track in the five hundred mile International Sweepstakes race, Arthur Greimer was seriously injured in the thirteenth lap, and his mechanician was instantly killed, when both rear tires exploded and the car in which they were riding was overturned. Over one hundred thousand people were watching the race. Greimer is a millionaire and was driving the car.

TOBACCO TRUST MUST DISSOLVE WITHIN SIX MONTHS, SAYS THE SUPREME COURT

Standard Oil Decision is Repeated — Justice Harlan Dissents, Declaring Trusts Will Form Again.

Washington, May 30.—Another of the big trusts was smashed yesterday, when the Supreme Court of the United States ordered the dissolution of the combination known as the American Tobacco Co., with its associates, the Imperial, and the British-American Tobacco Co., so far as they do business between the various states of the American Union. The decision was rendered by Chief Justice White, and called forth a dissent from Justice Harlan, who took the same ground as he did in the Standard Oil case, when he objected to the use of the "rule of reason" in determining whether the combination was a monopoly in the eyes of the law, or a "combination in restraint of trade" under the statute. His reasoning is that so long as there is restraint of trade in any degree the statute is violated, while the majority hold that only unreasonable restraint is meant by the statute.

The decision is thus summarized in a statement last evening by Attorney-General Wickersham, commending the judgment of the court, as follows:

"The decision in the tobacco case, in the most comprehensive and sweeping manner, sustains the position taken by the Government with respect to the decree below. It reverses the action of the Circuit Court in dismissing from the bill the individual defendants, the British-American Tobacco Co., Ltd., the Imperial Tobacco Co., Ltd., and the United Cigar Stores Co., holding that they are all parties to the unlawful combination which is condemned by the decree.

"The court gives an interpretation of its decision in the Standard Oil case, saying that it was there held that in view of the general language of the statute and the public policy which it manifested, there was no possibility of frustrating that policy by resorting to any disguise or subterfuge of form, since resort to reason rendered it impossible to escape by any indirection the prohibitions of the statute.

"It then holds that the history of the tobacco combination 'is so replete with the doing of acts which it was the obvious purpose of the statute to forbid, so demonstrative of the existence from the beginning of a purpose to acquire dominion and control of the tobacco trade, but by methods devised in order to monopolize the trade by driving competitors out of business, which were ruthlessly carried out upon the assumption that to work upon the fears or to play upon cupidity of competitors would make success possible.'

"Holding, therefore, that the combination as a whole and all its co-operating and associative parts, in whatever form clothed, constitutes a restraint of the trade within the first section of the Sherman Act and an attempt ot monopolize and a monopolization within the second section, the court recommends the cause to the circuit in New York for the purpose of working out some plan of disintregation of the combination which will recreate 'a new condition which shall be honestly in harmony with and not repugnant to the law'."

May Sell Church.

Winnipeg, May 30.—The authorities of Grace Church in this city are considering the advisability of selling the property, situated at the intersection of Notre Dame and Ellice avenue. It is understood that an offer of $400,000 for it was refused some weeks ago and it is now expected to realize $600,000 or $750,000. It is proposed to erect a seven-storey structure and conduct it on an industrial basis. Grace Church is the leading downtown Methodist church here.

BUILDING A ROBE FOR KING GEORGE.
FROM THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS

The "pinning" of the ermine for train is an operation that calls for the use of more than fifteen thousand pins. For the train, For the train, some five hundred skins and some six hundred and fifty tails are being used.

Behind the table on which the "pinning" is taking place may be seen the cape of the robe. The King will wear three robes during the coronation—the royal crimson robe of state, which is worn until just before the anointing; the imperial mantle of cloth of gold, and the royal robe of purple velvet in which His Majesty leaves the Abbey.

LABOR WANTING MORE CANDIDATES

Labor Men Urge That They Have More Members.

Ottawa, May 30.—"There is a feeling in labor circles throughout Canada that the time has come when labor should be well represented, not only in the Federal House, but in the different Provincial Legislatures," said W. Glockling, Toronto, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, yesterday. He said that an organized effort was about to be made to bring out labor candidates in all the provinces, and that the various labor bodies were determined to make the movement a success. It was felt that it was far better to have representatives in the various Houses than to send delegations from time to time.

At the meeting of the congress details of the meeting to be held at Calgary between Sept. 11 and 16 were arranged. It was decided to extend an invitation to Hon. Mr. Fisher, Premier of the Australian Commonwealth, to address the gathering.

Another Monster Ship.

Hamburg, May 30.—The Hamburg-American Steamship Co., it was announced yesterday, has given orders for the construction of a sister ship to the mammoth turbine steamer Imperator, now building. The vessel will be 900 feet long and will be placed in the New York service.

Promoters Go to Prison.

New York, May 30.—Christopher Columbus Wilson, president of the United Wireless Telegraph Co., and four of his associates were convicted by a jury in the criminal branch of the U. S. Circuit Court late yesterday of fraudulent use of the U. S. mails to solicit subscriptions to wireless stock. In some parts of the Western States and British Columbia people have used the finely engraved stock for wall paper.

The sentences which Judge Martin imposed were: Wilson, three years; George H. Parker and F. X. Butler, two years each in the United States Penitentiary at Atlanta.

W. I. Diboll and W. W. Tompkins, one year each in some New York penitentiary.

GARROS STILL LEADS IN RACE

His Time From Nice to Genoa Was 3 hrs. 36 mins.

Special to the Review.

Genoa, Italy, May 30—Garros still maintains his lead in the Paris to Turin flight. His time for the distance from Genoa to Nice was three hours and twenty-six minutes and he expects to reach Rome by Saturday at noon. A despatch says that the Pope spends much of his time in the garden at the Vatican for the purpose of getting a view of the birdmen.

MANY DROWNINGS ARE REPORTED

Sad Fatalities Reported—Would-be Rescuer Drowned.

Fordwich, Ont., May 30.—Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, an accident happened which has thrown a dark shadow over the whole community. Peter Eckel and A. D. Kranick, who were drawing gravel with a horse and wagon to the mill dam, were drowned. They had driven on the upper side of the dam, had dumped their load and were turning the horse around, when it suddenly dropped into a deeper part of the river, throwing Mr. Kranick into the water. Mr. Eckel at once jumped in and tried to lend assistance to both man and horse, but on account of neither being able to swim, they both went down.

Census Taker Drowned.

Montreal, May 30.—A man named Dupre lost his life by drowning opposite St. Ross Sunday afternoon. With two companions, Mr. Desau and Mr. Dorcot, he was rowing on the river. They got out into the centre current, where their little boat capsized. All three were washed down by the current, but, while his companions were able to catch hold of a chain stretched across the river, Mr. Dupre was carried farther and his body finally disappeared in the eddies and has not yet been recovered.

Mr. Dupre was one of those appointed as census enumerators in Maisonneuve.

Goderich Man Drowned.

Sault Ste. Marie, One., May 30.—Through the capsizing of a canoe at Michipicoten Sunday afternoon James Coleman met death by drowning. Coleman, who hails from Goderich, Ont., had gone out alone, while the barge McKee, on which he was employed, finished loading. The remains arrived here last night for burial.

Young Lad Drowned at Perth.

Perth, May 30.—A drowning accident occurred here yesterday afternoon, shortly after five o'clock, when Caleb Strong, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. John Strong of this town, was drowned. The little fellow had been at school, after which he had gone up to the river with some playmates. While playing about the swimming house he slipped on some planks and went down before assistance came. The body was not recovered for about ten minutes, when a man who was fishing at some distance came to the spot, but life was extinct.

Farm House Burned.

St. Jacobs, May 30.—The large stone farm house of Daniel Crossman, living two miles northwest of here, was yesterday morning totally destroyed by fire. The building is a total loss. By the strenuous help of the neighbors most of the contents of the house were saved The cause is supposed to have been from a spark from the chimney.

Ontario Medical Association.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 30.—Prominent medical men from all over Canada and the United States will attend the thirtieth annual convention of the Ontario Medical Association, which opens at the Clifton Hotel to-day. The convention will continue till Thursday.

OBJECTION TO RECIPROCITY

Senate Committee Receiving Evidence Against It

Delay in Continuing the Hearing—New Amendments.

Washington, May 30.—With the announcement that the Senate finance committee, by taking all of Wednesday in which to hear witnesses on Canadian reciprocity, could complete its labors this week, the Senate last evening by a vote of 50 to 17 adjourned until noon Thursday. Chairman Penrose of the committee believes that the hearings can be closed when the committee rises Wednesday, but consideration of amendments to the reciprocity bill may delay its report to the Senate to the first of the coming week. It is Senator Penrose's hope, however, that the reciprocity bill can be reached without change.

A clash between interests opposed to reciprocity occurred at yesterday's hearing. A. E. Chamberlain of South Dakota, while speaking for the agricultural interests against the measure, nevertheless declared in favor of free lumber, because, he declared, the farmer was being compelled to pay entirely too much for his lumber. Representatives of the lumber interests were also present.

"Do you expect the lumber people to support you in your opposition to free wheat?" asked Senator Heyburn.

"I am not here to do any political work," replied Mr. Chamberlain.

"You will be followed by representatives of the lumber interests of the Northwest," said Mr. Heyburn, "and I want them to understand your position regarding their interests, so that they may make up their minds regarding yours."

Mr. Chamberlain said that he had seen in South Dakota "a little book which said from whom a man should buy his lumber. The trust or combination provided for that, and I do not see any excuse for the Government protecting an industry that robs the people in that way."

FIELDING GOES ABROAD TO REST

Sudden Change in Plans—Nova Scotia Left to Itself.

Ottawa, May 30.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, will sail on Thursday next from Montreal by the Royal George for England, on a six weeks' holiday trip. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Fielding and the Misses Fielding, and will spend the time quietly in England and on the continent, going to Antwerp for a few days to visit his son. The Finance Minister, after the strain of an arduous session of Parliament, in which his work as chief sponsor for the reciprocity agreement has been particularly heavy, is seeking a brief rest to recuperate his impaired health. His trip, it is said, has no political significance, and he will probably not detract from the rest cure by participating in any of the coronation festivities.

Foy For the Bench.

Ottawa, May 30.—The vacancy on the High Court Bench of Ontario consequent upon the death of Judge McMahon will not likely be filled till after the long vacation of the courts, as meanwhile there is no urgency. W. H. Tilley of Toronto, and Daniel O'Connell, K.C. of Peterboro, are more prominently mentioned. It is said also that Attorney-General Foy has been sounded with reference to accepting it.

Sunday Cars In Kingston.

Kingston, May 30.—The Street Railway Co. intends to give Kingston Sunday cars during July and August so that the people can spend the afternoons at Lake Ontario Park. It is expected there will be strong opposition from the Lord's Day Alliance.

Trampled by Horses.

Ripley, May 30.—Thomas Kennedy, near this town, was probably fatally injured in a runaway accident on Saturday. He was trampled on by the horses, and the doctors hold out but small hopes of his recovery.

LUNG TROUBLE

Mrs. Biny Brown, of Tenecape, N.S., Was Cured by Catarrhozone of Lung Trouble and Catarrh, After Hundreds of Other Remedies Failed

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh, and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold, or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler, the local symptoms, such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons, and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

UNION LABEL

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK

The most persistent report that the government intends to bring on the elections in August or September before the redistribution has been made at first sight, seems most unlikely. There are many reasons to be arrayed against such a course, chief of which is the fact that the west will go for another parliamentary session without proper representation. But the assurances from Ottawa that an election will probably be brought on in hot weather, or harvest time are so definite and so emphatic that one is led to wonder if the government does not figure it safer to offend the west by not giving it proper representation than wait for the reciprocity fight to be finished, and be swamped on that issue.

If these reported intentions of the government are true, the ministerialists are afraid to face the opposition on a stand up fight on reciprocity. The government in addition to this seems to be anxious to forestall the failure of the reciprocity pact in the senate at Washington, by an election, though many people hold the view that the failure of the pact in Washington would be the political salvation of the Laurier administration. These are speculations very largely, however. The facts of the case are these: That when the government goes to the country this year, as it seemingly will, it will go with the most indefensible record it has ever possessed. It will go to the country weakened seriously over its 1908 strength. In that election the Liberals got less than fifty per cent of the vote cast, and only one per cent more than the Conservatives. It had a solid Quebec then. It is so weak in Quebec now that when Mr. Lanctot wished to resign and run for re election in Richelieu, after being whitewashed, Sir Wilfrid absolutely refused to let him, knowing that Lanctot's majority of 1401 votes would fade like a dissolving film. Weakened in Quebec by its naval policy, weakened in Ontario by the strong opposition to the reciprocity pact, and by Laurier's evident anti imperialistic attitude, weakened in the west by its affiliation with the manufacturing combines such as the farm implement companies, split in Nova Scotia by internal rows, split in Alberta by factional strife, and carrying the burden of many misdeeds Laurier will find his chances in the coming election, most precarious, in spite of the advantage of government patronage and office holders.

The reciprocity pact has made it evident to British Canadians that Laurier, while willing to work on lines leading toward Canadian independence is totally opposed to any advance by Canada into imperial spirit or affairs. His attitude towards the imperial connection is a negative one. "Let me alone and I'll let you alone" says he to John Bull and his stalwart sons. Laurier's doom is nigh, if the sentiment of the country is to be believed, for the absence of the diplomatic premier has shown that his cabinet are anything but a happy family. With Sir Wilfrid out of the way, there is not a coming leader in the ranks. Reciprocity, instead of being the salvation of the government, will have to be carried by it, and it is a question if the government, beaten on reciprocity on the imperial side of the question, on the national side, and actually on the economic side, will not sink under the weight. It has much to answer for, and the answer is coming.

THE NE TEMERE

In another part of the Review will be found a letter criticising the Ne Temere editorial which appeared in the Review yesterday, our correspondent declaring it to be "practically all wrong." Our correspondent is pleased to discuss in his letter the ecclesiastical attitude of the church of Rome with which the editorial in question dealt only casually. As we have said before, the church of Rome is entitled to take whatever attitude it pleases on matters of religion or sacrament, in so far as it does not disobey the law of the land—and that does not happen. The church of Rome has the privilege of considering those outside its pale as heretics, and that marriage is purely a sacrament, and that its priests are the only ones capable of performing a valid marriage ceremony. This need not concern those who differ in opinion, and it is only a matter of personal belief after all. The Anglican church or the Methodist church could consider itself the only true church if it wished to be so narrow, but that does not make it so.

Whatever the tenets and beliefs of the various churches, whether tolerant or intolerant, it is of vast importance that they shall be on equal footing before the law, and that the solemnization of marriage shall be a civil contract, with the sacramental phase only incidental to it. Justice Archibald in the Delpit case held "Marriage is a civil tie, the obligation of which has been reinforced by considerations relating to religion, but these are accessory to the contract, and if the civil tie be invalid, the religious obligation necessarily fails."

To state that the church of Rome does not regard a ceremony by a Protestant minister as binding, is to some extent begging the question; because, except in the case of mixed marriage, the church of Rome does not interfere. The church of Rome in practice does not bother with marriages of Protestants.

The law protects in all Canadian provinces, except Quebec, those who contract marriage before a duly authorized priest or clergyman, irrespective of religion. The law cannot take cognizance of an ecclesiastical penalty that may be meted out to church members for violation of rules of the church. As we said yesterday, that is purely a matter between the member and his church. All the law can do is to protect the validity of a marriage performed in accordance with the statute.

In Quebec there are real grievances. In the case of a baptised Catholic leaving the church, severing his connection with it, the Roman Catholic church holds that he is still bound by its rules. If the Quebec civil law upheld this such a person would be forever barred from contracting marriage. But the civil code says: 'All marriages in this province are governed by the religious beliefs of the contracting parties, and subject to the rules established by such churches, and the religious rules of the religion of the contracting parties." No case has been decided under this, as far as we know, as to the validity of the marriage of a Roman Catholic who has renounced the church, and become the adherent of another. Under this code, it would seem as if the "present" religious belief or adherence of a person would be the guide as to what rules would bind him in marriage. If a Roman Catholic left the church, became a Methodist, and was married as a Methodist, we do not think the code could be stretched to upset the validity of that marriage, in spite of Clause XI. of the Ne Temere decree, which says: "The above laws are binding on all persons baptised in the Catholic church, and on those who have been converted to it from schism or heresy (even when either the latter or the former have fallen away afterwards from the church) in all cases of betrothal or marriage."

As far as the rules of the Roman Catholic church having effect, outside of the province of Quebec, we might point out that it absolutely refuses to recognize divorce, but that does not prevent divorce decrees from being issued by legally constituted courts, and the senate. The attitude of the church of Rome or any other church should not operate to deprive anyone of civil or religious rights and advantages.

A BILLION OF EARNINGS

The stock of the Standard Oil Company sells around $700 per share. For several years its earnings have averaged more than $80,000,000 a year, and last year were nearly $100,000,000. Dividends have been maintained at a rate of $40,000,000 a year, and because of the wide margin of earnings over the dividends financial people are expecting a melon, such as Billy Maclean would delight to talk about, as soon as the reorganization of the company is accomplished, in pursuance with the order of the supreme court of the United States to dissolve.

The total earnings of the company from 1902 to 1911 inclusive will aggregate $753,000,000 and dividends $397,000,000. The surplus amounts to about $355,000,000. From 1882 the profits have totalled $1,209,000,000.

This is an enormous toll for the people of the United States to have to pay to one company. When the stock jumped five points on the news that the supreme court judges had ordered the trust to dissolve back into the original state companies, many people wondered why the order for dissolution should be taken with such equanimity. But to-day a staff of the best legal talent the world can afford is laboring at 26 Broadway, New York, on the plans for the dissolution. The method of doing away with the Standard Oil parent company—which has a New Jersey incorporation—and resolving into subsidiary companies, will be watched with a great deal of interest because it is a new phase of high finance. There is not much danger of the stock of the trust dropping when there is nearly $400,000,000 surplus which will have to be disposed of in the reorganization plans, divided among the companies in proportion to their contributions of earnings to the trust.

The Standard Oil Company has invaded Canada, as many people know. When oil wells were discovered in Essex and Lambton and adjoining counties, the Standard Oil agents immediately corralled the most of them, and thus control the oil production in that territory. When continental sources of supply of oil are controlled by one company, the law may do as it pleases about ordering companies to change their form. They will continue to have a monopoly, and do pretty much as they please. With the control of the production and refining of oil, the Standard Company has that which the law cannot take from them, for even in the United States must vested rights get due consideration.

The giant corporation question is the most difficult of twentieth century problems, and Canada has just wakened up to the fact that she has troubles of her own.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

BENSFORT BRIEFS

Much Damage Done by Storm—Wharf Being Repaired

Special Correspondence.

Bensfort, May 30.—The thunder and lightning storm which visited us in the early hours of Tuesday morning, 23rd inst., was the worst seen in these parts for years. Three buildings and a tree were struck by lightning within a little over two miles distance. The barns of Mr. Jos. Woods, which were practically new, were completely destroyed, as well as the contents, which included grain, poultry, pigs and harness. Mr. Wood has the sympathy of the entire community in his loss. The houses of Mr. George Wood and Mr. Robert Thorne had chimneys knocked off, as well as some damage to the interior, but, fortunately, they were not fired. Mr. Thorne's hired man was knocked unconscious for a time, but soon recovered.

Mrs. Henry Michels is ill at present. Dr. Turner, of Millbrook, is in attendance. We hope she will soon recover.

Mr. Wm. Downer, of Peterborough, was renewing acquaintances in the neighborhood during the past week.

An enjoyable 24th was spent at what is known as Barnard's Landing. Amongst those present from a distance was Miss O'Hara, of Millbrook.

The wharf at Smithson's Landing is undergoing a course of repairs. It looks like a general election in the fall.

Mr. Louis Wedlock, of Toronto, has been home for a few days.

Mr. James Whittington spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Wm. Grey, of Garden Hill.

Ella Ewing, of Gorin, Mo., aged 38 9 feet 1 1-2 inches tall and 38 years old, is in Chicago being treated for heart trouble.

The crew of the Red Star liner Kroonland, refused to leave Antwerp Saturday, in expectation of the general marine strike.

Dr. de Van's Female Pills
A reliable French regulator; never fails. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Refuse all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at $5 a box, or three for $10. Mailed to any address. The Scobell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"It is entirely true, madam," he said lightly. Unhappily it isn't a story at all. 'I have not the honor to be here by appointment, as you evidently infer, but simply by accident—by virtue of the only open window in the street."

"And he doesn't know yet whether he's going to be the good prince or the bad prince," triumphantly added the General, proudly eying his hero.

Adele drew back, frightened, unnerved, her hand creeping to the doorknob. "It—it is a mistake," she breathed, wide eyed with sudden fear. "You are a stranger"—

"Please don't be afraid of my being the bad prince," smiled Kirby in his most reassuring and light hearted manner. "If you will permit me, madam, to take this hat, I will vanish as I intended"—

"There are men watching the streets," she said steadily, holding him with her eyes. "I saw them from my window. Is—is it that?"

All fear had vanished, and in her voice there was but apparent a concern for him, the stranger and interloper.

He nodded and turned to the listening child. "General, do you want to be my trusty friend once more? Good! Then do just what you did before—out there on the balcony." When the child, with eager alacrity, had obeyed, Kirby added in an earnest and steady voice: "I don't know whether or not you can believe a stranger on his bare word, but I'll try. Last night I heard that the worst scoundrel I know was in New Orleans. I met him at sunrise this morning at the oaks. I went alone, and he came alone. It was a fair meeting. We fired together; he missed, but I didn't, so I had the good luck to come away. Ten minutes later they tried to arrest me for murder. I got away, but I didn't have a long start. When I turned into this street I heard them coming from both directions. There was only one chance to get out of sight—the open window of a strange house. I took it and," he finished with a faint smile, "that's where I am."

She was silent. Then, "But you said it was a fair meeting. Why, then, should they"—

"I can't prove it was fair," he interrupted grimly. "I left him lying with his pistol in his hand, but it wasn't there when they found him. They think I shot down an unarmed man because they found no weapon upon him."

"You mean it was stolen?" she asked wonderingly.

He smiled, shaking his head. "No common thief would have dared to. Whoever did it must hate me worse than did the dead man. Stealing that pistol finishes me if I don't get away. That's all, and all I can say. If you can't believe me," he added quietly, "there's only one thing for you to do—go to that window and call those men in here for me. But if you can believe me—well, permit me to take this hat."

There was a pause, during which they looked each other in the eye, he calmly waiting for her decision, she as calmly estimating him. Then she quietly left the room, quickly returning with a black felt planter's hat.

"Take this instead," she said evenly, tendering it. "It is my brother's."

Thanking her, he turned to go. But now she was at the window, and after one hurried glance she confronted him with white, drawn face and eager, restraining hand.

"Do you know they are still there, watching?" she cried. "How cruel to hunt a man down like that! You will never be able to get by them. They will kill you."

"If I start they'll know somebody tried to get by," he returned lightly, "and they'll probably finish me one way or the other. This way doesn't involve any legal procrastinations. That's why I prefer it."

"Don't try it, please don't," she whispered, pushing back her heavy hair. "I cannot let you make the attempt. It is suicide!"

"Why, that's about all that's left to me—to make a good try," he smiled. Then, suddenly serious and diffident, he added: "May I tell you something? Perhaps the circumstances might excuse it if it sounds overbold for a stranger to say. But it is something mighty precious that the last thing I heard before going out to make my try was the voice of a merciful lady speaking kindly to me and, more precious still, somehow, that it was you. I only wish I was going to have a chance to remember it longer."

"It isn't kindness," she returned simply. "I know that you told me the truth. I believe you are an honorable gentleman wrongly in great danger. I—I have suffered so much myself that it is enough for me to know about you. Listen! Would it be safe for you to cross from our front door to a carriage?"

"Don't try to do anything for me that"—

"If it were a closed traveling carriage—just by the door?" she persisted steadily.

"My story is true, and you have believed it—somehow. But nobody else would," he said grimly. "Please do not try to do anything for me. I don't know your family, but I'm mighty certain that they'd turn me over to"—

"You really must permit me to do as I think best," she interrupted, with an imperious little gesture softened by her eyes. "We must make the best plan possible under the circumstances. It is out of the question for you to boldly leave the house, and that settles it. I couldn't let you make the attempt if you were my worst enemy. Now, I will see that the General promises to keep entirely secret the method of your entrance and on no account to mention the word 'escape.' I know he will promise faithfully, and we can rely upon it. Meanwhile we must think of some plan. There must surely be some way"— She stopped and assumed an unconcerned expression as Poulette, one of the servants, entered.

The French mulatto hesitated and then, pointing straight at Kirby, inquired, "Shall I take the colonel gentleman's portmanteau to the carriage?"

Adele turned, sudden inspiration in her eyes. "Yes, yes!" she cried, breathless with excitement. "And, Poulette, tell them to lift the top and let the carriage be closed."

The servant obeyed, picking up the late Colonel Moreau's green portmanteau, and when she had gone Miss Randall cried:

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Violent upward leaps of May wheat prices to-day resulted from the timidity of smaller shorts. A group of such traders trying to escape a possible squeeze at the end of the month became so alarmed that they bid as high as 103 1-8 before they could obtain property which sold Saturday night at 99 3-4c. New crop months, however, were weak owing to general rains, and closed at a net loss of 3-4c to 7-8c to 1c. Corn finished with a decline of 1-2c to 2 1-8c. Oats were off 1-4c to 3-8c, and provisions unchanged to 7 1-2c down.

The Liverpool market closed 1d to 1¼d lower than on Saturday on wheat, and ⅜d lower on corn. Antwerp closed ⅝c lower on wheat, Buda Pest 3c lower, Paris unchanged to ½c lower.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, May 29.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 100 carloads, consisting of 1973 cattle, 989 sheep and lambs, 55 calves and 20 horses.

Exporters.

E. L. Woodward bought for Swift & Co. 408 cattle for export, as follows: For London, 96 steers, 1434 lbs. each, at an average of $6.06 per cwt., or a range of $5.90 to $6.20; for Liverpool, 312 steers, 1250 lbs., average weight, at $5.86, average price, or a range of $5.75 to $6.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers sold at $5.85 to $6; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.20 to $5.55; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $3.50 to $5.25; bulls, $4.25 to $5.

Stockers and Feeders.

Short-keep feeders, $5.50 to $5.75; feeders, 800 to 1000 lbs., $5.25 to $5.50; stockers, $4.75 to $5.25.

Milkers and Springers.

A limited supply of milkers and springers sold at $50 to $60 each.

Veal Calves.

Veal calves sold at $4.50 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Ontario sheep sold at $4.50 to $5.25 for ewes; rams, $3.50 to $4 per cwt.; Ontario yearling lambs, $6 to $6.50 per cwt.; spring lambs, $4 to $7 each.

American sheep, two-year-old wethers, sold at $6.50 per cwt.; American yearling lambs, $7.50.

Hogs.

Hog prices are about the same as those quoted in The World on Friday. Selects, fed and watered, $6.40 to $6.45, and $6.10 to $6.15 f.o.b. cars at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 29.—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 27 were 3040 cattle, 310 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 975 calves. The supply for sale on the market this morning amounted to 800 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 350 calves. There had been no new developments in the cattle trade since this day week. According to all the private and public cable advices received from the leading foreign markets trade has been slow, owing to the continued warm weather, but as supplies have not been excessive the tone of the markets has ruled steady and prices show no change as compared with those of a week ago.

The local market was steady today, owing to the fact that offerings were not much in excess of the requirements, but on account of the exceedingly warm weather prevailing the demand from butchers was only for small lots to fill actual wants, and in consequence the trade was rather slow. There was no demand for export account, as shippers claim that the present prices being realized in the English markets are doing them no good.

Choice steers sold at 6½c; good, at 6c to 6¼c; fairly good, at 5½c to 5¾c; fair, at 5c to 5¼c, and common, at 4¼c to 4¾c per lb. There were a number of cows among the offerings, of which some of the very choice lots brought as high as 5½c to 5¾c, and the lower grades sold at from 4c to 5c per lb. Some good heavy bulls were sold at 5½c to 5¾c per lb.

A stronger feeling prevailed in the market for hogs and prices showed an advance of 10c to 15c per cwt. The demand from packers was good at the higher range of prices and an active trade was done at $6.85 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

There was no change in the condition of the market for small meats, supplies being small, as usual in the early part of the week, and the demand quiet, as butchers generally do not buy this class of stock until the middle of the week. What stock was offered met with a fair sale and prices ruled steady. Old sheep sold at $4 to $5; spring lambs at $3 to $5, and calves at from $2 to $6 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 29.—Cattle—Receipts, 3875 head; market, active and steady. Prime steers, $6.25 to $6.40; butcher grades, $5.85 to $6.35; cows, $3.50 to $5.35.

Calves—Receipts, 2600 head; market, active and steady; cull to choice, $5 to $8.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 11,000 head; market, fairly active and steady; choice lambs, $7.25 to $7.35; cull to fair, $5 to $7; yearlings, $5.50 to $5.75; sheep, $2 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 16,150; market, active and steady. Yorkers, $6.50 to $6.55; stags, $4.50 to $5; pigs, $6.45 to $6.50; mixed, $6.45 to $6.50; heavy, $6.35 to $6.40; roughs, $5 to $5.50.

Trial In September.

Los Angeles, May 29.—Motion of attorneys for J. J. McNamara and his brother, J.B. McNamara, charged with murder by the use of dynamite for a continuance of the time to enter pleas to the charges from June 1 to July 5, was granted Saturday.

The defence declared there was no possibility of a trial before September.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any m 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

They Expressed Their Wishes

¶ One hundred and fifty merchants wrote in to the makers of "Semi-ready" for prices and particulars in a single month.

¶ Fifty merchants were acceptable and accepted.

¶ Fifty were not acceptable.

¶ Fifty others were, but they argued that the Semi-ready label prices were too low, and did not offer them sufficient profit. They wanted to fix their own prices.

¶ It is well for the Buyer of Clothes to know this last reason, for when he finds a Semi-ready store like ours he can know that we are content to do a large volume of business on a small profit basis.

¶ Semi-ready Clothes are the only clothes sold at standard, fixed and close-to-cost prices—marked by the makers—and guaranteed worthy. This is the only store selling

ACCIDENT CASE NOT SO SERIOUS

No Bones Were Broken but Geo. Carter Was Injured Internally

George Carter, the Peterborough young man who was injured in Toronto Friday evening, when an automobile collided with a street car, was visited in St. Michael's Hospital Saturday evening by his mother.

When seen by a Review representative this morning she stated that her son did not have any bones broken, but that he was suffering from internal injuries, the seriousness of, which could not as yet be ascertained.

Mr. Carter went to Toronto this morning, accompanied by Dr. Young, who will examine the sufferer and take charge of the case.

RECITAL BY MISS ELCOME'S PUPILS

Enjoyable Musical Evening at Conservatory of Music

The Conservatory of Music Hall was last evening the scene of a very enjoyable and successful recital given by the pupils of Miss Bessie Elcome before about two hundred people, mostly relatives and friends of the children. That the pupils were carefully and thoroughly trained was evidenced by the work of those taking part, each pupil giving a praiseworthy rendition of the selection. The complete program was as follows:—

Playful Rondo, Piano Duet—Misses Esmee Aylmer and Doris Burnett.

Dutton, Under the Rose-Arbor — Master Reginald Dixon.

Krogman, The Robin's Lullaby—Miss Isobel Donnelly.

Heins-Barentanz—Master Charlie Armstrong.

Sartorio, Italian Barcarole—Miss Jean Milburn.

Forman, June Morning—Master Norman Foote.

LAST MEETING IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Prof. Lowe Will Close Mission With Address To-night

The last of the meetings conducted by Prof. Lowe, in St. Paul's Church will be held this evening. Both services yesterday, that for the young people in the afternoon, and the evening service, were of unusual impressiveness. Mr. Lowe did not employ the illustrated form of address last night. He gave a Gospel address based upon the text: "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." The old, old story of the coming and the humiliation of our Lord, His earnestness and persistency in seeking the lost, and His ability to save to the uttermost all who believe, was very forcibly presented to the heart and conscience of every one who hear Mr Lowe speak. The stereopticon was employed in the song service and also in the illustrated solo. Mr. Lowe will sing two illustrated songs to night and then the address, as last evening, will be without the use of the pictures. As this is the last of the meetings, it is earnestly hoped that all who can, will come to listen to his parting message. A thank-offering will be received to defray the expenses of the mission.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid. something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

POLICE CANNOT FIND THEIR MAN

Wrote His Wife He Would Not be Back for Two Years

D. H. Scully, whose case was enlarged for a week in order to discover whether he was aware that he was summoned to appear in police court failed to appear this morning. He was charged with a violation of the backlist.

The summons for him to appear had been left at his house with his wife, Scully not being at home. He has not shown up since.

His wife does not know where he is. It was learned by the chief, however, that he had been at the locks where he was formerly employed, and had taken away some of his old clothes and that he sent word to his wife that he would not be back for two years. When he returns he will be apprehended.

MME SARAH BERNHARDT WILL RETURN TO TORONTO JUNE 6

Divine Sarah to Pay a Visit to Princess Theatre — Will Appear in Maeterlinck's Sister Beatrice and Jean Marie — Sale Opens June 3rd.

A special performance will be given at the Princess Theatre, on the night of Tuesday, June 6th., by Mme. Sarah Bernhardt and her company of players who are journeying eastward on their way to New York, after the most extensive and phenomenally successful tour ever recorded in the wonderful career of this wonderful woman. "Sister Beatrice," by Maeterlinck, will be presented together with "Jean Marie" a moving one act drama by Andre Theuriet.

"Jean Marie," presents with striking simplicity a tremendous and tragic situation in the lives of three good people; Therese is married to Joel, a kind old man who has befriended herself and her mother in their hour of need. She admires and respects him, but her heart is with the sailor lover who is supposed to have perished in ship-wreck. To overcome her melancholy they are about to move to the country, away from the ships and fisher folk that are such a constant reminder of the past. Jean Marie returns full of happiness and expectancy. His discovery of Therese's marriage, his pleading for their love, and her final determination that they must part forever is touching in the extreme.

"Sister Beatrice," Maurice Maeterlinck's miracle play in three acts portrays the sad story of the frail nun whose pure love for Prince Bellidor causes her to desert the convent for a life which proves to be filled with deception and vice. The image of the compassionate Virgin miraculously comes to life and during Sister Beatrice's absence performs her various tasks amid astounding miracles. As the moment approaches for the return of the repentant nun, the Virgin once again resumes her form of imagery, the sainted Mother of all Sorrows. Then, after twenty-five years of disillusion and grief, Sister Beatrice steals back to the Convent to die.

Mme. Bernhardt's recent production of "Sister Beatrice" made a deep impression in San Francisco. The role of the nun in the Belgian's miracle play is the latest addition to her amazing repertoire, and she enacted it for the first time on any stage Sunday evening, May 7th, 1911.

Mail orders will be received from all points when accompanied by cheque or money order payable to O. B. Sheppard, Princess Theatre, Toronto. Prices $1, $2 and $3. Regular box office sale opens, Saturday, June 3rd. at 9 o'clock.

A. E. KOCHALY, of Persia, a graduate of McMaster University, who will lecture tomorrow night in the Park street church on Persian Customs.

SIX MONTHS IN CENTRAL FOR BOGUS CHEQUE GENT

Had no Bank Funds But Cashed Cheque at Local Hotel

Six months in Central Prison was the stiff sentence imposed on William Collins by Magistrate Dumble this morning for giving a cheque to Frank Montgomery, of the Montgomery House, for the sum of $15, when he had no funds in the bank.

He elected to be tried summarily by the magistrate, and pleaded guilty. The prisoner had gone to Montgomery's hotel, saying that he was in a hurry to go away, and had no money. He then wrote out the cheque, and as a favor Mr. Montgomery cashed it for him. When it was presented at the bank it was found there was no money there to redeem it, and that there had never been money to his credit there.

Collins has been living in the States for some time, although his home is near Norwood. He has no police record.

A young man, charged with harboring a dog without paying a license, was discharged at police court this morning. He formerly owned two dogs, but had destroyed one before a summons had been issued.

TEN DAYS.

Heccles Smith came into town from Catchacoma yesterday and was found drunk later in the day. He had lots of money last night, he said, but had not the necessary two spot this morning to pay his fine. It will be ten days.

THE USUAL DOSE.

A young boy was fined two dollars for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk. He was allowed ten days to pay it in.

HEFFERNAN BROKE UP GAME WITH HIS THREE BAGGER

Two Runners Were on when he Hit and Later Scored Himself.

Frank Heffernan was busy in the Ottawa City League Saturday when he won the game for the College ninef with a three-bagger in the fifth. College won 3—1, and the occasion was their fifth straight victory.

The Free Press says—"In the College half Killian reached first when Seamon failed to grapple with his grounder down the first base line. Paulin, in attempting to lay down a bunt, took one of Clarke's fast inshoots in the ribs. Muzanti fanned. Then Big Heff stepped up, and with two and two on him, murdered one that came up the groove, the pellet travelling to deep left centre, being the first hit of the game. Killian and Paulin came in and by fast stepping Heffernan reached third. Morriscan struck out and Routhier was passed. Leacy then singled, scoring Heff. Milot popped to Clark, ending the inning.

BAPTISTS WON ANOTHER GAME

Registered a 4-2 Defeat Against the Coldsprings Eleven

The Park street team won its second game last night, defeating Coldsprings at Brinton meadows 4—2. The winners were going pretty good throughout, though the "Springs" boys scored the first goal of the game.

The Park street forwards wee in form last night and shot well. The Coldsprings defence did not clear quick enough and their forwards had to go back too far for the ball. The first half ended with the score 2—1 in favor of the Baptists.

SECOND HALF.

As it was nearly dark the teams only played 30 minute halves. The Coldsprings boys evened up the score soon after resuming play, but could not hold the Baptists' forwrads, who were there to win. The Park street aggregation soon scored the third counter and on some nice combination play landed the fourth and last of the game.

The teams answered to theirr names as follows;—

COLDSPRINGS.

Goal—Taylor.
Backs—Hawthorne, Odette.
Halves—Dagnal, McGowan, Kidd.
Forwards — McMartin, Bellamy, Spiers, Monk, Williams.

PARK STREET.

Goal—Lasembie.
Backs—McGibbon, Marsh.
Halves—Biddle, Collet, Theobald.
Forwards—Thorne, Tooley, Aitkins, Follis, Smith.

DIXON'S TEAM TOOK ANOTHER

Collegiate Game Went Against Hill's Nine by One Run

Hill's team, in the absence of its captain, suffered another defeat yesterday afternoon in a collegiate league fixture when Dixon's team beat them 10-9.

Smith twirled for Hill, while Bartlett caught as Hill is as yet unable to be on the job. For Dixon, "left" Lees opened a few hot ones on the firing line, but was a little wild, and Huycke relieved him in the third while Phelan did the receiving.

Mr. Ferguson satisfactorily umpired the game.

The regulars held a snappy practice after the league fixture, in preparation for the game with Lindsay here Saturday afternoon.

HOW GAME LOOKED AT LINDSAY END

Warder Says Cresswell Was Invincible in First Two Innings

The Lindsay Warder says:

A fairly good game of ball was played on Saturday afternoon between the Peterboro Collegiate and the L.C.I., resulting in favor of the latter by a score of 15 to 8. The Peterboro team took the field and for the first two innings it looked as if the locals would have a hard proposition as they did not seem to be able to connect with Cresswell's curves, while the visitors forced a run in the first innings. However, in the third the L.C.I. rallied and took a liking to the pitcher hitting him hard, and by good base-running getting six runs, which caused great joy in the hearts of the rooters, which however sank again when Peterboro came back with six runs. This ended the scoring for the visitors until the last innings, the local boys playing great ball, and handling everything that came their way. They also by timely hitting, combined with juicy errors on the part of the visitors, managed to get runs every innings.

The L.C.I. have a good team, being good hitters and excellent base-runners and with a little more experience should make a name for themselves. The return game will be played in Peterboro on Saturday, the 3rd, and it is expected that a large number of rooters will accompany the boys.

The scorer gave the locals eight hits and thirteen errors.

Peterboro's southpaw was invincible in the first two innings, but after that, it was a shame what the local students did to his benders. However, at that Cresswell pitched a good game, having no less than twelve strike outs.

Sam Ray, who played third base for the visitors is one of Peterboro's fast junior hockey players.

COUNTRY TOWN SAYINGS

BY ED. HOWE

Have you ever noticed how some girls go visiting and stay, and stay, and stay?

If you have a sore tooth, or an ache, or a trouble, there is usually something to "do" for it. And the sooner you do it the better.

People often say: "So many troubles are imaginary." Yes, and so many of them are not.

Red hair is better than none at all; indeed, I believe blue hair would be better than none at all.

Nothing makes a man madder than to say to him: "I'm not as old as you are, but my advice is," etc.

You can nearly always please a man by telling him he really ought to be in a larger field.

Women are referred to as ladies a hundred times where men are referred to as gentlemen once.

You can make an honest man trouble, but you can't make him as much trouble as you can make a thief.

I have noticed that the smarter the mother, the funnier the sayings of the baby: the mother makes them up.

Every man thinks he is already carrying a load that threatens to break his back; don't ask him to carry a part of your load.

ALFALFA'S LONG ROOTS VALUABLE

Six Foot Root Shown in One Plant Grown in Grey

An alfalfa root six feet eight inches in length was brought in this morning for the inspection of the Review editorial staff, this root and another measuring five feet and a half, having been sent down by Mr. Geo. F. Marsh, lately of Peterborough, but now residing on his farm at Clarksburg, in Grey County, Ont. The appearance at the tip of this exceptionally long root gave evidence that it must have been probably from one to two feet more in length while in the ground, since some of it had been broken off during the work of excavating to get the root.

Mr. Marsh also sent along some tops of alfalfa, this spring's growth, which measured up to two feet six inches in length.

One requires only to have seen these plants and roots of alfalfa to appreciate how it is that alfalfa is such a valuable crop for the farmer. The roots penetrate into the soil much below that of ordinary farm crops and therein find plant food and moisture both of which in seasons of drought are beyond the reach of ordinary plants.

While it would seem that it would be a difficult proposition to plow up a field of such alfalfa roots, the fertilizing value of the remarkable root growth of the alfalfa plant would more than compensate for any extra effort required to plow up a field of alfalfa, and then the roots penetrating as they do so far into the soil, on decaying would leave the soil in a splendid mechanical condition, leaving a large reservoir not otherwise obtainable for soil moisture. Furthermore, the alfalfa roots will have done the work of subsoiling much better than could possibly done with any tillage implements, the work being done at no expense of time for manual or horse labor, and no effort being expended other than the great silent forces of nature, working through the alfalfa plants.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

THE POSTOFFICE SYSTEM.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I am one of the many who have cause to complain of the way we people in the country are used re the delivery of the mail. I myself call it utter gross neglect and carelessness of the men or women who are employed as mail sorters, or else the postmaster is tired of his position. He gets, and they too, big enough salary for what work they do, and I know what I am speaking about. Letters have been sent to me from Peterborough and have been in very plain writing that a child of eight years of age could read the address quite easily. One letter for instance, from Peterborough, took 14 days and on very important business matters from England, I find four and five postmarks, then at the side or bottom of letters would be put "try Lorenz," when if the sorters had seen to their work, things would turn out better. Of course we are liable to mistakes, but not in a dozen instances in about three weeks. Of course it may be the Peterborough officials have nothing to do with English or Irish mail, but they want to look to their part, Hoping I have not taken too much space in your valuable paper.

I remain, yours sincerely,

GEO. A. O'NEILL,
Lorenz.

THE NE TEMERE.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Your editorial on the Temere is practically all wrong. Catholics are not permitted to change their religion let alone do what you say. Once a Catholic always a Catholic validly marriageable by a priest only. Let me quote something from an authentic source for your benefit:

"MANY PROTESTANTS may think the Church presumptuous in decreeing THEIR marriages valid or invalid, according as they have or have not complied with certain conditions. x x x She alone is judge of her own power. Anyone validly baptized, either in the Church or amongst heretics, becomes thereby a subject of the Roman Catholic Church."—(American Eccles Review.)

The Church of Rome says also that civil marriage is no marriage at all, also that no one but priests have the right to perform the marriage ceremony. As a consequence the Church assumes to say when a large part of the Christian world is validly married and when it is not. Our civil law also prescribes the requisites of a valid marriage. Therefore the State and the Church are in direct conflict. But the most serious thing is the refusal of the Church to let a Catholic leave the church or its control and be married elsewhere.

TO MAKE GOOD BANK LOSSES

Government is Liable to Farmers' Bank Shareholders—Important Statement.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Mr. Crothers, who is quite in the front rank of the Conservative party, has laid it down at St. Thomas that the Ottawa government is liable to those losing through the hideous thieving in connection with the so-called Farmers' Bank. This statement is very gratifying, and shows that the Conservative party recognizes the obligation of the government for its own blunders. There can be no doubt, therefore, that Mr. Borden's government will indemnify all losers by the Farmers' Bank swindle. This is as it should be. Innocent people should not be at the mercy of sharpers through the negligence of a government department. That the whole thing was a contemptible and merciless piece of robbery Mr. Fielding manfully admits, but he should have gone farther and made the loss to the people good. It was no fault of theirs. In Britain, if you ask them where all their 'smart' people are they point to the jail. It ought to be so here. It will come, no doubt, in due time. In the meantime Mr. Crothers' statement affords hope for the victims of those who stripped even the dead in their eagerness to enjoy and parade their ill-gotten gains.

Yours,
J. H. BURNHAM.

Exciting Fire in Which Brigade Did Good Work

Special Correspondence.

Catchacoma, May 29.—Mrs. H. Cochrane and family have returned home again after spending a week's holidays in Rockcroft, Ont.

A rather exciting fire broke out in Cavendish last week, but owing to the good work of the brigade it was kept from doing much harm in the vicinity. The firemen, uniting, did their work in a husky manner. The only thing lacking was the engine.

Mr. D. Davidson and Mr. Hall passed through the settlement en route for their drives that are coming out [illegible]

Mrs. Dora Grant, who has spent the past two years at the home of Mrs. J. Westlake, has left to join her niece, Mrs. H. Elliott, of Isly, Alta., where she intends residing in the future.

FEUD ENDS IN MURDER

Toronto Man Waylays Victim and Shoots Him Down

Joseph Jessiman, an Elevator Operator In the Postoffice, Holds a Grudge Against James Lougheed and Fires Four Shots Into His Body—Slayer Had Been Brooding Over Fancied Wrongs—May Plead Insanity.

Toronto, May 30.—A murder which, for cold-blooded deliberation rivals that of the notorious Thaw-White episode, and in which the defence is likely to be the same, that of insanity, was committed in the streets of "the Ward" yesterday.

The victim was James Lougheed, 62 years, 63 Laplante avenue. His slayer was Joseph Jessiman, 45 years, 69 Marlboro avenue, an elevator man at the general postoffice. According to the word of the murderer and the ante-mortem statement of the dead man, the motive for the crime was revenge for a grievance, real or fancied, a grudge of long standing. The weapon was a revolver, four shots being fired into Lougheed's body.

Shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning, Jessiman rode into Laplante avenue from College street on a bicycle. At the corner of Hayter street he stopped and dismounted. There he waited and rode up and down the street several times. At last Lougheed left his dwelling and walked south on Laplante avenue. As he drew near to Jessiman, the latter whipped out a 32-calibre revolver from the side pocket of his coat and fired two shots into his breast. The stricken man turned to run, but as he did so, his slayer fired three more shots, two of which took effect in his victim's back.

He staggered a few steps and then fell to the ground. There he lay until assistance came. Meanwhile Jessiman had calmly replaced the revolver in his pocket, mounted his wheel and was riding off, when he was seized by William O'Brien, engineer on the new hospital building, and Samuel Safer of 27 Laplante avenue, a milkman. These held him until the police arrived, called by a nurse from the house in rear of the Hospital for Sick Children.

The police patrol wagon and ambulance responded and the wounded man was hurried to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died shortly afterwards. Jessiman was taken to police headquarters in the City Hall. While awaiting the arrival of the police, Jessiman told his captors that he had shot Lougheed because "the scoundrel had ruined his life."

To Inspector of Detective Duncan he declared that Lougheed, whose neighbor he had been formerly, had been circulating evil stories about him. He said when he lived beside him, Lougheed had kept liquor for sale, and when he had refused to aid in hiding it, Lougheed had begun telling the stories about him, accusing him of unnatural practices and also saying other highly slanderous things of him.

May Eject Mother-in-Law.

Chatham, May 30.—A man may not throw his mother-in-law from his premises in a rough manner that is calculated to do her bodily harm. This was the decision reached by Magistrate Houston yesterday morning, when he fined Bert Avery $1 and costs for ejecting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lyda Turner, from his house. Dr. McRitchie, the physician called, gave evidence as to the injuries which the woman sustained. There were bruises on her arms which seemed to indicate that she had been used rather roughly. The magistrate held that, while Avery had a right to order her off the premises and use reasonable force to put her off, he was bound by law not to do her bodily harm in removing her. The therefore imposed the fine.

Forest Fires In Nova Scotia.

Shelburne, N.S., May 30.—Forest fires have been doing much damage in the vicinity of Shelburne. One big fire at the north of the town has burned thousands of dollars' worth of timber land, and several dwellings have had narrow escapes. Another fire on the western side of the harbor was more destructive. It not only burned valuable timber, but worked into the villages of Gunning Cove and Churchover, the former nine miles from town and the latter seven. The latest reports state that 13 buildings have been destroyed, including the rectory, occupied by Rev. S. G. Andrews, with all contents, the residences of Fred Sullivan, Francis Downey and the public hall. Crowds of men from Shelburne and other places have lent valuable assistance in fighting the flames.

A gasoline boat from Shelburne, which was at the scene, sunk on the way home and John Hethrington and Frank Robertson of Shelburne had a narrow escape from drowning.

Veto Bill Shelved.

London, May 30.—With the passing of the second reading of the veto bill in the House of Lords last night that measure is shelved until after the coronation, when the Lords will amend it in committee. The bill was passed without division.

Lord Morley, in the closing speech, intimated that the Government would accept no amendments, and he added that it would not be to the credit of the House of Lords after accepting the principle of the bill, for Lord Lansdowne and his party to raise difficulties and obstacles at a later stage.

The House of Commons last night passed the second reading of the bill introduced by the Government to prevent possible disasters through aviators manoeuvring over the crowds at the coronation.

The House of Commons also passed the second reading of Chancellor Lloyd-George's state insurance bill.

Infantile Mortality In Montreal.

Montreal, May 30.—With the advent of midsummer weather, the deaths from infantile debility and enteritis are on the increase in the city. Last week there were 65 children under five years succumbed, 28 dying before reaching six months, 17 dying between six months and one year. Between one and two years there were ten victims and from two to five years ten deaths.

Mrs. Henry Taylor is New President of Ladies' Aid

Special Correspondence.

Oskigmong, May 30.—Victoria Day was loyally observed here, as usual. Games of all kinds were indulged in. The main feature of the day was the game of baseball between the seniors and juniors, resulting in favor of the seniors.

Some of the boys came home from the drives to spend the holiday with their parents and sweethearts.

Mr. J. D. Monague, of Christian Island, spent Victoria Day with his friends here.

Mrs. Albert Whetung is spending a few days with her parents at Alderville.

A banana social was held here in connection with the Sunday school. After partaking of the luscious fruit, a short program was presented, the musical selections being rendered by John Tobico, violinist; Miss Irene Tobico, autoharpiste; Miss Ruth Whetung, organiste; and Miss Clara Coppway, mouthorganiste. Addresses were made by Mr. J. Prosser, ex-Chief Joseph Whetung and Mr. J. D. Monague.

The Ladies' Aid Society have elected Mrs. Henry Taylor as their new president.

NATIONAL DRUG CO. TO SELL 3,700 SHARES MORE

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the National Drug & Chemical Co. was held recently. The financial statement for the last business year was the best so far presented to the shareholders. The most interesting reports were from the Na-Dru-Co. and proprietary departments of the business. The former was established only eighteen months ago and the manner in manner in which the drug trade and the general public have supported the products of this department has decided the directors to spend large sums of money in still further advertising this important line of medicinal and toilet preparations.

In order to continue the development of this department, and to keep pace with the progress of the country by the opening of new branches, especially in the West, the directors have decided to dispose of 3,700 shares of the 7 per cent cumulative preference stock of the company at par. A large proportion of these shares has been taken up by the directors.

COAL ORDER TO BE DIVIDED; MORE SEATS FOR CENTRAL PARK

Boat House Locations in Order of Application.

Tenders were received at the meting of the Property Committee last night for a supply of coal of 180 tons for the city building, Fire Hall and Queen Mary Hospital. Seven dealers sent a tender at $7 per ton and on motion of Ald. Morgan and Brown, it was decided to give each tender an equal share of the order.

BAND CONCERT.

Repairs will be made to the wires, etc., at the Victoria Park bandstand so that everything will be in readiness for the first band concert of the season this Friday night.

CENTRAL PARK SEATS.

Mayor Morrow suggested that more seats be secured for Central Park. The other members of the committee favored such a step being taken and the clerk will write for prices, the chairman being given authority to purchase. Seats will be placed in the two parks on Park street.

$10 THE SEASON.

It was decided that H. E. Hawley should be paid $10 for cutting the grass and taking care of the park at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets.

BOAT HOUSES.

Those owners of boat houses destroyed by the Houedrey fire may rebuild on the payment of the annual fee of twenty-five cents on the property, other than lots 15-20 Dalhousie street. Block A., as shown in a plan to be north of Dalhousie street, along the river front, will be divided into lots and the choice of location will be on order of application. The bylaw governing the boat-houses will come up in all probability before the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council this evening. Applications for locations cannot be made until after next Monday night, when the Council meets in regular session.

TO LAY CORNER STONE OF NEW MURRAY ST. CHURCH JUNE 29

Dr. Clifford, Foremost Minister of Baptist Denomination Will Conduct the Ceremony.

Dr. Clifford, pastor of Westburn Baptist Church, in England, and the foremost minister of the Baptist denomination in the world, will lay the corner stone of the new Murray St. Baptist church on Monday, June 29.

Such announcement will be of interest to the congregation of the church and to the citizens in general. Dr. Clifford is a man of conspicuous scholarship, and a powerful orator. He is the close friend of Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and last week the British Weekly said of him, "The man of all men in England most beloved by his friends and most feared by his enemies."

He is coming to Canada to attend the World's Baptist Convention at Philadelphia, and will visit Chicago. He will speak at a special convocation of McMaster University at Toronto. Besides Peterborough, he is to visit Vancouver and Winnipeg. Dr. Clifford is president of the World's Baptist Alliance, and has been leader of the Passive Resistance Movement in England.

Twelve days ago a letter was sent by the Building Committee of the Murray St. church to Mr. Clifford, asking for a cable reply as to whether he could give any date to Peterborough, and the following message was received yesterday—

"Clifford consents to lay corner stone at Peterborough June 29. Particulars following by letter."

THE AFFAIR AT CUSTOMS HOUSE

Government Inspector Made an Investigation

A rumor is current around the city to the effect that there has been some trouble in connection with one of the departments in the Customs House, but the exact particulars of the affair are being kept quiet, and inquiries by the Review were all met rather evasively, those interviewed stating that not being acquainted with the facts, they could say nothing positively. It is alleged, however, that there has been a dereliction of duty on the part of one of the officials. A Government inspector conducted an investigation. It is, moreover, rumored that while the difficulty has not been entirely remedied or straightened out, that the trouble will shortly be settled.

FIRST MEETING OF THE QUEEN MARY HOSPITAL BOARD

Mayor Morrow Was Appointed Chairman and S. R. Armstrong Secretary

The Board of management of the Queen Mary Hospital held a meeting last evening with Mayor Morrow, Ald. Duncan and Dr. Boucher in attendence.

On motion of Messrs. Duncan and Boucher, the mayor was appointed chairman of the Board.

S. R. Armstrong was appointed secretary of the Board.

It was also decided to employ Mr. Brown to plow the garden and level and grade the hospital grounds.

Moved by Ald. Duncan and seconded by Dr. Boucher, that the engagement of Miss B. M. Mowry as matron at a salary of $600 a year, and of Harry Sowden as caretaker and cook at $400 a year, as made by the city council be confirmed.—Carried.

The city treasurer was authorized to pay the matron, caretaker, nurses and their help at the hospital for the month of May, on the certification of the matron and the M.H.O.

Ald. Duncan was authorized to purchase screens for doors of the hospital.

Dr. Boucher and the M.H.O. were authorized to procure the iron hook necessary for the hospital.

The account of J. C. Sharp for $2.85 was ordered to be paid.

The secretary was instructed to write to Dr. Smith, Inspector of Public Charities, and ask to have the hospital placed on the list of those hospitals receiving aid from the Government and ask for a form of the return that will be required to be made.

Keep Your Glasses Clean

Many persons fail to realize that the satisfaction of the glasses they wear depends largely on the care given them. The only glasses hard to keep clean are pasted bifocals. If you breathe on the lenses or dampen them in any way you are liable to loosen the cement and the wafers will fall off.

Toric Kryptoks

(Deep curve, double vision lenses, single in appearance) are made by fusing two pieces of glass into one. You can keep them clean. Besides, they look like one pair of glasses and serve the purpose of two. No lines to make them look old; no cracks to gather dirt; no expensive wafers to fall off.

"RECIPROCITY IS OF LITTLE IMPORTANCE" SAYS MURPHY

Deals With the Pact in an Apologetic Manner—Secretary of State Says it Doesn't Make Radical Change.

Rockland, Ont., May 31.—Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State, addressed a meeting of his supporters here last night. The chair was occupied by Dr. Desrosiers, mayor of Rockland. He explained briefly that the audience would have an opportunity to hear the questions of the day discussed in an intelligent manner by two members of the Government and one or two others. He then introduced Hon. Charles Murphy.

Mr. Murphy on rising was greeted with cheers. He declared that the meeting was called particularly to hear Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Mr. Joe Demers speak. He was, however, loth to leave the floor without making reference to the reciprocity treaty. In spite of assertions to the contrary, made by the Opposition, the proposed agreement did not make a radical change in the trade policy of the country. He referred to a similar treaty with the United States, in force 50 years ago, namely, the Elgin treaty, which lasted from 1854 to 1866. This treaty had been of measurable benefit to the people of the County of Russell by fostering and encouraging its industries. He declared also that the present agreement was identical with one which the Conservatives had endeavored to bring about with the United States in the early '90's, but which they had ignominously failed to negotiate. He felt that the four chief industries of the country, namely, cheese, hay, cattle and lumber, would be immensely benefited by the passage of the present agreement, and he appealed to the electors of the county to support the efforts of the Government in obtaining it.

Mr. Murphy was followed by Mr. Demers, who devoted much of his speech to an eulogy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his work in the upbuilding of Canada and the unification of the races. He touched upon the opposition which he is now meeting in certain quarters of the Province of Quebec and uttered a warning to his audience that the movement was merely the result of jealousy, was ill-advised and if carried into effect must surely end in eventual and inevitable confusion and disaster.

HIS GLASS EYE EXPLODED

Allentown, Pa., May 31.—With a report like a gun, Building Inspector Frank R. Minner's glass eye exploded yesterday morning as he sat chatting with a friend. Minner fell to the floor and sank into unconsciousness.

A physician was called and Minner was rushed to the hospital, where he was still unconscious last night, and in a serious condition. It is feared that particles of the eye penetrated his brain.

He had worn the eye twelve years. Local physicians say this is the first accident of the kind in history. They advance the theory that celluloid was substituted for glass in the eye, and that the heat of the sun's rays focussed on it by the mirrror, unfelt by Miner, caused it to explode.

TORONTO MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER TO PLEAD INSANITY

Coroner's Jury In Toronto Brings In a Verdict of Murder In Connection With the Shooting of James Lougheed on Monday—Prisoner Declines to Go on the Witness Stand During Investigation.

Toronto, May 31.—Chief Coroner Johnson's jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict finding that James Lougheed came to his death Monday by being shot by Joseph Jessiman and that Jessiman murdered him.

The prisoner was in the court room at the morgue, but although called to the witness stand did not utter a single word during the entire session. Advised by W. A. Henderson of Robinette, Godfrey and Phelan, he kept his lips sealed even when asked if he would take the oath.

Several eye-witnesses told of the shooting. Their stories were the same as previously rehearsed, save that those who described the shooting most particularly declared that Jessiman did not start to shoot until Lougheed had begun to run away from him.

The ante-mortem statement was read. In it the dead man, who had been warned by Chief Surgeon Uren of St. Michael's Hospital, that he was in imminent peril of death, described his killing as told by the others.

From the questions put by Mr. Henderson, his counsel, it was evident that Jessiman's hope of life is to be placed on the defence of insanity. The questions of one of the jurors showed that he was considering that phase of the matter, but, before they retired to find their verdict, Chief Coroner Johnson told the jurors that this was a question to be dealt with at the trial and not by them.

WANT THE HEBERT CASE TRIED SOON

Montreal, May 31.—Another step in the now famous Hebert-Clouatre marriage case was taken yesterday morning when attorneys for Madame Clouatre filed an inscription asking that the appeal from the judgment annulling her marriage with Emile Hebert, be heard June 12.

The marriage was annulled by Judge Laurendeau because of a decree that had been issued by Archbishop Bruchesi against the marriage of Roman Catholics by Protestant ministers. Emile Hebert and Marie Emma Clouatre are both Roman Catholics, but their marriage was celebrated by a Protestant minister, Rev. Mr. Timberlake.

It is likely that the case will be fought through the courts, as a test case, to ascertain just what are the powers of the Roman Catholic Church with regard to marriage in this province.

McGill Honor List.

Montreal, May 31.—The fourth year graduating medical list at McGill shows that 31 students passed out of a class of 35.

W. C. Gliddon, Ottawa, won the Holmes' gold medal for highest aggregate in all subjects forming the medical curriculum.

H. J. G. Geggie of Beauport, Que., won the Wood gold medal and the McGill Medical Society senior prize.

Other students from Ontario and Quebec to qualify for the M.D. degree are: A. D. Campbell, Glencoe, Ont.; H. R. Clouston, Huntingdon, Que.; J. H. Gillespie, Morrisburg, Ont.; C. D. Hamilton, Cornwall, Ont.; J. H. Legault, Ottawa, Ont.; C. H. Kearney, Renfrew, Ont.

Refused a Reward.

Chatham, May 31.—The infanticide mystery which stirred Chatham a few weeks ago still remains a mystery. At the meeting of the City Council Monday evening the police authorities asked the city to offer a reward for informaion which would lead to the conviction of the person or persons who strangled and drowned the newly-born infant in the River Thames. The council refused and have intimated that the authorities will have to probe the mystery withou financial aid, which the police claim it is impossible to do.

Indicted For Dynamiting.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 31.—Three men were indicted Monday on the charge of having placed dynamite in the county hall of records on Sept. 8, 1910, with intent to destroy it. They are: Bert Connors, member of Structural Iron Workers' Union; A. B. Maple, Union Iron Workers; F. I. Bender, president of Local Blacksmiths' Union.

Bail was fixed in each case at $25,000. Connors has been under arrest on suspicion for two weeks. Bender and Maple were arrested Monday.

Brakeman Seriously Injured.

Kingston, May 31.—Victor Davidson, a brakeman on the Kingston & Pembroke Railway, was jammed between a freight car and an engine yesterday afternoon, and seriously injured. His collar bone was dislocated and his chest crushed.

TWO KILLED IN TROLLEY SMASH

New Haven, Conn., May 31.—On a level stretch of track and in the middle of a straightaway run of nearly a mile, two trolley cars going from this city to Derby, were in a rear-end collision near Race Brook station, in Orange, late yesterday afternoon. Jas. Malone of Orange was killed, and an unknown young man is dying, and several were seriously injured. The dying man is about 20 years old. His skull is fractured.

George Damison of Ansonia had both hips dislocated and his right leg broken, and eight others were seriously injured.

The cars were running close together owing to heavy traffic all day between the two cities. The forward car had stopped to let off a passenger, when the following car, with only two passengers, crashed into it. The ends of both cars crumpled up, pinning the passengers in the forward car under the debris. James Malone was with his wife on the rear seat of the leading car. He was fearfully crushed, but, singularly, Mrs. Malone was scarcely injured. Robert Grannis, the motorman of the second car was placed under arrest and brought to this city. He refused to make a statement.

A pathetic incident in connection with the death of Mr. Malone, was the fact that four of a family of five children have recently died, and the fifth is just recovering from scarlet fever.

Caught Redhanded.

Brockville, May 31.—The plants of the light and power department, as well as private citizens, have been depleted of valuable tools at intervals for several months past. William Mallett, a local inebriate and a member of the prohibited list, was at last caught redhanded and turned over to the police. Much of the booty has been recovered in junk shops.

AVIATION IS INTERESTING ENGLAND

Photographs of the most brilliant demonstration of aviation in England have just reached America and are herewith reproduced in the Review. It took place at the Hendon aerodrome on May 12th, and was for the benefit of the Parliamentary Aerial Defence Committee.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught were there with Prince Arthur. Many members of the Cabinet were present with their wives, and never before in England has the new science of aviation been dignified by the presence of so many famous people. Mr. Asquith was there with Mrs. Asquith, and Mr. Balfour, in a soft felt hat and a lounge suit, was taking a keen interest in every aeroplane he could find the time to examine, and he proved his interest early in the afternoon by going for a flight with Mr. Grahame White. And one met in the "paddock," examining aeroplanes instead of horseflesh, Lord Lansdowne, Lord Alverstone, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill, Mr. Lloyd George, Lord Roberts, Mr. John Redmond, Mr. McKenna, Sir Ernest Shackleton, with his fellow explorer, Dr. Mawson, and Sir Philip Watts, Director of Naval Construction.

Mr. Grahame-White invited Mr. Balfour to take a flight, and the latter promptly accepted. The machine rose into the air, and reaching a height of about 300 feet, circled the aerodrome twice, and then, dropping nearly to earth, went round for a third turn. Mr. Balfour, when he finally came to earth, declared himself enchanted with his ride in the air.

FOUR PERSONS ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN SILVERTON B.C. HOTEL

Disastrous Conflagration Which Destroys Several Blocks In British Columbia Town Is Responsible For Death of Robt. McTaggart, Robt. Fairgrieve, F. L. Fairgrieve and an Unknown Man.

Vancouver, B.C., May 31.—A special from Nelson, B.C., says:

A disastrous fire occurred at Silverton early yesterday morning, totally destroying a number of blocks of the town, including the Victoria Hotel, Windsor Hotel, Mrs. Carey's grocery, and W. B. Brandon's store building, occupied by E. Patriquin and family.

Robert McTaggart of Sandon; Robt. Fairgrieve, F. L. Fairgrieve, bartender at the Windsor, and a resident of Phoenix, whose name is unknown, were burned to death in the Windsor.

The hotel register being burned, other names are not yet obtainable and possibly others are also in the ruins. Several persons stopping at the Windsor, were badly burned, and others injured have been brought to the hospital here. The hotels were all crowded with guests, and the Selkirk House was saved, only by the heroic work of guests and townspeople.

The fire originated in the Windsor Hotel, cause unknown, and spread so rapidly that few of the guests secured even clothing to cover them. The property loss will exceed $25,000; insurance $6,800.

Kingsville Hotel Burned.

Kingsvile, Ont., May 31.—The Exchange Hotel here, for the last year a temperance house, was razed to the ground yesterday. Fire was first discovered at 5 in the morning, and was extinguished by the firemen. But at 11 o'clock the fire broke out again and this time gutted the building. The loss is $15,000, partly covered by insurance. The proprietor, William Wilson, is at present in Calgary for his health, and Mrs. Wilson left Monday night for Detroit.

A Remarkable Operation.

Philadelphia, May 31.—Delegates to the convention of the American Laryngological Association witnessed a remarkable surgical operation here yesterday, when Dr. C. Jackson of Pittsburg, without the use of a knife, removed a brass paper clip that had been embedded in a young woman's bronchiel tube for eight years. The instrument used was bronchoscope, to which was attached a tiny electric light, a reflector and minute forceps. The tube was lowered down the patient's throat and the clip was removed after about an hour's work.

DERBY WON BY SUNSTAR

Not About to Withdraw.

Montreal, May 31.—W. G. Annable, passenger agent of the C.P.R., when asked yesterday concerning the reports that the line was about to withdraw from the North Atlantic Conference, replied that the story was incorrect. As a matter of fact, he said, there are always such rumors going around just before the conference sits.

TWO LOST THEIR LIVES

Rail Was Removed and Express Left the Track

Sympathizers of Section Men Are Suspected

Special to the Review.

London, May 31.—Engineer Quinlan and Fireman Stokes were killed early this morning when the Michigan Central express left the rails near Ridgetown. The engine turned over on its side in a ditch, and seven cars were derailed.

Stokes and Quinlan were both from St. Thomas. There is not any doubt but that the accident was brought about by some fiend removing a rail. A wrench and crowbar which were used were found nearby.

No passengers were hurt, but in addition to the two fatalities, two baggagemen were injured. Tools similar to those used in removing the rail were stolen from a toolhouse one week ago and it is suspected that sympathizers with section men, who recently lost their strike, are responsible for the outrage.

TOBACCO TRUST WILL BE GOOD

New York, May 31.—The American Tobacco Co. will undertake, in all good faith, a readjustment of its affairs, as directed by the United States Supreme Court, according to an official statement carefully prepared by officers of the company, and given out yesterday afternoon by W. W. Fuller, the trust's chief counsel.

"The Supreme Court in this case," reads the statement, "has said that the Sherman anti-trust law should be given an application more extensive than has been given in any other case. It has said that the American Tobacco Co. is embraced within its terms. My clients, of course, will obey the law as now interpreted, and will, in good faith, undertake the readjustment of their affairs under the direction of the Circuit Court of the southern district of New York, to which the court, the Supreme Court, has remitted the matter for direction."

Said De Lancey Nicoll, who assisted in presenting the trust's case to the Supreme Court:

"It is probable that a general plan will be agreed upon for the conducting of the business as directed by the court. We shall prepare a plan which we shall consider undeniably agreeable to the court.

"This will require long planning and attention to detail, and it will be long before the full proposition will have been worked out. However, I feel sure that we shall be able to present a plan which will meet with the approval and enable the bringing about of a new condition, fully in accord with the legal requirements."

CONNEAU NOW LEADS THE RACE

Garros Had His Machine Broken—Frey Injured

Special to the Review.

Rome, Italy, May 31.—Conneau, known also as Beaumont, arrived at Rome to-day leading in the Paris to Turin aeroplane race. Garros, whom he succeeded in passing, had his machine smashed within fifty miles of the city. Frey also came to grief by an accident, and was slightly injured.

Contraband Brandy Seized.

Montreal, May 31.—Three hundred bottles of the best brandy, which, unknown to the officers of the ship, were being smuggled over on the Gothland of the Canada Line, which recently arrived in port, were Monday seized by the officials of the custom department and the whole consignment now awaits confiscation.

The liquor, in two-pint bottles, was sewed up in bags of bran, while other bottles were concealed in the bales and bundles of settlers' effects, down among the general cargo.

The shipment, it is alleged, was the result of an endeavor on the part of a Rotterdam merchant to send some of his goods to Canada to be disposed of at retail.

Trial by Gramaphone.

Montreal, May 31.—A novel experiment was tried for the first time in Canada at the court house—that of a trial's report by gramaphone.

The experiment was attended by Chief Justice Sir Melbourne Tait, Sheriff Lemieux, Messrs. N. K. Laflamme, K.C., Rosario Genest, advocate, and A. St. Martin, official court stenographer.

A show trial was started, Sir Melbourne acting as judge, Mr. Laflamme as attorney for the plaintiff, Mr. Genest as attorney for the defendant, and Sheriff Lemieux as the inevitable witness. After a prolonged sitting the gramaphone recited what had taken place.

The object was to ascertain if it would be possible to conduct the business of courts without court stenographers.

LEOPOLD SEES BOY FRIEND

Sequel to Youthful Friendship in Egypt.

Prince Looked up Montreal Youth For Old Times Sake.

Montreal, May 31.—The visit of His Royal Highness Prince Leopold of Battenburg, first cousin of King George, to Montreal has revealed the romance of a royal friendship for a citizen of this city in the person of C. G. Greenshields, son of J. N. Greenshields, K.C. The story began five years ago in an Egyptian hotel, when Prince Leopold, then a lad of seventeen, was attracted by the young Canadian of his own age, who was traveling with his parents. They met at dinner together, went pilgrimages together to the pyramids, and when the parting came, in boyish fashion the royal prince and young Greenshields swore fealty to each other, and promised to meet some day in the Canadian metropolis. A bond was made in which young Greenshields wrote his address and sealed it in a letter.

Last November the prince planned a round the world tour, and in his baggage was the letter he had received from young Greenshields in Egypt. Yesterday morning he arrived in Montreal and prepared to make himself known to Mr. Greensheilds. But the first person to arrive at the apartments of the prince in the Place Viger Hotel was his Canadian chum, and the friendship of old days was immediately renewed.

The prince has been charmed with Canada and has been heard to remark that his uncle, the Duke of Connaught, was lucky to live here. He intends to return here next year.

Prince In Canada Incog.

Toronto, May 31.—Prince Leopold of Battenburg, first cousin of King George V., left on Monday night for Quebec, and will sail for England on Thursday on the Empress of Ireland.

Prince Leopold arrived in Toronto on Saturday last and registered at the King Edward under an assumed name.

GERMANY WOULD BE A PARTY ALSO

Berlin, May 31.—The Nordeutsche Allgemeine Zietung leads off its issue of yesterday with an announcement of the steps Germany has taken toward arbitration.

"After the U. S. indicated to Germany her readiness to negotiate a broader arbitration treaty with the other powers as well as England," the newspaper says, "Germany expressed a wish to see the draft of the arbitration proposal and also indicated her readiness to take up the study of the proposition. The draft of the treaty will arrive here within a short time."

To the above statement can be added the semi-official expression of opinion that Germany, like Great Britain and France, is most sympathetic towards President Tafts arbitration proposal. Leading newspapers like The Frankfort Zietung welcome the news of the suggested arbitration treaty, though finding that the project is open to improvement on some important points.

School Means Schoolhouse.

Woodstock, Ont., May 31.—Ex-Public School Inspector William Carlyle lost his suit against Oxford County for $7,000 claimed as arrears of salary. Judge Britton gave judgment dismissing the action, but without costs in consideration of the fact of long service for the public schools of Mr. Carylye, and in consideration of the fact that he had not been superannuated. His lordship held that the word "school" in the School Act meant a school house, and he did not consider because the Government had decided to pay $5 for each department per annum inspected, the county were bound to pay the same proportion.

Laurier to Meet Taft.

Port Huron, Mich., May 31.—The Young Men's Business Association of Port Huron has received the acceptance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, to visit Port Huron in September, the same day that President Taft will be here. In view of the general interest in the pending reciprocity agreement the fact that President Taft and Premier Laurier are to be here on the same day has received extraordinary attention.

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE"

So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.

In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills.

"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend he advised a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exert on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines, freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the ailing."

For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

THE POWER SITUATION

The announcement by the Otonabee Power Company that it will spend $200,000 in developing power from dams 4 and 5, creating a big surplus of power over the present demand in Peterborough, came as somewhat of a surprise to many people, because it was supposed that the company was ready to sell out to the city if a satisfactory price could be agreed on. The city was informed through the mayor, however, that the Otonabee company plant was not for sale. If the plan for the development is carried through, and there is considerable surplus power held in Peterborough, the city would find it more difficult to carry through its civic power projects.

In some quarters it is believed that the Otonabee company's move is made with the idea of discouraging the city, if possible, from going into the cheap power business. It is quite true that with two private companies in the field, the city would have much more difficulty in disposing of the block of power it would secure by separate development, besides being put to the extra cost of a transmission system, distribution system, and finding a new market.

This, however, should not deter the city council from going ahead with the elaboration of a practical scheme, if one can be found, for the development of a supply of civic power. In the first place the street lighting costs the city about $9,000 a year, and in two years or so the contract of the city will expire. It would have this market immediately on completion of a system—for in any event a civic system could not be put into practical working shape before that. The question at the bottom of the problem is this: Will the city be content to let the power situation remain entirely in private hands, or will it for the sake of the future, and the expectation of ensuring a cheap price for power, go into a heavy expenditure, believing that cheap power is the price of success and growth municipally.

The price of power may not be regarded as unreasonable in Peterborough, as power prices go, but the question is not whether the price now is reasonable, but whether in view of Peterborough's situation, it cannot be made very much cheaper. Power corporations as a rule do not wage a rate-cutting war with each other; modern policy dictates an understanding with each other as to power prices. In this way the real benefit of competition is in many cases, generally speaking, nullified.

Welland is selling power to manufacturers at about $12 a horse power. The Cataract company sells power to Hamilton manufacturers around the $10 mark for large blocks. Trenton is advertising power at $15 per h.p. in small blocks to manufacturers. The Peterborough price is up to 4 h.p. $40; from 4 to 9 h.p. $30; from 9 to 19 h.p. $25; from 20 h.p. up $20, with special rates in large blocks, for 24 hour power.

While the refusal of the Otonabee company to negotiate with the city closes one avenue, unless recourse is taken to the Hydro-electric commission under its very wide powers of expropriation, it is most devoutly to be hoped that the city will press ahead with the question. To sell power around the $14 or $15 mark to manufacturers would be a great boost for Peterborough industrially; and the lighting rates are also high enough to afford a reduction at some time in the near future.

JUST A GOOD EXCUSE

The Grit newspaper organs are beginning to shout for the need of a closure to get parliamentary business through. But these brave assailants of a straw man do not tell their readers that the Opposition at Ottawa has occupied no more time discussing reciprocity than the Government members. There has been no obstruction of any account—and nothing like what it was in the old days. The fact that the Government is beginning "to holler before it is hurt" shows that it realizes its weakness and impotence in the face of the Opposition. It proposes to excuse its prospective rout on reciprocity by crying out for the throttling of free speech. Hon. Mr. Fisher had the honesty the other day to acknowledge that the Liberals were guilty of far more obstruction than the Conservatives, especially in 1885 and in 1896, when the remedial legislation was talked out. This obstruction game is one at which both parties can play, and it might be well for the Government to wait until after the new election before discussing it. It might easily be that the Liberals would be greatly opposed to the introduction of the closure, while the Conservatives would feel quite happy in thus depriving an Opposition of its chief weapon against railroading a measure through Parliament.

IT IS ABOUT TIME

The moving picture regulations passed at the recent session of the Legislature will go into force June 20. Each of the moving picture theatres has to pay a license of $100 to the Government, and children under fifteen must not be admitted unless accompanied by an adult. In the warm weather those who stay out of them in the open air are wise; because the absolute lack of ventilation in some of the moving picture theatres, with the foul air and reeking atmosphere is certainly harmful. Were there any provision for proper ventilation, it would be different. This is one of the things that the Government has not yet attempted to regulate, being a rather large question.

The moving picture place serves the purpose of offering amusement of a cheap nature, and it is time that the Government stepped in to prevent as much as possible of the evil arising from its very cheapness.

EDITORIAL NOTES

General Sherman once said that war is hell. The fact is generally admitted, but the revolution in Mexico is in a class by itself. Probably General Sherman would class it as hell with the fires gone out.

The holiday on Saturday will be confined to postal and other government office employees, and the banks. But there is nothing to prevent you from setting off your left-over supply of fire-crackers in your back yard to celebrate the King's birthday.

The Murray Government in Nova Scotia has been in power for 29 years. It is be-whiskered with age. Surely there must be barnacles that need removal. The swing of the pendulum is so slow that one is led to wonder if Nova Scotia has any pendulum to swing.

That Toronto City Council is about as frothy and erratic a civic body as can be found in Canada. It is exceeded in lack of balance only by the newspapers of the place. It is always "firing" someone or talking about firing someone, and in this it is a good imitator of our own Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Tobacco Trust case, ordering it to dissolve within six months, is almost identically the same decision as was rendered in the Standard Oil Company case. The trust is composed of sixty-five companies. The only people likely to benefit materially by these decisions are the high priced corporation lawyers.

Justice Middleton has decided in Toronto that ice cream and ice cream soda cannot be sold on Sunday in restaurants, except as part of a meal. If this is the law in Toronto, it must be the law in Peterborough. In Hamilton an ice cream case was decided in a similar manner, and a piece of pie was sold with each dish of ice cream to evade the law. If one could enjoy restaurant pies, the ice cream would be desirable, but the trouble is that the pies aren't like those "mother used to make."

To-morrow morning the census enumerators launch out on their arduous campaign of gathering much private and personal information concerning everyone. It is to be hoped that they will be given the utmost assistance by the people. The questions they ask are sometimes seemingly absurd or trival, or perhaps offensive, but the information is necessary for the proper compilation of the national statistics.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

EX-WARDEN SCOTT RECOMMENDED.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—As the air is full of rumors as to forthcoming elections, both Dominion and Provincial, there are naturally many guesses as to whom the respective standard bearers of the two great political parties here shall be. I see by the Morning Times that Col. Miller is a possible candidate for West Peterborough for the Toronto house. Now it would be a great piece of presumption for any individual to ask point blank whether Col. Miller would, as he inevitably be impelled to do, resign the office to which he was recently appointed under Premier Whitney, and which he fills so acceptably. The logical conclusion, however, would naturally be against Col. Miller giving up a certainty in office to face the chances in an election, even though his personality and popularity, as well as the popularity of the cause he would advocate publicly are concerned.

Now, Mr. Editor, when the time arrives to actually select a Conservative standard bearer, I would respectfully suggest the name of Mr. Robert Scott, of the township of Smith, as Conservative candidate for the local house. Mr. Scott has very ably filled the chair of Warden and Reeve for that splendid agricultural township. Mr. Scott has always been an ardent supporter of his party. He is not one of those straddle the fence, weak-kneed brothers, who for the sake of some petty emolument or graft, voted Conservative in the Dominion elections and for Peterborough's budding millionaire at the Provincial elections. Mr. Scott is a well known, honest farmer, of high intelligence, who would be a worthy representative of this great agricultural county, and a man whom the city of Peterborough could rely on to advance their interests. The nomination of ex-Warden Scott would ensure not only a Liberal turnover in his own township for the party, but an assured victory in the riding.

THAT DECREE.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Your articles on Ne Temere seem to take the view that some people think Ne Temere is the law of the land, or is to become so. That is not the point, I think, of the general uproar. That point is that no matter what opinion other bodies have of the laws, those other bodies leave their correction or rectification to the PEOPLE, while the Church of Rome will leave it to itself, and no one else. Hence when the latter utters a pronouncement that does not appeal to the people, but is in defiance of the people we ask who is running this country anyhow, the Church or the People?

Yours, &c.,

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"Now I know! Now I have found the way!"

"But—I don't understand," stammered Kirby. "I cannot permit you to make any effort on my behalf. And, then, there is your family"—

"Hush!" she whispered. "Here comes the family now."

Kirby unconsciously started, then drew himself up as the door opened, disclosing Mme. Davezac, Ann Pleydell and Anatole Veaudry.

"Anatole," cried Adele as they paused, astonished, "we must ask you to give up your seat in the carriage. You see, our friend has come, after all."

"Our friend?" echoed Mme. Davezac, coming eagerly forward. "What—is it possible? You mean, Adele, that this gentleman"—

"Yes," cried Adele, her eyes smoldering with excitement. "Quite possible, as you see. Aunt Davezac, Miss Pleydell, M. Anatole Veaudry, I wish to present—Colonel Moreau. The colonel's plans have changed. He rides with us to the plantation."

"Eh bien! Delightful," exclaimed Mme. Davezac, while the others expressed their astonishment and pleasure—"that is," she added playfully, with an arch glance at the pseudo Moreau, "if Colonel Moreau will not change his plans again."

Accustomed to such astounding turns of fortune, Kirby quickly recovered the composure shattered by the totally unexpected and amazing introduction of Adele. "No, madam," he replied gravely, bowing to the still archly smiling Mme. Davezac, "Colonel Moreau won't change his plans again."

And in this unheralded manner, under false colors which had been hoisted by the protecting, merciful and ignorant hand of one who had she known his identity would have been the last to act as his savior, came Cameo Kirby to the house of his enemies.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE journey to the Randall plantation, occupying a full day, marked an epoch in Eugene Kirby's life—a fact of which from its inception he was entirely unconscious. Without a single exception it was the first time in fifteen years that he had been received on a footing of equality—even intimacy—with that high type of womanhood to which his birth entitled him and which had been forfeited when he had yielded to the lure of the river and the wiles of evil companions. And, even though he did not forget that his present standing had been won by grace of a girl's ready sympathy, the knowledge did not interfere with a thorough enjoyment and appreciation of the moment.

Under the impression that they were entertaining Colonel Moreau, benefactor and champion of the Randall family, Miss Pleydell and Mme. Davezac yielded the more readily to Kirby's charm of manner, while the General, conscious that he was acting in some mysterious way as the secret and trusty friend of his hairbreadth escape hero, hung on the latter's every word.

Indeed, a more impregnable audience would have found their entertainer irresistible, for Kirby put forth every effort to please, his payment a laugh from Adele or a flush in her pale cheek. Nor were his efforts prompted by egoism, any longing for self exploitation; rather, in fact, they were spontaneous, a tribute to the goddess Fortune, which had graciously associated him with a type of femininity which he had longed to meet and despaired of so doing.

Thus, with its four occupants in the happiest frame of mind and on the best of terms, the roomy, close topped carriage, its sleepy negro driver monotonously clucking at the horses, jogged placidly over the sunlit roads, while Anatole Veaudry, riding gloomily behind, winced whenever he heard Adele's fresh and care free laughter.

It was an unwonted sound, and more than once he caught himself commenting that it was as unwelcome.

Meanwhile Kirby's good angel—if a professional gambler may be permitted to own one—was in another direction looking after his interests with unabated zeal, postponing his exposure and consequently prolonging his intimacy with the Randalls.

It must be remembered that only Tom Randall and his cousin Aaron had met Colonel Moreau, and thus Kirby's exposure as an impostor could only come from these two. The hot headed, vengeful boy was still busy scouring New Orleans for his supposed enemy, and thus his presence at the plantation would be indefinitely postponed until he had either succeeded in tracking Kirby or had abandoned all hope of so doing.

On the other hand, however, Aaron, heeding his cousin's wishes, had accompanied Croup to the plantation, where he confidently expected to find Judge Pleydell, who had preceded him thither; but, learning on his arrival that the latter had ridden over to his plantation, Aaron immediately followed. It so happened, however, that Judge Pleydell, completing his errand, had returned to the Randalls and, taking a short cut through a lane which connected the two estates, unwittingly passed Aaron, who had followed the highroad. Thus when Kirby and the ladies eventually arrived the old judge, supported by a jubilant crowd of negro field hands and domestic servants, was the only one to welcome them.

Standing on the steps of the wide veranda while she swung her bonnet by its strings, Adele, smiling and flushing by turns, boldly introduced the pseudo Moreau to her family's old friend.

"Colonel Moreau, this is indeed a happy and propitious occasion," warmly responded the judge, while he shook Kirby by the hand. "And never in my life have I seen so delightful and welcome an alteration as is apparent in the health and spirits of the young mistress of this plantation. What is the magic secret to account for so great a change since last evening?"

"Ah, it was the ride!" demurely suggested his daughter, glancing from Adele to Kirby.

"The ride!" echoed Mme. Davezac. "Mais—non. It was that charming Colonel Moreau. I think he brings the sunshine we have been waiting for so long."

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her Feel Young Again

Mrs. John McRae had Kidney Disease She was nervous, run down, and suffering from Rheumatism. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her

Previl, Que., May 30.—(Special)—Nearing the three score mark, but feeling like a woman of thirty, Mrs. John McRea, wife of a farmer living near here, is telling her neighbors that she owes her health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For two years and seven months," says Mrs. McRea, "I was a sufferer from Kidney Disease, brought on by a strain and a cold. My eyes were puffed and swollen, my muscles cramped, and I suffered from Neuralgia and Rheumatism. My back ached and I had pains in my joints.

"For two years I was under the doctor's care, but he never seemed to do me any lasting good. Then I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes made a new woman of me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make tired, run-down women feel as if life had started all over again for them by curing the Kidneys. Healthy Kidneys mean pure blood, and pure blood means new life all over the body.

$50,000 Fire at the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 30.—In a serious fire at the coke ovens of the Lake Superior Corporation yesterday morning, damage to the extent of $50,000 was done, covered by insurance. The coke ovens themselves, were not damaged, but the storehouse, office and sub-electric station supplying power to the ovens, was destroyed. All that remains of three buildings is a pile of fire brick. Some $500 damage was done to stock in the interior of the proxide plant, due to water. The building itself is not damaged to any great extent. The coke ovens will close operations for about 12 hours till temporary wiring can be placed. This is now impossible owing to the heat over the ruins, where a number of live wires are embedded.

Shocked, Fell Thirty Feet.

Preston, May 30.—On Saturday at Preston, George Reid, a young man employed on the Hydro-Electric transmission line, received a shock of 2,200 volts and was thrown from the top of a 30-foot pole. In his fall he landed on his shoulder and the sde of his head. His shoulder bone from fractured, his face bruised, and he suffered a fracture of the knee. He is suffering great pain and is in a very serious condition.

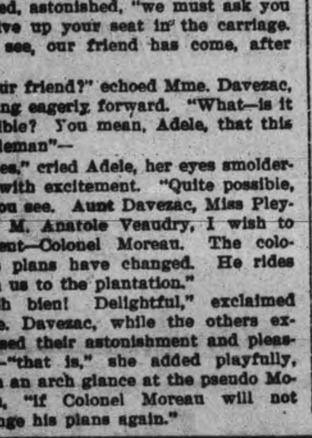
A Combined Treatment That Really Cures Catarrh.



Canadian weather, with its extreme cold and sudden changes, gives almost every one Catarrh, and makes it hard to cure. Some recommend internal remedies—some external applications.

Father Morriscy used both—tablets to be taken three or four times a day to invigorate the system, purify the blood, and help it throw off the disease, and a soothing, healing, antiseptic salve to be applied inside the nostrils. This combined treatment known as attacking the disease from within and without, soon cures.

"Father Morriscy's No. 26"

Mr. A. C. Thibodeau, General Merchant in Rogersville, N.B., writes on Jan. 22nd last:

"A few words as to the merits of your Catarrh Cure. For the last 10 years I have been troubled with Catarrh of the head and stomach and during that time have tried all kinds of other Remedies with no results, until I tried your Catarrh Cure which I am glad to say has cured me. I highly recommend it to those who are suffering with this disease."

Don't trifle with Catarrh—cure it with Father Morriscy's No. 26.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 30.—One more day remains for the shorts in May wheat, and it is expected that they will have come in, as the bull leaders show no disposition to change their attitude. Their position has thrown the Chicago market out of line, and drawn an immense quantity of wheat here from the interior and from other terminal markets, for which there is no demand at present. That prices of May are fictitious as compared with cash wheat was shown by the number 2 and number 2 hard selling 10c to 11c under May. It is a technical, but not a legitimate, situation; the shorts has to do his buying in the pit, being unable to take the cash grain on track and get it into store in time to make his delivery on May wheat. A sale of June wheat was made here Monday at 89c, or ½c over July, and 14c under the May. This was in line with the cash wheat in the sample market. To have 14c difference between May and June at this time of the year is something strikingly unusual and was generally commented on. The board of trade was closed to-day, Decoration Day.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 30.—There was some enquiry for Manitoba spring wheat from foreign buyers, but as the prices bid were 2c per bushel out of line, no sales were made. The demand for oats from European sources was quieter, and, as the prices bid were just flat with the market here, exporters would not accept them. A fair local trade is passing in oats at firm prices. There was an improved demand for foreign buyers for spring wheat flour, but, owing to the strength in wheat, millers are asking an advance of 6d per sack on the prices bid. The local market is fairly active.

A few exporters sold at $5.90 to $6.10, but only 6 cattle brought the latter price. These six cattle were of extra quality, none better having been seen on either market this season, and were bought by Jesse Dunn.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers sold at $5.85 to $5.95; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.30 to $5.55; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $4 to $5.25; bulls, $4.25 to $5.

Stockers and Feeders.

Short-keep feeders, $5.40 to $5.70; feeders, $5.20 to $5.40; stockers, $4.75 to $5.15.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair supply of milkers and springers, but a much weaker market than last week. Prices ranged from $50 to $70 each for good to choice cows, and $35 to $45 for common to medium.

Veal Calves.

Receipts moderately large and prices steady to firm, ranging from $4 to $6.50, with a few of good quality as high as $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were liberal, and prices steady. Sheep, ewes sold at $4.50 to $5.25; rams, $3.50 to $4 per cwt.; yearling lambs, $6 to $6.50 per cwt.; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50 each.

Hogs.

Hogs are higher. Selects fed and watered sold as high as $6.50 at the market, and $6.20 to $6.25 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points. We heard of $6.15, $6.20 and even $6.25 being paid to farmers at points in Western Ontario.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Beeves—Receipts, 485 head; no trading; steady feeling.

Calves—Receipts, 221 head; feeling weak; common to prime, $6 to $8; culls, $5 to $5.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5500 head; sheep steady; lambs 25c lower; yearlings 50c lower; sheep, $3.75 to $4.85; culls, $2.50 to $3.50; lambs, $7.25 to $8.50; yearlings, $5 to $6; culls, $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 3770 head; nominally steady, at $6 to $6.60.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at 2000; market steady. Beeves, $5.15 to $6.40; Texas steers, $4.60 to $5.55; western steers, $4.80 to $5.60; stockers and feeders, $3.90 to $5.70; cows and heifers, $2.50 to $5.80; calves, $5.25 to $8.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 14,000; market slow, light, $5.80 to $6.20; mixed, $5.75 to $6.15; heavy, $6 to $6.10; rough, $5.60 to $5.80; good to choice heavy, $5.80 to $6.10; pigs, $5.60 to $6.15; bulk of sales, $6 to $6.10.

Sheep—Receipts estimated at 14,000; market slow; native, $3.25 to $4.75; western, $3.75 to $4.85; yearlings, $4.50 to $5.50; lambs, native, $4.75 to $6.75; western, $5.75 to $7.

Cheese Markets.

STIRLING, May 30.—At to-day's cheese board 895 boxes were offered. All sold at 10¾c, to F. W. Brenton.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30.—910 boxes boarded; 495 sold at 10 9-16c, 140 at 10½c offered for balance, but refused.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any m 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success.

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach; and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

FELL FROM SCAFFOLD

Serious Accident to Five Year Old Son of Jos. Begley

Concussion of the Brain Is Feared

A very serious accident occurred last night about half past seven to little John Begley, five years of age, son of Joseph Begley, 512 Charlotte street, when he fell from the second storey of a new house which is being completed on Frederick street, and while the extent of his injuries is not fully known the doctors think that his arm is out at the socket in the shoulder, and that there is a concussion of the brain. He is in St. Joseph's hospital, whence he was conveyed in the Dan Spence ambulance last night, and at six o'clock this morning he was still unconscious.

The children in the neighborhood are in the habit of playing in the new house, and last night, accompanied by some others, the young boy was in the second storey of the house. He climbed out through one on the windows on to the scaffolding, and fell to the ground, alighting, it is supposed, on his shoulder. Nobody but one lad actually saw the accident. Two doctors were immediately summoned, and after the unconscious lad had been brought to his home in a where an examination was made, he was taken to the hospital.

At 3.30 this afternoon the patient was still under chloroform.

BOY SCOUTS TO BE NAMED TO-NIGHT

Meeting of Committee in Charge of Arrangements

Now that the council has been generous enough to accede to the request of a $200 grant to send two local boy scouts to the coronation, a meeting will be held this evening by those in charge of the arrangements to choose the boys who are to represent Peterborough. The names will be published to-morrow.

It is not likely that the Mc Namaras will be brought to trial in Los Angeles until September.

MOVING PICTURE LICENSES INCREASED FROM $25 TO $100

Children Under Fifteen Years of Age Barred Unless Accompanied by An Adult.

Local proprietors of moving picture houses have received a copy of the new regulations governing same, and which call for an increase in the annual fee from $25 to $100. The operators on the machines must also pay a license fee of $5 and pass an examination before a Board of Censors.

CHILDREN UNDER 15.

Probably the most important clause of the regulations is that children under fifteen years of age must not be admitted to the picture shows unless accompanied by an adult. For a conviction, on an offence being charged the minimum fine is $50 and the maximum $200.

Besides the $100 fee the local by-law demands a license fee of $40 for houses where only moving pictures are shown, and $50 where vaudeville is included.

All government licenses will be made out to expire on June 1st, and while to-morrow was the date set for the new law to go into effect, a report from Toronto says that the time is extended to June 26, the delay being principally due to the illness of the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. A. J. Matheson. His illness has brought about a delay in the appointment of the Board of Censors required by the act, and the board will probably not be named before the end of the week, or after the time set for the going into force of the new act. The act provides that all films to be exhibited in Ontario must be passed upon by the Board of Censors and stamped, and the impossibility of a Board of Censors, appointed at this late date, passing upon all the films to be used after Tuesday necessitated a postponement.

The proprietors of the Crystal and Royal Theatres have already secured their licenses, and have written to the assistant treasurer of the department asking if they will be affected this year by the increase in the fee.

REGIMENTAL INSPECTION; MARCH TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Parade at the Armories Called for Three O'clock—To Attend St. John's.

The 57th Regiment turned out in force last night for the annual inspection. The inspecting officers were Lieut. Col. Ogilvie, D.A.A.G., Captain Clarke and Captain Lambert, from Kingston. Both bands were in attendance and were also inspected.

The Regiment will parade at the Armories next Sunday afternoon for the purpose of attending Divine service at St. John's Church.

The following orders were promulgated.

Headquarters
Peterboro, May 30, 1911

Orders by officer commanding 57th Regiment, Peterboro Rangers

No. 1. Detail of duty for week ending June 6th, 1911, captain for the week, Capt. Mills; next for duty, Capt. Cluxton. Subaltern for the week, Lieut. Rackham, next for duty Lieut. R. Cameron.

No. 2. The Regiment will parade in "Divine service order" at the Armories, on Sunday June 4, 1911, at 3 p.m. and will march at 4 p.m. to St. John's Church, for the purpose of attending Divine service.

No. 3. Officers commanding Companies, will, immediately after this evening's parade, leave out in their respective armories, all helmets which require cleaning.

HAPPY OCCASION FOR THE COLDSPRINGS SUNDAY SCHOOL

Most Successful Anniversary Ever Held — The Program.

The most successful anniversary tea and concert in the history of the Coldsprings Sunday school was held last evening in their hall, which was filled to capacity. From six o'clock till eight-thirty tea was served in the hall, after which the concert was immediately commenced.

The first number was a rousing chorus "Onward Christian Soldiers," given by the school. The chairman's address, by Mr. Frank Kitney, followed, in which he congratulated the audience on the anniversary occasion, and hoped that the Sunday school would continue in its flourishing condition.

The following program was then given—

Recitation—J. McGowan.
Address—Rev. H. J. Keith.
Solo—Miss Hill.
Reading—Miss Thomas.
Address—Rev. H. R. Trumpour.
Recitation—Miss Hill.
Solo—Mr. T. Williams.
Address—Rev. W. C. Riddiford.

Rev. J. G. Brown was to have been present, but was unable to, owing to the Bay of Quinte Conference, which he is attending.

The gathering broke up with the hearty singing of the National Anthem.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be almost sufficient to wipe out the financial liability which rests upon the Coldsprings Sunday school hall.

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE A VERY POWERFUL DRAMA

So many plays visit us of an order which, while not positively vulgar, are suggestive, immodest or common, that the advent of an attraction that is not only free from the above objections, but is also classical, will be a welcome treat to those who have been waiting for something good. To this class of play-goers such a treat will soon be offered, in the coming of Mr. Waldmann, the great German-English tragedian who will be seen at the Grand Opera House in Stevenson's masterpiece of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Saturday, June 3. The story of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," is familiar to the greater class of theatregoers. It runs as follows:

Dr. Jekyll is a student, a scholar and a human man, a reputable physician and an expert chemist. In one of his experiments he discovers a potion which enables him to transform himself into Mr. Hyde, a monster of depravity, and thus gratify all the vile passions and cruel impulses without fear of detection. By its use he is also enabled to restore himself to his original person. Little by little he yields to the influence of the drug as one may yield to liquor or to an opiate. Jekyll at times becomes transformed into Hyde without the drug. At last the drug is exhausted. Jekyll cannot supply its peculiar property, which the original potion possessed. For the last time transformed against his will into Mr. Hyde, there is no escape except by suicide.

PLANT NOT FOR SALE

Says President of the Otonabee Power Company

At the meeting of the committee of the whole council last night Mayor Morrow read letters of correspondence between himself and the president of the Otonabee Power Company regarding the securing of an option by the city, and the final letter from Mr. Ferguson is as follows—

W. G. Morrow, Esq., Mayor, City of Peterborough, City.

Dear Sir,—In further reply to your letter of the 15th inst., we beg to state that after very careful consideration and consultation with our leading shareholders, we have decided not to offer our property for sale.

We trust in coming to this conclusion you and the City Council will understand that we are actuated only by a desire to serve the best interests of our own shareholders, and notwithstanding such conclusion, that we will receive the same generous support and consideration at the hands of the Council, as we have in the past.

Yours respectfully,
OTONABEE POWER CO.,
W. G. Ferguson.
President.

THEATRICAL

A Prince for a Day at the Grand

"A Prince for a Day," the second performance of the famous Bert La Monte fun-makers, at the Grand last evening, while not largely attended was really worthy of a better patronage. The caste of the company is small, but clever, and the singing and acting is of no mean order. The chorus all have good voices and Bert La Monte, the leading vocal artist, has a wonderful tenor voice, which he displayed to excellent advantage in numerous song hits. The Cowboy Quartet were warmly applauded in their catchy numbers, and had to respond repeatedly.

FINGERS INJURED

Employee of Blacksmith Shop Injured by Drop Hammer

An employee of the blacksmith department of the Canadian General Electric Company, named Richard Green had two fingers broken and one lacerated on his right hand while at work this morning. His hand was jammed in one of the drop hammers. He was taken to Nicholl's Hospital, and his injuries dressed by Dr. Young. It is not likely that the fingers will have to be amputated. He lives at 308 Aylmer Street.

Moist Heat is the Natural Heat

YOUR HOUSE WILL "FEEL" WARMER AT 65° WITH MOIST AIR THAN AT 70° WITH DRY

Door Open to fill pan.

Either door may be used.

Adding moisture to the air in your home will give you the same heat for less fuel.

A consideration, no doubt.

But that is not all.

Warm dry air, however pure, is not healthful. The human body demands more moisture than is carried in the winter air.

The "Hecla" supplies this moisture in plenty. A large circular pan of water is placed where it will be easy to fill and where it will not be overlooked.

Circular Water Pan

Has five times the evaporating surface of pans placed over furnace door. Runs clear around the back of the furnace. Will hold enough water to last 24 hours. May be filled at either door, as shown above.

No Gas or Dust.

And it is just as important to keep the air free from coal gas and dust.

In the "Hecla" every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an outlet, has been fused absolutely tight by our patented process. The same fused joints keep out the dust and smoke.

"Hecla" Furnace

SAVES ONE TON OF COAL IN SEVEN.

By actual test the "Hecla" saves one ton of coal in seven. That is, it is so constructed as to give the same heat for six tons of coal as you ever got from seven.

ACCIDENT TO HARRY RODDY

Received Fracture of Bone in Leg and Sprain to Arm

Harry Roddy, a well known former Peterborough boy, and once prominent here in baseball circles, sustained serious injuries on Saturday, May 20th, at Murray's Bay, near Quebec, while working for the Bishop Construction Company.

It appears that Mr. Roddy fell from a telegraph pole with such force as to fracture one leg and sprain one arm. Mrs. McGill, Sherbrooke street, who is a relative of Mr. Roddy, received a letter from a friend in Quebec telling her of the accident, but not stating the exact particulars. At present he is at the Jeffrey Hale Hospital, Quebec, but it will be several weeks before he will be around again. As far as ascertained he suffered no internal injuries. Harry has been in the electrical business for some years and has managed many contracts of installing power plants, etc. At one time he was pitcher for the famous Charlotte street church baseball team.

TO DISCONTINUE USING OIL ON STREETS; GRANT OF $200 TO HELP THE BOY SCOUTS

Estimate on Improvements at the Police Station Now $3600—Mr. Duggan's Case Settled But Committee Appointed at Meeting Will be Heard—Meeting of Board of Works and Committee of Whole Council.

Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the Board of Works, and also that of the Committee of the whole Council last night. Ald. Metheral, chairman of the Board of Works called the members of his committee to do duty first.

VICTORIA PARK WALK

The secretary of the Peterborough Horticultural Society wrote asking about the sidewalk in Victoria Park. The Society will pay over to the city $100 received from the county.

The city gives $200 and the cost may possibly go over $300, if the style proposed by the society is carried out. As the engineer had not made an estimate he was requested to do so.

COST OF TARVIA

The city engineer sent an estimate of the cost of treating a block of George Street with Tarvia at $74.75. This cost could be reduced if suitable equipment was secured.

The cost of the treatment on Simcoe Street would, had the city had to pay, be $28.30 or 3 1-4c a square yard. This treatment was given free by the company and is so far satisfactory.

COLLEGE STREET SEWER

Ratepayers on College Street asked for a sewer between McDonnel and Murray Streets. The engineer will report.

CITY PROPERTY

The McDonald estate will be allowed to occupy for industrial purposes parts of Crescent and Rink Street on payment of a rental of $1 yearly. Mr. Watt will have a similar privilege. The highway is not obstructed.

DOWNIE STREET SIDEWALK

The engineer will report on a sidewalk for Downie street west, between London and Dublin Street, which was asked for.

NO MORE OIL

The chairman noted that complaints had been made by owners of bicycles and automobiles against the oil on the street.

"I'd say cut it out" said Ald. Duncan, meaning of course the oil.

"It keeps the dirt down and helps to improve the road" said the Mayor.

"You'll find objections to doing away with the oil" remarked Ald. Brown.

"This oil is no good, I wouldn't be in favor of using another gallon" added Ald. Duncan.

"I move that we use no more oil after present orders of two car tanks of oil is used up, and that the waetr contracts be let," said Ald. Duncan.

"I'll second that" put in Ald. Bullens.

Ald. Morgan remarked that East City would be satisfied with the oil. It was decided that no more oil be used and that the water contracts be let or have the work done by day labor.

STREET GRADE

The engineer will give to Mr. Ferguson on Concession Street the grade of the street so that he may construct his walks.

CROSSINGS

Judge Huycke asked for a cement crossing on Dale Avenue. The chairman and engineer will take up the matter. Other crossings on Dublin and Edinburgh Streets on Aylmer St. will receive attention.

GRAVELLING CHAMBERLAIN ST.

Ald. Buller held that Chamberlain Street should be gravelled. The chairman was notified to interview the Monaghan Council to find if gravel can be secured from Leany's gravel pit. The street will be gravelled, if an arrangement can be made for the supply and the report is satisfactory to the committee.

ON THE SQUARE

If the City Trust Commission will stand the cost of a new sidewalk across the west side of the market, the engineer will go ahead with the work. This sidewalk runs along the back of the building facing George Street, and a new one is badly needed.

SMITH STREET BRIDGE

Regarding the grading of the Smith Street bridge, the Mayor, the chairman and engineer will decide. The Mayor is not in favor of further grading.

The curb at water fountain, on Water Street, at the police station will be filled in with cement.

SHERBROOKE STREET REQUEST

Ratepayers at 574 and 576 Sherbrooke Street will be allowed to construct a curb in front of their premises when the engineer gives them the proper line. The application was made through Ald. Brown.

$200 FOR BOY SCOUTS

A deputation composed of His Honor Judge Huycke, F. D. Kerr, secretary of the Boy Scout Movement Committee, T. F. Matthews and Chief Scoutmaster Neale waited on the Committee of the Whole Council, with the request that aid be given by the Council whereby Peterborough Boy Scouts would be represented on the Ontario contingent which will make the trip for the coronation.

Judge Huycke, who spoke first, said that the object of the deputation's visit on behalf of the committee was to ask assistance to send two of the Peterborough Boy Scouts with the Ontario Contingent to the coronation. Four hundred dollars was needed and the request from the council was for $200. The remainder would be obtained by subscriptions.

Mr Matthews remarked that a number of Ontario municipalities had acted in the interests of the contingent. The movement, he said, was recognized as one advertising Canada, and the boys would be under good moral influence.

Mr. Kerr noted that it was necessary that $200 of a guarantee be put up for expences. The boys would be under other expense as to outfits, etc., and this would have to be met with by their parents.

Ald. Kerneghan and Ald. Bradburn moved, that $200 be granted, and the motion was carried.

BAND CONCERT

The band will be asked to give the usual weekly band concert on June 22nd, Coronation Day, instead of Friday.

BROCK STREET ROLLER RINK.

Dr. McClelland, on behalf of residents on Brock street, was present in regard to a petition signed and sent to the secretary, and which was a vigorous protest against the hand-organ "noise" and rowdyism at Brock street roller rink.

It is not altogether known just what action the council can take in the matter.

Dr. McClelland was at a former meeting of the police commissioners, asked to take the matter up with the Crown Attorney. He took this step, but the attorney informed him, so he said, that he had no jurisdiction in the matter.

It was remarked that the rink would close this week, and the matter was left over for further discussion.

POLICE STATION.

Mr. Blackwell submitted plans and an estimate for improvements to the police station, the latter being $3,600. The plans are satisfactory to Chief Thompson.

It was decided that the plans be left with the Property Committee and Ald. Graham for a report to the meeting of the Council on Monday night.

MR. DUGGAN'S CASE.

The resolution of the manufacturers members of the professions and Retail Merchants' Association regarding the office of Industrial Commissioner, which has been published, was read by the mayor.

"I thought we had dealt with this matter," remarked Ald. Graham.

"I think its only right that those men should be allowed to state their views, although I don't think it will alter the mind of the council," said Ald. Brown.

Ald. Edgar moved that a hearing be given to the committee appointed by the meeting at the council meeting Monday night, and Ald. Buller seconded the motion.

"What about the office?" asked Ald. Kerneghan.

It was generally agreed that the question, so far as Mr. Duggan is concerned, was settled for good.

The clerk was instructed to write Mr. Denham, chairman of the committee, to the effect that the council could see no good end to be served by reopening the matter regarding Mr. Duggan, but that if a deputation wished to meet the council on Monday night, it would be heard.

CATERPILLARS.

"Is anything going to be done regarding the caterpillars?" asked Ald Edgar.

Several of the committee thought that citizens should look after the work themselves.

No action was taken.

STREET DEFINITIONS.

On motion of Ald. Bradburn and Buller, the lines of the street between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie street visited by the recent fire will be defined, and also those on Dalhousie street east of George street to the river front. The C.P.R. will be notified to remove their siding.

This will be of assistance to the city in protecting their rights in the event of further building on this property.

BOAT HOUSES.

Boat owners can go ahead and erect their boat houses along the river front, the committee deciding on this question. The owners, however, must abide with the new agreement.

A VACANT OFFICE.

The matter of the department of Industrial Commissioner was referred to the Manufacturers' Committee, which will report to the meeting of the council Monday night.

AN EXCURSION.

The matter of making a donation for prizes for an excursion from Toronto coming to Peterborough on June 17th was left in the hands of the Reception Committee. Several hundred people will come and the sports will take place at the Nicholls Oval.

McINTIRE AND FUNGO BATTING

Chicago Cub Flinger Has Long Distance Clouting Bug

For the second time this season Harry McIntire, master of the side arm spitter and premier fungo swatter of the Chicago National League camp, has issued a challenge, one of those regular three pile defies, to all aspiring sluggers of the National. In his ultimatum, hurled broadcast around the realm of organized ball, Mac offers to trim any fungo specialist in captivity.

The former dodger has studied the fine art of long distance swatting for more than ten years, starting in a jocular moment while driving fly balls to Dusty Miller on the Memphis "turtleback" grounds in batting practice. On the afternoon in question Miller attempted to catch McIntire's wallops in each of the gardens—left, right and centre—but the big slab marvel easily hammered the ball over every section of the fence until the manager called a halt to the festivities, reminding that McIntire that baseballs are not to be picked off the bushes.

He attributes his success solely to the manner in which he grips his bat. Give him a light war club, thirty six inches long, and he'll stand up there all afternoon ramming the horsehide to all quarters of the plant.

"There's a certain knack about fungo hitting essential to real success," says McIntire. "For instance, one must clutch the bat with his right hand, laying particular stress upon the swing, while the left hand attends to the job of guiding the club in the collision with the leather. No exceptional muscular development is required, although of course, to be a master at the game one must devote considerable time to practice. Singularly enough, left handed batters rarely blossom out as top notch fungo smashers."

The National league has but one sticker who stands in a class ahead of McIntire in this line of work. The boss of 'em all "Big Mike" Mitchell of the Reds topped Harry two seasons ago during a field meet at League park, Cincinatti, combing the pill a distance of 415 feet from deep right field into the home plate. In his first two trials Mike fell down flat, barely driving the ball to first base, but the third time he sure gave that ball a terrific knock on the beak, hanging up his record clout. In his three trials McIntire registered wallops of 405, 408 and 411 feet, thereby earning second money.

McIntire claims his record wallop travelled 475 feet, the ball sailing from the home plate on over the clubhouse in center field at the Brooklyn ball park. During a stopover last spring at the Washington American league grounds Mac spanked a fungo 450 feet, nudging the horsehide over the big sign in left field. Prior to this achievement no player had ever driven the ball over that section of the grounds.

"Too often the batters practicing at this style of hitting will swing at the ball just as they do while engaged in actual batting against pitchers. That's where they go wrong on the dope," says the big Cub. In looking over the various clubs of the two major circuits he gives a word of praise to Ed. Walsh in the American league and to Brown and Mathewson of the National Like Mac. these three flingers are giants in stature and possessed of tremendous back muscles, mighty handy adjuncts in carrying on any kind of batting exercises.

Located It Exactly.

With his jaw swollen so as to nearly close his eye, a sailor rushed into a dentist's office and told the dentist to extract an aching tooth as soon as possible. After getting the man seated in the chair the doctor asked which tooth he wished pulled, and the sailor, nearly crazed by pain, lost no time in saying, "Upper deck, second one from aft, port side."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Verdict of Homicide.

Montreal, May 31.—Homicide was the verdict returned at the enquiry yesterday at the morgue into the death of Alexander Luckos, who expired in the General Hospital on Sunday, and George Constankio, accused of having struck the blow which killed him during a drinking bout last Thursday, will go before the court on the charge of manslaughter.

John Kinnear, aged 80, was found dead in the bush near his home in Leeds county.

CORPS OF ROGUES

French Foreign Legion a Unique Military Body.

CRIMINALS FILL ITS RANKS.

It Gathers Recruits From the Social Outcasts of All Grades of All Other Countries—Iron Discipline and Brutal Punishments.

The French Foreign Legion is unique. There is no other military organization like it on earth. It was first raised in 1831 for service in the then newly conquered colony of Algeria. The officers are French officers, of course, but the ranks are made up of outcasts of all social ranks of all other countries. It is understood that recruits are simply seeking refuge from the arm of the civil law. The corps has done excellent work against the Arabs and is always placed in the forefront of the fight.

The Foreign Legion exists but to march. To this one end its whole training is devoted. To fall out on the march is the one unpardonable sin in a legionnaire. The system of marches is brutal. No matter what the distance, it has to be completed in one stage. Forty miles, fifty, sixty—no matter—it is done straight off the reel, with, of course, brief halts for rest. But there is no general halt until the whole distance is completed.

If a legionnaire faints on the march he is tied to a baggage cart which rolls on. He then either has to march or he is dragged along. "Seeing this done for the first time, I thought it brutal, but later I learned to understand the reason for it," said one who had served in its ranks.

The legionnaire who straggles in the desert is lost. Hundreds of men have died a dreadful death in this way. The Arab women pounce upon them, lying helpless in the sand, and, with shrieks of fiendish delight, proceed to torture and mutilate them before killing them outright.

A legionnaire's pay is only a halfpenny a day. True, wine in Algeria costs only a penny a qu: , and tobacco threepence to fourpence a pound. But—a halfpenny a day!

His rations, too, are of the scantiest. Two meals a day only are served—breakfast at 10 o'clock in the morning and supper at 4 in the afternoon. Each meal is exactly alike, consisting of a thick soup made up of meat and vegetables, with bread, and every other day a small quantity of wine.

The discipline is ruthless in its severity; the punishments are cruel in the extreme. For grave offenses, like desertion, insubordination or striking a superior officer, death is frequently inflicted, or, failing that, the offender is sent to serve in the penal battalion on the edge of the Sahara desert. This nearly always means a slow and painful death in place of a quick and comparatively painless one.

Minor offenses are punished with from twenty to a hundred days in prison or with "cellule," which is solitary confinement in the dark plus starvation. I have seen strong, robust men so reduced after doing thirty days cellule that they have hardly been able to stand, yet they had to resume their ordinary duties nevertheless.

Not long since two other dreadful forms of punishment were in vogue—the "silo" and the "crapaudine." The silo was just a deep hole in the ground shaped like a funnel, into which the victim was cast. He was given no blanket or other protection from the weather.

The sun beat upon him by day; the cold night mists penetrated to the marrow of his bones. He could not lie down, for the bottom of the silo sloped to a point. He just crouched, a huddled heap, until not infrequently death mercifully relieved him from his sufferings.

The crapaudine consisted in trussing a man as a fowl is trussed, his hands and feet being tied together on his back in such a manner that they formed a sort of semicircle.

This resulted in such frightful cramps that the pain sometimes drove men mad. Both the silo and the crapaudine, however, have now been abolished. But in the field and on the march an offender is still punished by being "spreadeagled" and bound to four stakes driven into the ground.

To escape from these tortures men mutilate themselves, usually by cutting off one or more fingers, or they will purposely make themselves ill. One favorite trick is to take a drink from the sewers under the Arab prison. This loathsome draft almost invariably brings on an attack of typhoid of a peculiarly malignant type.

Others, more enterprising, try to desert, but they rarely succeed. Mostly they meet with dreadful deaths at the hands of the wild Arabs of the desert. The only class of recruits who are treated with special favor are those who have previously been officers in some other army. These are usually made corporals on enlistment and afterward sergeants. But even under the most favorable conditions life in the legion is the life of a dog.

PATRICK HENRY.

Thomas Jefferson's Opinion of the Orator and Patriot.

When William Wirt was engaged in writing the memoirs of Patrick Henry he turned for information to Thomas Jefferson, who had been associated with the orator for many years, asking his aid in furnishing biographical material for the work. The correspondence between Wirt and Jefferson, published in the Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography, from the manuscript collection of John Gribbel, has a decidedly interesting passage showing the opinion Jefferson held about his famous colleague. In answer to Wirt's first request Jefferson replies with an assent and adds a general and unfavorable summary of Henry's character:

"He was certainly the man who gave the first impulse to the ball of revolution. were I to give his character in general terms, it would be of mixed aspect. I think he was the best humored man in society I almost ever knew, and the greatest orator that ever lived. he had a consumate knoledge of the human heart, which directing the efforts of his eloquence enabled him to attain a degree of popularity with the people at large never perhaps equalled. his judgment in other matters was inaccurate. in matters of law it was not worth a copper: he was avaricious & rotten hearted. his two great passions were the love of money & of fame; but when these came into competition the former predominated. If the work you propose is not destined to come out speedily I will endeavor to recollect what may be of use to it."

Publish My Letter The World Over

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

The Grand Trunk Railway's Building at the Festival of Empire

The Grand Trunk Railway has reected a magnificent structure to house their exhibit at the Festival of Empire, which is to be held at the Crystal Palace grounds, London, England, this year. The building is ornate in its architectural style, and is a reproduction on a small scale of the new Grand Trunk passenger station now nearing completion at Ottawa. At this exhibition the Company are putting up one of the finest exhibits that they have ever installed, and will embrace all portions of the system, including the Grand Trunk Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company. The several tourist and fishing and hunting districts in Eastern Canada will be represented through large photographs and a valuable collection of mounted fish and game. Western Canada will be put before visitors in an interesting and instructive way by large pictures, showing the agricultural possibilities and developments, as well as by the exhibit of grains in the straw, grasses, and the products of the land from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The mountain division of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be well portrayed through a series of oil paintings of some of the principal show places of the Canadian Rockies, painted by Mr. G. Horne Russell, the well-known Montreal artist, who spent last summer in these mountain fastnesses. The centre of the interior of the building will be occupied by a large model, about ten feet square, of the "Chateau Laurier," the Grand Trunk's new Hotel at Ottawa. There will also be a large oil painting of a portion of the City of Ottawa, showing the new station and hotel, the parliament buildings, and surroundings. Models of the steamships "Prince Rupert" and "Prince George" of the Grand Trunk Pacific North Pacific Coast service, will be on view. A separate room has been provided in the building for the projection of cinematograph pictures, and the subjects owned by the company will be shown several times each day. Among these cinematograph films are Lachine Rapids, Masgkinonge fishing near Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Apple Culture near Whitby, Ont., several scenes in the "Highlands of Ontario", Niagara Falls, views showing the construction of the new National Transcontinental Railway, and agricultural scenes in Western Canada. Thousands of publications will be distributed. Mr. S. W. Cummings will be in charge of the exhibit.

QUEEN MARY'S FLOWER

The Queen's choice of pink carnations to form the bouquet to be presented by the Gardeners' Company on Coronation Day is interesting as affording some indication of Her Majesty's favorite flower. This was the less known to the public, as, unlike Queen Alexandra, she has seldom worn flowers in public. The bouquet, of course, will not figure at the ceremony in the Abbey, as flowers are not used there, and the Queen's hands will be occupied during the ceremony. Other gifts to be accepted from members of City Companies in honor of the Coronation are a Honiton lace fan from [illegible] and a case of needles from the Needlemakers' Company.

WAR WARM WORK

The Phrase "Heat of Battle" Not a Mere Figure of Speech.

FIGHTING FIRES THE BLOOD.

An Old Veteran's Story of an Early Morning Attack In Zero Weather and the Change the Skirmish Wrought In His Half Frozen Body.

"The expression 'heat of battle' is more than a mere poetic figure of speech descriptive of the fierce glow of emotion the soldier feels when in the midst of conflict," said a southern soldier who was an officer under Colonel Mosby. "It describes exactly the sensible, physical condition the soldier feels, no matter what the temperature may be.

"That this is true was evidenced by my own experience during the war between the states. It was in February, 1864, and Colonel Mosby, with some hundred of us, was camped near Upperville, a village in Virginia about thirty miles south of Harpers Ferry. Late one afternoon our leader received a dispatch from General Lee to make a forced march that night and attack a body of Federal troops that was stationed on Loudon heights, which overlook Harpers Ferry. The weather was bitter cold, the coldest that had been known in that section for many years. The mercury was coquetting around zero, a six inch fall of snow, half melted and frozen again, made the roads almost impassable, and a stiff north wind, added to these other evils, made the outlook for a pleasant dash of thirty miles a most dismally improbable one.

"It was about sunset when, muffled to the eyes against the biting frost and bitter wind, our column left camp at Upperville. For the first ten miles our squadron, made up of veterans inured to all manner of hardships, did not suffer much, and occasionally some one would even essay a joke. But in the second ten miles the cold, that had slowly eaten its way through overcoat and jacket and shirt, began to bite into our bodies. To restore life to our numb legs we would take our feet from the stirrups and let them hang until the circulation was restored—an old trick with those compelled to ride much in the cold—and we would keep our hands and arms in some measure warm by beating them against our bodies or clapping them severely together.

"The second ten was bad enough, I say, but the last was—well, a polar nightmare. The vitality seemed to be frozen out of man and beast. For hours the horses stumbled through the snow bearing a troop as silent as the dead save for an occasional thumping of some poor devil's half frozen arms against his side as he sought to restore life to the deadened limbs. When I took my feet out of the stirrups to help the circulation I would have to take my hands and lift my legs up to get the feet back in place, so lost to all sensation were they.

"At length about 3 o'clock in the morning we saw the lights of the enemy's picket fires and could distinguish the muffled forms of the sentries as they paced their beats. There was a small strip of woods that ran to within a hundred or less yards of the Federal camp, and in this we formed for the attack. My hands were so cold that I was unable to cock the hammers of my revolvers with my thumb, but was compelled to effect it with my teeth, holding the pistol between my numbed fists and drawing back the hammer by gripping it in my teeth and pulling it back until it caught.

"At length all was in readiness. As I sat there, barely able to grasp my revolvers, the 'Charge!' rang out, and the next moment we were in the midst of the enemy, who were too astounded at an attack on such a bitter night to offer much resistance and for the most part fled down to Harpers Ferry to the main body. Some of them, however, put up a stout fight for men awakened from warm sleep to fight to the death in the bitter night air, and for a couple of minutes we had all we could do, but it was soon over, and we were in possession of the camp.

"When I came to myself I found I was sitting with one leg thrown over the pummel of my saddle, my overcoat and jacket flung wide open, while my shirt, opened to the last button, allowed a grateful zero zephyr to play upon my bare sweating breast. In my hand, from which I had pulled the glove, moist with sweat, I was holding my hat, with which I was vigorously fanning myself.

"And less than five minutes before I had been so chilled that had I been in a comfortable house with a physician at hand he would have filled me full of hot drinks, wrapped me in blankets and kept me in bed a couple of days.

"No," concluded the veteran, "the 'heat of battle' is something more than a mere figure of speech."—New York Times.

Pills to Prevent Earthquakes.

"I remember," says Addison in the two hundred and fortieth Tatler, "when our whole island was shaken with an earthquake some years ago there was an impudent mountebank who sold pills which, as he told the country people, were 'very good against an earthquake.'"—Letter in London Saturday Review.

CREATING A VIOLIN.

No Hard and Fast Rules to Guide the Artist Mechanic.

Violins are the most delicate and uncertain of musical instruments to make. There are no hard and fast rules to follow. It is like making a human voice. The quality differs according to the wood, the seasoning and the construction of the few parts in it.

The violin contains the fewest parts of any musical instrument invented, and it seems like the simplest of them all to make. But, alas, it defies the expert, the practical mechanic and the musician! Anybody can make a violin, but few can make a good one. So, with the exception of comparatively few factory violins, most of them are produced by individual instrument makers, who spend more loving care over them than a mother does over her first child.

A violin maker is an artist mechanic, a sort of anomaly in this age of machinery. With a pot of glue, a few sharp tools, a cabinetmaker's bench and a few sticks of wood he will labor diligently in the creation of an instrument that may give forth the sweetest, the wildest, the weirdest and the strangest musical notes. He will glue his instrument together and then take it apart twenty times to adjust, the fraction of an inch, the bass bar or the sounding post. A creator of a violin may spend weeks on a single instrument and then find, to his disgust, that it does not satisfy. The exact point where the sounding post—a stick of wood only a little larger than a match—should be placed can never be determined in advance. It is a mystery that ever recurs in each new violin.

Then the wood is of so much importance to the violin maker—none of your fresh timber nor kiln dried stuff! It must be seasoned by years, even by decades and centuries. Every time a century old house is demolished some musical maker is likely to appear on the scene and make a quiet bid for some of the thin old rafters. To the novice they may seem worthless, but the violin maker may find in this century old timber just the wood for his beloved instruments.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mortification Well Earned.

An Englishman, alone with Richardson, the novelist, said to him, "I am happy to pay my respects to the author of 'Sir Charles Grandison,' for at Paris, and at The Hague, and, in fact, at every place I have visited, it is much admired."

Richardson appeared not to notice the compliment, but when all the company were assembled addressed the gentleman with, "Sir, I think you were saying something about 'Sir Charles Grandison.'"

"No, sir," he replied. "I do not remember ever to have heard it mentioned."—From Orvine's "Cyclopedia of Anecdotes."

BACK FROM WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Galbraith had Interesting Trip

In an interview this afternoon, Mr. William Galbraith, who, accompanied by his wife, has returned from a trip to the west which he took in the interests of the Independent Real Estate Co., was very enthusiastic in his opinion of the advantages in western Canada.

In their tour Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith visited Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, and Moosejaw and in every place the people were interested in real estate. They were not afraid to venture. The prices often advanced 10 and 20 per cent in a few days.

Old settlers who have watched the developments for years, claim that this year there are better prospects for a bumper crop than in many seasons. The grain was sown at the proper time and the rains came at opportune times.

FARMERS HAVE COMFORTS.

During an automobile ride through the country in the vicinity of Edmonton, Mr. Galbraigh was quite surprised to see rural mail deliveries and telephone lines installed for the farmers. There is a general impression that the farmers in the west suffer many hardships, but Mr. Galbraith states that they have many of the modern conveniences which even a number of our Ontario farmers do not enjoy.

MANY TRAVELLING.

"The people are coming and going there all the time," said Mr. Galbraith, "and unless you wire ahead for your room in an hotel you are not likely to get one."

MET PETERBORO PEOPLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith met many Peterborough people on their trip and wherever they were they seemed to be pleased with the west. All appeared to be making good.

PURCHASED SEVERAL LOTS.

In the interests of the company which he was representing, Mr. Galbraith purchased a number of lots. In Edmonton he secured a block of 32 lots, also several in Calgary.

Keene, May 25.—The following sums were appropriated for the improvement of the roads—Ward No. 1, $401.30; No. 2, $420.40; No. 3, $553.30; No. 4, $365.75; No. 5, $609.25; $100 of the latter to be expended on the Bensfort bridge road.

Andrew Shearer was appointed to act as clerk and treasurer for a few weeks in the absence of Clerk and Treasurer J. M. Drummond.

The following accounts were passed—Walter Dickson, postage, $2; W. J. Porter, conveying Mr. White from Allandale to House of Refuge, and freight on trunk, $3.35; Jas. Bryce, pare payment on roofing hall, $100; John Anderson, gravel, $4.20; John Edwards, 27 bbls. cement for culverts, $64.80; R. J. Brown, making culverts, $20.65.

Council adjourned to June 19.

On the same day the council met as Court of Revision, when the following appeals were disposed of—Redmond Carey, appealed on over-assessment. On motion he was assessed on north half of lot 18, con. 10, for $3,200 instead of $3,400.

Jas. A. Crowley, on east half of lot 21, con. 13, reduced from $4,900 to $4,500.

W. B. Stewart to be assessed for 46 acres instead of 48 acres on lot 17, con. 16, for $1,700.

Fred Collins for two acres on the same lot, with house used for dwelling house, store and post office, assessed for $700 with $100 of a business assessment.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Edwards were visiting friends in Toronto last week.

On Wednesday evening, May 71, a meeting of great importance was held in the town hall, Lang, when the Sons of Rest reorganized, after being dormant for two years. After the minutes of the last meeting were read and signed, it was decided to fine Scrutineer R. A. Esson the sum of $10 for covering the sidewalk with banana skins, to the danger of pedestrians. It was then decided to elect new officers for the remainder of the present year. The election resulted follows—

Hon. Chairman—Bluebeard Scully.
Vice-Chairman—Postmaster Esson.
Treasurer—White Nigger Fife,
Secretary—Red Face Bowie.
Scrutineers—Long-Armed Dinsdale and Short-Whiskered Allan Esson.
Tyler—Dude Hancox.
Chaplain—Rev. C. Edwards, Jr.

The newly appointed officers were then duly installed by Junker Edwards, late chaplain.

It was then moved by Brigadier A. Keith, seconded by Lord Squair, that the council be petitioned for a grant of $25, to provide a seat near the Simpson store for the use of the Sons of Rest exclusively, as many complaints have been made about it being very tiring and hard on shoe leather having to stand all day long.

By a majority vote it was decided to make Lord Squair an honorary member, providing he supplied refreshments every meeting night.

Bluebeard Scully then called the meeting to order and dismissed the brethren.

What is Doing in Village of Sawmills and Shingle Machines

Special Correspondence

Mr. and Mrs. Wood, visited Campbellford last week.

Mr. William Walker spent a few days at Tweed last week.

Mayor Walker is doing excellent work with his shingle machine this week. Has Jermyn any objections?

Mrs. Daw is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rev. Wm. H. Wood.

Parts of the sawmill have at last arrived. When interviewed it said that it has never felt better and feels like gobbling up timber by the thousand feet. Of course it may be well to explain that feet of timber has no reference to wooden legs.

It will be a grand old race between the mayor's shingle machine and the sawmill, but it is the sawmill's opinion that it will turn out a tie. In fact, that is the height of its ambition. The sawmill then took a poetical turn and recited the following piece of poetry:

If my boiler would burst,
Now, who can tell?
Whether Id' go to—
The happy hunting grounds or Jermyn.

Just then the whistle on the mayor's shingle machine flew, the gasoline engine commenced operations, a freight train pulled up on the siding and another came whizzing by on the main line, the anvil at the blacksmith's shop began ringing, a big automobile came over the hill, then the alarm clock went off, and the interviewer woke up.

FINE WHEAT

The Best Seen In Fifty Years Says Mr. Hugh Mackie

Mr. Hugh Mackie, a farmer dwelling near Curtis Bros. brick yard, gave the Review a call this morning, and had in his possession a number of heads of fall wheat which were of a good size and well filled. Mr. Mackie stated that the stalk was as high as two and one half feet, and in his fifty years experience, as a farmer, he has not seen wheat so well developed at this time of year. "A considerable amount of fall grain was winter killed," said Mr. Mackie, "but the crops in in general look very promising, in fact much better than usual."

CANADA LIFE DIRECTORS ARE RESIGNING ; ARE DISSATISFIED

Toronto Dispatch Says They Don't Like Cox Management — Not a Split on Reciprocity.

Special to The Review.

Toronto, June 1—Z. A. Lash, K.C., to-day, characterized as absurd, the story that the five Canada Life directors had split over the reciprocity question. It was learned, however, that five directors, Z. A. Lash, Sir Edmund Walker, Senator Gibson, H. B. Walker and Charles Chaput, had resigned because of dissatisfaction with the Cox management.

The Toronto World to-day said in reference to the trouble:

The life insurance world of Toronto is considerably agitated these days by rumors of many kinds.

One is that five members of the board of directors of the Canada Life have resigned, namely: Sir Edmund Walker, H. B. Walker of Montreal, (brother of Sir Edmund,) Z. A. Lash, Charles Chaput, of Montreal; and another supposed to be J. H. Plummer, of Toronto. The remaining directors are: Hon. Geo. A. Cox, (president); Robt. Jaffray, E. R. Wood, A. Brown, Hamilton; A. Bruce, Toronto; Hon. Wm. Gibson, Hamilton; Kenneth Mackenzie, Winnipeg.

When Mr. E. W. Cox, the managing director was asked about the rumor he said he would probably have something to say to-day.

That the reported resignation from the Canada Life board has something to do with the reciprocity question and the protest against it signed by Sir Edmund Walker and Mr. Lash is believed by many.

MERGER TALKED ABOUT

Another rumor is that some kind of amalgamation of the Canada Life and the Imperial Life (both in control of the Cox interests) will take place shortly. Mr. Thos. Bradshaw, managing director of the latter, recently resigned in order to enter the brokerage firm of A. E. Ames & Co.

Senator Cox was about the streets yesterday looking quite jaunty, wearing a new black tie and sporting a silk umbrella.

The assets of the Canada Life are about forty millions of dollars.

It is pretty generally believed that Cawthra Mulock has now control of the Federal Life of Hamilton. Its assets are over three and a half million dollars.

TRAIN WRECK THE WORK OF BANDITS

Officials Blame Chatham Wreck on Robbers

Chatham, June 1.—Crushed and scalded to death beneath their engine, Engineer Stephen Quinlan and Fireman Russell Oakes met a terrible death yesterday morning when a passenger train of the M.C.R. was derailed east of Ridgetown.

Passenger train No. 9, New York to Chicago, in charge of Conductor George Marr, due in Ridgetown at 3.32 a.m., was running a few minutes late. The Ridgetown home signal was set "proceed." In an instant the locomotive, tender and four baggage cars were plunged into the ditch, with the engineer and fireman crushed beneath. None of the passengers were injured. Eight coaches remained on the track, few of the passengers being aroused by the shock.

At the distant signal the train came to a full stop, the trainmen state, owing to the board being displayed at "caution." Farther on the engineer found the home protection signal displayed "proceed." Quinlan apparently had his train well under control, running not more than sixteen miles per hour, which accounts for the absence of shock or disaster to the passenger coaches.

St. Thomas, June 1.—"There is no question about it, it is, a case of train-wrecking," said Supt. Shearer of the M.C.R. last night, when asked as to his opinion of the cause of the wreck of the Chicago special. Mr. Shearer had been at the scene of the wreck all day, and made a thorough investigation into the whole affair. "The fishplates were taken off both ends of the rail and spikes pulled out and the rail removed and placed in the centre of the tracks, and, as far as we could see, its position had not been moved by the wrecking of the train," said Mr. Shearer. He lost no time in informing Crown Attorney Smith of Chatham and Inspector Rogers of the same place about the affair, and they responded by placing a provincial officer in charge of the case. M.C.R. Detective Heenan is also at work, but so far they have no clue to the identity of the perpetrators of the crime. The company will conduct no private investigation, but will assist the authorities in ferreting out the criminals.

Special to the Review.

Chatham, June 1. — Yesterday's wreck of the Michigan Central Express is now believed to have been brought about by the work of a lunatic, who at one time was the companion of Moir, the murderer, who escaped from the asylum at Hamilton, and was afterwards recaptured. For some time there have been stories of attempted wrecks by means similar to those employed yesterday. One attempt was on the Pere Marquette, between London and St. Thomas.

RECIPROCITY FIGHT TO LAST UNTIL LATE IN THE AUTUMN

Deadlock at Washington Has Arisen Because of Senate Amendments — Vote in Committee.

Washington, D.C., June 1.—Democratic leaders of the House of Representatives have notified President Taft they will not accept the proposed Senate amendments to the Canadian reciprocity agreement. The Democrats informed the President they will stand by the reciprocity proposition, as it was negotiated, and it was adopted by the House.

This action on the part of the House leaders means there will be a deadlock between the upper and lower branches of Congress, and that the extraordinary session will be prolonged until late in the fall. In the event of the reciprocity measure being amended by the Senate, it will be necessary to send it to a conference committee. The House members of the conference will be men who stand out against the Senate amendment indefinitely, or until the upper branch of Congress is forced to yield.

A canvass of the House has developed that the regular Republicans who voted for the reciprocity measure will support the Democrats in their efforts to force the adoption of the reciprocity proposition as negotiated, thus obviating any amendment on the part of the Canadian Parliament. President Taft, who is beginning to realize the obstacles in the way of his pet scheme, is hopeful that the attitude of the House Democrats will have great influence in winning his contest against the Senate amendment.

Vote Next Wednesday.

Washington, June 1.—The Senate finance committee decided yesterday to vote on the Canadian reciprocity bill on Wednesday. It had been planned to end the hearings last night, but additional witnesses will be heard on Monday.

More Jobs Than Applicants.

Montreal, June 1.—"No person need be without a job and any able-bodied man who complains that he is without work, can be put down as an idle loafer, too lazy to work." This is the emphatic statement of Mr. Francis Payette, superintendent of the provincial employment bureau.

"Yes," he said, "you can state without fear of contradiction, that, notwithstanding the constant arrival of immigrants from the old country, we have here in Montreal more vacancies than applicants.

TO CLIMB ALPS

Ottawa, June 1.—It is understood that after the Coronation Sir Wilfrid Laurier will go to Switzerland for a week in the Alps. He may not return to Ottawa until a few days after the House resumes on July 18.

DR. MERCHANT IS NEW DIRECTOR

Given Job of Supervising New Technical Education.

Norwood Man Becomes Teacher of Agriculture.

Toronto, June 1.—A number of important educational appointments were announced by Sir James Whitney yesterday. The first is the appointment of Dr. F. W. Merchant as director of industrial and technical education for the province. It is understood that the Government will, later on, allow Dr. Merchant to spend some months abroad, with a view to his acquiring such other knowledge as he may require in his new position. He will combine with this office the inspectorship of normal and model schools, a post which he at present occupies.

As chief inspector of public and separate schools, Dr. Merchant is succeeded by R. H. Cowley, M.A., at present continuation school inspector.

The growth of continuation schools, which last year numbered 138, has necessitated the appointment of a second inspector, for which provision was made by the Legislature last session. The Government has appointed Dr. John Waugh of the Ottawa Normal School staff, and formerly inspector of Ontario County, to succeed Mr. Cowley, and the additional inspector is G. K. Mills, B.A., now public school inspector for North Simcoe.

H. A. Dorrance, Orangeville, Dufferin County; F. M. Clement, Dutton, Elgin County; H. C. Duff, Markdale, Grey County; J. E. Smith, Simcoe, Norfolk County; W. E. Edwards, Newmarket, York County; and E. S. Hopkins, Norwood, Peterboro County, have been named teachers of agriculture in high schools.

MANY CANUCKS GATHER IN LUNNON

Visitors to the Coronation Meet at Canadian Club.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Replies to the Toast of Dominion.

London, June 1.—There was an exceptionally large gathering at the Canadian Club dinner here last night. Lord Strathcona presided, and among those present were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Sir Joseph Ward (Premier of New Zealand), the Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt (Secretary for the Colonies), Hon. Richard McBride (Premier of British Columbia), Hon. W. J. Bowser (British Columbia), Sir Edmund Walker, G. J. Desbarats, Col. Sam Hughes, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, Sir William Mackenzie, Sir Donald Mann, Hon. Walter Scott (Premier of Saskatchewan), Hon. A. L. Sifton (Premier of Alberta), and Chairman Smithers of the G.T.R.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, responding to the toast of "The Dominion," delivered a lengthy eulogy on Lord Strathcona. Referring to the growth of Canada, Sir Wilfrid continued: Canada was really only discovered within the last twelve years as a new constellation in the western sky, a land fit for hardy men, and offering to all the British institutions which Canada cherished as the apple of her eye.

"Canada," concluded Sir Wilfrid, amid applause, "is the pride of the twentieth century, a gem in the British crown."

Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, said he regarded Canada as the halfway post across the Pacific between New Zealand and the United Kingdom. They realized fully that in future years there would be much closer associations between Canada, Australia and New Zealand. He wanted the distance between these countries and the United Kingdom annihilated. If they were within twenty-one days of London and within thirteen days of Canada it would draw the people of these countries closer together. They wanted all parts of the Empire to be one in reality.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier had already negotiated a direct steamship service across the Pacific, continued Sir Joseph Ward, and now Britain should help in the same way across the Atlantic.

"In the great galaxy of countries under the British Crown," concluded the speaker, "there is one under-current directed to the bringing about of practical co-operation between the different part of the Empire and so making the whole irresistible."

Sir Edmund Walker said the great problem before Canada was the making of the immigrants of various nationalities part of the British people. "Probably for the next half century," continued Sir Edmund. "Canada will have to rely upon British credit and will have to look to Britain for the money for further development."

To Recognize Portugal.

Lisbon, June 1.—An official note issued yesterday says that Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, on Tuesday communicated to the Portuguese representative in London that the British Government was ready definitely to recognize the Portuguese republic as soon as the constitution was voted.

Foreign Minister Machado announces that the constituent assembly will open its session on June 19, and that the constitution will be voted by the end of that month. The chamber will elect a President of the republic.

STORM KILLS MANY PEOPLE

Old London Suffers Casualties From Electrical Tempest.

Storm in Cleveland and in Pittsburg.

London, June 1.—The exceptionally high temperature that prevailed during the month of May culminated last evening in a terrific thunderstorm in London and the southern and western suburbs. Many persons were killed by lightning, which also struck numerous churches and other buildings. An electric wire fused in the building of the Royal Exchange and started a fire, which, however, was speedily quenched.

The storm was accompanied by a deluge of rain, which caused a landslip on the Southeastern Railway near Merstham, blocking the line and flooded the Great Western Railway at Ealing, severely deranging traffic. The full fury of the storm was felt at Epsom shortly after the horse races had ended, and thousands of the spectators were drenched.

The storm was the most severe that has visited London in many years. The thunder crashed and vivid lightning played with terrifying effect along the rails of the railroads and in the telephone and telegraph instruments, while the deluge of rain stopped motor vehicles, causing great inconvenience.

Altogether seven deaths as the result of the storm have been recorded. Five of these — two policemen and three civilians—occurred in the neighborhood of Epsom Downs.

Four Die at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., June 1.—Four dead and a score injured was the toll of the terrific wind and rain storms which swept over Cleveland and vicinity yesterday, wrecked buildings, overturning boats in Lake Erie, breaking down wire poles, tearing up trees and smashing windows and signs on the streets. The storm was general in Northern Ohio and very destructive. Henry J. Render, 40, was fishing in the lake when the storm broke. His boat capsized and he was drowned. The body was recovered. Anton Malico, Gaivoni Cininico and Marani Giovannis were rowing off Edgewater Park. All went down but Giovannis, who clung to the boat and was rescued, only to die a half hour later in a hospital.

Twenty bathers at Edgewater Park, who took shelter in the bath house, were buried, when the roof fell on them. George Richards, 14, and Frank Heinberger, 11, were so seriously injured that they will probably die. E. A. Wright had both legs broken when a wagon was blown on him. John Gravini was struck by a piece of cornice, blown off a 11-storey building down town, and his skull was fractured.

Pittsburg Suffered Severely.

Pittsburg, June 1.—With wind blowing 64 miles an hour, as recorded by the weather bureau, and rain that fell in torrents, a storm swept over this section of the state late yesterday, dealing death and damage in its track. Ethel Makrauer, aged 9, dropped dead from fright. George A. Martin, president of the Pittsburg Tube Co., is dying in a hospital with a fractured skull caused by a falling sign.

Hon. Mr. Fielding Leaves.

Montreal, June 1.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, sailed for England at daybreak yesterday morning on the Royal George, accompanied by his wife and three daughters.

Mr. Fielding was as reticent as usual, and declined to discuss his trip to the other side.

The Minister was looking in fairly good health, but it was evident that the facial paralysis, which he contracted some time ago, is still causing him trouble.

New Buildings for Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, June 1.—The Winnipeg Electric Railway Co. is preparing plans for the erection of a ten-storey building on the site, 100 feet square, recently acquired at the corner of Notre Dame and Albert streets. So soon as the company moves out of their present building at Portage avenue, the Quebec Bank will erect a new building there.

TORONTO BOYS BLOWN ACROSS THE LAKE IN AN OPEN DINGHY

Exciting Experience of Three Boys in a Boat—Landed at Grimsby After Exposure.

Toronto, June 1.—After being tossed to and fro in a little 14-foot dinghy on Lake Ontario, without food and with the sparsest of clothing, for one day and two cold nights, G. E. Macklem, aged 19, of 345 Indian road; Edward Fleury, 29 Brooklyn avenue, and W. G. Harvey of Roncesvalles avenue, were cast ashore yesterday morning near Grimsby. Sighting a farm house they lost no time in securing a good country breakfast, and in phoning to Toronto relatives of their safe, but hardly timely landing on soil far from where they had set sail.

The unfortunate trio left Toronto Monday afternoon about 4.30, and sailing out the western gap followed the course taken by the wind. Little did they realize the peril they were in until their skill proved insufficient to steer their little craft against the stiff gale which had taken them far from city lights by the time the red glow in the western sky had vanished.

Helplessly they tossed all night on the waves, living in the hope that some steamer would pass their way.

The light came, but no vessel appeared within hailing distance. The night again fell and with the warm morning light appeared the land of some distant shore. Hope revived and the three struggling seamen made a last and successful effort to reach safety.

Fisherman Drowned.

Cayuga, June 1.—A drowning occurred near Selkirk early Tuesday morning, the victim being Jonas Hoover, aged 35, and married, son of Abraham Hoover, of the Township of Rainham. The victim, accompanied by Eli Murphy, was out at Sandusky Creek on a carp spearing expedition, when the boat in some manner capsized. Murphy swam ashore, and he saw Hoover swimming towards the opposite shore. Murphy waited some time, expecting Hoover to reach the shore and right the boat. Being unable to see in the darkness, and not hearing a sound, Murphy aroused residents in the neighborhood. Hoover's body was recovered about 4 a.m. Mrs. Hoover was at Rodney, Ont.

Will Not Turn Out.

Brantford, June 1.—Lieut.-Colonel Ashton of the Dufferin Rifles issued the statement here yesterday that the regiment would not turn out and assist in the mayor's gala day celebration on June 22, on account of the treatment accorded the Dufferin Rifles band. Recently the City Council divided the summer park concerts among three local bands, a citizens' organization, the Brant Dragoons and the Dufferin Rifles, the latter being the pioneer band of the city and having always had civic patronage. Col. Ashton contends that the city owes its support to the military band, the members of which receive no pay for services. The demonstration will be gone on without military features.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE WHILE DESPONDENT

While Wife Was Absent Joseph Bell Found Revolver and Shot Himself.

Special to The Review.

Lindsay, June 1—After succeeding in prevailing upon his wife to make a visit to the home of her father, a short distance away, Joseph Bell, thirty four years of age, and a machinist at the Sylvester Manufacturing Co., secured a hidden revolver, and with his left hand sent a bullet into his head at the right temple, killing himself.

He was found by his wife on her return to the house. The shooting occurred shortly before six o'clock and was premeditated. Bell having threatened on different occasions to take his life. He had had steady employment but at times was despondent.

His father is chief of the fire brigade and there are six brothers and six sisters. Besides his widow is a child of four years.

The late Mr Bell was known to many people of this city, he having for some time been engaged at the Canadian General Electric Company. One brother, Thomas Bell, resides here and he went to Lindsay this morning.

Deported Elopers.

Brockville, June 1.—The services of the Canadian immigration officer were brought into effect here yesterday in connection with the visit of two women from Syracuse, N.Y., Mrs. Wm. Webb and Miss Lena Silkey, both aged eighteen. On Saturday, they suddenly left Syracuse in company with a man named Foley of Athens, Ont. The trio put up at a hotel in Brockville, and yesterday when Mr. Webb, accompanied by his father-in-law, Z. A. Klotz, arrived here in search of the elopers, the women were found at a private residence. Mrs. Webb and her companion flatly refused to return. The aid of the immigration inspector were enlisted and the women were placed aboard the ferry steamer and sent back to the other side as undesirables. Foley has left for parts unknown.

SHE WAS SURPRISED

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings:

"I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away.

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure Bowel and Kidney as well as Liver troubles, and keep you healthy. 25c a box at your dealer's. 14

UNION LABEL

ONE OR TWO ELECTIONS

The Grit newspapers now have it that when parliament reassembles, the Conservative opposition will force an election on reciprocity, and with that over— the Conservatives being still the opposition, according to these political prophets—will force another on the redistribution bill. This is about as good a guess as any perhaps, because neither the Conservatives or the ministerialists can tell at this stage, what is going to happen when the session is resumed.

It is conceded that the opposition will fight reciprocity to the last ditch, even to the point of forcing an election; but from all accounts, Sir Wilfrid Laurier will thank the opposition for that stand, believing himself that an appeal to the country on the issue is necessary. There is a third consideration which these political guessers do not take into consideration. Which is the fact that reciprocity may be frozen to death in the United States senate or strangled without a chance to live, and in that case reciprocity would disappear from Canadian politics once and for all. It is believed that the government would be only too willing to drop reciprocity if given the shadow of an excuse; and if the United States senate refuses to carry out the bargain made by Taft there will assuredly be a withdrawal of the measure in the Canadian house, and there will nothing left to fight over but the redistribution bill.

The fact that Hon. Mr. Fielding has betaken himself to Europe for a holiday, even at the risk of leaving the Murray government in Nova Scotia to an unpleasant fate, is believed to be an indication that he is resting in preparation for the struggle that is coming in the fall, both in the House and in a general election to follow prorogation.

The political situation is very uncertain, and when the government newspapers talk of a government measure introducing some form of closure, they are merely making a noise for effect. In 1896 the Liberals talked out the remedial legislation, and on many occasions in their long term of opposition resorted to obstruction. The very hopelessness of the government situation may be seen in the fact that there has not been obstruction by the opposition yet. The government seems to be shaking in its shoes for fear there might be a little. It should remember the old adage about not crossing a bridge before it comes to it.

SINS OF OMISSION

The six months put in by Parliament from November to May, were six months pretty nearly wasted so far as legislation is concerned. The Government put through measures to which there was any party opposition. The subsidy of the Canadian Northern Railway had friends on both sides of the House, and the Bill passed without division. A number of private bills were passed incorporating companies, granting divorces, etc., but it would be hard to point out a single measure of public importance passed in the public interest. Indeed the Government showed no disposition to push government business. It even presented reciprocity in a nerveless listless way which left one in doubt as to whether they really wanted it to pass. A number of set speeches were made, but there was no attempt on the part of the Government to force a vote. Night after night the House adjourned at ten or half past and the debate was allowed to drag on with an average of two or three speeches a day.

Mr. Fielding made no attempt to press his bill for the revision of the Bank Act; although members on both sides of the House were anxious to take up this important piece of legislation. The failure of the Farmers' Bank in Ontario, has made the decennial revision of the Bank Act, a live question in that province and members of the opposition would have been no less eager than members of the Government to assist the Finance Minister in this revision. The bill, however, never got beyond a first reading.

Striking was the neglect of the Government to take up and deal with the big questions affecting the West and the big grievances complained of by western people. They should have known all about this, because Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Hon. Geo. P. Graham spent many weeks last summer in the prairie provinces; they met a great many people in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and heard from them very clearly. What the Western people complained of, and what the Westerners wanted, they were to give their answer at the session of Parliament which begun last November. What has been accomplished?

No one knows to-day anything about the policy of the Government respecting the operation of the Hudson Bay Railway. Many rumours are abroad; nearly all of them agree that the Canadian Northern or some company allied with the Canadian Northern is to operate the road after the Government has built it. No policy has been announced and no advice as to any policy has been asked of Parliament.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in the West he invited the grain growers to come to Ottawa and help the Trade and Commerce Department draft a bill to their liking, respecting the ownership and operation of terminal grain elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur. The grain growers came, and a committee selected by them laboured for some time with Sir Richard Cartwright. A bill was finally drawn, not entirely to their liking but which did provide for the appointment of a commission to supervise the working of the elevators and power was taken for the Government on the recommendation of this commission to take over the elevators and operate them as public utilities. This Bill was introduced in the Senate, sent to committee and seriously amended. In its present shape it certainly falls far short of what the western farmers demanded and are demanding. Yet even this weak attempt of redressing a grievance could not be put through Parliament by the Laurier government. It was only brought to the attention of the house upon the morning of the day for adjournment and after a brief discussion was laid over.

Nothing has been even attempted respecting Government abattoirs or any other legislative device to help the chilled meat industry. A resolution asking that something be done, introduced by Dr. Sproule, (East Grey) was voted down by the Government.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in Alberta, he assured the people that this subject should be dealt with as soon as Parliament assembled. At one time, when he stopped on his tour between Lloydminster and Edmonton he announced dramatically that he had sent a telegram to Hon. Sidney Fisher the Minister of Agriculture, at Ottawa, directing him to frame a policy on this subject at once. The Prime Minister did not tell his Alberta audience, that Mr. Fisher was in Europe, and judging from Mr. Fisher's inactivity, the telegram has never been delivered.

Nothing has been done to help the packing industry in the West; on the contrary the Government's attempting by the reciprocity agreement, to further strengthen and build-up the Chicago beef trust.

It now seems to be generally understood that Parliament will be prorogued shortly after it reassembles in July. Thus all the pressing questions urged upon the Government by the Canadian west will go over indefinitely. There is every reason to believe that Mr. R. L. Borden, upon his Western tour, will meet all these questions more squarely and more satisfactorily. Certain it is that the tour of the Prime Minister has not resulted in the Government taking any stand. There seems little prospect of it doing so. The Western Conservatives will have a strong case when they go back to their constituents before the election.

EDITORIAL NOTES

This being June, the ministers of the city will not have as much time as usual for making pastoral calls.

Five million dollars was waged on Sun Star, the Derby favorite and winner. As a gambling proposition the Derby looks almost respectable, beside our own Porcupine gold camp.

The Toronto newspaper editors who are dubbing their brother, Rev. J. A. Macdonald, as Taft's messenger boy. But contrary to the habit of most messenger boys, Mr. Macdonald hustled to his destination and delivered the message.

The American food trusts are charged with the sinister scheme of boosting food prices in the border states to make the Canuck farmer think he's got a real melon of his own to cut in the reciprocity agreement. But the farmer is likely to find the melon is mostly water and wind.

Hamilton has wakened up long enough to send its George fund, amounting to the magnificent sum of $90, to the treasurer. Hamilton was so tardy in settling that one is led to wonder if it didn't want to keep the money until the coronation was safely over, for fear Georgie wouldn't survive the shock.

What is wanted in Peterborough is some power enthusiast who will make a business of pushing forward with the cheap power idea—some strong motive force. The mayor and city council are moving, but a public body is bound by its official position. No great reform was ever brought about except by the efforts of some stout-hearted reformer.

The George Matthews Company is supplying Australian mutton to Ottawa, even at a duty of three per cent. Perhaps some of it finds its way as a delicacy to the table of Messrs. Fielding and Paterson. It is so much better than Canadian grown mutton that these men propose in the reciprocity deal to make it practically free. It doesn't matter about the farmers and cattle raisers.

Archbishop Fortin, of Winnipeg, (Anglican) says that "this is a Protestant country. We refuse to be oppressed in any way by an Italian bishop." This is a Protestant country in the sense that there are more Protestants in Canada than Roman Catholic, but the very fact that Roman Catholics number a considerable portion of the population prevents Canada from being a Protestant country, strictly speaking.

The appointment of Arthur Wallis, editor of the Mail and Empire, to be registrar of the surrogate court for the County of York, is a worthy one, Mr. Wallis having been in active newspaper work for 35 years, many of which he spent as the leading newspaper exponent of Conservative principles in Ontario. But even an iron newspaper man needs rest from the turmoil and strife, after years of struggle in the van of battle and Mr. Wallis' services to the country are thus fittingly recognized.

DOCTOR SAID SHE WOULD DIE

"Fruit-a-tives" Saved Her Life

RIVIERE A PIERRE, QUE., May 9th 1910

"I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years constantly suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation. The last two years of my illness, I was confined to my bed nearly all the time. I was so thin I weighed only 90 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate. Even water would not stay on my stomach.

The doctors gave me up to die as the stomach trouble produced heart weakness and I was frequently unconscious.

At this time, a lady friend strongly advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and how thankful I am that I did so. When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again and had gained 20 pounds.

I have taken thirteen boxes in all and now weigh 150 pounds and am absolutely well—no pain—no indigestion—no constipation—my heart is sound and complexion clear".

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

While the others, with the exception of the moody and despondent M. Veaudry, entered the house, Adele, offering the excuse that she wished to see her roses again, sought flower basket and scissors and, accompanied by the indomitable Kirby, repaired to the garden, Anatole watching them with broody, longing eyes.

Presently he became aware that another was as interested as himself, and, turning, he found Croup at his elbow. The old serving man continued for some time to silently scan Kirby's retreating figure.

"Who you say were dat genaman's name, Marse Anatole?" he at length inquired.

"Colonel Moreau," abstractedly replied M. Veaudry.

"Yes, seh. Yes, seh," acknowledged Croup. "Dat's de name what he done give. Yes, seh." But he was far from satisfied and, still shaking his head and mumbling to himself, returned indoors. Certainly neither Kirby nor Croup—quondam servant and youthful master—had the remotest idea that, after a separation of so many years, they had finally met.

Meanwhile Aaron Randall had returned from his abortive mission only to learn that the elusive Judge Pleydell had again left, this time to ride over to the steamboat landing for expected letters. But Adele's elderly cousin was too excited to longer trouble himself concerning the judge's erratic movements, for he had learned that Colonel Moreau had, after all, accompanied the ladies and was at that very moment with Adele in the garden.

"Why, then," he exclaimed to M. Veaudry, who had been his informant, "this can mean only one thing—Cameo Kirby is dead!" And he tersely related the meeting at the oaks even down to the detail of Moreau taking the late John Randall's pistol. "Tom secretly followed the colonel," he finished, "and it's devilish strange he didn't return with him. I don't understand it."

But M. Veaudry was only thinking of this added advantage which his rival had gained in the eyes of Adele.

"Ah, he has one more privilege—I have to envy him!" he exclaimed. "I see he is a gentleman and does not boast. Also it is that he would not wish the ladies to know. I shall seek opportunity to congratulate him when he is not in their presence. I should not think it honor of me to be slow with my felicitations— Ah, I shall do it now."

He turned as Kirby emerged from the garden, Adele having halted some distance down the path.

"I have just learn, sir," began Anatole, with a bow, "of the great privilege you have had today. We know by the pleasure to see you alive that there is one great scoundrel which is not."

"Who's that?" asked Kirby, lighting a cheroot.

"I offer you congratulation," pursued the young creole formally and rather stiffly, "that you have earn the gratitude of all good people."

"What for?"

"Because you have the honor to kill that Cameo Kirby."

The other with perfect composure gravely eyed his cheroot, while he successfully concealed all evidence of any other feeling.

"Well," he said courteously, "I always hoped that nobody but myself would kill that fellow. I suppose many have wished to, but they didn't have my luck."

"But most I congratulate you, M. le Colonel," finished Anatole, his voice tremulous with emotion, "is that you have earn so much gratitude—here," making an eloquent gesture toward the house.

This time Kirby could not conceal his astonishment. "And why should that have earned me so much gratitude—here?" he asked bluntly, imitating the other's gesture.

Before M. Veaudry could reply Adele had joined the group.

"Anatole has presented you to the colonel?" she inquired, turning to her cousin. Then, heedless of his evident amazement, she gayly continued, turning to Kirby: "This is our good cousin Aaron. Aaron, you will be glad to know that this gentleman is Colonel Moreau. I have the honor to present you."

"Colonel Moreau!" gasped Aaron, aghast. "Why—why—I met Colonel Moreau—this morning!"

Adele started and paled as, too late, she fully realized the truth. But Kirby remained the same courteous, amiable and care free gentleman of the carriage, while he eyed Aaron steadily. "Does it seem to you that I have changed since we last met?" he blandly inquired. "Perhaps you would hardly know me for the same man? In fact, if Miss Adele hadn't told you that I am Colonel Moreau you would not have believed it? But you take her word for it, don't you?"

After a long, tense silence the bewildered Aaron gravely inclined his head, saying, "Yes, I take her word."

"Ah, I thought so," gently commented Kirby, and, bowing, he joined Miss Pleydell and the General in the garden.

"Cousin Aaron," said Adele earnestly, "I did introduce that gentleman as Colonel Moreau. I know just what I am doing. I ask you to trust me until Tom comes, because I ought to tell him first. Will you do it?" And, again, Aaron, after a momentary struggle, assented.

When the girl had rejoined Kirby in the garden, M. Veaudry, who had been an interested spectator of the little tableau, exchanged with his companion a significant glance of grave suspicion.

"He mus' have changed quickly, this colonel, since you saw him this morning," he commented dryly. "I thinking. But who is this gentleman?" turning to confront Larkin Bunce, who, mopping his inflamed face with a dusty sleeve, had thrown himself from his weary horse and boldly entered the gate. In fact, he had ridden at a breakneck pace all the way from New Orleans.

"Your servant, sir," he greeted, bowing to Aaron. "I'm lookin' for the gentleman who come here in the carriage with the ladies."

"Ah," exclaimed Mr. Randall, closely scanning the other, "you're the gentleman who came to see Colonel Moreau this morning. Do you wish to see him now?"

"BECAUSE YOU HAVE THE HONOR TO KILL THAT CAMEO KIRBY."

Bunce started violently, turning as pale as his overheated condition permitted. "Good God, no!" he exclaimed.

"But it was Colonel Moreau who accompanied the ladies," explained Aaron. "And, sir, here he is now."

The old gambler turned with a subdued exclamation of alarm, as if fully expecting to see the ghost of the late lamented Moreau. But instead his startled eyes met those of his partner who, humming softly to himself, was calmly approaching, a white camellia in his hand.

"Come, cheer up, Mr. Bunce. I hope I see you well," greeted Kirby. Then, politely turning to Aaron, he added: "Mr. Bunce is confused. His long ride in the heat has been too much for him. Mr. Bunce is my—secretary. He looks robust, but is, in fact, very delicate. Might I so far trespass upon your hospitality as to beg a cooling draft for him?"

THE DELHI DURBAR

The Details of the Royal Visit as Arranged So Far

Although the details of the itinerary of the tour of the King and Queen in India in December are not complete, it is possible to give the principle events. The Royal party leave London on or about November 14, proceeding to Dover en route to Calais, where there Majesties will entrain for Genoa, travelling by the Simplon route. At the Italian port a steamer will be in readiness to receive the King and Queen.

It is understood that the idea of converting a battleship for the voyage on the lines of the visit to India five years ago has been abandoned, the room and appointments being inadequate. Instead a passenger steamer will be commissioned from a private firm. Arriving at Bombay on December 2, the Royal visitors will be received by the Viceroy, Viscount Hardinge. After spending about two days in the city, their Majesties will proceed by special train to Delhi, making their state entry on December 7. About ten days will be spent in Delhi, the principal event being the Durbar on December 12. The day following their Majesties arrival at Delhi they will receive the homage of the Indian chiefs. On one day, or possibly two, later, the King and Queen will attend polo matches. On or about December 16, the King, with a few members of his suite, will leave Delhi for Nepal, on a big game shooting expedition, which it is expected will occupy at least ten or twelve days. Queen Mary will meanwhile pay a number of private visits to some of the places of interest. Their Majesties will arrive at Calcutta on December 30, the King joining the Queen a day or two previously on the journey to Calcutta. On January 1, there will be a great military display.

A PEOPLE'S KING

King George Enters Into the Life of His Subjects

It was said of the late King that he was the most democratic King that England ever had; but if King George keeps on as he is going, he will not only be more popular than his father, but also be fully entitled to the title of the People's King. He is entering into the life of his subjects with the greatest gusto, enquiring into their modes of living, and the conditions under which the work of the country—scientific and domestic—is carried on. He is also an appreciative participator in their sports and pastimes; and now for the first time in the history of this country a King has expressed his intention of being present at a "command" performance in a music-hall on the occasion of his visit to Edinburgh.

SOCIAL AMENITIES

To the Tips of Her Fingers Mary is an Englishwoman

The King and Queen are quite at one as regards social amenities Queen Mary has no divided allegiance To the tips of her fingers she is an Englishwoman. Her father, the late Duke of Teck, was, it is true, a foreigner; but her Royal mother was intensely English, and brought up the then Princess May in the strictest ethics of the mid-Victorian era. And the late Duchess of Teck had old world ideas on the subject of Royalty She drew a hard-and-fast line between those whom she admitted to her friendship and the social aspirants whom she dubbed as "mere outsiders."

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

OBITUARY

The Late Miss Preston

Miss Florence Preston, aged 21 years, passed away last evening at the family residence, 295 McDonnel street. The deceased was a daughter of the late Peter Preston, and was born in Smith township, near Lakefield the family removing to Peterborough in 1907. Since coming to Peterborough she had been in poor health.

The late Miss Preston was an ardent member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and endeared herself to a large circle of friends by her kindly disposition.

Those left to mourn her loss are her mother and four sisters: Mrs. M. Fitzgerald, Hamilton; Mrs. W. Turnbull, Stockton, Man.; Misses Alice and Eva, at home.

The funeral will take place at two o'clock to-morrow to Ray's cemetery, Lakefield. Rev. James Rollins will officiate.

Thursday The CRESSMAN Company Limited June 1st

MEMO

THE conversion of this business into a joint stock company after 13 years of progressive merchandising since opening in Peterborough, marks another step forward.

From a very small beginning the business has grown steadily year by year until to-day it has become one of the largest distributors of general merchandise in the Province.

Not a year has passed since the inception of the business in 1898, that some material advancement has not been made. The addition, one by one, of the many depts. now handled, has been systematic—until to-day a very large variety of goods can be purchased under the one roof.

Plans for the future have in view Larger and Better Business. The buying has been systematized and put on a very progressive basis. Its interesting to our customers to know that this business in every case reaches the first point of production—which means buying at the least possible price all lines that are dealt in.

The "Bargain Annex," originated by us 6 years ago—open Wednesday's only—has become a marked feature of this business, and we have a pardonable pride in knowing it is the equal of any Bargain Dept. in the province and occupies a unique position in the dry goods trade—covered by government patent—the name is the sole property of this business.

Business building will continue to be the business of the new firm which will be known as the Cressman Company Limited.

A. W. CRESSMAN.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success.

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

DEMONSTRATIONS AT THE T.A.S. HALL

Many Ladies Were Present to See Miss MacPhee

Miss MacPhee, expert demonstrator for the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, of Canada, is meeting with encouraging success in her demonstrations at the T.A.S Hall, Simcoe street, of the most economical and easiest methods of using Royal Household flour. The exhibitions take the form of cooking classes, and yesterday afternoon, regardless of the rain, they were well attended. Miss MacPhee has a very pleasing method of explaining the various cooking and preparing processes for the manufacture of the different edibles, which causes her lectures and demonstrations to be very pleasant. She anticipates a useful and successful stay in Peterborough.

A delightful afternoon tea is also served each day, and all ladies are invited to be present.

MUCH DISCUSSED ACCOUNT OF $21 PASSED BY COMMITTEE

It Was Admitted Fire Chief Saved $600 to the City—Asked for His Expenses.

The fire, water and light committee were in session last evening with the following present;—Ald. Morgan, (chairman), Mayor Morrow, Ald. Metheral, Ald. Edgar, Ald. Kerneghan and Ald. Graham.

The first communication was from Chief Howard, reporting the loss of 45 feet of fire hose on the night of the fire at the roller rink. The loss was sustained in the effort to save a number of the boathouses.

NEW UNIFORMS.

Specifications for tenders for new uniforms for the firemen were submitted. The uniforms will be similar to those in use last year. On motion it was decided that tenders for the uniforms be advertised in the papers and that the committee be recommended authority to purchase the uniforms. All the tenders must be in by June 20th, 1911.

A letter was read from the waterworks department complaining of the fire alarm gong at the pumping station, which is not in reliable working order. Sometimes it fails to ring loud enough. A new gong and an indicator would cost about $300.

Ald. Graham thought that the water commissioners should pay for a new one. The price of the new gong and indicator was considered to be too exorbitant. Finally the city clerk was instructed to write for prices on a 15 inch bell and an indicator, for the information of the committee, who will decide later what action to take in the matter.

The chief also reminded the committee of their promise to buy him a hose tester. No action was taken.

The question of accepting the Electric Power Company's proposition to install a system of incandescent lights such as are in front of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, was discussed. The system would not interfere with the present system. The lights are rather expensive, but they give a very clear light. The company will place them in the city at advantageous points free of cost except for the poles and lights, which the city would have to pay. Each stand with lights, would cost about $40. The total cost to the city would be about $2,000. Mr. J. H. Munro, of the Light and Power Company, will be consulted and any other information will be secured for the guidance of the committee when it takes action.

The chairman was instructed to have the lights connected up at the new Smith street bridge.

THAT $21 ACCOUNT.

Ald. Morgan brought out a bill which was on his file for $21, incurred by the fire chief when he went to Toronto and Montreal and secured cheaper power from the Bell Telephone Co. for the fire alarm system. The new plan has saved about $600 for the city in 1908.

Ald. Morgan was rather in favor of the bill being paid, seeing that the chief had done such valuable work by making the trip.

Ald Graham thought that as the chief had made the trip on his own initiative he should bear the expense.

Ald. Edgar and Kerneghan moved that the account be paid. An amendment was moved by Messrs. Graham and Metheral that the chief bear the cost. The original motion carried.

Ald. Duncan waited on the committee to ask for a light to be installed at the end of Dalhousie street, near the scene of the recent fire.

NEW DEPUTY CHIEF.

The last item of business was concerning the appointment of a new assistant fire chief to succeed Deputy Chief Grange. Ald. Morgan said that he had been in consultation with the chief about the matter. Ald Graham said that in his opinion the chief had a perfect right to control and pick his own men, and that he should pick the assistant himself, but he felt strongly that it should be a local man. He thought the committee should not interfere.

The chief himself preferred a local man. A local man would have the advantage of thoroughly knowing the city while a stranger would require at least a year to familiarize himself with the city.

The committee will arrange a night convenient for them to go around the city and inspect the lights.

The meeting then adjourned.

NOW ITS THE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Opportunity for Business Boys to Play Baseball

Every business boy who wants to play baseball, should take advantage of this opportunity whether they know the game or not, a place will be made for all boys. A Business Boys' League, will be started all games to be played in the evening. A practice is called for to-night, at Central school yard. This league will be for business boys only.

The two baseball teams composed largely of business boys, which met last-night at the Central school yard, impressed the small number of interested spectators most favorably. The Dewdrops were the first to bat, and while they hit the ball hard, were unable to score on account of the way in which the Whirlwinds eat up everything that came along. In their first innings, the Whirlwinds managed by good hitting and fast base running to get one man across the pan. The Dewdrops evened up however, in their third, and from there on, the game was very fast, largely due to the snappy fielding. Final score was 3-3

Batteries: Dewdrops—A. Trull, T. Quinn. Whirlwinds—O. Cavanagh, A. Darling.

City Juvenile game to-night, Midgets and Northern Lights, at Oval 6.40. Umpire Mr Neale.

BASEBALL

Rochester is leading the team batting in the Eastern, but as a fielding team is on the tail end. The champs are hitting for .291, Toronto for .287; Baltimore, .270 and Royals for .260. Toronto leads the teams in fielding with .962, and the Royals are a close second with .957.

The Trent Valley Baseball League is very nearly a certainty now, and it will probably comprise Norwood, Hastings, Roseneath and Havelock. A meeting was held at Hastings last night to draw up a schedule, but we we go to press too early to learn the result.

Hastings plays here on Saturday at 4 o'clock in what is understood to be the first league game.—Here's hoping!—Havelock Standard.

"Dubbie" Shea had two runs and three hits for Brantford Tuesday, when London was beaten with a 14 to 4 score. Shea is now playing in the outfield.

Jerry Edmunds is back in Winnipeg with the Maroons, and playing a good game.

Ottawa Free Press;—Big Heffernan, the College fence breaker, will probably be dropped a place or two in the batting order so that some of his clean-up wallops will drive in runs ahead of him. He has been clouting the ball at an awful rate the past four games.

The ball season opens here on Saturday afternoon, when we will have a visit from Peterborough in a league match. The locals have been practicing faithfully for the past week and the contest should be very interesting. The game will start at three o'clock sharp and ladies will be admitted free.—Port Hope Guide.

ROBBERS REPULSED.

Bandits Driven Off By Bank Clerks at Danville, Que.

Danville, Que., June 1.—A daring attempt to rob the Danville branch of the Eastern Townships Bank was made at an early hour yesterday morning by three masked men, who are believed to be part of a gang of yeggmen, who crossed the line from the United States some weeks ago. Shortly before three o'clock two of the bank clerks, Thorbe and Greenshields, who were sleeping on the premises, were awakened by the sound of breaking glass. On examination of the front entrance of the bank, the two clerks saw three men, closely masked, attempting to gain an entrance into the office.

Screening themselves behind the desks, Thorbe and Greenshields opened fire on the intruders with their automatic revolvers and for a time there was a fusillade of shots exchanged, the burglars returning the fire with alacrity as they retreated from the building. The sound of the shooting soon aroused the residents of the neighborhood, but by the time any appeared on the scene the yeggmen had decamped in the direction of Richmond, leaving no trace of their identity.

Chief McCaskill of the provincial detective department, was notified of the attempt early yesterday morning and despatched one of his men to Danville on an early train to work in conjunction with the local authorities in the attempt to trace the gang.

Acting on information recently communicated to him by Chief McCaskill, J. P. Knight, of the Canadian Bankers' Association, had warned bank managers throughout the province that a well-organized gang of safebreakers was believed to be making for this part of the country and advised unusual vigilance in the safeguarding of branch banks at night. The advice of Mr. Knight was followed by the manager of the Eastern Townships at Danville, and two clerks were detailed to sleep on the premises. The unsuccessful attempt of yesterday morning shows the wisdom of the step.

SEES DANGER FOR RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg Paper Points to Chinese Armament.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—In a leading article yesterday The Novoe Vremya points warningly to the Chinese armament in Manchuria, which, it says, calls for the greatest vigilance on the part of Russia.

The paper declares that 6,500 European trained troops are being quartered in the towns and villages within a three days' march of Harbin, and that auxiliary troops are being maintained in the same area; that 9,000 so-called rural guards have been drafted along the Chinese Eastern Railroad, and that four divisions of regular troops have been stationed at the various strategical points in the province.

Russia, The Novoe Vremya says, can place in opposition to this force only the feeble ranks of the railroad police, which now are scarcely able to cope even with Chinese bandits.

The newspaper ironically speaks of "beginners in diplomacy," referring to Premier Stolypin, who, since Foreign Minister Sazonoff's illness, has taken over the actual charge of the Foreign Ministry. Russia for decades, the paper says in conclusion, has not faced a foreign event in full armor, and as a consequence her unpreparedness and irresolution are exemplified by the recent episode with Turkey.

More Labor Trouble at Kingston.

Kingston, June 1.—There is still more trouble in labor circles. The stonemasons are at work on all buildings with the exception of the Nicol Building at Queen's University, and the work at the House of Providence. The masons claim these are not fair jobs and will not work on them. Contractor Wm. McCartney is going on with the work, however, hiring non-union men.

Buying Real Estate Extensively.

Port Arthur, June 1.—James Playfair of Midland, H. M. Richardson of Kingston and H. H. Gildersleeve, who among them control a very large part of the great lakes shipping, have invested $350,000 in business and residential real estate at Port Arthur.

The Furtive Look.

A Boston woman says she can detect a bachelor as far as she can see him. She always knows a bachelor by his furtive look. The furtive look, she explains, is something akin to that of a hunted animal, always on the watch for snares and pitfalls. Of course this may apply only to Boston bachelors, but it would be well for all other single unfortunates to take a good look at themselves in the mirror and find that telltale look. If they do there is an easy way to efface it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Boy Fatally Hurt by Auto.

Toronto, June 1.—William Dyce, 11 years, 126 Geoffrey street, ran from behind a street car in front of an auto to Geoffrey street and Roncesvalles avenue at 9 o'clock last night. He was knocked down and injured internally. He was taken to the Hospital for Sick Children. The auto belonged to W. D. Emery, 302 Avenue road.

Refused to Punch Clock.

Port Arthur, June 1.—Refusing to be governed by an order of the City Council, that all city employes must punch the clock on going to and leaving work, City Engineer Antonisen yesterday resigned.

Attacked Total Stranger.

Kingston, June 1.—While drinking heavily, James Blake, a young man, attacked Joseph Friend, aged 40 of Brooklyn, N.Y., on the street without provocation and almost killed him. He pleaded guilty to assault and was fined $15 and costs. Friend came from Ottawa a few days ago, where he had been confined in St. Luke's Hospital seriously ill. He was sent to Kingston to recuperate. He never saw Blake until the time he was attacked.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

LIVERPOOL, May 31.—Wheat opened irregular, with realizing in May and the other months about unchanged from Monday. Following the opening there was further realizing in May, while the distant months were firmly supported and advanced ¼d. Buying was largely by shorts on the fears of damage in Germany by heavy storms and the firmness in Buenos Ayres yesterday. There was an improved demand from the continent with cargoes more firmly held. Spot markets were lower and foreign crop conditions showed an improvement. Market dull, but generally firm.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Just one touch of the spectacular gave distinction to the end of the May deal in wheat today. The final price, 104¾, was the highest that has been reached here in nearly seven months. There was not the excitement expected, however, and the net advance, 1¾, compared with the previous close, could not be called unusual. Suggestions were current that a pending investigation by the directors of the board of trade may have put a stop to the sensational squeeze which talk of an alleged corner had caused many people to look for. Other options in wheat finished ⅛ to ⅜ up. Latest figures showed corn ⅛ to ⅜ to ½ higher, oats varying from 1⅛ decline to ¼ advance and provisions down 5 to 32½c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 31.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning the offerings were 576 cattle, 350 hogs, 1500 calves and 425 sheep. Owing to the continued warm weather and the more liberal supplies of cattle, a weaker feeling prevailed in the market and prices show a decline of ¼c per lb. since Monday. At this reduction the demand was only fair from butchers and sellers in some cases found it impossible to make a clearance. The trade on the whole was good, with sales of steers ranging from 5c to 6¼c; cows, from 4½c to 5½c, and bulls, from 3½c to 5c per lb.

The market for hogs was weaker on account of the larger offerings, and prices ruled 25c per cwt. lower than on Monday. The demand was fairly good and sales of mixed lots were made at $6.50 per cwt., weighed off the cars. A fair trade was done in sheep at prices ranging from $4 to $5, and spring lambs, at from $3 to $4.50 each. The demand for calves was good and prices were steady at from $2 to $6 each, as to size and quality.

At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock were 250 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 550 hogs and 600 calves. This market was also weaker for cattle and the prices realized were much the same as quoted above. There was no change in prices for hogs, for which the demand was good and sales of selected lots were made at $6.25 to $6.85 per cwt., weighed off the cars. The trade in sheep, lambs and calves was fair at steady prices.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 31.—Cattle—Receipts, 50. Market slow, steady. Prime steers, $6.25 to $6.50; butcher grades, $3 to $6.

Calves—Receipts, 150. Market active, 25c higher. Cull to choice, $5 to $8.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2200. Market fairly active, steady. Choice lambs, $7 to $7.25; cull to fair, $5 to $6.90; yearlings, $5 to $5.50; sheep, $2 to $4.50.

FOR FAMILY USE

An Ideal Remedy for Coughs, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Weak Chest.

After having made a special study of the treatment of the throat and lungs for twenty years, Prof. D. Jackson states that in his opinion no preparation for general family use is so efficient, so healing, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone.

As his reasons for making this claim for Catarrhozone, Dr. Jackson says:

"Catarrhozone is free from opium.

"The patient can breathe its rich, balsamic fumes direct to the diseased spot.

"It is a remedy that treats and cures causes—prevents disease spreading.

"Reaches the innermost recesses of the throat, nose, bronchial tubes, and lungs.

"Alleviates chest soreness.

"Stops coughing instantly.

"Prevents bronchial irritations.

"Relieves clogged nostrils.

"Cures sniffles and nasal catarrh.

"Prevents La Grippe.

"Has proven itself a cure for weak lungs, loss of voice, speakers' sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, coughs, colds, and winter ills."

Catarrhozone is unquestionably the world's greatest breathable cold, cough, and catarrh medicine, and being free from all drowsy drugs, entirely safe for children and old folks; it makes an ideal family remedy. Recommended by the medical profession, and sold by all reliable dealers. Beware of imitations, get "Catarrhozone" only; large size lasts two months, and is guaranteed, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. By mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

QUEEN SNUBS MRS. AVA ASTOR

American Paper Says American Defies the Queen

Philadelphia, June 1.—A special cable from London to the Times under the heading "Former Philadelphia Beauty Defies England's Queen," says:

Flouting Queen Mary's ultra prudish ideas on costume twice in one day—in the afternoon when she was snubbed by royalty and in the evening when she was royalty's guest at a court ball, Mrs. Ava Willing Astor has set society anew to speculating on her probable social status during this straight-laced reign.

The former Philadelphia beauty has two clear titles to the aversion of Queen Mary. She is an American and she is a divorced woman.

At the court ball she appeared in a costume distinctly and daringly on the order of those tabooed by Her Majesty's ukase.

AN AFTERNOON SNUB.

She worse a silver cloth, fitting her figure like a glove, and only just open in wide tabs at the feet to show showers of gold fringes over soft frills of buttercup yellow chiffon.

There were amber trimmings at the edge of her very low bodice, not so low, however, as she has been in the habit of wearing. She wore a diamond pearl tiara of unique design in her gray hair.

The royal snub was administered in the afternoon while Mrs. Astor was driving through Hyde Park.

Her motor car was halted while Queen Mary passed near Stanhope gate. Mrs. Astor bowed as low as she could, being seated, of course. Those who saw it say the Queen did no more than drop her eyelids in acknowledgement of the salutation.

The contrast between the costumes of the two women was most striking. Mrs. Astor was a perfect picture of modern "smartness." The Queen wore one of the sedate British gowns of which she seems so proud.

AN ENORMOUS HAT.

Mrs. Astor's black satin gown clung to her so closely that one wondered how she contrived to sit down without something happening. The neck of her corsage was cut very low, revealing a dazzling white throat. Her black hat was enormously large; perhaps its size explained the fact that she was alone in the automobile.

The Queen is not any too fond of Americans, and has a decided aversion to divorced women.

On both scores the former Philadelphia beauty who divorced John Jacob Astor, has little cause to expect royal favor under Britain's present monarch.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will lend beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Country Town Sayings

By Ed. Howe

The young men are lately showing a fondness for heiresses; the old idea of marrying a poor girl for love, and getting a lot of kin thrown in, is playing out.

After a successful entertainment, watch the "committee" fish for compliments.

At this season in every country town, there is street fighting between agents of rival threshing machines.

If you grant a man a favor, do it cheerfully; you might as well refuse as to grumble.

A doctor never "gives up" a patient until he is pretty sure.

In some churches, when the members are tired of a pastor, they don't tell him so, but "talk" about him.

The surest way to discourage rowdyism; jump on it hard.

When a man really needs a whipping, nothing does him more good than to get it.

PRINCE OUT OF CORONATION

Arthur, of Connaught, Cannot Get a Place

King's Cousin Not Recognized Being a Junior Prince

London, June 1.—One of the interesting side issues of the Coronation which is agitating the gossips in London society just now is the position of Prince Arthur of Connaught, the first cousin of the king, and, with the exception of King George himself, and the Kaiser, the only surviving son of Queen Victoria. The question that is being discussed is where Prince Arthur will be at the coronation and whether or not he will take any part in it. Prince Arthur himself doesn't know, and as a matter of fact he feels a little hurt that the situation has not been cleared up before now. No one knows but King George, and so far he has not told.

QUITE DEMOCRATIC.

The fact is that although he is a prince of the blood royal and with the exception of his father the only adult prince of the blood in England has no official position. England is more democratic than most European states and doesn't do much for the younger members of her royal house. The Duke of Connaught, King George's uncle, has always earned his living as a keen and capable soldier, and Prince Arthur, his son, is earning his living in the same way. But as far as the coronation is concerned, he is as much out of it as any other heir to a peerage, for that is all he is. When his father dies he will become the Duke of Connaught and a royal duke. His son in turn also will be a royal duke, but his grandson will lapse back into the ranks of the common or garden variety of dukes and all pretensions to royalty will have to be dropped. Descendants of younger branches of the family, if there are any, will be plain "misters" by that time.

What makes Prince Arthur feel his position more keenly is that, although he is a nobody so far as the coronation is concerned, his sister, Princess Patricia, will take part in it as a royal princess ranking as a member of King George's immediate family. Her status was established by a special order issued by King Edward, placing the ladies of junior branches of the royal house in this enviable position.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

It has been suggested that the difficulty could be solved by creating Prince Arthur a peer before the coronation, but there are many obstacles in the way of this solution. It would hardly do, for instance, to make him a baron, for then he would have to yield precedence to shoals of viscounts, earls, marquises and dukes that wouldn't be seemly in the case of the king's first cousin. The same applies with all the other ranks up to duke. He might be made a duke, but that would cause all sorts of heartburnings. He would be a royal duke, of course, equal in rank with his father and with no income to keep up the dignity. Then he would take precedence over all the royal English dukes, and some of them are very high and mighty persons indeed and think a lot of their ducal dignity. In fact I was told that when the suggestion was made in the hearing of one of them he declared that he would have no whipper snapper of a new creation, even if he were a prince, walking before him.

It looks uncommonly proable that Prince Arthur will have to be left out of the coronation, but perhaps King George will find a way out. If he does, however, he will have to smooth down the dukes.

QUEBEC LEADER CONDEMNS PACT

F. D. Monk Opposes Reciprocity and Laurier

Montreal, June 1.—The opening gun of the Dominion election campaign in the Province of Quebec was fired last night, when a big mass meeting was held in the Ontario rink in the east end of the city. Between six and seven thousand people attended. The principal speakers were Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P., Mr. Henri Bourassa and Mr. Armand Lavergne. Great interest naturally attached to the stand taken by Mr. Monk, who has been the recognized Conservative leader in the Province of Quebec, as his attitude will no doubt have great influence with the French-Canadian voters.

Mr. Monk delivered a carefully prepared speech, in which he dealt with the leading public questions. The principal interest attached to his remarks on the great question of the day—reciprocity. In this connection he universally condemned the government's course. "Idiotic politics" was one of the terms which he used in describing the Laurier Government's mode of negotiating with the Washington Government, and his strong arraignment of the Government was loudly applauded by the great gathering.

Mr. Monk said:—"Thus, it came to pass that our ministers, without even consulting the members of Parliament, still less the interests concerned, and very much less, the people at large, whom they pretended to represent, pledged the honor of Canada to the confirmation of what they had decided in their clandestine reunions.

$600,000,000 OF NEW BONDS COMING

Tremendous Financing by Great Northern to Buy Road

St. Paul, Minn., June 1.—Official announcement was made from the general office of the Great Northern Railway of the issue of $600,000 bonds covering one of the biggest financial deals that has ever been made in the west. The biggest proportion of the issue will take care of old bonds which have been issued by the company from year to year to cover extensions and improvements, but the other big slice makes provision for the taking over of the Burlington railroad.

It is claimed by railroad officials that the consolidation of the Great Northern and the other Hill lines will not take place immediately, but it is admitted that the Great Northern, by the issuance of the bonds, is providing the means whereby James J. Hill at the proper time will be able to take over the Burlington system.

The issue of bonds means the taking up of $330,000,000 of gold bonds of the Great Northern, including $22,400,000 in the bonds of the Burlington, for which the great Northern is responsible. It is believed also that the issue means that the Great Northern is to take over the Burlington, divorcing the Northern Pacific from that road. It is thought this merger will be upheld in the courts on the strength of the reasonable trust" clause of the Supreme Court decision in the Standard Oil case.

The fate of the Northern Pacific, if it is divorced from the other lines, is uncertain. It may be taken over by the North-Western, or it may absorb the Great Western, a Morgan road, as is the Northern Pacific.

CHRIST A FAILURE

George B. Shaw Says People Kicked God Out of Window

London, June 1.—In addressing a gathering of undergraduates at Cambridge, George Bernard Shaw said. "The man who says that Christ was the highest possible being is not worth working with. Christ was a failure."

Mr. Shaw's subject was "The Future of Religion."

Among other things he said in the matter besides that already quoted was: "The mention of God has gone out of fashion. You never hear about God now in Parliament, and only occasionally in the law courts. The people are governed by a system of idolatry. The clergymen, the judges and kings are idols who generally have to be given enough money to dress better than other people. The King cannot impose upon me. I know that the King is merely a man, but scarcely anyone else in England seems to know it. When Darwin came came along with the theory of natural selection, people jumped at it and kicked God out of the window."

Five rural mail delivery routes have been petitioned for in South Wellington.

Has five times the evaporating surface of pans placed over furnace door. Runs clear around the back of the furnace. Will hold enough water to last 24 hours. May be filled at either door, as shown above.

Adding moisture to the air in your home will give you the same heat for less fuel.

A consideration, no doubt.

But that is not all.

Warm dry air, however pure, is not healthful. The human body demands more moisture than is carried in the winter air.

The "Hecla" supplies this moisture in plenty. A large circular pan of water is placed where it will be easy to fill and where it will not be overlooked.

"Hecla" Furnace

SAVES ONE TON OF COAL IN SEVEN.

By actual test the "Hecla" saves one ton of coal in seven. That is, it is so constructed as to give the same heat for six tons of coal as you ever got from seven.

Do you want to know more about this furnace?

No Gas or Dust.

And it is just as important to keep the air free from coal gas and dust.

In the "Hecla" every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an outlet, has been fused absolutely tight by our patented process. The same fused joints keep out the dust and smoke.

Cannot be Sold Unless Accompanying Meals or Lunches—Local Sales are Large.

In regard to the selling of cigars on Sunday by restaurant-keepers, the recent judgment of Justice Middleton in the five appeals in Toronto is interesting. The Review obtained an expression of opinion from Magistrate Dumble, Crown Attorney R. E. Wood and Chief Thompson as to their views on the matter. The first two stated that they were thoroughly in accordance with the decisions of the justice. Magistrate Dumble said that the decision would be a guide for all the decisions of inferior judges, police magistrates, etc., in dealing with cases similar in future. No inferior judge would presume to go against the decision of a judge of the high court. Justice Middleton's judgment means that it is illegal for a druggist to sell cigars on a Sunday unless there is evidence to show that they are wanted by the purchaser as drugs, and that it is illegal to sell soft drinks or cigars in a restaurant and hotel if the soft drinks or cigars are not bought from the vendor in his capacity as restauranteur or innkeeper.

Both Magistrate Dumble and Crown Attorney Wood ridiculed the idea that cigars were supposed to be used as drugs, but held that they should be considered a luxury. Justice Middleton sees no reason, however, why a cigar may not be sold, incident to a meal.

Chief Thompson when seen was not prepared to say just what his views on the matter were.

Locally the ruling will mean that no restaurant dealer will be allowed to sell ice cream, etc., on Sunday, unless it is accompanied by some adjunct, as a piece of pie or some other edible.

Of late the practice of selling ice crea, soft drinks and tobacco separately has been common in the city, and the Sunday business has seen a rapid growth.

PERMITS FOR TWENTY-NINE DWELLINGS DURING MAY

Fifty-one Permits Make Up Total of $67,208—The Complete List.

Of the fifty-one building permits taken out during the past month of May, twenty-nine were for dwellings. Other residences are being repaired and enlarged. H. W. Stock is spending $1,800 to enlarge his bakeshop on Sherbrooke street. On the property at the east corner of George and Antrim streets, which has been lying idle for so many years, dwellings are to be erected. Chas. Rishor is building a $5,000 warehouse on Simcoe street.

The fifty-one permits show a total of $67,208.

ONLY TWO CASES

No Patients in Diphtheria Side of Queen Mary Hospital

There are at present only two cases of scarlet fever at the Queen Mary Hospital, and the diphtheria side is free from patients. To date Miss Mowry, the superintendent, and the hospital staff have treated twenty-three scarlet fever and two diphtheria cases. Only one patient died, and that was a severe case when taken charge of.

CHARGED WITH SERIOUS OFFENCE

Dummer Man, Who Was Witness in Deline Trial, in Court

A serious charge was laid against Samuel Newall, of Dummer township, before Magistrate Edmison at 2.30 this afternoon and he pleaded not guilty of having on May 30th, committed rape. The complainant was Mrs. Maggie Moore, also a resident of Dummer township.

The prisoner, who was one of the chief witnesses in the recent Deline case, was brought into the city yesterday and was remanded by the Magistrate until this afternoon. Newall's wife is Mrs. Moore's mother-in-law, and the alleged victim of the dastardly act of the prisoner has been nursing her for the past two months, as her health is in a very precarious condition.

Mrs. Moore gave her evidence first. On the day the offence is alleged to have been committed she stated that Newall had gone down to the root-house to get a bottle of beer for his wife. Ten minutes later the witness said she went there also to skim some milk. A little conversation had ensued between them and immediately later the prisoner assaulted her.

Mr. B. Hall appeared for the prisoner and Crown Attorney Wood prosecuted.

At 3.30 judgment had not been given.

MISSIONARY GIVING BY PRESBYTERIANS

The givings to missionary objects by the Presbyterian Church in Canada for the year 1910, as reported by the Laymen's Missionary Movement, totalled $738,279, being made up as follows—Foreign missions, $326,474; home missions, $294,997; French evangelization, $49,473; Jewish work, $7,539; Gwalior Mission, $7,552; augmentation, $52,244. This is an advance of $64,789 over 1909. The givings in 1906, when the Laymen's Missionary Movement was launched, amounted to $466,418. The gain in four years has been 58 per cent.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

CHURCH AND STATE.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Papal decrees or those of the Church of Rome usually take it for granted that they are a law unto themselves, and that where they and the civil laws conflict the latter must yield to the former since the former are God-given (sic) and the latter the laws of mere errant humanity. Sometimes there is nothing more than a theoretical objection to such a claim. In some cases, however, the objection becomes practical and unavoidable. Ne Temere is clearly a case in point. It lays it down that marriage of all Catholics (both parties being Catholic) before a minister or civil magistrate will be no marriage at all. Now, the law of the State or civil law is that all people of the required age (and otherwise as set out in the statutes) can be married civilly or by a minister. Here, then, the Church of Rome deliberately defies the State. Why? Because it says it is superior to the State, and indeed, is supreme over all things temporal, and that it disapproves of the civil law. If it said that no persons not being married according to the ordinances of the Catholic Church can remain in the Catholic Church, well and good. But what right has that church to say that certain persons (all Catholics, a Catholic and an unbaptised person, a Catholic and a Protestant who has not been baptised in the Catholic Church, all fallen-away Catholics, that is, those who have become Protestants or infidels) are not married at all if married by ministers or civil magistrates, as the civil law permits and directs? To yield to such a claim as this is to yield home, parentage and the rule of the people up to the Church of Rome. And yet it is this that the church now for the first time in hundreds of years boldly demands. Why? Because she thinks that her triumph is at hand, that Protestantism is a failure, and that a great effort will put her in the saddle again as she was in the middle ages. It is a great crisis, perhaps the greatest since the attack of the Spanish Armada upon England when we narrowly escaped being brought under the Dominion of the cruel Philip II., the Inquisition and the absolute rule of the Church of Rome. If the Church triumphs now, if we allow her to do what would be common treason and rebellion in any other body or church, how can we blame her for what will follow, for shall we not put our own necks in the yoke?

Yours,

BEWARE.

SHOULD DEVELOP.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Why don't the Otonabee Power Company go on and build their dam without so much newspaper talk about it? Peterborough is all right. We have ten times the power within reach that we had even ten years ago, thanks to the development both of power-privileges and apparatus. I hope the Otonabee will do well but the city can make no mistake by waiting, especially as there is great room for improvement in the conservation of our meagre supply of water. Even lumber companies have their logs stranded this year for want of water. We'll have Niagara here yet. Let the Otonabee go on and spend the $200,000 and then we'll see what it looks like. It is better for them to run the risk of development than for us. Let us take it easy all round. The Auburn Company can't afford to be undersold. What do some of these people take us for?

Yours,

READER.

FOUR TAKEN TO CENTRAL PRISON

Local Offenders Sent on to Commence Their Terms

Wm. E. Collins, Alfred Meakins, Walter Mahaffy and Bert Sells were taken to the C.P.R. station yesterday afternoon and sent to Toronto, where the doors of the Central Prison will close behind them. Collins' term is for six months, for obtaining money under false pretences, by means of a bogus cheque; Meakins will serve one year, for an assault and robbery which he committed on Simcoe Street. Mahaffy's term is two years for shop-breaking, in connection with the offences at the east city stores. Sells received a sentence of six months for stealing a purse at the G.T.R. station. Joseph Shearer remains at the jail and will give evidence in the Houedry trial at the June Assizes.

One coach in which were other prisoners, was reserved for the purpose.

CHORUS GIRL UNDER AGE

Miss Marion Randall of Lamont's Musical Show May Have to Return to Mother

Miss Marion Randall, of Lamont's Musical Comedy Show, which gave two performances here, on Monday and Tuesday of this week, is in trouble in Lindsay, because Chief Shortt received a letter from Marion's mother, who resides in New York, stating that her daughter was under age and that she did not wish her to be on the stage.

But Miss Marion, it appears, objects to being put on the juvenile list, and wants to remain in the chorus. She claims to be of age.

The show gave its first performance at Lindsay last night, and Miss Randall is still with the company.

People Who Need Glasses Should Wear Glasses.

But how many who don't wear glasses know whether they need them or not? That's the question we would like to answer for you for your own good.

BREACH IN THE CANADA LIFE LEADS TO SWEEPING CHANGE

Inside Story by a Toronto Man as to the Cause of the Financial Sensation—Cox Interests in Bank of Commerce Came Off Second Best.

THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

Toronto, June 2.—An important change has taken place in the board of the Canada Life Assurance Company. Mr. Z. A. Lash, K.C., Sir Edmund Walker, Mr. H. B. Walker, Hon. Wm. Gibson, and Mr. Chas. Chaput have resigned, and the following gentlemen have been elected: Hon. J. M. Gibson, lieutenant-governor of Ontario; Hon. Senator Lougheed, of Calgary; Mr. Duncan Coulson, president of the Bank of Toronto, and Mr. Robert Bickerdike, M.P., of Montreal, vice-president of the Banque d'Hochelaga.

The resignation of the directors mentioned followed on the adoption by the board of the policy recommended by the president, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, and the vice-president, Mr. J. H. Plummer, under which the joint general management has been discontinued, and Mr. E. W. Cox has been appointed general manager.

The board is now constituted as follows: Hon. George A. Cox, president; Mr. J. H. Plummer, president Dominion Steel Corporation, vice-president; Robert Bickerdike, M.P., vice-president Banque d'Hochelaga; Adam Brown, postmaster, Hamilton; Alexander Bruce, K.C., Toronto; Duncan Coulson, president Bank of Toronto; Edward W. Cox, general manager; Hon. J. M. Gibson, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, and director Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hon. Robert Jaffay, senator, vice-president Imperial Bank; Hon. J. A. Lougheed, senator, Calgary; Kenneth MacKenzie, capitalist, Winnipeg; Leighton McCarthy, K.C., Toronto; E. R. Wood, president Dominion Securities Corporation, and director Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The above official statement handed out yesterday afternoon by E. W. Cox, general manager of the Canada Life, amply confirmed the news that five of the directors of the company had resigned.

The story had a startling effect in financial circles during the morning, and when the extent of the resignations was known, many questions were asked as to the cause. A difference of opinion over certain matters of internal policy is said to be the immediate cause of the cleavage. Politics were not the casus belli, although it is known that the opposing views on reciprocity held by Hon. Geo. A. Cox, president of the company, and Sir Edmund Walker and Z. A. Lash, K.C., have only served to widen the breach between these gentlemen. Whether the policy of maintaining joint general managers has been the great pivot upon which the difficulty turned, is not disclosed, but at the directors' meeting yesterday, a reorganization in this respect took place. E. W. Cox, son of the president, became full general manager, and Frank Sanderson resumes his former title of actuary. Both of these gentlemen are widely known in the insurance world, and Mr. Sanderson's eminence as an actuary authority has been unquestioned. The two had been joint managers heretofore.

A well-known business man who has an intimate knowledge of all the parties talked as follows last night:

"Once Byron E. Walker (now Sir Edmund) and Senator George A. Cox, were great friends and worked together in many things, but especially in connection with the Bank of Commerce. They are also associated in connection with the Canada Life Assurance Company, which, some years ago passed into the control of the senator. But, for a reason which has never yet been divulged, some kind of a breach occurred, the net result of which was that the senator ceased to be president of the Bank of Commerce, and Mr. Walker, who was the general manager, became president as well; or, to use the words of the street, the Walker interests put the senator out of control of the bank as far as being president was concerned. Not long ago Mr. Walker was made a knight and the senator, who had long been named by the public for such recognition, was passed by.

HOW BREACH WIDENED

"It will be noticed that this antagonism in so far as it is active comes from the Walker side, namely: they displaced the senator in the bank and now they have left him in the management of the Canada Life. Another marked divergence is that Sir Edmund Walker and Mr. Lash were very strong in their pronouncement against reciprocity, while the senator remains an ardent friend of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and of that scheme. And as a matter of fact, two days after the well-known manifesto practically in answer to that of his former associates.

"How far this antagonism extends in the number of associated companies in which both parties are interested, no one can say at the present moment. It may be very significant or it may blow over with the present incident. There are those who predict that still other surprises are in store for the public.

FARMERS FREE LIST BILL IS CRISIS FOR RECIPROCITY PACT

Only Hope for Reciprocity is to Pass Senate Intact—Taft Trying to Keep Supporters in Line.

Washington, June 2.—The crisis in the Senate fight on Canadian reciprocity is expected when the farmers' free list bill is offered as an amendment to the bill carrying the bill into effect. That such an amendment will be offered to embarrass the Democratic supporters of reciprocity seems certain. Toward this contingency President Taft is devoting his attention. He is holding daily conferences in an effort to keep Republican and Democratic Senators alike in line for the pact.

President Taft is certain that the reciprocity bill will pass the Senate by a comfortable majority if it can be brought to a final vote without amendment. He feels that a test of the true friends of reciprocity will come in dealing with the proposed amendments. Mr. Taft recently has had assurances that the bill will be reported out of the finance committee without amendment and without recommendation. This is what he desires. The President feels any amendment in the Senate will defeat the bill, and he believes that to be the purpose of some Senators who have proposed amendments. The present proposed Root, Lodge and Nelson amendments have got the President into sharp conflict with these Senators, but he has not hesitated to express his views regarding them.

Fully cognizant of the fact that he must depend upon the almost solid vote of the Democrats in the Senate to carry the reciprocity bill through, President Taft has been endeavoring to devise a means to help them out of the dilemma that will be presented when they are asked to vote for or against the free list bill as a rider to the reciprocity measure. Some Democratic Senators have told the President frankly that they would vote against the free list amendment if they could be assured that the "standpat" Republicans would not stifle in committee the free list bill as it came from the House, and thus deprive the southern Democratic Senators of the opportunity in open Senate properly to record their votes on the measure.

President Taft fully appreciates the position in which the Senate Democrats find themselves, but he thinks he has found a solution of the problem. He has suggested that a motion by the Democrats to discharge the finance committee from consideration of the free list bill and to put it upon its passage, would serve the purpose of the Democrats in making their attitude a perfectly clear one, and he has further expressed confidence in the fairness of the American people to recognize the purpose of those who would attempt the free list method of defeating reciprocity.

The plan, as outlined, has been broadly discussed among Democratic Senators, and it is said they believe with other friends of reciprocity, that it is an acceptable solution of the difficulty.

The reciprocity agreement, as negotiated, provides that Canadian paper could come in free only when provisional restrictions were removed. The House, instead of incorporating this conditional provision in the bill, gave more of a concession, with the idea of inducing the provinces to lift their restrictions, and provide that all paper made in Canada from pulpwood not grown on lands under restriction, should be admitted free. As the duty on paper is $5.75 a ton, the House felt that Canada ultimately would be glad to lift the restrictions to gain the advantage of this reduction.

According to the White House view, the Root amendment to the paper and pulp schedule does not actually violate the agreement, but repeals the House amendment and puts the paper provision again in conditional form. The House, it is said, will not accept the Root amendment or any other amendment carried through from a technical standpoint.

SAVED A MILLION

Toronto, June 2.—According to a statement issued by the Whitney Government, through Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, over $1,000,000 has been saved to the parents of school children in this province, as a result of the new school books system.

HUDSON BAY RY. TENDERS ASKED

Government Gets Busy to Forestall Borden Tour.

Ottawa, June 2.—Advertisements for tenders for the first 185 miles of the Hudson Bay Railway, starting from the present terminus of the Canadian Northern Railway at The Pas, on the west side of the Saskatchewan River, were sent out yesterday by the Railway Department. Contractors are given until August 1 to submit tenders. The contract will be let as speedily as possible after that date, and it is expected that by the end of next year steel will be laid on nearly all of this first half of the line to the Hudson Bay terminal.

Tenders for the remaining portion of the road will be called for early next year, as soon as the route is finally located. The Railway Department will supervise the constructon of the road. Chief Engineer Armstrong who has had charge of the Government survey of the road for the past two years, will be the chief engineer in charge of construction, with headquarters at Winnipeg.

Tenders for the construction of the Halifax & Eastern Railway and for the line round the north shore of the Bras d'Or Lake in Nova Scotia, the extension of the Intercolonial system provided for before the adjournment of Parliament, will be called for in a week or so. The surveying of the lines is now nearly completed.

JEALOUSY SAID TO BE MOTIVE

Husband of Mrs. Scheib Formerly Charged With Murder.

Special to the Review.

New York, June 2.—Jealousy of his wife in connection with her friendship for John McKenzie, the Winnipeg real estate operator, is alleged by the police as the motive for the killing of Mrs. Harry Scheib, by her husband, who has been formally charged with murder.

Bequest to Earl Grey.

Ottawa, June 2.—Word has come to Ottawa that His Excellency the Governor-General has fallen heir to an interesting bequest. Last February his cousin, Mr. George Grey of Fallodon, Northumberland, died in East Africa, having been injured in a lion hunt. Mr. Grey was famous in South Africa, having been commanding officer of the corps known as Grey's Scouts, in the Matabele war. After disposing of his English property he left one-third of the residue, which includes a share in the Tangan Yika concessions, to his cousin Earl Grey: "Through whom I was induced to go to Africa, and to whose advice and help any success I have achieved in Africa is greatly due."

THE LEGAL STATUS IS NOT DEFINED

Methodists Doubtful as to Probationers.

Advise Caution as to Marriage Ceremonies.

Stratford, Ont., June 2.—The question of the right of a specially ordained probationer to solemnize marriage, was up before the London conference again yesterday, when the name of R. E. Lackland of Walton, was proposed for special ordination.

"I would ask if this includes the right to marry persons," said Mr. Dougall of Goderich.

"That is a matter of just a little doubt and I think it would be well for our men to be cautious," answered Acting President Ford.

Rev. A. R. Kellam of Putnam thought the conference should give a decision.

Rev. Walter Rigby, St. Clair, read from the discipline of the church reading marriage, and held that this made clear a specially ordained man was given the power.

"The whole thing depends upon the meaning of election to conference," said Rev. A. K. Bird. "It is not a matter of laying on of hands alone. Until you vote a man a member of the conference he is not a regular minister and he has no power to solemnize marriage."

Rev. Stephen Bond of Toronto disputed this holding that an ordained man was a minister, whether received into a conference or not.

Rev. F. E. Malott of London pointed out that the Latter Day Saints allowed local preachers, men of neither education or training, to solemnize marriages and they were apparently legal. The Methodist Church would be like itself if it did not give this right to its specially ordained ministers.

"The general conference should certainly make this point clearer," said Mr. Ford, and the matter was dropped.

Afraid to Go to Bed.

Bernie, Man., June 2.—Driven into concerted action by recent acts of lawlessness, the residents of this village at a mass meeting, decided to appeal to the Attorney-General of Manitoba for relief. Asserting that neither life or property are safe, they have asked the Department to investigate various cases of burglary, arson, housebreaking and petty thefts, and the petition states that the people of this village are afraid to sleep for fear they will be burned to death in their beds.

The Work of a Lunatic.

Chatham, June 2.—The wrecking of passenger train No. 9 on the M.C.R. near Ridgetown, when Engineer Quinlan and Fireman Oaks were killed, is now believed to have been the work of a lunatic, and not a job put up by disgruntled railway employes.

Struck In Eye by Stone.

Windsor, June 2.—Leslie Smith, aged 4, was struck in the eye by a stone on Wednesday while at play and to-day the doctors say he may never see again, the nerves of the other eye being sympathetically paralyzed.

SIR WILFRID OPPOSED IT

Would Not Have Colonies Help in Treaty Making.

It Might Involve Them in Britain's Wars.

London, June 2.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In the Imperial Conference Premier Fisher moved a resolution regretting that the dominions were not consulted prior to the acceptance of the terms of the declaration of London, that it was undesirable for Great Britain to adopt the inclusion of article 24, on foodstuffs, in view of the fact that a large part of the trade of the Empire was in these articles, that it was undesirable for Great Britain to adopt the provisions of the articles permitting the destruction of neutral vessels.

He attached the most importance to the first part of the resolution. Being part of the family of nations, he thought that the time had arrived when they should be informed, and, if need be, consulted before arrangements were entered into with other countries, by which their interests were affected. Their sole desire was to enlarge their power by means of communication between the self-governing communities. This step, if taken, while not weakening the Mother Country, would strengthen the dominions and make them feel they were sharers in all that was done for the protection of the best interests of the Empire.

Batchelor said that if alterations could be made in reference to certain points which would be for the good of the Empire generally, it would bring about a feeling of safety, contentment and satisfaction, where the greatest apprehension was now felt.

Sir Edward Grey said that with regard to foodstuffs there had hitherto existed a state of chaos. When aggrieved they had to depend for redress on the decision of the prize courts of belligerents, which were never satisfactory tribunals for a neutral to appeal to. The Government agreed to a certain extent that there should be no seizure of goods which were conditional contraband, when consigned to a neutral port, even though they might be destined to an enemy. One result of this concession, if they found a difficulty in clearing the whole Atlantic of the enemy's cruisers, would be that all possible goods would be consigned to neutral ports in Europe, and all we would have to do would be to protect the passage of goods across the channel to one of our ports.

There was only one thing that could secure safety in war time, the supremacy of the British fleet. That being maintained, other points were of comparative insignificance. The consultation of the dominions would have been difficult, seeing that they were not consulted by The Hague Conference. A prize court convention of the dominions would have to be consulted before the next Hague Conference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said it was a far-reaching proposition that the Dominions should be consulted in regard to treaties negotiated by the Home Government. Canada had claimed the liberty of negotiating her own commercial treaties, which liberty had been given them. Regarding other treaties it might seriously embarrass the Home Government if it had to consult the dominions. If a dominion insisted on being consulted in regard to matters which might result in war, it would imply the necessity that they should take part in the war. He thought on the whole it would be better to leave the matter entirely to the discretion of the Home Government. The declaration itself was an immense step in advance. It was the first step towards arbitration between nations, which Canada entirely favored.

Sir Joseph Ward and Dr. Findlay both supported the declaration.

LOST HIS MONEY; THEN SUICIDES

Friend of Hon. Joe Chamberlain Dead at Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 2.—W. A. Ellis, a man about 50 years old and a native of New Zealand, committed suicide in Harvey Park yesterday afternoon by taking cyanide. Despondency over ill-health and loss of wealth and position is indicated by notes found on his person, as the cause of the deed. Newspaper clippings which were found in the man's clothing indicate that he at one time was a man of considerable prominence in the old country, having campaigned on several occasions with the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain. He had also apparently been wealthy, but had lost all his money in a patent right swindle and in speculation. He was an expert chemist and was supposed to possess the secret of preserving eggs for a year or more.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

CHERIMOYA WON CLASSIC OAKS

King and Queen Present to Witness the Race.

Special to the Review.

Epsom, June 2.—King George and Queen Mary graced the race course again to-day, when the main event was the Classic Oaks stakes, which was won by Cherimoya. The winner was quoted at 25 to 1.

Fire at Cobalt.

Ottawa, June 2.—W. R. Smythe, Conservative member for East Algoma, who arrived here yesterday with the intention of sailing for London to attend the coronation, received word that the power house and plant of the Nancy Helen Mine at Cobalt had been destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $20,000. There was no insurance. One result of the bad news will be that Mr. Smythe will not cross the Atlantic. Mr. Smythe was not a member of the Parliamentary delegation, but proposed to take the trip on his own account.

Boys Charged With Theft.

St. Catharines, June 2.—Sam Goldman and Sam Shurman, aged 18 and 17 years, were arrested at Homer yesterday afternoon by Sergt. McCarty of the local police, on a charge of theft. The disappearance of the young men from Disher's boarding house and at the same time of a watch and chain belonging to John Conley, gave rise to the suspicion on which the arrest was made. The stolen articles were recovered on the boys' persons.

Fire a Mile Wide.

Nelson, B.C., June 2.—Word has just been received from Arrowhead, B.C., 150 miles north of the city, of a bad bush fire, one mile in width, that started early yesterday and is at present raging throughout that section. Fifty fire-fighters from Arrowhead have been fighting the flames the greater part of the day, but are unable to cope with the situation and assistance has been asked for from Revelstoke and surrounding towns.

Unless the wind changes the city is in safety. No lives have been lost, as far as can be ascertained. The district in which the fire is raging is heavily timbered and the fire threatens to spread rapidly unless assistance can be had at once.

NEW YORK BOY SLEW ANOTHER LAD TO COMMIT A ROBBERY

Tragedy in Italian Quarter of New York on Decoration Day.

New York, June 2.—A little Italian boy, small for his 14 years, sat in the Oak street police station house on Wednesday and told how, early on the morning of Decoration Day a thirteen-year-old boy, Angelo Leone, shot little Johnny Mial through the heart.

"Johnny stole $15 out of his mother's bank on a shelf," said the undersized Carmine Piombino, "and Fatty Leone wanted to get it. So while Fatty was in my house Tuesday morning Fatty shot Johnny through the heart and took the money. Johnny had left $7.50. Then Fatty and me tied Johnny's body up and we shoved Johnny into a feed bag, and me and Fatty carried Johnny down two flights of stairs to our cellar and shoved him in a coal bin and covered the bag with oilcloth and nailed boards over the place.

"Then Fatty gives me a quarter and my brother Joe another quarter, and Fatty goes out, buys a swell suit of clothes, and we all go to the moving pictures."

Yesterday morning Carmine broke down and confessed that he himself had fired the fatal shot.

KING AT EPSOM

Epsom Downs, June 2.—King George again attended the Epsom races on the Downs to-day, seeing Quintanona win the great Surrey Foal Stakes, worth $50,000. Bull Finch was second and Hall Cross third.

R. & O. BOAT ON BANK AT SOREL

Montreal, June 2.—Wednesday night's windstorm was the cause of an accident to the steamer Quebec of the Richelieu & Ontario Co.'s Montreal-Quebec line.

While endeavoring to make the turn in the Richelieu River at Sorel, the wind caught her broadside and drove her to the opposite bank, causing the stern to strike short with great force and tearing her rudder completely away.

She was removed to the company's shops, where a new rudder will be built and the steamer taken to the dry docks at Levis to have the steering apparatus reinstated.

Several yachts were blown ashore on Lake St. Louis.

Big Hotel For Montreal.

Montreal, June 2.—Plans for the Carlton Hotel, which it is proposed to build at the corner of Sherbrooke and Drummond streets, were presented to Mr. A. Chausse, the building inspector, yesterday and approved by him subject to certain unimportant alterations. The cost of the hotel building will be $1,250,000, exclusive of all furniture and fittings. It will be ten storeys high, containing 350 rooms, three staircases, four elevators and two fire escapes. The building will be fireproof throughout.

THREE MAY DIE FROM INJURIES

Machine Fell While Following Paris to Turin Race.

Special to the Review.

Paris, France, June 2.—Lieutenants Lucca and Hennequin, who were following the aviators in the Paris to Turin race for the War Depatment, were probably fatally injured by the fall of their machine near Hyeres. M. Gaubert suffered a similar accident at Versailles and will probably die.

THREE HUNDRED VESSELS ARE IDLE

Most Severe Depression on Great Lakes in Fifty Years.

Special to the Review.

Buffalo, June 2.—Vesselmen state that the shipping business is suffering by the most severe depression felt in fifty years. Over three hundred boats are idle on the Great Lakes and many more will probably lay up this month.

UNION LABEL

PARLIAMENTARY METHODS

A writer in the Toronto Star says that a more easy and profitable way to discourage speaking at unreasonable length in the House of commons, and especially obstructive talking against time, is not to adopt some form of gag, but to compel every member to be in attendance till the time. He says, with some force, it must be admitted, that the reason parliament does so much dilly-dallying is that members absent themselves unless something interesting is going on.

But if there complaint about the situation at Ottawa, how would this correspondent like to see Washington conditions prevail. The New York American tells of sonorous oratory in the House of Representatives to an empty house. Congressman Rucker, of Colorado, delivered a speech to a single stenographer. The congressmen are making set orations for the benefit of their constituents, and this fact being admitted, no one considers it part of an obvious duty to listen to the boresome flow of words. Says the American:

> The other day Mr Rucker, of Colorado, who really an excellent speaker, and a man of ability, spoke to a single stenographer in from of him whose only applause was the angry rattle of his pencil across the page.
>
> Still, Mr. Rucker spoke on as if he were speaking to a listening and applauding House. He thundered his defiance to the Republican party he made brave gestures in the full face of the protesting or concurring desks. He "paused for a reply," to which the desks made none. His splendid argument, if unheard, was at least unanswered.

If anything like that happened in Canada, there would be a yell of indignation from Halifax to Vancouver. The Canadian parliament wastes a lot of time, but it has yet to go some before it reaches the standard set by Congressman Rucker.

A WHITE WAY

The offer of the Electric Power Co. to furnish free current for three years for 220 lights on George street ought to be gladly accepted; It means a cost to the city of $2,000 to instal the stands and the lights, there being five in a cluster on a stand but once installed these are the property of the city, and with current supplied free, there will be practically no cost next year or the year after.

Peterborough has desired to be known as the electric city. There is no better evidence of its advantages in this regard than a "white way" on George street would offer. Forty stands with five-lamp clusters would light the four or five blocks in the principal business section of George street in beautiful and effective style, and would impress visitors as well as citizens with the electric possibilities of the city.

Let us have the "white way" in Peterborough, and be in step with Toronto, Ottawa and Hamilton. Looking forward to the time when the city shall have power of its own to distribute a white way lit by free electricity for three years would advance Peterborough by that period in extensive street illumination. The merchants of George Street should be greatly in favor of the increased illumination.

Peterborough residential streets are insufficiently lighted. Many of them are without light, and the incandescent lamp, so much used, is entirely ineffective. Thanks to this being a respectable and orderly city, the darkness does not induce offenses against law and order, but if the present lighting system costs $9,000 a year, the cost of a really sufficient system would be $15,000 a year. This is one phase of the argument for civic power—it will enable the city to light its streets properly without adding to the cost proportionately.

In the meantime, let us wake up, and have at least a "white way" to brag about, even if we haven't got an industrial commissioner to advertise us.

SWATTING THE FLY

An esteemed contemporary has raised the question whether the extermination of the house-fly will not be followed by disastrous conditions which cannot now be foreseen, says the Hamilton Herald. For all we know, it says, the house-fly may perform some salutary sanitary functions, and its removal may cause more harm than good. But why borrow trouble? It is a fact that the house-fly is a product of filth and a carrier of disease. That is known. It is not known that the house-fly performs any function which is useful to mankind. Therefore the reasonable thing to do is to guard against the known evil by exterminating the fly and leave the unknown evil to be dealt with when it comes, if it ever does come. Some scientific gentleman has recently came forward with the opinion that the fight against mosquitoes has resulted in the diminution of bird-life, for the mosquitoes serve as food for birds, and the decrease in the number of birds has caused a corresponding increase in the insect pests which attack fruit trees. But this theory is not at all likely to induce anybody to desist from swatting mosquitoes, because the former is the more numerous, more intrusive, and makes himself more at home in the haunts of men. Let the fly be swatted with no less energy than the mosquito. And now that the fly season is at hand, it is timely to print the following paragraph which is going the rounds, setting forth the most approved methods of dealing with the "busy, curious thirsty fly."

Pyrethrum powder burnt in a house stupefies flies until they may be swept up and destroyed. A little of this burnt in the morning in the rooms, which are then aired, will make the house exempt from flies all day. Twenty drops of carbolic acid put on a hot shovel or any piece of iron creates a vapor that kills flies, making a simple and effective remedy. The common mignonette plant grown in jars and placed in a room makes home life unpleasant to the housefly, while nature has given us another simple remedy in the common white clover, found in almost every yard. Gather a handful in the morning and place it in a vase and watch the flies hunt the open; its odor is very offensive to them. The clover should be renewed every day or so, for when dry it irritates the nostrils. A cheap and effective poison not dangerous to human life is bichromate of potash in solution. One drachm dissolved in two ounces of sweetened water and placed in shallow dishes will dispose of many flies. Another remedy which for all purposes probably has no equal is a solution of formalin or formaldehyde in water. A spoonful of this liquid in a quarter of a pint of water left exposed in a room will kill all the flies in it.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It wouldn't be any trouble for people to handle a cross-examining lawyer, after having passed through the hands of the census man.

Mr Monk having denounced the reciprocity pact, it will be in order for the Grit newspapers to make him one of Mr. Borden's cabinet. They have already made Mr. Borden's platform for his western tour. Mr. Borden, of course, is obliged for their kind assistance.

Germany wants to be in the peace pact. Not that it is expected to interfere with the Kaiser's military and naval plans, but to show the Germans desire to avoid war. In the mean time the army will be maintained full strength, and the naval contractors worked to death, rushing battleships to completion. By all means give Germany some of the lime-light.

Incendiaries In Vancouver.

Vancouver, June 2.—Three houses within three blocks of each other in South Vancouver were burned yesterday morning by incendiaries. There is no doubt of evidence of the fires having been thus started. Contractors declare that they know of no reason why the places should have been burned. Non-union workmen were employed erecting the buildings, which had just been completed. The suggestion is advanced by non-unionists that the present labor fight is responsible for the firebugs' operation.

Nova Scotia Telephone Sells Out.

Halifax, June 2.—The shareholders of the Nova Scotia Telephone Co., at a meeting yesterday decided to sell out their property and franchises to the Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Co., which received a charter from the Nova Scotia Legislature two years ago.

The Winnipeg Electric Railway Co., will erect a ten-storey building. The Quebec Bank will also build there.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 1.—Business in all lines of grain over the cable is dull, but there is a fair demand for oats for local consumption at steady prices. The foreign demand for spring wheat flour was fair and as bids in some instances were in line with millers' views, a few sales were made. A fair local trade continues to be done. The demand for millfeed is fair.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 41½c to 42c, car lots, ex store; extra No. 1 feed, 41c to 41¼c; No. 3 C.W., 40½c to 40¾c; No. 2 local white, 40c to 40¼c; No. 3 local white, 39½c to 39¾c; No. 4 local white, 38½c to 39c. CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, June 1.—The railways reported 80 carloads of live stock at the City Market, consisting of 683 cattle, 2751 hogs, 580 sheep and lambs, 177 calves, and 5 horses.

Exporters.

A very few export cattle sold at $5.90 to $6.10. Heavy export bulls are almost a drug on the market, selling around $4.75.

Butchers.

George Rowntree bought during the week 1479 cattle for the Harris Abattoir Co. as follows: Steers and heifers, $5.55 to $5.95; cows, $3.75 to $5.40; bulls, $4.50 to $5.

Stockers and Feeders.

The demand for stockers and feeders all week wasm greater than the supply. Feeders (short-keeps) sold from $5.65 to $5.75; feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, $5.40 to $5.55; stockers, 500 to 800 lbs. each, at $4.75 to $5.40.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair trade for milkers and springers, but prices for the bulk were from $5 to $7 per head lower, as will be seen by the sales given below, and many of the drovers lost money in this branch of the trade. The percentage selling over $65 was small, altho prices ranged all the way from $35 to $70 and one at $75.

Veal Calves.

The bulk of the calves sold from $4.50 to $6.50, altho there were a few choice new milk fed veals reported at $7, $7.50 and even $8, but these high prices would be no criterion to go by in buying in a general way.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep and yearling lambs sold from 25c to 50c per cwt. lower. Sheep, ewes, $4 to $4.75; rams, $3 to $3.50; yearling lambs (Ontario bred), $5.50 to $6.25; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50; American yearlings, $7.25.

Hogs.

The market for hogs was again firmer. Selects fed and watered at the market sold at $6.60, and $6.30 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

BUFFALO, June 1.—Cattle—Receipts, 25 head. Market fairly active and steady; prime steers, $6.30 to $6.50; butcher grades, $3 to $6.25.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

Aaron bowed gravely and, accompanied by M. Veaudry, retired indoors. They had hardly left when Bunce's long repressed emotion overcame him.

"A coolin' draft," he echoed, with violent scorn. "I want a drink, and let it be strong, friend. I always knowed you was a fool, Gene Kirby, but I never knowed it was as bad as this. All the names in the world to pick from, and you chose the name of Jack Moreau! Why, dog my cats!"

"IT WAS THE ANGEL OF CHANCE WHO GAVE ME THE NAME."

"Chance, Larkin, chance," returned Kirby, quite unmoved. "It was the angel of chance who gave me the name."

"Angels? Angels?" caught up the other, his voice faint with the violence of his sarcasm. "Darned if I ain't lost my hearin'. I'll be dogged if I ain't delirious. Skin me if it don't seem like I'm settin' out in a garden and hearin' Gene Kirby talkin' about angels. It sounded jest like his voice. 'Angels,' he says. Him—Cameo Kirby! Poor old Gene Kirby! Why, you mush brained chucklehead," he finished angrily, "don't you know that Tom Randall's been raisin' h-- all over Noo Orleans, tryin' to run you down?"

"Well, what of it?"

Bunce, making a gesture eloquent of despair, feebly sought the garden seat and mopped his inflamed face anew. "He asks me what of that," he wailed to the surrounding scenery. "You pore, wanderin' lunatic! You know blame well that of all places on earth this is the last you should have tumbled into. Now," with sudden energy and decision, "git ready to git out—quick! My hoss is dead beat, but git your angel to loan you one and slope for the river. I'll catch you up at Natchez."

But Kirby calmly refused the proffered riding whip.

"What's all the reason I shouldn't stay here?" he demanded. "Why should I expect danger from these people—Mme. Davezac, a Miss Pleydell and her father, a creole named Veaudry and a Miss Adele"—

"Miss Adele who?" bellowed Bunce.

"I don't know. That's all I've heard them call her."

Here the fates again intervened in the name of procrastination, for before Bunce could inform his partner that he was the guest of the family which, thanks to the efforts of Colonel Moreau, was his sworn enemy the ladies entered, and to the fleshy gambler's infinite disgust, anger and misery he was again promptly introduced by Kirby as "my secretary." Moreover, despite his utmost efforts he eventually found himself pledged to remain the night.

"But I dursn't do it, ma'am," he had expostulated to the smiling and indomitable Mme. Davezac. "Me and Kirby—I mean me and Colonel Moreau got to git right out of here. There's some mighty pressin' business waitin' for us—'specially for him, ma'am."

"Ah, but you will make pos'pone that business," she returned. "I've already had your horse taken to the stables. Colonel Moreau, he says he will do us the honor to dine with us and remain the night, and that decides it. You are his friend and secretar'— So I shall see you at dinner, M. Bunce. Croup, the gentleman's room."

And Larkin, making an uncouth bow, swallowed his curses and followed the old servant. Passing Kirby, he breathed scornfully, "If I was some people I'd find out more about other people."

Alone with Adele, Kirby leaned against the old sundial and attentively watched her deftly arrange in the basket her freshly gathered bunch of flowers.

"Your friend evidently thinks you are not safe here," she said at length. "But you won't go? I—I know you are safe here."

"I doubt it," he calmly interrupted.

"Why?" sharply, looking up with startled, wounded eyes.

"Because you are giving me a longer time to remember your kindness than I expected, and I'm afraid I'm finding that that isn't the safest thing in the world for me."

"Great danger in that, sir?" she gayly asked.

He joined in her laugh, but his eyes were half serious. "People who play with fire"—

"Ah, but I don't believe you are a toward, sir. Of what was your friend afraid?"

"Well, mainly he seemed disturbed because I didn't know your name," smiled Kirby.

"But you do."

"Pardon, I don't. This is the first time I've been alone with you since we started. I've only heard you called 'Miss Adele.' I don't even know whose plantation this is."

"Neither—do—we," she added sadly. "I—I want to show you something." And, as if yielding to a sudden impulse, she unfastened from about her neck a jeweled miniature and handed it to her companion.

Kirby instantly recognized it as a portrait of the late John Randall, and in a breath the full significance of Bunce's observations came to him. Amazed, he looked from the miniature to Adele, then to the house and back again to her. Observing his emotion, she whispered, "You knew my father?"

"I met him—once," replied Kirby, taking a deep breath.

"I was proud of him," she continued steadily, refastening the miniature about her neck, "and I am not the less proud of him now. You have heard how he died? Then you understand why we do not know whose plantation this is; that we hold it at the mercy of—Cameo Kirby." She dragged forth the name with an accent and gesture of unspeakable fear and loathing.

"Your brother took Moreau's word for what happened that night, didn't he?" asked Kirby steadily.

"Certainly. Had not Colonel Moreau shown himself my father's friend?" she returned.

"It seems to me that Moreau's word has gone for a good deal with your family," he commented, with veiled bitterness.

"And why not? Do we need any one's word upon a notorious adventurer who lives by gambling," she asked, with some asperity, "any one's word upon a creature who preyed upon the weakness of a good man like my father?"

"But has it ever occurred to you," he returned quietly, "that possibly this Kirby might never intend to claim the plantation"—

"No! No!" she interrupted vehemently, shaking her head. "He is too infamous. But I don't want to think of him today. A change has come over me, and—and somehow the world is a different place"— She stopped and then, with flushed cheeks and hurried breath, added: "I feel as if I had been living a long time in the shadows—shadows full of darkness and ugly thoughts. But it has lifted today somehow. What is it?"

She turned, asking the question with wondering eyes, her face transfigured.

"YOU KNEW MY FATHER?"

And as if the heavens, bearing out her statement, offered a sign which presaged future peace and happiness, a surcease from all tribulation and suffering, the final and complete obliteration of the shadows of the past, the homing sun, peeping from over the distant house, bestowed its last caress upon Adele Randall, transforming her somber dress into one of gayety and splendor. True to M. Veaudry's prophecy, it appeared as if her long affected mourning was to be at length discarded; but, contrary to that gentleman's long cherished hopes, his was not the personality to induce the metamorphosis.

THE KING'S DOGS

He Has a Favorite Terrier Named "Happy"

Unlike the late King, King George is not a very great dog-lover, though he has a favorite terrier named "Happy," which is very like King Edward's dog "Caesar."

But fond as His Majesty is of his terrier, he is not quite as constant a companion of his Royal master as Caesar was of the late King.

King George, for example, does not often include "Happy' 'in the Royal suite when paying visits; whereas King Edward took Caesar about with him everywhere.

"Happy" is rarely or never allowed in the King's private writing-room when his Majesty is engaged on his correspondence. Caesar was nearly always an occupant of the room when the late King was writing his letters.

Indeed, Happy lives for the most part at York Cottage.

King George is, however, a keen judge of a good sporting dog, and the kennels at York Cottage contain some fine setters and retrievers.

Before buying a sporting dog, his Majesty, when Prince of Wales, would often take one that had been sent on approval through the coverts at Sandringham for a day's trial himself, instead of leaving it to be done by the head-keeper.

The favorite dog at York Cottage has been for many years a big Newfoundland named Jack. Jack was presented to their Majesties during the Royal visit to Canada and Newfoundland in 1902. Before their Majesties started on their return voyage in the Ophir, the King wrote to the present Prince of Wales, telling him that he was bringing home a big dog for him and his brothers and sisters.

When the Royal children went to meet the Ophir, after exchanging greetings with their parents, the Prince of Wales exclaimed:

"Where is our dog, father?"

But, alas! Jack was not on board. He had become so seriously ill during the long train journeys he had taken in Canada that he was left behind. Later, however, he was duly despatched to England, and arrived safely at York Cottage, where he became an immense favorite with the Royal children and their Majesties.

KING'S PRIVATE PRISON

A Place Within Windsor Castle for Sundry Enemies and Traducers

How many people are aware that the King of England has a private prison of his own? Very few, we may be sure. Yet it is a fact that, within the walls of Windsor Castle there is, and has been for many long years, a prison where the ruling sovereign has before to-day kept in durance vile sundry enemies and traducers, as well as others who were considered better and safer when in direct supervision of the King's officers than when outside and free.

Chambers built over castle gateways were in olden days often made into prisons, and this was the case at Windsor, where, over the bateway throubh which you pass before entering on the long stair which climbs the mound of the Keep, is a roomy chamber that has always been kept for private prisoners at the Castle.

The windows are very narrow, but they give plenty of light to this interesting apartment; and on the walls of the room are carved many names, etc., of men who have been confined in it at one time or another. There are also dungeons at Windsor, wherein used to be put those whose eternal silence was strongly desired by the ruling powers; but we need hardly say it is some centuries since these were used at all. Quite different, however, is the case with this private prison over the Keep gateway, for whenever anyone in the Castle precincts seriously offends against the rules, or commits any crime against royalty, or needs to be kept safe under lock and key until the regular police arrive hto take the accused into custody, he or she can (and have been in comparatively recent times) be kept in this private prison apartment.

CORONATION OF A MARY

No Less Than $500,000 Was Spent on Mary Beatrice's Dress

The most interesting precedent of the Coronation of a Mary as Consort is that of the wife of James II. As this occurred after the Royal Regalia of England was destroyed during the Commonwealth, many of the objects used on that occasion had to be remade, and some of them will reappear, more or less changed, next June. For Mary Beatrice the goldsmiths' shops of London were ransacked for jewels to decorate her crown, which was fashioned as closely as possible after the records of the pattern of that worn by Editha in the old Saxon days. No less a sum than $500,000 was spent upon her dress and mantle, which were laden with jewels and some of these will be used voer again in Queen Mary's crown next June.

INVESTITURE OF THE PRINCE

The investiture of the Prince of Wales is to follow as closely as possible on the lines of that of Henry Prince of Wales, by his father, Henry IV. Only as to the manner of the ceremony, however, not as to the place, for when, at the request of Parliament, Henry IV. created his son Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester he invested him not in Wales, but in London, sitting on his throne, and placing on his son's head a coronet adorned with pearls, putting a gold ring on his third finger, and a golden rod in his hand. This was an imitation of what had been done in Edward III.'s reign at the investiture of the Black Prince, where we are told that the coronet was in the shape of a laurel wreath.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

GUELPH PASSED TIRE CO. BY-LAW

Will Loan Company $20,000—Only 94 Against

Guelph, June 1.—Guelph ratepayers, by their vote on the Independent Tire Company by-law, gave no uncertain sound as to their endorsation of the proposition to loan the company $20,000, for 20 years, at 4 1-2 per cent., on the security and conditions arranged between it and the city council. Of the votes polled 1,257 went for, and only 94 against the by-law.

NO TROUBLE SAY THE ENUMERATORS

People Understand What is Required of Them

Statements made to a Review reporter last evening by a number of the enumerators, who met at the recreation rooms of the Armories, were to the effect that citizens whom they had waited on, were well versed as to what was required of them, and that very little, if any, trouble was being experienced. The enumerators stated that the majority of the people informed them that they had read the information given in the daily papers and some expressed surprise at the comparatively small number of questions asked. The explanation of this is, that while the lists of questions sent out by the department were large, the enumerators are supposed to use their eyes as well as their vocal organ.

JUDGMENT FOR THE PLAINTIFF

Division Court Decision for $22 and Costs

Division Court opened at 10 o'clock this morning at the Court House with quite a number of minor actions on the list. Judge Huycke presided.

Up to twelve o'clock the only case settled, was that of William Johnston who sued Samuel Ferguson for $22, the amount of one month's rent.

Ferguson had a counter claim against Johnston for $15.60, which he said was due him for repairs made to the house whilst he was a tenant.

Judge Huycke awarded the plaintiff Ferguson, $8.40 and costs.

NO ENTRANCE TO STALLS AFTER NINE

LIBRARIAN FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Board Gave Mr. Dela Fosse Three Weeks Leave of Abscence

At the regular monthly meeting of the Library Board held last night there were present Mr. E. H. D. Hall, chairman; Mayor Morrow, and Messrs. D. Walker, D. Spence, A. Mowat, H. R. H. Kenner, H. Ritchie, J. Corkery and T. F. Matthews.

The following communications were read—

From Hon. J. R. Stratton to the librarian, advising that he had written to the King's Printer, asking that the Peterborough public library be placed on the mailing list to receive government publications issued by the King's Printer. To the Minister of the Interior, asking that he be good enough to send a complete set of topographical maps, and to the Hon. Sydney Fisher, asking that he be good enough to send to the public library bound copies of the year book from 1904.

Moved by Mayor Morrow, seconded by Mr. Matthews, that these communications be received, and that the thanks of the Board be tendered Mr. Stratton for his interest in securing for the library these maps and publications.—Carried.

From Inspector Richard Lees, with reference to the library of the defunct Model School at Norwood, asking on what terms, if any, these books could be placed in the public library.—Referred to the Library Committee.

Mayor Morrow read the report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of the following accounts—Otonabee Power Co., $11; Otonabee Power Co., $2.80; T. A. Redner, 40c; Peterborough Hardware Co., $2.25; John W. Butcher, $1; White Bros, $1.60; C. S. McClelland, $1; Peterborough Examiner, $5; Peterborough Review, $8.80; McClelland & Goodchild, $232.56.

Mr. Matthews, chairman of the Property Committee, reported verbally that, as authorized, he had made arrangements with Messrs. Adamson and Dobbin to make the connections necessary for sprinkling the lawn and with Mr. E. Wand for screens for 26 windows.

Moved by Mr. Walker, seconded by Mr. Matthews, that Mr. Dela Fosse be given three weeks' leave of absence to attend the session of the Summer School for Librarians to be held in Toronto in June, and that the Library Committee be authorized to secure an assistant during his absence.—Carried.

A deputation from the Medical Association, consisting of Drs. Greer, Buchanan and Morgan, waited upon the Board and asked that certain medical works in the reference library be placed in the library of the Medical Association, and that the Board assist the association in purchasing new books.

Moved by Mr. Matthews, seconded by Mayor Morrow, that the request of the deputation from the Medical Association be referred to the Library Committee of the Board, to confer with the Library Committee of the Medical Association and report at the next meeting of the Board.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Mission Band Picnic

Saturday is the day of the annual picnic of Murray street church Mission Band. This is always a very popular gathering of the young people and their friends. Unless the weather forbids Jackson Park will be the scene of a most enjoyable afternoon.

The parents and friends of the Mission Band are expected to be present and to assist in making the day what it has always been in the past.

DEATH OF MRS. GOODFELLOW ONE OF COUNTRY'S PIONEERS

Came to Canada With Parents When Ten Years of Age—Funeral To-morrow.

In her 92nd year, Mrs. Hannah Laing, relict of the late Robert Goodfellow, passed peacefully away yesterday afternoon, after a short illness.

Deceased was the last of a remarkably long-lived family, of Canadian pioneers and has herself had some novel experiences and trials. Born in Berwickshire, Scotland, in 1820, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laing, she came to Canada in 1830, with her parents, three brothers, and two sisters, all of whom have predeceased her. Making their journey in a sailing vessel called "The Duchess of Richmond," it was six weeks from the date on which they left the Old Land until they landed in Quebec. The late Mrs Goodfellow often told of the hardships on the memorable journey, taken when ten years of age. She remembered the trip up the St. Lawrence and the great icebergs which blocked the way of the vessel, and how depressed everyone was when the captain died and his remains were consigned to the deep, the first mate taking his position, and how relieved the new captain was when at last the pilot came aboard.

After a short stay in Quebec, the family started for Toronto, which was then called Little York. The father, the late Robert Laing, left his wife and family in Little York, while he went through the country looking for a suitable location as a new home, finally securing one in North Monaghan. It took one week to make the journey from Toronto to Port Hope, through the unbroken wilderness. When in a reminiscent mood, Mrs. Goodfellow would tell many interesting stories of the life of the early settlers. Their houses were built of logs, in a little cleared place in the heart of the forest and when a high wind came the trees were often blown down, sometimes falling on the houses. The howling of the wolves at night was frightful to listen to, and it was not safe for persons to leave the settlement without a gun as they were likely to be attacked by the wild animals of the forest. The primitive method of making maple syrup was vastly different to that of our modern times, the old sap-troughs being used instead of pails and buckets. All the sugar used was manufactured from the syrup, one family often making as much as one hundred pounds in one day.

The late Robert Laing, her father, when he was eighteen years of age, enlisted in the 18th Hussars, accompanying Moore to Spain. He fought in the memorable battle at Corunna, and was also present at the other fierce engagements, in one of which he was badly wounded. After that he received a pension and returned to his native land, where he farmed for a number of years before coming to Canada. He passed away at the age of 96 years, his wife succumbing in her 78th year. His daughter, the late Hannah Laing, was married to the late Robert Goodfellow, Jan. 26th, 1841, and they resided in North Monaghan until the spring of 1885, when they moved to Peterborough, and Mr. Goodfellow passed away the following July.

The deceased had resided on London street until the death of her eldest daughter, when she removed to the home of her other daughter, Mrs. Robertson, 177 Aylmer street. Always of a sympathetic and kindly disposition, she endeared herself to a large circle of friends, her advice and sympathy always being ready for the afflicted. Before coming to the city to reside she was an ardent member of the Springville Presbyterian church, the late Rev. Wm. Bennett being the pastor.

During her sojourn in Peterborough she has been a member of St. Paul's church and though unable to attend service for the past four or five years, she has been deeply concerned in the welfare of her church, and watched for the visits of her pastor with interest.

Though weak and failing under under the burden of her years of activity she was in fairly good health until last Sunday morning, when she was stricken with paralysis and rapidly sank passing away shortly after the noon hour yesterday.

Of a family of nine children, those left to mourn her loss are two sons, Messrs. William, of North Monaghan; John, of Peterborough, and two daughters, Mrs. B. McCannon, Donegal street, and Mrs. J. Robertson, 177 Aylmer street.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, to Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house, 177 Aylmer street, conducted by Rev. Robert Pogue, assisted by Rev. H. J. Keith at 2 o'clock.

PASSED AWAY DURING THE NIGHT FROM HEART TROUBLE

Sudden Death of Mr. George Cook of Driscoll Terrace—Found by Family This Morning

The family of William George Cook, veterinary surgeon, aged 54 years residing at 480 Driscoll Terrace, arose this morning and discovered that their father had passed away during the night from heart failure.

Deceased came home last night as usual, and feeling tired, he lay down on the sofa in the dining room, after having eaten a hearty supper. The family retired, except the son, John, who came home about 11 o'clock, and seeing his father, apparently asleep, he left the light burning.

About 6.30 o'clock the family arose and the first one who arrived down stairs noticed the light was burning, and on reaching the dining room saw the father still on the sofa. A physician was summoned, but Mr. Cook was found to have passed away from heart failure.

Deceased was born in Toronto, but has lived in Norwood and vicinity nearly all his life, only moving to Peterboro about five years ago. Since his removal here, he has practiced as veterinary surgeon.

The survivors are his widow, three sons, William, John, and Robert, three daughters, Misses Maud, Bessie and Priscilla, also one sister, Mrs. Wm. Sedgwick, Toronto.

The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the late residence, 480 Driscoll Terrace, to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Robert Pogue officiating.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Frank Convaly

Mrs. Violet Wilson Wright, aged 22 years, wife of Frank Convaly, passed away at Nicholls Hospital last night from heart trouble, following confinement.

Deceased was a member of St. Andrew's church, and was beloved by a large number of friends who will deeply regret to hear of her death.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the late residence, 332 Reid street, to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Jas. Rollins, pastor of St. Andrew's church, will officiate.

Margaret F. Donoghue

A bright young life was brought to a close at an early hour this morning at St. Joseph's hospital, when Margaret F. Donoghue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Donoghue, 295 Simcoe street, passed away after an operation for appendicitis. She was nineteen years of age.

The late Miss Donoghue was a member of the Sodality of St. Peter's cathedral and was well and favorably known by a large circle of friends, endearing herself to them by her many estimable qualities.

There are left to mourn her loss besides her parents, two brothers, Edward and Raymond, at home and three sisters, Miss May, Rochester; Misses Vivian and Eileen at home.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence, 295 Simcoe street, to St. Peter's cathedral, thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

Arthur Darked, aged 12, rescued James Gardines, 14, from drowning at Brantford.

James Leach, once of Toronto, pleaded guilty at Niagara Falls to a bigamous marriage with Miss Mary Warren. He was arrested at Dunkirk, N.Y.

COLLEGIANS EXPECT TO WIN FROM LINDSAY TO-MORROW

Midland League Team Goes to Port Hope—Cobourg at Bowmanville.

When the local Collegians and Lindsay Collegiate nine meet at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon the fans should witness a good game of baseball, despite the fact of the Central Park boys having been defeated in the muddy town by a 16—8 score. Stan Cresswell will be on the hurling mound, and his team-mates no doubt will settle down, backed as they will be by their own following of rooters and a home ball lot. It will be interesting to have a look at the work of Cresswell, who is rapidly developing into a classy twirler. In the game at Campbellford he fanned eighteen batters and at Lindsay his efforts along this line amounted to twelve strikeouts. The Lindsay team is undoubtedly strong at the bat, and "Tubby" Williamson is heralded as an effective slabman, but the local nine are looking for a win in this, the return game, which will start at three o'clock.

The Midland Leaguers go to Port Hope to-morrow morning for a scheduled game with the Messrs. Surphlis and Thompson aggregation. Down at Culverwellville the ladies will be admitted free to the game. Cobourg is billed to play at Bowmanville. Wonder who will be there to greet the tire team when the time for the call of "play ball" arrives.

The Canadian Ball League has so far met with good success. Each of the six clubs have been at the top or close to that mark, with the exception of London, which team has won only four games. Berlin leads with over two hundred points.

ST. JAMES' AGAIN LEAGUE LEADERS

Defeated Coldsprings at Exhibition Park by 2-1

In a hard luck game last night the Cold Springs huskies were defeated by St. James in a church football league fixture on the exhibition grounds by the score of 2—1.

The "Springs" boys had the better of the play throughout, but were weak in their shooting, while the Methodists were exceptionally lucky with their shots.

Judging by the play in the first half the score should have been about 3—0 in favor of Cold Springs, but everything seemed to go wrong when they came to shoot. The first half ended with the score 1—0 in favor of the Methodists.

The second half was a good exhibition of ball, each team counting once. The Cold Springs line was somewhat changed from their previous games, a couple of the "old guard" being on the defence, while St. James played with their regular team.

"If we had had the team of twenty years ago there would have been a different score," remarked one of the Cold Springs men, at the finish of the contest.

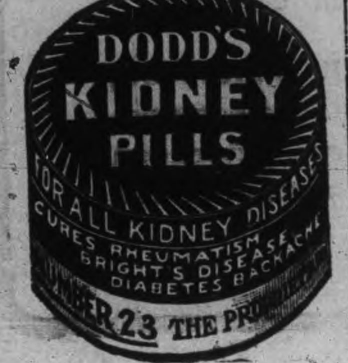
What! Another Hike? Yes! are you coming? We leave the "Y" at 9.30. Bring your baseball outfit, also swimming suit and say, don't forget your lunch including potatoes, etc. Less swimming will be done, and more games played. Come along!



MIDGETS WON FROM THE LIGHTS

Juvenile Ball Game Went 9-4—Another Schedule

A very good exhibition of baseball was given last night at the oval, when Midgets and Northern Lights clashed. The game went seven innings only. Score 9—4 in favor of the Midgets. "Snap" Parker pitched a good game for the winners. Batteries—Midgets, Parker and Horsfield; Lights, Swanton and Taylor. Umpire, Mr. Neale.

MORE GAMES.

The following is the second series of games for the juvenile league; all games to be played at the oval:—

June 6th, Lights at Thistles, 6.30.
June 9th, Midgets at Tecumsehs, 4.30.
June 13th, Lights at Tecumsehs, 6.30.
June 16th, Maple Leaves at Midgets, 6.30.
June 20th, Lights at Midgets, 6.30.
June 23rd, Maple Leaves at Thistles, 6.30.
June 24th, Tecumsehs at Thistles, 10 a.m.
June 24th, Maple Leaves at Lights, 10.30 a.m.
June 27th, Midgets at Thistles, 10 a.m.
June 30th, Tecumsehs at Maple Leaves, 6.30.

All night games to go only seven innings. Games this Saturday, Maple Leaves at Thistles at oval 2.30. Umpire, Mr. Thompson.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE.

The Hustlers and Pets played seven innings to a tie; score 12—12. There will be another game in this league to-night, but no games Saturday.

EAST CITY LOST TO KING EDWARDS

School Boys Played Good Ball—Score 13-4

In a junior fixture in the School League, the King Edward nine defeated the East City aggregation by the score of 13—4 yesterday afternoon.

The game was well contested, the youngsters playing snappy ball, making but few errors.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL AT THE FALL ASSIZES

Complainant Against Samuel Newhall the Only Witness Called

Samuel Newall, of Dummer township, who appeared before Magistrate Edmison yesterday charged with indecent assault on Mrs. Maggie Moore, was committed for trial at the Fall Assizes. Much evidence was submitted by the complainant, who was the only witness called upon during the whole afternoon.

Mr. B. Hall, for the defence, endeavored to prove that the complainant had been a consenting party to the deed. The witness admitted that considerable suggestive proposals had been made in a joking way at various times between her and the prisoner. She said she had answered him in the same manner. Witness said that the prisoner often came into her bedroom which was just separated from his by a narrow pantry. The oats which were fed to the chickens were kept in her bed-room and she stated that his purpose in entering her apartment was to get some of these oats.

His Worship severely censured the prisoner's conduct, remarking that his alleged crime was next to murder the most serious that could be committed. He classed his intelligence as hardly equal to that of one of the lower animals.

PUBLIC LAVATORY AT THE ARCADE

Good Work Accomplished by the Property Committee

The public lavatory and toilet room at the market arcade are completed and Ald. Duncan and his property committee are to be commended not alone for taking up this question, but also for the careful attention that has been given by them in their efforts to have all the work done thoroughly and which have been highly successful. A stairway leads from the hall and the floor is of tile. The washstands are of marble and the finishings nickel plated.

OUTFIT FOUND

Was Recovered at Toronto But Thief is Still Free

Dr. Pulkinghorn is again a possessor of the horse and buggy which was stolen from him some time ago by a Jew, who hired it. Detectives at Toronto found the outfit, which the thief had sold and it appears that the outfit went through no less than four deals.

The police are still looking for the thief.

PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT CHARGE

Young Man Arrested at Port Hope Had $27

Detective Newhall, who went to Port Hope yesterday to bring back the young man arrested there, and who, with a companion, also in custody, stole a sum of money from a man named Brown, at Long's hotel, returned with his prisoner by the afternoon train. It appears that the amount stolen was $54. Of this amount $27.00 was found on the young man apprehended at Port Hope, and the remainder on his pal caught here. The former pleaded guilty this morning. Both come up again next Wednesday.

TRAVELED ACROSS THE WIDE OCEAN

Children Aged 3 and 5 Make Long Journey Alone

Montreal, May 31.—Two little tots of five and three years of age respectively, travelling on their own account from Liverpool to Toronto, proved a centre of attraction at the Bonaventure station this morning, and afforded a good deal of amusement to travellers and employes by their entire self-possession.

These two children, a boy and a girl, by the name of Carey, are on their way to join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carey, in the Queen City, and the former, crowned with a mop of rosy hair, promptly adopted the station policeman, whose hair was also of an auburn hue, as his father, the adoption also taking place with the consent of the little girl.

The care which was taken of the two both on the Corsican, on which they made the Atlantic passage, and by the Grand Trunk officials, has been very highly spoken of by their fellow passengers. Their ticket was only half a second-class fare and this did not entitle them to a Pullman berth on the way to Toronto. A kind-hearted official paid the difference between this and a half fare first-class, so that the last stage of their journey was made in state. Fruit, candies and other eatables were also showered upon the enterprising travellers in wholesale quantities, and they received an amount of attention that probably no one of maturer years could have commanded. This was done simply out of admiration for a couple of plucky kiddies.

The children passed through Peterborough last night en route to Toronto.

STOCK TAX WILL GO INTO EFFECT

Two Cents per $100 Share to be Collected From Seller

Toronto, June 2.—After an absence of several weeks, during which time he suffered from a severe illness, the Hon. Col. Matheson spent a most strenuous day at the Parliament buildings Tuesday, receiving numerous visitors and deputations. Among these were several members of the Dominion and the Standard stock exchanges, who wished to discuss with the provincial treasurer the new provincial tax of two cents on every share of a par value of $100 dealt in on any stock exchange in the province.

The details of this new tax are now being arranged. It is proposed by the stock exchanges that in order to simplify the proceedings it would be better to have all transactions registered with the secretaries of the exchanges, who would keep a daily record and make weekly returns to the government. In this way a tremendous amount of work would be obviated, and it will be easier for all concerned in the payment of the new tax.

It is proposed that a rubber stamp be affixed to all stock when it is first put on the market, so that if the same stock changes hands several times in one day it will not need to be stamped, but at the end of the day the record will show how often it changed hands, so that the tax can be tabulated. The person selling the stock must pay the tax. The brokers, of course, will charge the tax to the customers.

GREEN WATER OF THE RIVER NILE

The "green water" of the Nile is quite a different thing from the green water of the ocean.

About April 15 the Nile begins its annual rise and a month later the effect is felt at Khartoum. A very curious phenomenon accompanies this increase in the appearance of the "green water."

For a long time it was believed that the color came from the swamps of the upper Nile lying isolated and stagnant under the tropical sun and polluting the waters with decaying vegetable matter. With the Spring rise this fetid water was supposed to be swept into the streams to make its appearance in Egypt.

Within recent times, however, this theory has been abandoned. Now, we are advised, the green water is caused by the presence of innumerable numbers of microscopic algae, offensive to the taste and smell. They originate away up in the tributaries and are carried to the Nile, where under the hot sun and in the clear water they increase with amazing rapidity, forming columns from 250 to 500 miles in length.

The weeds continue to grow, [illegible] decay until the turbid flood [illegible] put them to an end, for they cannot exist except in clear water.

Offensive as in some respects the green water is, it is hailed with delight by the Egyptians since its appearance is a sign of the real flood time and the close of the water famine.—Scientific American.

Country Town Sayings

By Ed. Howe

If you become angry every time a bill is presented to you, quit buying on credit.

It costs at least twenty-five dollars to show proper appreciation of having a baby named for you.

When people have had a run of hard luck it takes them two years to get the scared look out of their eyes.

When a man feels in his pockets for a letter to show you, ever notice how many useless things he carries?

About the slowest thing on earth is a farmer in town getting ready to go home.

Nine-tenths of the devilment that goes on is traceable to men who stand on the streets and "talk" while more worthy men are at work.

It is a bad sign when a young man start in politics before doing anything else. Let him first demonstrate his worth in a business way.

When an engagement is announced people say, "I thought he intended to marry that other girl."

When a mother breaks a dish or upsets something, her children scream "Well, if I had done that, what would you say?"

If a man took calomel three weeks ago, his women folks scream in horror at him if he eats anything sour.

CATCHING COLD AND HOW TO AVOID

Coryza is an inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the cavities of the nasal passages and may be either of the acute or chronic variety. In its acute form it is generally called "a cold in the head." The reason for this is that, given certain conditions of the system which tend to inflamed mucous membrane, the acute attack can very often be traced to exposure to cold, draughts or damp. It can perhaps just as often be traced to heat, dust and stuffiness, but whatever may be the final touch it is certain that the victim of the coryza was in a condition in which his powers of resistance were reduced or he could not have "caught cold."

It is of great importance that those people who spend many months of the year travelling from one attack of coryza to another should learn just where to place the blame for their trouble. It is a pity to get into the habit of blaming every open door or window or dreading every unexpected breath of air, because this only leads to the course of life most to be avoided. If a person finds himself with the "catching cold" habit increasing winter by winter, depend upon it there is something wrong, and that something is not fresh air, because that is the very thing he of all people most needs. In such a case the daily habits should be carefully overhauled.

Does the sufferer overeat, and especially does he take too much animal food and too little exercise? This mistake is at the root of the coryza habit in many cases. It is simply the sign of rebellion on the part of the overloaded system. Often the trouble may be traced to too much heavy clothing, to rooms kept too warm and to an atmosphere dried up with steam heat and no ventilation. People who sleep in shut up, stuffy bedrooms ought to live in a state of grateful surprise if they do not have constant colds.

The change that can be produced in the human constitution in this respect by a continuous course of common sense applied to daily life is almost like miracle working. But the course must be begun to-day and kept up at least 365 days in the year. The cold-catcher must pay minute attention to the digestive process, and is probably better off to eat meat not more than once a day at the most. His bedroom window must stay open winter and summer, not two inches, but all the way open. He must accustom himself to cold water bathing. This does not necessarily mean ice-water bathing. A bath thermometer is a cheap purchase and 65 degrees is cold enough for most persons.

Deep, slow breathing with the mouth closed should be constantly practised, and never more faithfully than at the moment when a cold seems to be in the act of getting itself "caught."—Youth's Companion.

WHY BAHAMAS SHOULD BECOME CANADA'S SOUTHERN PROVINCE

An Interesting Letter From a Bahaman Clergyman—Would Fit Easily Into Canadian Federation—New Field of Enterprise.

(Following is a letter written by Charles Dann, missionary superintendent of the Bahamas Baptist mission, on the question of union with Canada, that will be of interest.)

I have been much interested in an account in your issue of the 11th of April of the views of Mr. T. S. Hobbs on the question of the "Annexation of the Bahamas."

While it may be no easy task to convincingly express difference of opinion from a gentleman so evidently able, broad-minded, and well-informed, I yet feel that I ought to ask you to allow me to say something on the other side, from the standpoint of a Britisher who has resided for many years in this colony, and who feels that there are certain salient facts that Mr. Hobbs does not seem to have got hold of, and which should put an entirely different face on the whole matter.

Note carefully that Mr. Hobbs speaks of our sisal hemp and our "large trade in oranges, pineapples and various tropical fruits," and also of our fertile soil. Add to these statements the fact that sea-island cotton originally grew plentifully here, that the rubber vine is indigenous to the Bahamas, that it is a phenomenally fast and prolific grower, that specimens of the rubber sent from here to England have earned the verdict, 'second only to the very best quality in the world,' and that tobacco can be easily grown and is grown now. Put to all those items these also: That our sponge beds are by no means exhausted, and our winter climate is second to none in the world for tourists, and health seekers, and you will see that the tendency of some of the statements of Mr. Hobbs rather favors the idea of annexation than otherwise from the Canadian viewpoint seeing that what he says tends to prove how desirable a province we would be to Canada. The United States are a nation producing tropical commodities. Why should not Canada complete herself by doing the same? Some wisely-used capital could bring great returns.

BUSINESSMEN'S ATTITUDE.

I am certain that Mr. Hobbs is greatly misinformed on this point. What has struck me more than anything else since the inception of this movement has been the overwhelming majority of the men of business who favor the plan of annexation; provided always it would not be carried out on terms too onerous for us. Why the Legislature here, which voted so strikingly for the principle of union with Canada, is made up mainly of merchants.

I think the reason for this opinion of Mr. Hobbs appears when one remembers that he speaks repeatedly of the other West Indian islands in connection with this project. Now, Jamaica businessmen at present seem to be against drawing closer to Canada, and the same may be said of many merchants in other West Indian colonies; but it must be carefully and clearly noted that the proposition before us is the annexation of the Bahamas only. The business men of the Bahamas, with some exceptions, favor annexation by Canada as a principle. Some of these exceptions are deservedly influential men, but they are, so far as my observation goes, decidedly a minority. The colored people I have met are just as favorable.

FEASIBILITY OF THE PLAN.

For years my mind worked along the lines of a feasible West Indian confederation, as does Mr. Hobbs' mind now; but a careful consideration of the matter has led me to believe that it would be simpler for the Bahamas to be linked with Canada than for the Bahamas to be linked with the other West Indian Islands. This statement may startle Canadians. Let me indicate what leads to make it. As a matter of fact our constitution could be more easily assimilated to that of the Dominion than to those of our southern neighboring colonies. We are a self-governing colony, with an entirely elective popular chamber and a nominated "upper house." If I at all understand the constitutions of the other West Indian colonies, they are crown colonies in the main; consequently it would mean less of an upheaval for us to join more democratic Canada than to be linked withh them.

One feels more grateful to Mr. Hobbs for the warm praise he accords to the inhabitants of the Bahamas. His tribute is well-deserved. But it only points out how desirable our people would be as Canadian citizens. The majority of our people are colored, and after knowing them since the year 1889, over 21 years ago, and after travelling over these islands repeatedly from end to end, in the course of my work, I can warmly endorse the praise Mr. Robbs gives to them.

And let me say that while occasionally there may be a little race feeling between some of the colored and some of the white folks, there is emphatically NO COLORED PROBLEM. Our colored people usually elect white men to Parliament and work well with their representatives, and colored men have a place on our administrative and colored men have a place on our administrative boards. We are so used to settling all such questions ourselves that there is no likelihood of our being a trouble to the Dominion Government on account of the color question. We sensibly remember that white and colored people belong to each other and have common interests. We have a most law-abiding people, with an extraordinary freedom fom serious crime, which is an example even for Canada to copy, and our respect for law and order would free Canada from anxiety about us on the score of color were we to become a self-governing province of the Dominion.

Our colored people do not wish to live in cold Canada, and even if they did, our population is so small as not to constitute a color immigration problem for Canada. We don't want you to help us keep them here.

CANADA'S AID WANTED.

Most of us feel, from past experience, that Canada will never help us to develop our resources unless she has a vital interest in us. The colony has progressed materially in recent years, but not fast enough for the support of the population. Our lack of capital is in our way. Come over and help us to develop our resources. Canada could step in and do much for us, while she would enrich herself, and widen her own national horizon.

Then she could study the question of union with the other British West Indies at her leisure, and with her Bahamian experience to guide her. But, mark this, We would be very little bother to the Dominion. Our people are too wise and too orderly for that.

And so, Mr. Hobbs, I will venture to entertain the hope that I may one day be a fellow-Canadian with yourself—a Canadian of your new, model southern province of the Bahamas. Your spirit and intention are good. I hope that your views also may come into line with ours.

Remember that steamers have lessened distances, and that it is very little, if any, harder, to communicate with us, and send us your famous exports, than it is now to communicate with distant Vancouver and Victoria. Take out your maps and measure the distances. Yours very truly,

HE TOOK NEARLY HALF A MILLION

Some Victims of Bank Wrecker Have Gone Insane

Pittsburg, May 31.—M. F. Korlath, the Scalp Level banker who a month ago absconded with nearly half a million dollars of his bank's funds, was captured on Monday in San Francisco by Chief of Police W. S. McMullen, of Windber, Pa.

Korlath wrecked the town of Scalp Level when he absconded. There has been a panic in the town since, and five persons whose deposits in the Korlath bank represented the savings of a lifetime have gone insane.

It is feared that if Korlath is brought back to Windber or Scalp Level he will be lynched. When news was received here yesterday there were threats of violence.

It was on April 28th that the people of Windber and Scalp Level learned that the Korlath Bank had closed and that Korlath was missing. Business houses in the town became bankrupt, Hundreds of families had to be cared for by the charity departments, while many others worried themselves into illness. Albert Zock, Martin L. Mason and Steve Remley have since been committed to the county home as hopelessly insane and Mrs. Carrie Woested and another woman have lost their reason.

Korlath after leaving Scalp Level went to Canada. He was followed there by detectives, but he eluded them. He was traced to Buffalo, then to Philadelphia, New York, and finally to San Francisco, where he was arrested.

Korlath came from New York several years ago.

HOME BOY ABUSED BY HIS EMPLOYER

Beaten With Leather Strap—He Ran Away

Examinaeion Showed Bruises on Back and Neck

Some time ago a farmer by the name of Jones, who lives near the village of Omemee, wanted help and communicated with the Barnardo Home authorities, who placed under his care a young home boy. The young lad was a novice as far as farm work was concerned and no doubt found the work irksome as well as arduous. He claims that he could not do all that his employer wished him to do and that because he could not was beaten with a long leather strap until he was black and blue, and not being able to stand the abuse any longer he ran away.

The young lad, according to his own story, ran away last night, and on Tuesday he wandered into Lindsay. Here he was taken care of by the Children's Aid Society, and to them he told a very pitiful story. He was also examined by a local physician who found that the lad's back was badly bruised and in spots was black and blue, apparently being caused as the boy stated, by being threshed with a heavy piece of strap. On the back of the boy's neck was also noticed a nasty bruise, which the lad stated was caused by the farmer grabbing him with his hand. The bruise had the appearance of being caused by the man's thumb.

These beatings, it appears, occurred regularly and caused the boy much suffering, with the result that he took leg bail.

In the meantime after taking care of the young fellow the Children's Aid authorities placed him with another farmer. In conversation with a representative of the above society this morning it was stated that in many cases the farmers expected too much from these boys and that they were overworked, and becoming discouraged ran away.—Lindsay Warder.

HIGH KICKING NO MORE FOR MARION; SHE SAYS PERHAPS

Wants to Paddle Her Own Canoe And be a Sticker

Lindsay Warder—Miss Marion MacVeay, of New York City, alias Miss Marion Randall, "The Girl of Japan" with Mr Bert Lamonts' musical comedy troupe, which is at present appearing at the Academy of Music in a two night's engagement, is figuring in a very interesting controversy, and the pivotal question is, "How old is Marion?"

Miss Marionn happens to be the woman in the case and of course there are two sides to this case as well as every other, but it appears that some time ago when the company was in Marion's home town the young lady, (claimed by her mother to be under fifteen years of age,) went with the manager of the troupe for one week, and according to the letter received from the mother by Constable Short, she (her mother) had no idea that the company was about to leave the States for Canada; as she needed the young daughter she wished to have her sent back to her.

Constable Short, upon receipt of the above letter from Mis. MacVeay, immediately got into touch over the phone with the local authorities of the Children's Aid Society, who, in turn communicated with Supt. Kelso, at Toronto headquarters, and it is understood that the latter gentleman is in communication with the mother at New York, in order to ascertain the correctness of the missive received by Constable Short, and other information.

The little "Girl of Japan" as she is announced on the theatre program, however, has a different story, presenting the other side of the case.

Miss Marion Randall (according to the program) is not a stage beauty but nevertheless has her winning ways. She states that she has been living with her aunt, for whom she has no particular strong affection and that in leaving her to accompany the show troupe, she did so without shedding many tears, and furthermore that she does not want to and does not intend to return: in other words the little ballet girl claims she is over the sweet sixteen age and that, according to the regulations of the Childrens Aid Society, which fixes the age limit at fifteen, she can be her own "bess."

In conversation with some of the local representatives of the Childrens' Aid Society this morning they stated that if the mother's letter was genuine, and they had no reason to doubt it, that the mother had a legitimate claim to her daughter and the daughter would have to return to dear old "New York" providing the mother wished to push matters. Besides the Society also had a particular interest in the case if the maiden was below the age limit of fifteen years, for the Society, in order to carry out the Government commands and regulations would not be doing its duty unless it stepped in, and saw to it, that the girl was properly looked after.

In the meantime, Supt. Kelso waits word from New York, and the local C. A. authorities will endeavor to have an interview with "The Girl from Japan" this afternoon; while Miss Marion (Randall) MacVeay will appear at the local theatre again as usual to-night.

The next chapter will in all probability be acted out at Orillia, as the company leaves for that town tomorrow morning to fill a two night's engagement.

WHAT FINANCIAL RIGHTS HAS A WOMAN; AND A WIFE?

Christian Guardian

Has a woman any financial rights? Of course she has certain rights which are guaranteed her by law; but even these are sometimes looked upon more as gracious concessions to feminine weakness than as honest attempts to secure feminine rights. But apart from these, has a woman any universally acknowledged claims upon the home purse? We would like to answer "Yes," but with shame facedness, and with sincere regret, we are compelled to answer "No." In many homes—all too many, even in our own well-loved land—woman is virtually an object of charity. The sister, and the wife who live at home, and have no separate income, are too often looked upon as being virtually pensioners, dependant for their very existence upon the kindness of the man of the house.

Now we gladly acknowledge that this does not apply to very many homes, but it applies to too many. The wife is the partner of the husband's sorrows, and sometimes of his joys, and she shares his burdens, often carrying more than her share of the load; but unfortunately, she is not a partner in his purse. If she wants a few dollars, she must wait until her lord and master is in good humor, if she can wait that long, and then prefer her request. Even under such circumstances she is only too apt to be reminded of the fact that it is not very long since she made a similar request, and half jocularly and half in earnest she si reminded also that times are rather hard and expenses high, and that her husband cannot afford to be extravagant. Such treatment is unworthy of the man, and dishonoring to his wife. No man has a right to marry a woman and afterwards subject her to such humiliation

The trouble seems to lie in the fact that woman's sphere in the home necessarily prevents her from being a wage-earner in the ordinary sense, and it is not every man who has wit enough to see that her very devotion to the home ought to be looked upon as one of the highest virtues, and one which, from the social, religious and national standpoints, should command the highest wages. We do not hesitate to say that, no matter what the husband's position may be, nor what may be its emoluments, his wife, if she be a true woman, is earning more than he. The wife and mother can never be adequately recompensed for her self-denying, self-effacing labor; and all that she may receive from the family purse can only be a very feeble and inadequate acknowledgment of her services.

But some man grumbles that if his wife had her own way, he would soon be in the poor house. In some cases people land there anyway, but the proportion brought there by the extravagance of the wife is probably a good deal smaller than that brought there by the extravagance of the husband. In any case, the wife has certain financial rights which the husband ought to recognize; and he ought to bear in mind that he has no more right to stipulate what his wife shall do with her share of the money than she to stipulate what he shall do with his. The husband may advise, but he should remember that the money belongs to his wife (at least, her share of it,) and if she chooses to spend it foolishly, she is only exercising her undoubted prerogative.

This view of woman's financial rights is gaining ground rather rapidly, and seems destined to prevail in all countries where woman is honored as she ought to be, and where she is looked upon as man's comrade and helper, and not as an inferior being. We think that Christian teaching has done much to advance this view. The Christian husband of necessity is righteous and honest, and he no sooner recognizes woman's claim that he grants it, not as a favor but, what it really is, a right. Has your wife any financial rights?

TO GET COLONIAL APPROVAL BEFORE TREATIES ARE MADE

Imperial Conference Decides on Procedure—Times Criticises Laurier's Stand as Meaning Disrupting of Empire.

London, June 3.—At the Imperial Conference the discussion on the declaration of London was resumed. General Botha said he felt quite satisfied with the reasons given by Sir Edward Grey why the dominions had not been consulted at an earlier stage. The Government had obtained various concessions from foreign Governments, and after careful consideration he believed that the balance of advantage was greatly in favor of ratification of the declaration.

Premier Morris said: "Sir Edward Grey's explanation why the dominions were not consulted is fair and reasonable. On general principles the dominions should be consulted. Such a determination would be one of the most important results of the conference. On nearly every point of the declaration, particularly in relation to an international prize court, we have gained considerable.

Premier Fisher asked leave to substitute for the original motion, one to the effect that they shall be afforded the opportunity for consultation when the framing instructions given to the British delegates at future meetings of The Hague conventions, affecting the dominions are provisionally assented to, these to be circulated among the dominion Governments, that similar procedure where there is time or opportunity and the subject permit, be used when preparing instructions for the negotiation of other international agreements affecting the dominions.

The resolution was unanimously agreed to. Premier Ward moved that the conference approves with gratification the declaration.

Premier Fisher said that the resolution would place Australians in some difficulty. The declaration was such a great step in advance, that it would be wrong to abandon it, but that was quite different from definitely saying that they approved of the whole declaration.

Premier Asquith pointed out that the proposal simply meant conference approving the ratification at this stage.

Premier Fisher remarked that Sir Edward Grey said the declaration was settled and final.

Asquith replied that it was not final in the sense that no further progress could hereafter be made.

Fisher said that they would go so far as not to oppose the resolution.

The resolution passed, Australia abstaining from voting.

Times Scents Danger.

London, June 3.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Times says: "The argument of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, developed in his declaration speech, if carried to its logical conclusion, would involve a complete rupture of the connection of Canada with the Empire. So long as Canada flies the British flag it will be regarded by foreign powers as part of the Empire. No resolutions can affect this obligation, short of a vote by the Canadian Parliament declaring Canada an independent state, which Laurier would himself be the first to resist."

Accepted Call to Elora.

Elora, June 3.—Rev. W. McDougall Hall of Ottawa has accepted a call to the Elora Presbyterian Church, and a meeting of the Guelph Presbytery has been called for next Thursday to induct him into his new charge.

GOT A DIVORCE

London, June 3. — Admiral Sir Percy Scott, one of the most prominent of England's sons of the sea, obtained a divorce to-day in an undefended suit, and the custody of his three children. Scott named Dr. Phillip Green as co-respondent. Recently he found his wife and Green together in a Paris hotel.

HAS CASTRO LEFT SPAIN FOR CUBA

Former Venezuelan President's Whereabouts Giving Concern.

Havana, June 3.—The Cuban Government is in receipt of what is believed to be authoritative information from Spain that Cipriano Castro, the exiled former President of Venezuela sailed recently from Cadiz on board the steamer Legaspi, which is due here to-day, en route for Central and South American ports.

Castro is traveling incognito. It also believed he is carefully disguised, but is improbable that he will be able to escape the scrutiny of the Cuban officials, who will board the Legaspi here.

It is not known whether Castro desires to land in Havana, or whether the Government would try to prevent him. Secretary of State Saguilly said yesterday that the Cuban Government had not been informed officially of the coming of Castro, and was not absolutely sure he was on board the boat. Therefore, the Government would not decide its course of action until it was finally determined he is on board the steamer.

The conjecture here is that Castro does not desire to land at Havana, and that he will endeavor to conceal his identity here, and proceed on board the Legaspi and land at some port adjacent to Venezuelan territory, probably at Sanalia, Colombia.

Who Will Be Candidate?

Cornwall, June 3.—There are breakers ahead for the Liberals of Stormont. A convention of the party has been called for Wednesday, June 14, at Finch, to select a candidate for the next Dominion election. G. G. Gagnon, a young barrister, is understood to be anxious to carry the party standard, but a large number of the party will stick to the present member, Col. Robert Smith.

METHODISTS AND REVIVALS

Perambulating Practitioners Are Criticised.

Revivals Don't Help the Church Work.

Stratford, June 3.—Under a vigorous artillery of plain-spoken, unvarnished words the much-advertised "revival," as conducted by perambulating practitioners, experienced severe exposure at the hands of the ministerial members of the London Methodist Conference yesterday. Incientally the conference rejected by an overwhelming vote the recommendation of the General Conference, transmitted by letter from Rev. Dr. Chown, and Rev. T. Albert Moore, calling for the inauguration of such evangelization, on the ground that there had been some "suspension of spiritual power," that many pulpits were "satisfied with ethical teaching," and that "some preachers were insensible to the awfulness of sin." The conference decided to appoint one of its ordained men as conference evangelist.

"Toronto Christians expended an immense amount of money and effort in holding two of these great evangelist campaigns," said Rev. E. W. Edwards of Springfield, "and three different Toronto pastors have recently told me that the actual results were comparatively exceedingly small. This kind of thing does Christianity and the Church more harm than good. The permanent results of such tempests are very small. The pastor should be his own evangelist, not the general chore boy of the congregation."

Cheers greeted the comment of Rev. Dr. Manning that "the last thing to do to improve the spiritual life of a congregation is to take such evangelists into it. I would not have them at all. I do not see what we have to do in encouraging this business."

Rev. Dr. McDonagh, who added a pathetic touch by declaring he had been fifty-eight years in the ministry, and believed this was the last conference he would ever attend on earth, gave as his parting counsel: "That the more machinery of that kind you seek to organize the less success you will have."

Rev. F. E. Malett vouchsafed the opinion that the trouble with Methodism in Canada, as with Methodism in England and Lutheranism in Germany, was the number of unconverted members in the Church.

Rev. Stephen Bond raised a veritable storm by the declaration that "the ritual of admission to the church was now frequently unused, and prayer meetings are no longer worthy of being called prayer meetings. Only in a rare case," he proceeded, amid cried of protest, "does a Methodist preacher preach true, experimental religion."

"Where has Brother Bond been worshipping of late?" queried Rev. Dr. T. T. George.

Rev. James Livingstone wanted to know if the preacher was expected "to work the penitent bench at every service." He and his people were heartily sick of those itinerant evangelists, "with their poor stories and their sickly invitations. I was glad when they got away, and so were my people."

Speaking for the laymen, Mr. W. H. Kerr endorsed the proposal to have a duly appointed conference evanglist to help the weaker stations. "We have some men as ministers," he added, naively, "who are not cut out for evangelistic work, you know."

It was decided to appoint a committee of three ministers and three laymen to recommend a conference evanglist to the stationing committee.

Will Dredge Morrisburg Canal.

Cornwall, June 3.—Fallon Bros. of Cornwall have been awarded the contract of dredging the Morrisburg Canal near lock 3. The material dredged from the bottom will be towed to the south bank, outside of which it will be deposited by a traveling derrick, making a plateau, 1,200 feet long. The job is quite a big one, and will keep the dredge busy all summer. The other dredge is working in the Cornwall Canal.

Will Celebrate Twelfth at Newington.

Cornwall, June 3.—The semi-annual meeting of the Stormont County Orange Lodge will be held at Newington, to-day, when arrangement will be completed for the celebration of the 12th of July at Newington, which will be participated in by the lodges of the order in the county, who will be joined by the lodges of the Ottawa district.

Won't Raid Another Ball.

Montreal, June 3.—Henry Turegon, Emile Martin, Albert Doumouchel and Ferdinand Michaud, the four men accused of assaulting J. H. Roberts, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, when he raided the "Merry Widow" ball on April 11, were freed of that charge by the grand jury, who found no blame against them.

MONTREAL ITALIAN GIRL IS IMPRISONED FOR PERJURY

Had Given False Evidence Against Her Father, on Serious Charge.

Montreal, June 3.—In the Court of King's Bench yesterday, the case of Dominico Depace, accused of a crime against morals, took a decidedly unexpected turn. The daughter of the accused, who had sworn the charge against her father, and who, at the preliminary enquête had given testimony severely incriminating the prisoner, made an absolute "volte-face," and stated that what she had sworn at the enquete was false from beginning to end.

As soon as she stepped away from the witness stand, Crown Prosecutor Walsh asked the court that she be placed under arrest for perjury.

High Constable Bissonnette took the girl in charge and had her placed in the cells, where a few weeks past she had been instrumental in sending her father.

Detective Lajoie was called, but his testimony was not allowed on the ground that in order to prove a confession, it is necessary to prove that crime has been committed.

Mr. D. Macavoy, on behalf of the accused, made a strong objection to the manner in which the confession had been obtained, and Mr. Justice Archambault agreed with him, saying: "There is an abuse far too common in our country. When a man is placed under arrest the police have the habit of asking questions. Any confession obtained in reply to such questions, whether the prisoner has been warned or not, is illegal and I will not allow it to be given as testimony."

Crown Prosecutor Walsh then announced that he was unable to continue the case and the prisoner was discharged.

Depace, however, will have to stand trial again on a charge of a similar nature on June 8.

MARY'S GAVE $60,000

London, June 3.—The Marys throughout the empire have contributed $60,000 to the Queen's coronation gift. The donors range from maids to duchesses, and the donations from half pennies to pounds.

Red Lopaz Shot.

Cananae, Sonora, Mexico, June 3.—"Red" Lopez, ordered imprisoned by Francisco I. Madero, jr., on the charge that he had sold out to American interests while in command of a section of the insurrecto garrison at Augua Prieta, has been put to death. Lopez was being conveyed here to serve an eight-year sentence imposed by a court-martial.

Conflicting stories are told by the guard which was accompanying Lopez. One is that the former insurrecto leader had been shot while attempting to escape; another that he pleaded to be executed rather than be taken to prison.

It is alleged also that Lopez had confessed to having received $4,000 for the surrender of Augua Prieta to the federals.

PRESIDENT MUNRO GETS OFF ON FALSE RETURNS CHARGE

Judge Winchester Says Munro Didn't Know Statements He Signed Were False—Couldn't be Expected to Know.

Toronto, June 3.—Col. James Munro, at one time member of Parliament, former president of the Farmers' Bank of Canada, charged with wilfully making false returns to the Finance Department at Ottawa in respect of such bank, has been adjudged not guilty by his honor Judge Winchester.

It was known that Judge Winchester had made up his mind several days ago, but as no announcement was forthcoming, there was tension and anxiety in many quarters. His honor says that "James Munro was deceived by both Travers and Fitzgibbon and intentionally so; that he placed the fullest confidence in their trustworthiness, and relied implicity on their statements as being honest and true."

In support of his opinion on this point, Judge Winchester quotes an old judgment of the year 1833, in which a country gentleman, not skilled in accounts, was involved. "These rogues in short," recites the excerpt, "—for roguery it was—put before him so much that he came away with as little information as he possessed when he went." Continuing, he says, "while Mr. Travers was on the witness stand, said that he could have given Mr. Munro in a short space of time the particulars of all these accounts, as set forth in the monthly statement and show him in what respect they were false, yet I am firmly convinced that even had Mr. Munro requested such a statement from Mr. Travers or Mr. Fitzgibbons at that time, he would not have received them."

In summing up his observations, Judge Winchester put the substance of finding in the following paragraph:

"In this present case, as already set forth, I find from the evidence that Mr. Munro placed every confidence in the ability, qualifications and trustworthiness of the chief accountant and of the general manager of the bank; that he was entirely innocent of any knowledge of wrong-doing; that he was not a party to the making up of any statements which were false or deceptive. On the other hand, I find that the general manager wilfully falsified the statements and deceived the president and directors of the bank from month to month, and that he was assisted in so doing by Fitzgibbon, and while the general manager has been prosecuted for making such false statements and having admitted his guilt, received his sentence, his assistant in preparing and making up these false statements has so far escaped prosecution while Munro, who had no personal knowledge of the facts, has been prosecuted for wrong-doing.

"Applying the law as laid down in the above decisions to the facts of this case, I find Munro not guilty of the charges laid against him."

Nine-tenths of the devilment that goes on is traceable to men who stand on the streets and "talk" while more worthy men are at work.

Sick of the Job.

Ottawa, June 3.—Already one census commissioner has got sick of his job and given it up. He is W. P. Purney of, Queen's County, N.S. Fred Freeman replaces him.

The civil service commission is calling for applications for the office of Dominion agriculturist, to draw an initial salary of $2,100. The office of assistant live stock commissioner is also looking for an occupant.

Buried With Military Honors.

Kingston, June 3.—Late Gunner Emile Lamoureux of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery was buried with full military honors yesterday. The body was conveyed from the station hospital on a gun-carriage, escorted by men from both batteries in command of Maj. J. S. N. Leslie.

The 14th Regiment, P.W.O.R., may spend Dominion Day at Niagara Falls, Ont.

Seized Two Miles of Nets.

Brockville, June 3.—Fish and Game Overseer George Toner has shipped to the sectional headquarters in Belleville 29 sets of 20-rod gill nets and one set of hop nets, the fruit of the seizures from illegal fishermen on the St. Lawrence for the month of May. These would aggregate in length almost two miles.

May Sue City.

Brantford, June 3.—Brantford may be asked to defend an action for damages, as a result yesterday of the death of Axenty Nitzok, a Russian, 23 years old, who died from injuries about the legs, caused by the collapse of a trench in a sewer he was working on. Negligence is alleged.

Delegate to Stockholm.

Listowel, June 3.—Dr. Pearl Sproull, a young lady from this town, who went to London, England, to take a special course, has been named as a delegate of the Women's Societies to the International Congress of Women, which meets at Stockholm, Sweden, on June 16.

Horse Thieves Abroad.

Woodstock, June 3.—Horse thieves stole two valuable horses from Wm. Banbury, on the Norwich road. The police are at work, but no arrests have been made as yet.

BARRIE MAN WAS GOING TO END IT

Jumped Into Water at Allandale—Was Rescued.

Barrie, June 3.—At 6.15 last evening a well-dressed man about 35 years of age, going by the name of Andrew Hay, and giving as his last residence Collingwood, attempted suicide by jumping from the dock in front of the Allandale Station. Fortunately Arthur Stone, agent for the Canada Express Co., who was passing in the vicinity of the dock, heard him shout, "I'm going to jump in" and heard the splash. Running to the spot he saw Hay going under for the second time, and lowering himself from the dock by his left hand seized the drowning man with his right hand as he came to the surface for the last time. Roy Stone, a brother of the express agent, quickly came to his assitance, and together they pulled the man on to the dock and after rolling him for some time brought him to his senses. The police were then summoned and Hay was placed in the county jail to await an investigation of his case. Despondency is supposed to be the cause of the attempt on his life. After being rescued he pleaded to be allowed to go back into the water.

STOLE CHEQUE BOOK OF FIRM

Vancouver Forgers Get Away With $1,100.

Vancouver, June 3.—Alleged forged checks for an aggregate of $1,100 have been floated in Vancouver during the past week. It is stated that forty worthless checks, each for the sum of $27.50, have been cashed, principally by hotelkeepers of the city. The checks purported to have been issued by the Ritchie Contracting & Supply Co. and were made payable to either "Fred Woods" or George Stewart," two supposedly fictitious never-actors. The checks were drawn on the Traders' Bank and bore the Ritchie Co. stamp and signatures, which purported to be those of P. E. Ritchie, president, and A. Morrison, secretary of the company. Ritchie yesterday declared all the checks were forgeries.

It was stated by Mr. Ritchie yesterday morning that the forgers must have broken into the company's offices and secured the checks, as those used were taken out of the office check book and were numbered successively from the last genuine checks which had been issued by the company.

Liner Went Aground.

Quebec, June 3.—The Manchester Spinner of the Merchant Line, arrived in Quebec, yesterday evening, after having the experience of going aground for two hours on her way upon White Island. The ship, however, was gotten off when the tide rose, and she reached Quebec and was placed in the Louise Basin. The vessel is now anchored in the Louise Basin, where the tanks of the vessel have been found to be leaking badly.

Bickerdike Moves.

Montreal, June 3.—Robert Bickerdike, M.P., after returning from Toronto yesterday morning, sent in his resignation as vice-president of the Bank of Hochelaga, a position he has held since 1891, being director for a quarter of a century. The resignation will be accepted on Tuesday.

It is also announced that the directors of the International Bank of Canada will be Rodolphe Forget, M.P., president; Robert Bickerdike, M.P., vice-president, with Sir George Garneau, Hon. L. O. Taillon and J. N. Greenshields, K.C., as the other Canadian directors.

David Williams resident.

Brantford, June 3.—At the closing session of the Ontario Historical Society here last night officers were elected as follows: President, David William, Collingwood; vice-president, John Dearness, London; treasurer, W. A. McLean, Toronto; councillors, Mrs. E. Thompson, Toronto; J. C. Carstairs, Toronto; Alexander Fraser, Toronto; A. F. Hunter, Barrie; Judge H. S. MacDonald, Brockville; Clarkson W. James, Toronto, is permanent secretary; auditors, J. J. Murphy and Frank Yeigh, both of Toronto.

THE BAHAMA QUESTION

The question of the annexation of the Bahama islands to the Dominion, forming another province, is not likely to take very deep root as a practical question of Dominion poltics. It might be desirable from the standpoint of the Bahama people, because while they would have local self government they would share in such trade advantages that would be afforded by the growing importance of Canada. As for Canadians getting the product of the Bahamas free, it can do that in any case where it is not now done, by simply removing the duty. The Bahama people do not yet put an export tax on their chief products. And as for selling the Bahamas, the Canadians have so far found considerable competition for Canadian products, in witness to which the United States wants reciprocity to "lower the cost of living" and to prevent Canadian trade with Britain from developing.

It is urged that the Bahamas would give Canada a southern naval station for our great navy. Of course, no one would dispute the fact that it would be nice to send our great battleship squadrons south in January and February to get the barnacles off, and to give the Atlantic coast Yankees some real idea of our naval force as our leviathans of war sweep proudly and majestically along the heaving ocean, etc., and so forth; but Halifax is a winter port, and so is Victoria and Esquimalt, and it doesn't seem necessary that Canada should inaugurate a policy of taking in the poor relations of the empire, at present. The United States started that policy in taking over the Philippines and in assuming a protectorate over Cuba and Porto Rico. That it is sorry it tried the experiment is certain from the expressions of American opinion, though the usefulness of Manila as a navy coaling station in view of the Japanese scare has undoubtedly been of some moment.

The present British North America act does not provide for the enlargement of Canada beyond the taking in of Newfoundland, when that island desires to come, and we fancy that the agitation of a few rich Canadians, who like to bask in the rays of the southern sun while the rest of us hold tightly to our fur and furnace-registers, will not carry a great deal of weight. In taking the Bahamas in, Canada would be assuming a great deal of responsibility for the protection of the islands in case of a war, and Canada would probably have her hands full protecting herself.

LAURIER AND TAFT

Speaking at Rockland Hon. Charles Murphy defended reciprocity on the ground that it would make food cheaper to the workingman, says the Toronto News. According to this minister "it is a workingman's agreement pure and simple." Other cabinet ministers and government apologists assert that it is a farmers' agreement intended to increase the selling price of farm products.

Thus far the administration has not notably succeeded in showing how the Washington bargain can be both of these things. It has not wholly explained how food can be cheapened to the city dweller, and yet bring a higher price to the agriculturist. We are still waiting to learn how producer and consumer are both to benefit, how buyer and seller are both to grow rich out of the new fiscal arrangement.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Taft might take up this aspect of the situation when they meet on the platform at Port Huron. The Michigan farmers will expect the President to repeat his already oft-repeated statement that under his contract with Mr. Fielding they will be able to sell a great deal more agricultural produce in Canada than the Canadian farmers will be able to sell in the United States. If any Ontario farmers cross the St. Clair river to hear the joint debate Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have to contradict Mr. Taft or leave his own people dissatisfied.

As has been said the United States is the world's greatest exporter of food products grown in the temperate zone. It bears repeating that in 1909 the following quantities of foodstuffs were exported from the republic:

	Bushels.
Wheat, flour included	114,268,000
Corn	35,853,000
Oats	1,510,000
Rye	1,272,000
Barley	6,580,000
	lbs.
Bacon and hams	456,748,000
Pork, fresh and salted	61,910,000
Lard	528,772,000

A country that can spare so much food for consumption abroad has no great hungry void waiting to be filled by Canadian farmers. We already import a great deal of American agricultural produce and under reciprocity we would import a great deal more. It is calculated that the Canadian provinces lying east of Lake Superior annually consume perhaps 20,000,000 bushels of prairie wheat. At present this comes from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Under the Taft-Fielding arrangement it might easily come from the United States through such milling centres as St. Louis and Minneapolis. This point is raised by the Montreal Gazette and it deserves the serious attention of Western Canadian farmers.

We know that farm lands are worth less in the eastern half of the United States than in the eastern half of Canada, and that farm stuff brings less in New York State than in Ontario. Under such conditions how is access to the American market going to help the Canadian farmer? Would he benefit at all from the change? Would he not rather be exposed to injurious competition from 30,000,000 American farmers, many of them occupying cheap lands and marketing cheap produce? In addition the Canadian farmer would have to meet as best he could the prospect of unchecked agricultural imports from many other countries without securing any compensating advantages in return.

The reciprocity agreement should not be ratified. We should let the incoming Democratic administration at Washington lower the tariff on agricultural products without assistance from Canada. Meantime we should continue to Canadian agriculture the protection extended to it by the Macdonald government. Under that policy the nation has prospered amazingly. Under a similar national policy the United States has risen to its present greatness. The Canadian workingman is deeply interested in the continuation of this policy. Reciprocity in foodstuffs would soon mean free trade in manufactures, impoverish our workingmen and drive them out of the country in order to get employment and to gain a livelihood. It would be also a serious blow to the Canadian farmer's home market, which now consumes 80 per cent. of his output.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The city council will deal with the matter of appointing another industrial commissioner at its meeting on Monday night. It is likely that some proposition will be advanced by someone that the city clerk be asked to take on the duties which he performed so efficiently before, though interfering with his other work. It is the general opinion however, that Mr. Armstrong has enough to look after at present, without adding the commissioner's duties. Either the office should be retained with a man giving his whole time to the work, and actively interested, or discontinued.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier tells the representatives of the empire that Canada wants to avoid any part in empire treaty-making, except those commercial treaties in which she is directly interested, because she might be involved in any war that Britain might be pitched into. This attitude is not one that will appeal to British Canadians. It means that Laurier is determined to have Canada take no step or attitude liable to further or intensify the imperial connection, although enjoying the benefits of being a part of the empire. Canada's only salvation is the moral backing Britain gives her. Sir Wilfrid would rather have reciprocity with the United States.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys, and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in yellow boxes, 25c. per box, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Stimulate Liver and Kidneys

VILLAGERS ARE AFRAID TO SLEEP

Birnie, Man., June 2—Driven into concerted action by recent acts of lawlessness, the residents of this village at a mass meeting decided to appeal to the Attorney-General of Manitoba for relief. Asserting that neither life nor property are safe, they have asked the department to investigate various cases of burglary, arson, housebreaking and petty thefts and the petition states that the people of this village are afraid to sleep for fear they will be burned to death in their beds.

The petition concludes by saying conditions here are a disgrace to civilization and asks the department to take immediate action to bring the guilty party to justice. Incidentally a similar state of affairs existed here a few year sago when several members of the gang were sent to the provincial jail for various terms.

ONE MORE OF THE PIONEER WOMEN

Tells Her Suffering Sisters to find Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Forrester had Rheumatism and other Kidney Diseases for two years, but Dodd's Kidney pills made her well

Dinsmore, Sask., June 2.—(Special). One more of the pioneer women of Saskatchewan, relieved of pain and suffering by Dodd's Kidney Pills, has given her statement for publication in order that other suffering women may profit by her experience. This time it is Mrs. John Forrester, well known and highly respected in this neighborhood.

"My trouble started from a severe cold," Mrs. Forrester states. "My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I perspired freely at the slightest exertion. I had pains in my back and Rheumatism developed, from which I suffered for two years.

"I do not need to tell you that I was far from being a well woman when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, but now I am thankful to say my troubles are gone. I recommend all suffering women to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Suffering women can learn from the experience of others that the one sure way to health is to cure their Kidneys, and Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure the Kidneys.

A Pure Invention

Ottawa, June 1.—Mr. R L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, to-day announced that the rumor to the effect that he would have a new platform to announce on his western trip in regard to increased preference, terminal elevators, reduction of duty on agricultural implements, etc., was a pure invention. He had expressed no such intention.

CHAPTER IX.

EVEN a more obtuse and inexperienced man than Eugene Kirby would not have failed to interpret Adele's words and bearing, the cause of which was as yet beyond her understanding. Kirby knew that he was dealing with no coquette, who sought to pander to vanity or who considered all men the playthings of an idle hour. It was not so much Adele's words as her manner, which betrayed a frank liking and interest, which, despite his modest arguments to the contrary, could no longer be attributed to an impersonal regard for his safety and welfare. He saw that, unknown to herself, she was rapidly passing through the various stages of liking and interest, heading straight for that inevitable climax which is dignified by the term love. In view of the fact that he had already arrived there and had made every effort to assist her toward the same goal, the present misgivings and self censure which now assailed him were decidedly out of place.

True to his character, he had acted first and considered last. He had put forth every effort to please, to awaken her heart, and now that there were signs that it was answering he was dismayed. In the flush of his new and welcome experience he had forgotten his calling, his reputation—forgotten that he was a common gambler, with no claim upon such society as he was now enjoying—forgotten everything but that, by some miraculous fortune, he had been transplanted to the land of his dreams, had met its central figure and had promptly plunged head over heels in love.

Kirby's thorough if tardy self censure, however, was hardly justified, for he had made no conscious efforts to enlist Adele's regard, and their mutual attraction had been as instantaneous and spontaneous as it was natural and to be expected. But the knowledge of her identity had awakened him to a lively sense of his true position, and, although he was far from being the scoundrel which Moreau had pictured and Adele believed him, his regard for her clearly showed him that by remaining he was jeopardizing her future peace and happiness. He must save her from herself and from him and, no matter how difficult it would prove, kill her dawning interest, which naturally was based on the supposition that he was a gentleman privileged to associate with one of her standing. Filled with this resolution, he now turned and said:

"Miss Randall, you've been kinder to me than any woman ever was. You saved my life this morning. But my friend is right. I'd better go. Already you've helped me more than you ought."

Instantly the angelic, wrapt expression was sponged from her face, and, astonished, almost angry, she turned upon him.

"Why? What right have you to say that?" she demanded. "Do you think I don't want to?"

"No," he admitted. "But—but I can't stay."

"Do you want me to believe that you're afraid?"

"Yes, I'm afraid."

"Afraid because we expect the real Colonel Moreau tonight or tomorrow? I'm not afraid of his coming, and you can't make me believe that you are. I don't believe you were ever afraid of a man in your life." She stood very straight and looked into his eyes, an incredulous, challenging smile on her lips.

"No, I was never afraid of a man," he admitted quietly. "But I am afraid of"—

"Of me?" she whispered interpreting the pause.

"Yes," he said simply.

Her eyes battled to meet his own, but every effort proved futile, and at length, coloring vividly, she sought the garden seat, half turning her back, while he pre-empted the arm, toying restlessly with the white camellia he still carried.

"I gather from the stories you read the General," he continued, bending toward her, while he smiled half cynically, "that the bad prince always keeps following the beautiful princess, and of course she always finds him out. Now, it looks to me like a weakness in his character that he doesn't quit before she has the chance to. In my opinion, he's a fool to take the risk."

Her answer came tremulously, but withal brave and to the point.

"I suppose I could find a story in which she would want him to take the chance. Now—now, are you going to stay?" turning and looking up, half daringly, into his eyes.

"I can't," he said doggedly. "And the sooner I go the better. Don't let anything ever make you sorry that you helped me. Goodby." And, throwing the camellia on the bench, he resolutely offered his hand.

But she ignored the hand and picked up the discarded flower.

"Not yet, not yet," she whispered. "There is Ann calling me, and I must dress for dinner. But I shall expect to see you again before you leave. You will wait here? You may tell me goodby then—if you wish to."

He bowed, seating himself dejectedly on the garden seat, while she flew into the house.

The sun had set, and twilight was fast approaching, the shadows of the trees blending in one solid gray impalpable mass. It seemed as if the disappearance of the sun and Adele had been coincident, productive of the same effect. Without warning the day's work seemed to be clamoring for toll, demanding more than Kirby owned. He felt weary, spent, utterly forsaken and alone, the bleak and barren future stretching interminably before him. Hostage of his bitter humor, he was oblivious to the fact that the old negro, Croup, watching his opportunity, had stolen from the house and was now regarding him fixedly, and he started when at length the other timidly ventured to address him.

"Marse, yo' scuse me, sah. Could yo' be so 'bligin' an' kind fo' me to ask yo' a question?" prefaced Croup, with a humble bow. "I got a very strong membunce o' de way yo' is favored in de profyle, but it must 'a' been a long time since yo' was here, kase I don't place yo' das right, specially by de name, sah."

"I have never been here before," replied Kirby truthfully.

"Well, I 'clah ole Croup got a rack his wool some, kase I knows yo' face as well as I knows my own. I bet I ain't goin' to get to sleep a wink tonight tryin' to 'membeh whah it was I know yo', sah."

Amused by the other's evident perplexity, Kirby in his characteristic fashion temporarily dismissed his own trouble and said, with a smile: "Come, cheer up. It isn't as bad as that."

Instantly Croup turned, electrified, while he clapped both hands behind outstanding ears. "What yo' say, sah?" he cried. "Blass God, 'Li'l' Marse Come Cheer Up!' It's done come tc me. It's Marse Gene Kirbv"—

A Household Necessity

Father Morriscy's Liniment Should be in Every Home

How seldom a week passes without some member of the family suffering from a sore throat, chest or back, a burn or a cut, a sprain, strain or ache!

Such troubles will come, but there is no need of suffering much from them. Keep a bottle of Father Morriscy's Liniment in the house, use it freely, and the pain has little chance.

During his lifetime Father Morriscy prescribed this Liniment regularly, and it proved very effective in relieving all sorts of pains and aches. In Rheumatism it is valuable as a "rub", when "Father Morriscy's No. 7" Tablets are taken internally. Similarly, applied freely to throat and chest it helps "Father Morriscy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) to quickly break up and drive away a sore throat, cold in the chest, or cough.

Taken all around it is one of the best family liniments in existence. Price 25c per bottle. At your dealer's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., Montreal, Que. 22

Sold and guaranteed in Peterborough by McDermid & Jury.

BABY'S TEARS TURNED TO SMILES

The well baby is a happy baby—always cooing, gurgling and smiling. It is only the sickly baby whi is cross; fretful and cries. The smile or the tears indicates baby's state of health. Mother, if you want your baby to smile—the smile of good health and freedom from pain—give him Baby's Own Tablets. They never fail to turn the tear into a smile. Concerning them Mrs. Jas. Hutcheson, Marysville, B.C., writes—"Your Baby's Own Tablets have been a great comfort to me while baby was teething. He was cross and fretful, but as soon as I began giving him the Tablets the effect was wonderful. He became a good natured baby right away, and is now big, fat and healthy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Calls It Dangerous.

London, June 2.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Morning Post says that Laurier in favoring the declaration of London as a step in the right direction of abolishing navies by substituting arbitration, does not seem to realize that in any case the international prize court, which caught his fancy only comes into operations after acts of war are over, not before war is declared.

The London Express says that Laurier's argument that the Home Government should never be bettered by the necessity for consulting other parts of the Empire is very dangerous as an imperial principle. It spells disintegration, not federation.

Ignored Protest of Typos.

Toronto, June 2.—The Trades and Labor Council held their regular meeting at the Labor Temple last night and discussed many matters, although little action of any kind was taken.

The report of the legislation committee declared that the Government inspectors had disregarded the Typographical Union's letter protesting against poor lead gas protectors in some local printing houses. One of the members had heard that one of the Government inspectors had asked: "What fool wrote that letter?"

Perley Gives $50,000.

Ottawa, June 3.—George H. Perley, M.P. for Argenteuil, has offered to contribute $50,000 for a new tuberculosis hospital for Ottawa.

The suggestion of the doner is understood to be that $30,000 of his subscription should be used for a hospital building in the city, and $20,000 for a farm a short distance out where the patients may work and obtain the outdoor exercise so necessary for a cure.

The hospital is to be in memory of the late Mrs. Perley, the donor's wife, who, it will be remembered, died suddenly while in England last year. Mrs. Perley was greatly interested in the Lady Grey Hospital.

In Gay Paree.

Paris, June 3.—"The Magic City," a vast American amusement park on the lines of the recently destroyed "Dreamland" at Coney Island, was thrown open to the public last night. It is situated on the left bank of the Seine, near Point Alma.

Despite the fact that a lightning storm fused the wires and partially cut off the electric lights, the thousands of Parisians who were present at the inauguration of the park pronounced it a most artistic open-air entertainment.

Coughs, Colds Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing, and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1, at all dealers. 10

Held Up Train.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., June 2.—The police yesterday are making a thorough search of the Canadian frontier for four bandits who on Tuesday held up an Erie freight train within the city limits and succeeded in getting away with about a carload of merchandise.

The robbers boarded the train at the yards. A little way beyond they cut the air hose, slackening its speed. While the train was still in motion two men rushed forward to the cab, levelling guns at the engineer and fireman, and forced them to bring the train to a standstill. The two others of the gang opened the cars and tumbled the merchandise into the road. Covered wagons drove up and the booty was hastily loaded and hurried away. The value of their haul has not yet been determined.

Off For the Coronation.

Montreal, June 2.—Fifty men of the Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg arrived in Montreal last evening on their way to the coronation festivities, where they are being sent at the personal expense of the regimental commander, Lieut.-Col. R. M. Thompson. The detachment was a fine body of men, most of them over six feet tall. They were met at the Windsor Station by Major Buchanan and a detachment of the 5th Royal Highlanders, with their pipe band, and escorted to the Highlanders' Armories. Later they were given the freedom of Dominion Park, and at a late hour boarded the Corsican, sailing at daybreak to-day for England.

Lunacy on Increase.

Montreal, June 2.—Lunacy appears on the increase in Montreal. During the past month the civic authorities have been called upon to remove 60 insane persons to the asylums. This is an unprecedented number for any month in the city's previous history. The number recorded insane has in the past varied between 15 and 30 per month.

No World Steel Trust.

Washington, D.C., June 2.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, yesterday flatly denied any knowledge of the proposed formation of a combination to control the steel trade of the world.

He appeared before the House Committee investigating the "steel trust."

Hair Turns Grey In Night.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 2.—Receiving word from his wife in England that his favorite child, just two years old, had died on the eve of her departure to join him in America, the hair of Nicholas Warmcastle turned completely grey in a single night. He collapsed when hearing the news, and doctors say he may die of a broken heart.

Will Re-open Lorimer Case.

Washington, June 2.—By 48 to 24 the Senate adopted a resolution to reopen the investigation of charges of bribery in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois. The resolution directs the regular elections' committee to make the enquiry.

A terrific thunderstorm which broke out in Paris last night, did considerable damage here and in the provinces.

Governor Diego Redo of the State of Sinaloa was assassinated on May 31, according to advices received here yesterday.

Agnes Kincaid, aged two, a daughter of E. Kincaid, Kingston, was kicked by a horse yesterday and suffered a terrible gash in his head.

William Kelly, while digging a grave at the C.P.R. Pit, Winnipeg, took sick and died while being conveyed home. Heart failure is supposed to be the cause of death.

George Bell, chief of the local police, was fatally shot by a masked highwayman on Thursday night, when he interrupted the robber in the act of holding up two men at Red Deer, Alta.

Tag day in Winnipeg in aid of the Ninette Sanitorium on Thursday netted $14,790. Nearly a thousand dollars of this was contributed by a departmental store, which turned in 5 per cent. of its cash receipts.

M. Morin, the French aviator, yesterday flew from Avignon to Maillane, taking with him a poem and bouquet for Frederic Mistral, the aged poet. M. Mistral was greatly touched by the novel honor paid him.

The Canadian Gazette to-day contains the royal proclamation fixing "Thursday, June 22, as a public holiday, to be observed as a general day of thanksgiving and rejoiciing by all persons throughout our Dominion of Canada."

UNION MEN ARE ACCUSED OF ARSON

Vancouver, B.C., June 2—Three houses within three blocks of each other in South Vancouver were burned this morning by incendiaries. There is no doubt of recent fires having been thus started. Contractors declare that they know of no reason why the places should have been burned. Non-union workmen were employed erecting buildings, which had just been completed. The suggestion is advanced by non-unionists that the present labor fight is responsible for the firebugs' operations.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. Frank Emsley, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

SEYMOUR POWER CO. OFFERED $5,000 MORE THAN LINDSAY

To Heat and Power Co., Says Mayor Beal—Will Hold Public Meeting.

Lindsay, June 3—Last night the town council decided to hold a public meeting for the discussion of the power question on June 15, when an engineer from the Hydro Electric Co., will be asked to speak and the whole matter fully explained. The council was given to understand that a large number of the citizens did not have a good grasp of the situation and thought a public meeting was necessary.

His Worship, the Mayor stated that he knew as an actual fact that the Seymour Co. has made a straight offer to the L. H. & P. Co. of $5000 more than the town was offering so that there could be no doubt that the estimates of the Hydro people were correct. He stated that he had been in Toronto quite frequently and had called on the Hydro Co. and talked against the purchase in order to draw them out and had been assured that they had never yet made an estimate but what was ten per cent. to the good. He stated the Hydro Co. would do everything to help the town if the purchase was made, if things went wrong they would send men to fix it and would build any buildings needed at actual cost. The mayor considered the project very favorably stating that the Hydro Electric Commission was a body without politics but was for the benefit of any community in the province. He stated that he understood that there was a strong under current against passing the by-law and stated, "If the town wishes to tie themselves up to a big merger for thirty years they can do so but it will be a great mistake.

Ald. Horn—"In other places all over the province the Hydro-Electric Co., is being received and welcomed but Lindsay is such a suspicious body that we have got to move with caution unless it is when some smooth stranger comes in with some "(skin) game."

The council is unanimous on this question deeming that it is the best thing for the town and it is hoped that the public meeting will be attended by every citizen.

SAW ROYALTY

Cousin of Cavanville Lady Presented at Court

Mrs. F. Orr Lewis was presented by Lady Dawson at the first Court of King George and Queen Mary, which was held on Tuesday, May 9th. Mrs. Lewis wore a beautiful robe of shell pink satin delicately embroidered in a design of Prince of Wales feathers. Court train which was attached to the shoulder by gold chains was of pale blue, with a design of Prince of Wales feathers in brilliants, arranged down the centre. Extending all around the train was a border of large roses, shading from American Beauty to the palest tints, with leaves exquisitely embroidered. The bodice of the robe was ornamented with a diamond corsage. She wore the long tulle veil and court feathers, and diamond tiara and carried a bouquet of pale pink roses. Mrs. Lewis is a cousin of Mrs. Reddy, of Cavan.

THE HAREM SKIRT AT LENDRUM'S

Photographs of Miss Neal Are on Exhibition

When Miss Neal, who was the magnet of all eyes one day the earlier part of this week, as she traversed George Street, attired in the much abused harem skirt, stepped into the photo studio of W. G. Lendrum to be "taken" she remarked that the costume was being looked forward to by many ladies as a most delightful, graceful and cool holiday attire.

"A lady once wearing them will never forego the ease and comfort which they assure" she emphatically remarked.

"Many women seem hesitant over adopting them" she said, "but in some cities like San Francisco for example, they are a common and ordinary attire, and pass without comment."

Miss Neal was photographed by Mr. Lendrum in three different attitudes.
